Former head coach Al Albert led the Tribe to 401 victories during his career and ranks ninth all-time on the Division I victories list.

Forty years ago, soccer was in its infancy at William and Mary. It was only sponsored for men and the Tribe did not experience many winning moments. Times have changed. In 1967, the team's third year of existence, and first as a varsity sport, W&M defeated George Washington, 2-1, for the first victory in school history. That win was the first of more than 400 to come for a school that was destined to be a hotbed of college soccer.

The groundwork was laid in the early 1970s when Al Albert, a 1969 graduate of the College, returned to his alma mater to teach and coach soccer. The program began to take off in 1975, Albert's fifth year at the helm. That season the Tribe went 9-4-1, beginning a streak of 30-consecutive winning seasons, the sixth-longest streak in NCAA Division I history. Just one year later, in 1976, the Tribe won 10 matches for the first time, a feat that was repeated for the next 25 years. Albert retired following the 2003 season as just the eighth coach in NCAA Division I history to compile 400 victories. As head coach, he led William and Mary to 401 of the program's 444 wins. Albert ranks 18th all-time in NCAA career victories, while sitting ninth on the Division I career victories list.

Wins alone do not give a school national prominence. That came in 1980 when W&M advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA tournament. Since then, the Tribe has gone to 11 more NCAA tournaments, including nine trips in the last 15 seasons (1992-93, 1995-2000 and 2002). The Tribe also advanced to the NCAA Tournament during both the 1983 and 1987 seasons. W&M won the ECAC-South title in 1983, the CAA tournament in 1987, 1995, 1996, 1999 and 2000 and the CAA regular season crown in 1987, 1992, 1995, 1996 and 2002.

In 2004, W&M soccer took another step forward with the construction of a grass facility, Albert-Daly Field. Initiated with a $500,000 challenge grant from Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ukrop, the new field was crucial in improving the Tribe's chances to host top-quality teams and NCAA Tournament games in Williamsburg. Despite the tremendous success of Tribe soccer, the men had been forced to play their last 15 NCAA Tournament matches on the road or at a neutral site because of the lack of an inclosing grass field on campus.

Besides having strong team records, many W&M individuals have been standouts on the pitch. Eight players have been named All-Americans on 12 occasions, 13 have international playing experience with various national teams and numerous others have received conference, state and regional honors. In the summer of 1994, goalkeeper Paul Grafer started for the U.S. Olympic Team on its tour of Chile. In 1997, W&M alum Wade Barrett played with the U.S. under-20 team. All-American goalkeeper Adin Brown joined the list of W&M to garner international experience, playing on the U.S. under-23 squad and with the U.S. Olympic and Pan American Games teams.

Brown played a key role in helping the U.S. Under-23 national team to a bronze medal at the 1999 Pan American Games. He started three matches during the tournament, and posted a shutout. Although he was the starting goalkeeper throughout qualifying for the 2000 Olympics, Brown missed the final competition due to injury.

Barrett also earned his first International cap with the U.S. Senior National Team on Nov. 17, 2002. He played the entire 90 minutes at left back against El Salvador at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C. Barrett made a return to the National Team roster in 2005, and earned a cap playing for the squad in 2007 as well.

Since 1978, a total of 28 Tribe players have gone on to play professionally, whether it be in the U.S. or overseas. Five players (Barrett, Brown, Scott Budnick, Graftor and Steve Jolley) enjoyed playing careers in Major League Soccer (MLS). Barrett, Brown and Jolley were all taken in the first round of the MLS Draft, with Brown being drafted the highest at No. 3 in 2000. Jolley, who retired in 2006, spent 10 years in the MLS, while Barrett is a seven-year league vet.

Jolley, who played for three teams during his 10 seasons, capped his MLS career with 227 games, 18,638 minutes and 12 goals. He earned an All-Star nod during the 2001 season, while playing for the New York-New Jersey Metrostars. Barrett, who spent two years playing in the top leagues in Denmark and Norway, plays for the Houston Dynamo. In 2002, he won a MLS Championship with the San Jose Earthquakes, while also earning league All-Star and MLS Best XI honors. He captained Houston to the MLS title in 2006. Brown played five seasons with the MLS, totaling 93 games and 20 shutouts, including the playoffs over his career. He has spent the last three seasons with Aalesunds FK in Norway's Tippeligaen (First Division).

Along with Brown and Barrett, former Tribe players Jeff Dominguez, Khary Stockton and Gabe Valencia enjoyed International playing careers. Dominguez spent three seasons with B.V. Cloppenburg in Germany. He started a club record 68 consecutive games as a defensive central midfielder and helped his club earn a promotion to Germany's Third Division. Valencia also spent time in Germany playing with SV Leipzig along with playing in the U.S. in the A-League. Stockton signed a six-month contract with A.E. Velo Clube Rio Clarens of the Brazilian Second Division in May of 1994. At the time, he was believed to be just the second American player to sign with a professional soccer club in Brazil. He also played with Athletico Sorocabam in the Brazilian Third Division.

Carlos Garcia, a 2003 graduate, has enjoyed success in the indoor soccer leagues in the U.S. Garcia spent the last five seasons with the Baltimore Blast and helped his team to the 2005-06 Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL) Championship. Last season, he finished with 42 points, which ranked third on the Blast. Garcia was selected by the Detroit Ignition in the 2006-07 MISL Expansion Draft, before he was traded back to Baltimore. The Blast originally chose him in the fourth round of the 2002 Amateur Draft.

Soccer is not just a seasonal event in Williamsburg, it is a year-long tradition. The W&M soccer programs receive strong support from the student body and the residents of the Tidewater area, and these fans are rewarded with a great product.

The success enjoyed by Tribe student-athletes and the high-level of community involvement in the soccer program combine to make William and Mary a truly unique place in the soccer world.

1998 graduate Wade Barrett (center with trophy) enjoyed a stellar career with the Tribe and has played seven years in the MLS, captaining the Houston Dynamo to the 2006 MLS Cup Championship.

2007 TRIBE MEN'S SOCCER

ALBERT-DALY FIELD

The William and Mary men's soccer program received a major facility upgrade in 2004 with the completion of Albert-Daly Field, an all grass complex that gives the Tribe program the possibility of hosting NCAA Tournament games. Named for William and Mary's long-time men's and women's soccer coaches, Al Albert and John Daly, the field is used by both soccer teams, as well as by the College's lacrosse team. In its short time, Albert-Daly Field has become a home field advantage for the William and Mary men's soccer program. The Tribe has enjoyed a 10-7-8 (.560) home record since competition began at the complex in 2004.

"The new facility has enabled us to bring in the kind of teams we would play in the postseason-type environment, like UNC, Virginia and Maryland," head coach Chris Norris said. "It has allowed us to get top level programs to agree to play us in Williamsburg. It is a beautiful setting and I know it feels like home for the guys. It is a great situation. In terms of the field and the lighting, I feel like it stacks up against any field in our area."

The previous home of the Tribe soccer teams was Busch Field, which features an artificial playing surface that prohibited the College from hosting NCAA tournament games. W&M's men were forced to play their last 15 NCAA Tournament matches on the road or at a neutral site. The completion of Albert-Daly Field, one of the top soccer venues in the region, has nullified the circumstances that prevented the Tribe from hosting in the past.

"The College has done a fantastic thing for our programs, because not only can we host NCAA games, we have also enhanced our ability to schedule quality opponents," said Albert. "Just the overall perception of our program in recruiting and talking to people will be enhanced. It's a great thing. The College took a great step when we got a home at Busch Field and now they're taking another great step with this new facility. It's one of the final pieces that we need to go all the way."

The new field paid immediate dividends in 2004, as W&M hosted two Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) opponents (Maryland and Virginia Tech), the first ACC teams to play W&M in Williamsburg since 1996. In just the second match played at the facility, the Tribe earned the first win in school history over the nation's top ranked team with a 1-0 victory over No. 1 Maryland on Sept. 22. W&M not only notched the victory, but shut out the nation's top scoring offense at the time and an eventual College Cup semifinalist. The Tribe ended the year with a 5-1-3 home record in its first season at the facility. While the facility has been an added coup for the Tribe men's soccer program, it has also been one for the Williamsburg and W&M community.

"For the longest time, we were getting into the NCAA Tournament, but apart from the 1992 season, we were never in consideration to host an NCAA Tournament game," Norris said. "Not only is that a difficult route to win when you have to go on the road and play people, but it also took away from the excitement here on campus. We had some really good teams that were very well supported by the campus and community, but yet didn't have the opportunity to play the biggest games of the year at home. With the new facility, that changes, and it is a benefit to not only our program, but the community as a whole."

The project began in the spring of 2001, when William and Mary received a $500,000 challenge grant from Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ukrop of Richmond, Va., to build a natural grass field adjacent to W&M's baseball stadium, Plumeri Park, located at the College's Dillard complex.

As graduates of William and Mary, Jim and Bobbie Ukrop have long been generous supporters of the College and have touched the lives of thousands of students, both in the athletics department and general college community, with their philanthropy.

