TRIBE SET FOR CAA TOURNAMENT

The William and Mary field hockey team will take part in the 2006 Colonial Athletic Association Tournament beginning Wednesday, Nov. 1, with quarterfinal matches at campus sites. The Tribe finished tied for fourth with Northeastern, but earned the No. 5 seed with the Huskies taking the regular season contest in Williamsburg. W&M will travel to Boston to face the Huskies in a 4 p.m. contest. The Tribe owns a 9-1 all-time record in CAA Tournament quarterfinal matches.

The winner of the match will advance to the semifinals in Virginia Beach, Va., on Saturday, Nov. 4. The winner of the quarterfinal affair will face the tournament's top seed and No. 3 nationally ranked Old Dominion at noon on Saturday. The finals of the CAA Tournament are scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 5, at 1 p.m.

TRIBE NEWS AND NOTES

- In the midseason NCAA RPI rankings released on Oct. 7, the Tribe was No. 27. The CAA had the most teams of any conference among the top 30 with seven.

- The Tribe is 11-15 all-time in the CAA Tournament, having advanced to the semifinals on 14 occasions and the finals on two occasions. The Tribe will be the No. 5 seed for only the second time. Last season, the No. 5-seeded Tribe won its quarterfinal match over James Madison before falling to the top seed Old Dominion in the semifinals.

- The Tribe is receiving votes in the latest STX/NFHCA National Top 20, released on Oct. 31. W&M has been at least receiving votes in every coaches poll this season.

- With its 6-1 record at home in 2006, the Tribe improved to 112-49-2 (.693) all-time at Busch Field.

- During the 2006 season, a total of 12 different Tribe players have scored at least one point, while 10 different players have scored a goal.

- The Tribe wrapped up the regular season with five of its final eight matches against teams ranked among the national top 20.

- Redshirt freshman Kaitlin Johnson recorded her third defensive save of the year against then-No. 18 Hofstra and ranks third in the CAA.

- Senior back Julienne Palbusa notched her first career defensive save against then-No. 4 Duke on Oct. 14.

- The Tribe's two defensive save performance against then-No. 4 Duke on Oct. 14, marked the first multi-defensive save game of the season for W&M. In 2006, the College had three matches with two or more defensive saves, including a season-high four against ODU on Oct. 30.

- Junior goalkeeper Gwen Hunter recorded eight saves against Northeastern to push her career total past the 200 mark. She now has 214 saves during her Tribe career, which ranks eighth on the W&M career list. Hunter tallied her fourth career double-digit save performance with 10 against No. 3 ODU on Oct. 29.

- Hunter recorded her 10th career shutout against then-No. 18 Hofstra on Oct. 20. The clean sheet gave her sole possession of sixth on the W&M career list.

- Sophomore Lauren Giles registered her first career point in the Tribe's 5-3 win over then-No. 19 Richmond. She assisted on the College's final goal after Richmond had drawn within a single score, 4-3, in the 48th minute. She followed that up by scoring her first career goal in the second half against VCU on Sept. 24.

- Sophomore goalkeeper Kristen Gillis made the first saves of her W&M career against Drexel and then-No. 6 North Carolina. After battling injuries and missing each of the last two seasons, Gillis saw the first action of her W&M career on Sept. 1 against Davidson. She came on in the second half of both matches against Drexel and UNC. Against the Dragons, Gillis made two saves, while stopping one shot against the Tar Heels.

- In each of W&M's first three victories, one Tribe player recorded a career-high five-point game. Senior forward Maggie Long pulled the trick against Ball State, while junior Kim Hedley did the same against Miami (Ohio). Senior forward Gina Cimarelli notched two goals and an assist to give W&M three straight five-point performances against Davidson.

SCOUTING NORTHEASTERN

Northeastern finished the CAA regular season tied with W&M for fourth in the league at 4-4 and earned home-field advantage in the 4-5 matchup by virtue of its 1-0 win over the Tribe in Williamsburg. NU is 9-11 overall this season with nine of its 11 losses coming to teams currently ranked among the top 20 nationally. The Huskies closed out the regular season with a 2-1 loss in overtime to James Madison.

