PREVIEW

The Tribe returns 10 starters from a team that advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament in 2008. W&M finished last season receiving votes in a pair of national polls.

THE TRIBE

The College will be led by captains Roger Bothe and Andrew McAdams. Along with Bothe, the W&M senior contingent includes Jeremy Harris, Andrew Hoxie, Price Thom- as and Preston Whitlock.

HISTORY

W&M advanced to its 13th NCAA Tournament appearance last season. The College owns six CAA Championships and had players earn All-America honors on 12 occasions.

TRIBE IN THE PROS

The Green and Gold has sent 30 players into the professional ranks, including seven players drafted into Major League Soccer (MLS).

The Colonial Athletic Association is celebrating its 25th Anniversary in 2009-10 and to commemorate the occasion, the league will sponsor a Silver Anniversary team for each of its sports. Each team goes through a process of nominations from each institution's sports information department, before the final team is screened and chosen by a panel of coaches and administrators.

The W&M men's soccer team had five of the 25 players selected to the Silver Anniversary Team. The Tribe total was tied for the most along with James Madison and Old Dominion. W&M would like to salute its CAA Silver Anniversary team members Wade Barrett, Adin Brown, Vaughn Hughes, Steve Jolley and Jon Tuttle.

Schedule is subject to change

Forty years ago, soccer was in its infancy at William and Mary. It was only sponsored for men and the Tribe did not experience many winning moments. Times have changed. In 1967, the team's third year of existence and in its first as a varsity sport, W&M defeated George Washington, 2-1, for the first victory in school history. That win was the first of more than 450 to come for a school that was destined to be a hotbed of college soccer.

The groundwork was laid in the early 1970s when Al Albert, a 1969 graduate of the College, returned to his alma mater to teach and coach soccer. The program began to take off in 1975, Albert's fifth year at the helm. That season the Tribe went 9-4-1, beginning a streak of 30-consecutive winning seasons, the sixth-longest streak in NCAA Division I history. Just one year later, in 1976, the Tribe won 10 matches for the first time, a feat that was repeated each of the next 25 years. Albert retired following the 2003 season as just the eighth coach in NCAA Division I history to compile 400 victories. As head coach, he led William and Mary to 401 of the program's 464 wins. Albert ranks 18th all-time in NCAA career victories, while sitting ninth on the Division I career victories list.

Wins alone do not give a school national prominence. That came in 1980 when W&M advanced to the quarterfinals of the NCAA tournament. Since then, the Tribe has gone to 12 more NCAA events, including 10 trips in the last 16 seasons (1992-93, 1995-2000, 2002 and 2008). The Tribe also advanced to the NCAA Tournament during both the 1983 and 1987 seasons. W&M won the ECAC-South title in 1983, the CAA tournament in 1987, 1995, 1996, 1999 and 2000 and the CAA regular season crown in 1987, 1992, 1995, 1996 and 2002.

In 2004, W&M soccer took another step forward with the construction of a grass facility, Albert-Daly Field. Initiated with a $500,000 challenge grant from Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ukrop, the new field was crucial in improving the Tribe's chances to host top-quality teams and NCAA Tournament games in Williamsburg. Despite the tremendous success of Tribe soccer, the men had been forced to play their last 15 NCAA Tournament matches on the road or at a neutral site because of the lack of an enclosed grass field on campus.

Finally in 2008, William and Mary hosted its first NCAA Tournament game when the Tribe took on the Winthrop Eagles in the first round. In frigid conditions, the College used its new-found home-field advantage to defeat Winthrop, 3-1, and advance into the second round of the tournament to face defending National Champion and #1-seeded Wake Forest. In that game, the Tribe gave the Demon Deacons all they could handle, forcing the game into overtime. But the Green and Gold would eventually fall to the national semi-finalists, 1-0, in the extra frame. Despite the setback, the Tribe had once again shown that it will continue to be force on the national level.

Besides having strong team records, many W&M individuals have been standouts on the pitch. Eight players have been named All-Americans on 12 occasions, 13 have international playing experience with various national teams and numerous others have received conference, state and regional honors. In the summer of 1994, goalkeeper Paul Grafer started for the U.S. Olympic Team on its tour of Chile. In 1997, W&M alum Wade Barrett played with the U.S. under-20 team. All-American goalkeeper Adin Brown joined the list of W&M players to garner international experience, playing on the U.S. under-23 squad and with the U.S. Olympic and Pan-American Games teams.

Brown played a key role in helping the U.S. Under-23 national team to a bronze medal at the 1999 Pan-American Games. He started three matches during the tournament, and posted a shutout. Although he was the starting goalkeeper throughout qualifying for the 2000 Olympics, Brown missed the final competition due to injury.

Barrett also earned his first international cap with the U.S. Senior National Team on Nov. 17, 2002. He played the entire 90 minutes at left back against El Salvador at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C. Barrett made a return to the National Team roster in 2005, and earned a cap playing for the squad in 2007 as well.

Since 1978, a total of 28 Tribe players have gone on to play professionally, whether it be in the U.S. or overseas. Five players (Barrett, Brown, Scott Budnick, Grafter and Steve Jolley) enjoyed playing careers in Major League Soccer (MLS). Barrett, Brown and Jolley were all taken in the first round of the MLS Draft, with Brown being drafted the highest at No. 3 in 2000. Jolley, who retired in 2006, spent 10 years in the MLS, while Barrett is a eight-year league vet.

Jolley, who played for five teams during his 10 seasons, capped his MLS career with 227 games, 18,638 minutes and 12 goals. He earned an All-Star nod during the 2001 season, while playing for the New York-New Jersey Metrostars. Barrett, who spent two years playing in the top leagues in Denmark and Norway, plays for the Houston Dynamo. In 2002, he won a MLS Championship with the San Jose Earthquakes, while also earning league All-Star and MLS Best XI honors. He captained Houston to back-to-back MLS titles in 2006 and 2007. Brown played five seasons with the MLS, totaling 93 games and 20 shutouts, including the playoffs over his career. He has spent the last three seasons with Aalesunds FK in Norway's Tippeligaen (First Division).

Along with Brown and Barrett, former Tribe players Jeff Dominguez, Khary Stockton and Gabe Valencia enjoyed international playing careers. Dominguez spent three seasons with B.V. Cloppenburg in Germany. He started a club-record 68 consecutive games as a defensive central midfielder and helped his club earn a promotion to Germany's Third Division. Valencia also spent time in Germany playing with SV Leipzig along with playing in the U.S. in the A-League. Stockton signed a six-month contract with A.E. Velo Clube Rio Clarence of the Brazilian Second Division in May of 1994. At the time, he was believed to be just the second American player to sign with a professional soccer club in Brazil. He also played with Athletico Sorocabam in the Brazilian Third Division.

Carlos Garcia, a 2003 graduate, has enjoyed success in the indoor soccer leagues in the U.S. Garcia spent the last six seasons with the Baltimore Blast and helped his team to a trio of Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL) Championships. In 2006-07, he finished with 42 points, which ranked third on the Blast. Garcia was selected by the Detroit Ignition in the 2006-07 MISL Expansion Draft, before he was traded back to Baltimore. The Blast originally chose him in the fourth round of the 2002 Amateur Draft.

Soccer is not just a seasonal event in Williamsburg, it is a year-long tradition. The W&M soccer programs receive strong support from the student body and the residents of the Tidewater area, and these fans are rewarded with a great product.

The success enjoyed by Tribe student-athletes and the high-level of community involvement in the soccer program combine to make William and Mary a truly unique place in the soccer world.

The William and Mary men's soccer program received a major facility upgrade in 2004 with the completion of Albert-Daly Field, an all-grass complex that gives the Tribe program the possibility of hosting NCAA Tournament games. Named for William and Mary's long-time men's and women's soccer coaches, Al Albert and John Daly, the field is used by both soccer teams, as well as by the College's lacrosse team. In its short time, Albert-Daly Field has become a home field advantage for the William and Mary men's soccer program. The Tribe has enjoyed a 22-13-9 (.602) home record since competition began at the complex in 2004, including a 12-6-1 mark during the past two seasons.

"The new facility has enabled us to bring in the kind of teams we would play in the postseason-type environment, like UNC, Virginia Tech and Maryland," head coach Chris Norris said. "It has allowed us to get top level programs to agree to play us in Williamsburg. It is a beautiful setting and I know it feels like home for the guys. It is a great situation. In terms of the field and the lighting, I feel like it stacks up against any field in our area."

