CAA FOOTBALL CONFERENCE

The inaugural season of CAA Football kicks off in 2007 with plans to take the nation's premier conference in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS, formerly I-AA) to even greater heights. The conference is coming off a sensational 2006 campaign in which multiple teams were selected to postseason play for the 16th year in a row, extending the longest active streak in the nation. Massachusetts advanced to the national championship game, becoming the third different CAA Football team to reach the finals over the past four years. New Hampshire quarterback Ricky Santos earned the Walter Payton Award as the most outstanding player in the FCS, becoming the conference's sixth recipient of the prestigious honor. James Madison linebacker Akeem Jordan, Massachusetts defensive back James Ihedigbo and Maine defensive lineman Matt King were finalists for the Buck Buchanan Award, which is presented to the top defensive player in the FCS.

The quality and depth of CAA Football is unmatched in the FCS. Ten of the league's 12 teams have participated in the NCAA playoffs over the past six seasons and at least one team has advanced to the national semifinals in seven of the last 10 years. In 2004, James Madison claimed the national championship with a 31-21 triumph over Montana, becoming the first team to reach the title game by winning three road playoff contests since the field expanded to 16 teams in 1986. Delaware rolled past Colgate 40-0 to capture the national championship in 2003, becoming the first team to ever post a shutout in the title game. No other conference has had two different teams win national titles in back-to-back years. Massachusetts earned a national championship in 1998, beating perennial power Georgia Southern, 55-43.

Along with the team accomplishments, the conference has accumulated numerous individual accolades. Santos joined William & Mary quarterback Lang Campbell (2004), Villanova running back Brian Westbrook (2001), Villanova wide receiver Brian Finneran (1997), New Hampshire running back Jerry Azumah (1998) and Towson running back Dave Meggett (1988) as recipients of the Walter Payton Award. James Madison linebacker Derrick Lloyd received the Buck Buchanan Award in 2001. New Hampshire's Sean McDonnell (2005), James Madison's Mickey Matthews (1999), Villanova's Andy Talley (1997) and Boston University's Dan Allen (1993) have earned the Eddie Robinson Award as the top coach in the FCS.

The CAA Football geographic footprint encompasses much of the East Coast with schools located from Maine to Virginia. Members include Delaware, Hofstra, James Madison, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Northeastern, Rhode Island, Richmond, Towson, Villanova and William & Mary. While CAA Football officially began

March 1, 2007, its roots date back more than 60 years.

On December 3, 1946, the Code of the Yankee Conference went into effect. Established as an all-sports conference for the New England land grant colleges, the six charter members included Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. Upon the formation of Division I-AA football in 1978, the league disbanded all sports except football. Delaware and Richmond were admitted to the conference in 1986, Villanova was added in 1988 and James Madison, Northeastern and William & Mary joined the league in 1993. The Atlantic 10 assumed operation control of the conference from 1997-2006, with Hofstra becoming part of the league in 2001 and Towson joining the group in 2004. Since 1978, CAA Football members have accumulated 64 playoff berths, 16 Lambert Cups, 77 final top-25 rankings and 37 final top-10 rankings.