"The challenge grant provided us the opportunity to enhance the competitiveness of three of our very successful programs, men's and women's soccer and lacrosse," said William and Mary Athletics Director Terry Driscoll. "At the request by Mr. and Mrs. Ukrop, the facility would be named in the honor of those two coaches recognizing their long service and the success of their programs here at the College of William and Mary."

Al Albert led the Tribe men's soccer team as head coach for 33 seasons before retiring from coaching in January of 2004. He amassed a record of 401-187-64 (.664) during his tenure and became just the eighth coach in NCAA Division I history to reach 400 wins, and just the third to have earned all those wins at one school. Throughout the 1990s, the Tribe ranked as one of the top programs in the nation, placing eighth in wins (149) and 13th in winning percentage (.708).

A 1969 graduate of William and Mary, Albert's teams put together 29 consecutive winning seasons (a W&M record) and 26 straight campaigns of 10 wins or more. W&M made its 12th appearance in the NCAA tournament in 2002, when the Tribe advanced to the round of 16 with wins at Duke and Virginia. Albert was named CAA Coach of the Year a conference-record four times (1987, 1992, 1994 and 1996), and earned the South Atlantic Region's top honor in 1992, 1998 and 2002.

John Daly reigns among the most successful coaches in America, leading the Tribe's women's soccer program over the last 20 years. Daly ranks among the top 10 in victories (278) among his Division I peers. He has also directed W&M to the NCAA postseason 18 times, including 13 seasons in a row from 1992-2004. Overall, the College has sponsored women's soccer for 25 years with the team advancing to the NCAA Tournament 21 times.

"I'm very, very happy," said Daly. "I think it's badly needed for both the men's and women's soccer and lacrosse programs. Jim and Bobbie Ukrop's gift gesture is just tremendous. It's going to help in every way from scheduling and recruiting to the perception of the program."

On the field, during Daly's tutelage, 12 W&M soccer players have garnered a total of 25 All-America honors, including two National Players of the Year in Megan McCarthy (1987) and four-time All-American Natalie Neaton (1995). Daly has been named CAA Coach of the Year four times (1993, 1994, 1999, 2006) and Mid-Atlantic Coach of the Year five times (1989, 1990, 1992, 1997, 2006).

CHRIS NORRIS

Chris Norris enters his fourth season at the helm of the William and Mary men's soccer program. Despite an overall record of 21-24-12, the Tribe has reached new heights, including the program's first ever victory over a No. 1-ranked opponent, under Norris' tutelage. Norris took over the post as head coach at the College following the retirement of long-time, legendary coach Al Albert. Norris spent nine seasons as a Tribe assistant and four years as a standout defender for the Green and Gold before being named head coach on Jan. 23, 2004.

"Chris was an exceptional student-athlete at William and Mary and continued as an outstanding assistant coach for nine seasons," said W&M's director of athletics Terry Driscoll at the time of Norris' hiring. "His knowledge, experience and understanding of intercollegiate soccer and the College clearly made him the obvious choice for the position."

During Norris' 16 seasons as a player, assistant and head coach with the Tribe, William and Mary has compiled a 205-106-39 record (.641), including a Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) mark of 73-35-22 (.646). Norris has been a part of nine of the Tribe's 12 all-time NCAA Tournament appearances, four CAA tournament crowns and five CAA regular-season titles.

The Tribe rebounded from a tough 2005 campaign to post a

- Coached five All-CAA players, two CAA All-Rookie Team selections and an all-state honoree

8-8-3 mark during the 2006 season. W&M won the ODU Stuhl Soccer Classic with victories over No. 29 UNC Greenboro, 5-1, and Loyola (Md.), 2-1. It marked the first time since the 1998 season the College had captured the event crown. The Tribe also posted a pair of ties against nationally-ranked foes in No. 22 George Mason, 0-0, and No. 23 James Madison, 2-2, during the 2006 ledger.

The 2006 season also saw a Tribe appearance on television. The College's contest against Old Dominion on Oct. 26 was part of the NSCAA/Fox Soccer Channel College Game of the Week. It was the first Tribe game on TV since the 1996 season.

During Norris' first season leading the Tribe, the team extended its streak of consecutive winning seasons to 30, which ranks sixth in NCAA Division I history. W&M went 5-1-3 in its first year at Albert-Daly Field. In just the program's second game at the facility, Norris guided the Tribe to a 1-0 victory over then-No. 1 and eventual College Cup semifinalist Maryland on Sept. 22. The shut-out was one of only two Maryland suffered during the 2004 season that saw the Terps finish the year ranked fifth nationally in scoring offense.

After dropping the season opener in Norris' first year at the helm, the Tribe went unbeaten over its next seven contests (5-0-2), including the victory over Maryland. The unbeaten streak was the longest for the College since the 1999 squad won eight straight contests from Oct. 23 through Nov. 14.

The Green and Gold allowed opponents to score just 21 goals in 2004, the fewest since 1999, resulting in a 0.99 goals against average for the team. Five W&M players earned All-Colonial Athletic Association honors, including first-team selection Pat Scherder, who also earned all-state and second-team all-region accolades.

In his three years at the helm of the Tribe, Norris has coached five All-Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) honorees and two CAA All-Rookie team selections.

Norris joined the Tribe soccer staff in 1995 after a solid playing career at the College. He made the transition from the field to the sideline and played a major role in helping former head coach Al Albert develop one of the premier soccer programs in America.

During his time as an assistant, the Tribe compiled a 128-62-16 (.660) record with seven NCAA Tournament appearances, four CAA tournament championships and three CAA regular season crowns. Norris also saw 32 players earn All-CAA honors, 30 earn all-state accolades, seven All-America honors, two CAA Players of the Year, one CAA Defensive Player of the Year, one CAA Rookie of the Year and five Major League Soccer draft picks. Of those five players selected to play at the highest level in the United States, three were first round selections, including Steve Jolley, Wade Barrett and Adin Brown, all of which have gone on to long and distinguished professional careers.

A captain his senior year, Norris was the team's defensive leader, starting all four seasons (1991-94). During his career, W&M compiled an impressive 1.04 goals against average, including two seasons (1992 and 1994) with a team GAA of less than 1.00. During both the 1992 and 1994 seasons, Norris led the Tribe to the top of the CAA regular season standings.

He was a two-time All-CAA performer and was also selected to the VaSID All-State squad and the All-South Atlantic second team in 1994. The team's Most Valuable Player as a junior, Norris received the Coaches' Award in 1992 and earned W&M Rookie of the Year honors in 1991. Norris also earned the team's Freshman Academic Achievement Award in 1991 and graduated from the College with a degree in kinesiology.

Prior to his return to William and Mary, Norris served as junior varsity boys' soccer coach at Lafayette High School in Williamsburg. Along with his coaching duties for the Tribe, Norris is involved in coaching with the Virginia Legacy Soccer Club and serves as the co-director of the Tidewater Soccer Camp. He holds a National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) advanced national diploma and serves as an associate staff member for the NSCAA.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Tribe

Chuck Connelly enters his eighth season on the William and Mary staff. He has worked primarily with the Tribe's goalkeepers and was promoted to a full-time assistant in January of 2004. During his six seasons, the Tribe has compiled an overall record of 58-56-20 (.507) with a pair of NCAA Tournament appearances in 2000 and 2002. In Colonial Athletic Association action, the Tribe has a mark of 28-21-13 (.556), including a conference championship during his first campaign in 2000.

The Tribe goalkeepers have combined for a goals against average of 1.26 with 40 shutouts during Connelly's tenure. In 2004, the Tribe allowed only 21 goals, the fewest allowed by a W&M squad since the 1999 season. W&M goalkeepers also turned in the lowest goals against average since 1999 during the 2004 slate with a GAA of 0.99. Connelly watched the Tribe blank then-No. 1 Maryland, 1-0, in double overtime at Albert-Daly Field on Sept. 22, 2004. It marked the first time in school history the College had knocked off the nation's No. 1 team.

Connelly graduated in 2000 from Old Dominion University, where he was the team's starting goalkeeper as a junior and senior. While at ODU, he recorded a career 1.50 goals against average with 17 shutouts and was regarded as one of the top goalkeepers in the conference. In 1999, he started all 19 matches for ODU and his 0.79 GAA was tops in the league and 17th in the nation. He earned second team All-CAA honors as a senior for the Monarchs.

A native of Rockville, Md., Connelly has coached at numerous camps along the East Coast, including a position as the assistant director of the Adin Brown Goalkeeping Academy. He currently coaches a youth traveling team for the Virginia Legacy Soccer Club. Connelly also serves as director of the Williamsburg Summer Soccer League and assistant director of the Tidewater Soccer Camp.

Connelly and his wife, Christine, reside in Williamsburg.

Jon Kamara enters his first season on the Tribe staff. He is no stranger to W&M after playing for the Tribe from 1989-92 and graduating from the College.

Kamara is the Youth Travel Academy Technical Director for the Virginia Legacy Soccer club. He is also the Futures Select, U8 and U9, trainer as well as a VLSC Senior Staff Coach. Kamara also spent time as an assistant coach for the Williamsburg Legacy PDL team (2003-06), the Director of Developmental Programs for the Williamsburg Soccer Club and a WSC Staff Coach (2000-06). Kamara holds a NSCAA Youth National License.

