A MESSAGE FROM HEAD COACH JIMMYE LAYCOCK

In a program that has more than 110 years of tradition, there is no more exciting time to be involved with William and Mary football than the present. Generations of Tribe players have benefited from receiving one of the world's best educations, while also excelling on the playing field. The successes of the coaches and players who have come before have made it possible for all future generations of William and Mary athletes to enjoy facilities that are now equal to the greatness of the program's tradition. In the last four years, the school's commitment to football has been unparalleled, as we have installed a new FieldTurf playing surface, a state-of-the-art scoreboard and, of course, the new $11 million football complex. These additions will allow Tribe players to maximize their development in a first-class environment using the most modern technology available.

There is no doubt that our great history has positioned the program for an even brighter future. As ever, we are looking for student-athletes who want the opportunity to be a part of a championship football program and value the educational experience that will pay dividends for a lifetime.

Go Tribe!

EXCEPTIONAL PEOPLE EXCEPTIONAL PLACE

When one thinks of the College of William and Mary, the first thought might be of the history of the institution -- or perhaps its place in American history.

Or, possibly those who attended might think back to their good times, the unforgettable campus or their focus of study. But none of those things are what makes a place of learning great. Though the College has them all -- it is the quality of the graduate and the ability to excel in whichever field of work or study that he or she pursues.

For Tribe Football, the same principles apply, as many former football players have gone on to have successful careers in the business world, professional sports and a number of other areas.

Among the notables is Mike Tomlin ('95), who was named the head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers on January 22, 2007. J.D. Gibbs ('92) is the team president of the Joe Gibbs Racing organization, while Tom Dexter ('92), the senior vice president of Lehman Brothers, is one of a number of former players to succeed in business.

It was Thomas Jefferson, Class of 1762, who said of education so eloquently: "Above all things I hope the education of the common people will be attended to, convinced that on their good sense we may rely with the most security for the preservation of a due degree of liberty."

This embodies exactly what his alma mater has been striving to do for more than 300 years of its proud history.

Understandably, William and Mary and Tribe Football have more than their fair share of the best and brightest of America to claim as its own.

Here, a few of the program's finest alums reflect on their time at the College and what the Tribe Football experience meant to them.

DARREN SHARPER ('97)
FOUR-TIME PRO BOWL SELECTION
MINNESOTA VIKINGS

"Being on campus you always felt like you were part of something bigger. The history and the prestige of William and Mary makes you proud to be a part of the school. The lessons learned in the classroom and out of it continue to be a part of my life to this day."

MIKE TOMLIN ('95), CAPTAIN 1994
HEAD FOOTBALL COACH
PITTSBURGH STEELERS

"The lessons you learn in athletics are life lessons. You learn how to deal with success. You learn how to deal with failure. Expectations are high at William and Mary and there's nothing wrong with that, you've got to learn to embrace them. I think that's why so many young people that come through this university and this athletic department are successful. On a day-to-day basis, there are exceptional young people walking around this place and it's a proving ground. It's a special place."

TOM DEXTER ('91), CAPTAIN 1991
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT
LEHMAN BROTHERS

"My William and Mary experience was defined by the unique quality of the people, both coaches and players. The football program under coach Laycock's leadership sets a high expectation level for us as students, athletes and men. Based on integrity, accountability and preparation, the program has produced countless leaders and continues to develop outstanding people. I consider it a privilege and a blessing to be part of the William and Mary Football family."

J.D. GIBBS ('92)
TEAM PRESIDENT
JOE GIBBS RACING

"Everyday I face a wide variety of issues, from both a competitive and business standpoint. As the Team President of Joe Gibbs Racing, I think my time as a student-athlete at the College of William and Mary uniquely prepared me for both sets of challenges in running a championship caliber company. The life-lessons I gained as a member of the football program have translated directly to helping me build a premier racing team. The combination of the on-field trials and world class education the College provided equally prepared me to enter boardrooms and build business relationships."

