FIRST AND 10

William and Mary continues Atlantic 10 play this weekend, traveling to Northeastern on Saturday for a 2 p.m. kickoff at Parsons Field. W&M leads the all-time series with the Huskies, 9-2, including last season's thrilling, 38-35, overtime victory in Williamsburg. Last week, the College earned its first victory over a No. 1-ranked team, downing New Hampshire, 42-10, at Zable Stadium. Junior RB Elijah Brooks rushed for 135 yards, his fourth 100-yard game of the season, and four touchdowns to earn Atlantic 10 Offensive Player of the Week honors. Brooks leads the Atlantic 10 in rushing (118.0 yds/g) and is tied for first in the nation in scoring (13.2 pts/g). Entering Saturday's game, W&M ranks second in the A10 in scoring offense (38.4), third in rushing offense (211.2) and fourth in total offense (436.8). The Huskies dropped to 1-4 overall, 1-2 in the A10, with a 27-0 loss to 13th-ranked Massachusetts last week. It was the first time NU has been shutout since a 42-0 loss at Delaware on Sept. 30, 2000. NU senior WR Corey Parks ranks fifth in the A10 in receiving yards per game (94.0), while sophomore RB Maurice Murray has six rushing TDs on the year.

TRIBE HEAD COACH

JIMMYE LAYCOCK

Comments from Monday's Atlantic 10 football coaches conference call.

Comments on W&M's 42-10 victory over No. 1-ranked New Hampshire on Saturday?

I think our coaches did a great job in the week leading up to the game preparing our players and putting them in the right places. The players came through with a great effort on Saturday. I thought we played well in all phases of the game, offensively, defensively and the success of the kicking game was vital for us in that type of game. The open week really gave us a chance to get better and I think it showed on Saturday.

Comments on the performance of junior RB Elijah Brooks (32 carries, 135 yards, 4 TD).

Well, [Elijah] has been impressive all season. He's been a steady back for us from day one. He adjusted to the conditions on Saturday and did a great job of keeping his balance, breaking tackles and staying on his feet. He had a lot of yardage after initial hits. It was a consistent effort, and he would be the first to recognize the outstanding play of our offensive line.

Comments on slowing down the UNH offense, which was ranked first in the nation entering Saturday.

I think the weather and rain affected them some, but we didn't give up big plays. We stayed in coverage and didn't miss assignments. They completed a high number of passes, but we didn't miss tackles and made a lot of plays. Our front four got a lot of pressure, so we didn't blitz much. We played patient, solid defense and tackled better. We made them work for what they got, and we also caused four turnovers (2 fumbles, 2 INTs). That was big in that kind of game.

On the significance of beating a No. 1 team.

We're happy after any win. The players were obviously pretty excited over beating a No. 1 team, but I think they were more excited about the way they played. I think they were really happy with how they played that type of game, and how well we played in each area of the game.

Comments on the performance of sophomore quarterback Mike Potts [11-for-19, 127 yards, TD].

He had to adjust to the wet ball and the poor field conditions. In those situations, the ball is going to slip out, your throws are not going to be as sharp, but you can't get discouraged about that. I thought Mike did a nice job on Saturday. We may not have been able to throw it around like we usually do on offense, but he was patient and did a good job. He did a nice job improvising on the [9-yard touchdown pass] play to [senior WR] Josh Lustig, where Lustig broke off his route, and we converted for a touchdown. That's something we've been working on with Mike, to come out of things when plays don't unfold the way we expect them to. He has to be able to make broken plays.

With Saturday's game being the first conference game since the [49-28] loss at Rhode Island, do you feel like the team had something to prove against New Hampshire?

Not really, because we've put that game behind us. We knew we would have to play extremely well against New Hampshire, or we would be in a lot of trouble. We knew we would have to play well defensively, just to have a chance to compete against [UNH] because of their explosive offense. We concentrated on that during the week, and our coaches prepared them well.

Is it a similar situation preparing [for Northeastern] this week, where you put the UNH win behind you and move forward?

That is something that has been a trademark of our program over the years. We try not to get too high, or too low, no matter who we are playing. Our preparation is going to be the same as it was last week, and the week before that. We're going to look at plays we need to improve on and keep moving forward. We know how good Northeastern has been the last few times we've played, and we have to continue to work and get better.

How much did the forecast for last Saturday's weather affect your game plan and preparation?

Well, you can pre-plan a little bit, but you have to adjust to what the conditions allow during the game. Up until about the third quarter, the weather didn't really affect what we were doing offensively. Once it got really wet and muddy late in the game, we shut it down a bit and got a little more conservative.

Comments on the series with Northeastern.

We had a close one with them last year here at home [W&M won 38-35 on Greg Kuehn's 28-yard FG in overtime]. We went up there [in 2003] and they blew us out [48-12]. They always play us tough. They have great athletes and they play hard. Their stadium is a tough place to play as well. In this league, you better come ready to play every week, and this Saturday is not going to be any different.

David is a backup defensive back for us, who also gets time in our nickel package. He primarily plays on special teams, and he had a good game for us Saturday. He plays with a lot of enthusiasm. He's a high-energy kind of guy that goes 110% all the time, whether its at practice, in games, on defense or on special teams. His enthusiasm can sometimes rub off on other players, and he is the kind of guy you like to have out there.