During his playing career at W&M, Kamara helped the Tribe to a 47-23-14 (.643) record. He played in every game and started 23 during his senior season, helping the Tribe to a 15-5-4 record and a spot in the NCAA Sweet 16. During the 1992 campaign, the Tribe established a school-record with an 18-game unbeaten streak and reached as high as No. 3 in the national rankings. Over his four seasons, Kamara played in 56 games with 30 starts and finished with 16 career points on five goals and six assists.

Tom Duffy is starting his ninth season with the Tribe staff. Prior to helping with the coaching duties at William and Mary, Duffy spent six seasons on the staff at Hartwick.

During his eight seasons with W&M, the Tribe has an overall record of 72-63-23 (.528), including a 33-24-13 (.564) Colonial Athletic Association mark. The College has advanced to a trio of NCAA Tournaments and won back-to-back CAA Championships in 1999 and 2000.

A 1965 graduate of Le Moyne College, Duffy played and coached soccer in England after completing his undergraduate work. Duffy's first coaching experience was with the Royal Air Force Upper Heyford High School team in 1969.

Duffy also spent four seasons as the head coach at Oneonta State in New York where he compiled a 39-33-3 record. He coached at Oneonta High School from 1972 to 1987, putting together a 226-71-25 mark and sending over 60 of his players on to play at the collegiate level. A number of his former players are currently coaching at the collegiate level.

Duffy was also involved with New York's Empire State Games where he coached three Central Region teams, claiming one silver and two bronze medals. He also served for four years as the soccer chairman for the Games. In 2001 Duffy was selected to the New York State Section IV Hall of Fame for his years of service at the high school level.

A resident of Williamsburg with his wife Peggy, the couple has three daughters: Brigid; Jenn, who is married to current Hartwick College men's soccer coach Ian McIntyre; and Kate. Duffy has two grandchildren: a grandson, Owen Prevelige, and a granddaughter, Lyla Jean McIntyre.

2007 TRIBE MEN'S SOCCER

With the tradition of winning and postseason invitations well in tow, the William and Mary men's soccer program will look to build on the positives the program experienced in 2006, while adding an impressive influx of young talent. The College posted an 8-8-3 mark, which included five losses to top-25 opponents, in 2006, but turned in many gains along the way to foreshadow an even brighter future for the program. The Tribe will blend a group of six starters, including four players with two years of starting experience, with a gifted group of eight newcomers.

Fourth-year head coach Chris Norris saw the Tribe capture the ODU Stihl Soccer Classic for the first time since the 1998 season, including a 5-1 crushing of eventual NCAA Tournament qualifier and then-No. 29 UNC Greensboro. W&M also earned draws with a pair of top-25 foes during the regular season and on two occasions overcame two-goal deficits to garner either a tie or victory.

The Tribe will be led by a quintet of seniors, including Doug Ernst, Ryan Overdevest, Ryan Sells, Brennan Wergley and Michael Yakovac. The group will be expected to mold an otherwise young roster that includes 16 underclassmen (freshmen, redshirt freshmen and sophomores). Combined the five senior leaders have 186 games of experience at the collegiate level and 96 starts.

"We have a young team this season, but there are a number of younger players who have quite a bit of experience," Norris said. "We also have a very good core of senior leaders and expect to be very competitive."

MIDFIELD

It is easy to see the Tribe's most experience and depth lies in the midfield. The College returns all four starters in the middle of the pitch, including senior Doug Ernst, juniors Doug McBride and Brock Jones and sophomore Price Thomas.

Ernst highlights the stellar group in the midfield. He enjoyed a breakout season during his junior campaign, leading the Colonial Athletic Association in assists while ranking third on the Tribe in points and just outside the top 10 in the league in the category. The 5-8, 140-pounder finished the year with 15 points on three goals and nine assists. The strikes were the first of his W&M career and included the club's game-winner against VMI.

Jones and McBride have both been fixtures in the Tribe's starting lineup over the last two seasons. Both players have started 34 of the College's 37 games over that stretch. Jones has demonstrated his versatility with his ability to play in the back as well and may be called upon to move up into the attack given the Tribe's strength in the midfield. Over his first two seasons, Jones has 17 points on seven goals, including a pair of game-winning markers, and three assists.

McBride has been the Tribe's starter at the holding midfield position during each of the last two seasons. The 5-8, 150-pound dynamo is a tireless worker and is the engine in the middle that anchors the Tribe's defense and is integral in starting the transition from defense to attack. Norris feels his motor in the midfield is the most underrated player in the CAA.

Much was placed on the shoulders of Thomas. The Charlottesville, Va., native started 17 matches, while playing in every contest for the Tribe. He demonstrated wizardry with the ball at his feet and has the ability to break down the defense with or without the ball.

"Last year, I predicted that Doug Ernst would have a breakout year, and this season, I feel the same way about Price Thomas," Norris said. "He had a very solid freshman year, but I think this year he will be in a position not only to contribute with goals and assists, but with leadership as well."

W&M also returns a pair of players who saw significant action during the 2006 season. Seniors Ryan Overdevest and Ryan Sells are capable of filling in as midfielders as is junior Nathan Belcher, sophomores Rob Godwin, Jeremy Harris and Preston Whitlock along with redshirt freshman Steve Renner.

Overdevest has also been a spot starter and a heavy contributor over the last two seasons. In his W&M career, the Bridgeton, N.J., native has started eight matches, while appearing in 40 contests. Overdevest is an extremely intelligent player as evident by his earning Second-Team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America honors as a junior. He also put his technical skill and tireless work rate on display playing both the wide and in the holding midfield positions.

"Having Doug McBride and Ryan Overdevest anchor the midfield provides great stability for the team," Norris said. "Both players have a lot of match experience."

Sells has the ability to start in the midfield and did so in the Tribe's final two games of the 2006 season. Harris was a regular on the pitch as a reserve, appearing in 16 games. After redshirting his true freshman season, Harris continued to hone his skills over the summer, playing on the Virginia Legacy PDL team. He appeared in 15 games for the 9-5-2 Legacy and scored a goal.

"Jeremy made great strides both during the spring season and with the PDL team over the summer," Norris said. "We expect him to be one of the more dangerous wide players in the league."

The Tribe adds a quartet of rookies to its already stacked midfield, and by the looks of things there is no drop in talent. True freshmen Peter Christmas garnered first-team all-state and all-region honors as a senior at East Chapel Hill High School in North Carolina. He was the Pac-6 Conference Player of the Year as a senior, finishing with 10 goals and eight assists. Stephen Laws turned in First-Team All-Colonial District performances during his final two years of high school at the Maggie Walker Governor's School in Richmond, Va. Ian Stowe is perhaps the most decorated of the quartet. The Midlothian, Va., native received Virginia Group AAA All-State honors during his final two seasons at Clover Hill High School. He also took home the Dominion District, Virginia Central Region and Richmond Times Dispatch Metro Player of the Year honors in 2007. The Tribe adds a bit of an International flavor with Ghanaian midfielder Nathaniel Baako as well.

FORWARD

The biggest hole to fill for the Tribe in 2007 comes at the forward position. W&M has little game experience on the Division I level at the position, but a talented group that could be the Tribe's best surprise.

Sophomore transfer Ryan Snyder is the most experienced collegiate player among the corps of forwards. Snyder enjoyed a stellar freshman campaign at Mary Washington University, rankings second on the team in scoring with 27 points on 11 goals, including six game winners and five assists. He started 15 games at the striker position on his way to earning Second-Team All-Capital Athletic Conference honors.

"Ryan is someone we recruited out of high school," Norris said. "We thought that he could be successful at this level. We are excited about him making the transition from Mary Washington to here, and hope that he can continue the kind of success he had there."

Two Tribe returners saw time at the forward position during their rookie seasons in 2006. Junior Nathan Belcher and sophomore Rob Godwin both earned playing time up top as reserves. Belcher scored his first collegiate goal in the Tribe's 5-0 win over VMI, while Godwin played in seven games as a true freshman. Belcher enjoyed a stellar prep career at Bluefield High School in Bluefield, Va., on his way to earning the VHSL AA Male Athlete of the Year award as a three-sport star in 2004. He was also a two-time all-state selection in soccer. Godwin was an all-state honoree in Maryland as a prep. He was a prolific scorer at Pocomoke High School, graduating as the program's all-time leading scorer with 220 points on 79 goals and 62 assists.

Redshirt freshman Alan Koger could also have an impact at the striker slot. He enjoyed an impressive high school career with a long list of honors. He was twice named district player of the year and earned region player of the year as well.

"Despite redshirting last fall, Alan is definitely ready to make an impact this season," Norris said. "He is a physical presence and led the team in scoring during the spring season."

2007 SEASON PREVIEW

While the Tribe only returns one starter from a season ago on the backline, the influx of talent could allow little drop off at the position. Sophomore Roger Bothe is the lone returning starter in the College's four-back system, but W&M has options with a pair of seniors in Ryan Sells and Mike Yakovac, who have both started at the position during their Tribe careers. The Green and Gold will also enjoy the addition of a talented trio of rookie backs.

