SPRING NOTES

Crowded

The College ended the 2007 season averaging, 10,699 fans per contest, which was the highest figure for the program since the 1997 season (when the College readjusted its capacity figure for Zable from 15,000 to 13,279 – then reduced further to its current 12,259). It was the second consecutive year the squad had re-set its record under the new configuration.

W&M sold out its final home contest vs. James Madison, announcing a crowd of 12,259. It was the fourth time in five games W&M attracted a five-figure audience. The only exception was the Liberty (9,329) game.

Large crowds have been the norm at Zable over the past three seasons and the sell-out against JMU, was the school's ninth audience in the last 11 home games to breach the 10,000-mark in attendance.

Of the Tribe's top 10 crowds since 1997, seven have occurred over the past two seasons.

In terms of percentage of capacity, the College's average of .873 ranks in the top 25 amongst all FCS schools.

Trending

The Tribe attack returns the services of senior all-conference quarterback Jake Phillips to lead an attack that averaged 29 points and nearly 400 yards of total offense (396.2) a contest in 2007. The team hopes to continue the upward trend started last season, which saw the squad improve radically over the 2006 unit (which produced 'just' 19.0 points and 339.4 yds/contest).

The Tribe faithful have reason for continued optimism, as eight other players return with Phillips from last season's unit, including fellow senior and returning all-conference performer, wide receiver Elliott Mack (Irvington, NJ). Including Mack, the unit returns six of its top seven receivers from a year ago. Sophomore tailback Courtland Marriner (Chesapeake, Va.) was the top rusher from a season ago (518 yards on 115 attempts) and leads a ground game that returns all but 207 yards of the 1,299 total rushing yards from 2007.

With the wealth of skill positions coming back to the fold, much of the attention will fall on the team's offensive front to provide the power behind what promises to be an electric Tribe attack. A solid, experienced foundation is in place between the tackles, as both guards (Michael Grant and CJ Muse) and the center (Luke Hiteshew) return from last season. The team will turn to youth on the bookends, as it will see talented redshirt freshman Jake Marcey and rising sophomore Keith Hill be the top challengers for starting duties. Hill has turned in an impressive spring and will look to build on the experience gained as a key reserve last year.

Showing Improvement

With one full-season in the program under his belt, second-year Tribe defensive coordinator Bob Shoop and his defensive charges has seen consistent improvement during the spring drills session. All signs are pointing towards big upgrade from the unit that surrendered 427 total points in 2007. Returning all-conference cornerback Derek Cox (Greenville, N.C.) is the cornerstone of a secondary that returns all four starters. Cox ended his junior campaign with 51 total tackles and three interceptions. Overall, the unit returns its top nine tacklers from last season, including junior safety David Caldwell (Montclair, NJ), who led the defense with 107 total tackles (61 solo) and had 5.5 tackles for losses. Fellow junior defensive end Adrian Tracy (Sterling, Va.) had team-highs in both sacks (three) and total tackles for loss (9.5) in 2007 and should challenge for national honors this fall. Another solid honors candidate is returning starting middle linebacker Josh Rutter (Union Bridge, Md.), who was the team's second leading tackler last fall with 95 stops. Rutter came into last season somewhat limited by an off-season surgery, but enters the spring at full-speed and will be counted on to be the unit's leader and playmaker. Adding to the optimism has been the stellar spring play of rising junior defensive end CJ Herbert, who has been impressive in camp. Also bolstering hopes has been the improved play of talented young defensive ends Brian Jean-Pierre and Ravi Pradhanang, who would have challenged for game-action as a true freshman last season, if not slowed by injury.

How Young was Young?

Last season, the College's final two-deep of its top 44 players showed over half (24) as either freshman or sophomores. The defense had 12 first or second year players, while the offense also had the same amount, including the two freshmen starting at tailback and a five of the top six wide receivers. Defensively, only three seniors even took a snap during the entire season.

Tough Sledding

Last season the College faced a total of six ranked opponents in its 11 game regular season, including ending the season playing against four-straight. The brutal finish was the first time W&M squared off against four-straight ranked opponents since first joining its current league affiliation in 1993. The College played one of the most-difficult schedules, in terms of overall combined opponent's winning percentage (.604).

