who will add his insight and experience to the broadcast.

Colley is a veteran broadcaster who shifts from sport to sport with ease. He calls the play-by-play for the Tribe on the gridiron and is also a veteran baseball commentator, who was previously the voice of the Rochester Redwings as well as the Richmond Braves and the Tidewater Tides.

In recognition of Jay's years of service to the College, he was been selected as an honorary alumnus of William and Mary and was officially presented with the honor at Charter Day in February, 2003. A mass communications graduate of Middle Tennessee State University, Jay is entering his 22nd season of broadcasting Tribe basketball. Jay and his wife Cindy have a daughter, Carleigh Danielle (12) and a son, Benjamin William (9).

A 1962 graduate of William and Mary, Charlie Woollum was the head coach of the Tribe from the 1994-95 through the 1999-2000 seasons, leading the Tribe to 20 wins and a regular season tie for first place in the CAA in 1998. Bill McDonald, a 1974 graduate of the College, has been a working broadcast journalist who has been involved with the Tribe radio network for many years.

Stretching over 150 miles of the state, the William and Mary Radio Network is the gateway to all of the Tribe action over the air. The flagship station for the network this season is WMBG, 740 AM, in Williamsburg.

The listening format for basketball games is similar to past Tribe broadcasts with a pre-game show with head coach Tony Shaver, a halftime scoreboard and a post-game wrap-up.

2003-04 Outlook

If you're going to be building something, it helps to start with a good foundation.

That will be the plan for first year William and Mary head coach Tony Shaver and his staff as they take over a program that lost four starters from last season, but returns one of the top players in the Colonial Athletic Association in senior forward Adam Hess. Along with senior forward Zeb Cope and fourth-year junior guard Reid Markham (who redshirted last season) the Tribe will have plenty of guidance for the upcoming season.

"Our two seniors give us great leadership," said Shaver. "That's something that is paramount to the success of this year's team, and we're fortunate to have quality people like Adam and Zeb this season to give us a firm base to build from."

One of the hallmarks of Shaver's previous teams has been an up-tempo, pressuring style of play that is exciting both for the players and the fans. He will implement that system immediately, which will be a change from the Tribe's style of play in the past.

"I think you will see a very exciting brand of basketball here," explained

Junior guard Nick D'Antoni

Shaver. "We plan to pressure the basket-ball. We will be a press-oriented defensive team and we are going to push the ball up the floor on the offensive end. When people come to see us play this year, I hope they will be impressed by a lot of things, but two things in particular. First will be how well our guys play together—each individual participating in the whole and making the whole better. Second, I want people to be impressed with the level of intensity that our players approach the game. That is very important to me as a coach, and it will become very important to them as players."

While this new plan of attack will inevitably require some adjustment, in no way does it mean that this season, and the careers of the current players, will be wasted on preparing solely for the future. From his first day on the job, Shaver has stressed that his goal is to win immediately with the current team playing a crucial role.

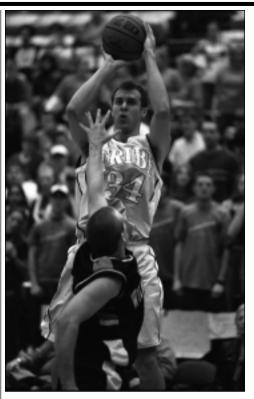

"One thing you will not hear me say is that, 'when I get my players here, we will start to win, '" said Shaver, as he gestured toward the team at his first W&M press conference. "These are my players. This is our team. This is our season."

Guards

Expected to run the team from the point guard position is 2002 CAA All-Rookie selection Nick D'Antoni. Although he saw limited action as a backup last season, he proved himself capable of playing the position as a freshman, when he led the team in assists and started nearly every game. Also a threat to score when necessary, he finished fourth on the team with 201 points as a rookie, including a 30-point effort in just his fifth collegiate game.

The battle for the starting off guard position will be one of the more interesting of the preseason, as junior Reid Markham and sophomore Taylor Mokris have both played well at the position.

