No. 17 W&M HITS THE ROAD FOR TWO

The No. 17 William and Mary field hockey team will once again hit the road for a pair of non-conference contest this time along the East Coast. The Tribe will face Rutgers (2-3) in Piscataway, N.J., on Friday, Sept. 8, at 7:30 p.m., before traveling to Princeton to face the Tigers (0-2) on Sunday, Sept. 10, at 1 p.m. W&M will look to continue its early season winning streak having won its first four matches of the young campaign.

TRIBE NEWS AND NOTES

- The Tribe is ranked 17th in both the STX/NFHCA and womensfieldhockey.com polls, released on Sept. 5.
- With its victories over Davidson and Radford, the Tribe improved to 108-48-2 (.690) all-time at Busch Field.
- W&M did not allow a goal in its first two home games of the 2006 season vs. Davidson and Radford. With the pair of shutouts, it marked the first time since the 2000 season that the Tribe blanked back-to-back opponents at home. During that season, W&M shutout American, 3-0, on Sept. 1, before blanking Davidson, 7-0, on Sept. 3.
- Senior forwards Gina Cimarelli and Maggie Long each notched a pair of goals in the Tribe's 4-1 win over Ball State. It marked the first time since the 2003 season that two W&M players recorded multi-goal games in the same contest. The last duo to do it was Kelli Dugan and Kelly McQuade, who each notched a hat trick, in W&M's 8-3 win over James Madison on Oct. 26, 2003.
- Junior goalkeeper Gwen Hunter recorded eight saves in the Tribe's victory over Miami (Ohio). It marked the fifth time in her career she recorded eight or more saves in a contest. The last time she recorded eight or more saves in a game came against Northeastern on Oct. 23, 2005, when she stopped 10 shots.
- After battling injuries and missing each of the last two seasons, sophomore goalkeeper Kristen Gillis saw the first action of her W&M career on Sept. 1 against Davidson. Gillis played the entire second half in goal versus the Wildcats, but was not tested.
- In each of W&M's first three victories, one Tribe player has recorded a career-high five-point game. Senior forward Maggie Long pulled the trick against Ball State, while junior Kim Hedley did the same against Miami (Ohio). Senior forward Gina Cimarelli notched two goals and an assist to give W&M three straight five-point performances against Davidson.
- With its 4-1 victory over Ball State, W&M improved to 25-6-3 since 1973 and 15-5 under head coach Peel Hawthorne in season openers. The Tribe also improved to 8-4 in season-openers on the road.

SCOUTING RUTGERS

Rutgers enters the contest with the Tribe at 2-3 on the season, having played all five games on the road. The Scarlet Knights own victories over West Chester (6-3) and Lafayette (2-1). Rutgers' losses have come at the hands of Drexel (5-4), Temple (3-2) and No. 6 American (2-0).

The contest against the Tribe will be the start of a four-game homestand for the Scarlet Knights. Rutgers returned 11 letterwinners, including seven of its top eight scorers, along with seven starters from a 2005 team that posted a 7-12 overall record and a 0-5 mark in Big East play.

Junior goalkeeper Rosalyn Wentko turned in a stellar performance against American and was named to the Big East Conference Honor Roll. She notched a career-high 13 saves against the Eagles. Wentko owns a goals against average of 2.94 with a save percentage of .789. She ranks second in the Big East in saves per game at 6.0.

Freshman Kristen Johnson leads the Scarlet Knights with 13 points on four goals and five assists. She currently is tied with teammate Corinne Bach for the league lead in assists at one per contest. Sophomore Amy Lewis was named to the Big East Conference Honor Roll on Aug. 28 following a six-goal performance in Rutgers' first two games. Johnson and Lewis rank No. 3 and No. 4 in the conference in points per game. Lewis leads the Scarlet Knights with six goals.

Rutgers owns a 3-0 record all-time against the Tribe. The two squads will meet for the first time at Rutgers as two of the previous meetings were at neutral sites, while the other came in Williamsburg. The last time the two met, the Scarlet Knight recorded a 4-3 double-overtime victory in Williamsburg.

SCOUTING PRINCETON

The Tigers are 0-2 on the young season and will face Yale on Sept. 9, before playing host to the Tribe. Both of Princeton's losses came at the hands of ranked opponents by a single goal. The Tigers fell to No. 19 Richmond, 4-3, on Sept. 2, before dropping a 3-2 decision to No. 7 Penn State on Sept. 6. Princeton has received votes in each of the first two STX/NFHCA Top 20 polls.

