AND COUNTING ...

With his 101-yard performance vs. WMU, All-American WR Rich Musinski needs just seven 100-yard receiving days over the final 10 regular season games to break Jerry Rice's Division I-AA all-time career record of 23. Musinski managed to carve out the yardage, despite double and triple coverage from the Bronco secondary. The game marked the fourth time Musinski has lined up against I-A talent and his eight catches vs. the Broncos were the most he's recorded in those contests. It was his second 100-yard day vs. I-As (other coming on a 5-reception, 121-yard effort at East Carolina in 2001). He ends his career vs. I-As with 22 receptions for 319 yards (14.5 yd/catch). For more on Musinski, see his Payton Award candidate bio.

CAREER BUILDING

After spending the previous two seasons as the backup to graduated QB Dave Corley, junior signal caller Lang Campbell made the most of his first collegiate start vs. WMU. Campbell displayed all of the characteristics that a staff looks for in a QB against the Broncos, as he remained cool and confident in the pocket and ran the intricate Tribe offense with the poise of a veteran.

Battle to Watch: VMI cornerback Musa Sarki was a second-team All-Southern Conference pick last year in the Keydets' final season in the league. Sarki led the league with 18 passes defended and intercepted six balls, so it should prove to be a good battle when he faces off with W&M's Rich Musinski, a returning All-American at wide receiver.

- Rated the top receiver in I-AA by The Sports Network

Musinski Versus the Keydets

William and Mary has won each of the three meetings against VMI that Rich Musinski has played in. In those games, Musinski has made an impact as a rusher, a receiver and a punt returner, including two plays that went for 80 or more yards. He has averaged 100 yards per game receiving, including a sparkling 25 yards per catch, against the Keydets.

2000 - vs. VMI (W, 55-15)

1 rush - 22 yards, 4 receptions - 111 yards

2001 - at VMI (W, 34-0)

3 receptions - 64 yards, 83-yard punt return for a TD

2002 - vs. VMI (W, 62-31)

5 receptions - 125 yards, 80-yard TD catch

Totals against VMI (3 games)

12 receptions - 300 yards, 2 TDs

Each week during the season, W&M coach Jimmye Laycock participates in the Atlantic 10 teleconference and gives his thoughts on the Tribe's most recent performance, plus a look ahead at the squad's next game. Here's an excerpt of Laycock's comments from this week's teleconference:

1. What was your take on the team's play against Western Michigan?

A: There were some very good things that came out of that ballgame, but obviously we gave up a lot of yardage, points and big plays. Most of it came on big plays. They're a very good team. They executed very well. They came out throwing the football. They came out with all of their wide receivers and really came after us. I thought we did a nice job in the running game and offensively, in maintaining some really nice drives and moving the ball.

2. Was the speed of Western Michigan a big factor in its success in the passing game?

A: It was really difficult to simulate that speed in practice. We didn't get a great pass rush and we allowed the quarterback time to throw. That let the receivers run good, deep routes and allowed them to get downfield, stretch it out and we just had a hard time covering them. Speed was a big factor there.

3. What do you expect to improve on when you play VMI?

A: Coming out a game against an I-A team, we look to identify areas of improvement. Some of our problems were exposed, because our mistakes were magnified in that environment. Now we've gone through the preseason, we've played one game against a very good team and now we have to come back and re-evaluate everything. Its not like we're going to change a lot, but we're going to look to shore up some weaknesses. We have to improve. We have to get better.

4. What did you think of Rich Musinski's performance against Western Michigan?

A: We came in with the idea of moving Rich around and getting the ball to him. He made some nice plays. We did a good job of that. They were very much aware of him, but he made some good catches to keep drives going. Rich comes to play, there's no doubt about that. He plays with a lot of intensity and he did that last Saturday night.

5. What was your assessment of Lang Campbell's performance?

A: I thought Lang did very well. He moved the ball around well. He had good presence. He saw things and improvised a little bit, which was good. I thought Lang had a very good ballgame.

6. What are your primary areas of concern?

A: There are a lot of them. We had a breakdown on our punt protection once, but otherwise I thought our special teams were okay. On the offensive line, we have to realize that we may have some limitations there and we have to keep working to get better, and I thought we did. But, there are a lot of things that we need to get better at.

