Radio: 1 p.m. - Tribe Football Radio Network, including www.TribeAthletics.com (See next page)

All-Time Series: JMU leads, 16-14; JMU leads series in Harrisonburg, 8-5

Last Meeting: James Madison won, 55-34, on Oct. 21, 2005 in Williamsburg, Va.

Head Coaches: Jimmye Laycock (189-136-2/29th season); Mickey Matthews (72-45/10th season at JMU)

First and 10

After earning a 38-17 victory against Northeastern last weekend, the No. 12/15 Tribe will look to extend its five-game winning streak when it plays at top-ranked James Madison this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. In addition to its five-game winning streak, W&M has won seven of its last eight games, while the Dukes currently own an 8-1 record overall and a 6-0 mark in conference play. The Dukes control the all-time series, 16-14, and have won the last four meetings. The Tribe's last victory against JMU was a 27-24 win in Harrisonburg on Nov. 13, 2004. W&M currently ranks 12th nationally in total offense (425.67 ypg) and 14th in scoring offense (35.22 ppg). After earning CAA Rookie of the Week honors following the NU game, true freshman running back Jonathan Grimes currently ranks eighth in the country in all-purpose yards per game with 171.56. The College's defensive unit ranks 28th nationally in total defense (313.22 ypg) and 20th in pass efficiency defense (109.7). Junior defensive end Adrian Tracy ranks seventh nationally in sacks per game (.94) and is tied for ninth in tackles for a loss per game (1.67).

Interviews

All requests for interviews must be directed through the Sports Information Office. Players are available Monday morning until noon Thursday. Please call either Pete Clawson, or Rob Turner, with interview requests.

Weekly Press Conference

A press conference with head coach Jimmie Laycock will be held every Tuesday at noon at the Hospitality House in Williamsburg. Lunch is served around noon, followed by opening remarks and a question and answer session with Coach Laycock. Interviews with selected players will follow the luncheon. Please confirm your attendance with Pete Clawson in the Sports Information Office at least 24 hours in advance.

Game Credentials

Please make all press and photo requests at least one week in advance. Tickets and parking passes can be mailed with one week's notice. If not, tickets can be picked up, with proper credentials, at the Will Call Window at Zable Stadium on the morning of the game. PARKING PASSES CANNOT BE LEFT AT WILL CALL

Press Parking

Parking for members of the working press is available just southeast of Zable Stadium in front of the Sadler Center. Parking is limited and media members are encouraged to arrive early.

Photographers

Please observe the NCAA rules, which prohibit photographers between the 25 yard lines.

Press Box Services

Located atop the East grandstand of Zable Stadium at Cary field, the press box officially opens two hours prior to kickoff. Pregame notes, flip cards and programs will be available prior to the start. Complete halftime statistics, as well as final team and individual statistics, are available immediately following the game.

Radio

Visiting radio lines may be rented by non-conference opponents through the Sports Information Office at a cost of $75 per line. The radio booth for the visiting team is located at the south end of the press box on the lower level. Radio stations should make arrangements with the Sports Information Office at least a month in advance. Requests for the line will be honored on a first-come, first-served basis.

Visiting Film Crews

Space will be allotted in the West Press Box for film and video crews of visiting teams' coaches' shows. We will provide two spots per team.

Post-Game Procedures

Head coach Jimmie Laycock and the visiting coach will be available about 10 minutes after the game in an interview area located in the Laycock Football Center. Individual W&M players' names should be given to Pete Clawson during the fourth quarter and they will be made available in the interview room.

The William and Mary Football Radio Network

The W&M Athletics Department is in its third year of a partnership for the Tribe Radio Network with local stations, 92.3 FM "The Tide" and 107.9 FM "WBACH", as the network's Co-Flagships.

The partnership provides the College with solid coverage of the peninsula, as the station's combined footprint reaches from eastern areas of Richmond to the western parts of Norfolk. Tribe fans in Richmond will also be able to catch the action on 1450AM WCLM, which returns for its fourth season as an affiliate. Also, as usual, long-standing network member WBRG, AM 1050 of Lynchburg is back to carry all the action for 2007.

In addition to the radio coverage, all broadcasts can be heard live on the web at www.TribeAthletics.com, free of charge.

The College's long-standing broadcast team of team of Jay Colley and Bob Sheeran remain in place to deliver all the action of Tribe football over the airwaves.

James Madison Series Notes

A Tribe Win vs. James Madison Would ...

- Stand as the College's second win, all-time, vs. a No. 1-ranked squad ... W&M's last win over a No. 1 came during 2005 season when the Tribe defeated then top-ranked New Hampshire, 42-10.
- Snap the Tribe's current four-game losing streak vs. the Dukes ... The Tribe's last win over James Madison came during the 2004 season when the Tribe rallied for a 27-24 win in Harrisonburg.
- Avenge last season's 55-34 home loss to the Dukes ... The 21-point margin of defeat was the largest for a home conference game in Tribe history.
- Give the College an 8-2 record, marking its 10th season of eight wins, or better, in head coach Jimmye Laycock's 29-year tenure. Prior to his arrival in 1980, the program had posted just six seasons of eight or more wins in 80-plus years of football.
- Stand as the team's sixth-straight win in league play, which would equal the school record for longest conference winning streak in school history (the school record for consecutive league wins was established in 1993 when the Tribe won its final six games in conference play).
- Mark the squad's fourth-straight conference road win ... No Tribe team has ever won four league road games in a single season (since the Tribe first joined conference play in 1993).

The Last Meeting

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (11/10/07) -- James Madison quarterback Rodney Landers rushed for 171 yards and two touchdowns, and Griff Yancey ran for three more scores to help the 16th-ranked Dukes roll past William and Mary, 55-34, at soldout Zable Stadium.

JMU scored on its first eight possessions and posted its highest point total in the rivalry, winning its fourth consecutive game in the series.

Landers set a JMU quarterback rushing record with his 171 yards on 18 attempts and also passed for another score, completing 9-of-15 attempts for 89 yards. Yancey rushed for 132 yards on 25 carries, as the Dukes netted 371 yards rushing.

Jake Phillips completed 14 of 24 attempts for 219 yards and three touchdowns, including a 52-yard scoring pass to Elliott Mack. Mack had five receptions for 128 yards.

Terrence Riggins scored on a 1-yard run, and Phillips threw an 18-yard scoring pass to Drew Atchison and a 23-yard touchdown pass to Courtland Marriner. Mike Potts came on in the fourth and threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to R.J. Archer, who had six catches for 74 yard.

Riggins was the Tribe's leading rusher with 39 yards in his second collegiate game. Marriner finished with 32 yards rushing on 10 attempts, and Phillips added 22 yards on 10 attempts.

	1	2	3	4	Final
James Madison	21	17	10	7	55
William and Mary	7	7	13	7	34

Wide receiver Elliott Mack hauled in five receptions for 128 yards, including a 52-yard touchdown catch, in the Tribe's contest against James Madison last season.

- Ensure the College it would enter the final week of the season as one of at most three CAA teams with only one conference loss. Currently, a total of six conference teams have the chance of coming into the season's final week with eight, or more wins.
- Stand as a four-win improvement over the 2007 squad ... The +4 in the win column would tie the 2004 squad for the College's best one-year turnaround [since 1980] as it showed a four-game improvement over the 2003 unit (9-2 regular season in '04 vs. 5-5 mark in '03) during regular season play and then went on to establish the school record for wins with 11.
- Improve the Tribe's all-time record vs. James Madison to 15-16 ... The Tribe enters Saturday's game with a 5-8 all-time mark in Harrisonburg.
- Stand as W&M Head Coach Jimmye Laycock's 77th career victory in league play and 190th win of his 29-year coaching tenure.

Team Notes

Tough Task

How difficult is it to win in Harrisonburg? Since the Tribe pulled out its last-second, 27-24 win vs. the Dukes in 2004, James Madison has won 20 of its last 22 home games coming into Saturday's contest.

JMU's lone losses each came against Richmond (in 2005 and 2007) and were by a combined four points.

In its previous five home games this season, the only team to come within 14 points of the Dukes was three-time defending national champions Appalachian State, which suffered its only FCS loss of the year to JMU, 35-32. In its other four home contests, James Madison is outscoring its opposition by an average score of 51.5 - 13 (205-52).

Good Company

A win over James Madison would give the College a 6-1 league mark and make it the sixth W&M team since the Tribe joined the conference in 1993 to win six, or more, league games.

Been Here Before

Saturday's contest will be the third time in the College's last four visits to Harrisonburg that the teams will be playing the 10th game of its respective seasons with serious playoff implications on the line.

In 2002, the Tribe traveled to Bridgeforth Stadium with a 6-3 overall mark, needing a win a pair of wins to end the season in the playoff hunt and were handed a difficult 34-31 overtime loss that effectively ended its postseason chances.

The next visit (2004) was even more pressure packed, as the two teams met as top-10 programs in the season's 10th game. Just like this season's match up, JMU had a 6-0-league mark, while the College was sporting a 5-1-conference record. The Tribe prevailed, 27-24, on the game's last play, a 46-yard field goal by eventual All-American place-kicker Greg Kuehn, and went onto earn home field advantage through three rounds of the NCAA Playoffs.

Did You Know

Since first meeting in conference play in 1993, the two squads have played a total of four previous regular season games with each team having a national ranking (1994-96 and 2004). James Madison holds a 3-1 edge in those contests.

Simple Math

With a 6-0 league mark, and only the College and Villanova currently with one league loss, a James Madison win over W&M Saturday will ensure the Dukes at least a share of the conference crown (as it already has defeated the Wildcats earlier this season), while a Tribe victory will keep it in the mix to earn at least a part of its fourth conference crown since 1993.

It's a Winner

The Tribe's win over Towson (Nov. 1) secured the program its 19th winning season in head coach Jimmye Laycock's 29 years on campus.

The achievement becomes even more remarkable when considering the program had just seven winning seasons in the previous 30 years (1950 - 1979) prior to his taking control of the program for the 1980 season.

Good Start

With the 38-17 win over Northeastern last Saturday evening, the College improved its record to 7-2, which bettered the squad's win total of a season ago (four) and has surpassed its win output of the previous two seasons combined (six).

The win secured the program's 13th season of seven wins, or better, in head coach Jimmye Laycock's 29-year tenure.