WILLIAM AND MARY GAME NOTES

Game 6 - at Northeastern - Oct. 15, 2005

TEAM NOTES

For Starters: The College's first win over a No. 1 ranked team came with an exclamation point in its 42-10 win over New Hampshire on Saturday. Not only was the victory a landmark in its coming against a national No.1, but the 32-point margin of victory was the College's second largest over a ranked conference opponent in the team's 13-year association with the A10. The largest margin of victory came in a 45-6 win over a then-19th-ranked Villanova squad in 1999.

Milestone: The game with New Hampshire was W&M head coach Jimmye Laycock's 100th Atlantic 10 Conference game. He marked the occasion with a great win over a quality team and pushed his career conference mark to an impressive 66-34 (.660 winning percentage).

His 66 wins is the second most amongst active conference coaches (trailing only Andy Talley's 21-year total of 82).

Poll Watching: With its 42-10 win over No. 1 New Hampshire, the Tribe is now 7-2 in its last nine games vs. ranked opponents. On the strength of the victory, W&M climbed six spots to No. 11 in this week's Sports Network Top 25. Including the final poll of 2004 and the 2005 preseason list, the Tribe has now been ranked in 16 consecutive polls. The streak began on Oct. 4 of last season, as W&M earned its first ranking, a No. 18 billing, after knocking off then 16th-ranked Northeastern in overtime.

Pounding at Parsons: Coming off one of its most decisive victories in the last decade, it is ironic that the College will now be traveling to the site of one of its most thorough defeats, as the team goes north to take on Northeastern. The Tribe's last visit to the turf at Parson's Field was memorable only in negative ways for the College's program. The trip started in the aftermath of Hurricane Isabel, which left Williamsburg, not to mention the team's practice schedule, in shambles.

Things got no better once the Tribe took the field, as Northeastern laid a 48-14 loss on the Tribe, limiting the College to just 281 total yards and forcing five turnovers.

In fact, the 34-point margin of defeat is the largest in Laycock's 100 career league games.

Rare Gem: When Cason took the opening kickoff back for 92-yards and a score vs. UNH, he not only set the tone for what turned out to be a ground-breaking afternoon of football for the College, but also accomplished a feat that had never been done in Jimmye Laycock's 290 career games on the Tribe sideline. As far back as the Tribe Sports Information Staff could effectively research, no Tribe player has returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown since Laycock took the helm in 1980.

Cason's average of 29.6 yards/return is currently second in the conference and ninth nationally. The Tribe's single-season record for return average is 28.4, set by Dick Pawlewicz in 1974.

Just Because We Looked It Up: The College has returned a total of 1,094 kickoffs in Laycock's 26-year tenure as head coach. Of these, only five have been returned for touchdowns. No squad has ever had two returned in one year.

Margin for Victory: One of the many contributing factors to the College's success vs. New Hampshire can be found in the fact that the defense forced four turnovers, while the offense yielded just a single giveaway. The Tribe converted the first two UNH miscues into short touchdown drives, which accounted for half of the team's 28 first quarter points.

On the season, the Tribe is currently at +5 in the turnover margin, having gained 13, while giving away just eight. This mark ties W&M with James Madison for the league lead and is 15th nationally.

Did You Know?: W&M's 13 caused turnovers (eight interceptions) is the second highest mark in the league, trailing only the 14 New Hampshire's defensive charges have forced.

In the Red: Another key to the Tribe's success over UNH can be found in the two team's comparative success in the red zone. The Wildcats came into the game featuring the league's stingiest red zone defense, while the College's offense was one of the most successful at converting opportunities into points. At the end of the day, it was W&M's offensive ability to finish drives (five of its six ventures inside the UNH 20 yard line yielded touchdowns) and its defense's success in keeping New Hampshire out of the end zone (UNH converted just two of its five chances in the red zone) that helped pave the way for the upset.

The Tribe has now converted a league high .885 (23 of 26) of its red zone opportunities (20 TDs/3 FGs).

Bye Week: William and Mary Head Coach Jimmye Laycock has been a particularly difficult draw for opponents when his teams have had an extra week of preparation. With Saturday's win over UNH, Laycock's teams are now a sparkling 14-3 coming off a bye-week in the last 17 years. The number improves even a little more when those games are played in Zable Stadium, where his record is now 9-2 after the extra-week of practice.

In Case You're Counting: The Tribe has now won nine-straight regular season home games dating back to the 2003 season. The last team to defeat the College on its home turf during the regular season was James Madison in 2003 (24-17). The Dukes are also the last team to defeat W&M at home, including the play-offs, after last season's 48-34, NCAA semifinal victory on Dec. 10.

History Lesson: William and Mary's last loss at Rhode Island, a 34-31 setback in 2001, spurred a five-game conference-winning streak that culminated with a thrilling 47-44 win against Villanova. The streak powered the College to a share of the conference crown and a place in the NCAA Playoffs.

TEAM OFFENSIVE NOTES

In A Rush: William and Mary's ground attack continued to run on all cylinders against UNH, as the Tribe more than doubled the Wildcats' rushing output (190 yards to just 85). The effort stood as the fourth time in five games that the College has out-rushed an opponent.

Overall, the Tribe has out rushed its opposition 1,056 yards to 653 (an average of 211.2 to 130.6) on the season. Continuing along the same vein, the Green and Gold has run for 14 scores, compared to just seven for its opponents.