Bothe was as heralded a recruit as there is coming into his freshman season, and he wasted little time finding his way into the W&M starting XI. The former Virginia High School State Player of the Year led W&M rookies in starts, appearances and minutes played. He started 18 games as a rookie and appeared in every W&M contest. Bothe showed the ability to lock down a side of the field defensively, while also being able to make runs up the flanks to enter into the offensive attack. Norris expects his second-year back to establish himself as one of the top defenders in the CAA.

Sells and Yakovac will be the leaders at the position and looked upon to instill their knowledge into the Tribe's rookie trio at back. Sells has appeared in 50 matches over his W&M career, including 29 starts. While he saw most of his action as a reserve in 2006, Sells found his way into the starting lineup, especially late in the season. In his first start, he helped the Tribe shutout then-No. 22 George Mason, before scoring the game-winner in a 2-0 win over UNC Wilmington in his second start.

Yakovac has the ability to make his presence felt on the Tribe backline as well. During his W&M career, Yakovac has appeared in 28 contests and started 14. During all three seasons of his career he has found his way into the starting XI at some point during the season. The 6-1, 155-pounder enjoyed his best season as a rookie, earning CAA All-Rookie team honors. He assisted on the game-winning goal in the 103rd minute as the Tribe upset then-No. 1 Maryland, 1-0, in double overtime.

"Sells and Yakovac battled injuries last year, but both were starters during the 2004 season when we yielded a goals against average of 0.99, which was one of the best marks in school history," Norris said.

The trio of true freshmen at the back position is a collection with an impressive list of credentials. Derek Buckley, Michael DiNuzzo and Nick Orozco could be one of the best corps in Tribe history.

Buckley was one of the top players in the state of Delaware during his high school career. The 6-0, 175-pounder was an impressive five-year starter, including starting on the varsity as an eighth-grader, at Tatnall High School, earning first-team all-state accolades during his final three years. He also enjoyed success on the national level, playing and captaining the Delaware State ODP team.

DiNuzzo put his mark on the state of Virginia during his senior campaign. He anchored one of the state's stingiest defenses (allowing only 12 goals in 24 games with 12 shutouts) at Osbourn Park. DiNuzzo captained his high school squad to the Virginia AAA State title game and a ranking as high as No. 2 nationally during the season. For his efforts, DiNuzzo was named the Washington Post All-Met Player of the Year.

Orozco has been recognized as one of the top incoming freshman players nationally. In 2006, he attended the adidas Elite Soccer Program camp and was named one of the top 120 players in the U.S. by Soccer America. The Moseley, Va., native was a member of both the Virginia State and Region I ODP teams, playing on the international level for both teams.

GOALKEEPER

The goalkeeper position has been one of the most fabled at the College with W&M producing five professional goalkeepers over the last 15 years, including a trio who went on to play in Major League Soccer (MLS). The Tribe has a solid stable of goalkeepers, including the return of senior Brennan Wergley, who has gained starting experience each of the last two seasons. The College will also have capable back ups in redshirt freshman Andrew McAdams and true freshman Colin Smolinsky.

"We expect a very competitive battle between Wergley and McAdams for the starting goalkeeper position," Norris said. "Both players are very capable of leading us to a good season."

Over the last two seasons, Wergley has started 17 matches, including 11 in 2006. Over his career, the Oak Hill, Va., native has 83 saves and five shutouts with a goals against average of 1.05. He has also demonstrated the ability to step up in big situations. Wergley became the first rookie goalkeeper to post three straight shutouts in 2005, before posting a pair of impressive performances against nationally ranked foes in 2006. In his first start of the season, Wergley made seven saves, including turning away a penalty kick, in a 1-0 loss at then-No. 16 Wake Forest. Later in the campaign, he blanked then-No. 22 George Mason in Williamsburg.

McAdams spent last season learning under the tutelage of experienced keepers in Wergley and senior captain Kris Rake as well as assistant coach Chuck Connelly, who was an All-CAA goalkeeper at Old Dominion prior to joining the W&M staff. McAdams came to W&M with impressive stats and credentials at Berkeley Prep in Florida. He led his team to a state championship and a top-five national ranking, while earning all-state honors. The 6-1, 175-pounder was also a member of the Florida ODP team.

Smolinsky provides depth at the goalkeeper position for the Tribe as a true freshman. The Fredericksburg, Va., native was an all-district and all-region choice at Stafford High School. He finished his senior campaign with 166 saves, six shutouts and a save percentage of 85 percent.

SCHEDULE

The Tribe's 2007 schedule will be a challenging one that includes 10 teams that have advanced to the NCAA Tournament within the last two seasons, including six from a season ago. The ledger will also include nine contests in the friendly confines of Albert-Daly Field.

W&M opens the season against Southern Conference foe Elon on Sept. 1 at Albert-Daly Field. It will mark the first ever meeting between the Tribe and Phoenix. From there, the Tribe will take part in a pair of regular season classics.

The College travels to University Park, Pa., for the Penn State Classic, battling a pair of NCAA regulars in Big Ten foes Penn State and Ohio State. W&M will play the Nittany Lions, who have won two of the last three Big Ten Championships, on Sept. 7, before facing the Buckeyes (Sept. 9), who have advanced to the NCAA Tournament two of the last three seasons. The meeting with Penn State will be the first since the Tribe lost a 1-0 overtime affair to the Nittany Lions in the 2002 NCAA Tournament Round of 16.

The Tribe will then take part in the ODU Stihl Soccer Classic in Norfolk for the seventh straight season, Sept. 14 and 16, battling Temple and 2005 Ivy League Champion Dartmouth. Last season, the Tribe claimed the Classic title for the first time since the 1998 season.

The W&M non-conference slate includes two games against ACC foes as well as games against American (Sept. 25) and 2005 America East Champion Stony Brook (Sept. 29). The Tribe will travel to North Carolina on Sept. 19, before facing Virginia Tech on Sept. 22 in Williamsburg.

The College will open the 11-match CAA portion of the schedule in October. The early part of the league slate will find the Tribe at home for four straight contests. W&M will host defending CAA Champion Hofstra (Oct. 5), Northeastern (Oct. 7), James Madison (Oct. 12) and VCU (Oct. 14) during the stretch. The College will also have home affairs with UNC Wilmington (Oct. 28) and Old Dominion (Nov. 8). Last season, the Tribe-Monarch affair was televised live on Fox Soccer Channel as part of the NSCAA College Soccer Game of the Week package.

The Tribe will play five of its last seven CAA games on the road. W&M will travel to Towson (Oct. 19), George Mason (Oct. 21) and Georgia State (Oct. 26) for three straight road matches before closing the league away slate at Drexel (Nov. 2) and Delaware (Nov. 4). The CAA garnered a league-record four invitations to the 2006 NCAA Tournament. The 2007 CAA Tournament will be Nov. 13-18 with the quarterfinal matches at campus sites on Nov. 13. The semifinals are set for Nov. 16 with the championship game on Nov. 18. The semifinals and championship will be played in Virginia Beach.

Senior goalkeeper Brennan Wergley has started 17 games over the last two seasons and has a goals against average of 1.05.

2007 TRIBE MEN'S SOCCER

2006 SEASON IN REVIEW

TRIBE BATTLED ODU ON FOX SOCCER CHANNEL

The Tribe's season finale in Norfolk against rival Old Dominion was televised as part of the National Soccer Coaches Association of America/Fox Soccer Channel National Collegiate Game of the Week. Despite falling to the No. 24 Monarchs in a tight 2-1 affair, the College appeared on TV for the first time since a 3-0 victory over Maryland in the NCAA Tournament which was broadcast as the College Soccer Game of the Week in 1996.

HOXIE REELS IN NUMEROUS HONORS

Forward Andrew Hoxie earned Second-Team All-Colonial Athletic Association honors after becoming the first Tribe player to earn multiple CAA Player of the Week awards in a single season. The Newport News, Va., native became the 76th W&M men's soccer player named All-CAA. Hoxie was also a Second-Team NSCAA All-South Atlantic Region selection.

The 6-4 striker was selected on a trio of occasions on Sept. 18, Oct. 9 and Oct. 23. The player of the week nods make Hoxie one of only the four W&M player to have three weekly honors during his Tribe career. Current Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL) player Carlos Garcia (1999-02), current Major League Soccer (MLS) player Wade Barrett (1994-97) and former MLS player Paul Grafer (1992-95) are the other three Tribe players to accomplish the feat in their careers. On a pair of occasions, following his CAA Player of the Week awards on Sept. 18 and Oct. 9, Hoxie was named to the Top Drawer Soccer National Teams of the Week.

COMEBACK KIDS

On two occasions in 2006 the Tribe trailed by two goals, only to rally for a result. On senior night, Oct. 20, W&M trailed Georgia State, 2-0, 24 minutes into the contest, before rallying to tie the match before the half. The College went on to score twice in the final seven minutes to claim the victory. On Oct. 10, the Tribe trailed then-No. 23 James Madison, 2-0, in the first half, only to rally and forge a 2-2 tie.