The Tribe now has won five-straight games in league play, which ties it for the second longest conference winning streak in school history (with the 1996 and 2001 squads - which each won its final five games en-route to the league crown).

W&M now shows a three-win improvement over the 2007 squad ... The +3 in the win column ties the 2008 squad with four other Tribe team's (1981, 1983, 1992, and 2001) for the second-best single-season turnaround in Laycock's tenure.

Poll Watching

The College's current No. 12 national ranking in the latest Sports Network poll equals the program's highest position since appearing at the No. 9 spot for the eighth game of the 2005 season.

Prior to earning the No. 23 position in the Oct. 26th Sports Network poll, the Tribe had been absent from the national rankings for a total of 34 consecutive weeks (including preseason and final season polls) ... or a total of 28 weeks of regular season polling periods.

Tough Road Home

The Tribe's final two opponents, No. 1 ranked James Madison (8-1) and No. 6/7 Richmond (7-3), have more combined wins than the College's last four opponents combined (11, between Delaware, Rhode Island, Towson and Northeastern). Further, the College has not beaten either team since the 2004 season (a combined 0-6 in the span).

Holding Down at Home

With its current 4-1 home slate, and with one home game still remaining on the schedule, the 2008 Tribe squad has a chance to become the first team since 2004 to win as many as five home games in a single season. That season saw the Tribe go 5-0 in Zable Stadium during the regular season.

Nearly Unbeatable When Holding the Opposition to Less Than 21 Points

During the last seven seasons, W&M has been nearly unbeatable when limiting the opposition to 21 points or less, posting a 30-1 record. The lone loss during the span came against Hofstra during the 2006 season when the Pride defeated W&M, 16-14, in Williamsburg on Sept. 30.

During the last 10 seasons, the Tribe owns a 42-2 record when holding the opposition to 21 points or less.

Team Offensive Notes

Pointed

By putting up 38 points vs. Northeastern, the College has now scored 24, or more, points in every game this season. The squad's current average of 35.2 points a contest is pacing it as one of the highest-scoring teams in school history.

If the Tribe was to maintain its current the average for the remainder of the year, it would rank as the third-highest scoring team in history (behind the 1993 - 36.8 and 1990 - 35.9 squads).

The Tribe's per game average currently sits third in the CAA, behind JMU (36.9) and New Hampshire (35.6) and ranks 14th nationally.

Did you Know?

That no team in the history of the College has ever scored 24, or more, points in all of its regular season games (regardless of number of games played in a season).

The only squad in school history to score more than 20 points in every game during a season was the 1990 team, which saw its lowest single-game output on the year be a 22-point effort in a 22-12 win at Delaware.

Diversity

While the Tribe's offense has been prolific this season, it has been given a tremendous boost from the squad's special teams and defensive units. After senior cornerback and all-American candidate Derek Cox scored a pair of touchdowns vs. Northeastern (on an 89-yard punt return and 12-yard interception return), the Tribe has now scored a total of six non-offensive TDs on the year. Cox is responsible for half of them, as he also has a 45-yard interception return for a score in the season opening game at North Carolina State. Junior all-conference candidate David Caldwell has accounted for another pair, as he returned both a blocked field goal attempt and an interception for scores. Freshman kick returner Jonathan Grimes collected the final score at the end of a 97-yard kick return for a touchdown.

Did You Know?

That when sophomore fullback Jimmy Hobson caught his first career touchdown pass in the first quarter against Northeastern this past weekend he became the 12th different player for the College to find the end zone this season.

Red Tape

Saturday's contest features two of the league's highest scoring offenses and, not coincidentally, two of the most efficient teams in the conference in the red zone.

The College enters the weekend having converted 30 of its 34 red zone opportunities, good for an .882 conversion percentage. The Dukes have been even a little bit better, as they have cashed in on .909 percent of its ventures inside the 20 (30 of 33). Of the Tribe's 30 scores, 23 have been TDs, while JMU has found pay dirt 27 times in its 33 total ventures.

Conversely, the Tribe defense has been effective in taking away scoring opportunities from the opposition, as the College's opponents are converting just .733 of its red zone ventures into points (22 scores in 30 total visits inside the Tribe 20). The Tribe's defense has created three red zone turnovers, the second highest total in the league.

Most Productive

With 415 yards of total offense against Northeastern, William and Mary currently is averaging 425.7 yards a contest, making it the CAA's top offense. The number also ranks the program 12th nationally.

The Tribe has used a very balanced approach, as it has run 309 times (for 1,623 yards) and passed 277 times (for 2,208 yards).

William and Mary's offense is currently averaging 6.50 yards on every snap through eight games (586 plays/3,416 yards). The mark is the currently leads the CAA and ranks it 10th nationally.

Ground Attack

Powered by true freshman Jonathan Grimes' 130-yard rushing performance, the Tribe offense rolled for 198 rushing yards against Northeastern. With the Huskies putting up just 110 yards on the ground, it marked the fifth-straight week the College has out-rushed its opponent and the eighth time in nine total games on the season.

The only team to out rush the Tribe on the season has been Villanova, in its only conference loss this season.

Did You Know?

The College's current rushing average of 180.3 yds/game is currently 62 yards above its final per game average of a season ago (118.0). If the College were able to maintain its current average, it would be the school's best rushing performance since the 1999 squad averaged 193.5 yards a game on the ground.

As previously stated, the College has out rushed eight of its nine opponents thus far in 2008. Last season, the Tribe didn't out gain a single opponent on the ground in 11 games.

Did You Know?

The College has not out rushed James Madison in any of the last six meetings. One has to go back to the 2001 season to find the last time the Tribe out gained the Dukes on the ground. That afternoon, then freshman tailback Jonathan Smith ran for a game high 141 yards on 21 carries and scored two touchdowns in leading the College to a 268 to 205 yard edge on the ground, and more importantly, a 17-10 win.

Since that game in 2001, the Dukes have out rushed the College on the ground by an average of 100 yards a game over the ensuing six contests (1,720 to 885; or 246 to 126). Interestingly, the Tribe holds the exact same advantage over the Dukes in terms of passing yards over the same span, as the College has averaged 254 passing yards to James Madison's 144.

Trending

When returning senior all-conference quarterback Jake Phillips capped the Tribe's eight-play, 76-yard drive to open the third quarter against Northeastern with a five-yard touchdown run, it marked the third-straight contest, and eighth time in nine total games on the season, that W&M has scored on its opening possession of the second half.

The only game the Tribe didn't manage a scoring drive to start the final 30 minutes of play was in its win at Delaware.

Of the aforementioned eight drives, seven have seen the College find the end zone.

Finishers

The Tribe has been simply remarkable in the second half of play this season. By outscoring Northeastern 17-7 over the final 30 minutes, it has now outscored all its opponents by a total of 134 points (210 to 83) during the second half of play.

Over its last six games (all in league play), only New Hampshire (13 points) and Rhode Island (14 points) managed to put together more than a single scoring drive in the second half. In that same span, three teams scored three points or less (Delaware - 3; Villanova - 3; and Towson - 0). Conversely, the Tribe has scored 21, or more, second-half points four times (21 vs. Villanova; 27 vs. UNH; 27 vs. URI; and 27 vs. Towson).

The College has had the lead at the half four times this season and has won each of those contests. Of the five games the Tribe has trailed going into intermission, the team has rallied for wins in each of the last three.

The streak of comeback wins started on the road at No. 4 New Hampshire, where the College fought back from a 21-7 first half deficit to battle out a hard-fought 38-34 win. Over the next three weeks, the Tribe trailed at the half in two of the contests (vs. URI and at Towson) and in each instance used huge second halves to secure wins.

30 Is A Magic Number

Since taking over the program in 1980, Laycock has coached a total of seven teams that have averaged 30, or more, points per game. Five of those seven teams participated in postseason play. The average number of victories among the seven teams is 8.6.

For the record, previous to Laycock's tenure on campus, the only other team in Tribe history that averaged better than 30 points per game was the 1946 squad, which produced 34.7 points a game. The following is a complete listing of all the teams in school history to average better than 30 points per game:

Rank Team Scoring Avg. Final Record

1. 1993 - 36.8 - 9-3

Individual Offensive Notes

Stellar Senior

With just two regular season games remaining, returning all-conference quarterback Jake Phillips will be gunning to put a fitting finish on what has been a stellar four-year playing career for the College.

Coming off a very efficient evening against Northeastern, where he finished 217 yards and three touchdowns (two passing, one rushing), the native out of Bath County, Va., currently ranks fifth in the league with average of 231.5 passing yards a game, while his 19 TD passes ranks tied for third among league QBs. Phillips currently has a quarterback rating of 149.5, which ranks him fifth in the CAA (among QBs averaging at least 15 attempts a contest) and 17th nationally.

Phillips' average of 256.8 yards of total offense a game is second in the league and ranks him 20th nationally.

Touchdown Maker

By throwing for a pair of touchdowns in his evening vs. the Huskies, Phillips has now thrown at least one TD in each of his eight starts on the season. Going back to last year, he has thrown for at least one TD in nine consecutive starts. Overall, in his last 20 starts, dating back to the first game of 2007, Phillips thrown at least one TD in 18 contests (only Virginia Tech and Hofstra held him out of the end zone).

On his career, Phillips has now been responsible for 72 total touchdowns (55 passing, 17 rushing) in 36 total appearances (an average of 2.0 per appearance).

Including his two-touchdown performance against Northeastern, Phillips has now thrown for two, or more, TDs in five of his eight starts on the year, and 14 times in his career. Over his last 18 games (or every start since the beginning of 2007), Phillips has thrown for multiple TDs on 12 occasions.

Did You Know?

Jake Phillip's currently is averaging 16.50 points a game (in points responsible for – which is a combination of running and passing TDs), which ranks him first in the conference and 11th nationally.

Among his Peers

Phillips' career total of 72 total touchdowns ranks him fifth among all active players in the Football Championship series (with the active leader being Appalachian State's Armand Edwards, 99 total TDs).

Phillips career mark of 7,617 yards of total offense places him eighth among all active FCS players, while his 55 career TD passes and 6,980 career passing yards also rank him seventh.

Finisher

As has been previously stated, the Tribe has established itself as a second half squad. One of the leading forces in the College's second-half dominance can be traced to the stellar play of Phillips during crunch time. Against Northeastern, Phillips helped turn what had been a tense 21-10 Tribe halftime lead into a 31-10 cushion in just under seven minutes of play in the third quarter, as he connected on seven of his first nine attempts for 103 yards and in leading a pair of scoring drives. He ended the second half with 127 total passing yards, hitting nine of his 13 attempts.

