ALMA MATER

Hark! the students' voices swelling,
 Strong and clear and true
 Alma Mater's love they're telling,
 Ringing far and near.

Chorus

William and Mary loved of old,
 Hark, upon the gale.
 Hear the thunder of our chorus,
 Alma Mater--hail.

All thy sons are faithful to thee
 Through their college days,
 Singing out from hearts that love thee
 Alma Mater's praise.

Iron shod and golden sandeled
 Shall the years go by,—
 Still our hearts shall weave about thee
 Love that cannot die.

God, our Father, hear our voices
 Listen to our cry,
 Bless the college of our boyhood
 Let her never die.

J. S. Wilson. '02.

GREETING

In the name of the faculty we welcome you to the College of William and Mary. We hope that your life here will be pleasant and that each day of study conscientiously pursued will bring to you joy and happiness.

The things you do at college usually remain fixed upon you for life. We hope, therefore, that you will realize that at college you are building for the future for good or for bad. In all probability your life after you leave college will be just what you make it here.

We sincerely hope that your religious activities while in college will grow more fervent and earnest, and that you will associate yourself with the Young Men's Christian Association and in co-operation with it endeavor to keep alive in the College of your choice a spirit of reverence and useful service.

Post Office

The United States Post Office is located a short distance from the College gate on the Duke of Gloucester Street. Mail should be sent in care of College of William and Mary. Boxes may be obtained from the Postmaster at reasonable rates.

THE CAMPUS

It is of greatest importance to freshman that they learn the different buildings on the campus.

The building that is of most importance is the one that is commonly known as the Main Building. This can be easily recognized by the white bell tower. Back and right of this building is Science Hall. Back of this building is the Library, which is conducted for the convenience of the students and where many of the rich treasures of the College are deposited. Back of the Library are located the tennis courts. On the outskirts of the Campus, in the same general direction will be found Carey Athletic Field.

Coming back to the Main Building, in front and right (facing the same way as the building) will be found the President's house on the left and the right a twin building, the Brafferton Dormitory, which is the oldest and most historic of the Dormitories. Until recently it was used as the Senior Dormitory. Here may be found the Information Bureau of the Y. M. C. A.

Opposite the Brafferton and across the road will be found a group of buildings which may be distinguished as follows: The yellow of smooth plaster is Ewell Dormitory and attached to the rear is an addition of recent years known as Ewell Annex. On the left of Ewell is a brick building, Taliaferro, (pronounce Tolifer), next to this and beyond is a small wooden building resembling a private dwelling, this is the Infirmary where the office of the college physician is located, also wards for patients with minor illnesses of contagious nature.

In the rear of Taliaferro and Ewell will be found the Dining Hall. On the right in the hollow is located the power plant from which heat and light are supplied over the Campus.

Here burned out lights are exchanged for new ones.

On the right of the Dining Hall is located the residence of the Dean of Women, this was formerly known as the Steward's House. Completing the rectangle formed by the side of Ewell, the Steward's House and the Jamestown road is located the new Tyler Dormitory. This will be the home of the women and here the Matron will have her office.

Between the Main Building and the road on which Ewall and Taliaferro are located will be found the gymnasium in which will be found the Y. M. C. A. lounging room.

THINGS A FRESHMAN WILL NEED TO KNOW

The College President

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler is the College President. His residence is the President's House on the Campus. His office is on the first floor of the Main Building. His hours are for student conference, 10 to 11 A. M., 2 to 3 P. M. At other times by appointment.

The Dean of the College

Dr. J. Lesslie Hall is the Dean of the College with his office with that of the Registrar on the first floor of the Main Building. As Dean all students are admitted through him, and their courses are selected under his direction.

The College Registrar

H. L. Bridges is the College Registrar with his offices on the first floor of the Main Building. Through him are monthly grade reports issued. He is also Superintendent of Buildings and in charge of the College Book Store.

The College Treasurer

Col. L. W. Lane is the College Treasurer with an office adjoining that of the Registrar. All fees are payable to him.

Young Men's Christian Association

The Young Men's Christian Association, as conducted at William and Mary, is strictly in accordance with the College Y. M. C. A. program. It is in direct touch with leaders skilled in Y. M. C. A. work and its object is briefly this, to unite all students who desire to strengthen their spiritual life and its influence in the College; to promote growth in Christian character and fellowship and aggressive Christian work especially by and for students, and to train its members and lead them to devote their lives to JESUS CHRIST where they can accomplish the most for the extension of the Master's kingdom.

The more important features of the Y. M. C. A. program are:

Monthly Vesper Services

These services are conducted in the College Chapel and are led by men with national reputation with inspired messages for College men. Music is furnished by College talent.

Bible Training

This is accomplished through co-operation with the churches of Williamsburg. This method is especially advantageous as it gives to those who desire it practical experience in religious education through the teaching of Sunday School classes.

Recreation Room

This room is maintained in the College Gymnasium and is for general use of the men students of the college. Here is maintained a pool and billiard table, as well as boards and men for checkers and chess. The collection of College trophies is kept here as well as the Y. M. C. A. library. New students will find writing tables and stationery here for their use. The Y. M. C. A. has placed a large Victrola in the room for the use of the students. This room is the center of the student activities of the College. The student Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will have his office in this room. It is hoped that all new students will use this room as theirs.

Other Work

Courses are conducted in social and moral problems of interest and practical value to all students.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. is done from a non-sectarian point of view, with the end of bringing them into useful services for JESUS CHRIST, and the making of better citizens for our country.

We commend our work to all men of the College, both for their own good and the good of our College and the community in which we live, and we are confident that, as we have numbered in the past the cleanest and most straightforward of the student body, we will continue this in all future years.