The Tribe's rushing average of 211.2 yards a contest is more than 50 yards better than last season's 14-game average of 140.9, while its opponent's are averaging over 30 rushing yards less per game.

It's Only a Matter of Time: The team's improvement in rushing offense and defense is also reflected in the squad's time of possession. The College did an excellent job of limiting the explosive Wildcats' attack and some of the credit for that can be seen in simply time of possession, as the Tribe held the ball for 31:27.

The contest was the fifth-straight game in which the Tribe held the ball for 30-plus minutes. On the season, William and Mary is currently second in the league in time of possession, with an average of 32:34 minutes a game.

Making Its Point: The Tribe offense is putting all this time of possession to good use, as it is currently averaging 38.4 points per contest. This figure is second in the conference and tied for fifth nationally.

In the team's three wins on the season, the College has outscored its opponents an amazing 139 to 17. To put this into some perspective, W&M senior cornerback Stephen Cason has nearly outscored the opposition himself in those three contests, as he has accounted for a pair of touchdowns (one interception return for a TD at VMI and a 92-yard kickoff vs. New Hampshire).

Did You Know?: Over the last 22 games (dating back to the last three games of the 2003 season), the Tribe has scored 35, or more, points 16 times. In this same span, the College's 9-7 win at New Hampshire in 2004 is the only game the team has failed to reach at least 23 points.

THE LAST MEETING

William and Mary 38, #16 Northeastern 35 (OT)

WILLIAMSBURG (10/2/04) - Powered by a career-best 378-yard passing performance by All-American candidate Lang Campbell, the College pulled off a thrilling 38-35 overtime victory over 16th-ranked Northeastern at Zable Stadium.

The decisive points came off the foot of all-conference kicker Greg Kuehn, who nailed a 28-yard FG in the first overtime period. He ended the afternoon converting three of his four FG opportunities.

After the Tribe scored on a 77-yard TD pass from Campbell to Dominique Thompson with 2:34 remaining in the fourth quarter, and also got the two-point conversion on a pass to redshirt freshman receiver Joe Nicholas, W&M had a 35-28 lead. But, NU quarterback Shawn Brady's third TD pass tied the game with 42 seconds remaining and forced OT.

W&M won the toss and elected to play defense first. On the Huskies' first snap, junior Adam O'Connor sacked Brady, and NU eventually missed a 53-yard FG attempt. On the Tribe's OT possession, Nicholas caught a key first-down pass from Campbell on third-and-long, and two plays later Kuehn drilled the game-winner.

Campbell ended the day 22 of 36 for 378 yards, including the score to Thompson. He also ran for a pair of TDs. The 378 passing yards ranks as the eighth-best single-game performance in W&M history, and it was his second game over 300 yards in four games this season.

Thompson led the Tribe with a career-high 157 yards on five grabs, while Nicholas hauled in a career-best 111 yards on six catches.

The Tribe's record over this span is 17-5.

For What Its Worth: The Tribe has scored points of some variety in 19 of the 20 total quarters on the season. The only frame William and Mary has not moved the scoreboard was the fourth quarter of season's first game vs. Marshall.

Out Front: The College has had leads of some variety in all five games this season, including leads of at least 14 points in the last four contests.

INDIVIDUAL OFFENSIVE NOTES

Ground Breaking: Tribe junior tailback has carried the load, literally, for the Tribe's rushing attack this season. This past Saturday versus New Hampshire, Brooks rumbled for 135 yards and four TDs on a career best 32 carries in helping lead the College to the upset win.

The following is a quick look at some of Brooks' accomplishments to this point in the season:

- His effort vs. New Hampshire earned him the league's Offensive Player of the Week honors for the first time in his career.
- With 135 yards vs. New Hampshire, he has now run for 100-plus yards in four of the five games on the season. His average of 118.6 yards/game is the top mark in the conference and ranks him 10th nationally.
- With four TDs vs. the Wildcats, Brooks has now scored eight times in the past two contests, which makes him the first Tribe player to score four TDs in back-to-back games.
- His 11 TDs through five games gives him an average of 13.2 points a game, a figure which ties him for the top figure in the nation. Brooks has scored at least one TD in all five games this season.
- With 590 rushing yards, Brooks is nearly past his entire 14-game rushing total from 2004 (661 yards) and is on pace to seriously challenge Alvin Porch's 11-game season school record rushing total of 1,316 set in the 1997 season (Porch averaged just a touch over 119 yards a game that year).
- Brooks' also has contributed 109 yards receiving on 10 catches this season and his average of 139 all-purpose yards a contest ranks him third in the league.

Did You Know?: That Brooks' 11 touchdowns through five games is the most prolific scoring stretch for the College since Robert Green (1988-91) scored 12 in the five games between the fifth and ninth contests of the 1990 season.

Extra Effort: 'Determined' would be one of the first words used to describe Brooks' running style, as the 5-9, 210-pound product of DeMatha High (MD) seems to prefer the direct approach when attacking defenses. Perhaps no stat reflects this better than his yards after contact. Against New Hampshire, Brooks rolled to 92 of his 135 total rushing yards after being hit for the first time, breaking 17 total tackles along the way.

Junior RB Elijah Brooks rushed for 135 yards and four TDs on a career-high 32 attempts Saturday. It was Brooks' fourth 100-yard game of the season.

For the season, the Tribe coaching staff has it figured that 316 of his 590 total rushing yards have come after breaking at least one tackle.