Two weeks ago, in the win at Towson, Phillips came out of the half and hit on nine of his first 10 pass attempts, throwing for 93 yards and a pair of touchdowns . . . And that was all in just the first six minutes of the third quarter. By the time he had thrown his eighth consecutive completion, a 17-yard dart to tight end Rob Varno down the middle of the TU defense, the Tribe had turned what had been a 14-7 halftime deficit into a 21-14 lead (with 9:47 remaining in the quarter). By the time the third quarter ended, Phillips had completed 11 of his 14 attempts for 131 yards and the Tribe held a commanding 27-14 lead.

This sort of performance has become typical for the senior captain, as he turned in similar late heroics in the Tribe's recent wins at New Hampshire and Delaware. In each game, the College was either fighting for, or playing to hold onto, a lead going into the fourth quarter. In each of those contests, Phillips was on the money and able to deliver when the pressure was the greatest.

Phillips' combined fourth quarter numbers for those contests were incredible, as he connected on 17 of his 23 combined attempts (.739) for 253 yards and a pair of scores. Included in his fourth quarter work was the game-winning 72-yard TD drive at then fourth-ranked New Hampshire, that saw him ring up the decisive points on a 17-yard pass to DJ McAulay with just 22 seconds remaining.

Moving On Up

As previously stated, Phillips has turned in one of the finest playing careers in school history during his four years at the College, with his 217 passing yards against Northeastern he moved his career total to 6,980 yards, good for fourth-place on the College's all-time listing. He needs just 47 passing yards to move into third-place, past Chris Hakel's career total of 7,025 yards (accumulated between the 1988-91 seasons).

The pair of scoring touchdown passes pushed his career total to 55 and moved him past Lang Campbell's former third-place total of mark of 54 (set between 2001-04 seasons).

Lastly, Phillips 233 total yards vs. Northeastern puts his career total at 7,617 for his career, good for third-place on the Tribe's career listing.

See the entire career charts on Page 9 of this release.

The 200

Phillips' 217-yard effort against Northeastern marked his sixth-straight start with more than 200-passing yards on the season. For his career, he now has fashioned a total of 18 career 200-plus yard passing afternoons, a figure that puts him in tie for fifth-place with Lang Campbell on the school's all-time listing.

Man of Honor(s)

True freshman Jonathan Grimes has clearly established himself as one of the league's top offensive players nine games into his collegiate career. With two games remaining in the regular season, it would seem he is a strong candidate for the league's Offensive Rookie of the Year honors.

Grimes has been named as the league's Rookie of the Week for the third time this season after his evening's work in the Tribe's win over Northeastern, as he carried the ball 16 times for 130 yards and helped the College grind out 198 total rushing yards.

Also included in his performance against the Huskies were three receptions for 16 yards and four kick returns for an additional 79, giving him 225 all-purpose yards.

With the effort, the Palmyra, N.J., native has now rushed for 100, or more, yards in three of the last five games (vs. UNH, URI and Northeastern) and has gained 90, or more, six times this year. Grimes also had a career-long 67-yard rush against NU in second quarter that set up the team's second touchdown of the contest.

His three Rookie of the Week honors are the most by any league freshman this season.

Inside the Numbers

Grimes's average of 92.1 rushing yards per game ranks fourth in the CAA and is the top freshman mark across the conference and the second highest nationally among all first-year players in the FCS (trailing only Stony Brook's Ed Gowins – 106.00).

Grimes is the conference's leader in all-purpose yardage, compiling an impressive 171.6 yards per game, a figure that places him eighth-nationally. His average is the tops among all freshmen in the FCS.

Grimes's average of 6.0 points per game ties him for fifth in the CAA, while nine total TDs ranks him fifth overall in the league. He is the league's top freshman in both categories.

Did You Know?

In six starts in conference play this season, Grimes has averaged 105.2 yards a contest (114 carries for 631 yards) and has scored five rushing TDs. He is also leading the team in receptions with 34 for 273 yards.

Impressive

Just nine contests into his collegiate career, Grimes has turned in three of the top all-purpose yardage games in school history. His first career start, against Villanova, saw him rack up 324 all-purpose yards, which ranked as the second best single-game effort in school history (the record is 325 yards, set by Komlan Loneragan in 2001 vs. Villanova). One week later, he followed with an equally impressive 282-yard all-purpose afternoon in the team's win at New Hampshire, which ranked fourth in the school's annals. Most recently, the 225 all-purpose yards he put up in the win over Northeastern is the 13th best single-game effort in Tribe history.

The following is a complete list of the top 15 all-purpose yardage games in W&M history:

1.	325	Komlan Loneragan	11/24/2001	vs. Villanova
2.	324	Jonathan Grimes	10/4/2008	vs. Villanova
3.	296	Dominique Thompson	10/23/2004	at Delaware

10.	240	David Conklin	9/13/1997	at VMI
11.	231	Rich Musinski	9/28/2002	vs. Delaware
12.	226	Mike Sutton	11/5/1983	at Marshall
13.	225	Jonathan Grimes	11/8/2008	vs. Northeastern
14.	219	Komlan Loneragan	10/23/1999	at VMI
15.	217	Komlan Loneragan	11/5/1999	at Rhode Island

Millennium Quest

If Grimes were to average just more than 85 yards a game over the final two contests of the year, he would become the first Tribe back since 1998 to break the 1,000-yard rushing barrier. Hameen Ali was the last back to record the feat for the College, as he collected 1,022 rushing yards in 11 games during the 1998 campaign.

Since Ali's 1,000-yard plus effort, the team's top running total was 944 by Elijah Brooks in 2005 (on 207 carries).

Grimes' 829 yards (on 136 attempts) is the top figure for a W&M freshman tailback (true or redshirt) since Derek Fitzgerald set the school's freshman rushing record in 1992, when he was the team's leading rusher with 865 yards on 175 attempts as a true freshman. Grimes' seven rushing TDs stands as the highest for a Tribe freshman since Jonathan Smith powered for an impressive 13 scores during the Tribe's conference championship season of 2001.

Helping Hand

While Grimes has led the team in rushing in each of the last seven weeks, the Tribe's depth at the position is starting to show. Sophomores Courtland Marriner and Terrence Riggins are gradually working their way back into the offense. Marriner, who missed the first two games of the season after sustaining a pre-season knee injury, turned in his season-best performance at Towson, as he rushed eight times for 52 yards and looks crisp in his cuts. He followed that effort with another solid performance vs. Northeastern, which saw him slash for 43 yards on just five carries. Riggins, who started the year at the top of the position's depth-chart, also missed a pair of games (Villanova and New Hampshire) with an ankle injury and recorded his first carries in four games vs. Towson, rushing for 25 yards on five carries.

With two games remaining, both figure to be heavily involved in the team's successes, as each brings a unique component to the field, as Marriner is arguably the team's fastest player, while Riggins is easily the team's largest back, standing 6-1 and weighing more than 234 pounds. Riggins was extremely effective at the start of the season, as he had a career-best 180-yard performance (on just 15 carries) vs. VMI and a team-best 51 rushing yards against North Carolina State.

Adding further to the mix is the fact that senior DeBrian Holmes has also shrugged off several nagging injuries and is also making a healthy return. Holmes, who has seen limited action in each of the past two weeks, is easily the team's most experienced back and will also likely find more reps coming his way as the team prepares for the final brutal stretch.

Sharing the Ball

The Tribe's currently has five players who have caught 20, or more, passes on the season (compared to just four from all of last year). The group features four players with three, or more, TD catches on the year and has seen a total of six players who have caught at least one TD pass.

Four players have turned in plays of more than 40 yards on the year, while a fifth has a 30-yard catch to his credit.

The last five weeks has seen no less than eight players catch at least one pass in each contest.

When looking at the numbers specifically by position groups, the receivers have been extremely productive, as they have combined to make 92 receptions for 1,479 yards and 16 TDs. The current starting tandem of DJ McAulay (31 grabs for 609 yards) and Chase Hill (32 catches for 355 yards) have combined for 13 TDs and 964 yards.

Mighty McAulay

With senior wide receiver Elliott Mack currently on the sidelines with a knee injury, junior wide out DJ McAulay has become the team's chief big-play threat and seems to be thriving in the role. In his last action, vs. Northeastern, he pulled down three catches for 96 yards, including a 61-yard gain on his first reception of the day, which set up a short Tribe touchdown pass. His second grab covered 26 yards on the team's first drive of the second half set up yet another Tribe TD.

On the year, 12 of McAulay's 31 catches have gone for 20 yards, or more. His current average of 19.6 yds/reception ranks him first on the team and is the top figure in the league among players who have 25, or more, receptions on the year.

While the New Haven, Conn., native didn't reach pay dirt against Northeastern, he has been remarkably efficient in getting into the end zone with eight TD catches on the year. Remarkably, all eight of his scores have come from 17-yards or greater this season, including a season-long 65-yard catch and run for a score at Towson.

His eight TD catches on the season ties him for first in the CAA, while his average of 67.7 yards a game ranks fourth in the conference.

Top of the Hill

Sophomore Chase Hill has been one of the team's more pleasant surprises this season, as the converted quarterback currently is second on the team in catches with 32 (for 355 yards). With his 3-yard TD catch vs. Northeastern, Hill has now caught at least one TD pass in four of the last five games and currently is second on the squad with five on the year.

After making the switch to the position during his redshirt freshman season in 2007, Hill earned a spot as the No. 3 receiver coming into fall and has maximized his opportunity.

He turned in a career afternoon in the team's win at Delaware, as his seven catches were a career high, as were his 105 receiving yards. His highlight came during a crucial fourth-quarter Tribe drive when Phillips found him in stride down the seam of the Delaware defense and he outraced the Blue Hen backfield for a 44-yard score.

Hill also led the team in receptions in the team's win over URI, snatching five passes for 55 yards.

The End All

Junior Rob Varno has quietly emerged as one the league's top pass catching tight ends. He has either led, or tied for the team lead, in catches each of the past two games, including contributing three grabs for 37 yards vs. Northeastern in his last outing. The effort moved his season total to 27 receptions for 310 yards, including three TDs.

