William and Mary— A Place Apart A Place of . . .

friends whose love for you, and yours for them, will be so intense that it will make you ache to think of it ... Of teachers who will ask for your best, who prod, who challenge, who laugh with you but never at you, who will do you the greatest honor of not flattering second class work with first class compliments, who care for you not just as able intellects but as whole men and women with the capacity, indeed the duty, to use your talents in a cause larger than yourselves...

William and Mary

For more than 300 years, the College of William and Mary has been a symbol of academic distinction in America. Now in its fourth century, the College is prepared to educate the leaders of the 21st century.

The College of William and Mary was chartered February 8, 1693, by King William III and Queen Mary II of England to bring education to a growing number of British colonists and Christianity to the Native Americans. Today, William and Mary is a public, four-year, co-educational residential university, with a nationally recognized liberal arts program. Although it has retained the college name in its title, William and Mary is now a modern university.

Many of America's early leaders were educated at William and Mary, including U.S. Presidents Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe and John Tyler, and renowned U.S. Chief Justice John Marshall. George Washington served as the college's first American chancellor from 1788 until his death in 1799.

William and Mary students founded Phi Beta Kappa, the premier academic honor society in America, in 1776. The College was the first to offer elective courses and to use the honor code system of conduct. The first chair of law in America was established at William and Mary in 1779. In addition, the College awarded the first degree in law in 1793.

The College's historic campus includes the Sir Christopher Wren Building (1695), the oldest college building in the nation where classes are still conducted. This and other 18th-century structures of William and Mary were restored to their original appearance through grants from philanthropist John D. Rockefeller during the restoration of Colonial Williamsburg in the late 1920s.

Although polls, rankings and guidebooks cannot fully capture the character of any educational institution, they do provide useful indications of the quality that students can expect. For years, the academic excellence of the College of William and Mary has been widely recognized by the growing raft of magazines and guidebooks that annually rank American colleges and universities. From U.S. News and World Report to The Princeton Review, William and Mary and its programs are listed among the nation's strongest.

U. S. News and World Report (2002)

- W&M ranked sixth among all public universities
- W&M ranked 33rd among national universities that offer the best value
- W&M ranked 30th overall among the nation's best universities
- W&M ranked 17th in graduation rates for national universities

Fiske Guide to Colleges (2002)

- W&M given the highest rating of academics - five stars
- W&M designated a "Best Buy" because of its combination of quality and cost
- A junior reported to Fiske of the professors: "We are being led and constantly motivated by passionate people."
- "The W&M formula of blending the old and the new has been working for more than 300 years, and it's only getting better with age."

Princeton Review: Best 331 Colleges (2002)

- W&M is "a small public university with a big reputation ... one of the best and most competitive public schools in the nation."
- W&M "admission is ultra-competitive", comparable to such institutions of higher education as Yale, Stanford, Duke, Georgetown and Harvard.
- W&M offers an "excellent location and a down-to-earth attitude ... Its students are certainly aware of this traditional liberal arts college's strengths and express them with intelligence and ease: 'William and Mary is an undiscovered gem', writes one student."

Did You Know That:

- William and Mary ranks first among American public universities in terms of commitment to undergraduate teaching, according to U.S. News and World Report. It is also the highest ranked small public university in the country.
- William and Mary is one of only eight U.S. institutions of higher education designated a "Public Ivy." A Public Ivy is a state-assisted institution, which offers a superior education at a cost far below that of Ivy League schools.
- A recent study shows that only William and Mary and Stanford University reported student-athlete SAT scores of at least 1,000 in eight categories based on gender and sport.
- More than 90 percent of all undergraduate courses are taught by full-time faculty.
- W&M's 12-1 student-faculty ratio is among the lowest of national public universities.
- The Campus is located approximately 150 miles south of Washington, D.C., midway between Norfolk and Richmond, Virginia.
- There are 7,560 students enrolled in the College (5,560 are undergraduates) who populate a 1,200 acres scenic campus setting that includes picturesque Lake Matoka and the College Woods.

Tribe Athletics

Over the last 300 years, William and Mary has developed a sterling national reputation for its academic standard of success. And for the last century, the Tribe athletics program has been working just as diligently to maintain its position as one of the top athletics departments in the nation ...

When the College's stringent academic standards are taken into consideration, the accomplishments of W&M's athletic programs are even more amazing. Over 500 student-athletes participate in 23 intercollegiate sports, and last year, those teams won over 57 percent of their competitions en route to a combined record of 205-154-2.