7. Did you play any true freshmen, and if so, how did they play?

A: We played two of them. We didn't start either of them. Brian Williamson played a little bit on the defensive line. And on the offensive line, Cody Morris played about 15 or 20 plays and did very well. That was an area that we were pleased with, because anything can happen when you play a freshman on the offensive line, especially against that group from Western Michigan. But I thought he handled himself pretty well.

8. Can you talk about the rivalry between William and Mary and VMI?

A; I think its great to have a traditional rival like that. I think its good to continue playing it. It affects a lot more people than just players on the field, because the alumni and fans can really get into it. They can reflect on some of the other games and players from the past. There's a lot of tradition involved in it. Tradition's a big part of college football, and anytime you can continue that or enhance that, it's a good thing.

9. What can we expect from William and Mary on Saturday?

A: I hope we improve. I hope we can tackle a little better. I hope we continue to make strides offensively. I hope we break on the ball a little better. Overall, we need to improve. We saw signs Saturday of being able to play well on both sides of the ball. But again, we need to be consistent, and that's the challenge.

10. What do you see from VMI?

A: They have most of their people back offensively. They certainly had a fine year last year at 6-6. From what I've heard, they've improved from that. They're solid in what they do, scheme-wise, both offensively and defensively. And with this being their home opener, I can imagine that it's going to be pretty wild. They play extremely hard down in Lexington and we're going to be in for a heck of a game.

Senior wideout Rich Musinski (6-foot-1, 195 pounds) wears a size 14 shoe and size XXL gloves.

Tribe TIDBITS

Lang Leading the Way: In his first career start, junior QB Lang Campbell (Winchester, VA) had a very successful outing versus Western Michigan, completing 18 of 31 passes, including three touchdowns.

Seeing the whole field, Campbell spread the ball to seven different receivers, taking what the hard-charging WMU defense would give him. In the first quarter, he gave a glimpse of what the future could hold for the youthful Tribe attack as he pieced together two impressive scoring drives, on consecutive possessions, and gave the team a 14-7 lead after the first stanza. On those two drives, Campbell sliced through the WMU defense with an array of short and medium range strikes, completing a combined seven passes in eight attempts for 104 yards and two scores. A defining moment came on his first scoring strike of the evening, as he stood tall under pressure in the pocket and waited for tailback Steven Hargrove (Alexandria, VA) to clear the linebacker down the right sideline and feathered a perfect spiral, in-stride, for a 26-yard TD connection.

Campbell also proved to be a boon to the ground game as well, as he ran the Tribe's version of the option attack effectively. He consistently helped the Tribe backs to the edge of the Western Michigan defense with solid decisions and precise pitches.

For his efforts, Campbell earned the team's Offensive Player of the Week honors from the coaching staff.

Streaks: W&M has won 17 straight games over VMI, tied for the seventh-longest win streak over an opponent in an uninterrupted series in I-AA. It's also the third-longest such streak that is currently active in I-AA. The series between W&M and VMI will be played for the 60th consecutive season, tying it for the ninth-longest uninterrupted series currently being played among all I-AA rivalries. The last time W&M lost to the Keydets was a 39-38 defeat in Lexington in 1985. Since 1993, the Tribe has defeated the Keydets by an average margin of 32 points. Last season, W&M recorded a 62-31 win. The 31 points that VMI scored last year was the seventh-most that the Keydets have ever put up against the Tribe, while W&M's 62 were an all-time high in the series.

Net Gains: Perhaps the Tribe's largest question mark coming into the season was the team's youth and inexperience along the offensive front. But, judging by its first test against Division I-A Western Michigan, the unit showed promise for the coming season. With just one senior listed on the two-deep (starting right guard Steve Stocki), the squad started three sophomores (Matt Morgan - RT, Ryan Lumm - LG and Michael Grenz - C) and a junior (Matt Witham - LT) on Saturday evening. The five took the majority of the team's 74 total offensive snaps against the Broncos and powered an attack that produced 349 total yards and averaged a healthy 4.7 yards a play. The five led a ground game that gained a total of 188 yards on 39 attempts (4.8 yards per attempt) and provided time for the Tribe quarterbacks to complete 19 of 32 passes for 191 yards. Despite the presence of returning All-American defensive end Jason Babin, the Broncos defense was not able to register a sack until the fourth quarter (first coming with 10:40 remaining - WMU ended with three overall for -21 yards, with the last two coming on W&M's second-to-last possession).

