SCOUTING STONY BROOK

Stony Brook enters the Saturday night affair with the Tribe at 5-3 on the season, after notching a 4-1 win over Marist on Sept. 25. The Seawolves peppered the Red Fox goal with 27 shots in the match, including 16 on goal. SBU has been on a hot streak of late, winning five of its last six matches with the only loss in the sequence coming in overtime, 2-1, at Towson. The Seawolves also own victories over Hofstra (3-1), Columbia (2-1), Adelphi (2-0) and Niagara (2-1), while dropping its opening two games of the season to Big East foes Seton Hall (2-0) and Connecticut (3-0).

Michael Palacio leads the Seawolves in scoring after finding the back of the net twice in the win over Marist. Palacio has 13 points on four goals and five assists this season. A season ago, Palacio was named the America East Midfielder of the Year along with garnering first-team all-conference and second-team all-region accolades. Petar Rakovic, Mahamadou Simpara and Collin Geoghegan each have a pair of goals on the year for the Seawolves. Maurice Brown ranks second on the team with a pair of assists.

A pair of goalkeepers have seen time for Stony Brook in 2007. Dawid Ditrich has started six games and sports a goals against average of 0.99 to go along with a shutout and 14 saves. Rich Skoblicki has started a pair of contests for the Seawolves, including its victory over Marist. He has a GAA of 2.39 to go along with three saves.

Last season was the first-ever meeting between W&M and Stony Brook with the Tribe tallying a 2-0 win in Williamsburg. Doug Ernst assisted on both goals as the Tribe out-shot the Seawolves, 17-9.

DOWN RIGHT DEFENSIVE

W&M head coach Chris Norris tinkered with his defensive lineup over the opening part of the regular season, and if recent results are any indication, Norris has pushed the right buttons. The first change came prior to the ODU Stihl Soccer Classic moving redshirt freshman goalkeeper Andrew McAdams into the starting XI. The changes continued a week later as the fourth-year Tribe headman moved junior Brock Jones to center back in an attempt to solidify the backline prior to the North Carolina match.

The moves have paid dividends as W&M has posted a 2-1-2 mark to go along with a 0.73 goals against average in the five games since the initial change. In fact, over the Tribe's last three matches, W&M has a GAA of 0.29, while blanking two of its last three opponents. The College shutout ACC foe North Carolina on the road on Sept. 19, before holding the nation's No. 7-ranked scoring offense, Virginia Tech, to only one goal in 110 minutes of play.

To make the Tribe's defensive strides more impressive is the influx of youth in the back third of the field. The W&M lineup not only sports a first-year goalkeeper in McAdams but also includes true freshmen Nick Orozco and Michael DiNuzzo in the back along with sophomore Roger Bothe. The trio of Orozco, DiNuzzo and Bothe have started every match this season for the Tribe.

THOMAS FINDING THE MARK

With W&M limited at the forward position this season, the Tribe turned to sophomore Price Thomas to fill the void alongside blossoming redshirt freshmen striker Alan Koger. Thomas, who started 17 of 19 matches as a true freshman in the midfield, is starting to find his stride up top. In each of the Tribe's last two games, the Charlottesville, Va., native has found the back of the net.

He pushed the Tribe out to a 1-0 lead in the opening three minutes of the game against No. 12 Virginia Tech. Thomas followed that performance by scoring the game-winner in the 71st minute of play against American. It marked the first career game-winner during Thomas' brief career with the College.

FIT TO BE TIED

The Tribe turned impressive back-to-back efforts, garnering ties with Atlantic Coast Conference foes North Carolina and No. 12 Virginia Tech. The College shutout UNC on the strength of a stout Tribe defense and a penalty kick save by redshirt freshman Andrew McAdams in the second overtime period. Against the Hokies, the Tribe jumped out to the early lead on a goal by sophomore Price Thomas, before VT tied it early in the second off a corner kick goal. The W&M defense stiffened and held one of the countries top scoring offenses off the board for the remainder of the contest. McAdams finished with seven saves against Virginia Tech and 10 against the Tar Heels.