The 2001-02 athletic year was a typically strong one for the Tribe. Five Colonial Athletic Association titles, one East Coast Athletic Conference championship, a share of the Atlantic 10 football crown and a first place showing at the USA Collegiate Gymnastics meet are examples of William and Mary's strong season.

The women's tennis team captured its 16th CAA Championship, while the women's soccer squad qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the 10th straight season. Perennial powerhouses like the cross country and track and field squads didn't disappoint, either, challenging for conference titles yet again in 2001.

The success isn't limited to just those programs. The volleyball and men's gymnastics teams earned their first berths in NCAA postseason action, while the men's golf team earned a bid to the NCAA East Regional, showing that improvement is occurring across the board.

Since the merger of the men's and women's athletics departments in 1986, William and Mary has seen more than its fair share of success on and off the field. With graduates of the program running major corporations or running down the opposition in a National Football League game, a degree from W&M has proven to be a stepping-stone to a successful future.

William and Mary fields Division I teams for both men and women in basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, soccer, swimming and diving, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track and field. There are also field hockey, lacrosse and volleyball squads for women of the College, while there are two additional sports (baseball and football) for men.

 "To provide academically qualified student-athletes with the best qualitative and quantitative athletic experience within the available resources."

Continuity is emphasized in the W&M athletics department. As the shaded box below shows, William and Mary has a history of stability with its head coaches. The current head coaches at W&M have been with the program for an average of 12.5 years. This retention rate leads to better performances on the field and a better overall experience for the student-athlete.

A two-time first team All-CAA selection, Jess Jiao (2002) is tied for fifth at W&M with 15 career assists.

From the administration to the training staff to the coaches, the Tribe sports family is committed to providing each student-athlete at the College with the best possible experience, both academically and athletically, for his or her collegiate career.

Nine W&M head coaches have been in their current positions for 15 or more years: Al Albert - men's soccer (31 years), Cliff Gauthier - men's gymnastics (29 years),

2002 Season Outlook

The 2002 William and Mary field hockey team has some difficult shoes to fill after turning in winning seasons for the past four years. Last year's team had a 14-5 record, seven players named All-CAA, four regional All-Americans, two participants in the NFHCA All-Star game and head coach Peel Hawthorne was named the CAA Coach of the Year. The 2002 team, however, is ready to take on the challenge. The squad lost four important players to graduation, but one of the strongest recruiting classes is right behind them, prepared to continue the program's success.

Leading the pack will be a group of experienced veterans at the forward position. Ann Ekberg, a senior, has been a vital part of the Tribe's attack since she first arrived in Williamsburg. She led the unit in points (28) and goals (12), was named to the All-CAA second team and was an all-region selection last year. The team will depend on her speed and ability to put away rebounds.

Senior forward Ann Ekberg

Juniors Jordan Steele and Kelly McQuade are also important parts of the team's play at the front of the field. Steele led the team last season in assists, with seven, and also scored three goals. She's been making improvements on her stickwork and is ready for even more playing time this season. McQuade will continue to contribute heavily and may have a double role as both a midfielder and a forward. She spent the spring playing lacrosse for the Tribe and that experience helped her prepare mentally.

Behind these established players are a host of others that will also be contributing to the success of the team. Sydney Schell had reconstructive ankle surgery and was unable to practice in the spring, but her explosive speed could be vital to the Tribe's attack. If Kate Baird, who battled injury throughout 2001, is fully recovered, she, too, will be seeing a lot of playing time for the squad. She showed significant improvement in the spring and is a major threat as a goal-scorer. Sophomore Sue Taylor will be depending on her stick skills to gain more playing time this season. With amazing speed, similar to Schell's, freshman Kelly Giles will be a welcome addition.

Team co-captain and senior Kristen Southerland returns as the team's most skilled stick handler. She was named to the All-CAA second team in 2001 and has been a starter since her freshman year. Jill Hocutt gained great experience at the midfield position this spring that will be helpful for the team in 2002. Maria Scanelli has been improving her stickwork and defensive skills and figures to contribute. Newcomer Shannon Karl has tremendous experience in the midfield against top-level competition that will be an asset this year. Straight from Williamsburg, freshman Jennifer Kubicek will also challenge for playing time.