Large Contributions: As Brooks moves up the national rushing charts and the team continues to assault the scoreboard, the contributions of the team's offensive front can't be overlooked. Despite losing a starting guard in each of the first two contests of the season (Ryan Lumm at Marshall, Matt Ridjaneck at VMI), the unit has regrouped and continued to force the issue at the line of scrimmage.

Currently, W&M features the league's second-ranked scoring offense (38.4) and third-ranked rushing offense (212.0), while the Tribe ranks fourth in total offense (437.2). Much of the credit for the continuity on the front can be given to line coach Bob Solderitch and his coach on the field, starting center and all-conference candidate Pat Mulloy who, along with left guard Mike Grenz, has started the majority of games over the last three seasons and brings a great deal leadership to the unit. Junior starting right guard Cody Morris is a returning all-conference performer and teams with sophomore right tackle Brad Stewart to give W&M solid quarterback protection on the blind side, while fellow sophomore Brent Cochran has received a baptism by fire at left tackle, taking over the starting role after the second game of the season.

Big Play: Roughly one year removed from losing his true senior season to an ankle injury playing during the remnants of Hurricane Ivan at New Hampshire, senior team co-captain and wide receiver Josh Lustig had to feel a little irony when he stepped out of the locker room and onto a rain-soaked field against the same Wildcat club. But, unlike the last time, Lustig was able to use his feet to contribute to the team's upset win and then walk back off the field after the game. While the conditions didn't lend themselves to a wide-open passing game, Lustig was able to make two of the bigger plays for the Tribe offense on the afternoon. On a third and goal from the UNH 9-yard line, Lustig worked his way free along the back of the end zone and made a diving catch in the back left-hand corner of the end zone on a well delivered pass from sophomore quarterback Mike Potts. The play not only averted field goal attempt in the messy conditions, but also capped a drive that started after the defense recovered a fumble and gave the Tribe a commanding 21-0 lead.

Lustig connected with Potts again on a crucial third down play on the Tribe's next scoring drive, which came after another UNH turnover, when he made a spectacular catch over top of a Wildcat defender to haul in a 35-yard spiral and set the team up at the UNH 1-yard line. Brooks delivered the final yard three snaps later to push the College's lead to 28-7 and effectively put the team in position to concentrate on working the clock in the second half.

Lustig ended the game with a season-high five receptions for 68 yards. He currently is the team's second-leading receiver with 16 grabs for 159 yards on the season.

Streiking: Sophomore receiver Joe Nicholas saw his streak of 11-straight games with four catches, or more, snapped against New Hampshire, but his two-catch, 36-yard performance did extend his streak of games with more than one grab to 12. He has caught at least one pass in all but one of his 18 career appearances.

Nicholas is currently eighth in the league in receiving yards a game with an average of 82.2, while his average of 5.25 receptions a contest ranks him ninth.

Steady Hand: On an afternoon in which just getting the ball from center was a challenge, sophomore QB Mike Potts ran the Tribe's offense very efficiently and effectively. With ball control and possession being at a premium, Potts completed a solid 11 of his 19 attempts for 127 yards and one score.

With the Tribe defense and special teams leaving the offense in tremendous starting field position (eight of W&M's 13 possessions started at its own 40, or beyond), Potts first task was to protect the football, which he did by extending his streak of passes without an interception to 93.

While the majority of the use his right arm got was to hand the ball off to Brooks, he did make several crucial throws to extend or end drives for the College. His pair of key hookups with Lustig have already been mentioned above, but perhaps an even bigger set of completions came on the Tribe's first offensive scoring drive. With the team hanging onto what seemed to be a slim 7-0 advantage, Potts moved the team into UNH territory with a 16-yard completion to Nicholas on first down. Then, after Brooks moved the College to the UNH 30 yard line on a pair of rushes, the team faced a crucial third and seven situation, which Potts converted on a perfectly executed 20-yard crossing pattern to Nicholas, which kept the drive and momentum alive for the College.

Did You Know?: That Greg Kuehn has the chance to become the first place-kicker in the history of the A10 Conference to earn all-conference recognition in all four seasons of his career.

Possible First?: In the 12 years the Tribe has been affiliated with the A10 Conference, no Tribe back as won the league's rushing title. William and Mary has had at least one player lead the league in passing, receiving, scoring, interceptions, punt returns and pass efficiency.

TEAM DEFENSIVE NOTES

That's More Like It: After a rough afternoon against the Rhode Island option attack on Sept. 17 (361 rushing yards), the Tribe defense has responded with solid efforts against the run in its last two outings, limiting Liberty to a net of minus-6 yards in the 56-0 win on Sept. 24, before holding UNH to 85 rushing yards on 30 attempts Saturday, an average of just 2.8 yards per carry.

The games marked the first time W&M has held back-to-back opponents under 100 yards rushing since last season, when the Tribe held VMI (49), Northeastern (90) and Liberty (61) under the century mark in consecutive weeks, before URI snapped the streak with 282 yards in the season's sixth game, a 31-24 Tribe Homecoming victory.

Comparing the first five games of 2005 to the initial five of last season, the difference in terms of rush defense, is miniscule, as W&M is yielding an average of 130.6 yards per game (6th in the A10) this season, compared to 132.8 yards per contest in 2004.

