2009-10 Outlook.....2-4

After a terrific season in 2008-09, this year's Tribe looks to push the bar even higher across all three seasons.

The Team.....5-22

Coach Alex Gibby5
 Alex Gibby has brought the College to new heights in his six years as head men's coach, and with a very strong recruiting class and experienced veterans looks to extend W&M's national presence.

Director Dan Stimson.....6

A fixture in green and gold for more than 20 years, Dan Stimson has his throwers in rare form this season and the Tribe poised to sweep the CAA titles for the first time since 2004.

Assistant Coaches.....7

W&M's assistants have played a key role in the team's dominance over the years, and with several new faces look to propel the team even further in 2009-10.

BRIAN SKLODOWSKI
ALL-EAST

Anchored once again by its powerhouse distance and middle-distance components, the 2009-10 William and Mary track and field program looks to have a banner year and set program records for best finishes at the national level in all three competition seasons. To complement the team's four returning NCAA qualifiers, head men's coach Alex Gibby '97 and director of track and field Dan Stimson have added very strong recruiting class to try and sweep the Colonial Athletic Association championships for the first time since 2004.

Sprints/Hurdles

This off-season proved very productive for both the athletes and coaches of the sprints and hurdles group, with nearly every contributor from last season returning in even better shape and the coaches growing both in number and expertise. The school-record holder in the decathlon, Todd Doughty '97, was also an outstanding sprinter and hurdler during his four years and returns to help Emil Davis '85 (a school-record holder himself) and Dave Fritz (newly certified as a Level II sprints and relays coach) restore the College's fortune in the shorter distance to the level of its 1960s and 70s heyday.

Junior Chris McIntosh is the top 400m hurdler of the past several years for W&M, and just missed all-conference honors the last two years in that event. Also currently the team's top open 400m and 200m runner, McIntosh could challenge for All-East honors on the indoor DMR and will be a key part of the 4x100m and 4x400m relay efforts. Classmate David Blitzler is a powerful runner, and will be looking to contribute in the long-sprints (400m and up) as well as challenge for IC4A qualifications at 500m indoors.

Sophomore Matt Clark set the freshman record in the 60m hurdles indoors last winter, and also scored in the 110m hurdles at the conference meet outdoors. With another year under his belt, the coaching staff expects him to begin challenging for all-conference honors, and to also contribute in the short sprints as needed. Todd Saunders is the only new member of squad in the sprinting events, but comes into W&M with times that would rank him in or near the College's all-time top-10. He was a region-qualifier in both the 100m and 200m at Westfield High in New Jersey, and has run 10.9 and 22.5 in those events. In addition to the short sprints, the coaches will also try Saunders in the 400m open and as part of both the 4x100m and 4x400m relays.

Middle-Distance

Even with the loss of All-American miler Ian Fitzgerald '09, the Tribe middle-distance platoon projects to have an even better season in 2010 than it did last year. Senior Harry Miller is fully recovered from injuries that robbed him of much of last spring, and will be counted on to get back into his 8:49 steeplechase form and challenge the school record that has stood for 30 years.

Sophomore Peter Dorrell is also stalking the steeplechase record, after just missing All-East honors and the freshman record when he timed 9:03.85 in his final race last spring. The CAA Rookie of the Year in cross country last fall, Dorrell is a proven national competitor and will be fighting to retain his spot on the Tribe's NCAA Championship team. Classmate Liam Anastasia-Murphy was a 9:19 steeper in his first year, and has also proved an integral part of the College's 4x800m and DMR teams, earning All-East relay honors outdoors and qualifying for the 800m and 1,000m indoors.

Junior Brian Sklodowski has perhaps the greatest range on the team, earning All-East honors in all three seasons last year and making the NCAA Regional at 1,500m. He also has the strength to move up to the 3,000m and 5,000m, running 14:16.76 in the latter race at the Penn Relays, and will be counted on to help the cross country team extend its streak of consecutive NCAA appearances. Jay Bilsborrow also qualified for the IC4A Championships outdoors in the 1,500m with a 3:49.79 showing at George Mason, and indoors in the mile that is third-best among all returning athletes. He was also part of the All-East 4x800m relay, and has the top 800m personal-best currently on the team.

Junior Sean Mahoney was primarily a miler until last season, but experienced great success moving down to the 800m and 1,000m. Indoors, he qualified for the IC4A Championships in the 1,000m, and ran at the outdoor meet as part of the preliminary-round 4x800m relay. This year, he will be counted on to make a scoring impact both at the conference and IC4A meets. Sophomore Chris Tyson has tremendous upside in several events, and could challenge the school records in every event from 500m-1000m before the year is out. As a redshirt-freshman, he earned all-conference and All-East accolades in cross country and was runner-up at 1,500m at the CAA Championships. Freshman Dan Grimm was an all-state athlete in Virginia's top classification, and is expected to immediately challenge for a spot on the 4x800m relay while also contributing at 800m and 1,000m.