The defenders on last year's team were young, but the experience they gained has prepared them for the challenge of this season. The most experienced defender is senior Julie Zoolkoski. A two-year starter, she has one of the best tackles on the team. The team will be depending heavily on junior Kelli Duggan. Duggan was named to the All-CAA second team last year as a sophomore. She was the team's most improved player and has strong stickwork and a hard hit. Improvements made in her mental game will be key to the team's success this season. One of the team's co-captains, Jessica Nixon, was switched into a defensive role last year and has since been a very strong consistent player. Nixon anchored the defense as a fullback last season and will continue to help lead the unit this year.

Several others will be vying for spots in the defensive lineup. Anna Davis redshirted last year and has the potential to become a top defender. Sophomore Tiffany Reeves played midfield in high school, but her knack for low tackles and knowledge of the game make her a solid contender for the defensive line. Junior Katie Casto has continuously improved her game and brings a fantastic work ethic and attitude to the field. Newcomer Carly Falgowski is a strong athlete with a good knowledge of the game. Her speed and stick skills will be an asset to the team's defense. Diana Esposito is also coming in with tremendous experience and good skills in the defender position. Both

Senior midfielder Kristen Southerland

Falgowski and Esposito received NFHCA All-America recognition in high school.

Vital to the team's success last season and ready for this year's challenges is redshirt-junior goalkeeper Claire Miller. Miller closed out the year with seven shut-outs and a 1.09 goals against average, one of the best in school history. She was named to the CAA's first team, and was the only member of the Tribe named to the NFHCA's All-South Region first team. A very vocal player, Miller has great ability to organize the defense in front of her. Behind Miller looking for playing time in the goal are Heather Kibbee and Sara McDonough who both redshirted last year.

With a talented recruiting class and experienced players, William and Mary's field hockey team is prepared for the upcoming season. This will be the first year for the team in the new CAA, facing several new league opponents that are expected to add depth and variety. The lineup for the Tribe includes nine top-20 teams from last year, but it's a challenge that the team is ready for.

Quan Nim

Assistant Coach
Iowa (1999)

Beginning her second season as an assistant coach at William and Mary is Quan Nim. A 1999 graduate of the University of Iowa with a B.A. in psychology and a minor in social work, she came to the Tribe after serving as the assistant coach at Davidson for one year.

Her experience on the field will contribute to her coaching duties. Playing for the Hawkeyes, Nim received recognition for her contributions as one of the most well known forwards in the country. During her last year at Iowa, Nim was selected first team all-region, first team All-Big Ten and second team NFHCA All-America. She was also selected to the Big Ten All-Tournament team and to the NCAA All-Tournament Team.

Prior to the accolades in 1999, Nim twice earned all-region and All-Big Ten honors. She participated in the 1995 U.S. Olympic Festival and the 1993 and 1994 Junior Olympics. Nim gained leadership experience in her two seasons as captain of the Hawkeye team and received the Dr. Patricia Hicks Award given for overcoming adversity and showing perseverance and great strength of character.

Peel Hawthorne won the 200th game of her career in 2001. She has 206 career victories entering 2002, with 175 of those at William and Mary.

In 1999 she was a field hockey clinician for Norfolk Public Schools and VHSLCA; she was also an NCAA Youth Education through Sports (YES) clinician for field hockey in 1994 and 1997.

Previously the head field hockey and lacrosse coach at Division III Connecticut College for four years, Hawthorne produced three All-Americans, 15 All-New England players and six USFHA Northeast players while posting a 31-17-3 (.637) record. As lacrosse coach, she led her teams to a 35-15-1 (.696) record and four post-season bids.

Hawthorne also served for nine years on the Executive Committee of the U.S. Women's Lacrosse Association and is past chair of that organization's Sports Medicine committee. As a member of the American Society of Testing and Materials (ASTM) subcommittee on Eye Safety in Sports, Hawthorne chaired the organization's task force on women's lacrosse. She was instrumental in establishing an ASTM manufacturing standard for protective eyewear for the sport.

A field hockey and lacrosse standout at W&M, Hawthorne graduated with a B.S. in physical education in 1980. She was a certified NATA athletic trainer for six years and has an M.Ed. in the field from Virginia. She enjoys water skiing and music and holds a private pilot's license.

Jackie Pereira

Assistant Coach

Jackie Pereira, a long-time star with the Australian National Team and a three-time Olympian, brings a tremendous amount of international experience to the Tribe as an assistant coach.

