HISTORY

CHARTERED in 1693 by the English king and queen whose names it bears, and fostered by royalty and the care of the Bishop of London, the College of William and Mary soon after its establishment became associated with all the activities of early Virginia. Its dormitories are named for the English estate of the Brafferton in Yorkshire and for the distinguished sons of Virginia—Ewell, Taliaferro, Tyler, Jefferson and Monroe. The president's house, partially destroyed by fire in the Revolution, was restored at the private cost of the king of France; and the statue of the popular royal governor, Lord Botetourt, still stands on a campus made sacred by the footsteps of the patriots Washington, Jefferson, Marshall and Monroe.

The college prospered to a fair degree under its first president, Dr. James Blair, until October 20, 1705, when the only building was unfortunately burned. The work of teaching, however, went forward in spite of this disaster. By 1711 the college had been rebuilt upon the old walls and in 1723 was erected the new Brafferton building, at first used as a school for Indians. Later the south wing was added to the college building for a chapel in the same year (1732) in which the foundation was laid for the home of the president.

Dr. Blair, by whom chiefly the college had been founded and through whose efforts it had prospered, died in 1743; and the professor of moral philosophy, Dr. William Dawson, succeeded him as president. It was during President Dawson's administration that George Washington received his appointment from the college as county surveyor of Fairfax. In 1750 the Flat Hat Club was established. Of this, the first college club of which there is any record, Thomas Jefferson was a member. The next president was the historian of Virginia, Rev. William Stith, who came into office after the death of Dr. Dawson in 1752.

Through a checkered career, as full of strife as of usefulness, the college, with a faculty of seven, continued its labor, training men for the important struggle that was to come. During this period the presidents were Rev. Thomas Dawson, 1755-61; Rev. William Yates, 1761-64; Rev. James Horrocks, 1764-71; and Rev. John Camm, 1771-77. During Camm's administration, Lord Botetourt in 1770 donated a number of medals to the college, which were the first collegiate prizes to be awarded in America. On December 5, 1776, the famous Phi Beta Kappa, the first and most distinguished of all Greek-letter fraternities, was founded by students of the college.

The character of the students during this early period of the history of William and Mary may be judged by the influence of its alumni upon the making of the nation. Three presidents of the United States attended classes at the college—Jefferson, Monroe and Tyler—and of these, two were students before the Revolution. Fifteen governors of Virginia went from its halls; and some of the most distinguished among them—Jefferson, Benjamin Harrison, the Randolphs, and John Page—were of the early years. Four signers of the Declaration of Independence, and Marshall, Blair, Bushrod Washington, and Philip P. Barbour, all of the Supreme bench, swell the honor roll of those by-gone days. Numerous as the distinguished sons of the college in later years have been, no period in its history has produced the number of great men who attended as students during pre-Revolutionary times.

Throughout the Revolution the college continued its exercises save for a short time at the time of the Yorktown campaigns, when Williamsburg became for a while almost the center of hostilities. The president's house suffered by fire, after having been the headquarters of Lord Cornwallis. As it was burned during its occupation by the French, it was restored at their expense.

In 1777 Rev. James Madison was elected president, and under his energetic management the college entered upon a new era. Upon Jefferson's election as Governor in June, 1779, he became a member of the Board of Visitors and put into operation many of his educational ideas. The college was changed to a university; and schools of modern language and municipal law—the first of their kind in America—were introduced along with a general lecture system with free election among the courses offered. The principles of the honor system may also be discerned as originating at this time. George Wythe, the professor of law, and James McClung, professor of medicine, vied with President Madison in distinction. Although President Madison became the first bishop of the Episcopal Church of Virginia, the college never resumed its denominational connections after the Revolution.

President Madison died in 1812, after having held the presidency since his twenty-eighth year. A little later the college suffered a second loss in the transference of the patronage of Mr. Jefferson to his projected university at Charlottesville. The next presidents to follow were Rev. John Bracken, 1812-14; John Augustine Smith, M.D., 1814-26; Rev. William H. Wilmer, 1826-27; Rev. Adam Empie, 1827-36; and Thomas R. Dew, 1836-46.

Under the guidance of President Dew and a remarkably fine faculty, the students increased in number to 140 in 1839, a larger attendance than the college had had during any previous session. A brief period of internal strife was followed by a revival of strength and influence under Presidents Johns and Ewell. The presidents after Dew were Robert Saunders, 1846-47; Benjamin S. Ewell, 1848; Bishop John Johns, 1849-54; and Benjamin S. Ewell, 1854-88. In 1859 the main building of the college was burned for the second time, and the precious contents of the library were destroyed. The Civil War brought a suspension of the work of the college in 1861. During the ensuing strife the main building was again burned, this third time while occupied by Federal soldiers. The United States Government reimbursed the college for this loss in 1893.

After the war the college opened in 1865, with Colonel Benjamin S. Ewell again acting as president. An effort to remove the college to Richmond was defeated, and the burnt buildings were restored; but for financial reasons the work of the college was suspended from 1881 to 1888.

With the assistance of the State of Virginia, there was a reorganization in 1888, with Lyon G. Tyler as president, under whom a period of new life and usefulness set in. In 1906 the college became strictly a State institution, operated by a board appointed by the Governor of Virginia. Since the reopening of the college many new buildings have been erected, and the number of professorships has been greatly increased. An infirmary, a science hall, a library, six dormitories, a dining hall, and a power house have been built; and the working apparatus of every department has been constantly improved. The number of students has increased with unusual rapidity; the standard of requirements for entrance and for the attainment of degrees has been materially raised; and a spirit of wholesome growth and advancement is evident throughout the institution.

With the retirement of Dr. Tyler from active service in 1919, to become president emeritus, Julian A. C. Chandler assumed the duties of the office of president on July 1, 1919.

In September, 1918, young women were admitted to the college.

The General Assembly in the session of 1920 made provision for a new dormitory and increased the annuity to the college. With this annuity the college has been able to extend its courses to include a department of business administration and commercial law; teacher-training courses for home economics under the Smith-Hughes Act; and courses in public health and sanitation as an extension of the department of biology. By a proper adjustment of their courses, young men or women may now prepare themselves to enter engineering, medicine, law, agriculture, forestry and similar subjects. Where there was formerly only one professor in the department of education, there are at present four professors especially equipped to prepare students to meet the increasing demand for superintendents, supervisors, principals and teachers.

In September, 1919, the college enlarged its work by establishing extension classes in Richmond, Newport News and Norfolk. Since that time it has continued its courses in these centers and in Petersburg. It is now able to offer work at such other centers as can show a sufficient demand for the courses. These classes are of college grade. Therefore, persons desiring to enter them have to be prepared for college as either regular or special students.

In 1925 the college, as a part of its extension work, took over the Richmond School of Social Work and Public Health in Richmond. This is the oldest school of its kind in the South. Here are offered courses in the various forms of social work, public health nursing, and playground work. In addition, in 1926 the college began offering a schedule of freshman and sophomore college work for young women who desire later to enter the School of Social Work or who desire to complete two years of college work in a city environment.

In 1779 the Board of Visitors, of which Mr. Jefferson and Mr. Madison were members, established the first school of law in America, and elected George Wythe as professor. During the years of its activity it had as professors George Wythe, St. George Tucker, William Nelson, Robert Nelson, James Semple, N. Beverley Tucker, George P. Scarburgh, Lucien Minor and Charles Morris. Unfortunately, at the outbreak of hostilities between the States the school had to be discontinued.

On January 15, 1922, however, the college again assumed its function of offering training in jurisprudence and government by opening the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship. The address of the occasion was delivered by Judge Alton B. Parker in the presence of a distinguished gathering, among whom were members of the General Assembly and many guests from a distance. Lawyers, jurists and publicists of national reputation lectured weekly before the school for the remainder of the year. This school has, leading to the A.B. degree, a four-year course, the last year of which is made up chiefly of law.

PRIORITIES OF WILLIAM AND MARY

The first American college to receive a charter from the crown; this was dated 1693, under seal of the Privy Council.

The first and only American college to be granted a coat of arms from the Herald's College, 1694.

The first American college to have a full faculty of president, six professors, writing master and usher.

The first medals awarded in America as collegiate prizes were those donated by Lord Botetourt, 1771.

The first Greek letter fraternity was founded at William and Mary on December 5, 1776. This fraternity, the Phi Beta Kappa, is the great honor society of the foremost institutions of learning in America.

The first honor system.

The first elective system of studies, 1779.

The first schools of Modern Languages and of Law were established in 1779, under the influence of Jefferson.

The first college to teach political economy was William and Mary in 1784.

The first school of history was founded here in 1803.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

THE WREN BUILDING

The Old Main Building, now called the Wren Building from the well-founded belief that its plans were drawn by Sir Christopher Wren, is the oldest of the campus group. For the most part, its walls are those of the original building structure of 1695. Until the close of the session 1927-28, it housed the academic subjects, exclusive of the sciences, law, and business administration. In the south wing was the original chapel, memorable for its valuable portraits, and its tablets in memory of former professors and distinguished alumni. This building is being restored to its original form and appearance through the generosity of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOUSE

Northeast of the Wren Building is the president's house. Since its erection in 1732 it has been the residence of the successive presidents of the college.

BRAFFERTON HALL

Southeast of the main building and facing the home of the president stands Brafferton Hall. Here are located some of the administrative offices of the college—namely, those of the alumni secretary and the treasurer.

Brafferton Hall was built from funds derived from the estate of the Honorable Robert Boyle, the distinguished natural philosopher, who, in his will, had provided that four thousand pounds sterling of his money should be employed in "pious and charitable uses." Dr. Blair, the first president of the college, being in England at the death of Boyle, urged the Earl of Burlington, Boyle's nephew and executor, to direct the fund to the support of a school for Indians in connection with the College of William and Mary. Burlington invested the funds in an English manor called The Brafferton in Yorkshire, from which most of the rents were to go to the college in Virginia. Brafferton Hall was built in 1723 from the proceeds of the Brafferton estate, and until the beginning of the Revolutionary War was used as a school for Indians.

CITIZENSHIP BUILDING

The Citizenship Building is a two-story brick structure to the southwest of the main building. In this building are housed the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, the School of Jurisprudence and the School of Economics and Business Administration.

EWELL HALL

Ewell Hall, formerly called Science Hall, was erected in 1905. With the removal of the lecture rooms and laboratories to the buildings recently erected, it is occupied by the department of home economics, music, shorthand and typewriting.

ROGERS HALL

The William Barton Rogers Science Hall was erected in 1927 as a memorial to the alumnus of the college who founded the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It cost $300,000 completely equipped with laboratory apparatus and furniture. The ground floor houses the department of physics while the second and third floors house the department of chemistry. In addition to the standard laboratories for the various fields of physics and chemistry, there are lecture rooms, reading rooms, and private laboratories for research work. It is a fireproof building embodying many new features of laboratory construction. This building is the first one of an academic group which is planned.

WASHINGTON HALL

Washington Memorial Hall was erected in 1928 as a memorial to George Washington, licensed as a surveyor by the college in 1749, and the first Chancellor of the college after the Revolution. The building cost $200,000.00.

The ground floor houses the Department of Biology while the second and third floors furnish lecture rooms and offices for the Departments of Education, English, Fine Arts, Mathematics, Philosophy, Latin and Modern Languages. In addition to lecture rooms the first floor accommodates the offices of the Dean of the College, Dean of Men, Dean of Women and the Registrar.

The building is of fireproof construction and is the second of the group of academic buildings planned by the administration.

COLLEGE LIBRARY

Before 1908, the library was immediately back of the Chapel in the main building of the College. In 1908 a new building was erected with funds given by Mr. Andrew Carnegie and other friends of the College. In 1921, the Carnegie Corporation gave an additional $25,000. This money was used in erecting a larger stack room. The rapid growth of the College in the past few years had made it necessary to enlarge the stack room again, and to provide additional reading room accommodations. With an appropriation from the State of Virginia the old building has been enlarged at a cost of $120,000.00 by the erection of a three story structure between the former reading room and the stack room. The library will now have capacity for about 400,000 volumes and reading room space for 500 students at one time. At the north end of the stack room, cataloging and office rooms have been erected. The basement of the new three story structure has been so built that it may be used in the future as an additional stack room. The new reading room on the first floor connects with the old reading room. A fund of $20,000 has been given by Mr. William Lawrence Saunders and Jennie Morton Saunders to furnish this room suitably in memory of their uncle, Robert Saunders, former president of the College. On the second floor there is an additional reading room, almost as large as the first which will be used for periodicals and special collections of reserved books. On the third floor is a very comfortable reading room which will be set aside for the law library. The library has at this time 70,000 books, and an unusually valuable collection of rare books and manuscripts. The most valuable books and manuscripts, together with the college records, will be kept in a new concrete vault, built for this purpose. The collection of manuscripts is constantly receiving valuable accessions through gifts from the many friends of the college. The books are cataloged according to the Dewey decimal system. A dictionary card catalog, kept up to date by the use of the printed cards of the Library of Congress, makes the resources of the library available. About 5,000 books are added to the library annually. The number of current periodicals regularly received is 500.

On the walls of the new reading rooms will be hung portraits of distinguished alumni, eminent Virginians and benefactors of the College. The portraits belonging to the College constitute one of the most valuable collections of early original portraits in the United States. Students are encouraged to consult books not only in the reading rooms but also in the stack room, to which they are admitted at all times without any formality. As the library is conducted according to the honor system, any dishonorable practice on the part of a student will be referred to the men's honor council or to the women's honor council. To increase the serviceableness of the library, the librarian offers each semester a series of thirty-six lectures in the use of reference books, for which a student receives two credits (see page 112, English 103). The library is open every day in the year from 8:30 to midnight, except Sunday, when the hours are from 2 p. m. until midnight.

SAUNDERS READING ROOM

As a memorial to Robert Saunders, Professor of Mathematics, 1833-1848, President of William and Mary, 1847-1848, the large reading room on the first floor of the library has been equipped at a cost of $20,000 by William Lawrence Saunders and Jennie Morton Saunders.

PHI BETA KAPPA MEMORIAL HALL

The Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall was completed and opened for use in November, 1926. The funds for the erection of this hall were furnished by the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa as a memorial to the fifty founders of the Society. The building is used as an auditorium and as a home for Phi Beta Kappa guests.

THE GEORGE PRESTON BLOW MEMORIAL GYMNASIUM

This building was given to the college in 1924 by Mrs. George Preston Blow, of Yorktown, Virginia, and La Salle, Illinois, and by her children, in memory of Captain George Preston Blow, of the United States Navy, whose father and grandfather were alumni of the college. It is one of the largest and best equipped gymnasiums in the South, containing a standard size swimming pool, shower baths, lockers, basketball court, large gymnasium hall, running tracks, monogram and trophy room, and a large hall for Y. M. C. A. and other meetings. In addition to the dedication tablet, a large bronze tablet in the entrance hall carries an inscription, setting forth the purpose to which the building is dedicated.

CAREY FIELD PARK

The whole campus of the college contains about three hundred and fourteen acres, one hundred and thirty acres of which are cleared. The eastern portion of the campus, covering about thirty acres, is used for buildings; the western portion is used for athletic purposes. The latter portion of the campus is known as Cary Field Park, named in honor of T. Archibald Cary, who gave the funds for grading the baseball and football grounds and for building the grandstand. Additional ground has been graded and affords ample room for all outdoor sports.

THE MIRIAM ROBINSON MEMORIAL CONSERVATORY

The Miriam Robinson Memorial Conservatory was erected in 1926, on the South Campus, adjoining Tyler Hall, through the joint efforts of the Board of Visitors and friends of the College, in memory of the little girl whose name it bears.

It consists of a greenhouse for decorative plants, a well-equipped laboratory or class room for teaching practical floriculture, and a cool house at the opposite end of Tyler Hall for class work.

An apartment for the use of the Director of the Conservatory, between the north greenhouse and Tyler Hall, has been enlarged during the past year. The purpose of this Conservatory is to provide for classes in practical floriculture, which are given as electives, without fees from the students or cost to the College, and emphasizes the cultural value of flowers and decoration in education.

Due to the activities of the Conservatory, considerable planting has been done on the campus, and a beautiful natural park, with an artificial lake, has been begun.

DORMITORIES FOR MEN

There are three dormitories for men with total accommodations for more than three hundred seventy-five students.

All dormitories are heated with steam, lighted with electricity, and screened. Each room is supplied with pure running water from the artesian well on the campus. There are hot and cold shower baths on each floor. The rooms contain all necessary furniture, such as steel lockers, dressers, tables, chairs and single iron bedsteads and mattresses. All freshmen students except those coming daily from their homes are required to live in the college dormitories and board in the college dining hall.

Taliaferro Dormitory

This is situated on the south side of the main thoroughfare leading to Jamestown. It has been remodeled so that the rooms are very comfortable. This dormitory accommodates forty men.

Monroe Hall

The men's dormitory known as Monroe Hall was opened for use in September, 1924. The cost of this hall, including equipment, is $200,000. It is a thoroughly modern fireproof structure containing memorials to many distinguished alumni and affording accommodations for 168 students.

Beginning with the session 1929-30 this building will be used exclusively by freshmen and adequate supervision for insuring satisfactory conditions for study will be provided.

Old Dominion Hall

The Old Dominion Hall, "The Virginia Hall of Fame," was completed in 1927 as a dormitory for men. It contains one hundred rooms, each room bearing the name of a Virginian who has played a prominent part in the making of our country. This building cost $175,000 and houses 170 men students. In addition to the dormitory rooms, it contains a Social Hall 90 feet by 40 feet, and two memorial parlors. It was opened for use September 1927.

DORMITORIES FOR WOMEN

All women students of the college, except those who come daily from their homes, are required to live in the college dormitories and board in the college dining hall. Exceptions to this rule will be made only in the case of mature women who are twenty-five years of age or over.

Tyler Hall

Tyler Hall, built in 1916, is a three-story brick building containing twenty-seven very large, airy rooms, some of which have separate study and sleeping apartments. The construction of the building in two distinct units obviates the noise incident to long corridors. This hall also is distinctly modern in all its equipment.

Jefferson Hall

Jefferson Hall, the dormitory for women, was erected by funds provided by the General Assembly of 1920. This brick building is two hundred feet by forty-one, and is in every respect modern, sanitary, and attractive. In the basement is a gymnasium eighty-eight by forty-one feet, and a swimming pool of the capacity of forty-five thousand gallons. The main, or ground floor, contains the main entrance, the parlors and the apartments for the director of women and for the women teachers. The second and third floors are the dormitories proper. The rooms are fourteen by fifteen feet in size, and each accommodates two students. There is in each room running water, hot and cold; two large closets, and two single iron beds, besides a dresser, a table and chairs. The building accommodates one hundred and twenty-five students.

The gymnasium in the basement of Jefferson Hall is modern in all respects. Its floor space, eighty-eight by forty-one feet, is sufficient for basketball and indoor games and exercises. Adjoining this open court are the swimming pool and the dressing rooms. The gymnasium is supplied with steel lockers, shower baths and modern equipment.

Kate Waller Barrett Hall

The Kate Waller Barrett Hall was erected by the college in 1927 as a memorial to Dr. Barrett, one of the leading figures in the movement for the higher education of women in the South, and at the time of her death in 1925 a member of the Board of Visitors of the college. It cost $225,000 complete, and houses 176 women students. It is the central building of three women's dormitories, one of which (Jefferson Hall) is already completed, and the other is to be constructed in the future. Barrett Hall is of modern fireproof construction.

FRATERNITY HOUSES

A number of fraternity houses afford comfortable accommodations for men or women. The Board of Visitors considers that the fraternity houses are subject to the same rules and regulations as the college dormitories. They can be entered at any time for inspection by members of the faculty and officers of the college.

THE PRACTICE HOUSE

The practice house, a feature of the department of home economics, is a large two-story frame structure. All remodeling and renovating were done under the supervision of the department, it presents a very attractive appearance.

Under the supervision of a professor, who is a member of the practice house family, a group of three or four students, juniors and seniors in home economics, lives in the practice house for a period of twelve weeks, and, during this time, does all the work of the household. Although it is not the purpose of the practice house to duplicate home conditions exactly, every effort is made to create a pleasing, home-like atmosphere, in which the students should form the highest possible standards for home-making. Visitors are welcome at all times.

TRINKLE HALL

The old dining hall, which has been remodeled and enlarged for the use of both men and women, has become one of the most attractive buildings on the campus. The building complete has cost $150,000, and seats from 900 to 1,000 students. It is sanitary, artistic, and beautiful. Especially has the main dining hall been commented upon for its great beauty.

INFIRMARIES

The college maintains two infirmaries. In the one for men, which is a separate building off the campus proper, the college physician has his office, and one of the nurses is in attendance. The infirmary for women is housed in ample and comfortable quarters in Tyler Hall. The college physician and another nurse are in charge of this infirmary. A new infirmary for men and women is now under construction.

BUILDINGS IN RICHMOND

The Richmond division of the college occupies two buildings at the corner of Shafer and Franklin Streets, Richmond, Va. The Main Building, a substantial three story and basement structure, is used both for class rooms (first floor) and as a dormitory (second and third floors). The dining hall is in the basement which has high ceilings and is well lighted. In the east wing of this building are the laboratories and studios. The college buildings in Richmond are valued at $140,000.

GOVERNMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

Applicants for admission to college should always write to the registrar of the college for the official entrance application blank and should have their certificates of preparation filled out according to the instructions given on page 73. The certificate should then be filed with the registrar at least two weeks before the opening of the session in order that applicants without the necessary preparation may be notified of their failure to fulfill the entrance requirements.

As soon as possible after arriving at college all students should report to the registrar's office in Washington Hall. The registrar classifies the student and gives him a classification ticket which must then be presented at the office of the dean. From the dean the student receives a card permitting him to matriculate. The classification ticket and the matriculation card are then presented to the treasurer in his office in the Brafferton Building. On the payment of fees the student is officially enrolled on the register of the college.

Official classification and payment of fees are requisite to enrollment.

STUDENT SUPERVISION

The president and the faculty, through committees assigned for the several academic classes, and through advisers for individual groups, endeavor to follow carefully the progress and the behavior of every student in college, and by personal oversight and advice to insure proper conduct and attention to duties. In addition, the president re-enforces the work of the several committees and advisers through inspection of the monthly class reports and through personal interviews with delinquents. The president is also assisted in this work by the student committee of self-government.

Students are not permitted to take up or to discontinue a subject except with the consent of the Dean by whom his or her course has been approved. But any departure from catalogue requirements must be approved by the Dean of the college. The Dean of Men acts as counsellor and supervisor for all men of the college.

The Dean of Women is the educational adviser of all women students. The Social Director, who is also a member of the faculty, is in charge of the social life of the women. No effort is spared to insure to women the most wholesome and stimulating intellectual and social environment. The women's self-government association co-operates with the social director of women in regulating all matters of student life not under her immediate supervision.

Monthly reports showing the standing of students in their classes are sent to parents and guardians.

Students whose monthly reports do not show passing grades on at least nine hours of work are placed on probation and deprived of social privileges until their reports show that they are passing on the required number of hours.