Distance/Cross Country

Discussion of the College's distance prospects must start in cross country, where W&M is one of only five teams to qualify for every NCAA meet since 1997. Six athletes return for cross country who have run better than 14:20 at 5,000m, with three of those also coming in under 30 minutes for 10,000m. The lead pack includes juniors Jon Grey, Ben Massam, and Patterson Wilhelm. Grey transferred to the College from Oklahoma before last year, and led the team at the Southeast Regional in cross country before a breakout spring. He won the 5,000m and 10,000m at the CAA Championships, and was a provisional qualifier for the NCAA Championships in both events. He will be counted on to challenge for All-America honors this year at 10,000m, and could reach the national meet in 5,000m also.

Wilhelm redshirted outdoors last spring after earning a provisional qualification indoors at 5,000m, dropping nearly 15 seconds from his best outdoor time at 5,000m over the course of the spring. The top finisher at the NCAA cross country championships for W&M last November, he is one of the team's top contenders for All-America accolades this fall, and in any event from the mile up through 5,000m both indoors and outdoors. Massam also redshirted the spring, dropping more than 20 seconds from both his 5,000m and 10,000m personal-bests. Over the past two years, he has been W&M's fourth or fifth finisher on the national level and will be expected to challenge for the top-three spots this year.

Colin Leak ranks a very close third behind Grey and Massam at 10,000m, and had a breakthrough race in the 5,000m at last year's IC4A championships to finish sixth in 14:06.92. A member of each of the past three NCAA cross country teams for W&M, he will be counted on to improve last year's 94th-place finish and boost the Tribe into the top-10 teams. Charlie Swartz is also expected to be a significant contributor both in cross country and for the distance races in track, and will be looking to make the NCAA team this year after helping the team clinch the region title last fall. Lewis Woodard had one of the biggest breakthroughs on the team last year, shaking the injury bug mid-fall to become an all-conference and all-region runner and run at the NCAA Championships. During the winter he ran 4:08 in the mile for All-East honors, and just missed the NCAA Regional meet at 5,000m after timing 14:17.14 at the Penn Relays. This fall, he will be looking for a top-80 finish at the NCAA Championships, and to qualify to both national track meets.

Christo Landry will return for his sixth year and second graduate degree this year, as he finishes out his eligibility for both indoor and outdoor track. A three-time All-American in cross country, Landry will look for his first national awards on the track this season after being limited by injuries for the past two years. Tom Burke was the conference Rookie of the Year in cross country two years ago, and ran for the Tribe at the NCAA Championships in 2008 before redshirting the spring. He will be expected to contribute at the regional and national levels again this fall, as well as improving his track times to NCAA Regional-qualifying levels.

Also returning as All-East performers is the trio of Drew Midland, Skeeter Morris, and Zach Gates. Midland is a two-time All-East runner in cross country and also qualified for the IC4A Championships in the 3,000m in 2008, running 8:20.99. This year, he will be expected to be a leader of the team's middle pack while challenging for roster spots in the upper tier. Gates and Morris each broke out last spring at 10,000m, finishing sixth and eighth, respectively, at the IC4A Championships. Emphasis this year for both men will be to challenge for top-tier billing in cross country, while also getting under the 30-minute barrier in the 10,000m during the spring.

Providing depth throughout the distance events will be a strong crop of upperclassmen, including Pete Asaro, Robert Sagar, Max Werner, Glen Wright Colopy, and Paul Norland. Asaro and Sagar are each experienced steeplechasers and can also perform at a high level in the 5,000m and in cross country, where Asaro was an all-conference honoree as a freshman. Werner is a two-time IC4A qualifier at 10,000m, and will be expected to challenge for All-East accolades both in track and cross country. Norland and Wright Colopy have both competed for the Tribe at the CAA Championships in track, and will be looking to make the step up to scoring and challenging for all-conference accolades.

Also providing depth and with potential to blossom very quickly into regional-scorers are second-year men David Adley, Alex McGrath, and John Pence. Adley was the CAA runner-up at 10,000m in the spring and qualified for the IC4A Championships in that event, while McGrath and Pence each ran in the mid-8:30s for 3,000m indoors.

This year's freshman class includes five men with all-state credentials. Zach Tennant holds the West Virginia state-meet records at both 1,600m (4:13.8) and 3,200m (9:14.8), and also ran the fastest time ever on the state championship cross country course. John Muller was the New York silver-medallist in the 3,200m last spring, running 9:00.61, and has also timed 4:12.9 in the 1,600m. Thomas Baker ran for Louisa County HS in Virginia, earning 11 all-state accolades and leading the Lions to the 2009 state indoor title. Griff Ashooh was 12th at the Virginia AAA cross country championships last fall for Colonial Forge, earning honorable mention All-Met accolades from the Washington Post. Josh Hardin was the bronze-medallist at the NXN Southeast Regional last fall, qualifying for the national championship meet in cross country. Also a 9:11-3,200m runner, Hardin won six all-state awards and was a first-team All-Met selection by the Washington Post.

