Respected Sir!

I beg leave to send you, by mail together with the lines of pamphlets contg. a dozen Memoirs of mine published in Europe in French on Zoology and Botany, and forming the beginning of a long series of similar Tracts which are sent printing, forwarded or in preparation. — Such is the state as yet of Natural Sciences in our Country that I have reluctantly been compelled to send my labours thus far to be published, and only receive them again after a couple of years and travelling 10000 miles! The sequel will be sent to you when it reaches me.

Amongst my numerous botanical Discoveries this year in Kentucky, I have found a new, rare and valuable tree belonging to the genus Virgilia, but different from the Virgo-lutea of the mountains of Georgia. It is 30 to 40 feet high, with broad leaves, like ash-leaves, and it dies a beautiful yellow like the V. lutea & V. aurea. I call it Virgilia fragilis in vulgar language Yellow Locust, the country people had no name for it. It grows scantily in the bottoms of the River Kentucky, and will grow well in Virginia. I send you therefore inclosed several pods, which you may raise yourself or present to your Agricultural friends. It grows quick, has a fine foliage and bloom, but the branches are exceedingly brittle.

I have not heard as yet whether the University of Virginia is to go in operation. Not having heard from you I suppose that my liberal offer was not accepted, and my endeavours to stimulate by my exertions the study of my favourite Sciences will not succeed. I wish that native talents may not be preferred to ardent Zeal and Knowledge without hoping it. — Meantime I am on the point of endowing Pennsylvania University with all my past collections amounting to about 30000 Specimens of Plants, Animals & Minerals, as soon as they will be able to enter into some judicious arrangements on the subject, in which case I shall not be able to renew my offer to the Univ. of Ving — when it might be convenient to accept it.

I wish you health, property, a long and happy life, Meantime remaining respectfully Your Obedt Servt.