ABSENCE FROM LECTURES AND FROM COLLEGE

Absence from classes or from other college duties without sufficient reason is not tolerated. Sickness or the permission of the president or the dean to be absent from the college constitutes a sufficient reason, but does not excuse the student from his class work. It is in the province of each instructor to prescribe the conditions under which class work shall be made up, whatever the reason for absence, and to report a student who is constantly absent from class to the dean and under certain conditions to drop him from the class entirely.

CHANGES IN COURSES

A student may change a course only upon the approval of the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, or the Dean of the College. After two weeks from the end of a registration period, a change may be made only upon payment of three dollars.

If a student drops a course because of his neglect of work, failure will be marked against him for the term in this course.

DELAYED REGISTRATION

Any student who fails to register on or before Friday, September twelfth of the first semester, or to register before Thursday, January twenty-ninth, of the second semester, will be charged a delayed fee of five dollars ($5.00), which will be remitted only in case of sickness.

For each day or part of a day that a student is absent from lectures following registration, and preceding or following the Thanksgiving or Christmas Vacation, or any other holiday, a delayed fee of five dollars will be charged unless such absence is due to sickness or upon excuse secured from the president.

DISCIPLINE

The discipline of the college is in the hands of the president with the advice of the faculty. The object is to maintain regularity and order in the institution and to inculcate in the students the spirit of honor.

The honor system as accepted at William and Mary assumes that every student is trustworthy and will not do a dishonest and dishonorable thing or violate his pledged word. Each student is required to sign the following pledge on written work: "I hereby declare upon my word of honor that I have neither given nor received help on this test (examination or assignment)." The young men and the young women, through their student councils immediately take cognizance of any violation of the honor system, and any student found guilty of violating the accepted code is regarded as unfit to remain as a member of the college community.

The examinations are given under the honor system and a formal pledge to every examination or test paper is required.

The respective student councils also take cognizance of any matters which, in their judgment, are injurious to the well-being of the college. So thoroughly is the enforcement of the honor system placed in the hands of the students that there is rarely any appeal from their decision.

The faculty believes that it owes as a duty to parents the insistence upon the withdrawal of any student not profiting by his stay at college; and, when non-resident students are permitted to withdraw or are dropped from the roll or are suspended, they must forthwith leave Williamsburg and the vicinity. Until this requirement is fulfilled, they remain subject to the authority of the institution and may be expelled. In every case of discipline the student's parent or guardian is informed of the action.

A summary of the regulations of the college is put into the hands of every student when he presents himself for registration. He is required to sign these regulations and to agree to abide by them before he is allowed to matriculate.

No form of hazing, running of freshmen, or subjecting a student to humiliating treatment is permitted. No assemblies for so-called mock trials or the like can be held without special permission.

The use of intoxicating liquors, gambling, and keeping fire-arms in their rooms are forbidden to students by the statutes of the college. Students are not allowed to have automobiles, except by special permission to be secured from the president. No smoking is allowed in the academic buildings, social rooms or hall of the dormitories.

EXAMINATIONS AND SYSTEM OF GRADING

Written examinations are held at the end of each semester. An examination grade of 75 per cent passes a student, provided his class standing and attendance are satisfactory to the professor. The student's grades are recorded on the percentage basis.

DROPPING FROM THE ROLL

The administration of the college will at stated times review the work of each student to determine the advisability of his continuing in residence. At any time when a student's work is so unsatisfactory as to make his withdrawal necessary, the administration will require his prompt separation from the college. The Deans reserve to themselves the right to announce not later than December first the plan of dropping students from the roll.

STUDENT ASSEMBLIES

An assembly is held in the Phi Beta Kappa Hall from time to time at which all students are required to be present. Notice of the hour of these meetings will be given twenty-four hours in advance. The entire faculty attends these meetings.

Devotional exercises are held in the Chapel each week on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 8:40 o'clock. All students are urged to attend these meetings. The exercises are under the direction of the faculty committee.

Class meetings are arranged for by the officers of each class.

PUBLIC PERFORMANCES AND PARTIES

No person or group of persons associated with the College of William and Mary shall give either in Williamsburg or elsewhere a public performance of any kind unless prior to the first rehearsal the said person or group of persons shall have obtained from the proper authorities of the college permission to present the entertainment. In order to secure permission, those in charge of the performance must make written application to the president of the college or to a committee appointed by him and to be known as the committee on public performances. The application must contain a statement as to the nature of the performance to be given, the time and place of presentation, the names of those directing the performance, and of those taking part in it, the hours and the place of rehearsals, and the names of those who are to chaperon both the rehearsals and the performances. All student parties, including dances, must receive the sanction of the proper authorities before being arranged for.

SAMPLE AND SALES ROOMS

The use of rooms in the college buildings for displaying samples and goods for sale to students and others is not permitted. This applies to firms having either special agents or student representatives.

COMMUNICATIONS FOR STUDENTS

Parents or friends wishing to communicate with students must do so by letter or telegram. No student will be called to the telephone. The clerks at the college, however, will deliver a telephone message in case of emergency.

EXPENSES

First semester—To facilitate bookkeeping, parents are requested to send a check for the expenses of the term, so far as known at the time, to the treasurer's office on or before September 8th.

Second semester—A check for the principal expenses is requested on or before January 20th.

TEACHERS' SCHOLARSHIPS

Virginia students holding Teachers' Scholarships pledged to teach two years in the public schools of Virginia are given a credit of $37.50 a semester on their fees. All State students who board in the college dining hall will be given an additional credit of $9.00 per semester on their board.

STUDENTS NOT LIVING IN VIRGINIA

Students not living in Virginia pay at the same rate as Virginia students plus $50.00 per semester for tuition, all payable in advance per semester.

GENERAL INFORMATION ON FEES

All students should note that college expenses are payable in advance by the semester, remittance being made by check, drawn to the College of William and Mary. The charges for room rent, late matriculation fee, laboratory fees, music, journalism, special examinations, fines for missing classes and similar items may be paid after the beginning of each semester and are not included in the first check, as stated above. No student in arrears to the college for fees or board will be awarded honors or degrees.

The Athletic Fee ($11.50) had its origin in the request of the students. The money derived from this fee is used to defray the expense of maintaining the various forms of athletic activity at college. Payment of the fee entitles the student to membership in the athletic association and to free admission to all athletic contests on the home grounds.

The College Fee ($37.50 a semester) is a payment towards the general incidental expenses of the college, fuel, servants' hire, and maintenance of buildings.

Reductions.—No rebates in any of the above fees will be allowed. No reduction will be made in board and room for periods less than one month. No meal tickets will be issued on credit.

Room rent and board include the charges for room, board, furniture, janitor service, light and heat. No part of room rent and board will be refunded to the student who leaves the dormitory unless he withdraws from college.

Laundry.—The college operates a laundry and all students except those living at home are required to pay the laundry fee of $10.00 per semester.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES FEE

The student body in mass-meeting adopted the following resolutions regarding the student activities fee:

Resolved: (I) That the student activities fee for 1930-31 shall be $6.75 per semester to be apportioned among the various student activities.

(II) That this fee be collected by the administration of the College of William and Mary through the Treasurer's office and be held in trust by said administration subject to requisition by proper student authorities.

(III) That in order for a man to become a member of the Men's Student Association, or for a woman student to become a member of the Women's Student Government Association, and entitled to the benefits thereof, he or she must pay the student activities fee at registration for each semester.

(IV) That each student activities fee collected be apportioned as follows:

FEEES FOR HOLDERS OF SCHOLARSHIPS

Any student holding a scholarship is required to pay all fees, except the college fee of $37.50 per semester.

RESERVATION AND OCCUPANCY OF ROOMS IN DORMITORIES

In order to occupy a room in the dormitory the applicant is required to make a deposit of $5.00 with the Registrar. This fee will be returned only to students who cannot be accommodated in the college dormitories and to new applicants who cancel their reservations before August 15th. In no case will it be returned to a student leaving the dormitory but is transferable from year to year as a room reservation.

Students furnish their towels, bedlinen, blankets and pillows.

RATES FOR ROOM AND BOARD

All women students and all freshmen men are required to room in college dormitories and board in the college boarding department.

All upperclassmen (men) living in college dormitories must board in the college boarding department during the first semester. The rate for board alone is $24.00 per month of four weeks.

A student who occupies a room in the dormitory will not be given a refund on board and room if he moves out during the semester unless he withdraws from college.

EXPENSES IN THE RICHMOND DIVISION OF THE COLLEGE

The fees in the Richmond Division of the college vary slightly from those on the campus at Williamsburg. For further information, write the Director of the Richmond Division of the College of William and Mary, 827 West Franklin Street, Richmond, Va.

PHYSICAL CARE AND MEDICAL ATTENDANCE

The college employs a physician, a nurse and assistant nurse to take care of the physical welfare of the students. Modern sanitary conditions are maintained and medical treatment is given to the students with no additional cost to them beyond the ordinary fees listed above. Physical exercises and athletic sports are under expert supervision and are conducted primarily for the promotion of health and efficiency. An infirmary affords facilities for the isolation of cases of infectious diseases or for those requiring quiet surroundings.

Medical attention and staple medicines are furnished free of charge to the students, but the college does not assume the expense of consulting physicians, special nurses, or surgical operations. Students not boarding in the college dining hall are charged a fee of $2.50 for each day they may be confined in the infirmary.

SPECIAL FEES AND EXPENSES

1. Laboratory Fees. A laboratory fee of $7.50 per semester is charged for each laboratory course taken in chemistry, biology, physics, typewriting, home economics, journalism, industrial arts, and psychology 202. In organic chemistry the fee is $10.00. In Fine Arts 101, 102, 201, 202, 301, 302, 405 and 406 the fee is $7.50. In Fine Arts 104 the fee is $5.00 and 204 the fee is $4.00 per semester. In psychology 201 the fee is $5.00 per semester. Breakage in the laboratory will be charged against the student. In Home Economics 401—Practice Teaching—the fee is $10.00. In Education 401 a fee of $5.00, and Education 405 a fee of $3.00 is charged. In Mathematics 105 and 208 the fee is $5.00 each.

2. Fees for Applied Music (Piano or Voice), $40.00 each semester. Use of practice piano, $5.00 for each semester.

No fees for work in Harmony classes.

3. Special Examinations. A fee of $3.00 is charged for all special examinations except such as are necessitated by sickness or other unavoidable causes. This fee must be paid in advance, and a receipt from the treasurer of the college must be presented before the examination is taken.

4. Diplomas. The charge for the Master's diploma is $10.00, and the charge for the Bachelor's diploma is $7.50. These fees are payable at graduation.

5. Gymnasium Fee. All students are charged a gymnasium fee of $5.00. This fee covers use of equipment, locker, shower baths, swimming lessons and plunge periods.

INCIDENTAL EXPENSES

It is impossible to estimate the exact cost to students of clothing, travel and incidental expenses. These are governed largely by the habits of the individual. The college endeavors to cultivate frugality and to protect the student from temptations. The size of Williamsburg aids materially in this matter by not subjecting the students to the diversions of a larger city. As the demands for extra money are small, parents are advised to furnish only a small sum.

The cost of books depends somewhat on the courses taken, but will seldom be less than $15.00 a year and does not usually exceed $30.00 a year.

REDUCTION OF EXPENSE TO HOLDERS OF STATE SCHOLARSHIPS

A reduction of expenses to holders of State scholarships is made possible by the desire of the Commonwealth to develop a body of men and women trained for, and interested in, its greatest responsibility—the education of its children. Therefore, through the aid furnished by the State, the College of William and Mary offers one hundred and thirty-two scholarships to young men and the same number to young women who wish to prepare themselves to teach in the public schools of the State. These scholarships may be secured by applying to the superintendent of schools in the counties and cities. Each scholarship entitles the holder to a credit on college expenses, amounting to $93.00 per session, provided the student boards in the college dining hall.

MINISTERIAL STUDENTS

Students furnishing satisfactory evidence of their intention and fitness to enter the ministry are admitted upon the same terms as Virginia students holding State scholarships.

STATE STUDENTS' LOAN FUND

By act of the General Assembly a students' loan fund has been created, and any deserving student may secure a loan on which the rate of interest is fixed by law at 4 per cent.

PHILO SHERMAN BENNETT LOAN FUND

This fund was established in 1905 by William Jennings Bryan, of Lincoln, Nebraska. It is a part of a trust fund left by Philo Sherman Bennett, of New Haven, Conn., for the purpose of aiding deserving students. The proceeds of the fund are used to make loans to students needing assistance during their college career.

SMOOT MEMORIAL LOAN FUND

This fund was established in 1913 by the Fairfax County Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, as a memorial to William Sotheron Smoot. The fund was donated by Mrs. James R. Smoot and is in the form of a loan which is to be made to some deserving student during his senior year in college.

THE WILLIAM LAWRENCE SAUNDERS STUDENT AID FUND

As a tribute to the memory of former President Robert Saunders of the College of William and Mary $5,000 has been donated by William Lawrence Saunders as an aid fund for the benefit of needy students. The method in which this fund is to be used is left to the President and Faculty.

THE FRANCIS WALLIS STUDENT LOAN FUND

This fund was begun in 1921 by the Francis Wallis Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in honor of the Revolutionary officer, Lieut. Francis Wallis (1749-1789) of Kent Co., Maryland, for whom it was named, and in memory of his great-granddaughter, Mrs. Elizabeth T. Wallis Schutt, whose patriotic ideals inspired her daughter to organize this chapter and establish this fund as its primary objective. When it had grown to $300.00 it was transferred from the general loan fund to the College of William and Mary, to assist deserving girls to complete their education. The chapter reserves the right to nominate a girl, or girls, under this scholarship, with the understanding, however, that if such nominations have not been made before September first, the president of the college is authorized to make the appointments. The fund now has $350.00 ready for distribution. Young women who are interested in this loan should write to Mrs. Thomas Smythe Wallis, Organizer and Regent, 1921-1929. Cherrydale, Arlington County, Virginia.

SCHOLARSHIPS

ROLL OF FAME SCHOLARSHIPS

The William and Mary Roll of Fame includes three Presidents of the United States, four judges of the United States Supreme Court, four signers of the Declaration of Independence, fifteen Governors of Virginia, and seven Governors of other States, sixteen Senators from Virginia and six from other States, three Speakers of the House of Representatives, fifteen members of the Continental Congress, twenty-five members of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, eleven members of the President's cabinet, a large number of members of the United States House of Representatives, and many distinguished physicians, professors, clergymen, lawyers, army and navy officers, and several hundred judges of prominence. It is the hope of the college eventually to have memorials to all of the distinguished sons of the college whose names are found on its Roll of Fame. This Roll of Fame includes those who have been members of the faculty (whether graduates or not), members of the Board of Visitors of the college and recipients of honorary degrees and degree graduates.

Below are published such scholarships as have been established to those on the Roll of Fame in the order in which the scholarships were founded:

1. The Chancellor Scholarship. A memorial to George Washington, Chancellor of the College, 1788-1799, and John Tyler, Chancellor, 1859-1862. Founded in 1871 by Hugh Blair Grigsby, the last Chancellor of the College. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00, and non-Virginia students from the tuition fee. It is awarded by the faculty on the basis of merit and is open to all students.

2. Joseph Prentis Scholarship. A memorial to Judge Joseph Prentis, student of the College; Judge of the Admiralty Court of Virginia, 1777; member of the Board of Visitors, 1791; Judge of the General Court, 1787-1809; holder of other public positions of honor and trust. Founded in 1920 by his great-grandson, Judge Robert R. Prentis, of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00, and non-Virginia students from the tuition fee. It is awarded on the basis of merit and is open to all students.

3. George Blow Scholarship. A memorial to George Blow (1787-1870), of Sussex County, Virginia, graduate of the College of William and Mary, and later a member of the Board of Visitors; and his son, George Blow (1813-1894), A.B. of the College of William and Mary, member of the Congress of the Republic of Texas, Brigadier-General in the Virginia militia; member of Virginia Secession Convention; Lieutenant-Colonel, C. S. A.; Judge of the First Judicial Circuit of Virginia; distinguished attorney of Norfolk, Virginia. Founded in 1921 by Captain George P. Blow (son of George Blow the second), of Yorktown, Virginia. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00 and non-Virginia students from the tuition fee. It is awarded by the faculty on the basis of merit and is open to all students.

4. Joseph E. Johnston Scholarship. A memorial to Joseph E. Johnston (1807-1897), graduate of West Point, general in the United States Army, general in the Confederate Army, doctor of laws of William and Mary; member of the Board of Visitors. Founded in 1921 by Robert M. Hughes, of Norfolk. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00, and non-Virginia students from the tuition fee. It is awarded by the faculty on the basis of merit and is open to all students.

5. John Archer Coke Scholarship. A memorial to John Archer Coke (1842-1920), A.B. of the College of William and Mary, 1860; the youngest of five brothers receiving degrees from the college; captain in the Confederate Army, and a distinguished lawyer in the city of Richmond. Founded in 1921 by his children, John Archer Coke, Esq., of Richmond, Virginia, and Mrs. Elsie Coke Flannagan, of Montclair, N. J. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00, and non-Virginia students from the tuition fee. It is awarded by the faculty on the basis of merit and is open to all students.

6. Robert W. Hughes Scholarship. A memorial to Robert W. Hughes (1821-1901), editor, author and jurist; judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia (1874-1898); doctor of laws of the College of William and Mary, 1881. Founded in 1921 by his son, Robert M. Hughes, LL.D., of Norfolk, Virginia. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00. It is awarded by the faculty on the basis of merit.

7. Edward Coles Scholarship. A memorial to Edward Coles, born 1786 and died 1868; a student of the College of William and Mary, 1807; Governor of Illinois, 1822; President of the first Illinois Agricultural Association. Founded in 1922 by his grandchildren, Mary Robert Coles and Mrs. George S. Robins, of Philadelphia, Pa. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00, and non-Virginia students from the tuition fee.

8. George Washington Scholarship. A memorial to George Washington, licensed as a surveyor by the college, 1749, and the first Chancellor after the Revolution. Founded by the Daughters of the Cincinnati, with the understanding that this scholarship will be open to the daughters of officers of the United States Army and Navy. The award of this scholarship in the first instance, and to fill vacancies arising therein, shall be upon the written nomination of the Daughters of the Cincinnati, provided, however, that in case the society should fail to nominate a candidate on or before September 1st in the year, the faculty of the College of William and Mary shall have power to assign the scholarship to any properly qualified daughter of a regular officer of the army or navy of the United States. This scholarship will exempt the holder from the payment of the tuition and college fee.

9. Thomas Jefferson Scholarship. A memorial to Thomas Jefferson, a graduate of the college, doctor of laws, and a member of its Board of Trustees. Founded by the Daughters of the Cincinnati, with the understanding that this scholarship will be open to the daughters of officers of the United States Army and Navy. The award of this scholarship in the first instance, and to fill vacancies arising therein, shall be upon the written nomination of the Daughters of the Cincinnati, provided, however, that in case the society should fail to nominate a candidate on or before September 1st in the year, the faculty of the College of William and Mary shall have power to assign the scholarship to any properly qualified daughter of a regular officer of the army or navy of the United States. This scholarship will exempt the holder from the payment of the tuition and college fee.

10. Samuel Myers Scholarship. A memorial to Samuel Myers, a Bachelor of Arts of the college in 1809. Founded in 1922 by his grandson, Barton Myers, of Norfolk, Virginia. This scholarship exempts the holder from the payment of the college fee. It is awarded to a member of the graduating class of the Maury High School, Norfolk, Virginia.

OTHER SCHOLARSHIPS

1. Corcoran Scholarship. Founded in 1867 by W. W. Corcoran (1798-1888), Washington, D. C. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00, and non-Virginia students from the tuition fee. It is awarded by the faculty on the basis of merit and is open to all students.

2. Soutter Scholarship. Founded in 1869 by James T. Soutter, of New York. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00, and non-Virginia students from the tuition fee. It is awarded by the faculty on the basis of merit and is open to all students.

3. Graves Scholarship. Founded in 1872 by the Rev. Dr. Robert J. Graves, of Pennsylvania. This scholarship will exempt Virginia students from the payment of the college fee of $75.00, and non-Virginia students from the tuition fee. It is awarded by the faculty on the basis of merit and is open to all students.

4. James Barron Hope Scholarship. Founded in 1897 by Robert M. Hughes, LL.D., of Norfolk, Va. This scholarship is awarded for the best poem published in the college magazine and exempts the holder from the payment of the college fee of $75.00.

5. Pi Kappa Alpha Scholarship. Founded in 1897 by Robert M. Hughes, LL.D., of Norfolk, Va. This scholarship is awarded to the member of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity making the best scholastic record for the session, and exempts the holder from the payment of the college fee of $75.00.

6. William Barton Rogers Scholarship. This scholarship was founded in 1905 by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in memory of William Barton Rogers (1804-1882), founder and first president of the institute and former student and professor at the College of William and Mary. The value is three hundred dollars and will be awarded by the faculty to some student at this college who has taken sufficient work at William and Mary to enter the Institute of Technology.

7. Phi Beta Kappa Scholarship. Founded in 1911 by the United Chapters of the Phi Beta Kappa Society in recognition of the establishment of the society at the College of William and Mary December 5, 1776. This scholarship can be awarded only to a son or daughter of a member of the society, and has an actual cash value of fifty dollars. The scholarship is awarded entirely on the basis of merit.

8. Belle S. Bryan Scholarship. A memorial to the services of Mrs. Bryan to the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, which society she served for more than a quarter of a century, first as secretary and later as president. Founded in 1920 by her son, John Stewart Bryan, Esq., of Richmond, Virginia. This scholarship will be awarded on nomination of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities to either a young man or woman, provided such nomination is made before September 1st. In the event of the failure of the association to make the nomination, the president of the college is authorized to make the appointment to some deserving Virginia student. The scholarship exempts the recipient from payment of the college fee of $75.00.

9. The Virginia Pilot Association Scholarship. Founded in 1921 by the Virginia Pilot Association of Norfolk, Virginia, through its president, Captain W. R. Boutwell, with the hope of increasing the usefulness of the college in the vicinity around Hampton Roads. This scholarship will be awarded upon nomination of the Virginia Pilot Association to a young man or woman residing in the cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth or Newport News, or in the counties of Norfolk, Elizabeth City or Warwick. This scholarship exempts the recipient from payment of the college fee of $75.00.

10. United Daughters of the Confederacy Scholarship. The United Daughters of the Confederacy grant a number of scholarships to young women. One scholarship is known as the Janet Weaver Randolph Scholarship, as a memorial to Mrs. Norman Randolph, of Richmond, Virginia. This will pay directly to the young woman appointed the sum of $250 to aid her in her course. In addition to this, the Virginia Division has established a scholarship, which pays tuition; the Georgia Division has established a scholarship paying tuition, and the Colorado Division has established a scholarship paying tuition.

11. J. A. C. Hogan Memorial Scholarship. Founded in 1922 by the Richmond, Virginia, Dental Society. This scholarship pays a cash sum of $75.00 per session to its holder. It is awarded in recognition of the ideals of higher learning and education and with the desire to foster this spirit, preferably to some one preparing to be a dentist.