KENDRICK ASHTON, JR. ('98)
PERELLA WEINBERG PARTNERS LP

"Accepting a football scholarship from the College of William and Mary was the realization of a lifelong dream: achieving the opportunity to play highly competitive football at one of the nation's most prestigious universities. I understood that the rigor and talent present in every nook and cranny of the College would stretch and refine my every talent. But what I didn't appreciate was that the College is far more than simply ancient chapels, rigorous scholarship and great athletics. It is a community, a family -- one that embraced a promising young boy from Southeast Washington, D.C. and helped him become a man. And for that I am eternally grateful."

STORIED HISTORY

"Flyin' Jack Cloud
Three-Time All-American

The First Team

In the fall of 1893, Charles L. Hepburn brought together the first official football team at W&M, the College's first organized athletic team.

The 1893 team played three games, starting with the first contest in school history against a YMCA team from Norfolk.

From The Beginning

W&M is one of only 20 FCS schools to play 1,000, or more, games in college football history. Outside of the Ivy League schools, only 13 have played 1,000, or more.

W&M ranks inside the top 30 for all-time victories (515) and is one of four teams in the current CAA Football Conference with 500, or more.

Championships

In 1942, W&M won its first Southern Conference Championship. W&M would add Southern titles in 1947, 1966 and 1970.

After joining what is now the CAA Football Conference in 1993, W&M has won conference championships three times. The Tribe captured league titles in 1996, 2001 and 2004.

Bowl Games

W&M would earn bowl bids in back-to-back years in 1947 and 1948, with the latter being a 20-0 win over Oklahoma State in the Delta Bowl.

In 1947, W&M faced Arkansas in the Dixie Bowl, and in 1970, W&M battled Toledo in the Tangerine Bowl.

Remember When?

Flyin' Jack Cloud led W&M to one of the nation's biggest upsets in 1947, a 7-7 tie against North Carolina, and wins over N.C. State, Virginia Tech and Arkansas.

W&M's 1967 victory over Navy ranks as one of the biggest upsets in college football history. When the NCAA celebrated the first 100 years of college football, it listed the 10 greatest upsets in history. One of them was William and Mary 27, Navy 16, Oct. 21, 1967.

(Right) The 1942 squad posted a 9-1-1 record and concluded the season with a 14-7 victory at Oklahoma en route to W&M's second Southern Conference title.

(Left) Senior co-captains Lang Campbell and Wade Harrell led the Tribe to the national semifinal game in 2004. The Tribe earned a school-record 11 wins that season and claimed the Atlantic 10 title.

(Above) Head Coach Lou Holtz and his staff, which included assistant Bobby Ross, led the Tribe to the 1970 Southern Conference title.

(Above) A two-time All-American at W&M, Steve Christie had a successful NFL career.

Three-time All-American Darren Sharper has earned four NFL Pro Bowl selections with the Green Bay Packers and Minnesota Vikings.

(Above) All-American Mark Kelso went on to have a successful career in the NFL with the Buffalo Bills.

NFL Hall-of-Famer Marv Levy led W&M to the 1966 Southern Conference Championship.

Storied Rivalries

The W&M-Richmond rivalry is the fourth-most played series in FCS history, trailing only Lafayette-Lehigh (142), Yale-Princeton (129) and Yale-Harvard (123).

The W&M-UR and W&M-VMI match-ups are both among the nine current longest uninterrupted running FCS rivalries in the nation.

Legendary Coaches

In 1964, current NFL Hall-of-Famer Marv Levy took over and later directed W&M to one of the school's biggest victories, the 27-16 win over Navy in 1967.

Lou Holtz succeeded Levy as head coach and guided W&M to a berth in the Tangerine Bowl in 1970. Bobby Ross was an assistant on Holtz's 1970 Southern Conference Championship team.

All-Americans

Beginning with Hap Halligan in 1930, Buster Ramsey in 1942 and Jack Cloud in 1946, and ranging to Rich Musinski in 2003 and Lang Campbell in 2004, W&M boasts a long and impressive list of All-Americans.

The program has produced more than 60 all-time All-Americans, including 31 under current head coach Jimmye Laycock.

Laycock Era

Laycock returned to his alma mater as head coach in 1980 and has guided the program through an unprecedented run of success that stretches to present day.

W&M has posted 18 winning seasons, made seven playoff appearances and nine postseason appearances in total, while rewriting nearly the entire football record book.