But, perhaps more significant is the difference in the first five games this season against the final five of the 2004 season, when the Tribe allowed an average of 198.2 rushing yards per game [JMU (272), UR (155), Hampton (128), UD (229), JMU (207)]. If you toss out the URI loss, the number would be even more impressive, as W&M has allowed an average of only 73.0 rushing yards per game in its other four contests this season, a clip that would rank second in the A10 and seventh in Division I-AA.

Trimming Down: Not surprisingly, W&M's firm rush defense has kept opponents off the scoreboard, as the unit has now allowed only one touchdown in its last eight quarters of football. W&M has trimmed over two points off its defensive scoring average through five games this season (20.2), ranking fifth in the A10, compared to 22.8 points per game last season. Compared to the final five games of 2004, again its another impressive improvement, as W&M allowed an average of 31.8 points per game in its last five tilts of 2004. Discounting the 49-28 loss at URI again, this season's scoring average would drop to 13.3 points per game, which would rank third in the A10.

Getting Off the Field: While the Tribe's stingy third-down defense against Liberty (2-for-12) was one of the main ingredients for the team's first shutout (56-0) since 2001, it was W&M's unrelenting pressure of fourth down chances that kept UNH's high-scoring offense in check in Saturday's 42-10 victory.

The Wildcats were 0-for-3 on fourth down conversion attempts, which included one momentous stop in the second quarter and two fourth quarter holds. The Tribe stuffed UNH quarterback Ricky Santos on back-to-back keepers, which came on third and fourth down, at the W&M 16-yard line, halting an 11-play, 54-yard drive that could have pulled the 'Cats within one score as W&M lead 21-7 at the time in the second quarter.

With Saturday's effort, W&M has now yielded a new set of downs just once on the last five times opponents have gone for it on fourth down. In fact, after URI converted both of its fourth down opportunities, W&M had allowed a first down on three of five attempts through three games (60%), ranking 10th in the A10. After the Liberty game, W&M moved up to eighth in the league (4-for-7, 57.1%), and now the Tribe is tied for second with UMass, having allowed only four first downs on 10 conversion attempts (40%).

No-Fly Zone: With two more interceptions in the 42-10 beating of UNH, W&M brought its season total to 10, which leads the Atlantic 10 and is tied for sixth in Division I-AA. W&M's 10 INT's trail only Davidson (17), Eastern Kentucky (12), Colgate (11), Youngstown State (11) and Wagner (11).

With 10 interceptions, W&M is keeping up its pace (2/game) to match the highest INT total under Laycock (22), which was set by the dominant 1996 squad in its Yankee Conference Championship season. The school record for interceptions in a season is 25, set in 1972.

After recording one INT in the season-opener at Marshall, W&M has had at least two picks in every game since, including a season-high three in the loss at URI. W&M's streak of five consecutive games with an INT is the longest since recording at least one INT in each of the first eight games of the 2002 season.

The longest stretch of games with an INT under Laycock is 17 games, which started in the ninth game of the 1995 season in an 18-15 win over Villanova and lasted through the entire 13-game 1996 season to the second game of the 1997 season, when the Tribe failed to intercept a pass in a 29-28 win at Georgia Southern on Sept. 6.

Although there is plenty of football left to be played, the Tribe is now just two picks shy of its entire total of 12 interceptions last season, which was established over 14 games. Here is a quick look at the top-five INT totals during Laycock's tenure:

INT Total	Year(s)
22	1996*
21	1995
19	1980
17	2001*
16	1990*, 1986*

Did You Know?: W&M's streak of four consecutive games with two, or more, interceptions is the longest streak in head coach Jimmy Laycock's 26 years at the helm of Tribe football. Prior to this season, W&M had recorded at least two interceptions in three-straight games on only five different occasions, with the last time coming in the final two games of 2001 (2 vs. Villanova on 11/27/01, 3 vs. Appalachian State, 12/1/01) and the first game of 2002 (3 vs. Indiana, 8/31/02). The other four streaks came in 1999, 1987, 1981 and 1980, Laycock's first season.

Take It Away: With four total caused turnovers against UNH Saturday, W&M has now come away with at least two take-aways in each game this season, which is the longest streak of games with two, or more, caused turnovers to start the season since 2002 when the Tribe registered at least two take-aways in its first six games. Coincidentally, that stretch of games reached six against UNH, when W&M intercepted Mike Granieri once and recovered a Wildcat fumble.

With 13 total forced turnovers through five games, the Tribe is off to its best start in three years, again going back to the 2002 season when W&M caused 14 turnovers in its first five games.

Table Setters: Two of the Tribe's four take-aways on Saturday indirectly led to two W&M touchdowns, as Potts found Lustig in the end zone for a touchdown after Jon Shaw's fumble recovery, and Brooks barreled in for a score after Josh Rutter's fumble recovery in the second quarter. The Tribe defense has "set the table" for at least one score, directly or indirectly, in every game this season. The direct score came on Stephen Cason's 57-yard INT return for a touchdown at VMI. Of the Tribe's 13 caused turnovers this season, W&M has produced points on seven occasions following the take-away, six times scoring a touchdown.

In the Zone: Coming back to the Tribe's fourth-down stand in the second quarter, when UNH quarterback Ricky Santos was stopped on consecutive sneaks on third and fourth down from the W&M 16, it was the College's first defensive stop in the red zone in eight tries this season. In fact, after W&M's first three opponents (Liberty did not reach the red zone on Sept. 24) went a combined 3-for-3 in the red zone, UNH was just 2-for-5, bringing W&M's red zone defense listing to 10-for-13 (76.9%), up to eighth from 12th in the 12-team league.