12. Virginia State Dental Association Scholarship. Founded in 1923 by the Virginia State Dental Association. This scholarship pays a cash sum of $100 per session to its holder. It is to be used for some worthy Virginia student and the selection is left to the discretion of the college authorities. The purpose of the faculty is to award it as a rule to some one preparing to be a dentist.

13. Hope-Maury Loan Scholarship. The Hope-Maury Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has established at the College of William and Mary a loan scholarship whereby a student will be lent for four years the sum of $250 per annum, which sum will cover his fees, board, and room rent in one of the dormitories to be designated by the President of the college, with the proviso that the student shall begin to pay back the amount within four months after he has graduated or left college. The student holding this scholarship will be nominated by the Hope-Maury Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

14. Norfolk College Alumnae Association Loan Scholarship. The Alumnae Association of Norfolk College, which discontinued its operation in 1899, has graciously established a loan scholarship which will lend $250 a year on the expenses of some students nominated by the Alumnae Association of Norfolk College. Application should be made to the President, who will communicate with the Alumnae Association.

In addition to these scholarships, the college offers scholarships to a number of accredited high schools. These scholarships exempt the student from the payment of the college fee of $75.00 for the session.

PRIZES

The Cutler Foundation offers two prizes of $25.00 each in gold coin, one to the man and the other to the woman, both of the senior class, who shall compose and submit the best essay upon some aspect of the Federal Constitution assigned by the Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School. Each member of the senior class is required to write an essay of not less than a specified number of words upon some designated subject relating to the Constitution of the United States, and the award is to be made by the President of the College, the Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School, and one other member of the faculty designated by the President.

The Society of the Cincinnati in the State of Virginia offers each year a gold medal valued at two hundred dollars to a male student, majoring or minoring in history, who submits the best essay on a subject dealing with the constitutional history of the United States, or with Virginia colonial history. The subject must be approved by the head of the history department of the college. The essays must be submitted to him during the first week in May. They must be typewritten, with duplicate copies, and signed with a pseudonym. The author's name together with his pseudonym should accompany each essay in a sealed envelope. No prize will be given if a paper of sufficient merit is not submitted.

The Editors of the William and Mary College Quarterly Historical Magazine offer each semester a continuous subscription to the two students of the Virginia history class in the college who make the highest average of the semester.

The Tiberius Gracchus Jones Literary Prize was created by the presentation to the college of a check for $1,000 by Miss Gabriella Page as a gift from Archer G. Jones for a memorial to his father, Tiberius Gracchus Jones, a member of the class of 1844-45. This gift was to be invested and the income therefrom to be applied each year to a prize for the best English essay submitted by any undergraduate student in any department of the college. The word "essay" includes the poem, the short story, the play, the oration, and the literary essay. "It being the donor's thought," as stated in the letter inclosing the gift, "that the greatest latitude be permitted in subjects chosen for the essay without fear or prejudice, so that the result may tend to the advancement of the eternal spirit of the unchained mind."

Callaghan and Company offers annually the Cyclopedic Law Dictionary to the student who attains the highest average on the first fifteen credits in the School of Jurisprudence.

The West Publishing Company offers annually the Bouvier's Law Dictionary and Concise Encyclopedia to the student who attains the highest average on the first thirty credits in the School of Jurisprudence.

The Wythe Law Club offers annually twenty dollars to the student who attains the highest average on the first forty-five credits in the School of Jurisprudence.

Dr. John Garland Pollard, Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, formerly Attorney-General of Virginia, and at present Governor of Virginia, presents yearly a gold seal of the college to the student of jurisprudence who attains the highest average mark on the first sixty credits in the School of Jurisprudence.

The Francis Scott Key Prize was established by Francis Scott Key-Smith as a memorial to his great-grandfather, Francis Scott Key, the author of the Star Spangled Banner. The prize is open to any student of William and Mary of any class. It is given to the one who produces a poem that will be nationally patriotic and that breathes the spirit of Christian faith and fortitude. The Star Spangled Banner offers the best example of both the spirit of national patriotism and Christian faith.

Sullivan Award.—A medallion awarded by the Southern Society of New York in recognition of influence for good, taking into consideration such characteristics of heart, mind and conduct as evince a spirit of love and helpfulness to other men and women. Awarded each year to a man and a woman from the student body and to a third person possessing the characteristics specified by the donors.

James Frederick Carr Memorial Cup.—A memorial to James Frederick Carr, a former student of the college, who lost his life in the World War, March, 1919. This cup is the property of the college. The student winning the honor has his name engraved on the cup. Awarded on the basis of character, scholarship and leadership. Presented by Mrs. John C. Bentley.

FORM OF BEQUEST

I give and bequeath to the College of William and Mary in Virginia, a corporation established by law in the State of Virginia, the sum of $_____ to be invested and preserved inviolably for the endowment* of the College of William and Mary, located at Williamsburg, Virginia.

Dated _____

*Note.—The bequest may be made, if desired, for foundation of a professor's chair, for scholarships, or for some other specified purpose.

ADMISSION

1. By act of the General Assembly, approved March, 1918, both men and women are admitted to the college on the same conditions.

The college, besides the work on the campus at Williamsburg, maintains a branch or division of the college in Richmond. This is open to young women only. For further information about admission to the College of William and Mary in Richmond, see page 183.

2. Applicants must be at least sixteen years of age.

3. Every applicant must present a satisfactory certificate of good character, and must also present the recommendation of the principal of the high school or secondary school last attended.

4. A student desiring to enter upon certification must meet one of the following requirements:

a. Graduation from an accredited four-year public high school with sixteen units, or

b. Graduation from an accredited four-year private secondary school with sixteen units or completion of a four-year course in an accredited private secondary school with sixteen units.

5. Students presenting themselves without proper certification from an accredited school, as outlined above, will be required to take the college entrance examinations for 3 units in English.

2½ units in Mathematics.

1 unit in History.

9½ additional units, selected, from approved subjects.

6. Any student over twenty years of age at the time of entering college, upon satisfactory evidence of his ability to pursue successfully the courses for which he desires to register, may be admitted as a special student, but cannot become an applicant for a degree until full entrance requirements are met.

7. It is important that students be in a good physical condition and each student on entrance should present a certificate from his family physician. Within one month after a student has entered a physical examination is made by the college physician and nurses. Each student on entrance is requested to present a dental certificate.

Entrance Requirements for Bachelors' Degrees

1. All students entering upon a course leading to a bachelor's degree must have credits as follows:

English (grammar, composition, rhetoric and literature)	3	units
Mathematics* (algebra through binomials and plane geometry)	2½	units
History (general, English or American)) ----	1	unit
*Foreign languages (all must be in Latin for A.B.)	3	units
Electives	6½	units
Total	16	units

2. A candidate for the B.S. degree must have for entrance three units in one foreign language, or two units in each of two foreign languages. Students who present full sixteen units in other subjects, but do not have these necessary language qualifications will enter the beginners' classes provided in the foreign languages and will absolve the language entrance requirements by taking courses without college credit. One college course is accepted for one entrance unit.

*In accordance with the regulations of the State Board of Education no credit will be given for a single unit in a foreign language.

3. A candidate for the A.B. degree must have three entrance units in Latin.

4. A student who meets the requirements for admission, but who does not offer the three units in Latin or in foreign languages necessary to begin the work for a bachelor's degree, must make up these requirements within two years after entrance.

5. Every student will be registered for a degree course unless he registers for another course offered in this catalogue.

6. College work counted for entrance units cannot be counted for a degree.

7. The election, quantity and character of the work done by a special student is subject to approval by the president. Except by special permission, special students will be required to do the same work as is required for regular students.

The following table indicates the standard units accepted for entrance:

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

The degrees conferred are Bachelor of Arts (A.B.), Bachelor of Science (B.S.), and Master of Arts (A.M.).

The requirements for degrees are stated in terms of "credits." A credit is given for one class hour, or two laboratory hours a week through one semester, which is a term of approximately eighteen weeks. This is one-half of the usual college session of thirty-six weeks. A course runs for a semester, and carries as many credits as it has class meetings, or two-hour laboratory periods a week through the semester. Class meetings, or periods, are one hour in length, including five minutes for change of classes, and a laboratory period is two hours in length and counts one credit.

RESIDENT REQUIREMENT FOR DEGREES

No degree will be granted by the college until the applicant has had in residence at least one college year and has made a minimum of thirty semester hours. In general, students transferring should expect to spend at least one and one-half years, or three semesters in residence at the college.

EVALUATION OF CREDITS FROM OTHER INSTITUTIONS

The credits of students transferring from other institutions will be evaluated only tentatively upon matriculation. Final evaluation will be dependent upon the quality of work completed at the college. No student must assume that credit will be given for work at other institutions until he has a written statement as to what credit will be accepted.

BACHELOR'S DEGREES

The completion of 126 credits is required for either bachelor's degree. Of these 126 credits, sixty-five are prescribed for the bachelor of arts, and sixty-three are prescribed for the bachelor of science. The prescribed courses for each degree are set forth below.

MAJORS AND MINORS

To insure a reasonable amount of concentration upon advanced work in a few subjects rather than upon elementary classes in many subjects, the student is required to include in the work for a bachelor's degree two majors or a major and two minors. A major consists of thirty credits in one subject and a minor consists of twenty credits in one subject. Major or minor subjects must be selected before the beginning of the third year. Work must be in related fields and must have written approval by the Dean of women and the Dean of the College in the case of women students, and by the Dean of men and the Dean of the College in the case of men students. No major or minor will be endorsed for a student who has not previously passed in the departments in which he wishes to major or minor at least one course of three or more semester hours with a grade of 83 or above.

A teacher of six or more years of experience, upon the approval of the dean, will be granted a limited number of substitutions of courses selected from his major and minor fields for some of the minimum requirements.

For the A.B. degree both majors must be chosen from arts courses which include mathematics, and in case two minors are students pursuing technical courses such as home economics and pre-engineering where the first year prerequisites are heavy. In such courses these two subjects may be postponed until a later year. At the beginning of the session, one-half of the Freshmen (those whose names begin with letters from A to K, inclusive), should take Virginia Government and the remaining half U. S. History. At the beginning of the second term those who have taken Virginia Government should take the U. S. History and vice versa. Students from other states may substitute any of the Government courses for Virginia Government.

chosen at least one must be from arts courses. For the B.S. degree both majors must be chosen from biology, or chemistry, or physics, or mathematics, and in case two minors are chosen at least one must be from these same subjects. Any departure from this rule must be approved by the degree committee before February first of the applicant's junior year, otherwise the rule will be applied.

State students, i. e., students pledged to teach two years in the State of Virginia, must include in their bachelor's degree at least twenty semester hours in education, six of which must be supervised teaching. For the special courses required in these twenty semester hours, see curriculum for teachers, pages 191-206.

ESSAY FOR BACHELOR'S DEGREE

In former years of the college it was always customary for members of the senior class to write an essay as a part of the requirements for the bachelor's degree. The essay which is now required of all applicants for this degree will be upon some subject relating to the American Constitution to be assigned by a college authority. For the best essay submitted by a man and by a woman a prize of $25.00 is offered.

Physical training and hygiene. During the first two years of his course, three hours a week in physical training and hygiene are required of each student. For this he shall receive, when satisfactorily completed, one credit in each semester.

Credit for student activities. The college requires for a bachelor's degree 126 semester hours, or sixty-three session hours, instead of the 120 semester hours, or sixty session hours, usually required for a bachelor's degree. Of the extra six semester hours, the men students must take two in physical training—101 and 102—; women students must take three in physical training—101, 102, and 202. He may elect the other two or three in student activities, such as participation in literary society work, editorial or managerial work on college publications, service on the student council, Glee Club and debating team. Students who do not earn these two credits in student activities must elect them from regular college work. Not more than two credits may be counted in one student activity.

Selection of courses. In arranging classes, students must first absolve their minimum degree requirements and must elect their courses in the order of sequence as indicated by numbering.

Grade of credits. The normal load for a student is fifteen semester hours. To this may be added one semester hour in physical education. To carry eighteen semester hours, a student must have made during the previous semester at least nine semester hours of grade 83 or above and three semester hours of grade 91 or above. To carry more than eighteen hours, a student must have made during the previous semester at least nine semester hours of grade 91 or above and must have made no grade below 83. To receive a bachelor's degree a student must have at least one-half of his credits of grade 83 or higher.

MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE

The requirements for the degree of Master of Arts are as follows:

1. The applicant must be the holder of an A.B. or B.S. degree from this college, or from some other institution of approved standing.

2. The student's application for admission to A.M. work must be approved by the Dean of the College before any course that is to be counted for credit toward the A.M. degree may be begun.

3. A minimum residence period of one regular session or three summer sessions of twelve weeks each is required.

4. Thirty semester hours of work in approved A.M. courses must be presented and should be distributed as follows:

a. Eighteen semester hours in the department of the major, in which the applicant has had, on his bachelor's degree, at least twelve semester hours.

b. Twelve semester hours in the second department related to the major.

5. A written examination in the field of the major; and an oral examination covering the entire field of study are required.

6. The applicant must by the end of the first semester, select a thesis in the department of his major subject, with the advice and approval of his major professor. The subject of this thesis, with the professor's approval, must be filed with the Dean of the College before the close of the first semester. The thesis must be completed and must be approved by the professor in charge and placed in the hands of the degree committee by May 1.

7. A grade of at least 83 in each course is required for A.M. credit.

NOTE.—The head of the department in which the student does his major work, shall be the student's major professor, who will certify in writing to the Dean of the College, his approval of the courses in the student's program. The student's major professor with one or more members of the faculty under whom the student has done his work, will act as a committee for the oral and written examinations.

201. Clay Modeling. Prerequisite, 101.First semester; laboratory six hours; three credits.

Modeling from casts in relief and in the round.

202. Pottery. Prerequisites, 101 and 201.Second semester; laboratory six hours; three credits.

The making of pottery by hand and with the potters' wheel; practice in the use of glaze.

204. Interior Decoration and Costume Designing. Prerequisite, 101.

Lecture one hour; laboratory four hours; three credits.

The principles of design and color as applied to house furnishings and the selection of clothing. Treatment of walls; space relations; arrangement of rugs, furniture, curtains, etc.; the planning of clothes for different types of people and for different occasions.

301. Painting. Prerequisites, 101 and 102.First semester; laboratory six hours; three credits.

An introduction to painting; study of values in charcoal in their relation to painting; painting in oils; the study of mural decoration with practical work in composition; in charcoal and tempora paints. Offered in 1930-31 and alternate years thereafter.

302. Painting. Prerequisites, 101, 102 and 301.

Second semester; laboratory six hours; three credits.

A continuation of the work of 301, with emphasis upon landscape painting. Offered in 1930-31 and alternate years thereafter.

303. Art History and Appreciation.

First semester; lecture three hours; three credits.

A survey course dealing with the history and development of art; illustrated with photographs and lantern slides. Parallel readings.

Text: "Art Through the Ages," by Gardner.

401. The Teaching of Art. Prerequisite, fifteen credits in Fine Art.

First semester; lectures two hours; laboratory two hours; three credits.

The planning of a course of study in relation to the other school subjects in the curriculum. This course precedes practice teaching.

403-R. Supervised Teaching. Prerequisites, Art 401 and Education 301.

Each semester; ten hours (five two-hour periods); six credits.

The preparation of lesson plans; teaching classes under supervision; observation and criticism of others.

405. Art in the Industries. Prerequisites, 101 and 102.

First semester; laboratory six hours; three credits.

Art structure applied to problems in the art industries. Not offered in 1930-31.

406. Advanced Design. Prerequisites, 101, 102, 301 and 405.

Second semester; laboratory six hours; three credits.

For students of design who wish to work out individual problems under the guidance of an instructor. Not offered in 1930-31.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

(See Mathematics)

Ind. Arts 101-a. Mechanical Drawing.

First semester; one hour lecture; four hours in drafting room; three credits.

Not given after first semester 1930-31. Prerequisite—credit in Descriptive Geometry.

BIBLICAL LITERATURE AND RELIGIOUS

PROFESSOR GOODWIN

MISS DAVIS

DR. IRWIN

101. Introduction to the English Bible.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of conditions, geographical, ethnological, social, moral, and spiritual, of the Hebrew people as the background of Old Testament literature, with introduction to the historical study of the Old Testament books. The moral and spiritual significance of the Old Testament.

102. Introduction to the Study of the Bible.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the New Testament world. The history of the growth of New Testament literature, with an introductory study of the books of the New Testament. The various translations and versions of the English Bible. The moral and spiritual significance of the New Testament.

103. History of the Hebrew People.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the creative forces, historical background, and development in morals and religion down to the Christian era.

105. How the Bible Grew.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A course tracing the growth of the Biblical literature. The various sources and compilations of the Books will be considered.

205. Life and Teachings of Jesus.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A detailed study of the Gospel narratives, which will include an intensive study of the person, life, and public ministry of Jesus, together with a brief survey of the Life of Christ in Art.

206. Life and Letters of Paul.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

In this course special attention is given to the life of Paul, the beginnings of the Christian church, the writing and teaching of the New Testament epistles of other early Christian literature, closing with a discussion of the place and importance of the New Testament in the life of the church.

303. Jesus' Principles of Living.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the personality of Jesus, the great fundamentals of His teaching, and their application to daily living.

304. A Study of Some of the Great Personalities of Human History.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

In this course some of the great characters of history will be studied with a view of evaluating the forces which contributed to their greatness and to their influence.

306. History of Christianity.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A survey of the outstanding developments in the life of the church from the apostolic age to the present.

307. Introduction to the Study of the Books of the Old Testament: History and Prophets.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

The purpose of this course, which should be continued by the student if possible through both terms, is to introduce the student to the study of the books of the Bible based on the use of the Standard American Revised Version. The aim of this course is threefold: to give the student an adequate knowledge of the structure of the Bible and the contents of the books, Bible geography and history, and the results of latest archaeological research; to give a rational and practical method of first hand study of the books; to train the student in the ability to see and understand the great messages of the books. Open to all students. Offered only when as many as five students register for it.

308. Introduction to the Study of the Books of the New Testament.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course consists of two parts: First, the study of the Life of Christ based on the study of the Gospel of Matthew, with comparisons with the other Gospels. Second, a study of the beginnings and progress of early Christianity, as given in the Acts of the Apostles, with special reference to the historical background and conditions. Offered only when as many as five students register for it.

309. Jesus the Master Teacher.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A consideration of the teaching principles used by Jesus in dealing with various groups.

402. Problems of Christian Faith and Christian Living.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The purpose of this course will be to give an opportunity to study and discuss the difficulties, objectives, and criticisms which face the student in the quest for truth.

403. The Philosophy of the Spirit Life.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the fundamental principles of thought and faith as related to the nature and obligation of service and leadership. In this course the source and foundation of character and of life's relationships and ethical and spiritual obligations will be investigated.

Text: Evelyn Underhill's "Life of the Spirit and the Life of To-day."

404. Organization and Administration of Young People's Work.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A survey of methods, materials, and projects suitable for the social and religious activities of young people.

101. Zoölogy.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits. Required of pre-medical students.

A study of the structure, activities, relationships and distribution of animals.

102. Botany.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits. Required of pre-medical students.

The structure, function and origin of the primary organs of the higher plants; adaptation of plants to their physical environment; the relationships, geographic distribution and evolution of the four great groups of plants.

†103. School Health.

First semester; two hours; two credits.

A course dealing with the personal and social aspects of health promotion and disease prevention, with particular attention to the health supervision of children of school age. Elective for all students except prospective teachers, of whom it, or its equivalent, is required.

201. Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates. Prerequisite, Zoölogy.

First semester; lectures two hours; laboratory six hours; five credits.

This course takes up, in a comparative way, the structure of vertebrate animals. A number of types are dissected in the laboratory. Required of pre-medical students who are candidates for a degree.

202. Embryology of Vertebrates. Prerequisite, Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates (except with consent of the instructor).

Second semester; lectures two hours; laboratory six hours; five credits.

The work of this course is based on the study of the development of the chick with comparative treatment of other forms. Required of pre-medical students who are candidates for a degree.

‡204. Evolution.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course deals with the history of the idea of evolution, the facts for which a theory is demanded, the theory of evolution and alternative theories; and with the factors of evolution according to Lamarck, Darwin and more recent biologists. It is designed for those who do not have a specialized acquaintance with Biology.

†Note.—Course 103 counts as elective only not in fulfillment of minimum degree requirements in science nor toward a major or minor in Biology.

‡Note.—Course 204 may be taken by sophomores or upper classmen as electives but do not count in fulfillment of minimum degree requirements in science nor toward a major or minor in Biology.

205. Plant Physiology. Prerequisite, Botany.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

A detailed study of the correlations of structure with the phenomena of growth, nutrition and movements of plant organs. The laboratory work is designed to acquaint the student with the methods of demonstrating the processes of absorption, movement and transformations of food materials and the methods of observing and measuring the reactions of plants to stimuli.

206. Plant Taxonomy. Prerequisite, Botany.

Second semester; lectures two hours; laboratory six hours; five credits.

The collection and systematic classification of the ferns and seed plants; a detailed examination of the morphology of the organs of the plant especially employed in classification; a study of the ecological relationships of the plants collected. Laboratory and field work on the flora of Williamsburg. Each student prepares an herbarium.

301. Public Health. Prerequisite, Zoölogy or Botany and General Chemistry.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits. Required of students majoring in Physical Education or in Home Economics.

Methods of promoting personal and community health, with consideration of some of the fact and theory on which current practice is based. Laboratory periods are utilized for exercises in elementary bacteriological technique, sanitary bacteriology, public health entomology, blood examination, physical inspection and observation trips.

302. Bacteriology. Prerequisites, Public Health. It will be advantageous to have taken, or to take with this course, Organic Chemistry.

Second semester; lectures two hours; laboratory six hours; five credits.

A study of the forms, activities, relationships and cultivation of bacteria, yeasts and molds, and of their economic, industrial and hygienic significance.

303. Human Anatomy. Prerequisite, Zoölogy.

First semester; lectures two hours; laboratory two hours; three credits. Open only to students taking a major in Physical Education.

Lectures and demonstrations on the bones, joints, ligaments, muscles and nervous and circulatory systems as related to physical education.

304. Animal Physiology. Prerequisites, Zoölogy and General Chemistry. It will be advantageous to have taken, or to take with this course, Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrates, Organic Chemistry, and Physics.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

A study of the properties of the tissues, organs, and systems that make up the animal body, including specific consideration of the physiological effects of exercise. Amphibians and mammals are used in the laboratory work.

308. Applied Anatomy and Bodily Mechanics.

This course should follow Biology 303. Second semester; three hours; three credits. Open only to students taking a major in Physical Education.

Lectures, recitations and experiments dealing with the anatomical mechanism of movements and with analysis from this standpoint of problems of athletics, physical therapy, and industrial operations.

309. Plant Ecology. Prerequisite, Botany.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

Structural and physiological adaptation of plants to their environment; plant societies; the local distribution of prominent species; general principles of the geographic distribution of plants with especial reference to economic species. This course should follow plant taxonomy.

401. Cytology. Prerequisite, Botany.

First semester; lectures two hours; laboratory six hours; five credits.

The structure and structural transformations of the cell with special reference to the phenomena of cell division and cell differentiation in the growth and reproductive tissues of plants. Recent discoveries concerned with the relationship of nucleus and cytoplasm to inheritance in both plants and animals. Each student is trained in the various methods of preparing living and killed material for certain of these studies. Counts for A.M. credit.