In both contests, senior forward Pat Scherder came to the Tribe's rescue. After allowing a pair of goals to JMU in the first 30 minutes of the contest, Scherder scored off an assist from junior Doug Ernst three minutes before halftime, and then found the equalizer in the 54th minute off a feed from junior Ryan Overdevest. It marked the first time since Oct. 4, 2003 that W&M overcame a two-goal deficit to forge at least a tie. On that date, W&M received goals four minutes apart in the second half from Scherder and Graham Albert to tie College of Charleston, 2-2.

Against Georgia State, W&M trailed 2-0 following a Panther penalty kick in the 24th minute, before an Andrew Hoxie goal and an own goal evened the game before the half. It was all Scherder from there as he scored twice in the final seven minutes of the game for the win.

It marked the first time since 2000 that the Tribe overcame a two-goal deficit to record a victory. The last time W&M accomplished the feat was against Butler on Oct. 27, 2000. The Tribe trailed the Bulldogs, 2-0, in the opening half at the FIU Classic. The College scored twice in final seven minutes of the first half to tie the score, before scoring three times in the second half for a 5-2 win.

ANSWERING THE CALL

Before the 2006 season, head coach Chris Norris said he had high expectations for junior midfielder Doug Ernst. The third-year head man of the Green and Gold felt it was time for the Alexandria, Va., native to step up his offensive production, given his success at the prep and club levels. Ernst answered the call and enjoyed a breakout season.

Ernst found the back of the net on three occasions, but more impressively led the CAA in assists with nine helpers. He also led the conference in assists per game overall and assists in conference games only (5) during his junior campaign. He had a pair of two-assist games, becoming the first W&M player to accomplish the feat in a season since Phil Hucles did it in 2003.

TRIBE CLAIMS ODU STIHL SOCCER CLASSIC

By virtue of its victories over then-No. 29 UNC Greensboro, 5-1, and Loyola (Md.), 2-1, W&M claimed the ODU Stihl Soccer Classic. The Tribe and host ODU both finished with perfect 2-0 record, but the Tribe took the title as a result of a better goal differential thanks in large part to its offensive outburst against UNC Greensboro.

In the opening match of the classic, the Tribe scored early and often in the victory over the Spartans. Forward Pat Scherder started the barrage with a goal in the fifth minute, before sophomore frontrunner Andrew Hoxie added the second, sending the College to a 2-0 halftime lead. Scherder added his second and junior Doug Ernst scored in the 70th minute before the Spartans got on the board three minutes later. Hoxie iced the game with his second tally of the contest in the closing minutes.

In the second game of the classic against Loyola (Md.), the Tribe again scored early on a goal from Ernst in the 17th minute, but the Greyhounds tied it up before the half. Sophomore Brock Jones added what proved to be the game-winner a minute into the second stanza as the Tribe dominated the second 45 minutes, outshooting Loyola (Md.), 14-4.

The College improved to 24-12-4 (.650) all-time at the event, winning the championship for the fourth time in its 20-year history at the classic. W&M won both its games at the event for the seventh time.

JOE AGEE
Assistant Coach
Inducted in 1976

Agee was the first member of the W&M men's soccer family to be inducted to the Tribe Athletics Hall of Fame in the 1976. He spent time with the men's soccer program as an assistant coach.

Agee also was the W&M head men's golf coach for 35 years, ending his tenure in 1999. He started at the College as a professor teaching history, health and physical education in 1958. He graduated from the College in 1952, before earning his master's at W&M in 1956. He attended the Norfolk division of W&M (now Old Dominion) and is a member of both the W&M and ODU Halls of Fame playing both basketball and baseball.

In golf, Agee led W&M to its first ever NCAA Regional berth in 1991 and then again in 1994. He guided the Tribe to the 1982 Virginia state championship and the 1985 CAA crown. Agee also was an assistant coach for the varsity football, basketball and baseball programs.

Mike Flood, elected to the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame in 1995, was an All-American in 1983, leading W&M to the NCAA Tournament.

Championship during his senior campaign in 1983. For his efforts, Flood became the second W&M player to earn All-America honors, joining Bill Watson. For his career, the midfielder from Denver, Colo., finished with 55 points on 22 goals and 11 assists. His top goal-scoring season came in 1981 when he tallied 10 markers, while he finished his senior campaign with six goals and a team-best nine assists.

Along with his All-America laurels, Flood was a three-time all-state and all-region selection. During his senior campaign, he was named the W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year. Flood also participated in the 1983 East-West Senior Bowl. Following his career with the Tribe, Flood was selected in the fourth round of the North American Soccer League Draft by Chicago.

BILL WATSON
Played at W&M, 1975-78

Watson is one of only two players in William and Mary men's soccer history to earn All-America honors on a trio of occasions and be selected to the all-region team during all four seasons of his career. Watson was inducted into the Tribe Athletics Hall of Fame in 1988.

He enjoyed an exception four-year career with the College, leading W&M to its first Southern Conference Championship in 1976. During his career, W&M posted an overall record of 42-18-5 (.685). The back from Scarborough, Ontario was a three-year captain for the College in 1976, 1977 and 1978. During the 1976 season, Watson was named to the All-Southern Conference team, before capping his career with the W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year in 1978. He also participated in the 1978 East-West Senior Bowl. Following his senior season, Watson was drafted in the third round of the 1978 North American Soccer League Draft by Dallas.

Forward
Inducted in 1998
Played at W&M, 1983-86

Bell graduated from W&M as one of the Tribe's most prolific scorers and was inducted into the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame in 1998. Upon the end of his collegiate career in 1986, Bell sat as the school-record holder for career goals (46) and points (113).

While those numbers have since been surpassed, he still ranks second in career goals and third in career points for the College.

During his W&M career, Bell helped the Tribe to the 1983 ECAC South Championship as well as the NCAA Tournament. The College posted a 56-21-6 (.634) mark during his four-year career. Bell was a two-time All-South Atlantic Region choice, an All-ECAC South selection in 1984 and an All-CAA honoree in 1986. He also garnered all-state distinction on a pair of occasions. Bell enjoyed his best statistical season as a junior when he finished with 38 points on 14 goals and 10 assists.

Midfield
Inducted in 1995
Played at W&M, 1980-83

Flood led the Tribe to its first two NCAA Tournaments in 1980 and 1983. During his rookie season, the Tribe reached the NCAA Quarterfinals for the first time, winning the Virginia state and NCAA Regional titles along the way. Flood was inducted into the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame in 1995.

The College finished with a 53-22-11 (.657) record during Flood's four-year career. He captained the Tribe to the ECAC South

W&M HALL OF FAME

Following graduation, the forward from Hamilton, Ontario played in the 1987 Budweiser East-West Classic, which was an indoor all-star game for seniors. He was later selected in a pair of professional indoor drafts. Bell was a fourth-round choice of Dallas in the Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL) Draft and a second-round pick of Tampa Bay in the American Indoor Soccer Association Draft. He later went on to play with the Hamilton Steelers of the Canadian Soccer League and the Dallas Sidekicks of the MISL...

JON TUTTLE
Forward
Inducted in 1999
Played at W&M, 1985-88

Tuttle joined the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame in 1999, following a standout career with the Tribe from 1985-88. He is one of only two William and Mary players to earn all-region honors during all four years of his career, joining fellow W&M Athletics

Hall of Famer Bill Watson on that list.

The forward from Fairfax, Va., was a three-time All-CAA selection and earned the league's Player of the Year accolade in 1988. He led the College to its first CAA crown in 1987 as the Tribe garnered its third trip to the NCAA Tournament. Over his four-year career, the Tribe posted a 57-18-9 (.732) mark. He appeared in every game (83) over that span and started all but one contest (82). Tuttle still ranks ninth on the W&M career points list with 77. He finished his career with 29 goals and 19 assists. He enjoyed his best statistical season as a senior when tallied 26 points on 11 goals and four assists.

Tuttle was a success in the classroom as well as on the pitch. He became the first Tribe player to garner Academic All-America honors. He was an honorable mention choice in 1987, before taking home first-team distinction in 1988. He also was inducted into the Phi Beta Kappa Honor Society in 1988 as well. During his senior campaign, Tuttle was a VaSID All-State selection, the W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year and played in the 1988 East-West Senior Bowl. Following his career at W&M, Tuttle spent two seasons in the American Soccer League playing with the Washington Stars and the Boston Bolts.

SCOTT BUDNICK
Goalkeeper
Inducted in 2006
Played at W&M, 1989-92

Budnick gained entrance into the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame with his induction in 2006. During his four-year career with the Tribe, Budnick was a two-time NSCAA All-South Atlantic Region selection and a three-time All-CAA choice. He enjoyed his finest season as a senior in 1992, leading the Tribe to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Jasper, Ind., native posted a goals against average of 0.88 to go along with seven shutouts. For his efforts, he was named the 1992 W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year.

A 14th round selection of the Tampa Bay Mutiny in the 1996 MLS Inaugural Player Draft, Budnick played four seasons in the MLS with Tampa Bay, Miami and New England. The 6-2 goalkeeper made 16 career appearances, including 15 starts during his MLS career. Budnick has a pair of shutouts and 69 career saves with a goals against average of 1.78. He made a pair of playoff appearances with Tampa Bay in 1996 and 1997.