Stephanie Caspers leads the Huskies in scoring with 23 points on nine goals and five assists. Whitney Shean ranks second on the squad with 20 points on four goals and 12 assists. Her 12 assists rank second in the CAA. Ashley Bascetta ranks second on the team in goals with eight. She knocked in the lone goal in NU's victory over W&M following up a rebound off a penalty corner. Bascetta has 18 points on the season to go along with two assists. Sarah Eckhoff and Ashley Webber round out the double-digit scorers for the Huskies with 16 (5g, 6a) and 15 (6g, 3a) points, respectively. Liz Centofani has started the last 15 matches in goal for the Huskies. She has a GAA of 1.34 to go along with 62 saves and four shutouts.

Northeastern owns a 4-2 record against the Tribe. Included in the series record, NU is 2-1 in Boston. Last season, the Huskies tallied a 2-1 win over W&M in Boston. Gina Cimarelli scored the lone Tribe goal of the contest in the second half to draw the College within a goal.

DOUBLE-DIGIT VICTORIES

With its 4-2 win over Towson on Oct. 27, the Tribe recorded its 10th victory of the season. It marked the ninth straight season in which the College eclipsed the 10-win plateau. In fact, during 17 of head coach Peel Hawthorne's 20 seasons at the helm, W&M has recorded 10 or more victories.

.500 OR BETTER

The Tribe finished the CAA regular season with a 4-4 mark, tying with Northeastern for fourth in the conference. Over the 16 years in which W&M has competed in the CAA in field hockey, the Tribe has posted a .500 or better mark in 15 of those seasons. The lone season in which the Tribe did not post a .500 or better record in the league was 1994 when it finished 2-3. In 2006, W&M defeated VCU, Drexel, Hofstra and Towson during the league slate.

SENIOR EFFORT

Needing a victory to clinch a spot in the CAA Tournament, W&M received important contributions from its senior class on senior night to defeat Towson, 4-2, on Oct. 27. Senior forward Maggie Long scored twice, including the game-winner early in the second half, while fellow classmates Gina Cimarelli and Becky Van Zee registered assists on the evening. Cimarelli found Long on a counter for the game-winner in the 43rd minute and her team-leading seventh assist of the season. Van Zee assisted on the Tribe's final score of the game. She ranks second on the team with four helpers on the year. Senior backs Julianne Palbusa and Jamie Fitzgerald played key rolls for the Tribe defense not allowing Towson to get within two goals at any point of the match.

FITZGERALD NAMED TO SENIOR ALL-STAR GAME

Senior back Jamie Fitzgerald was named to the 2006 National Field Hockey Coaches Association Division I Senior All-Star Game. She is the 16th player from William and Mary to be named to the NFHCA All-Star Game. It marks the 10th year in which the Tribe will have a representative at the event. The game will be played on Saturday, Nov. 18, at Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, N.C., at 7:30 p.m.

During her senior campaign, Fitzgerald has started all 18 matches at back for the Tribe. Her lone assist on the year came in a 5-3 victory over then-No. 19 Richmond. She anchors a Tribe defense that has five shutouts and a goals against average of 2.06. For her career, the Jenkintown, Pa., native has appeared in 64 matches with 50 starts. She has six career points on one goal and four assists to go along with three defensive saves.

VAN ZEE LEADING THE WAY

Head coach Peel Hawthorne has noted the play of senior midfielder Becky Van Zee throughout the season. The co-captain has been an integral part of the Tribe's defensive unit as well as it transition to offense. The Lehigh, Pa., native is also excelling on the offensive end having already notched a career-high 12 points on four goals and four assists in 2006. Van Zee scored the game-winner in the Tribe's 1-0 win over then-No. 18 Hofstra on Oct. 20.

STRIKER CAREER YEARS

Forwards Gina Cimarelli, Maggie Long and Kim Hedley have all recorded new career highs during the 2006 season. All three have established new career bests for points in a season with Long and Hedley garnering new career-best goal totals, while Cimarelli has equaled her best season in the Green and Gold.

Cimarelli leads the Tribe in scoring, while ranking ninth in the CAA in points (21). She also has seven goals, equaling her career high from 2004. The Oak Hill, Va., native also has a career and team-high seven assists during her senior campaign.

Hedley leads the team in goals, scoring her eight of the year against Towson. For the season, she has a career-best 18 points. She also tallied her first two career assists this season. Both her goal and point totals bettered her career-high marks from a season ago. On two occasions this season, Hedley has recorded a pair of goals, while helping the Tribe to overcome early deficits against Miami (Ohio) and then-No. 19 Richmond.