402. Genetics. Prerequisites, Zoölogy and Botany.

Cytology is recommended but not required in preparation for this course. Second semester; lectures three hours; three credits; laboratory work may be taken in connection with this course by registering also for Course 403, provided arrangements are made in advance with the instructor.

The principles of variation and heredity, the origin of new types and factors concerned with their development. Counts for A.M. credit.

403. Problems in Biology. Prerequisite, approval of the instructor.

Any semester; hours to be arranged; credits according to the work done.

The work of this course is strictly individual and varies with the interests and needs of advanced students. Those interested should consult the instructors before registering and, if possible, some months in advance. Counts for A.M. credit.

404. Advanced Cytology. Prerequisite, Cytology.

Second semester; lectures two hours; laboratory six hours; five credits.

A continuation of studies begun in Cytology. Students will individually pursue investigations begun in the laboratory portion of the preceding course. Special attention will be given to the interpretation, drawing, and photomicrography of prepared slides. Counts for A.M. credit.

405. Advanced Genetics. Prerequisite, Course 402 or equivalent.

First semester; lectures three hours; three credits.

Laboratory work may be taken in connection with this course provided arrangements are made in advance with the instructor.

A seminar course dealing in considerable detail with selected phases of genetics. Counts for A.M. credit.

406. Health Education. Prerequisite, 301, or its equivalent.

Second semester; two hours; two credits.

An advanced course on the program and leadership in health education. The work is outlined for those who are to become special teachers and supervisors. Some of the leading topics are: age periods and conditions, embracing knowledge and habits; discovery and treatment of defects; hygiene of instruction; control of communicable disease; teaching plans and methods. A limited amount of teaching and observation is required of all students taking this course, in addition to the two hours of lecture.

101. Elementary General Chemistry.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

Chemical laws and chemistry of the non-metals. Required of pre-medical students.

102. Elementary General Chemistry. Prerequisite, 101.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

Continuation of 101, involving a study of the metals and an introduction to qualitative analysis. Required of pre-medical students.

201. Qualitative Analysis. Prerequisite, 102.

First semester; lectures two hours; laboratory six hours; five credits.

The lectures are devoted to the theory of qualitative analysis with problems. The laboratory work is the practical application of qualitative procedures to the metals, non-metals, and ores.

203. Quantitative Analysis. Prerequisite, 102. Gravimetric.

First semester; lecture one hour; laboratory eight hours; five credits.

A course in the principles of gravimetric analysis with determination of metals, non-metals, and the analyses of ores and alloys.

204. Quantitative Analysis. Prerequisite, 102.

Second semester; lecture one hour; laboratory eight hours; five credits.

A course in the principles of quantitative analysis. The laboratory work will include the preparation of standard and normal solutions, and the volumetric determination of iron, copper, arsenic, silver, manganese, etc.

205. Mineralogy and Crystallography. Prerequisite, 102.

First semester; lectures two hours; laboratory six hours; five credits.

This course takes up the qualitative study of ores and rocks.

*Course 203 or 204 is required for a major in Chemistry.

301. Organic Chemistry. Prerequisite, 102.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

The fundamentals of organic chemistry; a study of the aliphatic hydrocarbons and their derivatives. Required of pre-medical students.

302. Organic Chemistry, Prerequisite, 301.

Second semester; required of pre-medical students; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits. May count for A.M. degree.

Continuation of 301. Carbohydrates, proteins, mixed compounds, the cyclic hydrocarbons and their derivatives.

306. Biochemistry. Prerequisite, one semester of organic chemistry and one semester of quantitative analysis.

Second semester; lectures two hours; laboratory six hours; five credits.

An introduction to the fundamental procedures of biochemistry. The course is designed to train the student to apply the basic principles and technique of chemistry to biochemical problems.

308. Industrial Chemistry. Prerequisite, fifteen credits in chemistry.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

The lecture work covers a variety of industrial products such as explosives, dyes, rubber, etc. The laboratory work includes the analysis of commercial foodstuffs, fuels, steels, etc. A knowledge of quantitative chemistry is necessary in order to take the laboratory work.

401. Physical Chemistry. Prerequisite, one year of college physics and two years of chemistry.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits. May count for A.M. degree.

Lectures and laboratory work including determination of molecular weights, ionization, indicators, liquids and liquid mixtures, viscosity, vapor pressures, elevation of the boiling point, distillation of liquid mixtures, and solution and solubility.

402. Physical Chemistry. Prerequisite, 401.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits. May count for A.M. degree.

Lectures and laboratory work include colloids, equilibrium and the phase rule, refractive index, speed of reaction, catalysis, saponification, thermochemistry, electrolysis, and problems.

403. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry. Prerequisite, two years of college chemistry.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits. May count for A.M. degree.

Lectures and laboratory work covering all of the elements in the periodic table, and laboratory work covering their extraction from ores and their qualitative separation. Particular emphasis is placed upon the chemistry of the rarer elements. There will be definite problems.

404. Advanced Inorganic Chemistry. Prerequisite, 403.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits. May count for A.M. degree.

Lecture and laboratory work continued with special emphasis on radioactivity, the modern theories of the atomic structure, crystal analysis, and the preparation of rare compounds. Extensive reading in the library will be assigned and some original research work done.

405. Advanced Quantitative Analysis. Prerequisites, 203, 204.

First semester; lecture one hour; laboratory eight hours; five credits. May count for A.M. degree.

The application of the principles of quantitative analysis to industrial products. The work will be varied to suit individual preferences. Analyses will include fertilizers, foodstuffs, water, limestone, and cement.

406. Advanced Quantitative Analysis. Continuation of 405. Second semester; laboratory ten hours; five credits. May count for A.M. degree.

Considerable latitude allowed in the choice of subjects for analysis.

407. Advanced Organic Chemistry. Prerequisite, 302. First semester; lecture one hour; laboratory eight hours; five credits.

Qualitative analysis of organic compounds; practical methods of organic preparations.

408. Advanced Organic Chemistry. Prerequisite, 407. Second semester; laboratory ten hours; five credits.

Quantitative organic analysis; determination of molecular weights; estimation of halogens, sulfur, radicals, and unsaturation in organic compounds. Organic combustions.

Degree Requirements

I. Required for a degree and prerequisite for all 300 courses:

	Hours
1. Freshman Year —
Eng. 101 -----	3
Eng. 102 -----	3
2. Sophomore Year —
Eng. 201 -----	3
Eng. 202 -----	3

II. Required for Minor:

1. Eng. 101, 102, 201, 202 -----	12
2. One course in Advanced Composition, or its equivalent	3
3. One third year course -----	3
4. One fourth year course -----	3

III. Required for Major:

1. Eng. 101, 102, 201, 202 -----	12
2. Advanced Composition or its equivalent -----	3
3. From third and fourth year courses -----	9
4. Select from 401, 402, 405, 407 (or 410), 408 -----	6

NOTE—Not more than 6 semester hours may be chosen from Dramatics, Journalism, and Public Speaking in meeting the requirements for a minor or a major in English.

Master's Degree

All candidates for a Master's degree in English are required to complete the advanced course in Shakespeare (English 407) and the course in Anglo-Saxon.

Honors in English

A student majoring in English who desires to take honors in English, should indicate his choice not later than the second semester of his junior year. Conditions to be met for honors in English are as follows:

1. At the time of his application the student must have made an average of 83 or more on at least twelve credits in English, and an average of 91 on at least three credits.
2. The candidate must make an average of 91 or more in all English courses taken after his application has been accepted.
3. The candidate is required to have completed 401-402, Anglo-Saxon, 407, Shakespeare (Extensive), or 410, Shakespeare (Intensive), before receiving honors.
4. In the last semester of his senior year the candidate must pass an examination given by the committee of the English faculty.

Students' Use of English

Every candidate for the Bachelor's degree, no matter what may be his major, shall be required to give before graduation satisfactory evidence of his ability to write English correctly.

Any student beyond the Freshman year who lapses into incorrect English may be required at any time to do supplementary work to meet the standard of the Department.

101. Grammar and Composition. Prerequisite, three units of high school English.

Each semester; three hours; three credits.

Grammar, the mechanics of composition, the study of words, and some practice in the use of common reference books. The course begins with a review and a reorganization of such knowledge of the English language as the student brings to college with him, and proceeds to a thorough study of Grammar, with particular attention to syntax. The written work required is based on selected essays, and is intended to give the student practice in reporting accurately the substance of what he reads.

102. Composition and Rhetoric. Prerequisite, English 101.

Each semester; three hours; three credits.

Training in Exposition, with some attention to Argumentation if time permits. Short themes will be required daily, and in addition two long themes supported by adequate bibliographies. While the student will be expected to master a certain amount of theory, the aim of the course is primarily the development of skill in composition.

201. American Literature. Prerequisite, English 101 and 102.

Each semester; three credits. Required by the State Board of Education of all who expect to teach in the public high schools.

This course is a survey of American literature. Emphasis is laid upon the product of American authors rather than upon their lives. Frequent themes.

202. English Literature. Prerequisite, English 101 and 102.

Each semester; three hours; three credits. Required by the State Board of Education of all who expect to teach in the public high schools. Interpretation of literature, with incidental biography.

This is a survey of English literature for twelve centuries. Great productions of standard authors are interpreted by the professor. Frequent themes. This course may be offered in the first semester also.

302. The Study of Words. Prerequisite, twelve credits in English.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course traces historically words and their ways in English; fashions and movements in English; slang and other phenomena of language.

303. Advanced Composition.

Each semester; three hours; three credits.

This course or its equivalent is required for a minor in English.

304. The American Novel.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The development of the novel in America from the work of Charles Brockden Brown to the present day. Open to juniors and seniors.

305. The English Novel.

First semester; three hours; three credits. Open to juniors and seniors.

A survey covering the development of the English Novel from its origin to the end of the nineteenth century.

306. Survey of the American Short-Story. Prerequisite, twelve semester hours in English.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

An historical survey of the short-story as a distinctive American contribution with extensive readings in English, American and French masterpieces. Especial emphasis will be placed upon the story of local color and the various American character types employed therein.

English 314. Milton and the Seventeenth Century.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the poetry and prose of Milton. Some mention will be made of the important Restoration writers.

315. English Drama.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the origin and development of the drama in England from its beginning through Marlowe.

316. English Drama. (From Ben Jonson through Sheridan.)

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the plays of Ben Jonson, Beaumont and Fletcher, Dryden, Goldsmith, Sheridan, and their lesser contemporaries.

317. Modern and Contemporary English and American Poetry.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of English and American Poetry beginning with the period of the nineties and continuing through the contemporary field. Especial emphasis will be laid on the contemporary poets and the various poetic movements. Lectures, reading, reports.

401. Old English (Anglo-Saxon). Prerequisite, fifteen semester credits in English.

First semester; three hours; three credits. Students are expected to continue Old English in the second term.

402. Old English (Anglo-Saxon) (Continued). Prerequisite, English 401.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

403. Romantic Poetry. Prerequisite, twelve semester hours.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of Romanticism in England with special emphasis on Wordsworth, Coleridge, Byron, Shelley, and Keats.

404. Victorian Prose. Prerequisite, fifteen semester hours in English.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

After a rapid survey of the development of the essay from Bacon to Carlyle, the discussions of the course will be based upon Carlyle, Ruskin, Arnold, Newman, and Stevenson. Frequent reports and themes are required. Offered in 1930-31 and in alternate years thereafter, if the enrollment justifies.

405. Spenser and the Renaissance. Prerequisite, twelve semester hours.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the work of Spenser and other non-dramatic poetry of the Elizabethan age. Offered in 1930-31 and in alternate years thereafter, if enrollment justifies.

406. Browning and Tennyson. Prerequisite, fifteen semester hours.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The course will include a careful reading of the best poems of Tennyson and Browning, with extensive reading of British poets contemporary with them.

407. Shakespeare. Prerequisite, twelve semester hours.
First semester; three hours; three credits.

An extensive course covering twenty plays in class, with other plays for collateral reading.

408. Chaucer. Prerequisite, fifteen semester hours.
Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course gives a brief preliminary study of Chaucer's literary background, a detailed study of a number of the Canterbury Tales, of other poems, and of a part of Troilus and Criseyde.

410. Shakespeare. Prerequisite, twelve semester hours.
Second semester; three hours; three credits.

In this course an intensive study will be made of one of each of the three types of Shakespeare's plays. Collateral reading from other plays.

LIBRARY SCIENCE

E. G. SWEM, Librarian

103. The Use of Reference Books. Prerequisite, three units of high school English.

Each semester; two hours; two credits; elective.

Although the course in the use of reference books is planned primarily for freshmen, it is open to upper classmen also. In this course instruction is given in the use of dictionaries, encyclopedias, atlases, concordances, indexes to periodical literature, year books and city, state and federal documents. The principles of library classification and cataloguing are presented briefly, so that the student may know how to use the college library.

PUBLIC SPEAKING AND DRAMATICS

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR BROOKS

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR HUNT

A minor in this department and in special cases as much as a major may be secured. At least one course in Play Production is recommended.

Six credits in this department will count on a minor or a major in English.

Six credits in this department taken from 307, 308, 313, 314, and 315 will count on a minor or a major in Government.

307. Public Speaking. Prerequisite, English 101 and 102.
Three hours; three credits.

The course is designed so to train a person that he may appear before the public on almost any occasion and be able to stand on his feet and say what he has to say. It is intended to instruct a person in the knowledge of how to put a speech together and how to deliver it to an audience. The various types of speeches will include the speech of Introduction, Welcome, Presentation, Acceptance, and After-Dinner Speaking. The class will work on various platforms in order to become accustomed to strange circumstances.

308. Advanced Public Speaking. Prerequisite 307.
Three hours; three credits.

This is a continuation of the first semester course. The course will be devoted to a consideration of a thorough system of gesture, a review of several of the better known texts, and the presentation of such types of speeches as money drives, sermons, orations, and addresses.

309. Play Production. Prerequisite, 307-308, or their equivalent.

Three two-hour periods; three credits.

This course is a study of the cultural and educative possibilities of amateur dramatics. It is intended for those who are interested in the acting and producing of amateur plays. Laboratory fee of $1.50 per semester.

310. Advanced Play Production.

Three two-hour periods; three credits.

Open to students who have had 309, and to a limited number of others by special permission of the instructor.

This course is a continuation of 309 with special emphasis on directing, preparation of play manuscripts, and study of community drama. Laboratory fee, $1.50.

311. Interpretative Reading.

Three hours; three credits.

This course is designed to develop the student's personality, especially before the public, and to train him in the art of platform reading. The interpretation of poetry according to Dr. Emerson's theory will form the main part of the course. Recitals once a month will give opportunity for public presentation.

312. Advanced Interpretative Reading.

Three hours; three credits.

This course is a continuation of 311 with recitals consisting of readings involving several characters from one and three-act plays.

313. Debate.

Three hours; three credits.

The purpose of this course is to instruct and train students in the theory of argument and the practice of debate. Each member of the class will have frequent opportunities to prepare arguments and present them before the class. Same as Gov. 309.

314. Advanced Debate.

Three hours; three credits.

This is a continuation of 313 with emphasis on the briefing and pleading of cases. Actual presentation of cases in intercollegiate debating style will predominate with some attention to jury pleading. Same as Gov. 310.

This course will enable those who desire a full year in United States History to continue their work in the field. Open to Freshmen only by permission of the Instructor.

201. Europe to 1715.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A general course showing the development and expansion of the states of Europe to 1715, in which emphasis is placed upon the social, economic, and religious history as well as upon the political side.

202. Europe Since 1715.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of 201, but this course is not a prerequisite. The course treats of the Industrial Revolution, the French Revolution, the development of nationalism, democracy and imperialism, and of the effects of these forces in modern European history.

203. England to 1688.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of that period in English history which furnishes the background of our language, laws, and literature.

204. England Since 1688.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of 203, which is not a prerequisite. It deals with the making of modern England, and of the British Commonwealth of nations.

301. The Ancient World.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of ancient civilization, with emphasis upon Greece and Rome and their importance in the formation of our modern civilization. For Juniors and Seniors.

302. Mediaeval Civilization.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The course deals with the institutions, life, and thought of the mediaeval period, and attempts to show the place of this period in the development of our modern life. A general knowledge of the political history of the time is presupposed. For Juniors and Seniors.

401. Problems in United States History Before 1865. Prerequisite, 101, or its equivalent and permission of the Instructor.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

The purpose of this course is to give the student the opportunity to study more thoroughly certain phases of American history which may be of special interest to him; to aid him in the use of material in the library; and to give him practice in giving to the class the results of his work.

For Juniors and Seniors; may also count for A.M. work. Offered in alternate years (See Hist. 411). Not offered in 1930-31.

402. Problems in United States History Since 1865. Prerequisite, 101, or its equivalent, and permission of the Instructor.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of 401, which, however, is not a prerequisite. For Juniors and Seniors; may count for A.M. work. Offered in alternate years (See Hist. 412). Not offered in 1930-31.

403. Virginia to 1830. Prerequisite, 101, or its equivalent.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of colonial Virginia and of the early days of the Commonwealth. Williamsburg is situated in the oldest English community in America. The town and the college furnish an inspiring background for the study of Virginia History, and American History. The editors of the William and Mary College Quarterly Historical Magazine offer each semester a valuable prize as a reward for scholarship in the class. For Juniors and Seniors; may count for A.M. work.

404. Virginia Since 1830. Prerequisite, 101, or its equivalent.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the development of Virginia from the adoption of the Constitution of 1830 to the present. Social, economic, and institutional history will be stressed as well as the political. Lessons and observations in the Williamsburg High School under supervision of the College Home Economics Department.

JOURNALISM

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR CLARK

While not to be confused with graduate work, the courses in Journalism will provide instruction in important aspects of newspaper making, with such studies as should equip the student for the demands of active service. It will teach the students how to gather, write, edit, interpret and print the news. Particularized to the extent that it will cover such subjects as reporting, copy-reading, editorial writing, the history of journalism, and the problems of the country weekly; it will also, through requirements in history, politics, government, economics and sociology, attempt to endow the student with broad intellectual horizons, so that the journalist may be fully conscious of his function in the life of the world. Finally, the courses will have as an essential part of their program the grounding of the student in the use of a lucid, vigorous, concise and moving English style.

Only Juniors, or those who have successfully completed two years of work at a college or university of satisfactory grade, will be admitted to the courses in journalism.

A minor may be taken in journalism by completing twenty semester credits and publishing a minimum of thirty column inches of material in some one of the college publications, The Flat Hat or the Literary Magazine, provided that the student seeking the journalism minor carries also either a minor or a major in English. If not taken as a minor journalism will be elective only except that students majoring in English may count six (6) semester hours in journalism on their English major.

Journalism cannot be counted as English in the minimum degree requirement except that any course in Journalism, save Journalism 303, may be substituted for English 303 in meeting the requirements for a major or a minor in English.

By special arrangement with Mr. J. A. Osborne, editor of the Virginia Gazette, of Williamsburg, students in journalism will have the plant of this newspaper at their disposal for all required laboratory work.

303. History of Journalism. Prerequisite, Junior or Senior standing.

First semester in even years—i. e., 1932, 1934, etc.; three hours; three credits.

Required for all minors in Journalism.

The history of American Journalism from colonial times up to the present day; a discussion of great American editors and their policies; development of the newspaper; the canons of journalism; the newspaper's relations to its public and to other newspapers; the treatment of crime, labor, politics and religion; the suppression of news; propaganda as distinguished from publicity; the line between news and advertising.

305. Principles of Journalism. Prerequisite, Junior or Senior standing.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A survey of the problems that confront any newspaper in the gathering, writing, selecting and marketing of news. Emphasis is placed upon matters that concern the reporter, such as what news is, how it is gathered, and how it should be written. Intensive drill throughout the term in gathering and writing news. Required for all minors in Journalism.

307. Short Story Writing. Prerequisite, Junior or Senior standing.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A laboratory course in the writing of the short story, the essentials of the narrative technique of the short story. Criticism of stories with classroom exercises, reading and discussion; conferences on the original stories written by students.

308. Advanced Short Story Writing. Prerequisite, Junior or Senior standing.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of Journalism 307 and dependent upon it. Open to students who have had 307 and to a limited number of others by special permission of the instructor.

A study of the special techniques of various types of short fiction, the editorial policies of selected magazines and the commercial aspects of fiction writing.

309. Dramatic Composition and Practical Play-Writing. Prerequisite, Junior or Senior standing.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of dramatic technique and the nature of dramatic effect together with practice in the writing of pageants and the one-act play; the use of history, local legends and traditions as material for drama; the use of the drama as an instrument for the teaching of history and literature, etc.

310. Advanced Play Writing. Open to students who have had 309 and to a limited number of others by special permission of the instructor.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of 309 and dependent upon it. The study of the three-act play, the commercial possibilities of dramatic authorship, and the special problems of the playwright.

NOTE—Both 309 and 310 correlate with courses offered in the Department of Dramatics and Public Speaking and an effort will be made to have this department produce the best plays written by the students in the play-writing courses. Whenever possible, it is suggested that students enrolling for either of these courses, take in connection with it Play Production 309.

401. Editorial Writing and Policy. Prerequisite, Junior or Senior standing.

First semester in odd years—i. e., 1931, 1933, etc.; three hours; three credits.

Editorial policy; methods of choosing material for editorials and drill in writing them. Present editorial practice; types of editorials; foreign, domestic and local news in its editorial interpretation. Required for all minors in Journalism.

402. Feature and Magazine Writing. Prerequisite, Junior or Senior standing.

Second semester in even years—i. e., 1930, 1932, etc.; three hours; three credits.

Practice in writing special newspaper and magazine articles; study of the technique of non-fictitious writing; study of current newspaper supplements and magazines; practical assignments. Required for all minors in Journalism.

404. Literary and Dramatic Reviewing. Prerequisite, Junior or Senior standing.

Second semester in odd years—i. e., 1931, 1933, etc.; three hours; three credits.

The field of work belonging to the literary and dramatic criticism; current critical theories; book reviews and dramatic criticism studied; practical assignments.

312. Newspaper Management. Prerequisite, Junior or Senior standing.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Training of newspaper executives with particular reference to circulation, advertising and promotion problems of small newspapers; functions of various newspaper departments; discussion of plant location, equipment and operation; general principles of newspaper cost accounting; purchase of supplies; and delivery systems. Required for all minors in Journalism.

Mathematics 201 and 202 must be included in every major or minor in Mathematics, and every major must be approved by the head of the department. Students who expect to take a major in mathematics should take 101, 102, and 104 in their freshman year. Failure to do this may make it impossible to complete a major in four years.

101. Freshman Mathematics.

First semester; three hours; three credits. Repeated second semester.

A course in elementary mathematics.

102. Freshman Mathematics. Prerequisite, 101.

Second semester; three hours; three credits. Repeated first semester.

A continuation of 101.

104. Analytic Geometry. Prerequisite, 101, and registration in 102.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Pre-engineering students and those majoring in the exact sciences should take these three courses during the freshman year.