Fresh Faces: While the Tribe's starting front five took the lion's share of the team's offensive snaps, true freshman Cody Morris also saw significant snaps at left guard (24 plays). His playing marked the first time since the 1982 season that a true freshman lineman has seen game action for the College. Curiously enough, the last player to step into the offensive trenches for the Tribe in his first season on campus is Morris' position coach, Bob Solderitch. Solderitch saw action in his first game, against Miami (OH) in 1982 and went onto become one of the best linemen in the program's history.

The only other true freshman to see playing time was defensive tackle Brian Williamson. Williamson is the third true freshman to see playing time on the D-line in the past two seasons, as fellow linemates Larry Pendleton and Jonas Watson made it onto the field in 2002.

Sophomore Standouts: A pair of sophomore defenders had solid outings in the game against Western Michigan. Sophomore linebacker Travis McLaurin (Wilmington, DE) led the squad with 14 tackles, including a TFL. Another sophomore linebacker, Chris Outlaw (Wrightsville, GA) snagged his first career interception and set the Tribe up on the WMU eight-yard line with a 68-yard return. McLaurin was named Defensive Player of the Week by the coaching staff for his efforts.

Laycock and McCombs: Tribe head coach Jimmye Laycock and VMI's Cal McCombs will be leading their teams into battle on Saturday, but in 1973-74, they were on the same sideline as coaches at The Citadel. McCombs was the team's wide receivers coach, while Laycock coached the offensive backfield at the time. The 1973 team finished 3-8 under future NFL coach Bobby Ross, while the 1974 squad went 4-7. Coincidentally, both seasons featured a loss to William and Mary and a loss to VMI.

Big Day: W&M's athletic 6-foot-1, 250-pound tailback Steven Hargrove turned in one of the best performances of his young career against Western Michigan, by powering to 206 all-purpose yards and a pair of touchdowns on the evening. Hargrove, who was hampered by various injuries all through the 2002 season, displayed incredible versatility, running for a team-high 58 yards on just 10 attempts, catching three passes for 41 yards (and two scores) and returning six kickoffs for 107 yards. His 206.0 all-purpose yards per game currently leads the Atlantic 10.

With his unique blend of sure hands, speed and agility, the sophomore from Alexandria, VA has all the tools to be an impact player in the Atlantic 10 for years to come. The coaching staff recognized his efforts against WMU by naming him as the team's Special Teams Player of the Week.

Hargrove has a good history with the College's next opponent, VMI, as he turned in his first career 100-yard rushing afternoon vs. the Keydets last season, running for 110 yards and a score on 11 carries.

Mr. Smith Goes to Kalamazoo: Junior tailback Jon Smith also turned in a very productive afternoon for the College, as he pounded out 51 yards on 11 carries. Also included in his evening was two catches for 15 yards.

With the host of talent at the tailback position, look for the solid 6-1, 210-pound Cincinnati, OH native to be especially punishing to defenses in the fourth quarters this season.

Just For Kicks: Sophomore placekicker Greg Kuehn began the 2003 season by picking up right where he left off at the end of last year. A third-team all-conference pick in his redshirt freshman year, Kuehn connected on a field goal of 33 yards, as well as all three of his PAT attempts, in the season-opener at Western Michigan. Kuehn finished last season as the top scoring placekicker in the Atlantic 10.

Field's Like the First Time: How young is W&M Head Coach Jimmye Laycock's team this season? Well, an eye-catching 12 players made their first career starts last Saturday. Beyond that, 15 players stepped onto the field for the first time in their collegiate careers. Of the 12 who made their first start, only sophomore offensive tackle Matt Morgan and redshirt freshman cornerback Richard Riley were included in both groups, as each started and played for the first time.

Injury Report: The Tribe came out of the Western Michigan game with no major injuries.

Sophomore center Patrick Mulloy (ankle) did not travel and is listed as questionable for VMI. Another potential starter, junior defensive end, Jerome Griffin, also didn't travel due to injury and will not play this weekend will miss the entire season due to neck injuries sustained in an automobile accident during the summer.

Preseason honors candidate Stephen Cason,

Big South Battles: VMI is in its first year in the Big South Conference after leaving the Southern Conference. The Big South is in its second year of football, with five schools currently in the league playing on the gridiron. The Tribe has not played any of the schools other than VMI.

Hitting the Road: W&M opens the season with three consecutive road games, starting with last week's game at Western Michigan, then this week's contest at VMI and finishing up with a game at Northeastern on Sept. 20. On years it which it starts with at least two straight road games under head coach Jimmye Laycock, W&M's record is 3-2 in the second game.