Long, like her fellow starting frontrunners, has established new career bests in goals and points. After notching six points on two goals and two assists as a junior in 2005, the Ocean City, N.J., native has 15 points on seven goals and one assist this season. She tallied her second multigoal game of the season with two tallies, including the game-winner, against Towson.

IN MULTIPLES

During the 2006 season, the Tribe has received two-goal games on seven different occasions from three different players. Senior forward Gina Cimarelli has three multi-goal games, while junior striker Kim Hedley and senior frontrunner Maggie Long have two apiece. The two-goal games were the first of Hedley and Long's careers, while Cimarelli's three multigoal games gives her four in her career.

The last time W&M had more than seven multi-goal games came during the 2002 season when it had nine. During that season Ann Ekberg had seven multi-goal games to lead the way for the College. Ekberg's season marked the last time a single Tribe player had more than three multi-goal games in a season.

The Tribe has also produced four, five-point games from the trio of forwards. Cimarelli pulled the trick against then-No. 19 Richmond and Miami (Ohio), while Hedley did it against the Redhawks as well and Long accomplished the feat against Ball State. The 2000 season was the last time W&M had more than four five-plus point games in a season. During that campaign, the College had five games of five or more points. In 2002, Ekberg had four games of five-plus points, making her the last W&M player to have more than two games with five or more points.

CONVERTING CORNERS

The Tribe has had success scoring off of penalty corners. In the Tribe's conference-opening victories over VCU and Drexel, all seven W&M goals have come via the penalty corner. In the Tribe's 1-0 victory over then-No. 18 Hofstra, senior Becky Van Zee scored the lone Tribe goal off a penalty corner. For the year, the Tribe has scored 16 of its 37 goals off penalty corners.

CAN I HELP YOU?

In the Tribe's 4-2 CAA-opening victory over VCU on Sept. 24, junior back Laura Kastelic assisted on the first three W&M goals to help propel the College to victory. Each of Kastelic's three assist came off penalty corners as she found sophomore Katie Broaddus in the 22nd minute, freshman Wesley Drew in the 32nd minute and senior Maggie Long in the 49th minute. All four Tribe goals came via penalty corners.

Kastelic's three helpers were not only a career high, but the second most in school history. The last time a Tribe player notched three assists in a contest, Katie Silverthorne set the school mark with four against the Rams on Oct. 7, 2001. The three assists tied six other players for second in the school's annals.

OFFENSIVE OUTBURSTS

The Tribe notched five goals in its first match against a ranked opponent on Sept. 16 versus then-No. 19 Richmond. In the 5-3 victory, all three W&M strikers scored as senior Gina Cimarelli and junior Kim Hedley added a pair apiece with senior Maggie Long adding the first W&M tally. It marked the first time W&M has scored five or more goals at home since downing then-No. 19 Hofstra, 5-1, in Williamsburg on Oct. 3, 2004.

W&M tallied four goals in each of its first three victories in 2006. It marked the first time since the 2004 season that W&M scored four or more goals in three consecutive games. The Tribe scored four or more goals in three straight wins at Virginia (5-4) on Sept. 29, vs. Drexel (4-2) on Oct. 1 and vs. Hofstra (5-1) on Oct. 3 during that season.

W&M opened the season with road wins over Ball State (4-1) and Miami (Ohio) (4-3 OT). The back-to-back four-goal performances on the road also were the first time since 1988 that the Tribe notched four or more goals in back-to-back road victories. During that season, W&M defeated Loyola (Md.), 4-3, on Oct. 1, before disposing of American, 4-0, on Oct. 2.

TWO-FERS

This season, the Tribe has had two players score two goals in the same game. Seniors Gina Cimarelli and Maggie Long each notched a pair in the College's 4-1 over Ball State to open the season. Cimarelli then joined forces with junior Kim Hedley to pull the trick against then-No. 19 Richmond.

When Cimarelli and Long each notched a pair of goals in the Tribe's 4-1 win over Ball State, it marked the first time since the 2003 season that two W&M players recorded multi-goal games in the same contest. The last duo to do it was Kelli Dugan and Kelly McQuade, who each notched a hat trick in W&M's 8-3 win over James Madison on Oct. 26, 2003.