The previous home of the Tribe soccer teams was Busch Field, which features an artificial playing surface that prohibited the College from hosting NCAA tournament games. W&M's men were forced to play their last 15 NCAA Tournament matches on the road or at a neutral site. The completion of Albert-Daly Field, one of the top soccer venues in the region, has nullified the circumstances that prevented the Tribe from hosting in the past.

That all changed for the Tribe in 2008, when the College hosted its first ever NCAA tournament game. The Green and Gold played host to the Winthrop Eagles in the opening round of the NCAA Championship and used its new-found home-field advantage to defeat Winthrop, 3-1, and advance to the second round of the tournament.

"The College has done a fantastic thing for our programs, because not only can we host NCAA games, we have also enhanced our ability to schedule quality opponents," said former long-time head coach Al Albert. "Just the overall perception of our program in recruiting and talking to people will be enhanced. It's a great thing. The College took a great step when we got a home at Busch Field and now they're taking another great step with this new facility. It's one of the final pieces that we need to go all the way."

The new field paid immediate dividends in 2004, as W&M hosted two Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) opponents (Maryland and Virginia Tech), the first ACC teams to play W&M in Williamsburg since 1996. In just the second match played at the facility, the Tribe earned the first win in school history over the nation's top ranked team with a 1-0 victory over No. 1 Maryland on Sept. 22. W&M not only notched the victory, but shut out the nation's top scoring offense at the time and an eventual College Cup semifinalist. The Tribe ended the year with a 5-1-3 home record in its first season at the facility. While the facility has been an added coup for the Tribe men's soccer program, it has also been one for the Williamsburg and W&M community.

"For the longest time, we were getting into the NCAA Tournament, but apart from the 1992 season, we were never in consideration to host an NCAA Tournament game," Norris said. "Not only is that a difficult route to win when you have to go on the road and play people, but it also took away from the excitement here on campus. We had some really good teams that were very well supported by the campus and community, but yet didn't have the opportunity to play the biggest games of the year at home. With the new facility, that changes, and it is a benefit to not only our program, but the community as a whole."

The project began in the spring of 2001, when William and Mary received a $500,000 challenge grant from Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ukrop of Richmond, Va., to build a natural grass field adjacent to W&M's baseball stadium, Plumeri Park, located at the College's Dillard complex.

As graduates of William and Mary, Jim and Bobbie Ukrop have long been generous supporters of the College and have touched the lives of thousands of students, both in the athletics department and general college community, with their philanthropy.

"The challenge grant provided us the opportunity to enhance the competitiveness of three of our very successful programs, men's and women's soccer and lacrosse," said William and Mary Athletics Director Terry Driscoll. "At the request by Mr. and Mrs. Ukrop, the facility would be named in the honor of those two coaches recognizing their long service and the success of their programs here at the College of William and Mary."

Al Albert led the Tribe men's soccer team as head coach for 33 seasons before retiring from coaching in January of 2004. He amassed a record of 401-187-64 (.664) during his tenure and became just the eighth coach in NCAA Division I history to reach 400 wins, and just the third to have earned all those wins at one school. Throughout the 1990s, the Tribe ranked as one of the top programs in the nation, placing eighth in wins (149) and 13th in winning percentage (.708).

A 1969 graduate of William and Mary, Albert's teams put together 29 consecutive winning seasons (a W&M record) and 26 straight campaigns of 10 wins or more. W&M made its 12th appearance in the NCAA tournament in 2002, when the Tribe advanced to the round of 16 with wins at Duke and Virginia. Albert was named CAA Coach of the Year a conference-record four times (1987, 1992, 1994 and 1996), and earned the South Atlantic Region's top honor in 1992, 1998 and 2002.

John Daly reigns among the most successful coaches in America, leading the Tribe's women's soccer program over the last 20 years. Daly ranks among the top 10 in victories (308) among his Division I peers. He has also directed W&M to the NCAA postseason 20 times, including 13 seasons in a row from 1992-2004. Overall, the College has sponsored women's soccer for 27 years with the team advancing to the NCAA Tournament 23 times.

"I'm very, very happy," said Daly. "I think it's badly needed for both the men's and women's soccer and lacrosse programs. Jim and Bobbie Ukrop's gift is just tremendous. It's going to help in every way from scheduling and recruiting to the perception of the program."

On the field, during Daly's tutelage, 13 W&M soccer players have garnered a total of 29 All-America honors, including two National Players of the Year in Megan McCarthy (1987) and four-time All-American Natalie Neaton (1995). Daly has been named CAA Coach of the Year four times (1993, 1994, 1999, 2006) and Mid-Atlantic Coach of the Year five times (1989, 1990, 1992, 1997, 2006).

HEAD COACH

CHRIS NORRIS

Sixth Season as W&M Head Coach

William & Mary (1995)

A long-time member of the Tribe men's soccer program, Chris Norris enters his 18th season overall at the College and his sixth as the program's head men's soccer coach. After guiding the Tribe to its most victories since the 2002 season a year ago, he hopes to lead W&M on a deep run in the NCAA tournament this season.

Last season, the Tribe had a fantastic campaign that saw the College finish the year with a 11-7-3 overall record and a 6-4-1 record in the CAA. With its record, W&M earned the No. 2 seed in the conference tournament, the highest the Green and Gold have ever been seeded under Norris. Despite losing in the semi-finals of the CAA tournament, the College earned an at-large bid to the NCAA tournament, marking the 13th time William and Mary had earned an invite. In the first round, the Tribe hosted Winthrop and soundly defeated the Eagles, 3-1, advancing to the second round of the championship for the sixth time in the program's history. The College would then travel to take on No. 1-seeded and defending national champion Wake Forest. The Tribe played the Deacons valiantly before falling to the eventual national semi-finalist in overtime, 1-0.

The 2007 season saw the Tribe turn in some impressive performances, further validating the program's high expectations for the future. Despite starting five freshmen for the majority of the 2007 campaign, W&M posted its best CAA league record since 2002. The Tribe finished the year at 6-4-1 in league play and advanced to the CAA quarterfinals after missing out the previous two years. The Tribe also posted back-to-back ties against national and ACC powers North Carolina, 0-0, and Virginia Tech, 1-1, during the month of September. The Hokies went on to finish the year with a No. 3 national ranking after advancing to the NCAA College Cup semifinals. W&M started a school-record six freshmen on a pair of occasions in 2007 and set a program-best mark for shutouts in CAA play with six.

It is not the first time the Tribe have reached new heights under Norris' direction, as W&M posted the program's first ever victory over a No. 1-ranked opponent in 2004. Norris took over the post as head coach at the College following the retirement of long-time, legendary coach Al Albert. Norris spent nine seasons as a Tribe assistant and four years as a standout defender for the Green and Gold before being named head coach on Jan. 23, 2004.

During Norris' 18 seasons as a player, assistant and head coach with the Tribe, William and Mary has compiled a 225-122-45 record (.631), including a Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) mark of 85-43-24 (.638). Norris has been a part of 10 of the Tribe's 13 all-time NCAA Tournament appearances, four CAA tournament crowns and five CAA regular-season titles.

The Tribe rebounded from a tough 2005 campaign to post a 8-8-3 mark during the 2006 season. W&M won the ODU Stihl Soccer Classic with victories over No. 29 UNC Greensboro, 5-1, and Loyola (Md.), 2-1. It marked the first time since the 1998 season the College had captured the event crown. The Tribe also posted a pair of ties against nationally-ranked foes in No. 22 George Mason, 0-0, and No. 23 James Madison, 2-2, during the 2006 ledger.

THE NORRIS FILE

Alma Mater William and Mary, 1995
 Hometown Fairfax, Va.

AS A PLAYER (1991-94)

- Played in 84 games with 81 starts
- Scored three goals and 16 assists in career as a defender
- Team compiled a 56-20-11 (.707) record and a 1.04 GAA in four years
- Led team to a then-school record 18 wins in 1994
- NCAA Tournament appearances in 1992 and 1993
- First-Team All-CAA (1993 and 1994)
- First-Team all-state (1994)
- Second-Team NSCAA All-Region (1994)
- W&M Most Valuable Player (1993)
- W&M Coaches Award (1992)
- W&M Best Rookie and Freshman Academic Achievement Awards (1991)

AS AN ASSISTANT COACH (1995-03)

- Helped lead W&M to a 128-62-16 (.660) record over nine seasons
- Four CAA titles
- Seven NCAA Tournament appearances
- In 1996 the team set a school record for wins (20) and winning percentage (.854), recorded the only perfect season in CAA history (8-0-0) and reached the quarterfinals of the NCAA Tournament

AS A HEAD COACH (2004-PRESENT)

- Led W&M to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, the furthest the College has reached in the tournament since 2002
- Coached 16 All-CAA players, four CAA All-Rookie Team selections
- Guided W&M to best conference record (6-4-1) since the 2002 season in 2007 and 2008
- Tribe set a school record with six shutouts in CAA play in 2007

The 2006 season also saw a Tribe appearance on television. The College's contest against Old Dominion on Oct. 26 was part of the NSCAA/Fox Soccer Channel College Game of the Week. It was the first Tribe game on TV since the 1996 season.