2002 - L, 27-14, at Maine

2001 - W, 34-0, at VMI

1999 - L, 38-9, at N.C. State

1996 - W, 23-16, at Rhode Island

1987 - W, 27-17, at Navy

Southern Comfort: An opponent from the Southern Conference had become commonplace on the W&M football schedule. But with VMI's move to the Big South Conference this year, it marks the first year since 1928 that the Tribe has not scheduled at least one school from the Southern Conference.

Success Against the Keydets: Several Tribe players have played well in the past against VMI. Senior wideout Rich Musinski is averaging 25 yards per catch and 100 yards per game in three contests against the Keydets. Quarterback Lang Campbell entered the 2003 season with four touchdowns in his career (two rushing, two passing) and half of them came against VMI, as Campbell completed 2 of 3 passes for 49 yards and ran for a score in last year's Tribe win, and went 5 of 7 for 86 yards and his first career TD pass in the 2001 victory. Last year's game saw tailback Steven Hargrove rush for 110 yards on just 11 carries, including a 50-yard TD scamper. Running back Jon Smith ran for three scores against the Keydets last season. In the 2001 Tribe win, wideout Josh Lustig caught five passes for 87 yards, including two scores. Defensively, junior safety Craig Patterson had seven tackles and his first career interception in last year's win, while senior co-captain Marques Bobo stood out in the 2001 game with seven tackles, a fumble recovery and an interception.

High School Connections: There are several instances of former high school teammates lining up on opposite sides of the field for this Saturday's clash between W&M and VMI.

- VMI slotback Eric Baptiste and W&M defensive back Leonard Muldrow were teammates at Ocean Lakes High School in Virginia Beach, VA.

- VMI's Justin Chetney, Maury Pauling and Musa Sarki, along with W&M defensive lineman Jason Bowles, all went to Phoebus High School in Hampton.

- Myers Park High School in Charlotte, NC is the alma mater of VMI's Alex Correll and W&M's Andy Lovorn.

- W&M linebacker Charlie Clarke and VMI's Colby Hollingsworth are natives of the Dallas, TX area and both attended Highland Park High School.

- Tribe lineman Brian Neely and VMI tight end Donnie Johnston both attended Lee-Davis High School in Mechanicsville, VA.

- Keydets defensive end Charlie Liesfield and Tribe wideout Nathan Holston are both graduates of Monacan High School in Richmond.

- Bethel High School in Hampton, VA is the alma mater of W&M defensive end Jonas Watson and VMI quarterback Josh Lyles.

- Roanoke's Cave Spring High School produced VMI linebacker Brad Miller and W&M wide receiver Daniel Payne.

- Tribe freshman running back Tony Viola and Keydets junior wide receiver John Puvogel each attended Stonewall Jackson High School in Manassas, VA.

- A pair of true freshmen, VMI's Cliff Schademan and W&M's Brad Stewart, teamed up at Pittsburgh's Bethel Park High School.

- VMI senior slotback R.C. Simmons was a high school teammate of W&M quarterback Lang Campbell and linebacker Paul Carpenter at Winchester's Handley High School.

- W&M's Stephen Cason and VMI's Andrew Walton and Tommy Walton all attended James River High School in Richmond.

A-10 Accolades: William and Mary was well-represented on the Atlantic 10's preseason all-conference squads, led by the senior trio of wideout Rich Musinski and defensive backs Marques Bobo and Billy Parker. The three players all earned first-team citations, and were among five W&M players selected.

Joining those three on the all-conference squad were second team picks Jon Smith at tailback and Paul Carpenter at linebacker.

In addition to the individual selections, the league also announced its preseason standings picks, and W&M was picked seventh in the 11-team league. The Tribe can take solace in the fact that since the Atlantic 10 adopted a one-division format in 1999, a team predicted seventh or lower has claimed at least a share of the league title in each of the past four years. Last year, Northeastern won the league after being tabbed as the 10th best team in the league in the preseason.

Good Company: Tribe head coach Jimmie Laycock, who has completed 23 years as the W&M leader, ranks third among all current Division I-A and Division I-AA head coaches in terms of most years at their current school. The two coaches ahead of him are Penn State's Joe Paterno (37 years) and Florida State's Bobby Bowden (26 years).