McAdams GARNERS CAA ROOKIE OF THE WEEK HONOR

After helping the Tribe register a pair of ties against Atlantic Coast Conference foes North Carolina, 0-0, and No. 15 Virginia Tech, 1-1, redshirt freshman goalkeeper Andrew McAdams was named CAA Rookie of the Week on Sept. 24. McAdams became the first Tribe rookie to earn the CAA weekly honor since Brennan Wergley garnered the accolade in 2005.

In the Tribe's 0-0 stalemate at North Carolina, McAdams tallied his first career shutout making 10 saves in just his third career start. The Palm Harbor, Fla., native came up with the biggest save of the game in the second overtime period. After W&M was whistled for a foul in the box, McAdams denied Scott Campbell's penalty kick with a kick save in the 105th minute of play to preserve the shutout. His 10-save performance was the best by a W&M goalkeeper since Kris Rake had 10 stops against then-No. 1 Maryland on Sept. 22, 2004.

McAdams followed that performance with a seven-save effort allowing only one goal to the nation's No. 7-ranked scoring offense in Virginia Tech. The Hokies came into the match averaging three goals a game over their five-match win streak, but could only muster a single score in a 110 minutes against the Tribe. For the week, McAdams finished with a goals against average of 0.41 against a pair of teams who have been in the national top-25 or receiving votes throughout the 2007 season.

KOGER NAMED CAA PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Redshirt freshman men's soccer player Alan Koger was named the Colonial Athletic Association Player of the Week on Sept. 17. Koger scored three goals for the Tribe at the ODU Stihl Soccer Classic on his way to earning All-Tournament team honors. Koger became the first Tribe men's soccer player this season and the 26th overall to win the CAA weekly honor.

In the College's 3-1 win over Temple, Koger earned his first career start and responded by providing a vital scoring punch for the Tribe. The Spencer, Va., native tallied goals just 2:16 apart in the opening 20 minutes of the play to stake the Tribe to a 2-0 advantage. W&M's first marker came in the 17th minute of play as Koger jumped on a rebound, heading the ball into the back of the net for the goal. At the 18:46, Koger struck again to give the Tribe a little breathing room at 2-0 as he beat the Owl goalkeeper to the ball on a service from junior midfielder Brock Jones.

Koger notched his third goal of the weekend in the Tribe's 2-1 loss to Dartmouth. The 6-2 striker scored on a breakaway following a through ball from fellow rookie Nathaniel Baako in the 30th minute of play. On the weekend, Koger registered eight shots, including six on goal.

YOUTHFUL EXUBERANCE

A glance at the Tribe roster will bring about one common theme, youth. The W&M roster features 17 of 25 players, who are underclassmen (freshmen, redshirt freshmen and sophomores). Head coach Chris Norris has wasted little time, putting the Tribe's youth movement on display.

In every Tribe game this season, the starting XI has included no fewer than three freshmen. In each of the last five games for W&M, five freshman have started. Redshirt freshmen Alan Koger and Andrew McAdams have been joined in the starting lineup by true freshmen Michael DiNuzzo, Nathaniel Baako and Nick Orozco in each of the Tribe's last five contests. W&M is 2-1-2 in those matches.

Orozco, DiNuzzo and Baako were joined in the starting XI by fellow true freshman Ian Stowe in the season opener against Elon. It marked the first time in 15 years that four true freshmen started the same game. The last time a W&M starting lineup included four true freshmen was Nov. 14, 1992 when Chris Scrofani, Tim Pricso, Bill Owens and Greg Richards started the Tribe's First Round NCAA Tournament victory over West Virginia. The 1992 campaign was also the last time five freshmen started at least one game during the season as Andrew Petty started eight games as well as the four players who started the NCAA Tournament affair.