During Norris' first season leading the Tribe, the team extended its streak of consecutive winning seasons to 30, which ranks sixth in NCAA Division I history. W&M went 5-1-3 in its first year at Albert-Daly Field. In just the program's second game at the facility, Norris guided the Tribe to a 1-0 victory over then-No. 1 and eventual College Cup semifinalist Maryland on Sept. 22. The shutout was one of only two Maryland suffered during the 2004 season that saw the Terps finish the year ranked fifth nationally in scoring offense.

After dropping the season opener in Norris' first year at the helm, the Tribe went unbeaten over its next seven contests (5-0-2), including the victory over Maryland. The unbeaten streak was the longest for the College since the 1999 squad won eight-straight contests from Oct. 23 through Nov. 14.

The Green and Gold allowed opponents to score just 21 goals in 2004, the fewest since 1999, resulting in a 0.99 goals against average for the team. Four W&M players earned All-Colonial Athletic Association honors, including first-team selection Pat Scherder, who also earned all-state and second-team all-region accolades.

In his five years at the helm of the Tribe, Norris has coached 16 All-Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) honorees and four CAA All-Rookie team selections.

Norris joined the Tribe soccer staff in 1995 after a solid playing career at the College. He made the transition from the field to the sideline and played a major role in helping former head coach Al Albert develop one of the premier soccer programs in America.

During his time as an assistant, the Tribe compiled a 128-62-16 (.660) record with seven NCAA Tournament appearances, four CAA tournament championships and three CAA regular season crowns. Norris also saw 32 players earn All-CAA honors, 30 earn all-state accolades, seven All-America honors, two CAA Players of the Year, one CAA Defensive Player of the Year, one CAA Rookie of the Year and five Major League Soccer draft picks. Of those five players selected to play at the highest level in the United States, three were first round selections, including Steve Jolley, Wade Barrett and Adin Brown, all of whom have gone on to long and distinguished professional careers.

A captain his senior year, Norris was the team's defensive leader, starting all four seasons (1991-94). During his career, W&M compiled an impressive 1.04 goals against average, including two seasons (1992 and 1994) with a team GAA of less than 1.00. During both the 1992 and 1994 seasons, Norris led the Tribe to the top of the CAA regular season standings.

He was a two-time All-CAA performer and was also selected to the VaSID All-State squad and the All-South Atlantic second team in 1994. The team's Most Valuable Player as a junior, Norris received the Coaches' Award in 1992 and earned W&M Rookie of the Year honors in 1991. Norris also earned the team's Freshman Academic Achievement Award in 1991 and graduated from the College with a degree in kinesiology.

Prior to his return to William and Mary, Norris served as junior varsity boys' soccer coach at Lafayette High School in Williamsburg. Along with his coaching duties for the Tribe, Norris is involved in coaching with the Virginia Legacy Soccer Club and serves as the director of the Colonial Kicks Soccer Camp. He holds a National Soccer Coaches Association of America (NSCAA) premier diploma and serves as an associate staff member for the NSCAA.

RS - Denotes CAA Regular Season Championship • Tourney - Denotes CAA Tournament Championship

Chuck Connelly enters his 10th season on the William and Mary staff and following the 2008 campaign was named the team's associate head coach. He has worked primarily with the Tribe's goalkeepers and was promoted to a full-time assistant in January of 2004. During his eight seasons, the Tribe has compiled an overall record of 78-72-26 (.517) with three NCAA Tournament appearances in 2000, 2002, and 2008. In Colonial Athletic Association action, the Tribe has a mark of 40-29-15 (.565), including a conference championship during his first campaign in 2000.

The Tribe goalkeepers have combined for a goals against average of 1.25 with 55 shutouts during Connelly's tenure. In 2007, W&M established a school record for shutouts in CAA play with six and had nine overall. The nine clean sheets were the most for the program since 1999. Rookie backstop Andrew McAdams earned CAA All-Rookie Team honors under the tutelage of Connelly in 2007 after posting a goals against average of 0.87 and a CAA-leading 85 percent save percentage.

Connelly graduated in 2000 from Old Dominion University, where he was the team's starting goalkeeper as a junior and senior. While at ODU, he recorded a career 1.50 goals against average with 17 shutouts and was regarded as one of the top goalkeepers in the conference. In 1999, he started all 19 matches for ODU and his 0.79 GAA was tops in the league and 17th in the nation. He earned second team All-CAA honors as a senior for the Monarchs.

A native of Rockville, Md., Connelly has coached at numerous camps along the East Coast, including a position as the assistant director of the Adin Brown Goalkeeping Academy. He currently coaches a youth traveling team for the Virginia Legacy Soccer Club. Connelly also serves as the assistant director of the Colonial Kicks Soccer Camp.

Connelly and his wife, Christine, reside in Williamsburg.

Tom Duffy is starting his 11th season with the Tribe staff. Prior to helping with the coaching duties at William and Mary, Duffy spent six seasons on the staff at Hartwick College.

During his 11 seasons with W&M, the Tribe has an overall record of 92-79-29 (.532), including a 45-32-15 (.571) Colonial Athletic Association mark. The College has advanced to four NCAA Tournaments and won back-to-back CAA Championships in 1999 and 2000.

A 1965 graduate of Le Moyne College, Duffy played and coached soccer in England after completing his undergraduate work. Duffy's first coaching experience was with the Royal Air Force Upper Heyford High School team in 1969.

Duffy also spent four seasons as the head coach at Oneonta State in New York where he compiled a 39-33-3 record. He coached at Oneonta High School from 1972 to 1987, putting together a 226-71-25 mark and sending more than 60 of his players on to play at the collegiate level. A number of his former players are currently coaching at the collegiate level.

Duffy was also involved with New York's Empire State Games where he coached three Central Region teams, claiming one silver and two bronze medals. He also served for four years as the soccer chairman for the Games. In 2001, Duffy was selected to the New York State Section IV Hall of Fame for his years of service at the high school level.

A resident of Williamsburg with his wife Peggy, the couple has three daughters: Brigid; Jenn, who is married to current Hartwick College men's soccer coach Ian McIntyre; and Kate. Duffy has two grandchildren: a grandson, Owen Prevelige, and a granddaughter, Lyla Jean McIntyre.

Jon Kamara enters his third season on the Tribe staff. He is no stranger to W&M after playing for the Tribe from 1989-92 and graduating from the College.

Kamara is the Youth Travel Academy Technical Director for the Virginia Legacy Soccer club. He is also the Futures Select, U8 and U9, trainer as well as a VLSC Senior Staff Coach. Kamara also spent time as an assistant coach for the Williamsburg Legacy PDL team (2003-06), the Director of Developmental Programs for the Williamsburg Soccer Club and a WSC Staff Coach (2000-06). Kamara holds a NSCAA Youth National License.

During his playing career at W&M, Kamara helped the Tribe to a 47-23-14 (.643) record. He played in every game and started 23 during his senior season, helping the Tribe to a 15-5-4 record and a spot in the NCAA Sweet 16. During the 1992 campaign, the Tribe established a school-record with an 18-game unbeaten streak and reached as high as No. 3 in the national rankings. Over his four seasons, Kamara played in 56 games with 30 starts and finished with 16 career points on five goals and six assists.

The 2008 season for the William and Mary men's soccer team was a superb one, with the team once again rising to national prominence. In 2008, the Tribe went 11-7-3, the most wins in a season since 2002. The College also made the CAA Tournament for the second consecutive year with its conference record of 6-4-1 and then earned an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament for the first time in seven years, advancing to the second round.

"Last year was a really exciting year for the program," head coach Chris Norris said. "We gained valuable experience, especially in the post-season. This year's roster is loaded with talent, and leadership and we feel we have another opportunity to have a great season."

