

Dec 12, 1804

Dear Sir

Washington Dec. 12. 04.

The liberality which I have seen practised by the gentlemen, chaplains of Congress, in admitting others of their profession who happen here occasionally to perform the Sabbath-day functions in the chamber of the H. of Representatives, induces me to ask that indulgence for the rev. Mr. Glendye a presbyterian clergyman from Baltimore who will be in this place next Sunday forenoon. being acquainted with Mr. Glendye, I can assure you that no person to whom that permission could be transferred, will be heard with more satisfaction than he would. if the desk be at your disposal for the next Sunday forenoon I will ask that favor on his behalf: if Mr. Lowry be the person to whom that day belongs, as my acquaintance with him would hardly justify the liberty of a direct application, could I be allowed so far to profit of your friendship as to ask your requesting this favor from Mr. Lowry. Accept my friendly salutations and assurances of great esteem & respect.

Ms. Cormick rec'd. Mr. Dec. 12. 66.

Washington Dec 12 66

Dear Sir

The Librarian thinks I have now finished of the
 - them, chapters of Congress, in addition to those of the who happen to be necessary to perform the duties of the in the chamber of the House of Representatives, and thus will not evidence for the use of the Librarian's department Baltimore will be in this place next Sunday forenoon. I acquainted with Mr. Bishop, has arranged that he to show that your opinion was not supported will be held with more satisfaction than he would. If the best best you in power for the next Sunday forenoon I will ask that favor on his behalf of my favor be the power to show that his words, as my
 - come with him, would hardly justify the claim of a third
 - them, and I believe to be a profit of your friendship in ask your respecting the favor from Mr. Bishop. I friendly relations and assurance of great esteem & respect.