Markham sat out all but five games last season (his third at W&M) due to illness, however, the team's request for a medical redshirt season was granted by the NCAA, giving him two full years of remaining eligibility. A seldom-used reserve as a freshman, he was the team's biggest surprise as a sophomore, when he was arguably the best player through the first half of the season. Scoring in double-figures eight times that year, he ended with 6.7 points per game and finished in the top-three on the club in every shooting percentage category. Unique on the team with the ability to slash to the basket as well as pull up from the outside, he could be a crucial wild card in the Tribe's success this season.

Mokris started his career slowly, but improved as the year progressed, finishing as a legitimate scoring threat. In a six-day stretch at the end of the season, he averaged 12.0 points and shot 70 percent from the field in three games against the top three teams in the conference standings. The Monday following the first two games in that run Mokris was named the CAA Rookie of the Week, and he came out that night with a career-best 15-point performance against the eventual conference champion, UNC Wilmington.

New to the team is walk-on freshman Adam Trumbower, a 6-2 guard from Cave Spring High School in Roanoke, Virginia. A first team All-Virginia pick last year, he was named the Roanoke Metro Player of the Year, and was also his high school's athlete of the year. No stranger to top-level college basketball, he was a high school teammate of Duke star J.J. Redick, guarding the future All-American in practice for three seasons.

Forwards

Back for his final season at W&M is senior captain Adam Hess, the CAA's topreturning scorer with an average of 20.1 points per game, and a candidate this season for conference player of the year honors. A second team Academic All-American as a junior, he was also a first team NABC All-District selection and was just the second player in school history to earn first team All-CAA accolades. Hess scored more than 30 points in five games last season (a school record) and was twice named the league's player of the week.

Already with one of the finest seasons in Tribe history under his belt, Hess continued to work tirelessly in the offseason and will look to improve on last year's heady accomplishments. His name appears throughout the College's single-season record book, and should start to appear in the career lists well before the end of this campaign. A difficult player to defend at the swing position, he shot more than 37 percent from three-point range last season and collected close to three offensive rebounds a game.

He will be joined by classmate Zeb Cope, a dependable 6-8 power forward who led the team in rebounding four times last season, despite playing alongside Hess and graduated seven-footer Adam Duggins, two of the top rebounders in the conference. One of the strongest players on the team, Cope is known for his devastating screens on offense as well as his relentless pursuit of loose balls and rebounds on the defensive end.

Also returning this season is Steve Sorenson, who saw action in just seven games as a redshirt freshman. After a season behind a number of older players at his position, the sophomore will need to step up his play this year in order for the Tribe to be successful. At 6-9 and 225 pounds, he has a knack for knocking down three-pointers and his versatility could pose problems for opposing defenders.

Freshman Corey Cofield will immediately see action for W&M, at least coming off the bench, if not also being penciled into the starting rotation. A three-time ISL All-American at Roxbury Latin in Wellesley, Massachusetts, the 6-6, 220-pounder broke his high school's record with 1,181 points and 784 rebounds in his career. Averaging a double-double his last three seasons, he finished his senior year averaging 19 points and 16 rebounds a game.

Hawley Smith, is a transfer from Temple who played 62 games in two years for the Owls. Smith, who won't be eligible top play for W&M until next season, is a tough, gritty player who excels at taking care of the little things in the game. He was an Atlantic 10 All-Academic selection last year and a two-time recipient of Temple's Sixth Man award. Smith will play a big role in the team's success, despite being unable to play in games, as he pushes the rest of the players on the squad during practice

Centers

W&M has a pair of young centers on the roster in sophomore Nate Loehrke and redshirt freshman Brian Hutt. At 6-10, Loehrke is the tallest player on the team and his exceptional wingspan and shot blocking ability will help him to clog up the lane and protect the basket on defense. With a variety of post moves, including a nice touch on his hook shot, Loehrke, who redshirted his freshman year, is expected to see more playing time for the Tribe this season.

Hutt redshirted last year as a true freshman and saw significant improvement in his physical conditioning as well as his feel for the college game. A tenacious competitor around the basket on both offense and defense, he is very athletic for his size and may also see time at the forward position.