An integral member of the Australian Women's Hockey Team from 1986 through 1996, Pereira led her team to a fifth-place finish at the Olympics in 1992 and a pair of gold medals in 1988 and 1996. In her career she totaled 109 goals in 175 international games, making her the first Australian woman to score 100 goals and, at the time, the highest goal scorer in the world. Inducted into the Australian Hall of Fame in 1998, she was also awarded the Order of Australian Medal for services to hockey, given by the Queen of England. Perhaps her most prestigious honors were her selections in 1988 and 1989 to the World Eleven Team, a grouping of the best 11 field hockey players in the world.

In 2000 she was a member of the Olympic Torch Relay on its way to the Sydney Games. She has also had a street named after her in the Australian Olympic Village, while a hockey field bears her name in her hometown of Willetton, Western Australia.

Athletics Administration

Terry Driscoll

Athletics Director

With a strong personal commitment to the concept of the scholar-athlete and to competitive success, Edward C. "Terry" Driscoll, Jr. enters his seventh year as athletics director at the College.

"In the athletic world, William and Mary is well recognized for a rare combination of two attributes: its academic strength in the classroom and its competitive strength on the field," said Driscoll. "I look forward to the challenge of continuing the tradition of academic and athletic achievement."

A basketball All-America selection and an Academic All-America honoree at Boston College, Driscoll is an exemplary leader. Since his collegiate days, Driscoll has filled a variety of executive posts in the sporting goods industry, as well as completing an 11-year stint as a player in the National Basketball Association and as a player and coach in the Italian professional basketball league.

Driscoll has supervised the marketing of athletic products in national and international markets, enhanced the television exposure of a variety of NCAA events (including the Final Four basketball tournament) and organized and directed such internationally recognized events as the World Cup soccer games in Boston and the women's World Volleyball Grand Prix in Hawaii.

The athletic program Driscoll directs fields a total of 23 men's and women's teams which boast strong records in NCAA, Colonial Athletic Association and Atlantic 10 competition. Last year, W&M posted a .571 overall winning percentage with five teams finishing in the nation's top-25 polls. Tribe athletes also earned seven All-America certificates and 16 national academic citations during the year.

Driscoll, who graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in biology from Boston College in 1969, began his post-graduate career as a first-round draft pick of the Detroit Pistons. Before joining the Pistons, however, Driscoll opted for a year of professional basketball in Italy where he fulfilled his dream of living abroad and learning a second language. He rejoined the Pistons in 1970 and played with the Bullets and Bucks before returning to Italy in the fall of 1975, where he was named Outstanding Foreign Player of the Year. He played three years before an injury forced his retirement in 1978. He then coached his former team to two Italian League Championships before returning to the United States.

Driscoll began his post-playing career as an athletic sales promotion agent in 1980 and quickly moved up the corporate ladder. With the purchase of Bike Athletic by Kazmaier Associates in 1986, KSG Inc. was formed with the objective of becoming the first, and only, national sales agency in the Sporting Goods Industry. Driscoll was named president of KSG Inc. in 1987 and expanded the agency from 24 to 50 states by 1989. With the domestic sales agency in place, Driscoll expanded to international marketing and sales from 1989-93. In early 1990, Driscoll's contribution to a marketing research project for the NCAA was the initial step moving him from product marketing and sales to sports marketing and management. The result of the project was a joint venture between Kazmaier Associates and Host Communication - with Driscoll being named managing director and chief operating officer of NCAA International. Also in 1993-94, Driscoll assisted with the 1994 World Cup Organizing Committee as Venue Executive Director, and his Boston venue was cited for its operational success. In September of 1994, Driscoll was again enlisted to launch a new business, Eagle International Group, an event management and services company. As vice president, Driscoll worked with Hawaii Pacific Sports as well as organizing the Women's World Volleyball Grand Prix, a five-week competition in Honolulu.

Driscoll resides in Williamsburg with his wife Susan. The couple has two children, Keith, 27, a 1997 graduate of Holy Cross, and Leslie, 23, a 2001 graduate of William and Mary.

Barbara Blosser

Associate AD

Barbara Blosser comes into her 11th year as the College's associate athletics director. Blosser started her career at William and Mary as the head women's basketball coach, and saw immediate success, as her first team finished the 1978 season by winning the VAIWA crown with a then-school-record win total (16-13). Her 1980 Tribe team (11-14) placed third, while the 1981 squad (16-16) was VAIWA runner-up. She was also at the helm during the 1984-85 season when William and Mary made the jump to NCAA Division I. Overall, she finished her coaching career with 115 wins, 84 of which came at William and Mary.