Rich's Rewards: Senior wideout Rich Musinski has earned a number of citations this spring, including preseason All-America honors from The Sports Network, Don Hansen's Football Gazette and I-AA.org. Also, Musinski was named as one of the 16 players to watch for the Walter Payton Award, which goes to the top player in Division I-AA football. In addition, he was a first-team all-conference selection at wide receiver.

Musinski is the Tribe's all-time leader in receiving yards (3,381). He now needs 22 catches to break Dave Conklin's school record for receptions. Coming into his final fall with the Tribe, Musinski has several conference and national marks within reach. Musinski is seventh in NCAA I-AA history with an average of 96.6 receiving yards per game in his career. In 35 career games, Musinski has reached the 100-yard receiving mark 17 times, just seven shy of Jerry Rice's I-AA record of 24 100-yard games. With 563 receiving yards this season, Musinski will become the Atlantic 10's all-time leader in receiving yards.

Musinski's selection to the Payton Watch List marks the second-consecutive year that a Tribe player has been on the list, as graduated quarterback Dave Corley, Jr. made the list last season.

WMU 56, W&M 24

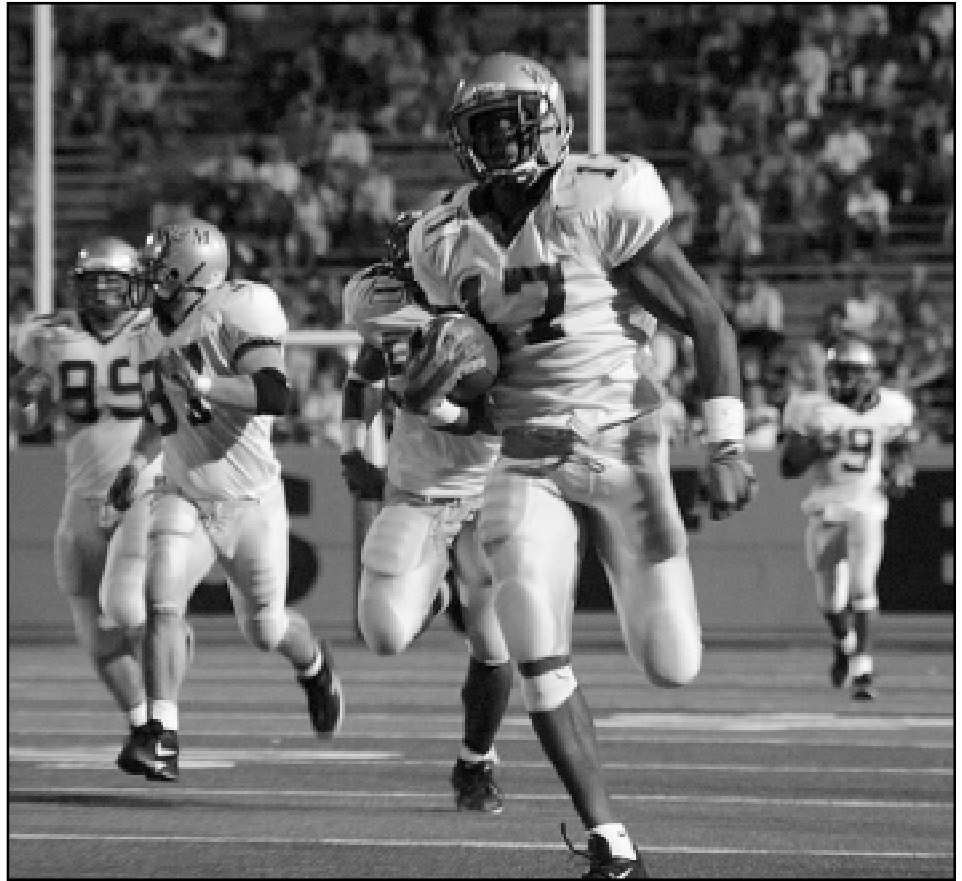

KALAMAZOO, MI (9/6/03) -- Chad Munson threw for 450 yards and six touchdowns as the Broncos spoiled Lang Campbell's debut as W&M's starting quarterback in a 56-24 win.

Campbell played well for W&M, completing 18 of 31 passes for 181 yards and three scores, including two to Steven Hargrove. Rich Musinski had eight catches for 101 yards, leaving him six short of tying Jerry Rice's I-AA record for 100-yard games in a career.