Schedule

The 2003-04 season features a matchup against national preseason top-25 team Pittsburgh, a Thanksgiving tournament at George Washington, as well as games against Virginia, Virginia Tech and seven other in-state opponents. The Tribe will begin the year at home against Liberty, before hitting the road immediately for a game the next day at Radford. The day after Thanksgiving is the start of the Red Auerbach Colonial Classic, hosted by GW and including Appalachian State and St. Francis (NY). Early in December, W&M will play the first two Colonial Athletic Association games of the season, hosting two-time defending league champion UNC Wilmington and traveling to face local rival Virginia Commonwealth. Coming out of final exams, the Tribe will face Hampton and play at Virginia Tech before going home for Christmas. After the holiday, the Green and Gold will host Campbell before taking on the toughest stretch of the season, three games in five days against Pittsburgh, Virginia and UNC Wilmington, all on the road. From there W&M plays all conference games the rest of the way, ending with a February 28 game at home against VCU to close out the regular season.

Quoting Coach Shaver

On his coaching style

"I think you will see a very exciting brand of basketball here next year. We plan to pressure the basketball. I think the key for us is where the pressure point will come, but we institutions, where there are real student-athwill be a press-oriented defensive team and letes, true student-athletes. William and we are going to push the ball up the floor on Mary is certainly a great fit for me, I have no the offensive end."

"When people come to see us play this year, I hope they will be impressed by a lot of things, but two things in particular. First will be how well our guys play together—each individual participating in the whole and making the whole better. Second, I want people to be impressed with the level of intensity that our players approach the game with. That is very important to me as a coach, and it will become very important to them as players."

On coaching student-athletes at William and Mary

"In my professional career, I have been very fortunate to coach only at top-flight academic questions about that. I've always enjoyed the pursuit of student-athletes and enjoyed the pursuit of students who can play the game of basketball at a very high level."

On involvement with the community

"Williamsburg is a great place and we want to get the community involved with our basketball team. I want to be involved in the community and I want our players to be involved in the community. We need to be visible, we need to be available and we want to make this place right here [W&M Hall] a building with a lot of atmosphere—a vibrancy when you walk into it.'

What They're Saying About Tony Shaver

Tony's teams rose to the top of Division III because he instilled in his players the value of hard work. He is very deserving of the chance to build a program at William and Mary. I have great confidence that he will establish an exciting and winning program."

Legendary North Carolina head coach Dean Smith, the winningest men's basketball coach in NCAA history

"My son Ryan made an outstanding choice to play for Tony Shaver. Ryan was able to learn, experience success and grow as a person during his time with Coach Shaver. Tony is very passionate about the game and pays great attention to detail. Success will follow him."

"My family was impressed with Coach Shaver's long-standing reputation. It was important for us to send our son to play basketball for a program that produces winners on and off the court. Coach Shaver's attentiveness to David as an athlete and as a person was invaluable to David's college experience and to his future."

Kentucky assistant coach David Hobbs

Colonial Athletic Association

academic institutions, the Colonial Athletic Association continues to build on a proud history as one of the nation's top collegiate conferences.

With a geographic footprint that stretches from the shadow of the Statue of Liberty to the beaches of North Carolina, the landscape of the CAA is dotted with major metropolitan areas that include four of the nation's top 25 media markets - New York (1), Philadelphia (4), Washington, D.C. (8) and Baltimore (24).

The CAA showcases the athletic and academic skills of some of the nation's top student-athletes. On the playing field, the conference has produced 15 national team champions in four different sports, 28 individual national champions, 11 national coaches of the year and 10 national players of the year. In 2002-03, the conference sent two or more teams to the NCAA Tournament in seven different sports. The CAA has ranked as the top Division I non-football conference in the Sears Directors Cup standings in recent years.

Current CAA Lineup

James Madison	1985
UNC Wilmington	1985
William and Mary	1985
Old Dominion	1991
Virginia Commonw	ealth 1995
Delaware	2001
Drexel	2001
Hofstra	2001
Towson	2001

Even more impressive, however, are the honors accumulated away from competition, which include five Rhodes Scholars, 11 NCAA post-graduate scholars and 12 Honda Award winners. Last year, the CAA had 17 Verizon Academic All-Americans, including six who were selected to the first team. Nearly 1,000 CAA studentathletes posted at least a 3.2 grade point average while lettering in a varsity sport and received the CAA Commissioner's Academic Award in 2002-03.

The CAA conducts championships in 21 sports. Male athletes compete for championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, lacrosse, soccer, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and wrestling. Female athletes battle for conference titles in basketball, cross country, field hockey, golf, lacrosse, soccer, softball, and volleyball.