FORWARDS

The attacking third for the Tribe will once again be one of the strengths of the College in 2009, as W&M returns an astounding 92 percent of its offense. Headlining the Tribe's attack this season will be senior Andrew Hoxie and junior Alan Koger, who should each once again challenge for post-season accolades. The junior duo of Jimmy Carroll and Ryan Snyder will each look to rebound from injury-riddled 2008 seasons and provide depth at the position along with redshirt-freshman Tim Becker.

"The most difficult thing to do in soccer is score goals, and we feel with our attacking options we should have ample opportunities to put the ball in the back of the net," Norris said. "The diverse qualities of our strikers gives us great versatility in the attack."

Hoxie had a spectacular season for the Green and Gold in 2008. The Newport News, Virginia native led the CAA in scoring with 10 goals, despite only playing in 15 games. For his efforts, Hoxie was named to both the All-CAA Second Team and to the CAA All-Tournament Team. Hoxie also led the Tribe in game-winning goals, netting the winners against Central Florida, at Hofstra, and in the first round of the NCAA Tournament against Winthrop.

Teaming up with Hoxie up front once again this season will be Koger, who excelled last season on 50-50 balls and was great on finding the end of crosses and on set pieces. Koger was second on the team in goals to Hoxie with eight. He had his best stretch of the season in the middle of October, scoring the team's lone goal against No. 10 North Carolina and following with a hat trick in the win against Delaware.

Providing depth in the attacking third this season will be a trio of players looking to make an impact off the bench when given the opportunity. Both Carroll and Snyder are looking to rebound from injuries and provide a scoring punch for the Tribe. Also providing depth for the College this season will be Becker, who made a name for himself this spring leading the team in scoring.

MIDFIELD

The Tribe midfield will be another position of experience for the College this season, led by a pair of All-CAA performers in junior Nathaniel Baako and senior Price Thomas. While Baako and Thomas headline the Green and Gold midfield, the rest of the midfield group is a deep and talented one that the College should be able to count on as a strength during the season.

"Midfield is another area where we feel we have a lot of talent and depth," Norris said. "Thomas and Baako are certainly two players to watch and will be relied upon heavily to dictate tempo and create goal-scoring chances."

In 2008, Baako had a breakout season for the Tribe, being named All-Region and earning All-CAA First Team honors after his spectacular season. He proved to be a dynamic playmaker for the College, assisting on six goals, tied for the team lead. But Baako not only excelled offensively but defensively as well, showing himself to be one of W&M's most well-rounded players.

Also having a great year in the midfield for the Tribe last season was Thomas, who once again proved to be one of the premier table-setters in the conference, always looking to press the offense. Thomas tied Baako for the team lead in assists with six, earning third-team All-CAA honors, and used his creativity and flair with the ball to spark the College's offense.

As a whole, the midfield will have the dubious task of replacing the graduated Doug McBride, who was a fantastic leader both on and off the pitch for the Tribe, as well as an All-CAA Third Team honoree in 2008. Replacing McBride will be crucial, and the success of the midfield this season could very well depend on it. Headlining the group looking to fill out the starting midfield is junior Ian Stowe and sophomore Nick Abrigo. Abrigo will once again be counted on as an offensive-minded wing in the midfield this season. He saw the most time of any freshman in 2008, appearing in 18 matches and earning six starts. Stowe, along with redshirt freshmen Matt Becker and Ben Anderson will all see significant minutes in the center of the College's midfield.

Looking to challenge for not only playing time in the midfield, but also starting roles, will be the trio of junior Peter Christmas, sophomore Stephen Laws, and freshman Chris Perez. Both Christmas and Laws are high-energy wings who should provide a nice offensive lift when they see time on the pitch. Perez comes to Williamsburg as highly touted recruit, being named the Gatorade Player of the Year in Washington D.C. his senior year at Gonzaga High School.

Also providing depth in the midfield for the Tribe in 2009 will be a senior and two freshmen. Senior Preston Whitlock will provide depth not only on the outside of the midfield, but also in the outside back position. Redshirt freshman Caleb Thomas will look to make the most of the opportunities he sees on the pitch, while freshman Ben Coffey will look to improve and take advantage of every opportunity to learn during the season.

BACKS

William and Mary will have a great advantage in 2009, as the team returns all four starters in the back that led the charge into the NCAA Tournament. The backline for the College is by far its most experienced unit and will look to improve its play from a season ago.

"As a team we were not happy with our defensive consistency last year," Norris said. "We conceded more goals than we should have, so improving our defensive record will be a goal this season and we feel we definitely have the personnel to do so."

Headlining the back for the College will be senior Roger Bothe, who earned All-CAA Third Team accolades last season. Bothe, who was selected as a co-captain, is a tremendous leader and will be counted on to direct the Green and Gold's defense. Joining Bothe on the outside will be fellow senior Jeremy Harris, who excelled on the backline last year after moving from the midfield. Harris has tremendous fitness and will be counted on, along with Bothe, to provide offense when called upon.

Manning the center back positions for W&M will be juniors Nick Orozco and Michael DiNuzzo. Orozco is a very intelligent finesse player in the back and is well complimented by DiNuzzo, who is a very tough, hard-nosed player who isn't afraid to get right in the middle of things. Also looking to press for starts on the Tribe's backline will be junior Derek Buckley, who saw a lot of action last season and started 14 of the 18 matches he saw time. Buckley will be counted on this season as a force defensively. He will be in a vital reserve for the Tribe defense or in a starting capacity.

Providing depth in the back for the Tribe this season will be sophomores Andrew Mahan and transfer James Lofton, as well as freshman Andy Hinnant. Mahan will look to see increased playing time in 2009. Lofton will look to build on a solid spring after transferring from UNC Greensboro. Hinnant will try to make the most of every opportunity and continue to improve on an everyday basis.

GOALKEEPER

The goalkeeper position has been one of the most fabled at the College with W&M producing five professional goalkeepers over the past 16 years, including a trio who went on to play in Major League Soccer (MLS). Junior Andrew McAdams is well on his way to joining that list, but will look to revert back to his 2007 form when he earned CAA All-Rookie Team honors.

"Andrew has a great deal of experience and leadership, which are two of the reasons that he was selected as co-captain again this season," Norris said. "He was a big part of our success last season, but even he feels he can raise his game another level and lead us to some big wins."

Providing depth at the goalkeeper position in 2009 will be sophomore Colin Smolinsky and redshirt freshman Brad Morgan. "With Colin and Brad it should be a good battle for the backup," Norris said. "Both bring experience and are guys with whom we feel we can win."

W&M HOSTS FIRST NCAA TOURNAMENT MATCH

The Tribe hosted the first NCAA Tournament match in Albert-Daly Field history when the Green and Gold hosted the Winthrop Eagles in the first round. On a frigid night, the Tribe used two goals from junior Andrew Hoxie and one from sophomore Alan Koger to earn the 3-1 victory over the Eagles. The College used the support of 542 fans that braved the conditions to move into the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the first time in six years.

TRIBE TAKES ON #1 WAKE FOREST IN SECOND ROUND

In the second round of the NCAA Tournament, the Tribe traveled to Winston-Salem, North Carolina to take on No. 1-seeded and defending National Champion Wake Forest. The Tribe played valiantly against the Demon Deacons, but the College would ultimately fall to WF in overtime, 1-0. Despite the loss, the College turned in a remarkable defensive effort against the nation's best scoring team. The Tribe's outstanding defensive performance marked just the second time this season that the Demon Deacons had been held scoreless in regulation. WF entered the contest as the nation's top scoring team with an average of 3.4 goals per contest and 68 total markers on the campaign.

W&M EARNS NO. 2 SEED IN CAA TOURNAMENT

The College made the conference tournament for the second year in a row in 2008, posting a 6-4-1 record in CAA play for the second consecutive season. The Tribe clinched the No. 2 seed with its 10th win of the season in a 3-0 triumph over Drexel. It marked the College's first double-digit since the 2002. The No. 2 seed in the league tournament is also the Green and Gold's best since the same 2002 campaign as well. Despite falling to George Mason in the semi-finals, the College's final record of 11-7-3 was more than enough to earn an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament.

W&M TOPS CAA, EQUALS SCHOOL-RECORD WITH FIVE ALL-CAA SELECTIONS

The Tribe topped the CAA and tied a school-record with five all-league honorees after a great regular season for the College. Sophomore midfielder Nat Baako led the way for the Green and Gold, earning First-Team All-CAA honors, while junior forward Andrew Hoxie was a second-team selection for the second time in his career. Senior midfielder Doug McBride and juniors Roger Bothe and Price Thomas were all named to the All-CAA third team. It marks the sixth time W&M received five All-CAA selections. The program also accomplished the feat in 1990, 1991, 1993, 1994 and 1996.