Got His Number: Before Saturday's game, UNH quarterback Ricky Santos had thrown for 12 touchdowns on 107-for-145 passing, an average of roughly one touchdown pass per every 12 attempts (12.083), or a shade over four touchdown passes per every 50 attempts (4.14). Santos fired 56 attempts on Saturday, completing 33 for 324 yards, but did not connect on a scoring pass in the game. In Santos' 18 career games, he has failed to throw a touchdown pass on only three occasions, two of which have now come against W&M, including the Tribe's 9-7 win in Durham last season. The only other team to hold Santos without a touchdown pass in that span was Northeastern in 2004, although Santos rushed for a score and a caught a touchdown in the Wildcats' 27-24 victory.

History Lesson II: Liberty's net of minus-6 rushing yards was W&M's best effort against the run in nearly a decade, as the lowest previous rushing total the College had surrendered prior to the 24th was minus-39 yards in a 30-21 win over Villanova in 1996.

The 1996 unit finished the season ranked second in the nation in total defense (231.8 yds/g) and led the Yankee Conference in rushing defense (83.3 yds/g) and scoring defense (15.5 pts/g). Villanova gained 20 yards on 12 rushes that afternoon, but the Tribe rang up nine sacks, including a school-record 3.5 by Luke Cullinane, for 59 total yards, dropping the Wildcats' net to minus-39 on 21 total attempts.

Liberty gained a total of 27 yards on 18 rushes, but W&M's four sacks for 33 yards dropped the Flames' net to minus-6.

The only other negative rushing total the W&M defense posted under Laycock was in 1993, when, again, Villanova managed a net of minus-6 in a 51-17 W&M victory.

INDIVIDUAL DEFENSIVE NOTES

On the Campaign Trail: Senior Stephen Cason's exploits in the 42-10 win over top-ranked New Hampshire Saturday is additional fuel for what is turning into a solid campaign for national postseason honors.

Cason, a second team All-Atlantic 10 selection in 2004, returned the opening kickoff Saturday 92 yards for a touchdown, his first career return for a TD. It bolstered his season average to 29.6 yards per kickoff return, which ranks second in the A10. For his efforts, Cason was named the A10 Special Teams Co-Player of the Week.

Defensively, Cason tallied a team-high nine total tackles, including six solo stops, and added his third interception of the season by picking off the league's top passer in the W&M end zone for a third-quarter touchback, as the Tribe held the nation's top offense scoreless in the second half.

On the year, Cason has now scored two touchdowns, including a 57-yard INT return for a score at VMI on Sept. 10.

Prime Positioning: After not punting in the Tribe's 56-0 win over Liberty on Sept. 24 before the bye week, junior Blair Pritchard had not been called to duty since the URI game on Sept. 17, but Pritchard proved he had stayed sharp during the layoff, punting six times for a career-high 256 yards against UNH Saturday. His efforts were one of the main reasons UNH had an average starting field position at its own 28-yard line, as Pritchard downed three punts inside the Wildcat 20 and had another kick downed at the 20-yard line itself. Working in sloppy field conditions, Pritchard blasted a career-long punt of 64 yards and also uncorked a 57-yarder in the first half. For his efforts, Pritchard was named the coaching staff's special teams player of the week.

Prime Positioning II: One of the other key ingredients in the field position battle was the Tribe's excellent tackling on kick coverage. Sophomore David Page recorded solo tackles on UNH's two punt returns, limiting the Wildcats to just five total punt returns yards, and added a solo tackle on a kickoff return. Redshirt freshman Todd Reyher was credited with three assists on kickoff coverage, while true freshman Michael Pigram made two solo tackles on kickoff coverage.

Page Turner: In addition to his special teams work, Page tallied four tackles in the Tribe's nickel package, as UNH resorted to passing on nearly every snap in the second half. Page finished with a career-high seven total tackles, six of which were solo stops. Page's previous career-best came against Liberty in 2004, when the then redshirt freshman was in on five tackles in the Tribe's 37-17 win.

Fantastic Frosh: Although his four-game streak of leading the team in tackles was halted Saturday against UNH, redshirt freshman linebacker Josh Rutter still had quite a hand in the victory. Rutter finished with eight total tackles, second on the team, recovered a fumble, the first of his career, and added one solo TFL for a loss of yard.

With one TFL, Rutter has now recorded at least 0.5 TFLs in each of his first five games, all starts. Rutter was the first Tribe defender, of any class, to lead the squad in tackles in four consecutive games since Martin Magerko ('01) did it over the first four games of 2001 against UMass (13), VMI (11), ECU (11) and UNH (15).

Near-Record Pace: With another solo sack against UNH on Saturday, senior defensive end Jonas Watson has brought his season total to 5.0, which ranks second in the Atlantic 10. Watson is averaging one sack per game, which is tied for 15th in Division I-AA. At that rate, Watson would finish the season with 11.0 sacks, which is just only shy of the school record 12 that Luke Cullinane registered in 1996.

Watson also forced a fumble against UNH, his second of the season which matches the best total in the A10 this season, and finished with seven total tackles. With 23 total stops, Watson leads all of the Tribe defensive linemen and ranks fifth on the squad overall.