In men's basketball, the CAA has earned a reputation as a "giant killer" in the NCAA Tournament. Since 1981, CAA schools have posted 12 wins over higherteams, including UNC seeded Wilmington's upset of Southern California in 2002. Nine of the conference's 10 teams have made at least two NCAA Tournament appearances since 1990. In women's basketball, Old Dominion has captured three national championships (1979, 1980, 1985) and reached the title game again in 1997. In 2002, the Lady Monarchs advanced to the Elite Eight.

The conference has also excelled in many other sports. CAA squads have won 10 field hockey national titles since the championship began in 1981, which is not only more than any other conference but represents nearly half of all titles won. In baseball, the CAA has ranked as one of the nation's top five conferences in four of the past six seasons. The CAA is annually ranked among the nation's top 10 conferences in men's and women's soccer, and has traditionally sent multiple teams to the NCAA Tournament. The conference finished the 2002-03 campaign with teams ranked among the top 25 nationally in cross country, field hockey, men's soccer, wrestling, men's and women's tennis and men's and women's lacrosse.

CAA member institutions are also committed to excellence in the classroom. The Colonial Academic Alliance was created in 2002 by the league's presidents with a goal of expanding their partnership to all aspects of university life outside of intercollegiate athletics. Among the programs already established is granting visiting academic status to student-athletes traveling to an away contest so that they have access to libraries, academic resource centers and computer labs.

In 2002, two faculty members from awarded institutions were academia's most coveted distinction - the Nobel Prize. John B. Fenn, a research professor in the Department of Chemistry at Virginia Commonwealth University was one of three recipients of the Nobel Prize in chemistry, and Vernon Smith, a professor of economics and law at George Mason University, shared the Nobel Prize in economic sciences.

Under the direction of Commissioner Thomas E. Yeager, who has guided the

CAA Dominance

Overall, William and Mary has won a total of 70 Colonial Athletic Association championships, more than 20% of all league titles awarded and far more than any other conference school.

members on December 13, 2000, joining George Mason University, James Madison University, the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, Old Dominion University, Virginia Commonwealth University and the College of William and Mary.

The CAA traces its roots back to 1983 when three of its current members- George Mason, James Madison, and William and Mary - were aligned with East Carolina University, the United States Naval Academy and the University of Richmond as a basketball league (ECAC South). During the next two years, the league added 11 sports, acquired two new members (UNC Wilmington and American University) and decided to form a new association. The transformation from ECAC South to CAA took place on June 6, 1985. By the fall of 1986, the league gained automatic bids to NCAA Championships in men's basketball, soccer, baseball and women's basketball and formed an officials' bureau. Old Dominion became a member of the CAA in 1991-92 and Virginia Commonwealth University joined the conference prior to the 1995-96 season.

From all-star athletes to Nobel prize winning faculty, the CAA takes great pride in producing performers who stand out both on the playing field and in the class-

The Kraze Award

John Kratzer, captain of William and Mary's 1977-78 men's basketball team, received the inaugural United States Basketball Writers Association Most Courageous Athlete award. After lettering his first two years at forward, Kratzer was diagnosed with cancer and battled the disease for three more years. Throughout the ordeal, John never lost his sense of humor and continued to be the player who kept the team loose and served as an inspiration. "Kraze" attended practices and sat on the bench his senior year, playing a major role in W&M's 78-75 win over No. 2 North Carolina on December 7, 1977. Through it all, John's warmth, cheerfulness and courage touched countless people.

The "Kraze Award" is William and Mary basketball's most coveted award. Recipients over the past years include:

William and Mary

The College of William and Mary The Best Small Public University in the United States

For more than 300 years, William and Mary has been a symbol of academic distinction in America. Now, in its fourth century, the College is prepared to educate the leaders of the 21st century.

The College of William and Mary was founded in 1693 by King William III and Queen Mary II of England. Four Presidents of the United States received their education at the College - George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe and John Tyler. The current chancellor of the College is former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger, and he took over the post from former British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

William and Mary was the first college to institute an honor code of conduct. The premier academic society, Phi Beta Kappa, was founded by William and Mary students in 1776. The Society of the Alumni, founded in 1842, is the sixth oldest alumni group in the nation. Now the College is designated as a "Public Ivy", and ranks 15th among the best regional business schools.