When the College's men's and women's athletic programs merged in May of 1986, she moved to administration, first serving as the assistant to the associate athletics director. Over the past 16 years, her administrative responsibilities at W&M have included the monitoring of financial aid matters, coordinating the scheduling of athletic facilities, supervision of coaches and staff and, currently, serving as the person primarily responsible for administering the day-to-day operations of the department.

From October 1992 to June 1993 and August 1995 to July 1996, Blosser also served as acting athletics director in an interim capacity. For her efforts, she was named the first recipient of the John Randolph Inspiration Award. Blosser has served on various committees such as the NCAA Strategic Planning Committee and the Colonial Athletic Association Competition Committee.

Blosser began her coaching career at the helm of the women's basketball program at Ashland College in Ohio. During her two seasons at the school, she led the Eagles to successive 15-7 and 16-8 ledgers. Her 1977 squad won the AIAW Region V Championship, while her 1978 team took the OASW Small College title.

A former three-sport standout at Ohio State, Blosser graduated Cum Laude in 1975 with a bachelor of science degree in physical education. At OSU, she was selected to both Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board. She competed in basketball, field hockey and tennis and captained both the basketball and field hockey squads her senior year. She went on to earn her master's degree from the University of North Carolina Greensboro in 1978. In 1993, she was selected as a member of the first class of women inducted to the Ohio State University Athletic Hall of Fame.

Student-Athlete Support

Goals

We take pride in the many achievements of William and Mary athletes, both in the classroom and on the playing field. These support services and many others are in place to help each student-athlete achieve their goals. It is our hope that at the completion of their undergraduate career they can reflect upon:

1. An academic experience that prepared them for a successful career.
2. An athletic challenge that brought many rewards.
3. A feeling of loyalty and pride in identifying themselves as a varsity athlete with a degree from The College of William and Mary.

Compliance and Academic Support

As members of the Colonial Athletic Association and NCAA Division I, the College is committed to full compliance with all NCAA and conference regulations. The department has a fulltime Director of Compliance committed to assisting students, staff and coaches through education and monitoring of compliance issues.

All entering students are assigned a faculty academic advisor through the Academic Advising Office, directed by Dr. Randolph Coleman. Students remain with this advisor until they declare a major at which time they select a faculty advisor in their major field of concentration. The Academic Advising Office provides support and guidance to students as they plan their academic progress to graduation.

Within the athletic department, the Academic Support Coordinator is a valuable resource for student-athletes serving in a liaison role with the various student service offices throughout the campus community. The College has offices for Volunteer Services, Career Services, a Writing Resource Center and Oral Communication Studio, to name a few.

The department offers a variety of study, life and career building skills programs, but holds firm to the concept of self-determination—each student must take responsibility for his or her collegiate experience. Our goal is to assure that there is a support system in place to assist students to make positive and informed decisions.

Strength, Speed and Conditioning

Tribe athletics is very proud of the Joseph W. Montgomery Strength Training Center, a 5,000 square foot weight training facility. Under the guidance of the Head and Assistant Strength Coach each sport is provided with a program designed to enhance individual strength and flexibility development specific to the skills and movements required for their sport. Individuals are educated on proper lifting techniques and workouts are monitored to assure safety at all times.

Sports Psychology

The athletic department has on staff a sports psychologist, who holds a Ph.D. in sports psychology. All consultations are confidential and all student-athletes, teams or coaches are welcome regardless of the issues they wish to discuss. Consultation is available for sport psychology education, performance enhancement skills training, strategies for dealing with stress or injury, or for personal issues that may affect performance. The sports psychology consultant is considered a member of the Counseling Center and refers individuals to the Center when appropriate.

Sports Medicine

The Division of Sports Medicine provides a comprehensive health care program for the department of intercollegiate athletics. The staff consists of a team physician, six fulltime certified athletic trainers, graduate and undergraduate student trainers and medical specialists from the local community. The College is also in the process of evaluating and pursuing CAAHEP accreditation of its entry-level athletic training education program. The team physician has overall responsibility for supervision of the sports medicine program.

The priority for the athletic training staff is to enhance and assure lines of communication and cooperation among its staff, student-athletes, parents, coaches, the Student Health Center and involved medical specialists. Through a team approach to health care the sports medicine program can offer comprehensive health care services to the student-athletes in a caring and cooperative manner.