His 27 receptions and 310 receiving yards each rank second among conference tight ends (to Scott Sicko of New Hampshire, 36 catches for 416 yards). His three TD grabs ties him for second, behind Sicko's total of seven.

Hands On

True freshman tight end Alex Gottlieb joined Grimes as the only true freshman from the talented 2008 Tribe recruiting class to see playing time this season. Gottlieb, who has seen action in every game since the second week of the season, made his first career catch a memorable one in the win over Rhode Island, as he worked underneath the Rams' coverage and turned a 10-yard pass into a 30-yard gain for the College.

He now has three catches for 55 yards on the year.

Mack-tacular

Despite not having played a snap in the last two games due to a knee injury sustained in the first half of the team's win over Rhode Island, senior returning all-conference wide out Elliott Mack remains the team's fifth leading receiver in catches (25) and second leading receiver in yardage (404), while his average of 16.2 yards a reception is second on the squad among players with more than three catches on the season. His average of 62.2 yds/game currently places him sixth in the conference.

The senior from Irvington, N.J., boasts impressive career totals, as he comes into Saturday's action with 111 catches for 1,818 yards. He now stands just 237 yards from moving into 10th-place on the College's career receiving listing. With a sterling 119-yard, eight-catch performance vs. Delaware earlier this season, Mack currently has five career 100-plus yard receiving games to his credit.

His status for Saturday's action at James Madison remains questionable.

Did You Know?

Mack enters Saturday's contest with 15 scoring grabs for his career, tying him with Kurt Wrigley (1980-82) for 10th on the school's all-time listing. As he moves through the season, literally his every scoring catch will advance him a position on the Tribe's career listing. Next on the chart is former All-American Dominique Thompson, who ended his career with the College with 16 total receiving TDs. (See the complete chart on Page 10 of this release).

Pate's Place

When junior place-kicker Brian Pate's first attempt at Towson (a 41-yard effort) was blown wide right by a strong wind, it broke a string of what had been five straight makes for the native of Fredericksburg, Va. But, true to the outstanding form he has shown all season, Pate has come back and made his last three attempts.

Consistency has been Pate's specialty on the season, as he has been true on 10 of his 12 field goal attempts and hasn't missed an extra point in his 36 conversion attempts.

Pate is the team's leading scorer, with 66 points on the season. He ranks second in the CAA, with an average of 7.3 points a contest, while his average of 1.11 FG/game is currently second in the league.

His 83.3 success rate on field goals is the highest average for any kicker in the conference and he is currently one of only three kickers in the league to not have missed an extra point attempt on the year.

With 19 career field goals to his credit, Pate currently ranks eighth on W&M's all-time listing.

Defensive Notes

Cox Honored as CAA Special Teams Player of the Week

After an outstanding performance on both defense and special teams in the win against Northeastern, senior cornerback Derek Cox was selected as the CAA Special Teams Player of the Week.

Cox returned a punt 89 yards for a touchdown with 13:26 to play in the first quarter and later found the end zone again with a 12-yard interception return for a score midway through the fourth quarter. It was Cox's second pick-six of the season.

It marked the first time a W&M player had returned a punt and interception for a touchdown in the same game. The last Tribe player to accomplish the feat in the same season was current Minnesota Viking Darren Sharper in 1996.

More on Cox's Pick-Sixes

When senior cornerback Derek Cox returned an interception 12 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter of the Tribe's win against Northeastern, it marked the second time this season that he returned a pick for a score. During the fourth quarter of the season opener at N.C. State, he returned an interception 45 yards for a touchdown. The last Tribe player to return two interceptions for a touchdown in one season was Billy Parker in 2002.

Cox's interception versus NU marked the second consecutive game in which he had picked off a pass and increased his season total to four, a figure that ranks tied for third in the conference. Additionally, it raises his career total to nine, which ranks tied for 13th among active FCS players.

Scoring with Defense and Special Teams

In addition to Cox's three non-offensive touchdowns this season, the Tribe has also found the end zone with defense and special teams on three other occasions. Junior safety David Caldwell returned an interception 62 yards for a score against Rhode Island, while he returned a blocked field goal 66 yards for a score versus Norfolk State. True freshman running back Jonathan Grimes found the end zone with a 97-yard kickoff return against Villanova.

The Tribe's three pick-sixes are a single-season school record during the Laycock Era.

Game Notes

Among the Nation's Best

Junior defensive end Adrian Tracy has been simply dominant this season for the Tribe and currently ranks seventh nationally in sacks per game (.94) and tied for ninth in tackles for a loss per game (1.67). The Sterling, Va., native leads the conference in both categories.

Tracy's best performance of the season came in the victory at then-No. 4 New Hampshire when he totaled a career-high 13 tackles with two sacks and three tackles for a loss. The effort marked the second time this season that he has totaled four TFLs in a game.

Tracy has recorded at least a half sack in all but one game this season and now has 17.5 career sacks and 40 TFLs. His career sack total ranks tied for ninth among active FCS players, while his TFL total is 10th.

Stepping Up

While red-shirt freshman linebacker Jake Trantin has played well all season, he has performed especially well since moving from outside linebacker to the middle for injured Josh Rutter. In the three games since making the move to the middle, Trantin has recorded 33 total tackles (25 solo) with an interception, forced fumble and a tackle for a loss.

Trantin currently the top tackler in the CAA among freshmen with 6.8 per contest. The stat ranks 11th among all linebackers in the league.

Caldwell in the CAA Rankings

Junior safety David Caldwell has established himself as one of the CAA's top defensive backs this season. In addition to accounting for a pair of touchdowns (interception return vs. Rhode Island and blocked field goal return vs. Norfolk State), he currently ranks fourth in the conference in tackles among defensive backs with 6.9 per game.

Second Half Defense

The Tribe defense has played well in the second half of the past four contests, allowing an average of just 74 yards of total offense after the break (Towson - 7; Northeastern - 79; Delaware - 83; Rhode Island - 127).

Additionally, the Tribe defense has allowed just 24 total points in the second half of the past four games, an average of just six points per contest.

Much Improved

With the return of nine starters from last year's defensive unit, the Tribe entered 2008 looking to improve upon its performance from a season ago when it allowed nearly 400 yards of total offense per game (225.7 rushing/167.5 passing). Through nine games, W&M has dramatically improved upon those numbers, allowing just 313.22 yards per game (137.33 rushing/175.89 passing). The Tribe currently ranks 28th nationally in total defense and 20th in pass efficiency defense (109.7).

In addition to limiting opponents' yardage this season, the Tribe has also dramatically reduced the number of points it has allowed this season. While the '07 team surrendered a school-record 38.8 points per game, this year's squad is allowing just 21.4 points per game.

Creating Turnovers

The Tribe defensive unit has been incredibly effective in creating turnovers when compared to a year ago. Through nine games, W&M has already caused 20 turnovers, besting its total of 15 from all of last season.

Sharing the Load

While the Tribe's total of 15 interceptions is significant, perhaps even more impressive is the fact that a school-record-tying 10 different players have tallied at least one (the 1990 and 1993 squads also had 10 players with at least one pick).

Getting Into the Backfield

The Tribe defensive unit has been effective stopping the opposition behind the line of scrimmage this season, totaling 62 tackles for a loss for 254 yards. The average of 6.9 TFL for 28.2 yards per game marks a significant improvement from last year's team that averaged 4.5 TFL for 16.2 yards per game.

Sacking the Opposition

The Tribe's sack total is up significantly this season, recording 20 sacks for a loss of 128 yards through eight games. The '07 defensive unit totaled 10 sacks for a loss of 60 yards all of last season.

Early Stops

While the first quarter proved to be the Tribe's worst quarter defensively last season (allowing 12.5 points per game), W&M's defensive unit has been very impressive during the initial 15 minutes of action this year, allowing just 5.0 points per game. The Tribe has held three opponents scoreless in the opening quarter (VMI, Delaware and Towson), while only New Hampshire has scored more than a touchdown.

The Sticks are Staying Put

The Tribe's defense has been effective in limiting the opposition's first downs this season, allowing just 17 per contest. The stat marks significant improvement from last season's team that surrendered 21.9 first downs per contest.

In its season opener at N.C. State, W&M held the Wolfpack without a first down on its first eight possessions. NCSU's initial first down of the contest didn't come until its final possession of the first half, while the Wolfpack managed just 11 first downs during the entire game. The total was lowest allowed by the Tribe since surrendering just seven first downs against Liberty on Sept. 24, 2005. W&M nearly equaled that feat in the wins at Delaware and Towson by holding both opponents to just 12 first downs.

Why to Watch Third Downs

Third down stops played a key role in W&M's four triumphs last season, as the Tribe limited its opponents to a 30.2 percent conversion percentage. Conversely, in the College's seven losses, opponents registered a 49.4 percent success rate on third downs (49-for-99).

Thus far this season, W&M has allowed just 47 conversions on 143 opportunities (32.9 percent). W&M's best efforts have come against N.C. State (2-of-16), Norfolk State (3-of-18) and Towson (2-of-14).

In Case You Missed it ...

It's a Winner

The Tribe's win over Towson secured the program its 19th winning season in head coach Jimmie Laycock's 29 years on campus.

The achievement becomes even more remarkable when considering the program had just seven winning seasons in the previous 30 years (1950 - 1979) prior to his taking control of the program for the 1980 season.

Defensive Dominance at Towson

The Tribe defensive unit posted one of its best performances of the season in the victory at Towson. Below is a list of defensive highlights from the triumph.

- W&M limited Towson to just 12 first downs, marking the third time this season that the Tribe has limited an opponent to 12 first downs or less (N.C. State - 11, Delaware -12); Towson recorded just two first downs in the second half.
- W&M held Towson to just 43 yards rushing on 23 carriers (1.9 yards per carry), marking the first time the College has held an opponent to less than 50 yards on the ground since Liberty managed negative six yards on Sept. 24, 2005.
- The College recorded a pair of second half interceptions, increasing the team's total to 14 this season.
- The Tribe limited the Tigers to 2-of-14 on third downs conversions.
- W&M held TU to just seven total yards in the second half, including negative 14 yards rushing.
- Towson managed negative four yards of total offense in the third quarter.
- W&M only allowed Towson into the red zone once and held the Tigers scoreless on that possession.
- Of Towson's 238 yards of total offense, 89 yards came on just two plays; excluding those plays, W&M held Towson to just 149 yards on 54 plays (2.8 yards per play).
- Towson totaled a time of possession of just 8:59 in the second half.