108. Solid Geometry.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

May not be counted towards a major or minor in mathematics. Offered in 1929-30 and alternate years thereafter.

201. Calculus. Prerequisite, 104.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Elements of the calculus.

202. Calculus. Prerequisite, 201.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of 201.

203. Advanced Analytic Geometry. Prerequisite, 104 and registration in 201.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

204. Advanced College Algebra. Prerequisite, 201.
Second semester; three hours; three credits.

206. Mathematical Theory of Investment. Prerequisite, 101 and 102.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Compound interest; annuities; payment by periodic installments; depreciation of capitalized cost; bonds; insurance.

This course is recommended for students in Business Administration.

301. Differential and Integral Calculus. Prerequisites, 201, 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of 202. This course should be taken by engineering students and students who expect to teach mathematics.

303. History of Mathematics. Prerequisite, 201, 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended primarily for those who intend to teach mathematics.

402. Differential Equations. Prerequisite, 201, 202, 301.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course may be used for A.M. credit.

404. Survey of Mathematics. Prerequisite, 201.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is one of content rather than one of method. It is recommended for those who expect to teach mathematics. The purpose of this course is to give the teacher a broader view of secondary mathematics.

405. Functions of a Complex Variable.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

An introduction to the function theory. May be used for A.M. credit. Offered in 1929-30 and alternate years thereafter.

406. Functions of a Complex Variable. Prerequisite, 405.
Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of 405. May be used for A.M. credit. Offered in 1929-30 and alternate years thereafter.

407. Projective Geometry.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

An introduction to modern geometry. May be used for A.M. credit. Offered in 1930-31 and alternate years thereafter.

408. Projective Geometry. Prerequisite, 407.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of 407. May be used for A.M. credit. Offered in 1930-31 and alternate years thereafter.

COURSES IN INDUSTRIAL ARTS

101. Descriptive Geometry and Mechanical Drawing.

First semester; lectures two hours; laboratory, six hours; five credits.

A first course in these subjects.

102. Mechanical Drawing.

Second semester; lecture one hour; laboratory four hours; three credits.

A course in drafting, comprising a general view of the subject of instrumental drafting, orthographic and isometric drawing.

105. Plane and Topographical Surveying. Prerequisite, Math. 101 and 102.

First semester; repeated second semester (if enrollment justifies); lecture one hour; laboratory four hours; three credits.

Lecture and recitations on the text. Field practice in each position on corps, using transit; various types of levels; plane table and compass in surveys for area and topography, leveling for profile, grading, excavation, etc. Calculation of vertical,

First semester; three hours; three credits. Will not count on a major or minor. The first semester of a beginner's courses in modern languages—French, German, Spanish, and Italian—will not carry college credit until the work of the second semester is completed.

Elementary grammar and easy reading; written and oral exercises; pronunciation stressed; from the very beginning attention is called to the significance of English-German cognates and what they imply. As far as feasible, German will be the language of the lecture room.

102. Elementary German. Prerequisite, German 101, or the equivalent.

Second semester; three hours; three credits. Will not count on a major or a minor.

Continuation of the above course and dependent upon it. Elementary grammar completed; reading of simple standard prose; written and oral exercises.

201. German Prose of the 19th and 20th Centuries. Prerequisite, two high school units.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Rapid reading of short stories or essays by standard German authors. Instead of literary, the readings may be in scientific German, should there be a demand for such a course. Practice in reading at sight.

202. Composition and Conversation. Prerequisite, three high school units, or the equivalent.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A systematic course in syntax, synonyms and idioms including a scientific study of English-German cognates through Grimm's Law. Abundant written and oral translation from English into German.

301. Advanced Composition. Prerequisite, 201 and 202 or the equivalent.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Written themes and oral work on subjects relating to German geography, history and literature. Lectures on the history of the German language with especial reference to the kinship of German and English. The student will use and familiarize himself with the following reference works: Armstrong—German Grammar; Curme—A Grammar of the German Language; Behagel—Die Deutsche Sprache; Eberhard-Lyon—Synonymisches Handwoerterbuch der Deutschen Sprache.

302. The German Essay. Prerequisite, two 200 courses.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The purpose of this course is to bridge the gap between the German of Goethe and Schiller and that of the essay, review and editorial of today and thus prepare the student to cope with serious contemporary literature. The reading material is selected with this end in view. (Given in alternate years; see German 304.)

For either German 304 or 306 may be substituted a Schiller course if it should be found desirable to do so.

304. Goethe Course. Prerequisite, two 200 courses.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of Faust, Part I, with selections from Part II. Goethe's life and place in the world's literature. Supplementary readings and written reports. (Given in alternate years; see German 302.)

101. Beginners' Italian.

First semester; three hours; three credits. Will not count on a major or minor. The first semester of a beginner's course in modern languages—French, German, Spanish, and Italian—will not carry college credit until the work of the second semester is completed.

Elementary grammar, easy reading, written and oral exercise. Pronunciation will be stressed from the beginning.

102. Elementary Italian. Prerequisite, 101, or the equivalent.

Second semester; three hours; three credits. Will not count on a major or a minor.

Elementary grammar completed; intensive study of verbs and their forms; oral and written composition; reading of simple prose.

201. Modern Italian Literature. Prerequisite, 102, or the equivalent.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Practice in accurate translation into English and sight-reading of representative selections from the works of the best modern Italian authors of the last three centuries. Though a reading course, the work will include drill in the irregular verb and a study of syntactical phenomena as they occur in the text.

202. Composition and Conversation. Prerequisite, 102, or the equivalent.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Systematic study of syntax; vocabulary and idioms especially with a view to distinguishing between synonymous words and expressions; translation of English into Italian together with original composition.

101. Beginners' Spanish.

First semester; three hours; three credits. Will not count on a major or minor. The first semester of a beginner's course in modern languages—French, German, Spanish, and Italian—will not carry college credit until the work of the second semester is completed.

Elementary grammar and easy reading; written exercises and oral drill; practice in pronunciation; Spanish as far as feasible is the language of the lecture-room.

102. Elementary Spanish. Prerequisite, Spanish 101.

Second semester; three hours; three credits. Will not count on a major or a minor.

Elementary grammar completed; reading of simple standard prose; oral and written composition.

201. Spain and Its Civilization. Prerequisite, three high school units, or the equivalent.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A survey of the political constitution and administrative organization of the Spain of today; its geography and a brief review of its history; influence of Spanish civilization on Spanish America. A reading course.

202. Composition and Conversation. Prerequisite, three high school units, or the equivalent.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Study of Spanish syntax and idioms with abundant written work and oral drill; practice in conversation. Required of all who minor in Spanish.

203. Readings in 19th Century Spanish Literature. Prerequisite, two high school units.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

An introduction to Spanish literature through the rapid reading of a number of carefully selected modern Spanish cuentos. Sight-reading and grammar review through the medium of the texts used.

240. Spanish America. Prerequisite, three high school units, or the equivalent.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A survey of the political, economic and literary history of the Spanish-American countries through the reading of appropriate texts. Written reports and collateral reading.

301. Advanced Composition. Prerequisite, 201 and 202 or the equivalent.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

An intensive study of Spanish syntax through written and oral composition based on the following works: Bruno, Lecciones de Lengua Castellana; Campillo y Correa, Retórica y Poética;

Ramsey, Text-Book of Modern Spanish. Spanish phonetics; lectures on the evolution of the Spanish language; bibliography of a high school teacher's reference library.

For prospective teachers of Spanish and required of all who major in the language.

302. The Spanish Novel. Prerequisite, 202 and one 300 course.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Lectures on the origin and development of this type of literature in Spain; critical reading of several representative, modern Spanish novels. Collateral reading; for reference, Fitzmaurice-Kelly's Historia.

303. The Modern Drama. Prerequisite, 201 or 203 and 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the chief tendencies of the Spanish Drama since 1890. Typical plays will be read and analyzed in class. Written reports and collateral reading. For reference, Fitzmaurice-Kelly's Historia de la Literatura Espanola.

304. Commercial Spanish. Prerequisite, 202 and one 300 course.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Advanced composition in commercial correspondence; commercial legislation in Spain and Spanish America; commercial geography, monetary systems, insurance and banking. Attention will be given to the several systems of bookkeeping used in South America.

401. History of Spanish Literature. Prerequisite, eighteen semester hours in Spanish.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A rapid survey course from the beginnings to the present time with stress on the outstanding figures in Spanish letters. Graphs, supplementary reading and written reports. Lectures based on: Hurtadon y Palencia, Historia de la Literatura Espanola. Required of all who major in Spanish.

402. The Classical Drama. Prerequisite, eighteen semester hours in Spanish.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Lectures on the evolution of the Spanish drama; interpretative reading of a number of representative Spanish plays by such authors as Lope de Vega, Tirso de Molina, Ruiz de Alarcón and Calderón de la Barca. Critical and analytical study of at least one drama. Collateral reading and written reports. (Given in alternate years; see Spanish 404.)

403. Cervantes Course. Prerequisite, eighteen semester hours in Spanish.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A critical study of Cervantes and his place in the literature of Spain and the world. Biography and bibliography. Cervantes as a dramatist and as a novelist. Reading and interpretation in the lecture-room of Don Quixote and Novelas Ejemplares. Written reports and outline. Required of all who major in Spanish.

404. The Spanish Ballad and Lyric. Prerequisite, eighteen semester hours in Spanish.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Lectures on the origin, development and metrical form of Spanish ballad and lyric poetry; especial stress on the modern lyric both of Spain and of Spanish America. A number of poems will be read and interpreted in class. Parallel reading and written reports. (Given in alternate years; see Spanish 402.)

Methods and Laboratory Work in the Modern Language Courses

Emphasis is placed on the oral language and the acquiring of a correct pronunciation is stressed incessantly. Every effort is made to train the ear as well as the eye of the student so that, at the completion of his course, he may know, not merely the language of the printed page, but also that of the spoken word and that he may be able to express himself with some facility in the foreign tongue. As far as possible the language taught is the language of the lecture-room. In the advanced courses the work is conducted largely in the foreign language.

In every course, even those purely literary in character, there will be more or less oral drill. For laboratory work, groups are organized in which the more advanced students are given the opportunity to cultivate and develop their power of self-expression in informal conversation. In the dining hall there are tables at which only foreign languages are spoken.

A student is normally supposed to continue in college the modern language which is offered for high school entrance. To change to another language the consent of the Dean is required.

MUSIC

101. Sight Reading and Ear Training.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Complete review of elementary theory and application of theory in sight singing. Practice and drill is given in the correlation of hearing, playing, writing and singing of melodies and rhythms. Students in this course will be assigned regular practices in some recognized choral group to supplement class work. Daily written assignments are required.

102. Sight Reading and Ear Training.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Advanced theory and its application in sight singing and ear training. Two, three, and four part songs are studied and read at sight. Songs are analyzed as to form and chord structure. Regular practice in some recognized choral group is required.

(Music 101 and 102 are valuable to members of glee clubs, choir, band and orchestra.)

201. Harmony. Prerequisites, 101, 102, or their equivalent; ability to play second grade piano music.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Review of theory; keyboard and written work on the consonant principal chords, dissonant principal chords, subordinate chords and thoroughbass notation. Daily assignments are given in written and keyboard work.

202. Advanced Harmony. Prerequisite, 201.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Original compositions in the smaller forms; keyboard and written work on passing-notes, suspensions and harmonic modulations; analyzing of at least one sonata; playing of at least five hymns in all major and minor keys. Daily assignments as in 201.

301. Music Appreciation.

First semester; three hours lecture, one hour laboratory; three credits.

Open to all students as a general culture course, and not intended for the music major only. Lectures are supplemented with electric phonograph illustrations. Students are asked to listen to radio broadcasts of standard music. The course covers the fundamentals of music, classification of voices, orchestra by sight and sound, theme, recognition, literature of song, literature of the small instrumental forms, programmatic music, mood discrimination, evolution of form, large instrumental forms, programmatic and pure music.

302. Music History and Appreciation. Prerequisite, 301.

Second semester; three hours lecture, one hour laboratory; three credits.

Lectures are supplemented with phonograph illustrations. This course includes the study of the history of primitive and ancient music, musical beginnings, medieval music, polyphony, opera, oratorio, instruments, orchestra, instrumental forms, vocal forms, significant master music makers, moderns and ultra-moderns.

(Music 101, 102, 201, 202, and 302 are required on music minor.)

APPLIED MUSIC

Third grade proficiency is required of students in all applied music courses, excepting voice, before being allowed to enter courses for which credit is given. Students unable to meet this requirement may enter the elementary courses in piano and orchestral instruments and on acquiring third grade proficiency may begin the courses for credit as outlined. All applied music students are expected to take part in such ensemble work as suggested by the head of the music department.

(Note. No credit will be allowed in any applied music course unless the student spends two hours in practice each day in courses giving four hours credit, or one hour in practice each day in courses giving two hours credit. No exception will be made to this rule. Students will appear in recital or in programs as requested by head of the music department.)

Beginning Piano.

Both semesters; one half-hour lesson each week, or two half-hours each week; no credit.

This course is intended to prepare students for work in the accredited courses in piano. Students having third grade proficiency should not take this course.

Pianoforte.

Both semesters; four hours credit, two half-hours lesson each week; or two hours credit, one half-hour lesson each week.

Assignments and instruction are given in accordance with the individual need of the student. Piano study may continue throughout the four years of college.

Voice. Prerequisite, ability to pursue vocal study.

Both semesters; four hours credit, two half-hour lessons each week; two hours credit, one half-hour lesson each week.

Instruction is given in accordance with the individual need of the student. Voice study may continue throughout the four years of college.

Cornet, Trumpet, French Horn and Trombone.

Both semesters; two half-hour lessons each week; no credit; one half-hour lesson each week.

Instruction is given in accordance with individual need of the student.

Other Orchestral Instruments.

Instruction will be provided as demand warrants.

MUSIC ORGANIZATIONSBand.

Both semesters; hourly rehearsals are held twice each week; one credit for both semesters.

The band plays for all athletic contests staged on the campus and is expected to appear on other occasions when requested by the administration or head of the music department.

Orchestra.

Both semesters; hourly rehearsals are held twice each week; one semester hour for both semesters.

Standard music is studied and preparations are made for frequent appearances in public. The orchestra is expected to appear in public whenever requested by the administration or head of the music department.

College Choir.

Both semesters; one hour each week; one semester hour for both semesters.

The personnel of the choir is chosen by the director and consists of students having outstanding voices. On occasions requiring it, the choir appears fully vested and adds dignity to the programs.

Varsity Girls' Glee Club.

Both semesters; two one hour rehearsals each week; one semester hour for both semesters.

Members of this organization are chosen on a competitive basis. The best of women's choruses are studied and presented in public performances.

Varsity Men's Glee Club.

Both semesters; two one hour rehearsals each week; one semester hour for both semesters.

Members are chosen on a competitive basis. Standard choruses are studied and presented in public performances.

Freshman Girls' and Men's Glee Clubs.

Both semesters; one hour each week; no credit.

The purpose of these groups is to give vocal training to those students not chosen for the varsity clubs. Members will be given the chance to join the varsity club when vacancies occur.

Note.—In college choir, varsity girls' glee club and varsity men's glee club, two credits are allowed on a minor. Any excess credits in these subjects must be counted as a part of the six (6) student activities credits allowed towards a degree.

The Department of Physical Education conducts two distinct classes of instruction:

DIVISION 1—Required Physical Training and Intra-Mural Athletics.

DIVISION 2—Professional Training in Physical Education.

*On leave of absence first semester, 1929-30.

Division 1

At the beginning of each session a physical and medical examination is given to all students, including both men and women. A system of graded courses is prescribed for the sound students, while a special corrective gymnastic treatment is outlined for the physically subnormal student.

m101, 102. Physical Training and Hygiene for Men.

Both semesters; three hours; one credit each semester. Physical examination and classification of students; training in gymnastics, games, athletics, and personal hygiene. Required of all freshmen.

w101, 102. Physical Training and Hygiene for Women.

Both semesters; three hours; one credit each semester. Physical examination and classification of students, training in gymnastics, games, athletics, and personal hygiene. Required of all freshmen. A regulation gymnasium uniform is required.

101, 102-C. Remedial Play and Exercise.

Both semesters; three hours; one credit each semester. Corrective exercises and play activities adapted to needs of special cases.

m201, w201. Advanced Physical Training.

First semester; three hours; two credits. Prerequisites, Physical Education 101 and 102. Required of all sophomore men and women.

Leadership of boys and girls. The daily programs include: Introductory, Postural, Technical and Recreational activities. The theory periods treat of the objectives of physical education, the effect of the activities in the lesson-plan, school athletics, organized recess, achievement tests, and the management of field days and demonstrations.

m202. Seasonal Activities.

Second semester; three hours; one credit. Optional for men.

w202. Seasonal Activities.

Second semester; three hours; one credit. Prerequisites, 101, 102, and 201. Required of all sophomore women. Open to all upper classmen.

The aim of this course is to develop skill in athletic and recreative activities. The course includes regular work with the athletic teams of the college or with other organized groups under supervision. Special groups will be arranged in sports, apparatus, dancing, swimming, etc.

Division 2

Professional Courses

The following are requirements for students taking a major in Physical Education:

Academic—See College requirements.

Biology—101, 301, 303, 304, 308.

Education 303, 301, 408 are required of students minoring in this subject.

Chemistry—101, 102.

Swimming—All students must pass the intermediate swimming test and qualify in life saving.

NOTES: 1. Physical Education 307, 308, 405, 406, 407, 409, may be counted as Education or as Physical Education.

2. No credit is given for courses numbered 300 or above to students not majoring in Physical Education.

3. Students may only major in Physical Education. All courses are required for a recommendation to teach Physical Education.

301, 302. Applied Physical Education. Prerequisite, Physical Education 201, 202.

Both semesters; three hours; one credit each semester.

Physical Education programs embracing marching, gymnastics and the advanced technique of athletics and seasonal sports.

303, 304. Applied Physical Education.

Both semesters; two hours; one credit each semester.

Dancing—Folk, clog, and character dances—First semester. Natural dancing—Second semester.

305, 306. Applied Physical Education—Athletics.

Three hours; one credit each semester. With varsity squads.

Credit in these courses is dependent upon rating in sports. Each semester two sports must be passed with a grade of B, and all others at least a grade of C. If, however, during the first two years a grade of A has been made in a sport the student may be exempt in that activity.

First Semester:

Mass games, m&w.
 Soccer, m&w.
 Football, m.
 Hockey, w.
 Volley Ball, m&w.
 Basketball, m&w.
 Archery, w.

Second Semester:

Boxing and wrestling, m.
 Fencing, m&w.
 Tennis, m&w.
 Track, m&w.
 Swimming, m&w.
 Baseball, m.
 Hiking, w.
 Indoor Baseball, m&w.

310. Principles and Methods in Physical Education.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Aims and objectives in Education and Physical Education. Studies on the instructional age-groups with emphasis on the physiological age. Criteria for judging the worth of educational activities; principles of selection, classification, and application; the scope and place of tests; adaptations, special methods and materials for the various age-groups and individual differences; the training and use of pupils as leaders.

308. Technique in Teaching Physical Education Lessons.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Technique of commands and teaching of complete lessons. Primary and advanced grades.

310. History and Literature of Physical Education.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A brief historical study followed by the study of current literature, reference books, and survey methods.

401, 402. Applied Physical Education. Prerequisite, Physical Education 302.

Both semesters; three hours; two credits each semester.

Physical Education programs including activities from athletics and seasonal sports with emphasis on lesson composition and teaching.

403, 404. Applied Physical Education. Prerequisite, 304.

Both semesters; three hours; two credits each semester.

Advanced folk, national, and natural dancing with emphasis on composition and teaching.

405, 406. Supervised Teaching of Physical Education.

Five hours; three credits each semester.

This course consists of directed teaching, public school and college in General Physical Educational activities, coaching, and officiating in athletics.

407. Organization and Administration of Physical and Health Education.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended to show the responsibilities of the administrator in physical education and considers physical education as a phase of general education, with particular reference to its place and relationships in the making and administration of the general curriculum. Other topics treated are: classification of students; selection, arrangement, and management of apparatus; planning buildings, play fields, and swimming pools, compositions of courses of study, as indicated by the interest, capacity, and need of the pupils; supervision and teacher development; intra-inter school athletics; budgets, records, and reports. Health supervision and instruction.

409. Physical Examination, Tests and Measurements.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This is a double course treating related subjects.

Part one of this course embraces the taking of personal and family history, and the technique and management of the physical examination including the necessary anthropometrical procedures and the interpretation of this data.

Part two consists of statistical methods of handling scores made in motor ability and achievement tests, study of modern tests, and of the placing of individuals into suitable groups for instructional and competitive purposes.

410. Therapeutic Gymnastics. Prerequisite, Anatomy, Applied Anatomy, and Physiology.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Lectures and practice in the technique of massage, corrective exercises, and case work as laboratory exercises.

412. Play and Recreation.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A course dealing with the psychology of play, the organization and administration of playgrounds; the technique and organization of exhibits, tournaments, track meets, etc.

420. Problems in Physical Education.

Either semester; three credits.

Directed study of problems in organization, management, curriculum construction for elementary and high schools.

421. Seminar in Professional Teacher-Training in Physical Education.

Either semester; credit to be determined.

NOTE: Physical Education 307, 407, 405, 406, may be counted as Education for Professional Students in Physical Education.

Medical Attention

The college will not be responsible for doctors' bills or for medical attention of any kind for students who are injured in athletics or physical exercises, except such as is furnished by the college physician and resident nurse.

PHYSICS

PROFESSOR YOUNG

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR MERRYMON

Laboratory Assistants

P. S. WILLIAMS

H. W. RICHARDSON

U. T. JOYNER

101. General Physics. Prerequisite, the student must have had trigonometry, or must be taking it.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

A beginning course in college physics covering mechanics and heat. Theory, problems, and laboratory work. Written reports are required on all experiments. 101 and 102 are required of all students majoring or minoring in physics, all pre-medical students, and all students preparing for engineering.

102. General Physics. Prerequisite, 101, or the equivalent.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

A continuation of 101, covering the subjects of electricity, sound, and light.

104. Household Physics.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

A one-semester course in general physics covering those subjects which have a direct relation to household problems. Only students in home economics are permitted to take the course. Offered in 1929-30 and alternate years thereafter.

203. Mechanics, Molecular Physics, and Heat. Prerequisite, General Physics.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

A mathematical development of the underlying theory, the solution of numerous problems, and practice in making careful laboratory measurements.

204. Electricity and Magnetism. Prerequisite, General Physics.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

A mathematical development of the theory of electricity and magnetism, the solution of numerous problems, and careful laboratory measurements.

301. Alternating Currents and Radio. Prerequisites, General Physics and Calculus.

First semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

The different equations of various alternating current circuits are set up and solved and the solutions discussed. The application of vectors and complex numbers are made use of in the solution of problems. The thermionic tube as detector, amplifier, and oscillator is studied. An oscillator, calibrated by means of tuning forks, is used for many of the measurements.

302. Light. Prerequisites, General Physics and Calculus.

Second semester; lectures three hours; laboratory four hours; five credits.