Rare

By finishing with a 2-6 mark in the CAA, W&M was saddled with a losing mark in league play for the third consecutive season. Prior to 2005, W&M hadn't posted a single sub-.500 record in league competition in the first 12 seasons as a conference member.

Consistent Success

The W&M Athletics Department showed a Graduation Success Rate (GSR) of 96% among its student-athletes who entered school on athletics scholarships in the 2000-01 athletics year in data recently released by the NCAA.

The national average among all Division I schools was 77%. W&M's average of 96% ranked seventh in the nation, with four departments tied for the top spot with an average of 98%. The Tribe's average was the top in both the CAA and among all Division I Virginia schools.

The Tribe's football program showed a 96% GSR, which puts it well above the national average for the Football Championship Series (FCS) of 65%.

Cornerback Derek Cox (left) and quarterback Jake Phillips (right) each return for their senior season after having earned All-Conference accolades in 2007. Cox will lead a young, but experienced Tribe defense, while Phillips will be at the controls of what should be an explosive Tribe attack.

HEAD COACH JIMMYE LAYCOCK

Jimmye Laycock

Head Coach

29th Season

182-134-2 Career Record

Head coach Jimmye Laycock will enter his 29th season at the helm of the Tribe football program this fall. The winningest coach in William and Mary's history, Laycock has compiled an impressive 182-127-2 record with the Tribe. A 1970 graduate of the College, Laycock has posted 18 winning seasons at W&M and earned postseason berths nine times.

As the architect of what is easily the most extended run of success in William and Mary's 113-year football history, Laycock has never compromised academic standards for athletic success and has steadily built his program into a point of pride for the campus, alumni and community.

Evidence of this is provided in the fact the Tribe has averaged more than 10,000 fans per game at home in each of the last two seasons. W&M drew a total of 53,499 spectators to Zable Stadium in 2007, an average of 10,700 per game, the program's best figure since the 1997 season.

During Laycock's tenure, the fans at Zable have consistently been treated to a winner on the field, as the program's mentor ranks in the top 10 of all active I-AA head coaches in terms of career wins. Laycock is also second among active conference head coaches in career league wins with 71. The Tribe has posted a stellar 168-83-2 (.664) record against I-AA competition under Laycock.

Laycock has made the home turf in Zable Stadium into unfriendly territory for opponents as the Tribe has won 73.8 percent of its games (93-32-1) there in the last 24 years. W&M has turned in seven undefeated regular season home campaigns.

Individual accomplishments under Laycock have been plentiful, as he has also tutored 31 players to 77 All-America honors from the William and Mary ranks and has coached seven Academic All-Americans. Quarterback Lang Campbell is the most decorated of all, as the 2004 season saw him earn the prestigious Payton Award, given annually to the nation's top offensive player in the I-AA ranks, consensus first team All-America honors, as well as the A-10's Offensive Player of the Year and Academic Player of the Year. The Tribe has produced an astounding 136 all-conference selections since 1993.

While no one season can define a career that spans more than two and a half decades, Laycock's 25th year at the top of the Tribe program produced levels of success never before reached at the College.

W&M set a school record for wins (11), won the Atlantic 10 Football Conference's automatic NCAA bid, hosted a NCAA semifinal game before a standing room only crowd at Zable Stadium in front of a national television audience and finished the year with a school record No. 3 final national ranking. Along the way, a bevy of school single-season records fell; total points (486), total yards (6,044) and home wins (seven), to name just a few.

But, none of these achievements spoke more succinctly to Laycock's approach than the program's 100 percent official NCAA graduation-rate report for all student-athletes receiving athletics aid. This showed W&M graduated all of its football players who entered the program as freshmen during the 1997-98 school year. The Tribe not only carried the highest graduation rate in the conference, but also was far and away the top figure of any team ranked in the final national top 25. In fact, W&M is one of only four teams in the entire I-AA top 25 to have a graduation rate of 70 percent, or better.

Laycock is married to Deidre Connelly, a sports psychology consultant at the College. They have three children: Michael (17), Mary Louise (16) and James (14).

Laycock's daughter, Melanie, is a graduate of the University of Virginia and was married this summer.

The Laycock Center

This spring, the football program began moving into the brand new, state-of-the-art 30,000-square foot football complex that bears head coach Jimmye Laycock's name.