In 2004, the program reached new heights, advancing to the national semifinals for the first time, recording a school-record 11 wins and finishing with an all-time high No. 3 final ranking.

FACILITY ENHANCEMENT

THE JIMMYE LAYCOCK FOOTBALL CENTER

The William and Mary Athletics Department has recently taken major steps in upgrading the football program's facilities. Primarily through the generosity of private donors, current and future Tribe football players will enjoy some of the finest modern day facilities and amenities in the nation.

This past June, W&M officially dedicated the new $11 million, 30,000-square foot Jimmye Laycock Football Center, which is located at the northwest corner of Zable Stadium. Funded exclusively through private gifts, the facility provides a new home for meeting rooms, coaches' offices, team and coaches' lockers, an athletic training room, equipment storage areas and administrative support areas.

As part of the Laycock Center project, the Joseph Montgomery Practice Complex was also redone with new natural grass Bermuda sod.

The construction of the Laycock Center is just the most recent addition to what has been an incredible transformation of Tribe football facilities. Prior to the 2007 season, W&M added a state-of-the-art scoreboard with video replay capabilities. The new scoreboard is located in the same area as the previous scoreboard and is supported by brick columns that compliment the campus surroundings.

In 2006, FieldTurf Pro, a new top-of-the-line artificial playing surface that is featured in more than 20 NFL stadiums, was installed. During the previous season, a state-of-the-art lighting system was added to accommodate night games.

SPORTS MEDICINE

LINKENAUER ATHLETIC TRAINING SUITE

William and Mary's sports medicine department enhanced its facilities recently with the addition of the Mont M. Linkenauer PT, ATC, Athletic Training Suite, which is located in the lower level of the Jimmye Laycock Football Center.

The Linkenauer Athletic Training Suite, which supplements the department's primary facilities in W&M Hall, is a state-of-the-art facility that encompasses approximately 3,900 square feet.

Associate A.D. of Internal Affairs Steve Cole and Head Football Athletic Trainer Andy Carter worked closely with the architects to design the facility, which is unrivaled in the CAA Football Conference and includes features that can benefit all Tribe student-athletes.

One of the highlights of the new facility is a HydroWorx aquatic therapy pool, the same system used by Dr. James Andrews, renowned orthopedic surgeon, the University of Texas, Navy Seals, Pittsburgh Steelers, San Antonio Spurs and Manchester United.

The Linkenauer Athletic Training Suite is another piece of the overall facilities enhancement, which continues to bring the Tribe's facilities to an elite level.

"The Linkenauer Athletic Training Suite will allow the Sports Medicine Department to keep pace with the cutting edge practices and treatments of athletic health care and rehabilitation," Cole said.

Overview

- 3,900 square feet
- Aquatic therapy pool with underwater treadmill and multiple workstations
- Hot and cold whirlpools
- Spacious treatment and rehabilitation area with state-of-the-art therapeutic modalities
- Private physician examination room
- Olympic platform for strength training progression for injured athletes
- Four-station taping area

SPORTS MEDICINE EDUCATION

Throughout the year the College hosts a wide range of sports medicine programs that draws participants from across the nation:

- The ACES Preparatory Workshop is designed to prepare students to take the Board of Certification (BOC) exam to become certified athletic trainers. Hosted at institutions across the country, the ACES Workshop identifies participants' strengths and weaknesses and focuses their study into their weaker content areas.

TRIBE EQUIPMENT

The Tribe's new state-of-the-art locker room in the Jimmie Laycock Football Center encompasses approximately 4,200 square feet with 102 lockers and two flat-screen HD TVs.

The concept and design of the new GearBoss line of lockers were the product of collaboration between the W&M staff and the Wenger Corporation. The result delivered one of the most unique team room lockers in the country.

The new units are constructed of antimicrobial laminates and surfaces that improve room sanitation. The lockers also feature an airflow system for the functional drying of helmets and shoulder pads, as well as shoes and gloves. For security, the lockers feature a push-button locking mechanism with personal unlocking number codes. Each locker also features a power outlet for charging personal computers and communication devices. At the top of each locker, a backlit nameplate identifies each player's personal unit.

The lockers are completely modular for easy adaptation and a continued new look and feature bolt-through construction for commercial-grade durability.