Jumps

The vaulters under coach Dave Fritz will again be a solid part of the Tribe line-up, but the graduation of IC4A and CAA champion Cam Shriver '09 in the high jump leaves a hole that the team hopes will be filled by a heralded newcomer. Seniors Doug Zimmer and Kiernan Lofland are the elder statesmen of the pole vault corps, and both will be expected to post significant gains in height as the Tribe looks to regain the conference title. Lofland has already proven that he can jump with the best in the CAA, with runner-up finishes each time he has been a healthy competitor, and has a career-best of 16-0.75 set as freshman. Healthy again, he will look to challenge for titles both indoors and outdoors at the IC4A meet. Zimmer is in only his second season as a full-fledged jumper, and after showing great progress in one year is also expected to be in the mix at the conference and IC4A Championships.

Junior Keith Constance will also be looking to continue his improvement over the past year after increasing his personal-best by 16 inches in 2008-09. With continued progress, Constance will be on the cusp of IC4A-qualifying this spring. Sophomore Daniel Inge transferred from Clemson over the summer after finishing in the top-10 at the ACC indoor meet, and will be expected to challenge right away for the conference title. As a high-school vaulter in Virginia, Inge was a prep All-American and cleared 16-4.75, the second-best mark in state history.

Freshman Ben Katz rounds out the jumping group, with a prep-best mark of 6-8.5 in the high jump. That effort won him the VIS state outdoor title and the championship-meet record in the event, and would qualify him for the IC4A meet if he matches it this season. Also a talented horizontal-jumper, Katz has marks of 22-9.75 in the long jump and 44-1 in the triple.

Throws

Coach Stimson has the benefit of both depth and experience in the throwing events this season, with four upper- and two underclassmen on the roster. Sophomore Brandon Héroux is the most accomplished of the group, earning All-East and all-region honors in the javelin throw and placing 19th at the NCAA Championships. He demolished the school and conference records with his throw of 227-5 to win the CAA title, and was named Rookie of the Year in the conference as his effort proved to be the third-best among American juniors last year.

The weights will feature the return of junior Zach Jordan in the hammer, as he looks to continue his progression into the top tier of the CAA and IC4A and try to qualify for the NCAA Regional. Indoors, Jordan will be looking for an IC4A qualification in the weight throw. Senior Adam Gawne will also concentrate on those events, and will look for significant improvements in distance after a difficult 2009 campaign.

Senior Alex Ball scored in all three weight-events at last year's CAA Championships, and will have a go at all-conference honors this season as he tries to earn a top-four placing in all three events. Dan Klatzkin has fully recovered from the ankle injury he suffered mid-meet at the conference championships last spring, and will be expected to throw consistently above 50-feet in the shot put and 150-feet in the discus. Joining the team this year is Todd Repass, who was an all-state shot-putter at Stafford high school last winter. Repass has thrown 149 feet in the discus, and 51-6 with the 12-lbs shot put, and is expected to concentrate in those two disciplines this season.

Multi

Sophomore Roman Dent is the only multi-event athlete listed on the Tribe roster in 2009-10, but his prep credentials indicate that he could very well revive the legacy of coaches Davis and Doughty, both of whom figure to be deeply involved in his training this season. Dent competed only once indoors and sat out the spring season as a freshman, but has high school marks of 22-1 in the long jump and 14.83 in the 110m hurdles and was a five-time state champion in Tennessee. He also looks to be a significant help in the horizontal jumps, with a best mark of 47-11.75 in the triple jump.

HEAD MEN'S COACH

ALEX GIBBY

Alex Gibby has spent 14 years of his life helping to build William and Mary into one of the nation's few great track and field programs, including the last six as the head men's coach. As the 2009-10 school year begins, his recruiting and coaching efforts have the Tribe poised to challenge for titles at the highest levels of the sport, while also upholding the College's finest traditions of academic excellence.

Since beginning his tenure as the head coach in the summer of 2003, Gibby's charges have won all six Colonial Athletic Association cross country titles as well as the 2004 track championship, and added team titles in cross country from the IC4A (2006) and the NCAA Southeast Regional (2005 and 2008). Individually, athletes wearing the Green and Gold have collected 40 CAA and IC4A titles, five All-America awards, and been named a CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year for either cross country or track 10 times.

One of Gibby's greatest strengths is getting his athletes to achieve beyond their perceived limits, both in events in which they are familiar and in brand-new endeavors. In total, seven of the CAA's 12 Rookies of the Year over the past six years have come from W&M, including four of six in cross country. Keith Bechtol was a CAA and IC4A Champion as a freshman in Gibby's first season, and went on to place 14th at the NCAA 10,000m Championships as a senior and qualify for the 2008 Olympic Trials. During the 2009 outdoor season, six athletes ran faster than the 14:12 needed to qualify for the NCAA Regional at 5,000m, a total matched only by Oklahoma State.

Gibby's first full class of recruits included three-time cross country All-American Christo Landry and 2009 indoor mile All-American Ian Fitzgerald. Landry became the Tribe's first freshman All-American since the early 1970s when he took 38th at the 2004 NCAA Championships, and qualified for the 5,000m outdoors each of his first two seasons in track -- in 2004-05, he became just the second athlete in CAA history to be named Rookie of the Year in both cross country and track. In 2007, his final cross country season, Landry won the CAA individual title, placed 13th at the NCAA Championships, and was named both circuit, finishing fourth and eighth, respectively, at the U.S. Junior Championships. Selected to the World Championships team, Landry was the third-fastest American in the junior race at 46th overall. Meanwhile, Mock was winning gold at the NACAC Junior Championships while leading the U.S. to the team title. Harry Miller earned his chance to shine internationally after his superb 8:49.04 steeplechase at the 2008 Penn Relays. Selected to the U.S. squad for the U23 NACAC Championships that summer in the mountains of Toluca, Mexico, he just missed medaling with his fourth-place finish in the steeplechase.