Alvarado Makes His Mark

Sophomore safety Michael Alvarado had a big part in the Tribe's dominant defensive effort in the win at Towson, as he recorded a key interception in the fourth quarter. The pick allowed W&M to take over on the Tigers' 49-yard line and set up a seven-play touchdown drive that helped seal the College's victory. The interception was Alvarado's second of the season, as he also registered key pick in the victory at then-No. 4 New Hampshire.

Trantin Honored as CAA Rookie of the Week

After an outstanding performance in the homecoming win against Rhode Island, redshirt freshman linebacker Jake Trantin was selected as the CAA Rookie of the Week. Making his first career start at middle linebacker (after starting each of the previous six games at outside linebacker), Trantin garnered rookie of the week distinction after recording a game-high and career-best 13 tackles (nine solo) versus the Rams. The Severn, Md., native also registered an interception, forced fumble and a tackle for a loss. The interception, which was the first of his career, came in the end zone and halted a URI scoring opportunity.

Trantin currently ranks fourth on the team in tackles (41) and is tied for second on the squad with 5.5 tackles for a loss.

Pick-Six ... Again

Junior safety David Caldwell's 62-yard interception for a touchdown during the fourth quarter at Rhode Island marked the second time this season that a Tribe player has returned a pick for a touchdown. Senior cornerback Derek Cox returned an interception 45 yards for a score during the fourth quarter at N.C. State.

Francks Records First Career INT

Making just his second start of the season, sophomore linebacker Evan Francks recorded the first interception of his career when he picked off Rhode Island quarterback Derek Cassidy in the first quarter of last Saturday's game. In addition to his interception, Francks finished the afternoon with six tackles.

Homecoming

With the win against URI, the College recorded victories on three-straight Homecoming weeks this season, as the Tribe spent the previous two weeks as both New Hampshire and Delaware's Homecoming opponents.

Rutter Honored as CAA Defensive Player of the Week

After an outstanding performance in William and Mary's 27-3 victory at Delaware, senior linebacker Josh Rutter was selected as the Colonial Athletic Association Defensive Player of the Week on Oct. 20. The honor marked the second time this season that a Tribe player earned the award, as junior defensive end Adrian Tracy garnered the distinction following the win against Norfolk State.

Rutter led the College with eight total tackles (four solo) and recorded a career-high three tackles for a loss. The Union Bridge, Md., native also had a key interception late in the third quarter.

Phillips Fabulous

Phillips led a Tribe offense that racked up 27 points and 456 yards against a Delaware defense that entered the game allowing just 18.0 pts and 311.00 yards a game by passing for 338 yards on 26 completions in 38 attempts. On the afternoon, Phillip' threw for one TD, a 44-yard fourth-quarter connection, and also scored on a one-yard touchdown run.

The game stood as Phillips second-straight 300-plus yard afternoon, accounting for 648 passing yards in the two contests.

Notes on the No. 300

Earlier this season, the William and Mary offense produced a 300-yard passer on three-straight weekends. Starting with the team's loss to Villanova in week four, junior reserve R.J. Archer started in place of an injured Phillips and used his right arm to produce a 307-yard afternoon. Coupled with Phillips' 300-yard effort of his own the following week at New Hampshire, it marked the first time in the team's 110-plus year football history that two different quarterbacks produced 300-yard passing efforts on back-to-back weeks.

With Phillips' 338-yard passing afternoon against Delaware in week six, the Tribe offense has now produced a total of 57 individual 300-yard passing afternoons in the 29 seasons Laycock has been at the helm of the program. Only twice during Laycock's tenure has the same season seen two different Tribe quarterbacks turn the trick (with the last time coming during the 1997 season, when regular season starter - and eventual multiple time All-American - Mike Cook fired for 352 yards at Georgia Southern and was injured in the next game, vs. VMI. His eventual replacement, Steve Fill, went for 300 in the team's win against James Madison later that same season).

Good Company

By throwing for 310 yards (at New Hampshire) and 338 (vs. Delaware) on consecutive weeks, Phillips became the first Tribe quarterback to break the 300-yards passing mark on back-to-back weeks since Lang Campbell achieved the feat in the last two games of the 2004 season (throwing for 342 yards vs. Delaware and 315 yards vs. JMU in the quarter and semi-finals of the NCAA Playoffs).

Big Win

The 24-point margin of victory in the Tribe's 27-3 win at Delaware tied the 1994 squad (31-7) for the most lopsided win over the Blue Hens in school history. It was far and away the largest margin for the Tribe in a win in Newark, more than doubling the previous best of 10 set by the 1990 squad (22-12).

One has to go back to the 2005 season to find the last time W&M had defeated any conference opponent by a wider margin (a 44-13 win over Towson).

Nearly a Shutout at Delaware

By limiting Delaware to just three points, the Tribe nearly recorded the program's first shutout against a conference opponent since the 1995 season when it held New Hampshire scoreless.

Delaware's only points of the contest came on a 32-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter. That lone scoring drive covered just three yards, however, as it took possession on W&M's 18 yard line when it recovered a punt that bounced off David Caldwell's helmet.

Ending an Impressive Streak

W&M's impressive defensive performance at Delaware ended the Blue Hens' 116 home game streak of scoring at least one touchdown. UD was last held without a touchdown at home during the 1990 season in a 17-3 loss to Massachusetts.

More Impressive Notes from Delaware

In addition to holding Delaware without a touchdown, the Tribe defense also posted a number of other impressive stats in the victory against the Blue Hens . . .

- W&M limited UD to just 145 yards of total offense, the fewest allowed by the program since Liberty registered 145 total yards in 2005.
- The Tribe held Delaware to just 12 first downs, the second fewest posted by an opponent this season (N.C. State - 11)
- W&M forced a season-high 10 punts
- By limiting the Blue Hens to just 45 yards passing, it marked the second time this season that the defense held an opponent to less than 50 yards through the air (VMI - 25 yards).
- In addition to stopping UD's passing attack, W&M was also effective against the run, allowing just 2.5 yards per carry.
- W&M totaled season highs with four sacks and 11 tackles for a loss; the TFL total marked the most by W&M since registering 12 against Richmond in 2004

Stover Records First Career Sack at Delaware

With Delaware facing a third-and-12 on its first offensive series of the game, sophomore defensive tackle Mike Stover earned his first career sack by tackling UD quarterback Robby Schoenhoft four yards behind the line of scrimmage. Stover finished the game with a career-high 1.5 tackles for a loss and four total tackles.

Phillips Honored

After an outstanding performance in the 38-34 victory at then-No. 4 New Hampshire, Tribe senior returning all-conference quarterback Jake Phillips was named as the Colonial Athletic Association Offensive Player of the Week (for the week ending Oct. 12th).

Phillips completed 30-of-40 passes for 310 yards and four touchdowns en-route to helping the Tribe rally back from a 21-7 halftime deficit against UNH. Phillips was particularly effective in the second half, completing 20-of-27 passes for 222 yards and three touchdowns. The Warm Springs, Va., native's highlight of the day came in the contest's waning minutes when he helped engineer an 11-play, 72-yard drive that culminated in a 17-yard game-winning touchdown pass to junior wide receiver D.J. McAulay with 22 seconds remaining.

Game Notes

Looking Back to UNH

William and Mary's 38-34 win vs. then fourth-ranked UNH marks the highest-ranked team the Tribe has defeated since beating then-No. 1 UNH in 2005. The win was also the Tribe's first versus a ranked team since beating then-No. 21 Towson, 29-28, in 2006. The win also snapped W&M's six-game losing streak versus FCS ranked teams.

Big Day

In the team's upset of then fourth-ranked New Hampshire, Grimes established a W&M true freshman record with 144 rushing yards on a then career-high 23 carries vs. UNH [a total he has since bested with a 25 tote effort vs. Delaware]. His total was the most for a Tribe true frosh since Derek Fitzgerald ran for 137 in the last game of the 1992 season (vs. Richmond).

Grimes ended the game with 37 total touches (23 rushes, a team-high eight receptions and six kickoff returns) and 282 all purpose yards (144 rushing, 47 receiving and 91 return yards).

In the New Hampshire game, Grimes' fourth-quarter, 56-yard touchdown run stands as his career long run, and is the team's longest rush from scrimmage this season. It is the longest TD run for the team since the 2002 season, when Steven Hargrove found pay dirt at the end of a 50-yard run vs. VMI.

Grimes also had a team and career high eight receptions on the afternoon vs. UNH (for 47 yards).

Fred Johnson Comes Up Big at New Hampshire

Junior cornerback Fred Johnson posted one of the best efforts of his career in the win at then-No. 4 New Hampshire, as he totaled a career-high 10 tackles (seven solo) and his first career interception. His pick came in the waning seconds of the contest when he intercepted R.J. Toman on a long pass to end New Hampshire's comeback bid.

A Key Interception

Sophomore safety Michael Alvarado made his first career interception at a crucial point in the win at then-No. 4 New Hampshire. Already ahead, 14-7, the Wildcats chose to go for a fourth-and-goal from the one-yard line with hopes of extending their lead to two touchdowns. However, Alvarado intercepted R.J. Toman's pass in the end zone to deny UNH and keep W&M within a score.

Making the Most of an Opportunity

Making his first start of the season in the win at then-No. 4 New Hampshire, sophomore Linebacker Evan Francks made the most of the opportunity. The Medford, N.J., native equaled a career high with 10 total tackles and established a career high with eight solo stops.

Ready R.J.

Junior quarterback R.J. Archer proved to be more than a capable stand-in for injured senior starter Jake Phillips (foot) against Villanova on Oct. 4. Archer strung together impressive numbers, passing for 307 yards on 21 completions in 37 in pass attempts. The strong effort included a 44-yard touchdown strike to Elliot Mack in the second half. The lone blemish came at the end of the game when Archer's deep ball was intercepted with just 1:20 remaining. Archer also showed a nose for the end zone as a ball carrier, as he provided two scores with his feet on runs of one and three yards.