In the contest against Penn State, Princeton overcame a first-half two-goal deficit with a pair of goals in the opening 15 minutes of the second stanza. The comeback attempt was short lived, though, as the Nittany Lions scored the eventual game-winner only 48 seconds after Princeton tied the match.

Sophomore defender Leah Hoagland leads the Tigers with five points on two goals and an assist in 2006. She notched a goal and an assist in the loss to No. 7 Penn State. Freshman Tina Bortz ranks second on the team with two goals and four points. Both of Bortz goals came in the loss against No. 19 Richmond. Junior midfielder Nicole Ng owns the lone other goal for Princeton on the year. Senior goalkeeper Allison Nemeth has started both contests for the Tigers. She has a goals against average of 4.50 with 11 saves.

W&M is 2-3 all-time against the Tigers, but the two teams have split the pair of affairs at Princeton. The Tigers won a double-overtime contest, 2-1, the last time the two squads met in Williamsburg during the 2004 season. Princeton won the last meeting in Princeton, N.J., during the 1989 season, 2-1.

BEST START SINCE 2000

The Tribe is a perfect 4-0 to start the 2006 campaign, marking the first time since 2000 that W&M has won four straight to open the season. During the 2000 season, the College opened with a seven-straight victories. The 4-0 start is the fifth four-game winning streak to start a season in school history. Aside from 2000, the Tribe accomplished the feat in 1973, 1979 and 1980.

TRIBE RANKED No. 17

On the strength of four-straight victories to open the 2006 season, W&M vaulted into the first STX/National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA) Top 20 and the womensfieldhockey.com Top 20. The Tribe is ranked No. 17 in both polls.

The Tribe received 44 votes in the preseason edition of the NFHCA poll, before garnering 96 in the first poll of the season on Sept. 5 to crack the top 20. The ranking is the highest in the coaches poll since finishing the College finished 2004 campaign ranked 15th. A season ago, the Tribe was ranked as high as No. 18 in the STX/NFHCA National poll. That ranking came on Sept. 13, 2005. It is the first ranking for the Tribe in the womensfieldhockey.com poll since garnering the No. 15 spot on Sept. 12, 2005.

CIMARELLI NAMED TO NATIONAL HONOR ROLL

Following her three-goal performance in the Tribe's season-opening victories over Ball State and Miami (Ohio), senior forward Gina Cimarelli was named to the womensfieldhockey.com National Honor Roll. Cimarelli was one of seven players on the list with Lauren Crandall of Wake Forest taking home the national player of the week accolade.

Cimarelli became the first Tribe player since 2004 to be named to the national honor roll. Kelly Giles (10/4) and Heather Kibbee (10/25) were on the weekly list during that campaign. Cimarelli scored a pair of goals in the Tribe's 4-1 victory over Ball State, before notching the game-winner 21 seconds into overtime against Miami (Ohio).

TOUGH LEDGER

The Tribe's 2006 schedule is peppered with difficult opponents. In total between both the NFHCA and womensfieldhockey.com polls, eight teams are ranked among the top 20 with another five at least receiving votes.

Seven future W&M opponents are listed among the NFHCA top 20, while another six teams on the schedule are currently receiving votes. The list of ranked foes include No. 3 ODU, No. 4

Duke, No. 5 North Carolina, No. 11 Virginia, No. 13 James Madison, No. 18 Northeastern and No. 19 Richmond. Hofstra, Delaware, Miami (Ohio), Drexel, Princeton and Towson are receiving votes for the STX/NFHCA national poll. Eight Tribe opponents are ranked in the womensfieldhockey.com poll with No. 3 Duke, No. 4 UNC, No. 5 ODU, No. 11 James Madison, No. 14 Virginia, No. 16 Northeastern, No. 18 Hofstra and No. 20 Richmond.

BETTER THAN BEFORE

Forwards Maggie Long and Kim Hedley have both surpassed their point totals from a season ago in the opening four games of the 2006 campaign. Long ranks eighth in the CAA in points with seven and sixth in goals with three. She already surpassed both her point and goal totals from a season ago, which were six points on two goals and two assists. Hedley notched all five of her season points against Miami (Ohio) with two goals and an assist on the game-winning goal. In 2005, Hedley finished with four points on a pair of goals for the Tribe.