The Jimmye Laycock Football Center is located at the northwest corner of the stadium near the Tribe's football practice field at a cost of $11 million. In what could be the most exciting aspect of all, the entire funding of the project will be provided by private gifts.

The center provides a new home for the team and coaches lockers, an athletic training room, an equipment storage area, coaches offices, conference rooms, and administrative support areas – as well as an entrance that will include a Tribe Football Hall of Fame space.

William and Mary 21, Maine 20

Oct. 13 | Orono, Maine | Alford Stadium | 3 p.m.

ORONO, Maine (10/13/07) -- Tony Viola's fourth-quarter touchdown run, and a strong defensive effort in the second half helped William and Mary hang on for a 21-20 victory at Maine.

Jake Phillips passed for 255 yards and two touchdowns, both to Cameron Dohse, and engineered two long second-half scoring drives, but it was Viola's late hard running and the defense limiting Maine to two fourth-quarter field goals that secured the Tribe's second CAA win.

Viola finished with 44 yards rushing with 36 of those yards coming on nine fourth-quarter attempts. Viola's 3-yard run with 11:13 remaining capped a 90-yard, 13-play drive that gave W&M its first lead, 21-14.

Maine, which managed only one first down on five third down tries and 132 total yards in the second half, reached the Tribe 12-yard line on its next possession but settled for a 32-yard field goal after Adrian Tracy sacked Adam Farkes on third down.

A fumbled punt snap after a three-and-out gave it right back to Maine deep in Tribe territory at the 24-yard line, but the Black Bears would again settle for three points after a big defensive stand.

Dohse finished with seven receptions for 123 yards, both career highs, and scored on receptions of 31 and 33 yards. It was the second-straight 100-yard receiving game for the redshirt freshman.

Elliott Mack finished with five receptions for 53 yards, and R.J. Archer had four catches for 29 yards. Thomas Schonder rushed for 34 yards on carries, and Courtland Marriner ran for 33 yards.

Josh Rutter paced the defensive effort with 9 total tackles, and Derek Cox recorded eight unassisted stops. Adrian Tracy recorded a solo pass sack, and Derek Toon had an unassisted tackle for loss on a fourth down play in the first half.

Cameron Dohse had seven catches for 123 yards and two touchdowns at Maine.

#7 Richmond 31, William & Mary 20

Richmond, VA • University of Richmond Stadium • Nov. 17, 2007

RICHMOND, Va. (11/17/07) — Richmond's Josh Vaughan rushed for 132 yards and two touchdowns to help the seventh-ranked Spiders win their sixth-straight game and claim a share of the Colonial Athletic Association title with a 31-20 victory over William and Mary.

Jake Phillips passed for 342 yards and a touchdown, and Elliott Mack recorded career-highs with 10 receptions for 201 yards, but W&M couldn't overcome four turnovers, seven Richmond sacks and a blocked punt return for a touchdown by the Spiders.

Ben Cottingham had a pair of interceptions, and W&M denied four red-zone scoring chances by the Spiders, including two early that kept the Tribe in the game.

Vaughan's 16-yard run midway through the opening quarter was the game's first score.

A holding penalty slowed the Tribe's next possession, and W&M was forced to punt deep in its own territory. The Spiders' Joseph Forte blocked the attempt at the 2-yard line, and Patrick Weldon picked up the loose ball and hopped into the end zone to push the score to 14-0 with 11:39 remaining in the second.

The Tribe quickly answered with a six-play, 80-yard drive that culminated with a four-yard TD pass to from Phillips to Mack.

UR countered with another TD by Vaughan, this time a two-yard scamper with 7:47 showing, as the Spiders went into the locker room with a 21-6 lead.

After Richmond opened the second half with a field goal, W&M narrowed the deficit to 10 with a quick TD drive. A 41-yard competition to Mack set up the score, a run by Phillips from a yard out.

Richmond reclaimed a comfortable advantage, 31-14, when Ward found the end zone with a five-yard run later in the quarter.

Mack's five-yard touchdown run with 5:03 remaining in the fourth quarter would be the contest's final score.

Elliott Mack recorded a career-high 10 catches for 201 yards in the season finale at Richmond.