The 6-2, 220-pound product of Earlysville, Va. was moved to the position last spring because of his athleticism and arm strength, and both were clearly on display against the 14th-ranked Wildcats. After completing three of his first four pass attempts to open the game, Archer hit a rough-patch, completing only five of his next 14 attempts in finishing the first half with 75 passing yards on eight completions in 18 attempts. But he came out in the second half with all guns blazing, including leading a three-play, 75-yard drive on the Tribe's opening possession of the third quarter. Archer connected on tosses of 21, 10 and 44-yards and put the squad in the end zone in just :41 seconds. He kept the hot-hand over the remaining 30 minutes of play, completing 13 of 19 attempts for 232 yards.

Prior to the game against Villanova, Archer had seen limited action in all three games of the season, but had only attempted nine passes (with four completions) for 49 yards.

With Archer's touchdown pass to Mack, he now has throw for two career touchdowns (the first coming in the season opener against N.C. State).

Interesting

Archer's 307-yard performance was the most for a William and Mary quarterback making his first career collegiate start for the College since eventual All-American and multiple time first-team all-conference selection Mike Cook fired for 313 yards in his 1996 debut in the team's season-opener at Central Florida.

The Tribe record for passing yards in the first career start is held by Stan Yagiello, who put together a 414-yard performance against Miami of Ohio in the first game of the 1982 season. The most recent first-time starter to throw for 300-yards came during the 1997 season, when Steve Fill threw for an even 300-yards in the team's 38-25 win over James Madison. That afternoon saw Fill make his first career start for an injured Mike Cook. Cook was hurt during the season's second game (at VMI) and was replaced in the next game by then redshirt freshman Daron Pope. Pope started the next two games, before succumbing to injuries himself.

Record Breaking

With the 307-yard plus passing performance, Archer now has become the first player in school history to have a 300-yard passing game and a 100-yard receiving afternoon to his credit. Archer, who had played 22-straight games at receiver for the College coming into this season, went over the 100-yard mark in receiving yards in the Tribe's upset of then 21st-ranked Towson in 2006 when he had six grabs for 122 yards.

Also, he is one of the select few to have a career touchdown pass, reception and rushing touchdown to his credit. The last player to claim the feat was all-conference tailback Elijah Brooks (2004-06), who finished his three-year Tribe career with 22 rushing TDs, two receiving scores and one TD pass (he completed a half-back pass for six yards in the team's win over Towson in 2006).

For the record, current Tribe running backs coach David Corley, Jr., became one of two Tribe players (the other being Bernie Marrazzo) to complete the feat in a single game, when he turned in a running, throwing and a receiving touchdown in the team's Homecoming win over Maine on Oct. 30, 1999.

Opportunity Knocks

Grimes rise up the depth chart was started in the season's fourth week, when he made his first career start at tailback vs. Villanova for sophomore Terrence Riggins, who was injured during the Norfolk State contest (and missed the following two games, until returning to a limited role vs. Delaware). The freshman stepped-up to the challenge and set a true-freshman school record of 324 total yards against the Wildcats by rushing for 58 yards and racking up freshman records for receiving yards (105 on six grabs) and return yards (161 yards on four kick returns).

The outstanding effort earned him national honors, as he was selected as the Sports Network's National Special Teams Player of the Week (for week ending Oct. 5) and was named as the Colonial Athletic Association's Rookie and Special Teams Player of the Week. He has now been named as the league's outstanding rookie on two separate occasions this season, with the other time being in the Tribe's win over VMI on Sept. 13.

Included in Grimes' afternoon against Villanova was a 51-yard scamper on a screen pass from R.J. Archer in the fourth quarter, which set up a Tribe score. On special teams, he electrified Zable Stadium with a 97-yard kickoff return for the team's first touchdown of the day, and the Tribe's first kickoff return for a score since Steven Cason blazed 92 yards to pay dirt with the opening kick of the team's 2005 upset of then No. 1 ranked New Hampshire. He also contributed a 35-yard run on the team's second play for scrimmage.

In the team's win over Norfolk State, Grimes' racked up 71 yards on just nine carries. Grimes ran for a score and contributed a receiving touchdown in the contest. Grimes earned the league's Rookie of the Week honors for his strong performance against VMI, where he powered for 97 rushing yards and scored two TDs on just five carries, contributed two receptions for 15 yards and returned a kick for 24 yards.

Irony or Coincidence?

The last Tribe player to accumulate more all-purpose yards in a single game than Jonathan Grime's effort versus Villanova was Komlan Loneragan, who rang up 325 all-purpose yards in the team's league-title clinching victory against the Wildcats in 2001. Loneragan had 143 rushing yards, 163 kickoff return yards and 20 receiving yards in helping the College earn a 47-44 win against the Wildcats. Loneragan's afternoon included a 75-yard run and a 78-yard kickoff return.

Rutter's Big Effort vs. Villanova

Senior linebacker Josh Rutter led the Tribe defensively against Villanova, nearly equaling a career high with 15 total tackles. Additionally, he established a career high with 12 solo stops and equaled a career high with 1.5 TFL, including a sack.

Block That Kick

W&M's special teams unit came up big versus Villanova. In addition to Jonathan Grimes' 97-yard kickoff return for a touchdown, the College blocked a pair of kicks. Sophomore Michael Alvarado blocked a second quarter field goal attempt, while junior Sheldon Alexander got his hands on a punt in the fourth quarter.

Alvarado's block marked the second consecutive game in which the Tribe blocked a field goal, as Adrian Tracy rejected an attempt versus Norfolk State that was returned 66 yards by David Caldwell for a touchdown.

Hyde Records First Career Sack

Redshirt freshman defensive end Marcus Hyde registered his first career sack in the third quarter versus Villanova when he tackled VU's quarterback six yards behind the line of scrimmage.

Tracy Garners CAA Defensive Player of the Week Honors

After an outstanding performance in William and Mary's 42-12 victory against Norfolk State, junior defensive end Adrian Tracy was selected as the Colonial Athletic Association Defensive Player of the Week (for the week ending Sept. 20).

A force on the defensive line, Tracy registered a team-high six tackles versus the Spartans. Additionally, he tallied four tackles for a loss, 1.5 sacks and a blocked field goal, which was returned 66 yards for a touchdown by junior safety David Caldwell.

Forcing Turnovers

The Tribe defensive unit came up big in the win against Norfolk State, as it forced the Spartans into five turnovers (four interceptions/one fumble recovery). Sophomore cornerback Ben Cottingham accounted for the fumble recovery and one interception, while senior Derek Cox, senior David Houff and junior Robert Livingston all picked off passes.

With the interceptions, Cox and Houff both increased their season total to two, as both DBs picked off passes in the season opener at N.C. State.

After missing the first two contests due to an injury, Livingston wasted little time making an impact as his interception came in his first action of the season.

A Special Play

Perhaps the biggest play in the win against NSU came on special teams during the final minute of the first half when junior Adrian Tracy blocked NSU's 50-yard field goal attempt and junior David Caldwell returned it 66 yards for a touchdown, putting W&M ahead, 21-3.

Prior to the big play against NSU, the Tribe's last special teams touchdown off a block came during the 1996 season when Sean McDermott (now the defensive backs coach for the Philadelphia Eagles) returned a blocked punt 12 yards for a touchdown at Rhode Island.

Big Returns for Cox

In addition to recording a pair of interceptions this season, senior all-conference cornerback Derek Cox has returned the picks for an average of 39.5 yards. Cox returned an interception 45 yards for a touchdown at N.C. State, while he returned his pick against Norfolk State 34 yards.

Stopping Branche

Although Norfolk State's top running back, DeAngelo Branche, entered the contest against W&M ranked 19th nationally with 106.33 yards rushing per game, the Tribe defensive unit limited him to just 30 yards on 12 carries (2.5 yards per carry). In the preceding week, Branche piled up 180 yards on the ground versus North Carolina A&T.

W&M's effort against Branche marked the second time this season that the Tribe defense had shut down an opponent's leading rusher, as N.C. State's Andre Brown totaled just 43 yards on 17 carries (2.5 yards per carry). Brown ranked 11th on NCSU's all-time list for rushing yards and was coming off a 101-yard effort in the previous contest against South Carolina.

Special Teams Impact

Sophomore Kyle O'Brien made a significant impact on special teams in the win against Norfolk State, registering four total tackles on kickoff coverage. For his effort, O'Brien was selected as the W&M Quarterback Club Special Teams Player of the Week.

Honored

True Freshman Jonathan Grimes earned the Colonial Athletic Association's Rookie of the Week honors (for games ending Sept. 13) by rushing for 97 yards and two scores on just five carries vs. VMI. Grimes scored on runs of 29 and 12 yards on the evening, while averaging a gaudy

19.4 yards a carry. The talented Palmyra, NJ native also displayed an all-around game, as he contributed two catches for 15 yards and was outstanding in his pass protection responsibilities.

Getting in a Groove

After throwing interceptions on two of his first three passes against VMI, Phillips settled down and threw nine consecutive pass completions for 126 yards and two touchdowns.

He ended the evening with 172 yards and three TDs, completing 13 of his 18 attempts. The returning all-conference signal caller also rushed for an additional score and 49 yards.

Did You Know?

Riggins 53-yard rush versus VMI was one of three runs over 30 yards on the evening for the Tribe. All three would have stood as the team's season-long run in 2007 (as Phillips 30-yard rush was the team-high)

Taking it one step further, prior to the game with VMI the College hadn't had a back run for more than 30 yards from scrimmage since the 2004 season (when Elijah Brooks broke off a 56 yard run vs. Hampton University in the NCAA Playoffs, First Round).

Caldwell Comes Up Big vs. VMI

Junior safety David Caldwell posted an outstanding effort in the win against VMI, leading the team with 10 tackles (four solo). The Montclair, N.J., native also forced a fumble, recovered a fumble and registered a tackle for a loss.

First Career Sacks

Junior defensive tackle Daniel Pulley registered his first career sack when he tackled VMI quarterback Tim Maypray for a nine-yard loss on the final play of the third quarter.

Redshirt freshman linebacker Jake Trantin also tallied his first career half sack when he and junior defensive end Adrian Tracy tackled Maypray for an eight-yard loss on the contest's first play from scrimmage.

Following an FBS Game

In five out of the last six years, the first game following a loss to an FBS opponent has resulted in a Tribe victory. This season, the Tribe bounced back from a loss at N.C. State to defeat VMI.

Longstanding

With Sparky Woods taking over the Keydet program for the departed Jim Reid in 2008, Jimmie Laycock has now faced nine different head coaches at the VMI program since he first faced off against the squad in 1980 (29 years).

