HEAD COACH TONY SHAVER

When Tony Shaver accepted the head coaching position at William and Mary in May of 2003, he set his sights on making the Tribe a winning program. Fast-forward six years and the two-time CAA Coach of the Year and National Mid-Major Coach of the Year finalist has led a revival of the Green and Gold program. In 2008, he took W&M to the brink of its first-ever CAA title and NCAA Tournament appearance. Despite all the recent success, Shaver's vision and intensity to win has not wavered.

"I do not want anyone to limit the vision of our program," Shaver said. "We expect our teams to win, and recently we have taken exceptional steps toward where we know our program can be."

Shaver enters his seventh season with the College and 24th overall as one of the winningest active coaches in college basketball. He ranks 31st among active Division I head coach with 423 victories, while ranking 43rd in winning percentage at .644.

In 2007-08, William and Mary posted its first winning season in a decade finishing with a 17-16 ledger. In fact it was only the sixth time in school history that a Tribe team had won 17 or more contests. W&M also finished fifth in the league on the strength of a 10-8 CAA ledger. It marked only the second time in the Tribe's 24-year history in the CAA that it has won double-digit games.

In six seasons at the helm of the William and Mary men's basketball program, Tony Shaver has turned the William and Mary men's basketball program into a winner. The program posted back-to-back 15-plus win seasons for the first time in a quarter of a century in 2006-07 and 2007-08. The Tribe also put together consecutive seasons with a .500 or better record for the first time in 23 years.

Shaver was voted the 2008 CAA Coach of the Year by the league's media, coaches and sports information directors. The Shaver-led Tribe punctuated the honor by reeling off three-straight last-second wins on its way to the CAA Championship Game. Included in the run was a 56-54 win over regular season champion and No. 1 seed VCU in the semifinals. W&M won three contests to get to the championship game, matching the program's victory total in the tournament from the previous 22 years. As a result of the title game appearance, W&M had its first-ever national televised game and made its first appearance on ESPN.

The Tribe accomplished numerous other milestones during the historic 2007-08 season. W&M established not only school records, but CAA marks for 3-pointers made (257) and attempted (755) in a season. The Tribe also bettered the school standard for 3-pointers per game (7.79), double-digit 3-point efforts in a season (9) and consecutive double-digit 3-point shooting performances (5). Shaver engineered a quartet of double-digit comebacks for the Tribe in 2008, including three straight in wins over James Madison (1/9), at Georgia State (1/12) and against Northeastern (1/16). It marked the first time in school history W&M overcame two-straight double-digit second-half deficits, let alone three. The Tribe's 16-point second-half comeback at Georgia State was the largest deficit that W&M overcame on the road in 15 years. Shaver also reached a coaching milestone of his own on December 31, 2007, winning his 400th collegiate coaching game as the Tribe defeated Fairfield, 71-50, at Kaplan Arena.

W&M demonstrated its mettle as a winning team with not only its ability to overcome deficits, but also with being able to win close games. The Tribe won more than half its games (nine) in 2007-08 when trailing at the half. W&M also won nine games by four or fewer points in 2007-08, bettering the total (six) from Shaver's first four seasons. The Tribe put together a six-game CAA winning streak, which marked only the third such league winning streak in Tribe history. Shaver also guided the Tribe to four straight CAA road wins in 2008. It equaled the program's longest CAA mark and was the second-longest single-season road winning streak in school history.

 HEAD COACH • SEVENTH SEASON • NORTH CAROLINA (1976)

HEAD COACH TONY SHAVER

In 2006-07, Shaver earned CollegeInsider.com Colonial Athletic Association Coach of the Year honors after guiding the Tribe to a 15-15 record. Shaver also led his troops to eight wins during the tough CAA portion; only the third time the Tribe has accomplished that feat. Another telling stat of the progression of the program was the four CAA road victories, highlighted by a 67-63 win over 2006 Final Four participant George Mason. In Shaver's first four seasons, W&M had won only three road affairs.

The 2006-07 season brought about a change in styles for the 31st W&M head coach. After spending much of his career coaching an up-tempo offense, featuring a trapping defense, Shaver switched over to a more perimeter-oriented attack. The Tribe offensive scheme now spreads the floor and relies on spacing, effective perimeter shooting and players reading and reacting to teammates' cuts and motion. Defensively, W&M employs a plethora of defensive systems to throw off opposing offenses.

