

Mr. Jefferson presents his acknowledgements to Mr. Percein for the offer of his collection in Natural history; but his pursuits in life having never permitted him to think for a moment of forming a museum himself, he cannot avail himself of Mr. Percein's proposition. on the contrary, whatever he receives worth preservation he is in the habit of giving either to the Philosophical society or to Mr. Peale.

Washington Mar. 8. 05.

Perrin Mar. 8. 05.

The letter presents his acknowledgments to Mr. Perrin for the offer of his collection in Natural history; but his position in life having never permitted him to think for a moment of forming a museum himself, he cannot avail himself of Mr. Perrin's proposition. on the contrary, that ever he receives with plea-sure his in the habit of giving either to the Philadelphia society or to Mr. Peck.

Washington Mar. 8. 05.