Resume Building: While starting middle linebacker Thad Wheeler has struggled with various ailments, coming in and out of the Tribe lineup, sophomore backup T.J. O'Neill has been picking up the slack and been more than just a fill-in. O'Neill recorded a career-high eight total tackles, including seven solos, against UNH and added his first career interception in the fourth quarter. O'Neill's seven solo stops matched his previous career best for total tackles (7), which came in the season-opener at Marshall.

Getting Into the Act: O'Neill is third Tribe defender this to register his first career interception. Redshirt freshman Kevin Allen recorded his first interception in the season-opener against Marshall and later added a pick against Liberty on Sept. 24. Junior corner Richard Riley pulled down his first career INT in the loss at URI on Sept. 17.

Playing It Safe(ty): In his post-game comments, UNH head coach Sean McDonnell was quick to recognize the play of the Tribe's two senior safeties, James Miller (free) and Jon Shaw (strong), noting how the duo "played downhill" and had tight coverage in the secondary. Shaw tied for second on the squad with eight total tackles and recovered a fumble, while Miller finished three total stops. Shaw ranks second on the squad with 30 total tackles, an average of 6.0 per game which ranks 32nd in the A10. Shaw has two interceptions on the year as well, which both came at URI. After finishing the 2004 campaign with 114 tackles, Miller's 2005 campaign has been a little more quiet with 19 total stops to date, but there has been no shortage of big hits from the senior stopper.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT: JAMES MILLER, SR., FS

Place of birth: Norfolk, VA

Favorite TV show: Fresh Prince of Bel-Air

Favorite electronics: Internet or computers, but I am not really a big technology buff.

What was your favorite summer job?: Working at a local golf course with a lot of the guys from the team

What was your favorite summer movie?: Mr. and Mrs. Smith

What other sports did you play in high school?: Basketball and track

What was the last non-sports related club you've belonged to?: I was in the choir in fifth grade and the National Honor Society in high school

What was the last act of charity you've been a part of?: Helping get money to the victims of Hurricane Katrina

What would you consider your best non-sports related skill?: I would say my play-by-play commentary abilities

What has been your favorite class at W&M?: Consumer Behavior

What has been the hardest class?: The first block of Business Finance

What was the last thing you built from scratch?: A CO2 car in high school

Did it win any races?: I won a decent amount

Who on the team do you think will have the most interesting job in 10 years? Jonas Watson, there is no telling what he'll be doing. It could be anything from music to being a movie star or a lawyer.

What one thing about you would surprise people?: That I am a homebody

What is the last book you've read for pleasure?: The Bible

Which member of the defensive backfield is the best cook?: Jon Shaw

What's his specialty?: Spaghetti with Goya, along with Texas toast and a salad with bacon bits

If you could cast yourself in any role, what would it be? Willie Beamon from Any Given Sunday

In talking to your fellow senior (defensive tackle) Larry Pendleton, we've learned that you, Larry, senior cornerback Stephen Cason and junior tailback Elijah Brooks become quite competitive with your Monopoly games. While I am not going to ask you whom you think is the best player amongst you (as you are already on record on that count), do each of you have a certain piece in the game you always use?: Elijah always takes the horse with rider. Stephen is the dog most times. Larry takes the cruise ship. And, I always take the Rolls Royce.

Was Monopoly always your favorite game growing up?: That and Mouse Trap

WILLIAM AND MARY GAME-BY-GAME - 2005

MU 36, #9 W&M 24

HUNTINGTON, WV (9/1/05) -- Junior tailback Elijah Brooks ran for a career-high 149 yards, but Marshall used a game-breaking 70-yard fumble return for a touchdown late in the third quarter to rally for a 36-24 victory over William and Mary at Edwards Stadium.

The Tribe led 24-23 after a pair of touchdown tosses from sophomore quarterback Mike Potts, who was making his first-career start, in the third period and was on the move again deep in MU territory, when Herd linebacker Matt Coach picked up a Potts fumble and raced 70 yards for a touchdown.

After W&M's next drive stalled, the Herd put it away with an 11-play, 84-yard drive capped by Bernie Morris' third touchdown pass of the contest, a 12-yard hook-up with Hiram Moore.

Brooks gained 149 yards on 28 carries, surpassing his previous career mark of 120 set last season at Towson and hauled in a 19-yard scoring reception from Potts that pulled W&M with 23-17 at the 10:29 mark of the third.

After junior linebacker Ryan Nickell recovered a fumble at the Herd 30-yard line that was forced by senior defensive end Jonas Watson, Potts connected with redshirt freshman Tony Viola for an 18-yard touchdown pass, the first of Viola's career, to give W&M its first lead of the game.

Redshirt freshman linebacker Josh Rutter, in his first career start, paced the defense with 16 total tackles, while classmate Kevin Allen recorded the first interception of his career in the first half.

#11 W&M 41, VMI 7

LEXINGTON, VA (9/10/05) -- Redshirt freshman quarterback Jake Phillips threw for 202 yards and a touchdown and 11th-ranked William and Mary piled up 469 yards of total offense to down VMI, 41-7, in the 83rd all-time meeting between the state schools.

In his first-career start, Phillips completed 17 of 21 pass attempts and hit redshirt freshman tailback DeBrian Holmes for a 19-yard scoring play in the fourth quarter.