The most prolific of Gibby's international competitors have been Tribe assistant coach Ed Moran and William and Mary's head women's coach, Kathy Newberry. Moran has been one of the United States' brightest young stars over the past four years, competing on the Chiba Ekiden Relay team in both 2006 and 2008 as well as making the World Cross Country squad each of the past two years. In 2007, Moran won the College's first international gold since the 1981 Maccabiah Games when he broke the Pan-American Games record at 5,000m, and finished the year ranked ninth in the U.S. at that distance as well as fifth in the 10,000m, a distance he had never tried before that spring. At the 2008 Olympic Trials, Moran was a heart-breaking fourth in the men's 10,000m, missing a bid to Beijing by only six seconds.

Newberry has found herself as one of the leading lights in women's cross country, representing the United States in five of the last six World Cross Country Championships. In 2008, she finished a career-best 24th in the world in the mud and muck of Scotland, and last March in Jordan, was elected by her teammates to be the U.S. captain. On the track, Newberry has reached each of the last two Olympic Trials at 10,000m, and also contested the 5,000m at the 2004 Trials.

2002 William and Mary graduate Jacob Frey has also experienced sustained success under Gibby's coaching in distance running's marquee event, the marathon. In 2006, he finished sixth in the USAT&F 25K National Championships, and in 2007 was selected to represent the U.S. at the Pan-American Games where his career-fast 2:16:44 just missed medaling in fourth place. Fitzgerald came to William and Mary as a 4:09 miler and 8:22 runner at the 3,000m from Pennsylvania. Over the course of his five years at the College, he lowered his best to 4:00.01 in the mile and 13:55.19 in the 5,000m, and was a two-time NCAA participant in the 5,000m outdoors. As a senior in 2009, his 4:00.01 indoor mile earned him an invitation to the NCAA Championships where he became the first indoor All-American for W&M since Matt Lane in 2001.

The 3,000m steeplechase has also seen a resurgence in the past six years as one of William and Mary's signature events. With only the state of New York running the event at the high school state championships, Gibby has achieved remarkable success training athletes with little or no experience in the event to become Regional qualifiers and conference champions. From 1984 to 2004, only two Tribe athletes broke the nine-minute barrier in the event, but since 2005 the standard has been breached by four runners. Harry Miller (Oregon) had a career-best of 9:05.83 as he toed the line at the 2008 Penn Relays, a mark he smashed with an 8:49.09 performance that ranked 13th in the NCAA that season. Sean Anastasia-Murphy (Massachusetts), Anthony Arena (Virginia), and Joel Parker (Virginia) are the other three to run under nine minutes in the past four years, none of whom had attempted the event before entering College. Peter Dorrell (Virginia), the 2008 CAA Cross Country Rookie of the Year, could very well end up breaking the Tribe's 32-year-old school record before all is said and done. In just his third steeplechase last May, he ran 9:03.85 and put a scare into the freshman record that has stood since 1973.

Gibby has also had great success coaching athletes up to represent the United States in international competition, with seven athletes amassing 15 international caps since 2003. Included in that total are four who wore the red, white, and blue while still athletes at the College; Keith Bechtol, Christo Landry, Dave Mock, and Harry Miller. Bechtol ran the fastest 10,000m time by an American junior (19 and under) in 2004 with his IC4A-winning turn of 29:58.13, and earned a spot on the U.S. team for the World Junior Championships that summer, where he finished as the highest-placing American in 19th.

Barely ninth months later, Landry and Mock were stars on the cross country

U.S. Olympic Trials that November, Frey performed well above expectations to take 22nd and just five months later won the Austin Marathon.

From 2000-03, Gibby was responsible for the emergence of the Stephen F. Austin program from mediocrity to the top of the Southland Conference, guiding the Lumberjacks and Ladyjacks to four team titles and 18 individual conference championships. In 2002, he was named both the Men's and Women's Coach of the Year in the Southland Conference after his teams completing an unprecedented sweep of both the team and individual cross country championships. Two of his brightest pupils were Nathan Flores and Ana Rodriguez. Flores was a five-time conference champion, and won the unbelievable triple of the steeplechase, 5,000m, and 10,000m at the 2002 Southland Championships. Rodriguez became the first runner from SFA to ever compete at the NCAA Championships when she finished 21st in the 5,000m at the 2003 national meet. She also won five conference titles in the 2002-03 school year, doubling-up with the 3,000m and 5,000m indoors and the 5,000m and 10,000m outdoors to go with the 2002 cross country crown.

After graduating from William and Mary with a history degree in 1997, Gibby was an assistant coach for the men's team for three years while working on a Masters degree in the same field. It was during his first fall that the Tribe began its incredible, still standing streak of qualifying for every NCAA Championship. Gibby played a large part in the development of the team during those three years, including working with 11-time All-American Matt Lane and three-time All-American Anders Christiansen.