Budnick also made a splash on the International scene, playing with the United States Under-20 National Team in 1989. He still ranks among the Tribe's all-time best at the goalkeeper position. Budnick is second on the College's career saves (269) and shutouts (19) lists. He also finished his career with a 1.01 goals against average. During his career, W&M posts a 47-23-10 overall record (.650) and a 17-5-6 CAA ledger (.714).

PAUL GRAFER
Goalkeeper
Inducted in 2007
Played at W&M, 1992-95

Grafer was the latest former Tribe player to earn induction into the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame. He was a standout goalkeeper from 1992-95, before spending 10 years in pro soccer in the U.S.

During his W&M career, Grafer was an All-America choice in 1995 to go along with earning All-CAA honors on three occasions and being named all-state and all-region during his final two seasons in 1994 and 1995. He capped off his senior campaign by being named the W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year. Grafer helped the Tribe to a remarkable 63-19-8 (.744) record over his four seasons, including three trips to the NCAA Tournament. In 1995, he captained the Tribe to the CAA Championship. Grafer still ranks second on the W&M career list in saves (269), while coming in third in both shutouts (18) and goals against average (0.96).

Following his senior campaign, he was selected in the second round of the 1996 MLS Draft by the Colorado Rapids. He spent seven seasons in MLS with both the Rapids and the NY-NJ Metrostars. Grafer also enjoyed stints with the Long Island Rough Riders and the Charleston Battery of the A-League. Grafer spent time with the United States Olympic Team in 1994.

Paul Grafer, the latest Tribe men's soccer player to be elected to the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame, spent seven season in Major League Soccer.

SPRING PANCAKE SUPPER NETS $$$ FOR TRIBE SOCCER

Last spring, the members of the men's soccer team continued the annual pancake supper at the Gazebo Restaurant on Bypass Road—a fund-raiser that first started 13 years ago.

Players and coaches sold tickets and provided the labor as they washed dishes, waited on customers, bussed tables, reset placemats and chauffeured ticket-holders. In addition, an apparel sale was held to sell old William and Mary soccer gear to fans. Funds from this annual event are used to defray the costs of a spring break trip.

William and Mary match-by-match results for every season since 1965. William and Mary was a member of the Southern Conference from 1967 through 1976. In 1983 and 1984, the College's soccer team played as a member of the ECAC South. William and Mary has been a member of Colonial Athletic Association since the 1985 season. The CAA champion has been determined by a postseason tournament since 1990, before that the league champion was determined based on regular season results.

2007 TRIBE MEN'S SOCCER

The William and Mary men's soccer program has a rich tradition of developing talent and sending its players into the professional ranks both within the United States and abroad. The Tribe has sent 30 players into the professional ranks, including 17 student-athletes drafted by professional leagues. Of those players that have gone on to play professionally, seven were drafted into the top division in the United State's Major League Soccer (MLS).

Wade Barrett, who sports success both within the U.S. and abroad in professional soccer, has won two MLS Cup Championships, while playing with the San Jose Earthquakes in 2001 and the Houston Dynamo in 2006. He captained his latest squad to the title just this past season. Barrett, who is currently the captain of the Dynamo, has spent eight seasons in MLS with San Jose and then Houston.

Steve Jolley, who retired from professional soccer following the 2006 season, is the longest tenured Tribe player in MLS. He spent 10 seasons in the league with the Los Angeles Galaxy, the New York-New Jersey Metrostars, the Dallas Burn, FC Dallas and Red Bull New York. He played in 227 career games with 206 starts in MLS and had 12 goals and 11 assists. His 120 games with New York ranks as the third most by a single player in the franchise's history.

Adin Brown enjoyed a five-year career in the MLS with the Colorado Rapids, Tampa Bay Mutiny and New England Revolution, before moving abroad and playing in Norway with Aalesunds FK for the last three seasons. He has been named the club's player of the year each of the last two seasons and was a finalist for the Norwegian Second Division Player of the Year in 2006. He signed a contract extension with the club before the 2007 season that extends through 2009.

Another former Tribe player currently tooling his trade in professional soccer is Carlos Garcia. He recently wrapped up his fourth season with the Baltimore Blast of the Major Indoor Soccer League. In his four seasons, the Blast have taken home the MISL Championship twice (2003-04 and 2005-06). In 2006-07, Garcia was third on the Blast in scoring with 42 points on 13 two-point goals, one three-point goal and 13 assists.

Ralph Bean, who made an appearance with the Bermuda National Team in 2007, spent the 2007 season with the Bermuda Hogges of the United Soccer League Second Division. In February, Bean started and assisted on the Bermuda National Team's lone goal in a 3-1 loss to the New England Revolution of MLS.

JON STEWART

Tribe

A three-year starter on the men's soccer team, 1984 William and Mary graduate Jon Stewart is the program's most famous and well-known alum. Currently the host, executive producer and writer of the Emmy Award-winning "The Daily Show with Jon Stewart" on Comedy Central, he received the National Soccer Coaches Association of American (NSCAA) Honorary All-America Award for 2005. The organization presented Stewart with the honor at the Jan. 21 NSCAA All-America Luncheon in Philadelphia, held in conjunction with the annual NSCAA Convention.

The NSCAA Honorary All-America award is presented to those who have brought particular distinction to the sport of soccer through their efforts within and beyond the boundaries of the sport. Past recipients include astronaut Sonny Carter, actor Andrew Shue and Lamar Hunt, owner of the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs and the Major League Soccer franchises in Columbus, Dallas and Kansas City.

Stewart ended his playing career at W&M with 10 goals and 12 assists, helping the Tribe to a 40-15-9 (.695) record in his three seasons. In an interview with Soccer News, he said that soccer was the thing he enjoyed most about his time at W&M. Stewart recalled that his most exciting memory from his playing days was scoring the only goal in a 1-0 win over Connecticut in the 1983 ECAC Championship, giving the Tribe just its second league title and the first since 1976. In May of 2004, Stewart returned to the College to deliver W&M's Commencement address, the first Tribe soccer player ever to be selected for that honor.

Stewart began his professional career at some of the top comedy clubs in New York City, eventually earning appearances on "Late Show with David Letterman" and HBO's "Young Comedians Special." That led to hosting "The Jon Stewart Show" on MTV in 1994 and 1995. From there, he starred on "The Larry Sanders Show" before taking over "The Daily Show" in January 1999. Stewart wrote the best-selling Naked Pictures of Famous People and starred in a number of feature films, including Death to Smoochy and Big Daddy.

"The Daily Show" has won five Emmy Awards, including beating out "Late Show with David Letterman" for the 2003 and 2004 awards for outstanding variety, music or comedy series. The program was recently nominated for that honor and three others in the 2004-05 Emmy competition. In March, Stewart signed a deal to extend his contract to host "The Daily Show" through 2008.

Recently ranked second on Entertainment Weekly's list of funniest Americans, Stewart was awarded an honorary doctorate of arts at W&M's 2004 graduation ceremonies after delivering the Commencement address.

"I am honored to be here and receive this honorary doctorate," said Stewart. "When I think back to the people that have been in this position before me, from Benjamin Franklin to Queen Noor of Jordan, I can't help but wonder what has happened to this place. As a person, I am honored to get it; as an alumnus, I have to say I believe we can do better."

NCAA BYLAW

30.7 FOREIGN TOURS AND COMPETITION

A member institution may participate in a foreign tour in any sport (see Bylaw 17.32), provided the conditions specified below are met. (Revised: 1/11/89)

30.7.1 Certification of Tour. The institution must certify in writing that the conditions set forth in this section are met and must maintain the certification on file in the athletics department. (Revised: 1/11/89)

30.7.4 Time Lapse between Tours. An institution shall not engage in a foreign tour in each sport more than once every four years. (Revised: 1/11/89)

The William and Mary men's soccer program has taken full advantage of the NCAA Bylaw (30.7) allowing for international trips and competition for an athletic team once every four years. The W&M Once-Every-Four Tour has traveled to Bermuda, Jamaica, England and most recently Greece. The Tribe made the venture back to Athens, Greece for a second time during the spring of 2007.

"We have tried to take full advantage over the years of the NCAA rule that allows an overseas trip every four years," head coach Chris Norris said. "Through contacts we have always been able to get good games with the pro clubs in whatever country we go to, and Greece was no exception. We played Panathinaikos and Olympiakos, who are the top teams in Greece and both play in Athens."

Taking the trip over spring break instead of during the preseason allows for time to be spent taking in the culture of the various countries and cities visited. The trip allows for the team to not only gain a different perspective on the soccer field, but also from a cultural standpoint.

"We have traditionally taken our trips during spring break as opposed to preseason," Norris said. "We want our focus to be a little different during preseason. We want our international trip to be a good team-bonding experience as well as a good social and cultural experience for the guys. Doing the trip during the spring provides a great opportunity for the guys to see a different culture in terms of soccer, but also a different culture in general."

The Tribe has enjoyed some great success on the field during the international trips. During the 2007 trip, W&M went 4-1 in five contests, outscoring its opponents, 14-4. In 2003, W&M went undefeated in its four matches, including wins over Markopoulo, Panathinaikos and Olympiakos. In 1995, the College went undefeated against six first division teams in Bermuda. Charly Franks, a 1981 alumn of the College, hosted the team during its trip to Bermuda.