Lake Matoaka provides an on-campus field laboratory and recreational activities, and includes an ampitheatre to host concerts.

The Wren Building is the oldest one in the United States in which classes are still taught.

The charter established the position of chancellor, stating that the role should go to "one eminent and discreet person," who would serve as the College's representative to the English crown. During the pre-Revolutionary war era, either the Bishop of London or the Archbishop of Canterbury held the position. ## Director of Athletics

Terry Driscoll Director of Athletics

With a strong personal commitment to the concept of the scholar-athlete and to competitive success, Edward C. "Terry" Driscoll, Jr. enters his seventh year as director of athletics at the College.

"In the athletic world, William and Mary is well recognized for a rare combination of two attributes: its academic strength in the classroom and its competitive strength on the field," said Driscoll. "I look forward to the challenge of continuing the tradition of academic and athletic achievement."

A basketball All-America selection and an Academic All-America honoree at Boston College, Driscoll is an exemplary leader. Since his collegiate days, Driscoll has filled a variety of executive posts in the sporting goods industry, as well as completing an 11-year stint as a player in the National Basketball Association and as a player and coach in the Italian professional basketball league.

Driscoll has supervised the marketing of athletic products in national and international markets, enhanced the television exposure of a variety of NCAA events (including the Final Four basketball tournament) and organized and directed such internationally recognized events as the World Cup soccer games in Boston and the women's World Volleyball Grand Prix in Hawaii.

The athletic program Driscoll directs fields a total of 23 men's and women's teams which boast strong records in NCAA, Colonial Athletic Association and Atlantic 10 competition. Last year, W&M posted a .571 overall winning percentage with five teams finishing in the nation's top-25 polls. Tribe athletes also earned seven All-America certificates and 16 national academic citations during the year.

Driscoll, who graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in biology from Boston College in 1969, began his postgraduate career as a first-round draft pick of the Detroit Pistons. Before joining the Pistons, however, Driscoll opted for a year of professional basketball in Italy where he fulfilled his dream of living abroad and learning a second language. He rejoined the Pistons in 1970 and played with the Bullets and Bucks before returning to Italy in the fall of 1975, where he was named Outstanding Foreign Player of the Year. He played three years before an injury forced his retirement in 1978. He then coached his former team to two Italian League Championships before returning to the United States.

Driscoll began his post-playing career as an athletic sales promotion agent in 1980 and quickly moved up the corporate ladder. With the purchase of Bike Athletic by Kazmaier Associates in 1986, KSG Inc. was formed with the objective of becoming the first, and only, national sales agency in the Sporting Goods Industry. Driscoll was named president of KSG Inc. in 1987 and expanded the agency from 24 to 50 states by 1989. With the domestic sales agency in place, Driscoll expanded to international marketing and sales from 1989-93. In early 1990, Driscoll's contribution to a marketing research project for the NCAA was the initial step moving him from product marketing and sales to sports marketing and management. The result of the project was a joint ven-

Student-Athlete Support

Goals

We take pride in the many achievements of William and Mary athletes, both in the classroom and on the playing field. These support services and many others are in place to help each student-athlete achieve their goals. It is our hope that at the completion of their undergraduate career they can reflect upon:

- 1. An academic experience that prepared them for a successful career.
- 2. An athletic challenge that brought many rewards.
- A feeling of loyalty and pride in identifying themselves as a varsity athlete with a degree from The College of William and Mary.

Compliance and Academic Support

As members of the Colonial Athletic Association and NCAA Division I, the College is committed to full compliance with all NCAA and conference regulations. The department has a fulltime Director of Compliance committed to assisting students, staff and coaches through education and monitoring of compliance issues.

All entering students are assigned to a faculty academic advisor assigned by the director of Academic Advising. Students remain with this advisor until their sophomore year at which time they select a faculty advisor in their chosen major.

Within the athletic department, the Academic Support Coordinator is a valuable resource for student-athletes serving in a liaison role with the various student service offices throughout the campus community. The College has offices for Volunteer Services, Career Services, a Writing Resource Center and Oral Communication Studio, to name a few.