During his five-year undergraduate running career, Gibby developed into an NCAA provisional qualifier and All-East performer at 10,000m while also winning the 1997 CAA 5,000m title. The Tribe won four CAA cross country crowns with Gibby on the team, and qualified for the 1994 and 1995 NCAA Championships.

Gibby was married to Kathy Newberry, the head women's coach at W&M, in the summer of 2005. The couple live in Williamsburg with their two dogs, Oskar and Atlas.

DIRECTOR OF TRACK AND FIELD

DAN STIMSON

In his 24th year as Director of Track and Field at William and Mary, Dan Stimson oversees a program that has demonstrated success both in the classroom and on the track, and has served as an exemplary model for what collegiate athletics should be all about. In recognition of his years of service, the College honored Coach Stimson in 2007 by naming the new throwing facility in his honor, the Stimson Throwing Events Area. Made possible through a generous donation from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Showker, the facility includes an Olympic throwing cage with circles for both the hammer and discus, two shot put circles, and javelin runway.

The men's and women's programs have combined for 21 Colonial Athletic Association titles out of 28 possible since the 2002-03 school year, and have garnered numerous CAA Athlete and Rookie of the Year awards. In 2008-09, the teams won three of four conference titles for the second year in a row, and in May, sent six athletes to the NCAA Outdoor Championships, the most since 1975. The men's cross country team also extended a streak of its own, making the NCAA Championships for the 12th consecutive season and winning its ninth regional title. To date, Stimson's programs have produced 59 All-Americans and one Olympian while winning 45 CAA team titles, nearly half of the conference championships awarded in his 24 years.

Stimson, who works primarily with the throwers, jumpers, and multi-eventers, has mentored many W&M athletes to national prominence in his tenure. Due to the absence of the javelin or the hammer throw at the high school level in Virginia and other nearby states, Stimson has earned a reputation for his ability to develop young talent.

His coaching credits include W&M hammer throw record-holder Mike Howell, who started with the hammer in his rookie season at W&M, and progressed through the ranks until his senior year, when he posted the eighth-best mark by an American collegian (206'1"). Decathlon record-holder Todd Doughty (7,240 points) benefited from his time with Stimson as well, working his way from a walk-on to one of the top 20 decathletes in the country over the course of his career at W&M.

and third amongst all American Juniors (19 and under). After taking seventh at the NCAA East Regional, he was the first at-large athlete selected to the NCAA Championships, setting W&M records for best finish (19th) and best throw at the national meet (208-7).

More Stimson-guided athletes litter the W&M and CAA record books. In 2005, Ayanna Jones claimed her second shot put title at the CAA Championships, the fifth-consecutive year a Tribe woman had won the event. She would go on to shatter the 23-year-old school record in the event, putting the shot 48' 6" in the ECAC Championships. 2006 graduate Andy Smith became one of only two athletes in school history to claim four CAA crowns in one event (joining Tyler Steel, winner of the hammer throw from 1997-2000) after winning the javelin for the fourth time at the 2006 conference meet.

Perhaps no event in recent years shows the effect of Stimson's tutelage more than the women's heptathlon, where five athletes in the Green and Gold have won the last seven CAA titles, and eight of the nine ever contested, along with two ECAC crowns. Alarice Cesareo earned a pair of titles in 2001 and 2003, and Phi Beta Kappa-graduate Sarah McHale won in 2004. In 2005, Bonnie Meekins won her first title with a then-record score of 4,763 points, before giving way to classmate Brenna Blevins in 2006, who scored 4,806 points.

In 2007, Meekins came back again with another meet record, 5,192 points. Similarly, Blevins won the 2006 ECAC crown with a then-school record total of 5,229, the highest point total not invited to the NCAA Championships that year. Meekins provided the breakthrough the following spring, powering to a score of 5,457 to claim the Eastern title, and a trip to the NCAA meet, where she would place 16th. In 2008, freshman Katie Guevel won the CAA title with a Zable Stadium record 5,158 points, and defended her crown in 2009 with another NCAA provisional-qualifying mark. Guevel set 15 school records and 15 freshman records during her first stellar year at the College.

In 2009, the women's throwing team swept the shot put at the CAA Championships with the top three showings as Ashley Williams won her first conference title. Williams also qualified to the ECAC Championships in the hammer throw

On the women's side, Stimson coached All-America high jumper Lisa Rayner to an 11th-place finish at the NCAA Championships and a school-record mark of 5'11.25" in 1994. Wendy Warren, the school record-holder in the javelin (153'6"), was discovered in a physical education class and went on to earn All-East honors and place sixth at the ECAC Championships. Stimson coached pole vaulter Charlotte LaRoche to second place in the ECAC Championships and a then-record of 13'1" in her freshman season. He then guided steady improvement throughout her career, culminating in 2004 with her second conference title and double All-East honors. Stimson has had numerous All-East performers in all of the field events.