TRIBE CAPTURES ODU/STIHL SOCCER CLASSIC CROWN

For the second time in three seasons, the William and Mary men's soccer team claimed the ODU/Stihl Soccer Classic following a 2-2 tie with 2007 NCAA College Cup Semifinalist UMass. With the Tribe's tie with UMass and its 3-1 victory over Central Florida, the College won the Classic title for the fifth time. Sophomore Nat Baako had a great scoring weekend for the Tribe, tallying three goals and an assist, earning ODU/Stihl Soccer Classic MVP honors.

AN OFFENSIVE FORCE

William and Mary had a fantastic offensive season on the pitch, scoring three or more goals on seven occasions. The College would finish the season with 36 goals, the most that W&M had scored in a season since 2003. The Tribe also distributed the ball well in 2008, tallying 33 assists during the season, the most since 2002. For the season, William and Mary finished first in the CAA, scoring an average of 1.71 goals per contest and also finished second in conference, dishing out 1.57 assists per match.

ANDREW HOXIE LEADS THE CAA IN GOALS

Despite being hampered by injuries through most of the 2008 season, forward Andrew Hoxie led the conference with 10 goals in just 15 matches played. When Hoxie scored, he scored in bunches, notching three two-goal games. Hoxie led off the year with a goal in each of the Tribe's two first games then added another against VCU and Hofstra. Then the junior exploded scoring two goals against both Georgia State and George Mason. In the first round of the NCAA Tournament, Hoxie also netted a pair, including the game-winner that sent the College into the second round. Hoxie finished with season with 24 points, second-best in the CAA.

JOE AGEE
Head Coach
Inducted in 1976

Agee was the first member of the W&M men's soccer family to be inducted to the Tribe Athletics Hall of Fame in the 1976. He was the head coach of the men's soccer program in 1967 and 1968, compiling an 8-9 record.

Agee also was the W&M head men's golf coach for 35 years, ending his tenure in 1999. He started at the College as a professor teaching history, health and physical education in 1958. He graduated from the College in 1952, before earning his master's at W&M in 1956. He attended the Norfolk division of W&M (now Old Dominion) and is a member of both the W&M and ODU Halls of Fame playing both basketball and baseball.

In golf, Agee led W&M to its first ever NCAA Regional berth in 1991 and then again in 1994. He guided the Tribe to the 1982 Virginia state championship and the 1985 CAA crown. Agee also was an assistant coach for the varsity football, basketball and baseball programs.

BILL WATSON
Back
Inducted in 1988
Played at W&M, 1975-78

Watson is one of only two players in William and Mary men's soccer history to earn All-America honors on a trio of occasions and be selected to the all-region team during all four seasons of his career. Watson was inducted into the Tribe Athletics Hall of Fame in 1988.

He enjoyed an exception four-year career with the College, leading W&M to its first Southern Conference Championship in 1976. During his career, W&M posted an overall record of 42-18-5 (.685). The back from Scarborough, Ontario was a three-year captain for the College in 1976, 1977 and 1978. During the 1976 season, Watson was named to the All-Southern Conference team, before capping his career with the W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year in 1978. He also participated in the 1978 East-West Senior Bowl. Following his senior season, Watson was drafted in the third round of the 1978 North American Soccer League Draft by Dallas.

MIKE FLOOD
Midfield
Inducted in 1995
Played at W&M, 1980-83

Flood led the Tribe to its first two NCAA Tournaments in 1980 and 1983. During his rookie season, the Tribe reached the NCAA Quarterfinals for the first time, winning the Virginia state and NCAA Regional titles along the way. Flood was inducted into the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame in 1995.

The College finished with a 53-22-11 (.657) record during Flood's four-year career. He captained the Tribe to the ECAC South Championship during his senior campaign in 1983. For his efforts, Flood became the second W&M player to earn All-America honors, joining Bill Watson. For his career, the midfielder from Denver, Colo., finished with 55 points on 22 goals and 11 assists. His top goal-scoring season came in 1981 when he tallied 10 markers, while he finished his senior campaign with six goals and a team-best nine assists.

Along with his All-America laurels, Flood was a three-time all-state and all-region selection. During his senior campaign, he was named the W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year. Flood also participated in the 1983 East-West Senior Bowl. Following his career with the Tribe, Flood was selected in the fourth round of the North American Soccer League Draft by Chicago.

SCOTT BELL
Forward
Inducted in 1998
Played at W&M, 1983-86

Bell graduated from W&M as one of the Tribe's most prolific scorers and was inducted into the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame in 1998. Upon the end of his collegiate career in 1986, Bell sat as the school-record holder for career goals (46) and points (113). While those numbers have since been surpassed, he still ranks second in career goals and third in career points for the College.

During his W&M career, Bell helped the Tribe to the 1983 ECAC South Championship as well as the NCAA Tournament. The College posted a 56-21-6 (.634) mark during his four-year career. Bell was a two-time All-South Atlantic Region choice, an All-ECAC South selection in 1984 and an All-CAA honoree in 1986. He also garnered all-state distinction on a pair of occasions. Bell enjoyed his best statistical season as a junior when he finished with 38 points on 14 goals and 10 assists.

Following graduation, the forward from Hamilton, Ontario played in the 1987 Budweiser East-West Classic, which was an indoor all-star game for seniors. He was later selected in a pair of professional indoor drafts. Bell was a fourth-round choice of Dallas in the Major Indoor Soccer League (MISL) Draft and a second-round pick of Tampa Bay in the American Indoor Soccer Association Draft. He later went on to play with the Hamilton Steelers of the Canadian Soccer League and the Dallas Sidekicks of the MISL.

JON TUTTLE
Forward
Inducted in 1999
Played at W&M, 1985-88

Tuttle joined the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame in 1999, following a standout career with the Tribe from 1985-88. He is one of only two William and Mary players to earn all-region honors during all four years of his career, joining fellow W&M Athletics Hall of Famer Bill Watson on that list.

The forward from Fairfax, Va., was a three-time All-CAA selection and earned the league's Player of the Year accolade in 1988. He led the College to its first CAA crown in 1987 as the Tribe garnered its third trip to the NCAA Tournament. Over his four-year career, the Tribe posted a 57-18-9 (.732) mark. He appeared in every game (83) over that span and started all but one contest (82). Tuttle still ranks ninth on the W&M career points list with 77. He finished his career with 29 goals and 19 assists. He enjoyed his best statistical season as a senior when tallied 26 points on 11 goals and four assists.

Tuttle was a success in the classroom as well as on the pitch. He became the first Tribe player to garner Academic All-America honors. He was an honorable mention choice in 1987, before taking home first-team distinction in 1988. He also was inducted into the Phi Beta Kappa Honor Society in 1988 as well. During his senior campaign, Tuttle was a VaSID All-State selection, the W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year and played in the 1988 East-West Senior Bowl. Following his career at W&M, Tuttle spent two seasons in the American Soccer League playing with the Washington Stars and the Boston Bolts.

SCOTT BUDNICKGoalkeeperInducted in 2006Played at W&M, 1989-92*

Budnick gained entrance into the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame with his induction in 2006. During his four-year career with the Tribe, Budnick was a two-time NSCAA All-South Atlantic Region selection and a three-time All-CAA choice. He enjoyed his finest season as a senior in 1992, leading the Tribe to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Jasper, Ind., native posted a goals against average of 0.88 to go along with seven shutouts. For his efforts, he was named the 1992 W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year.

A 14th round selection of the Tampa Bay Mutiny in the 1996 MLS Inaugural Player Draft, Budnick played four seasons in the MLS with Tampa Bay, Miami and New England. The 6-2 goalkeeper made 16 career appearances, including 15 starts during his MLS career. Budnick has a pair of shutouts and 69 career saves with a goals against average of 1.78. He made a pair of playoff appearances with Tampa Bay in 1996 and 1997.

Budnick also made a splash on the International scene, playing with the United States Under-20 National Team in 1989. He still ranks among the Tribe's all-time best at the goalkeeper position. Budnick is second on the College's career saves (269) and shutouts (19) lists. He also finished his career with a 1.01 goals against average. During his career, W&M posts a 47-23-10 overall record (.650) and a 17-5-6 CAA ledger (.714).

PAUL GRAFERGoalkeeperInducted in 2007Played at W&M, 1992-95*

Grafer earned induction into the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame in 2007. He was a standout goalkeeper from 1992-95, before spending 10 years in pro soccer in the U.S.

