Alan Meyer Sica was born June 10, 1949 in Wooster, Ohio. After graduating from Huguenot High School in Richmond, Virginia (1967), he attended the College of William and Mary for two years, then transferred to the University of Richmond, where he received a B.A. in 1971. He then attended William and Mary again for two years, completing all requirements for an M.A. in Sociology except the thesis. In the fall of 1973, he began work towards the doctorate in Sociology at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, where he plans to finish work by June, 1975. He has been the recipient of several financial awards and has taught at William and Mary, Christopher Newport College and the University of Massachusetts. Following the doctorate, he hopes to teach and write in the field of sociological theory.