The last time W&M had two players score a pair of goals in two games in a season was during the 2000 campaign. The feat occurred on four occasions for the Tribe in 2000. Katie Uhran and Lianne Ligtoet tallied two and three goals, respectively against Columbia (10/13/00), while Uhran teamed with Jaime Bolen to each add a pair in a 5-2 win over Villanova (10/28/00). Bolen and Ann Ekberg each scored two goals in a pair of games in 2000 against Davidson (Sept. 3) and Yale (Sept. 10).

STARTING OFF THE CAA SLATE IN STYLE

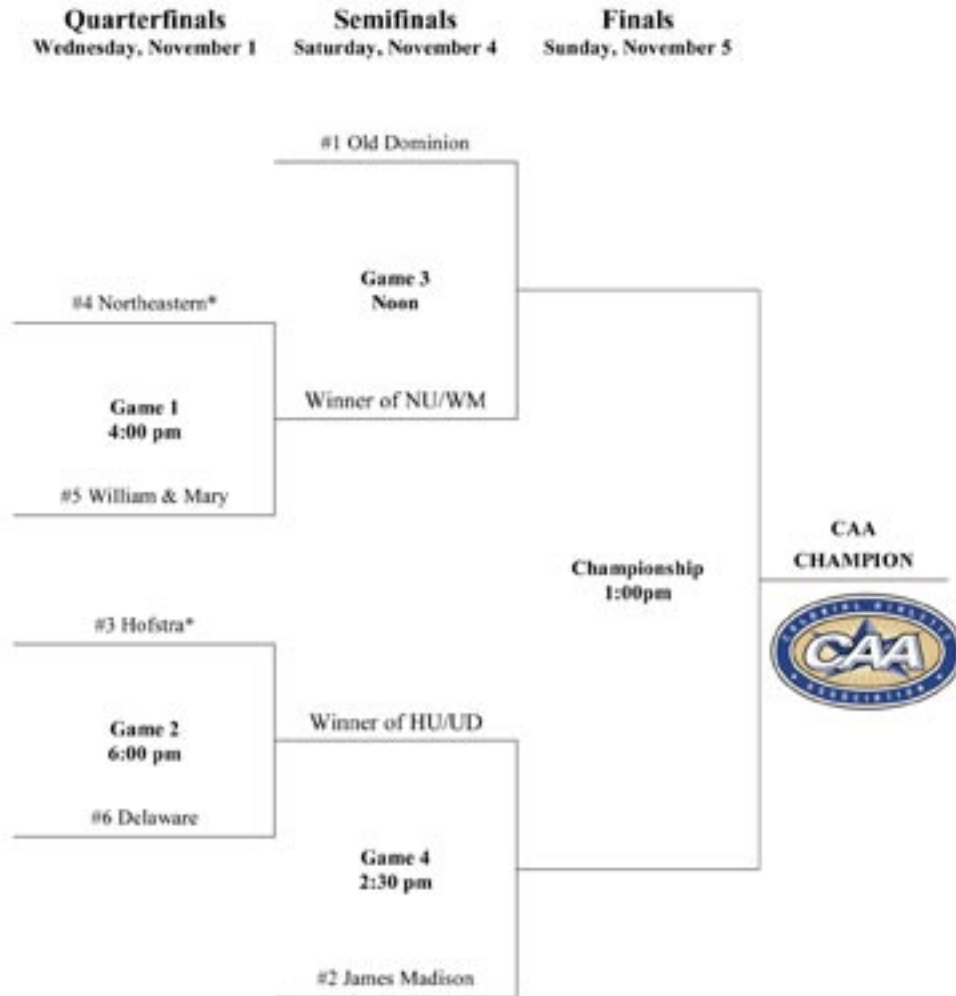

For the third straight season, the Tribe opened the CAA portion of the schedule with two victories. It marked the fifth time in school history that the Tribe has accomplished the feat, having done so in 1993 and 1998 along with the last three years.

This season, the Tribe opened with victories over VCU (4-2) on Sept. 24, before defeating Drexel (3-0) on Sept. 29. In 2005, the College won its first three matches in league action before falling in overtime to James Madison. In 2004, W&M finished the CAA ledger at 7-0 to claim the regular-season crown.

BEST START SINCE 2000

The Tribe started the season a perfect 5-0 before falling in its most recent affair with Princeton. The 5-0 start marked the first time since 2000 that W&M has won five straight to open the season. During the 2000 season, the College opened with seven-straight victories. The 5-0 start is only the fourth five-game winning streak to start a season in school history. Aside from 2000, the Tribe accomplished the feat in 1978 and 1979.