During his W&M career, Grafer was an All-America choice in 1995 to go along with earning All-CAA honors on three occasions and being named the W&M Tribe Club Senior Male Athlete of the Year. Grafer helped the Tribe to a remarkable 63-19-8 (.744) record over his four seasons, including three trips to the NCAA Tournament. In 1995, he captained the Tribe to the CAA Championship. Grafer still ranks second on the W&M career list in saves (269), while coming in third in both shutouts (18) and goals against average (0.96).

Following his senior campaign, he was selected in the second round of the 1996 MLS Draft by the Colorado Rapids. He spent seven seasons in MLS with both the Rapids and the NY-NJ Metrostars. Grafer also enjoyed stints with the Long Island Rough Riders and the Charleston Battery of the A-League. Grafer spent time with the United States Olympic Team in 1994.

VAUGHN HUGHESForwardInducted in 2008Played at W&M, 1993-96*

Hughes was inducted into the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame in 2008 after an All-American career. He is the program's most prolific goal scorer. He tops the W&M career list in goals with 52, while also leading in points with 131. Hughes also ranks sixth on the Tribe's career assists list with 27.

Hughes enjoyed his best season in the Green and Gold during his senior campaign, earning First-Team All-America honors while leading the Tribe to the NCAA Quarterfinals. He finished the year with an all-time program best 60 points on 24 goals and 12 assists. Eleven of those markers were game-winners, which is also W&M record. The Tribe finished the 1996 campaign at 20-3-1 overall. The Green and Gold went a perfect 8-0 in CAA play on its way to the league crown. Along with advancing to the NCAA Quarterfinals, the Tribe finished the year ranked No. 4 nationally in the coaches poll. For his efforts in 1996, Hughes was named the CAA and VaSID State Player of the Year. As a sophomore in 1994, Hughes scored the third most goals in school history with 20.

Hughes finished his W&M career playing in 89 career matches, including 84 starts. He was a two-time all-region and All-CAA selection. In total, the Tribe finished with 68-17-5 record in Hughes' four seasons to go along with an impressive 23-4-3 CAA ledger. The Green and Gold appeared in three NCAA Tournaments and won a pair of CAA titles during Hughes' career.

Following his senior season, Hughes was selected by the Hershey Wildcats in the first round of the A-League draft.

STEVE JOLLEYMidfielderInducted in 2009Played at W&M, 1993-96*

Jolley is the latest member of the men's soccer family to earn induction in the W&M Athletics Hall of Fame. With Jolley's entry, the men's soccer program has had an inductee into the Hall in each of the past four years. Jolley had a fantastic career for the College, earning four All-CAA and three all-region and all-state honors, before going on to spend 10 years playing professionally in the MLS.

Jolley graduated and remains to this day one of the best all-around players in the history of the Tribe. For his career, Jolley ranks second in assists (37), fourth in shots (241), fifth in points (109), and tied for fifth in goals (36). Jolley's finest season on the pitch came in 1994, when he netted 10 goals, tallied 12 assists, and finished the year with 32 points. Jolley's 12 assists that year ranks fourth all-time at the College, while his 32 points tie for 10th all-time. During his four years in the Green and Gold, the Tribe went an impressive 68-17-5 (.783) overall with a 23-4-3 (.817) record in the CAA. William and Mary appeared in three NCAA Tournaments during Jolley's time and also captured two CAA crowns.

Upon his graduation, the Los Angeles Galaxy drafted Jolley with the ninth pick in the first round of the MLS College Draft. Jolley would go on to play 10 seasons in the MLS, becoming the longest tenured Tribe player in the league. Jolley was named an All-Star in 2001 while playing for the NY-NJ Metrostars, and then received the U.S. Soccer Foundation Humanitarian of the Year Award in 2002. In total, Jolley played in 227 career games with five teams and finished his career with 12 goals and 11 assists.

The William and Mary men's soccer program has a rich tradition of developing talent and sending its players into the professional ranks both within the United States and abroad. The Tribe has sent 30 players into the professional ranks, including 17 student-athletes drafted by professional leagues. Of those players that have gone on to play professionally, seven were drafted into the top division in the United State's Major League Soccer (MLS).

Wade Barrett, who has achieved success both within the U.S. and abroad in professional soccer, has won three MLS Cup Championships, while playing with the San Jose Earthquakes in 2001 and the Houston Dynamo in 2006 and 2007. He captained his last two Dynamo squads to back-to-back titles. Barrett, who is currently the captain of the Dynamo, has spent nine seasons in MLS with San Jose and then Houston. Barrett has appeared in and started over 200 matches for the Dynamo. Along with his success in the MLS, Barrett has made appearances with both the U.S. Youth National Teams throughout his career as well as earning International caps with the U.S. Men's National Team.

Steve Jolley, who retired from professional soccer following the 2006 season, is the longest tenured Tribe player in MLS. He spent 10 seasons in the league with the Los Angeles Galaxy, the New York-New Jersey Metrostars, the Dallas Burn, FC Dallas and Red Bull New York. He played in 227 career games with 206 starts in MLS and had 12 goals and 11 assists. His 120 games with New York ranks as the third most by a single player in the franchise's history.

Adin Brown enjoyed a five-year career in the MLS with the Colorado Rapids, Tampa Bay Mutiny and New England Revolution, before moving abroad and playing in Norway with Aalesunds FK for the last three seasons. He has been named the club's player of the year in 2006 and 2007 and was a finalist for the Norwegian Second Division Player of the Year in 2006. He signed a contract extension with the club before the 2007 season that extends through 2009.

Another former Tribe player currently tooling his trade in professional soccer is Carlos Garcia. He recently wrapped up his fifth season with the Baltimore Blast of the Major Indoor Soccer League. In his five seasons, the Blast have taken home the MISL Championship three times (2003-04, 2005-06, and 2007-08). This past season, Garcia recorded his 100th career

Ralph Bean, who has made appearances with the Bermuda National Team in 2007 and 2008, spent the last two seasons with the Bermuda Hogges of the United Soccer League Second Division. In February, Bean started and assisted on the Bermuda National Team's lone goal in a 3-1 loss to the New England Revolution of MLS. He also came off the bench in Bermuda's historic upset of Trinidad and Tobago during the second round of CONCACAF World Cup qualifying.

REMEMBERING ANDY CRAPOL

Former William and Mary men's soccer player Andy Crapol lost his battle with cancer during the spring of 2009. An extremely coachable player during his time at the College, the Williamsburg native played in 38 career matches with one start. He also finished with four career goals, including the game-winner against Coastal Carolina during the 1999 season. A four-year letterwinner (1997-00), he was the recipient of the William and Mary Coaches Award during his senior campaign. He graduated from the College with a degree in economics in 2001. In honor of his memory, the Tribe renamed its Coaches Award, given out annually as the Crapol Award.

The Andrew E. Crapol Memorial Scholarship was also established in his honor. As the primary fundraiser for the scholarship, the first annual Crapolfest will be held Oct. 2-4 in Williamsburg in conjunction with the Tribe's match against George Mason. As part of the event, there will be a 5k race and a mini-golf tournament with all proceeds going to the endowment. For more information visit AndyCrapol.com.

A three-year starter on the men's soccer team, 1984 William and Mary graduate Jon Stewart is the program's most famous and well-known alum. Currently the host, executive producer and writer of the Emmy Award-winning "The Daily Show with Jon Stewart" on Comedy Central, he received the National Soccer Coaches Association of American (NSCAA) Honorary All-America Award for 2005. The organization presented Stewart with the honor at the Jan. 21 NSCAA All-America Luncheon in Philadelphia, held in conjunction with the annual NSCAA Convention.

The NSCAA Honorary All-America award is presented to those who have brought particular distinction to the sport of soccer through their efforts within and beyond the boundaries of the sport. Past recipients include astronaut Sonny Carter, actor Andrew Shue and Lamar Hunt, owner of the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs and the Major League Soccer franchises in Columbus, Dallas and Kansas City.

Stewart ended his playing career at W&M with 10 goals and 12 assists, helping the Tribe to a 40-15-9 (.695) record in his three seasons. In an interview with Soccer News, he said that soccer was the thing he enjoyed most about his time at W&M. Stewart recalled that his most exciting memory from his playing days was scoring the only goal in a 1-0 win over Connecticut in the 1983 ECAC Championship, giving the Tribe just its second league title and the first since 1976. In May of 2004, Stewart returned to the College to deliver W&M's Commencement address, the first Tribe soccer player ever to be selected for that honor.