The new style led to the Tribe ranking among the top 50 in the country in 3-point field goal defense as well as holding its opponents to 64.2 points per game, the best mark since the 1997-98 season. The College also established school records for 3-point field goals made and 3-point field goals attempted. The success of the new approach was never more evident than in the Tribe's victory over eventual National Invitational Tournament participant Drexel, 60-47, in Williamsburg. It was the lowest point production for Drexel in four seasons, and marked the highest ranked team, in terms of RPI, that W&M had defeated since 2001.

During the 2005-06 season, W&M started 4-1, marking the best start for the Tribe team since opening the 1992-93 campaign with a 6-1 record. During that season, however, two of the team's first four wins were against non-Division I teams Virginia Wesleyan and Shenandoah. As a result, the 4-1 start for the 2005-06 squad was the first time in school history that the Tribe has opened a year with at least four wins in its first five games against current Division I opponents. Included in those four victories was a 70-60 win at Hampton, which went on to make the NCAA Tournament.

In November 2005, Shaver was inducted into the Episcopal High School Hall of Fame. He led EHS for 10 seasons from 1976-86. Shaver has been inducted into the Hall of Fame at both of his head coaching stops prior to taking over the reigns at William and Mary. He was named to the Hampden-Sydney College Hall of Fame in 2004.

"It was a great thrill to return to the campuses of Episcopal High School and Hampden-Sydney College for the induction ceremonies," Shaver said. "Episcopal and Hampden-Sydney are special places to my family."

In his second season at the helm, W&M immediately started the season on a high note, defeating Radford and Hartford to win the inaugural W&M Tip-Off Classic, the first regular season tournament title for the College since 1981. The Tribe defeated James Madison in the first round of the CAA Tournament for W&M's first postseason win since 1997, and just the third in the last 20 years.

Shaver began his Tribe career with a 91-64 pounding of Liberty on Nov. 23, 2003. He also won his first ever Colonial Athletic Association contest, as the Tribe knocked off two-time defending league champion UNC Wilmington, 67-66, in overtime on Dec. 4, 2003. In the Tribe's first contest against a nationally ranked opponent under Shaver's direction, W&M performed well, leading No. 15 Pittsburgh by 10 points midway through the first half, before the Panthers, who attempted 28 more free throws than the Tribe, won 70-55.

HEAD COACH TONY SHAVER

There have been individual successes as well for the Green and Gold during Shaver's tenure. On six occasions, a W&M player has been named All-CAA under Shaver, while another five have been named to the CAA All-Rookie Team. 2004 graduate Adam Hess, who played professionally in Germany last season, became the first player in school history to lead the CAA in scoring. An outstanding student and athlete, Hess was named the CAA Male Scholar-Athlete of the Year (for all sports) and was a First-Team Academic All-American and all-conference selection as a senior. Corey Cofield was voted the 2004 CAA Rookie of the Year, leading all freshmen in the league in points, rebounds and field goal percentage. W&M players have also enjoyed success in the classroom under Shaver, as on 11 occasions a Tribe player has been named to the CAA All-Academic team over the last six seasons, including a program-high three in 2007 and 2008. This past season, senior David Schneider was named to the All-Academic first team, while garnering the third CAA Men's Basketball Scholar-Athlete of the Year award under Shaver in 2008.

In total, four former W&M athletes who played under Shaver have gone on to or will shortly begin professional careers overseas. He played his second season for Artland in the German Bundesliga. Hess spent the 2008 season in France after earning Second-Team All-Bundesliga honors with Artland in 2007. Fellow 2004 graduate Zeb Cope spent his sixth professional season overseas with JDA Dijon Bourgogne in the French Pro A League. It marked his third season in France. Adam Payton, a 2007 graduate of W&M, helped French squad Lille Metropole to the French N1 League title and a promotion into the French Pro B League. He will return for his second season with the organization. Laimis Kisielius, who graduated in 2008, began his professional career last season playing in both Lithuania and in the Ukraine.

Shaver was named the head coach of the Tribe on May 2, 2003. He came to W&M after coaching 17 seasons at Hampden-Sydney, compiling a record of 358-121 (.747). He turned the Tigers into a Division III national powerhouse, leading the men's basketball team to eight Old Dominion Athletic Conference titles, 12 20-win seasons and 11 NCAA Division III Tournament appearances. The winningest basketball coach in the program's history, he was named the ODAC and South Region Coach of the Year in 1995, 1999 and 2000, and was picked as the Virginia Sports Information Directors Division II-III Coach of the Year in 1997, 1999 and 2000.