A recent example of Stimson's coaching ability can be seen in 2004 graduate Chris Parsons. As a freshman, Parsons made a powerful debut, winning CAA titles in both the shot put and the javelin, enabling him to be selected for the United States Junior National Team. He followed up his impressive freshman season with a sophomore campaign that featured top CAA finishes in the discus (fourth), javelin (third), hammer (second) and a second straight first-place showing in the shot put. Parsons went on to garner All-East honors in the hammer at the IC4A meet. In 2003 Parsons was named CAA Scholar-Athlete of the year, after earning a pair of all-conference honors by finishing second in both the shot and the hammer at the CAA Championships. Parsons capped his career in style, winning the 2004 CAA title in the shot and hammer and breaking the NCAA Regional mark in both events.

Freshmen Natalie Baird and Brandon Héroux continued Stimson's string of success at developing young talent in 2009, with both athletes being named Rookie of the Year in the CAA. Baird set the W&M freshman record in all five events she contested last season, and broke the 27-year-old school record in the discus at her second meet. She earned all-conference honors in both the discus and the shot put, and was named All-East after finishing sixth in the discus. This past summer, Baird competed at the USAT&F Junior National Championships in both the discus and the hammer, achieving another sixth-place finish in the discus.

Héroux proved one of the best javelin throwers in the nation when he demolished the school, freshman, and conference records with a throw of 227-5 to win the CAA title. That effort ranked among the nation's top-20 last year, last spring, just missing All-East honors after placing ninth with a career-best throw of 173 feet. Carly Morse, second in the CAA shot put, earned All-East honors indoors with her sixth-place put at the ECAC meet. On the men's side, high jumper Cam Shriver brought the CAA title to William and Mary for the first time since 1991, and became the first Tribe athlete with both an indoor (2008 IC4A) and outdoor conference title to his credit since 1977. Shriver went on to the NCAA East Regional, where he made himself eligible for the NCAA Championships with his 11th-place finish, and was named CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year as well as to the CoSIDA/ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District first team.

Stimson began his career at perennial national powerhouse Tennessee, where he helped Volunteer athletes finish in the nation's top-10 on seven occasions and collect 12 Southeastern Conference titles. His coaching career started at Tennessee as a graduate assistant, helping the Vols win the 1972 NCAA cross country championship. From Knoxville, he moved to J.E.B. Stuart High School in Falls Church, Virginia for one year, then on to Miami University (Ohio) for nine years and back to Tennessee for four more years as the top assistant before coming to Williamsburg.

A native of Falconer, New York, Stimson graduated with honors from Ohio University in 1971 and holds a master's degree from Miami (Ohio). As an undergraduate, he was the All-Ohio and Central Collegiate shot put champion, as well as a two-time MAC shot put champion. He concluded his athletic career by competing in both the NCAA and AAU national championships in the shot put.

Dan and his wife Rosemary, also a Falconer native, have two children. Their son, Clare, is a local college student. Daughter Krista Crider graduated from W&M in 1996 with a B.S. in biology and earned her master's degree at the College in 1998. She earned a Ph.D. in the field of genetics and molecular biology at Emory University, and works for the Centers for Disease Control. Krista is a former W&M record holder in the hammer throw, and is the proud mother of two future Tribe record-holders in three-year-old Samuel Daniel Crider, and Kara Elizabeth Crider, born in the spring of 2009.

Emil Davis has spent the past nine seasons mentoring athletes at his alma mater, primarily responsible for the sprinters, jumpers, and multi-eventers for both the College's track teams.

Prior to joining W&M, Davis coached the Bruton High School (Williamsburg) girl's track and field team for 12 seasons. In his time with Bruton, where he continues to teach biology, his teams accumulated an impressive 82 victories, including two state championships (1996 and 1997), state runner-up (1998), and numerous invitational victories.

Davis graduated in 1985 with a degree in biology, after earning All-East honors his senior year at W&M by placing second in the pentathlon at the indoor IC4A Championships. He still holds the Tribe record in that event (3,840). He is number two on the all-time lists in both the 200m (21.17) and the decathlon (6,819) and was a member of three record-setting relay teams. Davis holds the U.S. Masters age-group record for 40-44 year-old competitors in the double-decathlon (11,178 points).

Davis and his wife, Lynda, currently reside in Toano, Virginia and are the proud parents of three daughters: Elizabeth, a 2008 graduate of Virginia; Samantha, a 2009 graduate of James Madison; and Hannah, a third-year swimmer at Virginia.

Dave Fritz begins his third season coaching the pole vaulters at William and Mary this fall, and has helped develop the College's program into one of the best on the East Coast in that short amount of time.

Over the past two years, Fritz has coached Nicole Kazuba into two consecutive appearances at the NCAA Outdoor Championships, and to 20 of the top 30 vaults all-time at W&M. In the same amount of time, Emily Jeremiah has added nearly a full meter to her personal best, and is a two-time All-East performer after entering school with only one year of vaulting experience.

From 2002-07, Fritz worked as the assistant jumps coach at Suhr Sports in New York, helping both professional and amateur pole vaulters to unprecedented heights. Most notably, he helped to develop Jennifer Stuczynski from an absolute novice to become the reigning U.S. record holder in the women's pole vault (16-0) and the second-best vaulter in the world. Along the way, Stuczynski also captured four national titles, indoors in 2005 and 2007, and outdoors in 2006 and 2007.