Stewart began his professional career at some of the top comedy clubs in New York City, eventually earning appearances on "Late Show with David Letterman" and HBO's "Young Comedians Special." That led to hosting "The Jon Stewart Show" on MTV in 1994 and 1995. From there, he starred on "The Larry Sanders Show" before taking over "The Daily Show" in January 1999. Stewart wrote the best-selling Naked Pictures of Famous People and starred in a number of feature films, including Death to Smoochy and Big Daddy.

Since Stewart became host in 1999, "The Daily Show" has won 10 Emmy Awards and two Peabody Awards. The show's viewership reached nearly two million a night by September of 2008. Stewart served as the host of the 78th (2006) and 80th (2008) Academy Awards.

Recently ranked second on Entertainment Weekly's list of funniest Americans, Stewart was awarded an honorary doctorate of arts at W&M's 2004 graduation ceremonies after delivering the Commencement address.

"I am honored to be here and receive this honorary doctorate," Stewart said. "When I think back to the people that have been in this position before me, from Benjamin Franklin to Queen Noor of Jordan, I can't help but wonder what has happened to this place. As a person, I am honored to get it; as an alumnus, I have to say I believe we can do better."

The William and Mary men's soccer program has taken full advantage of the NCAA Bylaw (30.7) allowing for international trips and competition for an athletic team once every four years. The "W&M Once-Every-Four" Tour has traveled to Bermuda, Jamaica, England and most recently Greece. The Tribe made the venture back to Athens, Greece for a second time during the spring of 2007.

"We have tried to take full advantage over the years of the NCAA rule that allows an overseas trip every four years," head coach Chris Norris said. "Through contacts we have always been able to get good games with the pro clubs in whatever country we go to, and Greece was no exception. We played Panathinaikos and Olympiakos, which are the top teams in Greece and both play in Athens."

Taking the trip over spring break instead of during the preseason allows for time to be spent taking in the culture of the various countries and cities visited. The trip allows for the team to not only gain a different perspective on the soccer field, but also from a cultural standpoint.

"We have traditionally taken our trips during spring break as opposed to preseason," Norris said. "We want our focus to be a little different during preseason. We want our international trip to be a good team-bonding experience as well as a good social and cultural experience for the guys. Doing the trip during the spring provides a great opportunity for the guys to see a different culture in terms of soccer, but also a different culture in general."

The Tribe has enjoyed some great success on the field during the international trips. During the 2007 trip, W&M went 4-1 in five contests, outscoring its opponents, 14-4. In 2003, W&M went undefeated in its four matches, including wins over Markopoulo, Panathinaikos and Olympiakos. In 1995, the College went undefeated against six first division teams in Bermuda. Charly Franks, a 1981 alum of the College, hosted the team during its trip to Bermuda.

During the program's second international experience in 1987, the Tribe went 3-0-1 against four of the teams in Jamaica. In fact, the draw came against Seba, Jamaica's top team at the time, in front an estimated 3,500 fans. During that trip, W&M notched wins over Volvo (1-0), Star Cosmos (4-1) and Windsor (3-1).

During W&M's 1999 foreign tour trip, Crystal Palace FC hosted the Tribe. Former Tribe player Mark Goldberg was the Chair of the Football Club during the time. W&M played five matches against professional youth and reserve players from Crystal Palace, Fulham, Millwall and Bristol City.

The College of William and Mary is a public university located in Williamsburg, Va. Founded in 1693 by Royal Charter issued by King William III and Queen Mary II of England, William and Mary is the second oldest college in the country after Harvard. William and Mary has a long history of liberal arts education and a growing research and science curriculum that demonstrates a strong commitment to undergraduate research. The College, which became a state university in 1906, has been designated a “Public Ivy,” and for nine straight years has been ranked by U.S. News & World Report as the sixth-best public university in the country – and the nation’s top small public university.

Also referred to as “the alma mater of a nation,” the College has educated four U.S. Presidents – George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe and John Tyler, which is the third most of any college in the country. William and Mary also claims several firsts, including the 1776 creation of Phi Beta Kappa – the country’s first academic honor society – the first honor code of conduct for college students, and the first collegiate law school, established in 1779. William and Mary is also home to the Sir Christopher Wren Building – the country’s oldest academic building still in use – and the President’s House, the oldest home of a university president still in use.

The College of William and Mary sponsors 23 varsity sports and provides students with a unique and successful balance of athletics and academics. The Tribe Athletics Department finished 117th nationally in the Learfield Sports Directors' Cup Standings for 2008-09, a number that ranked second among Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) programs and fourth in the state of Virginia. The Directors' Cup, which was created by the NACDA and USA Today in 1993-94, is a program that honors institutions maintaining a broad-based program, achieving success in many sports, both men's and women's. W&M has placed among the top 100 nationally in 12 of the program's 16 years, while leading the CAA on seven occasions.

W&M has produced more CAA Championships than any program in the league's history. The College owns 95 league crowns, nearly 40 more than its closest competitor. The Tribe raked in the awards in 2008-09 as well, tallying a combined 197 all-conference honors, 34 All-America honors and six league players of the year. During the 2008-09 season, the Green and Gold produced an overall athletics winning percentage of 68.2, while racking up a combined 888 wins.

Along with its accomplishments on the field of play, the Tribe is just as successful in the classroom, epitomizing the term student-athlete. In the NCAA's inaugural Academic Progress Report in 2005, W&M ranked fourth among Division I teams, which was the highest of any athletic scholarship-granting school and of any public school. Since the inception of the CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year, W&M has produced 28 honorees, more than any school in the conference.

W. TAYLOR REVELEY III
PRESIDENT

Taylor Reveley was sworn in as the 27th president of the College of William and Mary on September 5, 2008, after serving as interim president since February 2008. Before assuming his current post, he served as dean of William & Mary Law School for almost a decade, starting in August 1998. He is the John Stewart Bryan Professor of Jurisprudence.

Reveley received his A.B. from Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs in 1965. At Princeton, he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and rowed on the lightweight crew for two years. Reveley went to law school at the University of Virginia, receiving his J.D. in 1968. During the United States Supreme Court's 1969 term, he clerked for Justice William J. Brennan, Jr.

Reveley has extensively studied and written about the constitutional division of the war powers between the President and Congress. In 1972-73, he spent 13 months studying the war powers while an International Affairs Fellow of the Council on Foreign Relations in New York City and a Fellow of the Woodrow Wilson Center for Scholars in Washington, D.C. He is the author of War Powers of the President and Congress: Who Holds the Arrows and Olive Branch? (University of Virginia Press, 1981).

Before joining William & Mary, Reveley practiced law for many years at Hunton & Williams, where he specialized in energy matters, especially those involving commercial nuclear power. He was the managing partner of the firm for nine years.

Much of Reveley's extracurricular time over the years has gone to non-profit organizations. He has served on many educational and cultural boards, including those of Princeton University (where he is a trustee emeritus), Union Theological Seminary in Virginia, St. Christopher's School, the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, JSTOR, the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, the Virginia Historical Society, the Virginia Foundation for the Humanities, the Richmond Symphony, and the Presbyterian Church (USA) Foundation.

Reveley and his wife Helen have four children - Taylor, Everett, Nelson and Helen Lanier - and a daughter-in-law, Margaret Louise (Marlo, married to Taylor).

SANDRA DAY O'CONNOR
CHANCELLOR

Sandra Day O'Connor, one of the most distinguished jurists in the history of the United States Supreme Court—and its first female justice—addressed the most profound legal issues of her age with wisdom, courage, and skill. After a long career in public service, including nearly a quarter century on the nation's highest court, she retired in 2006.

Justice O'Connor spent her childhood on an isolated cattle ranch in southeastern Arizona tending to a variety of ranch chores, raising farm animals, and reading voraciously. After completing school in El Paso, Texas, she journeyed west to continue her education at Stanford University, where her professors inspired and challenged her to make a difference in her nation and the world.

Justice O'Connor earned a B.A. in economics (magna cum laude) from Stanford University and a LL.B. from Stanford Law School. She was an editor of the law review and graduated third in her law class—two spots behind her friend and future colleague, the late Chief Justice William Rehnquist.

After being admitted to the bar, Justice O'Connor served as Deputy County Attorney of San Mateo County, California, from 1952 to 1953, and as a civilian attorney for the U.S. Army Quartermaster Market Center in Frankfurt, Germany, from 1954 to 1957. From 1958 to 1960, she practiced law in Maryvale, Arizona, and served as Assistant Attorney General of Arizona from 1965 to 1969. She was appointed to the Arizona State Senate in 1969, and was subsequently reelected to two two-year terms, during which she served as Majority Leader. In 1975, she was elected Judge of the Maricopa County Superior Court and served until 1979, when she was appointed to the Arizona Court of Appeals.