On the mark from the start, Phillips connected on all three of his throws for 33 yards on the Tribe's opening series, leading W&M on an 87-yard march that was capped by Phillips' 1-yard sneak on fourth-and-goal from the 1 to put W&M up 7-0.

Senior corner Stephen Cason pushed the lead to 17-0 in the second with a 57-yard interception return for a touchdown, his second pick of the contest.

After VMI trimmed the advantage to 17-7, senior place-kicker Greg Kuehn nailed a 39-yard field goal as time expired in the first half to give the Tribe a 20-7 advantage at the break. It was Kuehn's second field goal of the game, bringing his career total to 49, which ranks second on the W&M career list and the Atlantic 10 career list.

Junior running back Elijah Brooks led the Tribe ground game for the second-straight week with 94 yards on 18 carries, including a third-quarter 6-yard touchdown scamper that increased the lead to 27-7. Classmate Trevor McLaurin completed the Tribe's scoring with a 1-yard touchdown run with 2:12 remaining.

URI 48, #7 W&M 29

KINGSTON, RI (9/17/05) -- Rhode Island senior quarterback Jayson Davis rushed for three touchdowns and passed for two more to lead the Rams to a 48-29 upset of seventh-ranked William and Mary at Meade Stadium.

Davis ran for scores of 13, 10 and 2 yards, and completed 7-of-15 pass attempts for 197 yards, including touchdown passes of 43 and 41 yards to Keith Brown and Kyle Edwards, respectively., as URI piled up 578 yards of total offense.

W&M senior place-kicker Greg Kuehn became the College's all-time leading scorer with 11 points on the afternoon, kicking field goals of 50, 35 and 31 yards added two extra points. Kuehn surpassed Steve Christie's ('90) record of 278 career points and now holds the mark with 289. Kuehn also broke the Atlantic 10 career field goals record of 50, bringing his career total to 52.

Junior running back Elijah Brooks rushed for 110 yards on 18 carries, his second 100-yard rushing game of the season. Brooks became the first Tribe back to have two 100-yard games since Delmus Coley in 2003.

Sophomore quarterback Mike Potts completed 20-of-29 attempts for 208 yards and a touchdown, a 49-yard scoring play to sophomore Joe Nicholas that gave W&M a 14-0 lead in the first quarter.

WILLIAM AND MARY GAME-BY-GAME - 2005

#16 W&M 56, LU 0

WILLIAMSBURG (9/24/05) -- W&M found the end zone on eight of its 10 possessions and piled up 635 yards of total offense, to Liberty's 145, and shut out the Flames 56-0 at Zable Stadium.

The Tribe held Liberty to a net of minus-6 rushing yards and posted its first shutout since blanking VMI, 34-0, in 2001.

Junior Elijah Brooks paced the W&M ground attack, which rang up 335 rushing yards, with 102 yards on 22 carries, his 100-yard game of the season. Brooks scored three rushing touchdowns, all on 1-yard runs, and added another receiving score to become the first Tribe player to score four touchdowns since Dominique Thompson at Delaware in 2004.

In his third career start, sophomore quarterback Mike Potts went for 226 yards and two touchdowns on 19-for-25 passing. Redshirt freshman Jake Phillips spelled Potts in the second half and completed 3-of-3 attempts for 74 yards, including a 34-yard touchdown toss to Elliott Mack. Phillips also ran three times for 16 yards and a score.

Sophomore Joe Nicholas paced the receiving corps with 110 yards on eight catches, his second 100-yard game in three tries. Brooks finished with three catches for 43 yards, while true freshman D.J. McAulay pulled in two balls for 49 yards.

For the fourth consecutive game, redshirt freshman linebacker Josh Rutter led the defense in tackles, recording seven total stops. Junior Ryan Nickell made five total tackles, including 2.0 TFL, and added an interception. Senior defensive end Jonas Watson registered 1.5 sacks and five total stops, while redshirt freshman free safety Kevin Allen picked off his second pass of the season.

#17 W&M 42, #1 UNH 10

WILLIAMSBURG (10/8/05) -- Senior Stephen Cason returned the game's opening kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown, and W&M never looked back in upsetting top-ranked New Hampshire, 42-10, at Zable Stadium.

Junior tailback Elijah Brooks churned out 135 yards and four touchdowns on a career-high 32 carries, and the Tribe held UNH's high-scoring offensive attack scoreless in the second half to pick up W&M's first win over a No. 1 team.

Brooks scored on a 7-yard run in the first quarter, and sophomore quarterback Mike Potts found senior Josh Lustig for a 9-yard touchdown pass on the first play of the second quarter to give W&M a 21-0 lead.

UNH responded with a quick five-play, 79-yard drive that resulted in a 5-yard touchdown run by John McCoy, but Brooks answered with a 1-yard scoring run with just over two minutes remaining in the half. Wildcats' kicker Connor McCormack hit a 33-yard field goal as time expired in the opening half to cut the deficit to 28-10, but that was a close as UNH would get.

Brooks scored a 15-yard scamper, that was set up by junior Leonard Muldrow's punt block, in the third quarter and plowed into the end zone from four yards out with 4:26 remaining to set the final margin.

W&M caused four turnovers in the game, including two interceptions, one each by Cason and sophomore T.J. O'Neill, and three times stopped UNH on fourth down conversion attempts.

Cason paced the unit with nine total tackles, and the pick was his third this season. O'Neill finished with eight total stops, including seven solo stops to go along with his first-career interception.