Among amateur athletes, his success has been equally compelling, helping to produce the top-two high school girl's pole vaulters. Mary Saxer was the first high school girl to clear 14 feet, and set the national high school girl's record indoors of 14-3.25. Tiffany Maskulinski also cleared 14-0 under Fritz' tutelage, only the second girl to do so. At the collegiate level, he coached at the Rochester Institute of Technology during the 2006-07 year, producing a pair of school records and the school's first NCAA qualifier in the pole vault.

A three-time All-Big East vaulter at Virginia Tech, Fritz graduated in 2004 with a bachelor's degree in computer science. In the summer of 2006, he was the head clinician for pole vault at the Region II Junior Olympics and this season added a Level II certification in the sprints, hurdles, and relays. He is also nationally certified by the Pole Vault Safety Board.

Ryan Murphy begins his first season with William and Mary this fall as the program's full-time assistant for middle-distance and distance events after an All-East career at George Mason.

Murphy, the brother of current Tribe senior Keely Murphy, began his collegiate career at the University of Virginia, where he ran both cross country and track for the Cavaliers. Graduating after just three years with a degree in English, he ranked among the top 15% of all third- and fourth-year students in 2007.

Murphy transferred to George Mason to complete his eligibility, ranking in the top-five cross country runners on the team in both 2007 and 2008. He earned All-East accolades in 2008 on the Patriots' outdoor 4x800m relay team, helping produce the nation's 13th-fastest performance in 7:28.30. Twice scoring at the CAA Championships in the 1,500m run, Murphy qualified to the IC4A Championships both indoors and outdoors both of his years in Fairfax, and was a CAA Commissioner's Award recipient.

In addition to his 2007 undergraduate degree from Virginia, Murphy graduated from George Mason in 2009 with a Master of Arts degree in Literature.

Ed Moran is in his fifth season on the William and Mary staff, moving into the volunteer ranks after four years as a full-time assistant. A four-time All-American for the College, Moran has continued his career as a professional runner with five appearances on the U.S. National Team, achieving the Olympic "A" qualifying standard at 5,000m and 10,000m in 2007 and winning the 5,000m gold medal at the 2007 Pan-American Games. This summer, he was one of 16 W&M alumni named to the CAA Silver Anniversary Cross Country team.

A professionally-sponsored runner with Nike, Moran raced unsponsored at the 2005 USAT&F Track and Field Championships shortly after earning his fourth All-America nod. He boasted an impressive debut, running well below his previous personal record in the 5,000m (13:39.70, second-best in school history, set a scant month-and-a-half earlier) to finish in 13:25.87. This time placed him only 49 hundredths of a second shy of the school record, running as the fastest amateur in the field of 24 runners. In 2007, he won the gold medal at the Pan-American Games with a meet-record time of 13:25.60, and in 2008, finished fourth at the U.S. Olympic Trials in the 10,000m run.

In his six-year collegiate career, Moran racked up three all-conference and All-Southeast honors (never finishing worse than third), and was twice conference champion and Athlete of the Year in cross country. On the track, he earned multiple all-conference nods, was named the 2003 CAA Male Athlete of the Year and was the 2005 IC4A and CAA champion in the 5,000m. He earned dual degrees in government and finance in 2003 and a Masters in Public Policy from the College in 2005, and is currently enrolled in the MBA program at the Mason School of Business.

Todd Doughty begins his second stint on the Tribe coaching staff this fall after serving as an assistant during the 1999-00 school year. His responsibilities will be assisting with all athletes of the program outside of the distance and middle-distance athletes.

An account manager at Apex Technologies in Chesapeake, Doughty graduated from W&M in 1997 as the school record-holder in the decathlon with 7,240 points, and was a four-time All-East performer in the multi-events. After graduation he continued competition, setting personal bests of 7,592 in the decathlon in 2000 and 5,425 in the heptathlon that same year. During the run-up to the 2000 Olympic Trials, he set the Zable Stadium record of 7,300 points in the decathlon.

After graduating with a degree in biology, Doughty spent two years as an assistant at Duke University, tutoring multi-eventers to the first, fourth, and fifth all-time decathlon performances and to the 1999 ECAC indoor heptathlon title.

All-Time Roster

This is the Tribe's first attempt at compiling an all-time roster for men's cross country and track and field. Athletes listed here competed either before 1930, or since 1967. Efforts to fill in the intervening years continue, and your help would be greatly appreciated. If you or someone you know competed for the Tribe but are not listed, please send an email to jcskip@wm.edu.

The College of William and Mary is a public university located in Williamsburg, Va. Founded in 1693 by Royal Charter issued by King William III and Queen Mary II of England, William and Mary is the second oldest college in the country after Harvard. William and Mary has a long history of liberal arts education and a growing research and science curriculum that demonstrates a strong commitment to undergraduate research. The College, which became a state university in 1906, has been designated a “Public Ivy,” and for nine straight years has been ranked by U.S. News & World Report as the sixth-best public university in the country – and the nation’s top small public university.

