Busch Field, the home of Tribe field hockey, was renovated this past summer with AstroTurf 12™. The renovation of the 20-year-old facility included a total revamp of the field, underlying pad, and drainage systems to create a competition surface that ranks alongside those used at the U.S. National Training Centers in Virginia Beach, Virginia, Chula Vista, California as well as at last year's Olympic Games. Included in the renovation was the installation of five fully-automated water cannons and watering system that recaptures over 90% of the water used.