In 2003, Shaver took the Tigers to the NCAA Division III Final Four, as his team finished with a record of 28-4. In 1999, Shaver led H-SC to the national championship game, where the Tigers lost by one point in double-overtime to Wisconsin-Platteville. The team finished 29-3, setting a school record for most wins in a season.

In 1999, one of Shaver's charges, Jack Jirak, was named the ODAC Scholar-Athlete of the Year and was also awarded the Gammon Cup as the top-student-athlete at the college. Two of Shaver's players, David Hobbs (1999) and Russell Turner (1992) earned Academic All-America honors. A number of his players have been named to the Academic All-ODAC squad, including six student-athletes in 1998.

Shaver first led the Tigers to the national postseason in 1988-89, just his third season as the team's head coach. That year, H-SC won the ODAC championship, ending the season with a 21-8 record.

Prior to taking over at Hampden-Sydney for the 1986-87 campaign,

Shaver spent 10 years as the head boys' basketball coach at Episcopal High School in Alexandria, Virginia. He was named the Virginia Independent Schools Athletic Association State Coach of the Year in 1986, and was twice picked as the Alexandria Coach of the Year, while winning 73 percent of his games.

A 1976 graduate of North Carolina, Shaver was a guard on the Tar Heel men's basketball team from 1972-75 under head coach Dean Smith. Originally a walk-on, he earned a scholarship his rookie season, when he was awarded the prestigious Butch Bennett Award, presented to the freshman who exemplifies determination, sportsmanship and sacrifice for the team. Shaver was voted the honoree by his teammates. During his four years in Chapel Hill, UNC went 95-26, including a pair of trips to the NCAA Tournament in 1975 and 1976. During the 1975 season, the Tar Heels won the ACC Tournament and advanced to the Sweet 16. During the 1973 and 1974 season, North Carolina made the National Invitational Tournament.

A native of High Point, North Carolina, Shaver and his wife, Ann, are the parents of three sons: Christopher (28), Austin (25) and Jackson (18). Christopher is a professional baseball pitcher and has spent time in the San Diego Padres and Chicago Cubs organizations after a standout career with the Tribe baseball team. Austin is an assistant coach at Hampden-Sydney under former Tribe assistant coach and current Hampden-Sydney head coach Dee Vick. Jackson is a freshman on the William and Mary baseball team.

BEN WILKINS

ASSISTANT COACH • FOURTH SEASON • N.C. STATE (2001)

BEN WILKINS

Ben Wilkins enters his fourth season as an assistant coach on the men's basketball staff. Wilkins has been instrumental in the implementation of W&M's offensive and defensive systems. During his first three seasons, the College moved to an offensive scheme that spreads the floor and relies on spacing, effective perimeter shooting and players reading and reacting to each others' cuts and motion. Defensively, W&M employs a plethora of man and zone systems to throw off opposing offenses.

"Ben has been an instrumental part in the recent success of the Tribe program," head coach Tony Shaver said. "He is a tireless worker, and will do anything possible to make this basketball program successful. Ben was a key factor in implementing our new system, and is always looking for ways to tweak and improve our current scheme. He relates well with the players and is a successful recruiter with the relationship he develops with coaches, parents and potential recruits."

Wilkins' responsibilities also include scouting, scheduling, recruiting, individual skill work and developing the Tribe's perimeter players. During his first two seasons, he headed the College's scouting of opponents. He developed reports and helped in devising offensive and defensive strategy against each of the Tribe foes. During his first two seasons with the Tribe, W&M has posted back-to-back seasons of 15-or-more wins for the first time in 25 years. In 2007-08, the College capped the year with its first winning record in a decade and the program's first CAA Championship Game appearance.

Before coming to W&M, Wilkins was the video coordinator at N.C. State. The Wolfpack advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament in 2005-06, while amassing an overall record of 22-10. N.C. State also went 10-6 in ACC action. During the season, Wilkins was involved with various aspects of the Wolfpack program including film editing, player housing, player financial services and organizing a past player reunion. He also served as the liaison for sports marketing, handled office and player tickets and was an assistant camp director.

