

Mr. Jefferson returns Mr. Price his thanks for the communication of Mr. Morgan's letter. The situation of New Orleans is at this time interesting, and the opinions of no person there stands in higher estimation with him than those of Mr. Morgan, whose worth & judgment are known to him. He salutes Mr. Price respectfully.

Washington Jan. 16. 07.

Price Chandler. Jan. 16. 07.

[Faint, illegible handwriting, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