The department offers a variety of study, life and career building skills programs, but holds firm to the concept of self-determination—each student must take responsibility for his or her collegiate experience. Our goal is to assure that there is a support system in place to assist students to make positive and informed decisions.

Strength, Speed and Conditioning

Tribe athletics is very proud of the Joseph W. Montgomery Strength Training Center, a 5,000 square foot weight training facility. Under the guidance of the Head and Assistant Strength Coach each sport is provided with a program designed to enhance individual strength and flexibility development specific to the skills and movements required for their sport. Individuals are educated on proper lifting techniques and workouts are monitored to assure safety at all times.

Sports Psychology

The athletic department has on staff a sports psychologist, who holds a Ph.D. in sports psychology. All consultations are confidential and all student-athletes, teams or coaches are welcome regardless of the issues they wish to discuss. Consultation is available for sport psychology education, performance enhancement skills training, strategies for dealing with stress or injury, or for personal issues that may affect performance. The sports psychology consultant is considered a member of the Counseling Center and refers individuals to the Center when appropriate.

Sports Medicine

The Division of Sports Medicine provides a comprehensive health care program for the department of intercollegiate athletics. The staff consists of a team physician, seven full time certified athletic trainers, two graduate assistant athletic trainers and medical specialists from the local community. The team physician has overall responsibility for supervision of the sports medicine program. Tribe athletes have the luxury of rehabilitating and treating injuries in a state-of-the-art athletic training facility.

The priority for the athletic training staff is to enhance and assure lines of communication and cooperation among its staff, student-athletes, parents, coaches, the Student Health Center and involved medical specialists. Through a team approach to health care the sports medicine program can offer comprehensive health care services to the student-athletes in a caring and cooperative manner.

William and Mary Hall

This year the Tribe enters its 32nd season in William and Mary Hall, home of varsity basketball and all Tribe athletics. On the concourse and lower levels of the building are coaching and staff offices housing the William and Mary athletic department. The broad-based program offers 23 intercollegiate varsity sports to William and Mary undergraduates.

Total capacity of the arena is about 8,600 for basketball, but by using bleachers in the open end and chairs on the floor, capacity can be expanded to 11,300 for convocations, concerts or theater-in-theround.

The building features a medical suite, seminar room, a gymnastics workout area and another room for other sports usages. The facility houses 12 locker room areas with adjoining showers. In addition, there is a newly expanded, 5,000 square-feet weight training facility complete with Nautilus and other free-weight equipment.

The Hall, completed in 17 months by the Southeastern Construction Company of Charlotte, North Carolina, opened just in time for the inaugural game between the Tribe and the University of North Carolina Tar Heels. Financed by state revenue bonds, the total cost of the structure was $5.3 million.

Some of the proudest moments in Tribe basketball featured John Lowenhaupt (#42), Keith Cieplicki (#14), and Chet Giermak (#32) having their jersey numbers retired. In 1990, Jeff Cohen's jersey (#52) was retired posthumously. In 1993, Bill Chambers (#32) was also recognized as a W&M all-time great. Banners signifying those great memories hang in the Hall today.

Other sporting events held here have included the Harlem Globetrotters and the Roller Derby. Fans in the Williamsburg area have seen auto shows, dog shows, Prince Charles, Glenn Close, a Billy Graham crusade, Bette Midler, Billy Joel, speeches by presidential candidates Jimmy Carter and Gerald Ford, the Shakespeare Players, a three-ring circus, and even a Howdy Doody show!

The first concert held was Sly and the Family Stone held in 1971. The largest crowd for a concert was 13,514 for the Police in February 1982. Other performers in the Hall included R.E.M., Sting, the Grateful Dead, Bruce Hornsby, 10,000 Maniacs, Beach Boys, Chicago, Stone Temple Pilots and many more.

Bettie Adams serves as director of William and Mary Hall and Ticket Services. Robb Dunn serves as Assistant Athletic Director for Facilities and Operations in the Hall.

Facilities

The College of William and Mary and its student-athletes take a great deal of pride in the quality of its athletic facilities. William and Mary boasts some of the finest athletic arenas in the nation, from its newest venue, Albert-Daly Field, to the oldest, Walter J. Zable Stadium at Cary Field, a campus landmark since 1935.