Taking it one step further, with Rhode Island and Richmond bringing new leaders to the side-lines for 2008, he will now have faced off against 26 different head coaches in his 15-years of league play (since first joining the conference in 1993).

Another Streak Worth Noting

In addition to extending its winning streak against VMI to 23 games earlier this season, the Tribe extended its regular season non-conference home winning streak to seven. The Tribe extended that streak to eight games with the victory against Norfolk State the following weekend.

What a Difference . . .

. . . A year makes. Last season, the College's final two-deep of its top 44 players showed over half (24) as either freshmen or sophomores. The defense had 12 first or second year players, while the offense also had the same amount, including a pair freshman tailbacks and five first-year players filling the top six wide receiver positions. Defensively, only three seniors even took a snap during the entire season. By contrast, this year, the College opened with nine returning starters on both sides of the ball. Of these 18 returning starters, 14 are either juniors or seniors.

Did You Know?

William and Mary Head Coach Jimmie Laycock is 19-9, all-time, in home openers. The Tribe snapped a two-game skid with the 52-17 win against VMI earlier this season.

Comments From Monday's CAA Football Coaches Conference Call:

Q: Was it nice to see the team come out and play better in the first half this week and not need to rally back from a halftime deficit?

A: It certainly was. I thought we played pretty well. We had some nice plays. We probably had more big plays in this game than maybe we've had for a while. With Derek's punt return as well as his interception return. We also had the long throw to D.J., and Jonathan Grimes had a long run. We had some really nice plays, and we had some players who stepped up and did real well. It was a very physical game against Northeastern. They're obviously a good team, much better than their record would indicate.

Q: Talk about the play of senior cornerback Derek Cox.

A: Derek's gotten better every year that he's been here in the program. He has been a good solid player for the entire time he has been here. He works, like a lot of our players, to get better. He's a very, very good defensive back, a very complete corner. He's good on punt returns too. Elliott Mack had been returning punts, but since he went down with his injury Derek has stepped in and done a good job. As a cornerback, he is pretty complete. He can play the run, and he can play the pass. He can do just about anything you want done out there at corner.

Q: What are the keys to the team's improved rushing attack this season?

A: We've put emphasis on it, and our offensive line has gotten better. We also have a really good running back in Jonathan Grimes. All those things come into play. It's always been something we've wanted to do. When we've had our better teams, we've been well balanced between the run and the pass. It's something we continue to strive to do, and having Jonathan in there really gives us an added dimension.

Q: Talk about what it means to play meaningful games in November.

A: It's obviously something I think all teams strive to do. The more you win, the more meaningful the games are. Fortunately, we've put together a few wins here, and now we've gotten a little run going so games are certainly more important. There's a big one coming with JMU. They are an outstanding team. They're very good in a lot of areas, and it's going to be a challenge for us but I hope our players are ready to prepare for that challenge.

Q: Talk about JMU quarterback Rodney Landers and the problems he presents for opposing teams.

A: He's a very experienced quarterback who knows their offense and makes very good decisions. He's an outstanding runner. He's very much improved as a passer, and he's a complete quarterback who really makes them go. He's a premier player.

Q: What were your first impressions of Jonathan Grimes? Did you see his potential?

A: He was a good-looking running back, but we had some other running backs who were ahead of him because of experience. We were going to go with those guys instead of him. And then when they got hurt, we had to get him ready and he took off with it.

Q: Were you worried when your running backs were getting hurt earlier in the season?

A: Sure, I was worried, but you never know what was going to happen when you play a freshman, even though he may look very good in practice. I'm a little hesitant about committing all the way to a true freshman, but when we started getting some guys we had to. Our running backs coach David Corley has been around and he was really high on Jonathan. We plugged him in and he played very well from the beginning and has continued to play well.

Q: Was there a moment when you could relax and say, "OK, we trust this guy?"

A: I think it was before we started playing him. Once he started getting into full rotation in practice, he was doing things exceptionally well. He was picking up on things. He wasn't making mistakes in protection. He was doing things like you'd want. I don't think there was a particular spot in any game or anything that stood out, but practice-wise it did.

Q: Talk about the impact the improved defense this season.

A: We've improved there, but we're still working at it. We didn't play as well as we needed to during the first half Saturday night. We certainly had a better second half. The play of our defensive line has been much improved. Our secondary is solid and our linebackers are settling in there without Josh Rutter. We've got some players who have experience and have gotten better. When we play fast on defense, we give ourselves a chance.

Q: Any idea when Josh Rutter and Elliott Mack will be back?

A: No, I don't know yet. Right now we're just kind of going day to day.

Q: Do you feel better about your chances against JMU this year as opposed to previous seasons?

A: There's a reason while they're ranked No. 1 in the nation. They're a very, very good football team. They're well rounded, they play fast, they play hard, they're well-coached, and they deserve to be No. 1 in the nation – there's no question about that. They've also shown the ability to win in close games and in tough situations. That's a mark of a very good team.

Q: Talk about the performance of senior quarterback Jake Phillips.

A: The fact that he's moved up on the career record lists here at William and Mary is impressive. He's in some pretty good company with the quarterbacks we've had over the years. I think Jake can stack up with any of them. His leadership has been very important to our team. He also has a lot of talent and toughness. He has been an integral part of our program and a big part of the success we've had this year.

GAME	William & Mary 24 N.C. State 34
1	Sept. 6, 2008 Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, N.C.

RALEIGH, N.C. (9/6/08) -- William and Mary outscored North Carolina State, 24-20, in the second half but fell to the Wolfpack in its season opener, 34-24.

Junior wide receiver D.J. McAulay led the Tribe with a pair of touchdown grabs and finished the evening with a game-high six catches for 99 yards, while senior all-conference cornerback Derek Cox also provided a score with a 45-yard interception return for a touchdown.

As a unit, the Tribe defense limited N.C. State to just 67 yards on the ground and held the Wolfpack to just 11 first downs.

A interception by senior safety David Houff on the games initial series put the Tribe inside NCSU's 20 yard line, but W&M was unable to put any points up when freshman running back Jonathan Grimes lost a fumble.

Although the College trailed 14-0 at the half, W&M outgained NCSU in total yards, 103-79, and controlled the time of possession by more than three minutes. Additionally, the Tribe defense surrendered just three first downs, all of which occurred on the Wolfpack's final possession of the half.

The Tribe put up its first points of the game on the initial series of the second half when junior Brian Pate connected on a 43-yard field goal. Senior quarterback Jake Phillips completed 3-of-4 passes on the drive and had a pair of rushes for 14 yards to help set up the score.

Following a NCSU touchdown, W&M answered with a six-play, 77-yard drive that culminated in a 30-yard touchdown strike from Jake Phillips to McAulay.

While NCSU extended its lead to 34-10, W&M scored a pair of touchdowns late in the fourth quarter as Derek Cox returned an interception 45 yards for a score and backup quarterback R.J. Archer found McAulay open in the end zone during the final minute of play.

GAME	William & Mary 52 VMI 17
2	Sept. 13, 2008 Zable Stadium • Williamsburg, Va.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (9/13/08) -- The Tribe earned its 23rd consecutive victory against Virginia Military Institute with a 52-17 win in its home opener at Zable Stadium.

W&M piled up 570 yards of total offense, including 398 yards on the ground. Additionally, the College's defense limited the Keydets to just 25 yards passing and 13 first downs.

Sophomore running back Terrence Riggins led W&M's ground attack with a career-high 180 yards on 15 carries (12.0 yards per rush), while true freshman running back Jonathan Grimes scored a pair of touchdowns and rushed for 97 yards on five carries (19.4 yards per rush).

Senior quarterback Jake Phillips threw for three touchdowns and finished the contest completing 13 of his 18 passes for a game-high 172 yards. The Warm Springs, Va., native also accounted for a rushing touchdown and totaled 49 yards on the ground on four carries.

Junior tight end Rob Varno, senior wide receiver Elliott Mack and junior wide out D.J. McAulay all hauled in a touchdown receptions for the Tribe.

After turning the ball over on its first two possessions, the Tribe scored the contest's initial points when Grimes earned his first-career touchdown with a 29-yard run late in the first quarter.

Following a VMI turnover, Phillips completed a 21-yard touchdown pass to Varno in the right side of the end zone that put W&M ahead, 14-0, with 13:28 showing in the second quarter.

Both teams added field goals late in the first half.

The Tribe put the game away with a pair of touchdowns in the opening 1:26 of the second half, as Grimes scored on a 12-yard scamper and Phillips recorded a 19-yard touchdown run.

W&M's final two scores came via an 11-yard touchdown pass from Phillips to Mack and an 11-yard touchdown run by sophomore running back Tom Schonder late in the fourth quarter.

GAME	William & Mary 42 Norfolk State 12
3	Sept. 20, 2008 Zable Stadium • Williamsburg, Va.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (9/20/08) -- Senior all-conference quarterback Jake Phillips threw four touchdown passes and the William and Mary defensive unit forced five turnovers to power the Tribe to a 42-12 victory against Norfolk State on Sept. 20 in front of 10,152 fans at Zable Stadium.

True freshman running back Jonathan Grimes scored a pair of touchdowns for the second consecutive week, rushing for one and collecting a reception for the other score.

Junior wide out D.J. McAulay hauled in two touchdown receptions and finished the contest with three catches for a game-high 80 yards. Senior returning all-conference wide receiver Elliott Mack also had a touchdown reception and registered four catches for 63 yards.

In addition to causing five turnovers, the College's defensive unit limited the Spartans to just 219 total yards (3.1 yards per play), including just 97 through the air. Additionally, W&M held NSU to just 11 first downs and allowed just three third-down conversions on 18 attempts.

After forcing the Spartans to a three-and-out on the contest's opening possession, the Tribe marched 74 yards on six plays for a touchdown to take an early 7-0 lead. Sophomore Terrence Riggins began the series with a 17-yard run and Grimes later punctuated the scoring drive with a 38-yard touchdown run down the left sideline.

After NSU got on the scoreboard with a field goal later in the quarter, W&M answered with a touchdown when Grimes scored on a 20-yard pass from Phillips to go ahead, 14-3.

W&M increased its lead in the final minute of the first half when junior David Caldwell returned a blocked 50-yard field goal attempt 66 yards for a touchdown.