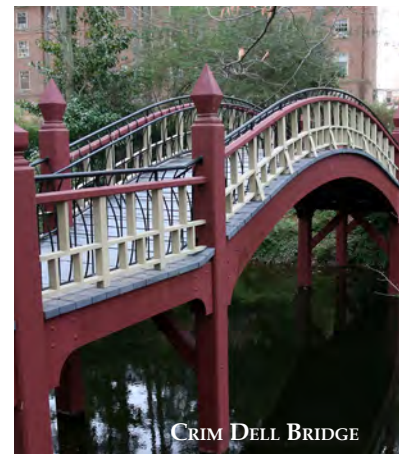

Also referred to as “the alma mater of a nation,” the College has educated four U.S. Presidents – George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe and John Tyler, which is the third most of any college in the country. William and Mary also claims several firsts, including the 1776 creation of Phi Beta Kappa – the country’s first academic honor society – the first honor code of conduct for college students, and the first collegiate law school, established in 1779. William and Mary is also home to the Sir Christopher Wren Building – the country’s oldest academic building still in use – and the President’s House, the oldest home of a university president still in use.

WILLIAM & MARY FACTS

-  Second oldest educational institution in the U.S.
-  In addition to four U.S. Presidents, W&M has educated a number of this country's key historical figures, including U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice John Marshall and 16 signers of the Declaration of Independence.
-  W&M is one of only eight U.S. institutions of higher education designated a "Public Ivy." A Public Ivy is a state-assisted institution that offers a superior education at a cost far below that of Ivy League schools.
-  U.S. News ranked W&M sixth among all public colleges and universities and 32nd among both public and private institutions in 2009.
-  Newsweek named W&M "hottest small state university" in 2006.
-  U.S. News and World Report rated the School of Education 48th in the country in 2010.
-  W&M ranked 18th in graduation rates for national universities in 2009.
-  The Princeton Review named W&M a the 'Best of the Southeast' school in 2009.
-  The W&M Law School ranked 30th in the nation in 2008.
-  The History Department's doctoral program ranked fourth in the nation for U.S. Colonial History in 2010.
-  W&M ranked as the sixth-best public university in the country in the inaugural guide, "America's Best Colleges 2008" by Forbes Magazine.
-  The Princeton Review rated W&M the third among the top 50 best value public colleges nationally in 2009.
-  Phi Beta Kappa, the premier academic honor society in America, was founded by W&M students in 1776.
-  W&M's 11-to-1 student-faculty ratio is the lowest among the top public universities. Nearly 50 percent of William and Mary's classes have fewer than 20 students.
-  W&M libraries, including the main Earl Swem Library, were rated the eighth best College Library in the Country by the Princeton Review in 2008.
-  Business Week rated the W&M Undergraduate Business Program in the top 10 among Public Institutions in the country.
-  Forbes Magazine ranked W&M's MBA program in the top 50.

The College of William and Mary sponsors 23 varsity sports and provides students with a unique and successful balance of athletics and academics. The Tribe Athletics Department finished 117th nationally in the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup Standings for 2008-09, a number that ranked second among Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) programs and fourth in the state of Virginia. The Directors' Cup, which was created by the NACDA and USA Today in 1993-94, is a program that honors institutions maintaining a broad-based program, achieving success in many sports, both men's and women's. W&M has placed among the top 100 nationally in 12 of the program's 16 years, while leading the CAA on seven occasions.

W&M has produced more CAA Championships than any program in the league's history. The College owns 95 league crowns, nearly 40 more than its closest competitor. The Tribe raked in the awards in 2008-09 as well, tallying a combined 197 all-conference honors, 34 All-America honors and six league players of the year. During the 2008-09 season, the Green and Gold produced an overall athletics winning percentage of 68.2, while racking up a combined 888 wins.

Along with its accomplishments on the field of play, the Tribe is just as successful in the classroom, epitomizing the term student-athlete. In the NCAA's inaugural Academic Progress Report in 2005, W&M ranked fourth among Division I teams, which was the highest of any athletic scholarship-granting school and of any public school. Since the inception of the CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year, W&M has produced 28 honorees, more than any school in the conference.

BUSCH TENNIS COURTS

William and Mary is committed to building and maintaining outstanding facilities for all 23 of its varsity athletic teams. The College has demonstrated this commitment by investing approximately $16 million toward the construction and upgrade of its athletics facilities during just the last six years. Among W&M's recent projects were extensive improvements to Zable Stadium and the surrounding area over the past four years, including a brand-new all-weather track, permanent lights, video scoreboard, and moving the track team lockers into the stadium.

In the spring of 2007, the College constructed and dedicated the Stimson Throwing Events Area, a $100,000 project that gave the Tribe a national-class facility for the shot put, discus, hammer, and javelin events. The facility includes three shot put circles, a full-length javelin runway, and an Olympic throwing cage for the discus and hammer, all located a short walk away from Zable Stadium.

In 2005, Kaplan Arena received an upgrade with the installation of 6,900-square foot permanent wood floor along with rubberized sports flooring on the open end of the arena to accommodate track and field and other multi-purpose activities. A year earlier, the home of Tribe soccer and lacrosse, Albert-Daly Field was dedicated, providing the programs with a $1 million all-natural grass facility.