President Reagan nominated her as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, and she took her seat September 25, 1981. She succeeded the Honorable Henry A. Kissinger as Chancellor of the College of William and Mary in 2005. In the years since her investiture, she has visited the College numerous times, visiting classes, talking with students, and addressing academic conferences.

She is married to John Jay O'Connor III, whom she met in law school. They have three sons: Scott, Brian, and Jay.

TERRY DRISCOLL ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Under the steady guidance and watchful eye of Terry Driscoll, the William and Mary Athletics Department has solidified its standing as one of the nation's preeminent broad-based programs. As Driscoll enters his 14th year as athletics director, he has overseen an unprecedented era of improvement in terms of funding and facilities while also maintaining the College's rich history of producing well-rounded student-athletes.

Driscoll oversees a program that is committed to balancing academic demands with athletic success. One of the department's stated goals each year is to finish among the top 100 in the annual Director's Cup rankings, which has happened in all but one of the years that Driscoll has been the director.

In the last six years, the Tribe's program has combined for a total of 26 Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) titles. This past season, W&M claimed three CAA titles (Men's and Women's Cross Country and Women's Track & Field). In 2002-03, W&M had a school-record 10 teams compete in the NCAA Tournament, with four teams winning conference titles and six that finished in the top 25 at the end of their respective seasons. Overall, no institution in the CAA can claim more all-time league championships than the 95 William and Mary has earned.

As impressive as the athletic accomplishments have been during Driscoll's tenure, the program's academic successes have been even greater. In the NCAA's inaugural (2004) APR rankings, a measurement of academic progress based on academic eligibility, retention, and graduation of student-athletes, W&M was fourth in the nation overall and first among institutions offering athletic performance-based scholarships. Additionally, the Tribe football team has posted a 100 percent graduation rate three times, while the majority of the program's squads have consistently ranked among the nation's finest in terms of graduation. In 2002, the CAA started recognizing Scholar-Athletes of the Year for each of the 22 sports it sponsors, and the College has had a conference-high 29 individuals receive the honor.

In addition to the many academic and athletic successes, Driscoll's impact on the program has been equally impressive in terms of physical and financial improvements. Since taking over as athletics director, Driscoll has overseen the construction of more than $20 million in new facilities, including Plumeri Park (baseball), Albert-Daly Field (soccer, lacrosse) and the Busch Courts (tennis). Recently, the College dedicated an $11 million, 30,000 square-foot Jimmie Laycock Football Center at Zable Stadium in the summer of 2008. During the last four years, the venerable stadium has been enhanced with an $800,000-plus video scoreboard (2007), the installation of a $650,000 permanent lighting system (2006) and an $840,000 state-of-the-art Field Turf Pro artificial playing surface (2006). This past summer, new synthetic turf with water cannons were installed at Busch Field, the home of the William and Mary Field Hockey program.

In addition to the physical structures, Driscoll has also worked with the Associate Athletics Director for Development, Bobby Dwyer, to increase the annual fund-raising totals for non-capital projects from $1.36 million in 1995 to the current annual total of approximately $2.7 million.

A true student-athlete himself, Driscoll's leadership skills were developed during his collegiate years. As a student-athlete at Boston College, Driscoll captained the basketball team to the National Invitation Tournament Finals as a senior, and was named the tournament MVP. In addition to being named an All-American, his success in the classroom as a biology major garnered him an Academic All-America honor.

After graduating from BC, he was the fourth overall pick of the 1969 NBA Draft, selected by the Detroit Pistons, just three spots after the Milwaukee Bucks chose UCLA's Lew Alcindor, later to be known as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. Driscoll chose to play a year in Italy first, but then returned to the U.S. to play for the Pistons, Washington Bullets and Milwaukee Bucks before going back to Italy as a player and then coach until 1980.

Driscoll then entered the corporate world in 1980, working for Kazmaier Associates, Inc., an international sporting goods sales and sports marketing firm. After Kazmaier purchased Bike Athletic in 1986, KSG Inc. was formed with the objective of becoming the first, and only, national sales agency in the sporting goods industry. By 1987, Driscoll was president of the company and had expanded the agency to all 50 states just two years later. In early 1990, Driscoll's contribution to a marketing research project for the NCAA was the initial step moving him from product marketing and sales to sports marketing and management. The result of the project was a joint venture between Kazmaier Associates and Host Communications - with Driscoll being named managing director and chief operating officer of NCAA International.

In 1993, Driscoll diversified his experience in the athletic world by working as the venue executive director of the 1994 World Cup site in Boston. In September of that year, Driscoll was again enlisted to launch a new business, Eagle International Group, an event management and services company. As vice president, Driscoll worked with Hawaii Pacific Sports to organize the Women's World Volleyball Grand Prix competition in Honolulu.

Driscoll resides in Williamsburg with his wife, Susan. The couple has two children - Keith, a 1997 graduate of Holy Cross, and Leslie, a 2001 graduate of William and Mary.

William and Mary is committed to building and maintaining outstanding facilities for all 23 of its varsity athletic teams. The College has demonstrated this commitment by investing approximately $16 million toward the construction and upgrade of its athletics facilities during just the last six years. Among W&M's recent projects was the completion of the $11 million, 30,000-square foot Jimmie Laycock Football Center, which was dedicated in June of 2008. This past summer, the Laycock Center renovated the foyer to include photos, information and memorabilia on the Tribe's storied football tradition.

This past summer, Busch Field experienced a renovation that included a total revamp of the field, underlying pad, water cannon and drainage system. The renovation created a competition surface that ranks alongside those used at the U.S. National Training Centers in Virginia Beach, Va., Chula Vista, Calif., and that used at last year's Olympic Games.

In 2005, Kaplan Arena received an upgrade with the installation of 6,900-square foot permanent wood floor along with rubberized sports flooring on the open end of the arena to accommodate track and field and other multi-purpose activities. A year earlier, the home of Tribe soccer and lacrosse, Albert-Daly Field was dedicated, providing the programs with a $1 million all-natural grass facility.

THE 12TH MAN CLUB

Since 1988, the "12th Man Club," the fundraising effort of the Tribe Club for men's soccer, has been enhancing the Tribe men's soccer program. In 2007-08, the club raised over $170,000 for men's soccer, the best year to date. The fundraising money is used by the program to enhance scholarships, halftime receptions, Internet broadcasts, supporting the foreign tour, alumni reunions and more.

Over 500 individuals gave to the 12th Man Club in 2008-09, including one of the highest percentages of former players of any team at W&M. From 2004-2008, the percentage of former athletes giving back to the program was the second highest of any team. For information on how to join the 12th Man Club and support men's soccer, contact the Tribe Club at afalbe@wm.edu or call 757-221-3438.

COLONIAL KICKS SOCCER CAMP

For the past 36 years, William and Mary soccer coaches have conducted some of the finest summer soccer programs in the region. For 34 of those years, former coach Al Albert offered the Tidewater Soccer Camp. In 2008, current coach Chris Norris opened the Colonial Kicks Soccer Camp. Utilizing a similar program and many of the same long-serving staff members, the Colonial Kicks Soccer Camp enjoyed a highly successful first summer.

Designed for boys ages 10-18, the camp is based on the principle that good technique must be the foundation for every young player. Campers receive technical training each morning in small groups and have opportunities to refine those techniques and gain greater tactical understanding in competitive matches, small-sided games and soccer-related competitions. The goal of the camp is not only to help each camper improve his game, but also to provide a great soccer experience and help foster a love for the game.

Currently, the Colonial Kicks Soccer Camp runs one session on the historic campus of the College of William and Mary. The College features excellent facilities including Busch Field, a lighted Astroturf field and the former home of Tribe soccer.

The camp is staffed by experienced professionals. All are top college, high school and or club coaches from around the region. The coaches are assisted by current college players from numerous area universities. In addition, the camp has at least one certified athletic trainer assisted by a qualified training staff and supported by the William and Mary Sports Medicine staff.

The Colonial Kicks Soccer Camp also offers the Colonial Kicks Goalkeeping Academy. The Academy is entering its second year and offers intense, specialized goalkeeper training for those looking to take their game to the next level. This unique relationship allows keepers to get immediate feedback by being able to take their training into full-sided matches with the Colonial Kicks campers.