During the program's second international experience in 1987, the Tribe went 3-0-1 against four of the teams in Jamaica. In fact, the draw came against Seba, Jamaica's top team at the time, in front an estimated 3,500 fans. During that trip, W&M notched wins over Volvo (1-0), Star Cosmos (4-1) and Windsor (3-1).

During W&M's 1999 foreign tour trip, Crystal Palace FC hosted the Tribe. Former Tribe player Mark Goldberg was the Chair of the Football Club during the time. W&M played five matches against professional youth and reserve players from Crystal Palace, Fulham, Millwall and Bristol City.

TRIBE ATHLETICS

ATHLETIC SUCCESS

The 2006-07 season was another strong year for the College, as Tribe teams added four more CAA titles to bring the school's all-time league-leading total to 88.

The men's cross country squad won its seventh consecutive CAA crown in the fall, while the women's cross country team won its fourth straight. The women's swimming team won its first CAA Championship, while the women's tennis team added its 19th all-time CAA crown in the spring.

Individually, the women's tennis doubles team of Megan Moulton-Levy and Katarina Zoric reached the title match of the NCAA Doubles Championship, earning All-America honors. Katie Radloff became the first female swimmer to advance to the NCAA's since 1983. Additionally, Keith Bechtol raced to a 14th-place finish in the 10,000m, while Bonnie Meekins placed 16th in the heptathlon at the NCAA Track and Field Championships.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The Tribe's athletic accomplishments do not come at the expense of its student-athlete's academic responsibilities.

This year, the NCAA honored 13 W&M teams as recipients of its public recognition award. The Tribe teams recognized are baseball, men's and women's cross country, football, men's and women's golf, men's and women's gymnastics, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field and volleyball.

Additionally, in the latest NCAA graduation rate reports, three Tribe teams posted 100% graduation rates, including football, women's basketball and women's cross country/track.

Since 1992, 39 student-athletes have been designated Academic All-Americans, including three in the past academic year. Keith Bechtol (men's track) was a First-Team selection, Ryan Overdevest (men's soccer) was a Second-Team selection and Anna Young (women's soccer) was a Third-Team selection.

In 2002-03, the CAA created a Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award in each of its sports, and not surprisingly, W&M has set the pace with 22 winners. Bechtol was the CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year in both cross country and track and field, bringing his career award total to five. Meghan Bishop (women's cross country) earned her fourth CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year award in the fall in cross country.

In addition, four of W&M's five Rhodes scholars participated in varsity sports.

Terry Driscoll Athletics Director

Under the steady guidance and watchful eye of Terry Driscoll, the William and Mary Athletics Department has solidified its standing as one of the nation's preeminent broad-based programs. As Driscoll enters his 12th year as athletics director, he has overseen an unprecedented era of improvement in terms of funding and facilities while also maintaining the College's rich history of producing well-rounded student-athletes.

Driscoll oversees a program that William and Mary President Gene Nichol proclaimed "The nation's gold standard" when it came to balancing academic demands with athletic success. One of the department's stated goals each year is to finish among the top 100 in the annual Director's Cup rankings, which has happened in all but one of the years that Driscoll has been the director.

In the last four years alone, the Tribe's program has combined for a total of 19 Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) titles. This past season, W&M claimed four CAA titles (Men's and Women's Cross Country, Women's Swimming and Women's Tennis). In 2004-05, the Tribe captured five CAA championships and an Atlantic 10 Football title. As recently as 2002-03, W&M had a school-record 10 teams compete in the NCAA Tournament, with four teams winning conference titles and six that finished in the top 25 at the end of their respective seasons. Overall, no team in the CAA can claim more all-time league championships than the 88 William and Mary has earned.

As impressive as the athletic accomplishments have been during Driscoll's tenure, the program's academic successes have been even greater. In the NCAA's inaugural (2004) APR rankings, a measurement of academic progress based on academic eligibility, retention, and graduation of student-athletes, W&M was fourth in the nation overall and first among institutions offering athletic performance-based scholarships. Additionally, the Tribe football team has twice posted a 100 percent graduation rate, while the majority of the program's squads have consistently ranked among the nation's finest in terms of graduation. In 2002, the CAA started recognizing Scholar-Athletes of the Year for each of the 22 sports it sponsors, and the College has had a conference-high 22 individuals receive the honor.

Despite the many academic and athletic successes, Driscoll's impact on the program has been equally impressive in terms of physical and financial improvements. Since taking over as athletics director, Driscoll has overseen the construction of more than $20 million in new facilities, including Plumeri Park (baseball), Albert-Daly Field (soccer, lacrosse) and the Busch Courts (tennis). The total increased significantly when Driscoll announced plans to build the $11 million, 30,000-square foot Jimmye Laycock Football Center at Zable Stadium, which is scheduled to open in time for the 2008 season. This impressive structure follows closely on the heels of the installation of a $650,000 permanent lighting system (2006) and an $840,000 state-of-the-art Field Turf Pro artificial playing surface (2006) inside the stadium. Yet another significant upgrade will be unveiled inside the venerable structure for 2007, as the department will install an $800,000-plus brand new video scoreboard by the season opener.

In addition to the physical structures, Driscoll has also worked with the Associate Athletics Director for Development, Bobby Dwyer, to increase the annual fundraising totals for non-capital projects from $1.36 million in 1995 to the current annual total of approximately $2.7 million.

A true student-athlete himself, Driscoll's leadership skills were developed during his collegiate years. As a student-athlete at Boston College, Driscoll captained the basketball team to the National Invitation Tournament Finals as a senior, and was named the tournament MVP. In addition to being named an All-American, his success in the classroom as a biology major garnered him an Academic All-America honor.

After graduating from BC, he was the fourth overall pick of the 1969 NBA Draft, selected by the Detroit Pistons, just three spots after the Milwaukee Bucks chose UCLA's Lew Alcindor, later to be known as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. Driscoll chose to play a year in Italy first, but then returned to the U.S. to play for the Pistons, Washington Bullets and Milwaukee Bucks before going back to Italy as a player and then coach until 1980.

Driscoll then entered the corporate world in 1980, working for Kazmaier Associates, Inc., an international sporting goods sales and sports marketing firm. After Kazmaier purchased Bike Athletic in 1986, KSG Inc. was formed with the objective of becoming the first, and only, national sales agency in the sporting goods industry. By 1987, Driscoll was president of the company and had expanded the agency to all 50 states just two years later. In early 1990, Driscoll's contribution to a marketing research project for the NCAA was the initial step moving him from product marketing and sales to sports marketing and management. The result of the project was a joint venture between Kazmaier Associates and Host Communications - with Driscoll being named managing director and chief operating officer of NCAA International.

In 1993, Driscoll diversified his experience in the athletic world by working as the executive director of the 1994 World Cup site in Boston. In September of that year, Driscoll was again enlisted to launch a new business, Eagle International Group, an event management and services company. As vice president, Driscoll worked with Hawaii Pacific Sports to organizing the Women's World Volleyball Grand Prix competition in Honolulu.

Driscoll resides in Williamsburg with his wife, Susan. The couple has two children - Keith, a 1997 graduate of Holy Cross, and Leslie, a 2001 graduate of William and Mary.

Barbara Blosser Senior Associate Athletics Director

Few names in the William and Mary Athletics Department are as familiar, or respected, as that of Senior Associate Athletics Director Barbara Blosser. Since first arriving on campus in 1978, Blosser has touched the lives of thousands of Tribe student-athletes.

She has held her current title since April of 2004, after spending the previous 12 years as the associate athletics director. In each role, Blosser has served as an integral part of nearly every facet of the department's daily operations.

Blosser started her career at William and Mary as the head women's basketball coach in 1978 and guided the Tribe to a VALAW crown in her first season with a then school-record 16 wins (16-13). Her 1980 Tribe team (11-14) placed third, while the 1981 squad (16-16) was VALAW runner-up. She was also at the helm during the 1984-85 season when William and Mary made the jump to NCAA Division I. Overall, she finished her coaching career with 115 wins, 84 of which came at William and Mary.

When the College's men's and women's athletic programs merged in May of 1986, she moved to administration, first serving as the assistant to the associate athletics director. Over the past 17 years, her administrative responsibilities at W&M have included the monitoring of financial aid matters, coordinating the scheduling of athletic facilities, supervision of coaches and staff and, currently, serving as the person primarily responsible for administering the day-to-day operations of the department.

From October 1992 to June 1993 and August 1995 to July 1996, Blosser also served as acting athletics director in an interim capacity. For her efforts, she was named the first recipient of the John Randolph Inspiration Award. Blosser has served on various committees such as the NCAA Strategic Planning Committee and the Colonial Athletic Association Competition Committee.

Blosser began her coaching career at the helm of the women's basketball program at Ashland College in Ohio. During two seasons there, she led the Eagles to successive 15-7 and 16-8 ledgers. Her 1977 squad won the AIAW Region V Championship, while her 1978 team took the OASW Small College title.

A former three-sport standout at Ohio State, Blosser graduated Cum Laude in 1975 with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education. At OSU, she was selected to both Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board. She competed in basketball, field hockey and tennis and captained both the basketball and field hockey squads her senior year. She went on to earn her master's degree from the University of North Carolina Greensboro in 1978.