Wilkins served as the first assistant and recruiting coordinator for Barton College in Wilson, N.C., during the 2003-04 and 2004-05 seasons. The Bulldogs compiled a 35-21 mark over those two seasons, including a third-place finish in the Carolinas-Virginia Athletics Conference (CVAC) during his final campaign. In his time at Barton, Wilkins' primary responsibilities centered around recruiting, scouting reports, both practice and in-game coaching, development of the perimeter players and film exchange. Wilkin's final recruiting class at Barton finished their careers with a 68-12 CVAC record to go along with three regular season and three tournament championships. The group advanced to the NCAA Division II Tournament on three occasions and tallied an Elight Eight appearance in 2006 to go along with its 2007 NCAA Division II National Championship. During his time as the recruiting coordinator at Barton, the Bulldogs signed two-time CVAC Player of the Year, Anthony Atkinson, and CVAC Freshman of the Year, Bobby Buffalo. A trio of Wilkins recruits, including Atkins, Buffalo and Brian Leggett, were two-time All-CVAC selections during their careers. Wilkins also assisted in the organization and operation of the Barton Basketball Camp and served as the game day manager during both men's and women's basketball games.

Wilkins graduated Magna Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Arts in history in December of 2001. During his time at N.C. State, he was also a team manager.

After graduating from N.C. State, Wilkins served as the junior varsity coach for Apex High School in Apex, N.C. He guided the Cougars to a 17-1 mark and a first-place showing in conference play. As an assistant for the boys' varsity squad, Wilkins helped guide Apex to the state playoffs.

JAMION CHRISTIAN

Jamion Christian enters his second season on the William and Mary staff as an assistant coach. He came to Williamsburg after serving two seasons as the manager of basketball operations at Bucknell University. Christian is a local product, growing up in New Kent, Va., and prepping at New Kent High School.

"Jamion is just a perfect fit for our program and W&M," head coach Tony Shaver said. "He grew up close by in New Kent and has always appreciated what W&M offers. His work ethic and ability to relate to young people will make him a great recruiter. Jamion displays maturity beyond his years and will contribute in every facet of our program."

Christian's responsibilities with the Tribe include coordinating team travel, working with post players, scouting and recruiting. His recruiting responsibilities cover the states of Virginia and Texas as well as the Washington, D.C. area.

As a member of the staff at Bucknell, Christian's main responsibilities included coordinating team travel plans, handling the team's video needs, directing the Bison summer camps and assisting in the arrangement of alumni functions, such as the team's popular summer golf tournament.

During his two seasons, the Bison amassed a 34-28 overall mark. In 2006-07, Bucknell finished with a 22-9 mark and advanced to the Patriot League Championship game before falling to Holy Cross.

Prior to his tenure with the Bison, Christian served as an assistant coach at Emory & Henry College in Emory, Va., during the 2004-05 and 2005-06 seasons. The Wasps were one of the highest scoring teams in the country during Christian's time, averaging 104.3 points per game in 2005-06, which ranked third in the nation. Emory & Henry, a Division III program in the Old Dominion Athletic Conference (ODAC), finished with a 14-12 record and also ranked among the national leaders in steals (second), 3-pointers made (third), turnovers forced (third) and assists (fifth).

A 2004 graduate of Mount St. Mary's in Emmitsburg, Md., Christian was a three-year team captain and starting guard. Christian played three seasons under legendary coach Jim Phelan, who ranks fourth in NCAA history with 830 wins. During his career with The Mount, Christian scored 581 career points and averaged 6.5 points per game. He played in 90 career games with 54 starts and averaged 19.8 minutes per contest. The best statistical season of Christian's career came in 2001-02 when he led Mount St. Mary's in scoring with an 11.3 points per game average. In Northeast Conference games, he averaged 13.1 points per game, which ranked 16th in the league. He also ranked among the league leaders in free throw percentage and 3-pointers made in 2001-02. He scored a career-high 24 points on two occasions during his collegiate career. Christian also played shortstop on The Mount's baseball team during his time at the institution. He earned his degree from Mount St. Mary's in rhetoric and communications.

A native of New Kent, Va., Christian earned VHSL Group A State Player of the Year honors in his senior season after leading New Kent High School to a 26-0 record and a state title.

JAMION CHRISTIAN
ASSISTANT COACH • SECOND SEASON • MT. ST. MARY'S (2004)

JONATHAN HOLMES

Jonathan Holmes enters his second season with the Tribe staff. He served as an assistant coach at the Division II and NAIA levels before coming to Williamsburg prior to the 2008-09 season. Holmes grew up in the basketball-rich state of Indiana and furthers the W&M-North Carolina connection at the College after playing four seasons for the Tar Heels.