McAulay and Mack hauled in touchdown passes from Phillips during the first part of the third quarter to help push W&M's lead to 35-3.

The Tribe added its final score later in the quarter when Phillips hit McAulay on a 22-yard touchdown pass.

GAME	William & Mary 28 No. 14/16 Villanova 38
4	Oct. 4, 2008 Zable Stadium • Williamsburg, Va.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (10/4/08) -- William and Mary and No. 14/16 Villanova combined for 66 points and 824 yards of total offense, but the Tribe fell to the Wildcats, 38-28, in its conference opener.

Making his first career start, junior quarterback R.J. Archer stepped in for an injured Jake Phillips and threw for 307 yards and a touchdown. He also recorded a pair of touchdown runs. True freshman tailback Jonathan Grimes was outstanding yet again, as he accounted for a school-true freshman record 324 total yards, including 105 receiving yards and 161 returns yards. The featured part of Grimes' afternoon was his 97-yard kick return for a score near the end of the first half.

After Villanova raced out to a 35-0 lead late in the first half, Grimes big return with less than a minute left in the second quarter made the score 35-7 at the break.

After forcing VU to a three-and-out on the first possession of the second half, W&M answered with a 75-yard touchdown drive that lasted just three plays and 41 seconds. The drive culminated in a 44-yard touchdown pass from Archer to senior Elliott Mack.

Neither team scored during the remainder of the third quarter, but the Tribe found the end zone again early in the fourth quarter when Archer capped a slick eight-play, 52-yard march with a three-yard touchdown run.

While VU added a field goal midway through the fourth quarter to increase its lead to 38-21, W&M responded with another touchdown run by Archer with 4:20 remaining in the contest.

After forcing Villanova to punt on its next possession, the Tribe took over on its own 34 yard line with 2:00 remaining. However, Archer's only interception of the contest ended the College's comeback bid.

GAME	William & Mary 27 Delaware 3
6	Oct. 18, 2008 Delaware Stadium • Newark, Del.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (10/11/08) -- William and Mary scored on its first five possessions of the second half (four touchdowns/one field goal), and senior quarterback Jake Phillips' 17-yard go-ahead touchdown pass to junior wide receiver D.J. McAulay with 22 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter helped lift the Tribe to a 38-34 victory at No. 4 New Hampshire in the Wildcats' homecoming game.

Phillips registered four touchdown passes and completed 30 of his 40 attempts for 310 yards, while true freshman running back Jonathan Grimes finished with a true-freshman record 144 yards rushing (on 23 attempts) and a touchdown (coming on a 56-yard run).

Trailing 34-31 with 4:34 remaining, the Tribe began its game-winning drive on its own 28 yard line. Phillips was intercepted on a third-and-long early in the drive, but W&M maintained possession when UNH was flagged for roughing the passer. Phillips then converted a pair of third-and-longs with completions to Grimes (10 yards) and Mack (13 yards) around midfield to keep the drive alive. Another 13-yard completion from Phillips to Mack put W&M inside the red zone, and the senior all-conference quarterback connected with McAulay from 17 yards out on the next play to put the Tribe ahead, 38-34, with 22 seconds left.

UNH was unable to mount a quick comeback, as Adrian Tracy sacked quarterback R.J. Toman on first down, and Fred Johnson picked off the sophomore's long pass on the next play.

W&M outscored UNH 31-13 in the second half and dominated the time of possession, 20:44-8:16 after the break. The Tribe also converted on 8-of-10 third downs in the second half, including its only fourth down attempt, while registering 358 yards of total offense in the final two quarters.

NEWARK, Del. (10/18/08) -- For the second consecutive weekend, William and Mary spoiled its opponent's homecoming festivities as it earned a 27-3 victory at Delaware before a crowd of 21,949 at Delaware Stadium.

Senior quarterback Jake Phillips completed 26-of-38 passes for 338 yards with a pair of touchdowns (one passing/one rushing). True freshman running back Jonathan Grimes was the contest's leading rusher and finished with 92 yards on 25 carries and a touchdown. Senior wide receiver Elliott Mack led the team with eight catches for 119 yards, while sophomore Chase Hill tallied seven catches for 105 yards with a touchdown.

The Tribe defense was dominant and limited the Blue Hens to just 145 total yards and 12 first downs. Additionally, the effort snapped UD's 116 home game streak of scoring at least one touchdown.

W&M held UD scoreless in the first half utilized a pair of Brian Pate field goals and a 1-yard touchdown run by Phillips to take a 13-0 lead at halftime.

The College's defense was outstanding in the opening half, limiting the Blue Hens to just 62 total yards and five first downs. Additionally, UD registered just 11 yards passing.

While neither team was able to put any points up in the third quarter, Delaware cut W&M's lead to 13-3 with a 32-yard field goal with 10:50 remaining. However, the Tribe answered with a touchdown on the ensuing possession when Phillips connected with Hill on a 44-yard scoring strike.

W&M tacked on its final touchdown when Grimes scored on a two-yard run with 2:33 left in the contest. The touchdown capped off a nine-play, 93-yard drive that consumed 4:50. It was W&M's second drive of the afternoon that totaled more than 90 yards.

GAME	No. 23 William & Mary 34 Rhode Island 24
7	Oct. 25, 2008 Zable Stadium • Williamsburg, Va.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (10/25/08) -- Junior safety David Caldwell returned a fourth-quarter interception 62 yards for a touchdown to help No. 23 William and Mary pull away for a 34-24 victory against Rhode Island on a rainy homecoming at Zable Stadium.

True freshman tailback Jonathan Grimes posted another outstanding performance, rushing for a game-high 111 yards with a touchdown.

While both teams scored touchdowns on their opening drives, neither squad was able to put any more points up on the board until late in the first half when URI's Louis Feinstein kicked a 40-yard field goal with 1:39 remaining in the second quarter to put the Rams ahead, 10-7.

At the break, the Rams had out gained the Tribe in total offense, 212-115, and controlled the time of possession, 20:05-9:15.

W&M scored a pair of quick touchdowns during the first five minutes of the second half to build a 21-10 advantage. D.J. McAulay provided the first touchdown when Jake Phillips found him with an 18-yard strike, while Courtland Marriner scored the second touchdown with an 8-yard run.

After recovering a punt that bounced off the back of an retreating W&M player, URI narrowed the score with an eight-play, 38-yard drive that ended with a 1-yard touchdown run by Cassidy late in the third quarter.

Trailing by just seven, 24-17, early in the fourth quarter, URI drove inside the Tribe 40-yard line, but safety David Caldwell intercepted a pass by Cassidy and raced 62 yards down the right sideline to give the College a 31-17 cushion with 10:12 left in the game.

W&M later tacked on a field goal and URI scored a late touchdown to narrow the score to 34-24, but the Tribe recovered the Rams' on-side kick attempt and ran out the clock.

GAME	No. 16/19 William & Mary 34 Towson 14
8	Nov. 1, 2008 Unitas Stadium • Towson, Md.

TOWSON, Md. (11/1/08) -- The No. 16/19 William and Mary football team limited Towson to just seven yards of total offense in the second half as it extended its winning streak to four games with a 34-14 victory at Unitas Stadium.

After trailing 14-7 at halftime, the College outscored the Tigers 27-0 following the intermission. In addition to limiting TU to just seven yards of total offense in the final two quarters, W&M also came up with a pair of second half interceptions and recovered a fumble. Offensively, the Tribe totaled 296 yards of total offense in the second half and dominated time of possession, 21:01 to 8:59.

W&M was led by senior quarterback Jake Phillips, who completed 21-of-33 passes for 265 yards and threw three touchdowns. True freshman running back Jonathan Grimes also had a big afternoon and finished the contest with 96 yards rushing on 20 carries with a touchdown.

The Tribe's only score of the first half came on a 65-yard touchdown pass from Phillips to D.J. McAulay on its first possession. TU's scored a pair of second quarter touchdowns, including one on a 44-yard pass from Sean Schaefer to Tommy Breaux with just four seconds left in the half.

W&M scored a pair of touchdowns on its first two possessions of the second half to take a 21-14 lead. The first scored came on a 19-yard pass from Phillips to Chase Hill with 10:54 showing in the third quarter, while Phillips found Rob Varno on a 17-yard scoring strike a little more than a minute later.

Brian Pate added a pair of field goals, coming from 29 and 39 yards, later in the quarter to help the College build a 27-14 advantage.

Following an interception by safety Michael Alvarado, the Green and Gold marched 49 yards on seven plays and scored its final touchdown when Grimes found the end zone from three yards out with 9:20 remaining in the contest.

GAME	<h2>No. 14/16 William & Mary 38</h2> <h2>Northeastern 17</h2>
9
Nov. 8, 2008 Zable Stadium • Williamsburg, Va.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (11/8/08) -- Senior cornerback Derek Cox scored touchdowns on a punt return and an interception return to help the No. 14/16 Tribe extend its winning streak to five games with a 38-17 victory against Northeastern.

Cox's initial touchdown came on an 89-yard punt return early in the first quarter to put W&M ahead, 7-0, while his second score came midway through the fourth quarter when he returned an interception 12 yards to give the Tribe its final touchdown of the evening.

While the Tribe led 21-10 at the intermission, the Huskies had already run 50 plays and out-gained W&M in total offense, 278-169. NU also controlled the time of possession, 23:02-6:58. However, the College's offense was very efficient, averaging 9.9 yards per play. The Tribe defensive unit dominated the second half and held the Huskies to just 79 yards of total offense after the break.

While the Tribe took an early 7-0 lead on Cox's electric punt return less than two minutes into the game, NU tied the score on its ensuing possession with a nine-play, 74-yard drive that ended with a 12-yard touchdown scamper by running back Alex Broomfield.

W&M's final two scores of the half came on a pair of 3-yard touchdown passes from Phillips to Jimmy Hobson and Chase Hill.

The Tribe opened the second half with a touchdown for the third consecutive week when Phillips found the end zone with a 5-yard run to put W&M ahead, 28-10, with 10:59 showing on the clock.

A 35-yard field goal by Brian Pate extended the Tribe's lead to 31-10 late in the third quarter.

While the Tribe defense limited the Huskies to just 34 yards of total offense in the third quarter, NU found the end zone with 13 seconds remaining in the stanza when Broomfield caught a 3-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Anthony Orio.

Cox's 12-yard interception return for a score midway through the fourth quarter sealed the win.