HOT START

Senior forward Gina Cimarelli is off to quite the start in 2006. In the opening four games of the season, the Oak Hill, Va., native has 11 points on five goals and one assist. Her 11 points and five goals both rank second in the CAA, while her three game-winning tallies, in the first three games of the season, lead the league. Cimarelli already has a pair of two-goal games in 2006, bringing her career total to four. Her five-point performance in the College's 4-0 victory over Davidson equaled a career high she set against Kent State in a 7-2 victory during the 2005 season.

FRESHMEN FIRSTS

In the Tribe's pair of home-opening victories over Davidson (4-0) and Radford (2-0), a trio of W&M freshmen notched the first points of their careers. Freshmen Courtney Farino and Wesley Drew scored their first career goals, while fellow rookie, Sarah Louie registered her first career assist. Against Davidson, Farino pushed the ball inside the left post, following a cross-crease pass from senior forward Gina Cimarelli in the waning moments of the match. Louie found Drew to ice the Tribe's match against Radford in the 60th minute. Louie grab a rebound off a penalty corner and found Drew in front of the goal, giving the Tribe a 2-0 victory.

OFFENSIVE EXPLOSION

The Tribe tallied four goals in each of its first three victories of 2006. It marked the first time since the 2004 season that W&M scored four or more goals in three consecutive games. The Tribe scored four or more goals in three straight wins at Virginia (5-4) on Sept. 29, vs. Drexel (4-2) on Oct. 1 and vs. Hofstra (5-1) on Oct. 3 during that season.

W&M opened the season with road wins over Ball State (4-1) and Miami (Ohio) (4-3 OT). The back-to-back four-goal performances on the road also were the first time since 1988 that the Tribe notched four or more goals in back-to-back road victories. During that season, W&M defeated Loyola (Md.), 4-3, on Oct. 1, before disposing of American, 4-0, on Oct. 2.

TWO GOALS AROUND

In the each of the Tribe's first three victories during the 2006 season, at least one player has notched a two-goal game. In the Tribe's season-opening victory over Ball State, senior forwards Gina Cimarelli and Maggie Long notched two-goal games. Junior Kim Hedley followed suite with her first career two-goal game in the victory over Miami (Ohio). Cimarelli then made it three-for-three with the opening two tallies in a 4-0 victory over Davidson at Busch Field. The total has already surpassed the Tribe's multi-goal game total from 2005, when it had three. In 2003 and 2004, the Tribe had five and six multi-goal games, respectively. The multi-goal games were the second and third of Cimarelli's career, while Long and Hedley recorded the first two-goal contests of their careers.

DOMINATING THE SHOT CHARTS

In its first four games of the season, W&M outshot its opponents by an average of 13.3 shots per contest. In total, the Tribe has averaged 18.5 shots per game of the first four contests. Even more impressive than the shot totals for the Tribe was the fact that it has averaged 11 attempts on cage, compared to less than four for its opponents. In fact, the Tribe's lowest shot total of the year was 11 against Radford, but W&M held the Highlanders without a single shot in the contest.

OH CAPTAIN, MY CAPTAIN

Seniors Becky Van Zee and Maggie Long were voted team captains for the Tribe in 2006. Van Zee started the final 10 matches of the 2005 season and played in all 21 games. She finished her junior campaign with five points on two goals and one assist. Long started 12 matches and finished with two goals, two assists and six points a season ago.

PICKED FOURTH IN CAA

The Tribe was picked fourth in the Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) Pre-season Coaches Poll. The Tribe garnered 42 total points to come in behind conference favorite Old Dominion, Northeastern and James Madison. The Tribe finished the 2005 season at 10-11 overall, including a 4-4 ledger in the CAA. The College advanced to the CAA tournament semifinals before falling to eventual champion and NCAA Semifinalist Old Dominion.

The voting system for the rankings consisted of each head coach submitting a ranked order of finish. The coaches were not allowed to vote for their own squad, and the points system started at eight for a first-place vote, down to one for an eighth-place

SENIOR LEADERSHIP

Along with the senior captains Becky Van Zee and Maggie Long, the Tribe will lean on the senior leadership of Jamie Fitzgerald, Julienne Palbusa and Gina Cimarelli. Fitzgerald, who is a two-sport standout also playing for the W&M lacrosse team, is the lone returning starter on the back line for W&M. Over the last two years, she started 32 matches in the defense. Palbusa has battled injuries during her W&M career, but came into her own during the 2006 spring season. She will help fill in on the back line for the College after earning the team's most improved award in 2005. Cimarelli led the College in scoring a season ago with 14 points on six goals and two assists. Over the last two seasons, she has notched 13 goals.