"Jonathan has a strong pedigree in basketball and he just could not be more excited about this opportunity," head coach Tony Shaver said. "He brings great knowledge of the game and great recruiting contacts to our program. Jonathan has been runner-up for Indiana's 'Mr. Basketball' and played in the Final Four for the University of North Carolina, so he brings a winning way to help us continue to improve our program."

Holmes' responsibilities with the Tribe include overseeing the team's academics, working with guards, scouting and recruiting. His main focus area in recruiting is the Midwest.

Holmes spent two seasons at Division II school Francis Marion University in Florence, S.C. During his tenure with the Patriots, Holmes' primary responsibilities included recruiting, on-floor coaching, individual player workouts, pre- and post-season workouts and helping in the area of academic support for team members.

Prior to his time at FMU, the Bloomington, Ind., native spent one season as an assistant coach and head junior varsity coach at Montreat College in 2005-06. The Cavaliers compiled a 22-10 mark and won both the Appalachian Athletic Conference regular-season and tournament titles, while also reaching the second round of the NAIA Division II national tournament. Holmes has also served as a counselor at numerous North Carolina Men's Basketball Camps, as well as at his own Jonathan Holmes Basketball Camp in Bloomington, which started in 2002.

Holmes is a 2003 graduate of the University of North Carolina, where he was a four-year letterman on the Tar Heel basketball team. He played in 76 career games and recorded nearly a two-to-one assists to turnovers ratio. During his career, the Tar Heels advanced to the 2000 Final Four, appeared in the 2003 NIT post-season tournament and won both the 1999 Maui Invitational and the 2002 Preseason NIT. Holmes was named to the 2003 ACC All-Academic Team. He earned a degree in communications from UNC with a 3.6 grade point average.

Upon graduation, Holmes played professional basketball for two seasons overseas. He was a member of the Leicester Riders in the British Basketball League (England) during the 2003-04 season. The following season, Holmes was a member of the IC Horsens in the Basketligaen Danish League (Denmark). He averaged 14 points and five assists in helping IC Horsens to a runner-up finish during the Danish League regular season as well as a tournament semifinal appearance in 2005.

Holmes was a four-year varsity starter for his father, J.R., at Bloomington South High School and capped his career as the runner-up for Indiana Mr. Basketball in 1999. He left as the school's all-time leader in points, assists, consecutive games started, free throw percentage and 3-pointers made. Holmes was also the recipient of the John Wooden Citizenship Award in 1999. His high school honors also included Nike High School All-American in the summer of 1998, McDonald's All-American Nominee, two-time first team All-State in Indiana and being named to the Indiana All-Star team. As a student at Bloomington South, Holmes was the co-valedictorian and carried a perfect grade point average.

Jonathan and his wife, Jennifer, were married in September of 2006. Jennifer, who is originally from New Hampshire, is a graphic designer. The couple have a daughter, Lillian Annabel, born Dec. 1, 2008.

Coaching Career

William and Mary (2009-P)

Kevin Snyder joins the Tribe staff as the College's Director of Basketball Operations. He enjoyed a stellar collegiate basketball career at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass., before making the move to William and Mary. Williams College is rated the No. 1 liberal arts school in the country by U.S. News and World Report.

"Kevin is a wonderful addition to our basketball program," Shaver said. "He is a bright, energetic young man with a great knowledge of basketball and the style we play. His ideas will contribute to our approach to the game, and he will be a great friend to our younger players."

Snyder's duties with the Tribe include overseeing the team's managers, film exchange, film breakdown and the team's toughness chart. He also has a number of administrative responsibilities, including the team's daily schedule. Some of his other responsibilities include keeping track of players' shooting stats during the fall, t-shirt design, create player hand-outs, update and maintain the Tribe's recruiting database and help with on-campus recruiting.

Snyder graduated from Williams in 2009 with a degree in art and psychology. He was a three-year starter for the Ephs and became the 26th player in Williams history to score over 1,000 career points. As a senior, Snyder was named a first-team All-NESCAC honoree, while averaging 16.8 points per game and leading the squad in minutes played (34.8), 3-pointers made (66) and assists (96). He ranked first in the NESCAC in made 3-point field goals and fourth in scoring. He shot 41.5 percent from 3-point range and averaged 3.7 assists and 4.0 rebounds per game. Snyder also finished second in the NESCAC in assist-to-turnover ratio in 2009 at 1.81. He scored a career-high 30 points on three occasions as a senior against Ursinus, Framingham State and Amherst College, helping Williams to a 17-9 overall mark and a 6-3 conference ledger.