The theory and use of the prism spectrometer, the diffraction grating, the interferometer, and various pieces of apparatus for polarizing light. The theory and use of photographic processes. Offered in 1930-31 and alternate years thereafter.

401. Kinetic Theory and Thermodynamics. Prerequisites, two years of Physics and Calculus.

First semester; lectures three hours; three credits.

A study of the gas laws, pressure theory, specific heats, equipartition of energy, Maxwell's distribution law, viscosity, heat conduction, Brownian movements, and thermodynamics. Offered in 1930-31 and alternate years thereafter.

402. Electron Theory. Prerequisites, two years of Physics and Calculus.

Second semester; lectures three hours; three credits.

A study of cathode rays, measurements of charge and mass of the electron, Bohr's theory of atomic structure, the photoelectric effect, the scattering of X-rays, metallic conduction, and mobility. Offered in 1930-31 and alternate years thereafter.

403. Advanced Laboratory Measurements. Prerequisites, two years of Physics and Calculus.

First semester; six hours of laboratory; three credits.

A course in precision measurements along the line of the student's chief interest. Research work and original investigation is encouraged.

404. Advanced Laboratory Measurements. Prerequisite, two years of Physics and Calculus.

Second semester; laboratory six hours; three credits.

A continuation of 403.

405. Theoretical Mechanics. Prerequisite, two years of Physics and one year of Calculus.

First semester; lectures three hours; three credits.

A study of laws of motion, moment of inertia, simple harmonic motion, the pendulum, and certain principles in celestial mechanics. May be used for A.M. credit. Offered in 1929-30 and alternate years thereafter.

406. Theoretical Physics. Prerequisites, two years of Physics and one year of Calculus.

Second semester; lectures three hours; three credits.

The application of the differential equation and definite integral to certain problems in theoretical physics. May be used for A.M. credit. Offered in 1929-30 and alternate years thereafter.

PSYCHOLOGY

201. General Psychology.

First semester; repeated second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course covers the usual topics in a general introduction to psychology. Required of all students working for the A.B. or B.S. degree. This course is prerequisite to all advanced courses in psychology and to all courses in philosophy. Laboratory hours to be arranged.

202. Experimental Psychology.

Second semester; one hour lecture; four hours laboratory; three credits.

The student becomes acquainted with psychological technique; various fields of psychological investigation; and the literature of experimental psychology. Written reports are required for each experiment.

204. The Field of Psychology.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A general introduction to the special fields and the practical applications of psychology.

303. Social Psychology.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

The topics discussed in this course are the phenomena arising out of the various forms of social interaction, such as imitation, suggestion, sympathy, laughter, social facilitation; the behavior of crowds, fashion, fads, custom, conventionality, the social self, public opinion, social consciousness and collective volition.

305. Abnormal Psychology.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Lectures, assigned readings, reports and discussions covering the various forms of unusual and abnormal behavior. Clinical demonstrations at the Eastern State Hospital. Not offered in 1930-31.

307. Educational Psychology.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

For advanced students in education or in psychology. See Education 303.

308. Psychology of Adolescence.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The physical and psychological development of the adolescent will be considered in this course.

401. Applied Psychology.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Lectures, assigned readings, and discussions covering the applications of psychology in the fields of personal efficiency and business and industrial efficiency, advertising, salesmanship, hygiene, therapeutics and law.

403. Psychology of Personality.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Problems of personality and character, with emphasis upon emotional and social adjustments of normal people.

405. History of Psychology.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Historical survey of English, Continental and American psychology. Not offered in 1930-31.

PHILOSOPHY

Sophomores, who have had Psychology 201, may in the second semester of their sophomore year register for Philosophy 201, thus to lay the foundations for advanced courses. Seniors may not register for this course in satisfying their minimum degree requirements in philosophy, but must register for some junior or senior course.

201. Introduction to Philosophy.

First semester; repeated second semester; three hours; three credits.

An elementary treatment of important problems of reflective thought designed to introduce the student to the field of philosophy and thus to lay the foundations for advanced courses. Seniors may not register for this course in satisfying their minimum degree requirements in philosophy, but must register for some junior or senior course.

301. Logic.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Topics discussed in this course are those usually included in an elementary survey of logic. Special emphasis will be placed on logic as the theory of scientific methods.

303. History of Philosophy.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

The leading systems of philosophic thought will be studied with reference to their social, political, and economic backgrounds. Attention will be given to selected references from the writings of the classical philosophers.

304. Introduction to Ethics.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended to familiarize the student with the main aspects of ethical history and theory and, through this, to reach a method of estimating and controlling conduct.

306. Philosophy and Modern Life.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

An analysis and evaluation of the movements of thought and other creative forces which have been most largely responsible for the development of our modern western civilization.

402. Philosophy of Religion.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

An historical and psychological examination of the development of the religious consciousness in the race and in the individual will be followed by a consideration of the significance and validity of the concepts of religion.

SOCIOLOGY

PROFESSOR BLOCKER

301. General Sociology.First semester; three hours; three credits.

Nature and analysis of the life of society; social evolution; population; factors in social progress; social forces and processes. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

302. General Sociology. (Continuation of 301.)Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Problems of social control and organization; influence of geographical conditions, rural and urban life, distribution of wealth, heredity, and environment on social progress. Open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

401. Marriage and Family Relationships.First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course will include a study of the origin and forms of family life; forms of marriage relations and their influence upon civilization; emancipation of woman and the family; individualism and the family; industrialism and the family; divorce and birth control; the child and family of the future. Open to juniors and seniors.

402. Social Problems.Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The nature of social problems will be emphasized in this course. It will include a study of the biological, psychological, and sociological aspects of the population problem. Special emphasis will be given to race pride and prejudice, international population movements, inequality of wealth and knowledge, and to the factors affecting social adjustments. Open to juniors and seniors.

403. Social Achievements of Man.First semester; three hours; three credits.

This is a historical survey course. It will trace the origin and development of social conduct and social institutions. Special attention will be given to how man's conduct has become what it is, and why this conduct has become embodied in our present day institutions. Open to juniors and seniors.

SHORTHAND AND TYPEWRITING

MISS KATHLEEN ALSOP

Shorthand. Beginning and advanced instruction may be had in the Gregg System of Shorthand. No college credit is given for these courses.

Typewriting. Beginning and advanced instruction may be had in the Touch System. No college credit is given for these courses.

NOTE.—In numbering courses, the digit in hundred's place indicates whether the course is primarily for freshmen, sophomore, juniors or seniors. The digit in ten's place, other than zero, indicates that the Department offers more than five (5) courses in either semester. The digit in unit's place indicates the sequence number of courses in the department, odd numbers indicating the first semester, even numbers indicating the second semester. For example, Latin 101 means freshman Latin first semester and the first course in Latin during that semester. Bus. 412 (Business Cycles) means senior Banking and Finance second semester and the sixth course in Business Administration during that semester.

FRESHMAN COURSES

Freshmen face serious problems. Some enter college with definite vocational choices, and select courses accordingly; others enter with no more definite purposes than attending college. Individuals of both groups require wise counseling. Some of those with vocational choices have made them without sufficient information and perspective; and, therefore, need guidance in readjusting their purposes. Those without definite purposes need the most sympathetic and understanding advice in selecting their courses, in finding themselves, and in choosing their vocations.

With a realization of the importance of these and other special problems of beginning students, the college provides a Dean of men whose especial work is the supervision and the guidance of all men students.

SPECIAL PRE-COURSES

COURSES LEADING TO ENGINEERING

The engineering courses outlined below are designed to prepare students to enter the junior class of any standard engineering school. These courses contain not only the minimum for the first two years of engineering, but also additional subjects that will be found very helpful to engineering students .

Solid geometry is presupposed for entrance to engineering courses. If not taken before entering, it should be taken in addition to the prescribed mathematics.

The third year courses should be chosen in accordance with the requirements of the engineering school and class that the student plans to enter. Modification may be made in any of the courses, with a similar end in view, with the approval of the appropriate committee.

Students will be granted a B.S. degree by the college upon the successful completion of any of the pre-engineering courses and an additional year's work in residence, provided the work of the additional year completes the degree requirements as stated on page 79. Likewise students who complete this work in engineering will be granted a B.S. degree by the college when they have finished their courses at an approved engineering college.

In order to qualify for a degree or to be recommended to an engineering school a student must make a grade of 83 or higher on at least half of the credits earned at this college.

PRE-COURSE LEADING TO FORESTRY

This course is intended to qualify students for the junior class of a professional school of forestry. Students are urged to choose their professional school early to insure that any special requirements of the chosen school are met. Modifications of the course as outlined may be made, with a similar end in view, subject to the approval of the dean. A two-year course may be arranged by suitable selection.

Students completing this course, together with two credits (which may consist of credit for student activities, see page 81) and one additional year of work in residence, will be granted the B.S. degree, provided the work of the additional year completes the degree requirements as stated on page 79.

The college will grant the B.S. degree to a student who, after completing the three-year course with two additional credits (which may consist of credit for student activities, see page 81), has successfully completed the course of an approved college of forestry.

In order to qualify for a degree in this course or to be recommended for transfer to a school of forestry a student must have a grade of 83 or higher in at least half of the credits earned at this college.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics Department was established in 1918 under the Smith-Hughes Act, which grants Federal aid for the training of teachers of Home Economics. The course of study is four years in length and leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science.

The curriculum provides for a liberal amount of academic work in addition to the science underlying the technical courses, thus insuring a good general education as well as professional training.

Courses listed for freshmen and sophomore years are open to all women students of the college.

PRE-DENTAL COURSE

The standard dental colleges require for admission at least one year of college work, including a full year of work in English, chemistry, physics and biology. This minimum requirement may be met by the following courses: English 101 and 102; Chemistry 101, 102; Physics 101, 102; Biology 101, 102.

It is highly desirable that those expecting to go into dentistry should take more than the minimum of preparatory work. The man who has taken two or three years of college training will find himself able to take advantage of opportunities for much advanced training and valuable practical experience during his dental course. For such extended training the following course is outlined. Students completing this three-year course, together with two additional credits (which may consist of credit for student activities, see page 81), and one additional year of work in residence, will be granted the B.S. degree, provided the work of the additional year completes the degree requirements as stated on page 79. The college will grant the B.S. degree to a student who, after completing the three-year course with four additional credits (which may consist of credit for student activities, see page 81), has successfully completed the course of an approved dental school requiring a minimum of one year of pre-dental work.

*Household Physics will be given in 1929-30 and alternate years thereafter. This course, therefore, must be taken by Juniors and Seniors of the corresponding years.

In order to qualify for a degree in this course or to be recommended for entrance to a dental school, a student must have a grade of 83 or higher in at least half of the credits earned at this college.

PRE-MEDICAL COURSES

The standard medical institutions belonging to the Association of American Medical Colleges require two or more years of collegiate work for entrance. The minimum of sixty semester hours must include eight in inorganic chemistry, four in organic chemistry, eight in biology, eight in physics, and six in English composition and literature. It is desirable that the choice of a medical school be made early in the course and that the committee on registration of pre-medical students be consulted to insure that any special requirement of the school chosen is met. The work here outlined covers either three or two years. It is preferable for the student to take the three-year course, since this not only meets the minimum requirement for medical colleges, but also covers other subjects that will be found very helpful in medical work, and leads to the B.S. degree, which is now very generally desired by graduates in medicine. When time permits, pre-medical students are advised to take additional courses as listed below: Chem. 401, 402, and 203; Biology 401 and 402; Phys. 203 and 204.

Students completing the three-year course, together with two credits (which may consist of credit for student activities, see page 81) and one additional year of work in residence, will be granted the B.S. degree, provided the work of the additional year completes the degree requirements as stated on page 79. The college will grant the B.S. degree to a student who, after completing the three-year course with two additional credits (which may consist of credit for student activities, see page 81), has successfully completed the course of an approved medical college.

In order to qualify for a degree in this course or to be recommended for entrance to a medical school a student must have a grade of 83 or higher in at least half of the credits earned at this college.

PRE-PUBLIC HEALTH COURSE

The course outlined below is designed to prepare the student for public health service. Three years of the course is offered at this college. The fourth year must be taken at a school of public health at a standard medical college, or other institution equipped for the work and approved by this college. It is desirable that the choice of a school in which to complete the course be made early and that the committee on pre-medical students be consulted to insure that special requirements of the school chosen are met. Students completing this course, together with two credits (which may consist of credit for student activities, see page 81), and one additional year of work in residence, will be granted the B.S. degree, provided the work of the additional year completes the degree requirements as stated on page 79. The college will grant the B.S. degree to a student who, after completing the three-year course with two additional credits (which may consist of credit for student activities, see page 81), has successfully completed a year of work at an approved institution giving work suitable for degrees in public health.

In order to qualify for a degree in this course or to be recommended for admission to another school a student must have a grade of 83 or higher in at least half of the credits earned at this college.

PRE-NURSING COURSE

The College of William and Mary and the School of Social Work and Public Health in Richmond (which is a division of the College) offer, in affiliation with the schools of nursing of Stuart Circle Hospital, St. Elizabeth's Hospital and the Medical College of Virginia, a five-year combined college and nursing course. Students who complete this course will receive the degree of B.S. in Nursing and Health from the College of William and Mary and a Diploma in Nursing from the hospital school of nursing.

The first two years of this course are given by the College, both on the campus at Williamsburg and in Richmond. The following is an outline of the two-year pre-nursing course:

For information about this course write the Director of the School of Social Work and Public Health, 827 West Franklin Street, Richmond, Virginia.

DEGREE OF B.S. IN PHARMACY (Medical College of Virginia)

The degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy is offered by the School of Pharmacy of the Medical College of Virginia in co-operation with the College of William and Mary for one year of work at this college and three years in the School of Pharmacy. (Beginning with the year 1925-26, candidates for the degree of Ph.G. at the School of Pharmacy are required to pursue a three-year curriculum instead of two years, as heretofore.) Candidates for the degree of B.S. in Pharmacy are required to take, in addition to the three years of work at the School of Pharmacy, one year of academic college work. This academic work must include six semester hours of English and six semester hours of Mathematics. The additional courses listed below are recommended.

BACHELOR OF CHEMISTRY COURSE

The industries are calling for men and women trained in chemistry. The teaching profession demands teachers better trained in science. To supply this need the College of William and Mary offers a special degree in chemistry. The work is planned with the purpose of making the student familiar with the standard methods of attacking and solving chemical problems.

RICHMOND DIVISION COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY

Franklin and Shafer Streets, Richmond, Virginia

OFFICERS OF ADMINISTRATION

JULIAN ALVIN CARROLL CHANDLER, Ph.D., LL.D.
President, College of William and Mary

HENRY HORACE HIBBS, JR., A.M., Ph.D.
Director, Richmond Division and Dean of the School of Social Work and Public Health

In order that students of William and Mary who desire to attend college in a city may do so and in order to provide certain types of instruction in Social Work, Public Health Nursing and Playground Work which cannot well be provided on the campus at Williamsburg, the College of William and Mary maintains a branch or division in Richmond.

Dormitory accommodations are provided in the same way as at Williamsburg, and provisions are made not only for scholastic and social life of the student, but also for college activities.

Four types of work are given in the Richmond Division:

First: Freshman and sophomore academic courses given in the day time just as at Williamsburg. These courses are open to high school graduates.

Second: Junior and senior courses in Sociology, Psychology, Social Work, Public Health Nursing, Recreation, Physical Training and Playground Work, Dramatics, etc. These courses are given in the usual day school hours and are open to students who have completed their freshman and sophomore work in Richmond or at Williamsburg, or in some other college.

Third: Courses for college graduates leading to professional training, as indicated under second, above.

Fourth: Extension courses given in the evenings and late afternoons for persons employed during the day.

COURSES OF STUDY

I. FRESHMAN AND SOPHOMORE ACADEMIC COURSES

Since the opening of the session of 1926-27 the College of William and Mary has offered in Richmond in the usual day-school hours, the equivalent of the freshman and sophomore years' work as offered at the College at Williamsburg. In this way it is possible for students who desire to enroll in William and Mary to enter either in Williamsburg or in Richmond. After completing the freshman and sophomore years' work in Richmond the students may transfer to the College at Williamsburg for their junior and senior years; or if they prefer, continue for the junior and senior years at the School of Social Work and Public Health in Richmond—which is now a department of the College.

For further information, write the Director, 827 West Franklin Street, Richmond, Va.

II. COURSES IN GENERAL SOCIAL WORK

The purpose of the courses in General Social Work is to provide training for positions as secretaries and visitors of associated charities and family welfare societies, county superintendents of public welfare and rural social workers, travelers aid workers, social workers with churches and for other positions in which generalized training in social service is necessary.

This department also offers training for child welfare work, including such positions as probation officers and juvenile court workers, school visitors, agents of societies for prevention of cruelty to children, visitors for children's home societies, state and national children's bureaus, superintendents, teachers and matrons of children's institutions, industrial schools, orphans' homes, teachers of child study and child welfare, etc.

Three programs of study are offered:

1. A four-year college course open to high school or private secondary school graduates and leading to the B.S. degree in Social Work. The Freshman and Sophomore years of this program may be taken either in Richmond or at the College at Williamsburg. The second two years, Junior and Senior, are given by the College in Richmond.

2. A two-year program open to students of mature age, who by reason of study in some other college, normal school, school of nursing, or other educational institution of college grade, or by reason of experience in social work or teaching, are able to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the entrance committee their ability to profit by the work and to become successful social workers.

3. A one-year professional course open to college graduates.

III. COURSES IN RECREATION, PLAYGROUND AND COMMUNITY WORK

The purpose of this department is to train students for positions as supervisors, teachers and directors of play, games, physical education, story telling, dramatics, athletics and other forms of recreation and play in playgrounds, community centers and settlements, summer camps, in boys' and girls' clubs, scouting, community churches, factories, stores, mill villages, Y. W. C. A.'s, kindergartens, orphanages, schools and other community agencies.

A four-year course open to high school graduates is offered. A complete description will be found in the catalogue of the School of Social Work and Public Health which will be sent on request.

IV. COURSES IN NURSING AND HEALTH

The purpose of this department is to prepare nurses for positions in the various fields of public health nursing as found in rural and urban communities and to equip them for such positions as visiting nursing, maternal and infant welfare nursing, school nursing, tuberculosis nursing and industrial nursing.

Two programs of study are offered. The first is open to graduate nurses who have already secured a diploma in nursing and who desire a further course of study to fit themselves for public health nursing. This course is nine months in length.

The second is a five-year combined college and hospital course open to high school graduates who have had no previous training in nursing. The first two years are spent in academic college work, the third and fourth in a hospital training school and the fifth year at the School of Social Work and Public Health. This combined course gives the student the opportunity to secure in five years a diploma in nursing, a B.S. degree in nursing and health and a certificate in public health nursing. Ordinarily this will require seven or eight years.

Further information will be sent on request.

V. EXTENSION COURSES OFFERED IN THE EVENINGS AND LATE AFTERNOONS

The College through its Extension Division offers many extension courses in Richmond each year. These courses are given in the School of Social Work and Public Health in the evenings and late afternoons. A special circular will be sent on request to the Richmond Extension Division, 827 West Franklin Street, Richmond, Va.

BUILDINGS

Coincident with the taking over of the School by the College and in order to provide for the enlargement of its work, the Board of Trustees of the Richmond School of Social Work and Public Health, Incorporated, the body which financed and operated the School from 1917 to 1925, purchased as a permanent home for the School, the extensive property located on the southeast corner of Franklin and Shafer Streets, across Shafer Street from the Richmond Public Library.

There are three buildings on the property at present: the main building facing on Franklin Street (with a classroom annex on Shafer Street), the gymnasium, also on Shafer Street, and the laboratory building in the rear of the gymnasium. The buildings, which were on the property at the time of purchase, were thoroughly remodeled in 1925. The class room annex was built by the College in the summer of 1926. The laboratory building was purchased in 1927 and remodeled in the spring of 1928.

The value of the property, including furnishings, is approximately one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Dormitory Accommodations. The second and third floors of the main building and the third floor of the annex are used as dormitories. Information about rates and dormitory facilities is given in a separate circular which will be sent on request.

Day Students, as well as boarding pupils, are received.

GENERAL STATEMENT

"That the youth may be piously educated in good letters and manners" is stated in the original charter of the College of William and Mary as one of the reasons for its establishment. Animated by this purpose, the institution has maintained through its years of service a strictly liberal arts curriculum.

The School of Education at the College of William and Mary, therefore, holds a unique and advantageous position. It functions in an institution whose traditions and practices demand a broad training in cultural education, which is the first essential in the preparation for teaching as a profession. The added training necessary is provided in the technical courses offered by the School of Education.

While the organization of the courses is planned to make them a unit so that the teacher may have a complete, well-rounded training for the particular field in which he expects to work, the School of Education is an integral part of the college. The same standards for students and faculty apply to the School of Education as to the College, and the content in the liberal arts subjects is supplied by the respective departments in the College.

The following principles are fundamental in the functioning of this school:

1. A general background of content and training in liberal arts courses is a necessary prerequisite.
2. The content of the liberal arts courses taught for a general background is not professionalized.
3. The professional point of view of the specialized content which the student plans to teach is given through methods courses, which are organized according to accepted educational theory and practice.
4. The technical training of the teacher demands a knowledge of the significant facts in the following fields:
 - a. Psychology of Education, for an understanding of the development of the human mind.

- b. Philosophy of Education, for an understanding of the theory underlying teaching practice.
 - c. The evolution of the school as a social institution, for an understanding of the part education plays in a democracy.
5. Supervised teaching in actual situations provides the opportunity necessary for the application of the theory underlying organization of subject matter and technique in procedure.

PURPOSES

The School of Education is planned to train professional workers in the following fields:

1. Teachers for secondary schools.
2. Teachers for elementary schools.
3. Teachers of special subjects—home economics, music, fine arts, physical education. (In the training of these workers only the professional courses are given by the School of Education.)
4. Principals for elementary and secondary schools.
5. Superintendents of schools.
6. Supervisors for elementary and secondary schools.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The requirements for admission to the School of Education are:

1. Sixty semester hours in liberal arts subjects, in which are included three semester hours in general psychology.
2. Registration in the School of Education under one of the following classifications:
 - a. General courses with a minor in education.
 - b. Special courses in physical education, home economics, music, and fine arts with a minor in education.

Note: Students in other courses electing work in education must register in the School of Education.

3. Mental and physical fitness determined by appropriate tests.
4. Declaration of vocational aim.

STATE SCHOLARSHIPS

The College offers to young men and women who intend to teach in the public schools of Virginia one hundred and thirty-two state scholarships which exempt them from the college fee (see page 60). The holders of these scholarships are required to sign a pledge to teach for at least two years in the public schools of Virginia and are also required to pursue a prescribed course of training, including supervised teaching.

Every division superintendent of schools in the state is empowered by law to nominate for appointment to state scholarships as many students as his county or city has representatives in the House of Delegates, provided that every county and city shall be entitled to at least one scholarship. The nomination by the superintendent must contain his endorsement of the applicant as to age, ability, moral character, and general fitness to profit by a course of training for teaching.

