

Internationalization at W&M

Presidential Internationalization Advisory Committee April 16, 2008

Recognizing our limitations and challenges

Committee work and findings

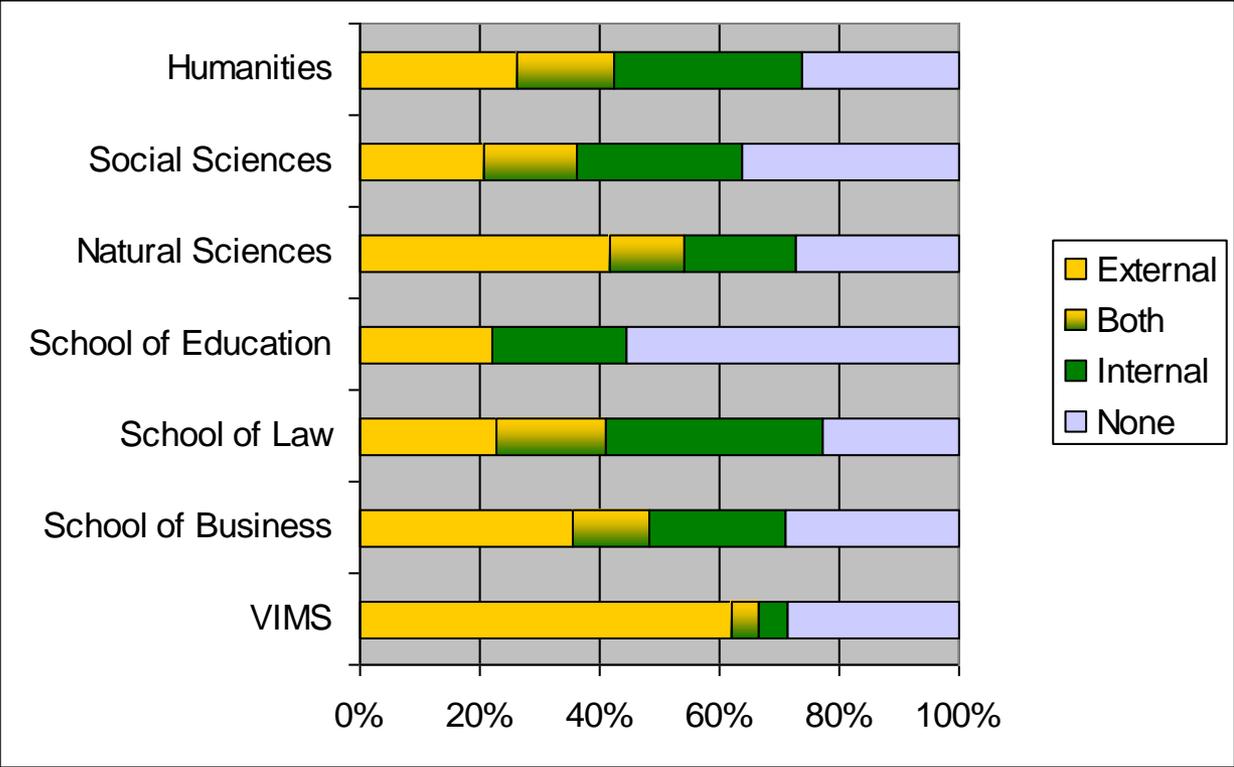

A high response rate,
and a very high rate of internationally-focused activities

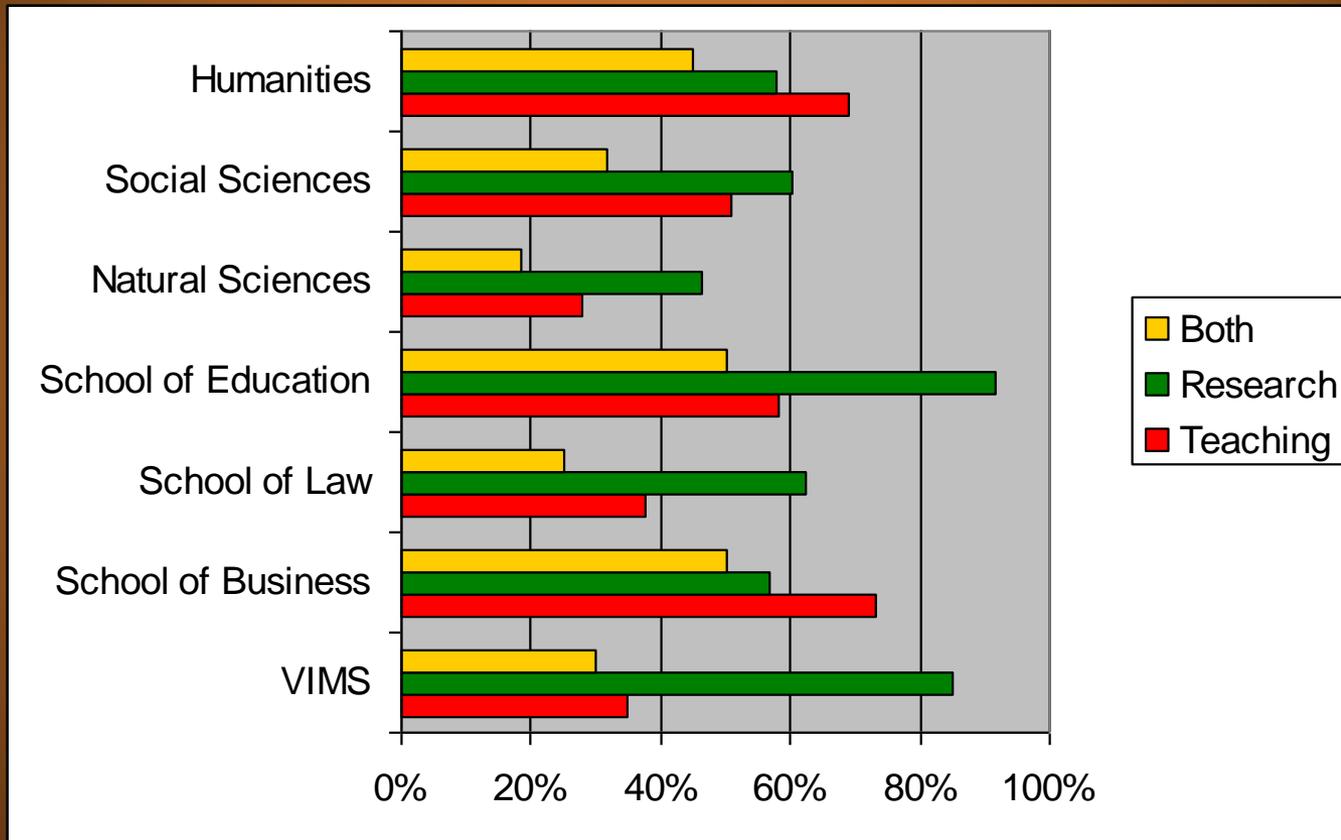

The most common internationally-focused activities

Support for internationally-focused and disseminated work

Most respondents want to expand their internationally-focused activities

Defining internationalization

In seeking to internationalize, William and Mary aspires to:

- promote the global competency of its students, faculty, administrators, and staff;
- integrate international dimensions, perspectives, and experiences into all levels of the institution's work;
- foster faculty and student engagement in the global construction and dissemination of knowledge.

Where we go from here