"I am incredibly excited to be given the opportunity to join such a respected staff," Snyder said. "I am looking forward to helping in any way possible to make this season a successful one."

The Littleton, Colo., native finished his Williams' career with 1,016 points, 237 assists and 272 rebounds in 80 career starts. As a sophomore starter in 2007, Snyder helped the Ephs to the NESCAC Championship and a berth in the Division III NCAA Tournament. In 2008, Williams finished the year at 17-8 overall as Snyder started all 25 games, while averaging 10.1 points per game, 2.4 rebounds and 2.6 assists per game.

Along with his prowess on the court, Snyder succeeded in the classroom as well. He was a Second-Team ESPN The Magazine Academic District I selection as a senior and a two-time Academic All-NESCAC honoree.

Snyder played at Heritage High School in Littleton, Colo., as a prep and captained the squad to a state championship during his senior season in 2005. Heritage finished the year at 27-1 overall and was ranked No.1 in the state of Colorado throughout the season, before finishing No. 43 nationally. Snyder was an honorable mention all-state selection after averaging 14.4 points per game and hitting 70 3-pointers.

SCRATCHING THE SURFACE

The Division of Sports Medicine at the College of William and Mary is responsible for the health care of nearly 450 student-athletes in 23 inter-collegiate sports at the country's second-oldest institution of higher learning. The athletic training program focuses on the prevention, evaluation, treatment and rehabilitation of athletic injuries for all intercollegiate student-athletes.

Tribe athletes have the luxury of rehabilitating and treating injuries in a state-of-the-art athletic training facility. There are eight full-time certified athletic trainers and two graduate assistants from Old Dominion University's post-graduate athletic training educational program on staff. In addition, a group of undergraduate students serve as athletic training aides and assist in the daily operation of the sports medicine program.

Renée Cork heads the William and Mary Sports Medicine staff and holds the title of Assistant Athletic Director for Heath Services. Cork is in her 18th year at the College and in 2007 was honored as the National Trainers' Association Assistant Athletic Trainer of the Year.

Cork is joined on the sports medicine staff by a pair of veteran trainers in Senior Associate Athletic Trainer Andy Carter and Associate Athletic Trainer John Knaul. Carter joined the William and Mary staff in 2000 as an associate athletic trainer. A William and Mary alumnus and former Tribe student athletic trainer, he is in his sixth year as the head football athletic trainer, overseeing the sports medicine services for the team. He and his wife, Kristina, who is a physical therapist at Advanced Specialty Center of Williamsburg Physical Therapy, reside in Williamsburg.

Knaul, who earned his bachelor's degree of Alfred University and his master's at Elmira College, is in his 10th year at William and Mary. He and his wife, Katie, reside in Williamsburg.

Lisa Shook and Michele Heisel enter their fifth seasons with W&M athletics and both hold the title of Senior Assistant Athletic Trainers. Shook holds a bachelor's degree from Salisbury University and a master's from Western Carolina. She is the head athletic trainer for the men's basketball program. Heisel, who resides in Williamsburg with her husband, Ian, holds a bachelor's degree from California University of Pennsylvania and a master's from Virginia.

Hollie Walusz begins her third year on the Tribe staff as an Assistant Athletic Trainer, after completing her undergraduate degree at Northern Iowa and her master's at UNC Chapel Hill. Tracey Eisen and Bryce Mueller return for their second seasons as Assistant Athletic Trainers. Eisen, who is originally from Silver Springs, Md., completed her undergraduate degree at Pittsburgh and her graduate work at George Washington. Bryce earned his bachelor's degree from Northern Iowa, while receiving his master's degree from West Virginia.

Also, the two graduate assistants from the post professional graduate athletic training program at ODU, Crystal Nelson and Shawn Lucci, enter their second years on staff. Nelson is a graduate of the University of Tampa, while Lucci completed her undergraduate degree at Pittsburgh.

Michael Potter is in his seventh year on the staff as the team physician. The team physician oversees the full-time athletic training staff and has overall responsibility for supervising the sports medicine program. A family practice/sports medicine specialist, Potter earned his medical degree from Texas A&M. He completed his residency at the Riverside Family Practice in Newport News and his sports medicine fellowship at Wake Forest University. Potter is in private practice with the Virginia Center of Athletic Medicine (VCAM) of Tidewater Physicians Multispecialty Group (TPMG).