As these scholarships are granted for the purpose of qualifying the holders to teach in the public schools, a scholarship may at any time be forfeited by negligence, disorderly conduct, failure to make proper progress, or any other reason justifying the faculty in concluding that the student cannot safely be recommended as a teacher. They are special privileges which must be deserved and may not be enjoyed by the incompetent or the unworthy.

Classification and Academic Requirements

All students who hold state scholarships must qualify for the Collegiate Professional Certificate which requires a minor in education. All students who plan to take courses in education must register as "Teacher in Training." The following courses are required of such students with Freshman and Sophomore standing:

Freshman

a. English 101, 102	6 credits
b. History 101	3 "
*c. Government 101	3 "
d. Physical Education 101, 102	2 "
e. Biology 104	2 "
f. Electives in Science, Mathematics, Language, Sociology, Economics, Geography or His- tory	15 "

Sophomores

a. English 201, 202	6 credits
b. Psychology 201	3 "
c. Electives Additional courses in two of the following subjects: English, Language, Mathe- matics, Science—6 each	12 "
d. Free electives	9 "

Students of home economics and physical education will follow courses specified on pages 171 to 182.

WEST LAW

All teachers in the State of Virginia must meet the requirements of the West Law. These requirements, for the Collegiate Professional, the Collegiate, and the Normal Professional certificates are Physical Education 101 and 102, Physical Training and Hygiene, Physical Education 201, Advanced Physical Education, and Biology 103, School Hygiene.

GUIDANCE

The School of Education has a definite policy with reference to the educational guidance of students who are considering teaching as a profession. Students who hold state scholarships and others who plan to teach should consult the appropriate adviser during the second semester of their sophomore year: in secondary education, Miss Weeks, Mr. Leonard; in elementary education, Miss Sherritt; in fine arts, Miss Craighill; in home economics, Miss Cummings; in music, Mr. Small; in physical education, Mr. Tucker Jones. As the student advances in his professional courses, he is further advised, on the basis of his progress, concerning his possibilities in the profession and the special field in which he gives promise of succeeding best: classroom teaching, supervision, administration, or research. The final test of a student's interest in education as a profession and his adaptation to a special field of work is found in supervised teaching.

BUREAU OF RECOMMENDATIONS

In order to be of the most service to the teachers who are prepared through the School of Education and to the school systems where these teachers are to work, a Bureau of Recommendations is maintained.

No registration fee is charged and all students who expect to teach are strongly urged to avail themselves of this service. By filing complete records and by cooperating with this Bureau, the College can be of assistance to its students who go into teaching, not only at graduation but also on later occasions.

EXTENSION

In addition to the courses in professional education given on the campus, the School of Education supplies instruction in professional education in Richmond, Newport News, Norfolk, Portsmouth, and other available places. These courses are taken, in large measure, by teachers who are candidates for certain certificates or for degrees at the College of William and Mary.

DEGREES

The professional work of the School of Education is organized to meet the requirements for the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science, or the Master of Arts degrees with a minor in education. Students preparing to teach in the high school will take a minor in secondary education. Students preparing to teach in the elementary school on a Bachelor's degree may take a major in education, of which approximately twelve semester hours will be in the field of psychology. Students with teaching or administrative experience may, under certain conditions, take as much as a major in education on the B.A. degree.

SUPERVISED TEACHING

Supervised teaching is designed to be the culmination of a student's preparation for teaching. All of the theory work is directed toward application in actual teaching situations which are obtained in the following centers and under the following requirements:

1. Teaching centers
 - a. The elementary and high schools of Williamsburg and Gloucester County.
 - b. The elementary and high schools of nearby cities and counties.
2. Requirements
 - a. Prerequisites for supervised teaching in high schools are
 - (1) Senior standing.
 - (2) Nine semester hours in Education as follows: Ed. 301-302, and one methods course relating to major or minor.
 - (3) Fifteen semester hours in the subject which is to be taught.

- b. Prerequisites for Supervised Teaching in Elementary School are
- (1) Senior standing.
 - (2) Nine semester hours in Education as follows:
Ed. 303-304, and at least one course in methods.
- c. Ed. 402 taken parallel with Ed. 401.
- d. Students who have had at least two years of teaching experience are assigned to half-time work, but, if it is found that the student is not making satisfactory progress under these conditions, further work will be required.
- e. The normal load is one period in the classroom for two semesters, or equal.

CERTIFICATION

Courses necessary to obtain the following certificates are offered. The student should select the type of position which he desires to obtain and then plan to meet the requirements for one of the certificates which will permit him to hold such a position. The specific requirements for the professional certificates are listed under the type of position for which the School of Education provides preparation.

1. The Collegiate Professional Certificate is granted on a Bachelor's degree for which the applicant has offered twenty semester hours in education. Of this number six semester hours must be in supervised teaching. This certificate is valid for ten years and is renewable for ten. The holder may teach in the high and elementary schools of the state.

2. The Collegiate Certificate is granted on a Bachelor's degree. No courses in education are required. This certificate is valid for four years and is renewable only as a Collegiate Professional Certificate. The holder may teach in the elementary schools and in the high schools those subjects in which twelve semester hours, based on two high school units, have been secured.

3. The Normal Professional Certificate, which is granted on 63 semester hour credits, entitles the holder to teach in the elementary schools. At least fourteen semester hours must be in professional subjects; at least eighteen, but not more than thirty-nine semester hours in academic subjects; and six semester hours in health and physical education. This certificate is valid for five years and its renewal is subject to such regulations as may be in force at the time of expiration, for a period of five years. .

Inasmuch as sixty semester hours are a prerequisite to all courses in education, which are not offered below the third year in college, it is impossible for the inexperienced teacher to complete the requirements for this certificate in less than three years in the regular session, or two and one-half years in the regular session and one summer session.

SUGGESTED TEACHING COMBINATIONS FOR SECONDARY TEACHERS*

The State Board of Education has revised the program of studies for the high schools of the State and has prepared, as an adjunct to the revision, a plan for the assignment of subjects to teachers. The subject combinations are as follows:

1. English and language (Latin or French).
2. Mathematics and science.
3. History and one of the following: English, language, mathematics, and science.
4. Vocational agriculture.
5. Vocational agriculture and science.
6. Home economics and science.
7. Physical education.
8. Music.
9. Commercial education (stenography, typewriting, and bookkeeping).

*In lieu of the major and minor requirements in Academic Subjects as indicated on page 79, students are advised, whenever possible, to meet the requirements in these teaching combinations.

In the high schools, where the enrollment justifies it, assignment of a single group of subjects to a teacher is recommended. In the city high schools, for example, all of the courses in English, or French, or history, may be taught by the same instructor.

The success of the revised high school program, especially that phase of it which has to do with the assignment of subjects to teachers, is dependent to a large extent upon an adequate supply of instructors trained to teach the combinations of subjects as provided for above.

In order that there may be professionally trained teachers for all the subject combinations, the College of William and Mary suggests that students preparing to teach in the high school arrange their courses to meet one of the following combinations in addition to the minor in Education, the requirements for which will be found on page 201.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

SECONDARY EDUCATION

Required for the Minor

301-302. Psychology and Principles of Instruction in the Secondary School. Prerequisite, General Psychology.

Both semesters; three hours; six credits.

This course continues throughout the year, and no credit will be given except for the completion of the entire course. It deals with secondary education primarily from the standpoint of teaching in secondary schools. Some of the main topics to be considered are: (1) historical background of secondary education; (2) aims and functions of secondary education; (3) mental and physical equipment of secondary school pupils, the nature and psychology of individual differences; (4) forces tending to change the high school curriculum; (5) the psychology of learning; (6) problems and reorganization movements in secondary education.

One Methods Course.

307. The Teaching of Science. Prerequisite, three courses in one science.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended for prospective high school teachers or supervisors of science, and principals. Texts, subject matter, apparatus and methods of teaching will be discussed. Typical projects will be developed and present tendencies in reorganization studied.

308. The Teaching of Latin. Prerequisite, twelve credits in Latin.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended for prospective high school teachers of Latin and principals. It will include: review and selection of subject matter; objectives of Latin in secondary schools; materials and methods of instruction; standards of attainment; and use of objective tests in Latin.

306. The Teaching of Mathematics. Prerequisite, ten credits in Mathematics.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended to present to prospective teachers or supervisors of mathematics the modern point of view in the subject. In addition to a review of the subject matter of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, and practice in the presentation of typical units, the following topics will be discussed: The place of mathematics in the curriculum, present tendencies in re-organization, the use of standard tests, projects and supervised study, the junior high school movement in mathematics, the introduction of elementary calculus in the senior high school, judging text books.

312. The Teaching of English.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended for teachers of English and for principals. It will consist of the following: The present status of the teaching of composition and literature, the objectives of oral and written compositions, sources and treatment of oral and written themes, mechanics of composition in relation to content, standards of attainment in composition, objectives in the study of literature, choice and treatment of literary selections.

314. The Teaching of Social Sciences. Prerequisite, fifteen credits in history and six in government.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended for prospective high school teachers and principals. Selection and organization of material in civics and history; problems of democracy, citizenship, correlation with other school subjects; methods of instruction.

401. Supervised Teaching. Prerequisite, see page 196. Hours to be arranged.

Each semester; ten hours; six credits.

Required of all state students and candidates for professional certificates to teach in elementary or secondary schools. Terms and schedule to be arranged with director of supervised teaching. Course consists of preparation of lesson plans and teaching classes under supervision, together with observation and criticism of others, supervision of study, making reports and records, discipline, and other practical work of a teacher. Two hours per day; five days in the week.

402. Foundations of Education Practice.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The aim of this course is to develop a sound educational theory which is fundamental to modern practice in education. It pre-supposes experience in a teaching situation, either as a regular teacher or as a practice student. It will include the following topics: Nature of thinking, nature of experience, problem of method, nature and organization of subject matter, nature of individual, interest and effort, moral education, demands of democracy upon education, demonstration teaching and treatment of material illustrating these factors. M.A. credit.

Electives. Select one.

403. Making the High School Course of Study.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended for teachers, principals, and superintendents who are interested in studying the principles and problems underlying the process of curriculum construction. The student will become acquainted with various methods used in making courses of study and will have experience in making a course of study in some subject. M.A. credit.

404. Psychology of Adolescence.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

For descriptions, see Psychology 308.

406. Principles of Educational and Vocational Guidance.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Several purposes are served by this course: first, to aid the teachers and administrative officers in discovering special talents and abilities of pupils; second, to give them information in guiding pupils in the selection of subjects of study in a school; third, to make a study of the characteristics of different occupations and courses in vocational information; fourth, to study methods of vocational counseling and guiding pupils into suitable occupations; and fifth, to study the organization of a system of educational and vocational guidance as now conducted in most of our larger school systems and in many of the smaller school systems. Consequently such a course is of value to superintendents, principals, supervisors, and teachers.

412. Extra Curriculum Activities.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course should be of profit to high school principals and teachers. Underlying psychological and administrative principles will be discussed, together with the direction of pupils in the following school activities: assemblies, dramatics, pageants, publications, clubs, participation in management, and home rooms.

414. The High School Principalship.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is primarily intended for senior students of ability who are interested in preparing for the high school principalship. It is designed for the beginning principal and will cover such topics as making a schedule, grouping pupils into classes, teachers' meetings, relation of principal to the community, school reports, use of tests in school surveys, and school morale.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Required Courses

303-304. Child Psychology and Principles of Teaching in Elementary Schools.

Both semesters; three hours; six credits.

This course continues throughout the year, and no credit will be given except for the completion of the entire course.

It is planned with the view of giving the student both scientific and sympathetic attitude in dealing with children; and to give a knowledge of the need of childhood and youth. It will give a comprehensive view of education and will include the underlying principles of method based upon the new psychology of today. It makes a thorough study of certain experimental schools and their principles. Among other problems will be the following: aims and value of the elementary school; pupil activity; content and organization of the curriculum in relation to the individual pupil; growth and development of the child as a member of the social group.

305-306. Materials and Methods in Elementary School Subjects.

Both semesters; three hours; six credits.

This course is required of all who are preparing to teach or supervise in the elementary schools. It will continue through the two semesters and either semester may be taken for credit. Attention will be given to the scientific studies that have contributed to the determination of the material and methods of teaching. The language group of subjects (composition, grammar, writing, and spelling) will be considered the first semester. A special course in the Psychology and Teaching of Reading will take up in detail the emphasis that should be placed on reading. Arithmetic, the social studies (history, geography, training for citizenship, and special subjects) will be considered the second term. The use of educational tests and their results will be described in relation to each subject.

316. The Psychology and Teaching of Reading in Elementary Schools.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course will include the best methods of how to teach reading—placing special emphasis on diagnosis and remedial measures in reading which will involve a study and use of standardized reading tests and their results. Thus an extensive study will be made of the nature and treatment of children's difficulties in reading, the psychology of reading methods, remedial measures and the check-up work.

401. Supervised Teaching.

Each semester; five hours; six credits.

For description, see page 208.

402. Foundations of Education Practice.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

For description, see page 209.

ELECTIVES

309. Literature for Elementary Schools.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended to familiarize teachers and librarians with literature suitable for the elementary school and to set up standards by which literature for these grades may be judged. It will study the problem of collateral reading, and will suggest methods of presentation and of interesting students in reading.

416. The Psychology and Measurement of Intelligence.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course will include a discussion of the meaning of intelligence, the growth of intelligence, correlation of intelligence with other traits of personality and character, and the relation of intelligence to success in school and in later life. Also the Stanford Revision of the Binet-Simon Scale will be studied and practice in administering the Binet-Simon tests will be given. The significance of the mental age and the intelligence quotient will be explained. A discussion of reliability of the intelligence quotient and its value in prediction will also be included. The use of the mental age, the intelligence quotient, and the accomplishment quotient in the classification of pupils will be considered in some detail. Also a study will be made of methods of group testing with the Army Alpha Tests, the National Intelligence Tests, the Terman Group Tests of Mental Ability for grades 7 to 12, and the Stanford Achievement Tests. By this means the students will become well acquainted with the methods of classification and promotion of students by the aid of the group tests. M.A. credit.

ADVANCED COURSES FOR PRINCIPALS, SUPERVISORS AND SUPERINTENDENTS

402. Foundations of Education Practice.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

For description, see page 209.

403. Making the Course of Study.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

For description, see page 209.

404. Psychology of Adolescence.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

For description, see page 209.

405. Measurement in Education.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended for prospective teachers, principals, supervisors, and superintendents. It will embrace a study of the following: History of scientific methods in education, individual differences, statistical methods, intelligence, nature and method of measurement, intelligence tests and their use, achievement tests in arithmetic, penmanship, spelling, geography and history, corrective measures. Opportunities will be given for the application of these tests in nearby school systems. M.A. credit.

407-8. Supervision of Instruction.

Both semesters; three hours; six credits.

This is a major course in advanced work planned for supervisors, principals, and superintendents. It will run through the year and cannot be begun the second semester.

The work of the first semester will involve: need for supervision; plan of organization; the child and his characteristics; nature of method and subject matter; the curriculum; standards for judging results of teaching. The work of the second semester will involve individual problems, and filed work in observation and practice. M.A. credit.

409-10. Administration in Secondary Schools.

Both semesters; three hours; six credits.

Required major course in advanced work for students preparing to be high school principals and school superintendents. The course is to be carried throughout the year and cannot be begun in the second semester. The first semester will deal largely with principles underlying administration, general review of modern school movements in America, and principal issues in the field. The second semester will deal with problems in the field of administration and supervision. Each student will select some problem which he will study the second semester. This will be supplemented by field work, observation, and practice. M.A. credit.

GENERAL COURSES

These courses in particular, and other courses in education may be taken with profit by students with proper prerequisites although not specializing in education.

311. History of Education.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the history of education as a phase of the history of civilization. Emphasis will be upon the development of educational practices instead of upon the development of educational theories. Beginning with a study of the causes of our civilization, the course will embrace the educational practices of the Greeks, the Romans, the early Christians and the peoples of the mediaeval times, with especial attention to the educational causes and consequences of the Reformation. Its purpose is to give prospective educational leaders such knowledge of the past as will enable them to appraise the practices and problems of the present.

402. Foundations of Education Practice.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

For description, see page 209.

404. Psychology of Adolescence.

Second semester; two hours; two credits.

For description, see page 209.

405. Measurement in Education.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

For description, see page 213.

GENERAL STATEMENT

The School of Economics and Business Administration of the College of William and Mary was established by the Board of Visitors in June, 1919.

The school aims to give its students an opportunity to combine a thorough training in economics and business with the essentials of a liberal college course. The courses of the last two years provide specialized training in certain fields of business.

Four-year courses may be followed leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science with specialization in economics and business administration. Candidates are required to take two majors of 30 semester hours each; or one major of 30 semester hours and one minor of 20 semester hours in the School of Economics and Business Administration. If the latter be chosen, another approved minor must be taken in some other field of study. A total of 126 semester hours is necessary for graduation.

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts may take a major in economics and business administration. Students may take a minor in business law to apply on either an A.B., or a B.S. degree. Not more than 9 semester hours in business law may be included in the fifty hours required for a major and minor in economics and business administration. If nine semester hours in business law are included in the fifty hours required for a major and minor, the second minor must be chosen from some field other than business law. Students taking two majors in economics and business administration may include eighteen semester hours in business law.

For the degree of Bachelor of Science with specialization in economics and business administration, the student must take the following work in other departments:

English	12 credits
Modern Language	9 credits
One Natural Science	10 credits
Government	6 credits
History	3 credits
Mathematics	3 credits
Psychology	3 credits
Physical Education	4 credits
	<hr/>
Total	50 credits

During the Sophomore year the candidate for the Bachelor of Science degree is to take the following courses in the School of Economics and Business Administration:

Principles of Economics	6 credits
Principles of Accounting	6 credits
Business Organization and Management	3 credits
Total	15 credits

The last three courses may be counted towards a major or minor in economics and business administration. The Accounting and Business Organization and Management courses will not be required of the student who wishes to take only a major in economics.

ECONOMICS

Econ. 101. Economic Geography.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course aims: first, to present the facts relating to the production and distribution of products according to climatic regions; and second, to acquaint the student with the principles underlying the geographical exchange of commodities, and the fundamentals of world commerce.

Econ. 102. Economic History.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This is a course in United States History, with emphasis placed upon the economic aspects thereof. Such subjects will be considered as: exploration and settlement of the United States, growth of agriculture and manufacturing, tariff, labor and currency problems, land policy, transportation and shipping.

Econ. 201. Principles of Economics.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Credit is granted only upon completion of Econ. 202. Economics 201 and 202 are prerequisites for the advanced courses in economics and business, unless otherwise noted.

This course deals with the basic principles of economics, particularly the explanation of value and price, banks and banking theory, foreign exchange, foreign trade, and the tariff.

Econ. 202. Principles of Economics. Prerequisite, Econ. 201.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is a continuation of Econ. 201 and deals with the theory of the distribution of income as well as with the present-day problems relating to labor, transportation, trusts, taxes, and general projects of social reform.

Econ. 301. Elements of Economics. Prerequisite, Junior standing.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is designed to meet the needs of those students who have time for only one course in Economics. The more significant relationships of modern industrial society are explained and illustrated with the idea of furnishing the student with a body of principles of use in interpreting current situations. Production, money and credit, banking, foreign exchange, the distribution of wealth and income, and problems of labor, are among the subjects treated.

This course does not meet the requirement as a prerequisite for advanced courses in Economics.

Econ. 307. Labor Problems. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Development of labor problems in England and the United States; analysis of the problems of hours of labor, employment of women and children, human waste in industry, unemployment, labor turnover; readjustment through organization, co-operation, legislation, and new methods of remuneration.

Econ. 308. Labor Legislation. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The functions of law in relation to labor; the development of labor legislation; legal protection of children and women; legal status of organizations of labor and their methods; regulation of the physical conditions of employment; the courts and the constitutionality of labor laws; study of specific cases.

Econ. 401. Transportation. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the development of the railroads in the United States, railroad rates and rate making, public regulation, and railroad problems.

Econ. 402. Economics of Public Utilities. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A survey of the development of public utilities such as telephone, electric light and power, gas, and street railway companies. Problems of management and finance. Problems of public regulation, rates, service, valuation, and taxation.

Econ. 404. Economic Reform. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Utopian socialism is traced from Plato to Fourier and Owen, followed by a study of the underlying causes of the modern socialistic movement, and the tenets of various schools. A critical estimate is made of socialism as a philosophy of economic evolution and as a program of economic reform.

Econ. 406. History of Economic Doctrines. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A consideration of the contributions to economic theory from Adam Smith to Bohm-Bawerk. The relation to present-day economic problems is indicated.

Econ. 415. International Economic Relations. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits. M., W., F., 11 to 12.

A study of basic factors in national and world economy; the interdependence of nations for essential materials; the development and operation of world trusts; special world resource problems; and world economy in relation to world politics.

Banking and Finance

Econ. 321. Money and Banking. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202. Credit is granted only upon completion of Econ. 322.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Monetary theory, the origin and development of money, monetary standards, monetary reform, elementary principles of banking and foreign exchange.

Econ. 322. Money and Banking. Prerequisite, Econ. 321.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A continuation of Econ. 321. Different types of banks and systems of banking in the United States and foreign countries. The Federal Reserve System. Branch banking. Banking regulation.

Econ. 323. Corporation Finance. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is a study of the organization and financial administration of modern business corporations. Among the topics dealt with are: Corporate promotion, the nature and varieties of stock and bonds, capitalization, the sale of securities, the principles governing the administration of income, intercorporate relations, and the problems and procedure of reorganizations.

Econ. 324. Investments. Prerequisites, Economics 201, 202 and 323.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the economics of investment; investment cycles; market technique; and a comparison of corporate, municipal and government securities.

Econ. 325. Public Finance. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

Theories, problems, and specific provisions of taxation in the United States are the center of this course. Governmental expenditures, debts, and fiscal administration also receive attention.

Econ. 327. Financial History. Prerequisites, Economics 201 and 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

History of money; a historical and comparative study of banking institutions in the western world; crises since 1720; modern reform; financial problems growing out of the World War. (Not offered in 1930-31.)

Econ. 331. Statistics. Prerequisite, Junior standing.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

The object of this course is to acquaint the student with the nature and technique of statistical analysis. The types of statistical variation are examined and in connection with each type a study is made of the best methods of exhibiting the distribution. The development and uses of averages, the measurement of dispersion about the mean, and the meaning and measurement of correlation between paired series are among the other topics taken up.

Econ. 432. Banking Problems. Prerequisites, Economics 321 and 322.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course deals with the important current problems in the legal regulation and operation of banks, such as central bank control of credit, stabilization of prices, and changes in the structure of the banking system. The course involves also a critical analysis of fundamental banking theory. Students will be required to make original investigations and reports.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Accountancy

Bus. 201. Principles of Accounting.

First semester; lectures two hours; laboratory two hours; three credits. To be taken after or in conjunction with Economics 201. (Credit is granted only if taken with Bus. 202.)

This course is intended not only for the student preparing to become a Certified Public Accountant, but equally for other students in Economics and Business Administration. The course includes, after a brief study of single and double entry bookkeeping, the principles of accounting as applied to the single proprietor, partnership, and corporation. This course is not open to freshmen.