Gene R. Nichol President

Gene R. Nichol became the 26th president of the College of William and Mary on July 1, 2005.

Before returning to Williamsburg, where he taught two decades ago, Nichol was Burton Craig Professor and Dean of the law school at the University of North Carolina. He served as Law Dean at the University of Colorado from 1988 to 1995, and as James Gould Cutler Professor and Director of the Institute of Bill of Rights Law at William and Mary from 1985 to 1988. Nichol was also a faculty member at the University of Florida and West Virginia University. He founded the Byron R. White Center for the Study of American Constitutional Law at the University of Colorado (1990) and the Center for Civil Rights at the University of North Carolina (2001).

Nichol teaches courses in constitutional law and civil rights. He is the co-author of Federal Courts: Cases, Comments, and Questions (West, 2000) and a contributor to Where We Stand: Voices of Southern Dissent (NewSouth Books, 2004). Nichol has published articles and essays in the Harvard Law Review, the Yale Law Journal, the University of Chicago Law Review, the University of Pennsylvania Law Review, the Michigan Law Review, the California Law Review, the Virginia Law Review and an array of other leading legal journals. From 1998 to 1999, he was a political columnist for the Rocky Mountain News and the Colorado Daily. From 1999 to 2005, he was a regular op-ed writer for the Raleigh News & Observer. He has also written for The Nation and other periodicals.

Nichol has been significantly involved in public affairs. He has testified before a number of committees of the United States Congress and various state legislatures. In 1991, he was appointed special master by a three-judge federal court in Colorado to mediate a redistricting dispute between the governor and the legislature. The accord was ratified by statute. A year later he helped head the Colorado Reapportionment Commission. In 2004, Nichol led the North Carolina Bi-Partisan Commission on Lobbying Reform; legislation was passed enacting com-

Sandra Day O'Connor Chancellor

Sandra Day O'Connor, one of the most distinguished jurists in the history of the United States Supreme Court—and its first female justice—addressed the most profound legal issues of her age with wisdom, courage, and skill. After a long career in public service, including nearly a quarter century on the nation's highest court, she retired in 2006.

Justice O'Connor spent her childhood on an isolated cattle ranch in southeastern Arizona tending to a variety of ranch chores, raising farm animals, and reading voraciously. After completing school in El Paso, Texas, she journeyed west to continue her education at Stanford University, where her professors inspired and challenged her to make a difference in her nation and the world.

Justice O'Connor earned a B.A. in economics (magna cum laude) from Stanford University and a LL.B. from Stanford Law School. She was an editor of the law review and graduated third in her law class—two spots behind her friend and future colleague, the late Chief Justice William Rehnquist.

After being admitted to the bar, Justice O'Connor served as Deputy County Attorney of San Mateo County, California, from 1952 to 1953, and as a civilian attorney for the U.S. Army Quartermaster Market Center in Frankfurt, Germany, from 1954 to 1957. From 1958 to 1960, she practiced law in Maryvale, Arizona, and served as Assistant Attorney General of Arizona from 1965 to 1969. She was appointed to the Arizona State Senate in 1969, and was subsequently reelected to two two-year terms, during which she served as Majority Leader. In 1975, she was elected Judge of the Maricopa County Superior Court and served until 1979, when she was appointed to the Arizona Court of Appeals.

President Reagan nominated her as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, and she took her seat September 25, 1981. She succeeded the Honorable Henry A. Kissinger as Chancellor of the College of William and Mary in 2005. In the year since her investiture, she has visited the College several times, visiting classes, talking with students, and addressing two academic conferences.

She is married to John Jay O'Connor III, whom she met in law school. They have three sons: Scott, Brian, and Jay.

Nichol attended Oklahoma State University, where he received a degree in philosophy and played varsity football. He obtained his J.D. from the University of Texas, graduating Order of the Coif in 1976. He is married to Glenn George, a scholar of employment and labor law and a member of the faculty at the William and Mary's Marshall-Wythe School of Law. They have three daughters: Jesse (19), Jenny (18), and Soren (14).

mission recommendations. He ran unsuccessfully for national political office while in Colorado. He has been elected to membership in the American Law Institute and the American Bar Foundation Fellows.

In 2003, Nichol won the American Bar Association's Edward R. Finch Award for delivering the nation's best Law Day address. Two years later, Governor Michael Easley inducted Nichol into the Order of the Long Leaf Pine, the state of North Carolina's highest civilian honor, and the national judicial access organization, Equal Justice Works, named him outstanding law school dean of the year.

At the College of William and Mary, Nichol has markedly increased access for students of color. He also created the Gateway William and Mary program, an innovative financial aid program that puts a quality education within the reach of all Virginians, regardless of their ability to pay.

THE COLLEGE

For more than 300 years, William and Mary has been a symbol of academic distinction in America. Now, in its fourth century, the College is prepared to educate the leaders of the 21st century.

The College of William and Mary was founded in 1693 by King William III and Queen Mary II of England. Four Presidents of the United States received their education at the College - George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe and John Tyler.

William and Mary was the first college to institute an honor code of conduct. The premier academic society, Phi Beta Kappa, was founded by William and Mary students in 1776. The Society of the Alumni, founded in 1842, is the sixth oldest alumni group in the nation. Now the College is designated as a "Public Ivy", and ranks sixth among all public universities (U.S. News and World Report).

• W&M FACTS •

- W&M is the best small public university in the nation in terms of commitment to teaching, according to an analysis by U.S. News and World Report.
- W&M ranked sixth among all public universities in the analysis.
- W&M ranked tied for 31st overall among the nation's best universities.
- W&M ranked 17th in graduation rates.
- The average SAT score of William and Mary's incoming first-year students is higher than that of any other Virginia institution.
- William and Mary earned the five-star (highest) academic ranking awarded by the Fiske Guide to Colleges, edited by the former New York Times education reporter.
- The College's student/faculty ratio is approximately 12/1.
- Over 42% of the classes at W&M have less than 20 students.
- The maximum enrollment for freshman seminars is 15 students.
- Over 20,000 internships are posted on the school's web site.
- 10,722 high school students applied for 1,349 spots in the freshman class for the 2006-07 school year.
- The retention rate for freshmen who entered in the fall of 2005 was 95%.

Athletics Department Goals

We take pride in the many achievements of William and Mary athletes, both in the classroom and on the playing fields. These support services and many others are in place to help each student-athlete achieve their goals. It is our hope that at the completion of their undergraduate career they can reflect upon:

1. An academic experience that prepared them for a successful career.
2. An athletic challenge that brought many rewards.
3. A feeling of loyalty and pride in identifying themselves as a varsity athlete with a degree from the College of William and Mary.

Sports Psychology

Deidre Connelly, Ph.D., is the College's full-time sport psychologist. All consultations are confidential and all student-athletes, teams or coaches are welcome regardless of the issues they wish to discuss. Consultation is available for sport psychology education, performance enhancement skills training, strategies for dealing with stress or injury, or for personal issues that may affect performance.

Compliance, Academic Support

As members of the Colonial Athletic Association and the NCAA, the College is committed to full compliance with all NCAA and conference regulations. The department has a full-time Director of Compliance, Pamela Mason, who is committed to assisting students, staff and coaches through education and monitoring of compliance issues.

The department offers a variety of study, life and career building skills programs, but holds firm to the concept of self-determination—each student must take responsibility for his or her collegiate experience. Our goal is to ensure that there is a support system in place to assist students to make positive and informed decisions.

Speed, Strength, Conditioning

Tribe Athletics is very proud of the Joseph W. Montgomery Strength Training Center, a 5,000 square foot weight training facility. Under the guidance of the Head Speed, Strength and Conditioning Coach John Sauer, each sport is provided with a program designed to enhance individual strength and flexibility development specific to the skills and movements required for their sport. Individuals are educated on proper lifting techniques and workouts are monitored to ensure safety at all times.

Sports Medicine

The Division of Sports Medicine provides a comprehensive health care program for the department of intercollegiate athletics. The staff consists of Assistant Athletics Director for Health Services, Steve Cole, a team physician, seven full-time certified athletic trainers, two graduate assistant athletic trainers and medical specialists from the local community. The team physician has overall responsibility for supervision of the sports medicine program. Tribe athletes have the luxury of rehabilitating and treating injuries in a state-of-the-art athletic training facility.

THE 12TH MAN CLUB

Since 1988, the "12th Man Club," the fundraising effort of the Tribe Club for men's soccer, has been enhancing the Tribe men's soccer program. In 2006-07, the club raised over $160,000 for men's soccer, the best year to date. The fundraising money is used by the program to enhance scholarships, halftime receptions, Internet broadcasts, the NSCAA/FSC TV game against Old Dominion in October, supporting the foreign tour, alumni reunions and more.

Over 200 individuals gave to the 12th Man Club in 2006-07, including one of the highest percentages of former players of any team at W&M. From 2004-2006, the percentage of former athletes giving back to the program was the highest of any team. For information on how to join the 12th Man Club and support men's soccer, contact the Tribe Club at afalbe@wm.edu or call 757-221-3438.