Bus. 202. Principles of Accounting. Prerequisite, Bus. 201. Second semester; lectures two hours; laboratory two hours; three credits.

This course is a continuation of Business 201.

Bus. 301. Advanced Accounting. Prerequisites, Bus. 201 and 202, and Economics 201 and 202.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of advanced accounting subjects which are treated in their theoretical and practical aspects. Subjects studied will be the analysis of balance sheets and profit and loss statements, the advanced theory and practices of partnership and corporation accounting, installment sales, agencies and branches, consignments and joint ventures.

Bus. 302. Advanced Accounting. Prerequisite, Bus. 301.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is a continuation of Business 301. Subjects studied will be dissolution of partnerships, accounting for insolvent concerns, statement of affairs, realization and liquidation account, statement of application of funds, variations in net profit, and inventories.

Bus. 401. Accounting Problems. Prerequisite, Bus. 301 and 302.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is a study of the more advanced accounting theory and practice. Subjects to be studied are estate accounting, actuarial science, the valuation of assets, depreciation, reserves, funds and amortization.

Bus. 402. Accounting Problems. Prerequisite, Bus. 401.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is a continuation of Bus. 401. The subjects studied are consolidated statements, foreign exchange and fire insurance accounting. There will also be included in the course a general review for the C. P. A. examination.

Bus. 403. Cost Accounting. Prerequisites, Bus. 301 and 302, and registration in Bus. 401.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of cost accounting theory and practice. Consideration of such topics as: the functions of cost accounting; accounting for labor, material, and manufacturing expenses; methods of applying burden; the preparation of financial statements; and recent developments in cost accounting.

Bus. 404. Auditing. Prerequisites, Bus. 403, and registration in Bus. 402.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This course is intended to acquaint the student with the principles of auditing procedure. While emphasis is placed on the balance sheet audit, some consideration is given to detailed audits and investigations. Correct auditing theory as the basis of auditing is stressed throughout, and the mechanical side of auditing is studied in conjunction with working papers, financial statements, and the completed audit report.

Bus. 406. Income Tax Problems. Prerequisites, Bus. 403, and registration in Bus. 402.

Second semester; two hours; two credits.

This is a course in the practical application of Federal income tax principles as set forth in the Federal Revenue Act. The procedure of preparing income tax forms for individuals, partnerships, and corporations, concurrent with a study of the law and regulations, provides the student with a practical working knowledge of income tax theory and methods. (Not offered in 1930-31.)

Management and Marketing

Bus. 211. Business Organization and Management.

First semester; repeated second semester; three hours; three credits.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

The Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship is divided for purposes of administration into the School of Government and the School of Jurisprudence.

THE SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT

The School of Government and Citizenship was established January 14, 1922. The establishment of this school makes real what has long been a fervent hope of the alumni and friends of the college. Because of the great number of leaders of public thought during the formative period of the country's history who were alumni of the College of William and Mary, she became known as "a seminary of statesmen." The influence of her graduates upon the history of the United States is incalculable. She gave to America the author of the Declaration of Independence, the author of the Monroe Doctrine, and the Chief Justice whose interpretation of the new constitution made secure the government under which we live. Public service has always been a distinguishing characteristic of those who have gone from her halls, and today two of her graduates represent Virginia in the Congress of the United States, while numerous others are filling places of public trust with distinction. The College of William and Mary, situated in Williamsburg, for nearly a century the Colonial Capital of Virginia, in a section so rich in associations calculated to inspire and elevate, is a most suitable location for a school of government and citizenship.

The purpose of the School of Government is to train young men and women for public service and intelligent citizenship by offering adequate courses in the historical development of political institutions, in the principles underlying government, and in the structure and work of present-day government in the United States, both national, state and local. Also, it is deemed important to offer instruction in those fundamental principles of law which operate most strongly upon matters of government.

JAMES GOOLD CUTLER FOUNDATION

Through the generosity of Mr. James Goold Cutler, of Rochester, New York, certain securities approximating in value $100,000.00, conveyed by indenture of October 2, 1926, have been given the income thereon to be used for the following purposes:

(a) The sum of not more than $4,000.00 per annum to be applied to the payment of the salary of the John Marshall Professor of Government and Citizenship in the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship.

(b) The sum of $50.00 per annum for two prizes of $25.00 each in gold coin to be awarded one to the man and the other to the woman, both of the senior class, who shall compose and submit the best essay upon some aspect of the Federal Constitution assigned by the Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School. Each member of the senior class is required to write an essay of not less than a specified number of words upon some subject, and the award is to be made by the President of the College, the Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School and one other member of the faculty designated by the President.

(c) The balance of the net income is to be used to maintain a course of lectures upon the Constitution of the United States, one lecture to be given in each calendar year by some person who is an outstanding authority on that subject, chosen from outside of the faculty of the College. The lecture so given is to be printed in brochure form and given such circulation as the funds available may permit.

Senior Year

The work of this year will be entirely in the courses in Jurisprudence, but a student may take 9 hours of jurisprudence in his junior year and 21 hours in his senior year.

GOVERNMENT

101. Virginia Government and Citizenship.

Each semester; three hours; three credits.

An introductory course that shows the origin and traces briefly the development of political institutions in Virginia. Particular emphasis is given to the structure and work of Virginia state and county government as it exists at the present time. The responsibilities of citizenship are discussed. (See note 1, page 79.)

201. United States Government and Its Work.

Both semesters; three hours; three credits.

An introductory study of American political institutions and their present operation; a critical analysis of the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of the Federal Government; the problems of national administration, and the powers of Congress. This course is required for all degrees and must be taken in the sophomore year.

202. American State Government.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A general survey of state government covering such topics as: constitutional conventions, state legislatures and legislative methods, state executives and executive methods, state courts, organization and proposals for reorganization of administrative departments.

301. Political Parties.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course deals with the history, structure and functions of political parties. Methods of nomination, campaign methods, elections, ballots and corrupt practices acts are discussed.

304. United States Constitution.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

Growth of the Constitution by usage, by judicial interpretation, by statutory amplification and by formal amendment. The historical background and the governmental significance of the great cases of constitutional law are discussed. The course is based on lectures, a standard text and reference to the leading cases interpreting the Constitution. Required for A.B. in government.

306. Municipal Government.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A survey of the social, political, economic and legal position of the city. A study of the origin and structure of the different types of city government. The functions of a modern city are discussed. Some European comparisons are made.

307. Comparative Government.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A comparative study of the governments and politics of European countries, with special emphasis upon England and France.

308. American Diplomacy.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A survey of the diplomatic relations of the United States from the period of the Revolution to the present. Special emphasis is placed upon the methods of American diplomacy and upon the development of American foreign policies.

309. Debate.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

The purpose of this course is to instruct and train students in the theory of argument and the practice of debate. Each member of the class will have frequent opportunities to prepare arguments and present them orally before the class.

Text: Shaw's Art of Debate.

310. Advanced Debate.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

This is a continuation of Gov. 309 with emphasis upon the briefing and pleading of cases. Actual presentation of cases in intercollegiate debating style will predominate with some attention to jury pleading.

311. Parliamentary Law.

One semester; one hour; one credit.

The purpose of this course is to instruct the student in the theory of Parliamentary Law and to provide frequent opportunities for practice in organized assemblies.

Text: Roberts' Parliamentary Practice.

401. History of Political Theory.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

This course traces the development of political theories in the works of the principal political writers from Plato to the present. Special attention is given to American political theory and to recent theories of democracy, nationalism, pluralism, socialism, anarchism, etc.

402. English Constitutional History.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

A study of the origin and development of Anglo-Saxon political institutions; the development of the Kingship in England, the evolution of English Courts of law, the jury system, parliament, the rise of the Cabinet system. Special attention is given to the relation of early English institutions to those in the United States today.

403. International Relations.

First semester; three hours; three credits.

A survey course dealing with some of the more important problems of interstate relations in recent times. Special emphasis is placed upon the agencies for the conduct of international relations and for the settlement of international disputes.

404. Current Problems in Government and Citizenship.

Prerequisite, six semester hours in government.

Second semester; three hours; three credits.

The purpose of this course is to give those students who expect to enter some technical branch of the public service or who expect to do graduate work in government, such training in the methods of political research and such acquaintance with the problems of government as will prove of value. Problems of public opinion, legislation, judicial and administrative organization are studied.

THE SCHOOL OF JURISPRUDENCE

Through the efforts of Thomas Jefferson, himself an alumnus of the college, the School of Law was established in 1779 with George Wythe, a Judge of the High Court of Chancery of Virginia and a signer of the Declaration of Independence, as its first professor. This was the first chair of law to be established in America and the second in the English-speaking world, the first being the Vinerian Chair at Oxford, filled by Sir William Blackstone. The School of Law was in continuous operation from the date of its establishment until May, 1861, when the college was closed on account of the hostilities in the vicinity during the Civil War. The revival of this department has been long desired by the alumni and friends of the college.

Prior to the American Revolution the only preparation for the bar was study under some practitioner, except in the case of the few who were so fortunate as to afford a residence in England and a training in the Inns of Court.

The establishment of the law course at William and Mary is thus described by Jefferson in his Autobiography.

On the 1st of June, 1779, I was elected Governor of the Commonwealth, and retired from the Legislature. Being elected also one of the Visitors of William and Mary College, a self-electing body, I effected, during my residence in Williamsburg that year, a change in the organization of that institution, by abolishing the Grammar School and the two professorships of Divinity and the Oriental Languages, and substituting a professorship of law and police, one of Anatomy, Medicine and Chemistry, and one of Modern Languages.

The resolution of the Board of Visitors making this change was dated December 4, 1779.

On December 28, 1779, the faculty carried it into effect by a resolution which is noteworthy as the first application of the elective system. It reads:

For the encouragement of Science, Resolved, That a student on paying annually one thousand pounds of Tobacco shall be entitled to attend any two of the following professors, viz., Law & Police, of Natural Philosophy and Mathematics, or Moral Philosophy, the Laws of Nature and Nations & of the Fine Arts, & that for fifteen Hundred pounds he shall be entitled to attend the three said professors.

The College Board of Visitors included, among others, Jefferson, Blair, Madison, Randolph, Nelson and Harrison. They elected as the first professor George Wythe, styled by Jefferson the American Aristides, and a signer of the Declaration. He was one of the Chancellors of Virginia, and was notable as one of the first if not the first American judge to pronounce a legislative act unconstitutional. This he did in Comth. v. Caton, (4 Call 5), saying:

Nay, more, if the whole legislature, an event to be deprecated, should attempt to overleap the bounds prescribed to them by the people, I, in administering the public justice of the country, will meet the united powers at my seat in this tribunal; and, pointing to the Constitution, will say to them, "here is the limit of your authority; and hither shall you go but not further."

His course was both thorough and practical. It was based upon Blackstone as a text-book, accompanied by lectures showing the difference between English and Virginia law. R. H. Lee, in a letter to his brother, Arthur, in 1780, says of Wythe that he discharges his duties as professor "with wonderful ability, both as to theory and practice."

John Brown (later one of Kentucky's first senators), then a student under Wythe, writes in 1780 describing the Moot Court and Parliament organized by the latter as part of his instruction. And Jefferson, in a letter to Ralph Izard written in 1788, gives substantially the same account of it.

Among Wythe's distinguished pupils were Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe, John Marshall, Spencer Roane, John Breckenridge and Littleton Waller Tazewell.

In 1789 Wythe was made sole chancellor, which necessitated his removal to Richmond and the resignation of his professorship. He was succeeded by St. George Tucker, whose edition of Blackstone is an American classic and was one of the first law books written and published on this continent.

In more than one respect this pioneer law school blazed a path. One of the live subjects before the profession today is the amount of preparation requisite for a law degree. Certainly as early as 1792, and probably as early as 1779, an A.B. degree was required here as a condition of a law degree. The compilation of the college statutes of 1792 provided:

For the degree of Bachelor of Law, the student must have the requisites for Bachelor of Arts; he must moreover be well acquainted with Civil History, both Ancient and Modern, and particularly with municipal law and police.

The Board of Visitors sincerely hopes that in the near future sufficient endowment will be available to place the School of Jurisprudence on a firm foundation. Meanwhile the college is maintaining such courses in Jurisprudence as will afford students who have successfully completed all the courses, a thoroughly rounded training in the fundamental principles of English and American law.

WHO MAY TAKE JURISPRUDENCE

- I. Students who already hold the Bachelor's degree may enter the School of Jurisprudence and take any subjects approved by the Dean of the College.
- II. Juniors and seniors may take a major in Jurisprudence provided the course is approved by the Dean of the College. DEGREE

Students who have received a Bachelor's degree in Arts or Science from this college, or from some other institution of approved standing and have taken all the courses offered in the School of Jurisprudence, will receive the degree of Bachelor of Law (B.L.), the ancient degree of the College of William and Mary in Virginia.

LIBRARY

The Library of the School of Jurisprudence contains a large number of English reports and a considerable number of American reports, including all those of the Supreme Court of the United States. There are also many digests and treatises. The school recently received a gift of 2,000 volumes from the law library of the late Judge Alton B. Parker, of New York. Every effort will be made to enlarge the Library until it includes all the American, English and British Colonial reports, and a complete collection of statutes.

PRIZES

Callaghan and Company offers annually the Cyclopedic Law Dictionary to the student who attains the highest average on the first fifteen credits in the School of Jurisprudence.

The West Publishing Company offers annually the Bouvier's Law Dictionary and Concise Encyclopedia to the student who attains the highest average on the first thirty credits in the School of Jurisprudence.

The Wythe Law Club offers annually twenty dollars to the student who attains the highest average on the first forty-five credits in the School of Jurisprudence.

Dr. John Garland Pollard, Dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship, formerly Attorney-General of Virginia, and at present Governor of Virginia, presents yearly a gold seal of the college to the student of jurisprudence who attains the highest average on the first sixty credits in the School of Jurisprudence.

The general management of athletics for men at the College is in the hands of an athletic committee composed of three members of the faculty, three alumni and three students—one each from the senior, junior and sophomore classes. This committee appoints the athletic coach for men and determines the entire athletic policy for men.

The college furnishes medical care to students engaged in athletics and sports only on the college grounds, where it employs a physician and two nurses. It is not responsible either for outside medical treatment or for operations necessitated by injuries received in athletics, sports, physical training, or routine tasks of the college.

Leaves of absence for the purpose of playing intercollegiate games are allowed to the college teams, provided such leaves do not exceed six days for any one sport, unless approved by the president.

The college is a member of the Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and has been conducting its intercollegiate athletics under the eligibility rules of this organization, which are stated below.

ELIGIBILITY RULES

Section 1—Bona fide students. Only bona fide students shall play in this conference. A bona fide student is one who is pursuing regularly a course of at least twelve hours of work a week in the college at which he is matriculated and who shall have offered for college entrance at least fifteen Carnegie units made up from those subjects announced in the current catalogue of the college at which the student is matriculated as accepted for entrance.

Section 2—The one-year residence rule. No student shall participate in any varsity contest until he has been in residence one college year. A "college year" shall be construed to mean enrollment from September to June or from February to February. This rule became effective October 1, 1928, except for Lynchburg College and Bridgewater College, where it shall become effective October 1, 1930.

Section 3—The migratory rule. No student who has attended an institution of collegiate grade, and, while there, participated in any varsity game or contest and thereafter enters a college of this conference, shall be eligible. An institution of collegiate grade shall be understood to be one offering four years of college work. Graduates of a junior college or institution not offering a four-year course may be allowed to continue their athletic careers at the institution to which they transfer, providing they conform to the one-year residence rule.

Section 4—Date of Matriculation. No student shall play in this conference during the college year unless he has matriculated for the current session on or before October 1st.

Section 5—Leaving college. No student who has participated in intercollegiate athletics and who for any cause fails to remain in college the entire session may thereafter participate in intercollegiate athletics until he has been in residence an entire college year reckoned from the date of his return to college. A college year shall here be construed to mean two consecutive semesters or three quarters. Attendance at a summer session shall not be counted for the purpose of this rule.

Section 6—Three-year limit. No student shall be eligible in this conference who has participated in varsity contests three years irrespective of the branch of sport. No student who has completed the requirements for a bachelor's degree shall be eligible.

Section 7—Organized baseball. No student shall be eligible in this conference who has participated in part of a baseball game as a member of a team in organized baseball. Organized baseball shall be construed to mean the leagues classified as Majors, Class AA, Class A, Class B, Class C, Class D, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs.

Section 8—Remuneration. No student shall play in this conference who receives from other than those on whom he is naturally dependent for financial support, money or the equivalent of money such as board or lodging, etc., unless the source and character of these gifts or payments to him shall be approved by the president of the conference. This shall not apply in the matter of tuition scholarships.

Section 9—Scholarship requirements. To be eligible for membership on any varsity team a student must pass nine session hours his first year in college, and twelve session hours each subsequent year. (Or the equivalent in semester or quarter hours.) Hours passed in any year in excess of the requirements for that year shall not be substituted for a deficiency in the requirements for a subsequent year. Not more than one-third of the hours required under this rule shall be made up by re-examination or summer school work.

Section 10—Eligibility cards. No student is eligible for participation in athletics until he has filed his eligibility card with the faculty chairman of athletics of his college. The eligibility cards shall be filled out by the student, certified by a college officer, and returned to the Secretary of Conference on or before the following dates: for football, October 1st; for basketball, December 15th; for baseball and track, March 1st. The cards after examination by the secretary shall be forwarded to the President of the Conference.

Section 11—Games with non-Conference Teams. In all games played by teams representing colleges in this conference the foregoing eligibility rules shall be binding whether the opposing teams represent colleges belonging to this conference or not.

Section 12—Freshman Athletics. Freshman teams shall be composed of members of the freshman class only, who shall compete as such for one year only, and shall be eligible under the rules of this conference except the one-year rule.

For the purpose of this rule a freshman is a student who enters the institution from a High School or Preparatory School.

Freshman teams shall be limited to six games in football; ten in basketball; ten in baseball and to five track meets.

The general management of athletics for women in the college is in the hands of the women's athletic council, composed of three members of the student body and three members of the faculty. The student members are elected by the popular vote of the Women's Athletic Association of the College, one each from the senior, the junior and sophomore classes. The faculty members are appointed by the President of the College.

There are many forms of athletics offered for women, including tennis, archery, hockey, basketball, swimming, baseball, hiking, soccer, football, and track. Intramural contests are held in all branches of sports, and in addition, intercollegiate games are played in basketball and tennis. Leaves of absence for the purpose of playing intercollegiate games are allowed to college teams for a limited time.

Every woman is given an opportunity to participate in any or every branch of athletics. The only requisite to participate in any form of athletics is that the person be a regularly matriculated student in good standing and in satisfactory physical condition.

Under a rule of the Board of Visitors all student publications are under the supervision of a committee of the faculty. Students cannot arrange for any publications not mentioned above except with the consent of the Faculty.

COLLEGE PUBLICATIONS

The Bulletin of the College of William and Mary is issued quarterly, or so many times as need may require. The purpose of the Bulletin is to set forth the activities, needs or purposes of the college to its alumni, friends and the general public. The annual catalogue is one of the regular numbers of the Bulletin. Copies will be sent free on request.

The William and Mary Historical Magazine, a quarterly devoted to the editing of manuscripts relating to Virginia history, is published by the college.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

There are two literary societies for men and two for women. They meet weekly in their halls for the purpose of cultivating debate, composition and declamation. They have their annual final celebration during the week of commencement. All students are required to be members of a literary society during their sophomore year.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

President.....ROBERT PRICE

The Young Men's Christian Association of the college has for a long time done an important work in standing for a high spiritual life among its members, and in working throughout the college for the cause of Christianity. It holds its regular devotional meeting every Tuesday night in the association hall, which is in the Blow Gymnasium. The meetings are addressed by the ministers of the town, by members of the faculty, by student members of the association, and by visiting speakers. Once each year the association holds a week of prayer service, which is usually led by an especially invited minister.

The association performs a helpful work in making smooth the way for new students. It publishes a handbook of information for their benefit, and during the first week of college exercises it holds a reception for the purpose of having the new students meet socially the other students and the members of the faculty.

Towards the close of the session a final sermon is preached in the college chapel before the members of the association.

A most important feature of the work of the association is the promotion of systematic Bible study through the formation of classes among the students, or by active co-operation with the Bible classes in the various churches of the town.

The association has in the college library the use of special shelves furnished with carefully selected religious periodicals and books.

The Visitors and the faculty, being in hearty sympathy with the work of the Young Men's Christian Association, urge upon parents and guardians to encourage students to join the association as soon as they enter college.

THE YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

President-----DEETTE JONES

The Y. W. C. A. at William and Mary was formed in the spring of 1920 and has been growing rapidly ever since. It has now become a strong influence upon the campus. Under its auspices are held regular meetings, both program and devotional, through which interest is aroused in affairs of importance in the world, in charities, and in missions. The association plans formal entertainments for the pleasure of the students, and organizes trips to neighboring places of interest.

SUMMER SESSION CALENDAR, 1929

Summer session began.....Monday, June 17, 1929
 First term closed.....Saturday, July 27
 Registration, second term.....Saturday, July 27
 Convocation.....Saturday, August 31

Courses, in general, are planned to meet five hours a week and to carry two semester-hour credits for a term of six weeks. A student can make from twelve to sixteen semester hour credits in a summer session of twelve weeks. Courses are so arranged that they form part of the regular college year. By this means students who are engaged during the winter term can secure credits during the summer session which will count toward a degree. This plan is of exceptional value to teachers, principals, and supervisors who desire to work for higher degrees. Expenses during the summer session are as follows:

EXPENSES

FIRST TERM

	Virginia teachers	Other Virginia students	Students from other states
College Fee.....	$10.00	$20.00	$25.00

The Extension Division of the College of William and Mary was organized in September, 1919, for the purpose of serving the needs of the communities of the State and of individuals desiring a college education who are unable to come to Williamsburg for resident study. It offers the people of Virginia its services as follows:

I. DEPARTMENT OF EXTENSION TEACHING

The specific aims of extension teaching are as follows:

(1) To provide properly prepared persons an opportunity of acquiring some elements of a liberal education while carrying on their regular occupations; (2) to promote good citizenship through courses in government and political science; (3) to provide teachers with opportunities for additional professional education; (4) to give business men and women courses in finance, commerce, and business law.

Whenever as many as fifteen persons in any accessible community desire a given course, the Department of Extension Teaching undertakes to organize the class and to provide the teacher. Classes meet once each week with two-hour periods for seventeen weeks, semesters beginning September 25th and February 1st. The completion of one semester course yields the student two semester hour credits. Courses for which college credit is given are taught by the regular members of the college faculty, and correspond closely with those courses regularly given at the college.

Students who satisfy the college entrance requirements are classified as regular students, and those who fail to do so are classified as special students. Instruction is provided free of cost by the college, though small registration fees are paid by the students for the purpose of defraying the traveling expenses of the professors.

Teachers desiring to complete degree requirements have found the combination of extension courses with work in the summer quarter very convenient.

II. DIVISION OF EXTENSION LECTURES

Through the Extension Division communities so desiring them may secure lectures who speak on topics of a popular or technical nature for school commencements or other special occasions. Those interested in securing lecturers for such occasions are requested to communicate with the Director of the Extension Division.