STUDENT ADMINISTRATION

The Student Council

The object of this council is to regulate and supervise student conduct. This council has control of such offences as the using of intoxicating liquors, gambling, immorality, promiscuous use of firearms, stealing, cheating on examinations and tests or any ungentlemanly and dishonorable conduct.

This council is composed of representatives from each class. The members are elected the first week of the academic year, four from the senior class, three from the junior class, two from the sophomore, and one from the freshman class.

Athletic Council

The direct control and management of athletics at the college is vested in the Athletic Council, which is composed of President, Vice-President, Secretary and the Managers of the Football, Basketball, Track and Tennis Teams, with the Director of Athletics of the College and a Faculty representative.

Debating Council

The direct control of inter-collegiate debating is under the direction of the Debating Council, which is composed of two members from each Literary Society with a representative from the Faculty.

The Honor System

The Honor system of Student Conduct had its origin at the College of William and Mary. The idea of the Honor System is that of student self-government and the instrument through which this operates is the Student Council.

Its aim is to develop student conscience which will act as a guide to student morality. As an honor system it places an individual responsibility on each student to order his conduct so that it may be an offence to none.

This system extends to the Class Room, the Campus, the Athletic Field, the Dining Hall, the Dormitories, in fact, everywhere student activity is found.

As it is easily seen, this system is democratic and is an ideal method for training men to live so that their conduct may be ordered for the good of the group.

It is suggested to all new students that in case of difficulties arising they appeal to the Student Council which acts for the student body in maintaining this system.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The student publications are one of the most important features of college life and should receive the attention of all freshmen from the day they enter College. These periodicals are published by the students and for the students and it is the duty of every one to realize that, as a student, the responsibility for their success depends upon their individual support.

The Flat Hat

This is published weekly and is devoted to local happenings and is a medium for a healthy exchange of thoughts relative to life on the Campus. Student communications are always welcome.

The Literary Magazine

The nature of this publication is disclosed by its name. Its aim is to develop the literary talent of the student body. All its material is drawn from the students and every one is urged to contribute.

The Colonial Echo

This is an annual publication and gives an artistic representation of the events of our College for the academic year. As this is the most extensive publication attempted by the students, for its success it is essential that every student give the Board of Editors and the Business Manager their personal support from the first day of College until the publication of the Annual.

Student Handbook

This is an annual publication of the Young Men's Christian Association, edited under the direction of a committee appointed from the same.

OTHER PUBLICATIONS

College Catalogue

This is published annually for the benefit of prospective students and as a medium for announcing courses of study offered, Faculty and Board rulings and other general information.

College Bulletin

This is published quarterly by the College and consist of notes, reprints and general information.

William and Mary Historical Magazine

This is a quarterly publication of country-wide reputation, edited under the direction of President Emeritus Tyler, and is perhaps the most important historical and genealogical magazine published in the state.

Literary Society

There are two Literary Societies at William and Mary of long standing and brilliant records the Philomathean and the Phoenix, whose halls are in the College building. They meet every Saturday evening in their halls and present their literary programs consisting of debate, oratory, reading and declamation.

These societies meet in contest twice each year. The first is that of the Freshman which takes place in October; the other is the final contest which takes place during Commencement week.

Medals are offered each year for improvement in reading, oratory, declamation and debate, the final men are elected by each society to compete for medals in oratory and debate.

The advantages gained from these societies cannot be over-estimated and the students should, early in the season, connect himself with one or the other.

Debating and Public Speaking

Debating affairs are managed by the College Debating Council composed of members from each Literary Society. On the same night Richmond College, Randolph-Macon, and the College of William and Mary debate one question, each College being represented by two teams. These teams are chosen after three series of trials, open to all members of both Literary Societies.

There are also other debates scheduled by the Debate Council. In addition to Debating there is the Virginia Inter-collegiate Oratorical Contest, in which William and Mary is represented.

Our representative is chosen by means of a competitive contest, open to all Literary Society members. As this is a contest between eight of the leading Colleges of Virginia, it should appeal to any student to have the honor or being in such a contest.

No student should boast of being a strong college man who is unable to express himself intelligently before an audience. Every student is urged to avail himself of the opportunity which these all-important branches of literary work afford.

Do what you are capable of doing for your Alma Mater.

Student Organizations

William and Mary is especially rich in student organizations and social clubs. No student restricts his circle of friends to the club or organization to which he belongs, nor do these organizations furnish exclusive resources for social enjoyment. Consequently non-membership in a club or like organization is neither a conspicuous fact, nor a matter of grave concern. These organizations are:

Territorial Clubs

These clubs serve to cement together those students from the different sections of the country and include the Southwest, Rappahanock, Tidewater, Southside Clubs and Northern Lights.

Interest Clubs

These organizations seek to unite people of like interests in specified lines and include the Glee Club, Mandolin Club, Doctors' Club, Monogram Club, Brothers' Club and German Club. This also includes the Press Club, which has for its object the placing of William and Mary activities before the press.

Fraternities

The most important of these is the Phi Beta Kappa, which had its origin at William and Mary. This society elects to its membership only graduates of the College and men distinguished in arts and letters.

There are five undergraduate social fraternities, namely: Sigma Phi Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Theta Delta Chi, and Phi Tau Beta, (local). There is one literary fraternity, Sigma Upsilon. There is one professional Phi Alpha Zeta, membership in the latter being limited to Ministerial Students.

Suggestions

Let the first organization you join be the Young Men's Christian Association.

Whenever you desire advice or information, the Y. M. C. A. officers are at your service.

Don't expect anything when you give nothing.

If something displeases you, see the proper authorities about it.

Watch the bulletin boards for important notices.

Always carry a note-book and pencil with you to class room.

Support all College activities and they will support you.

Think of your home folks often and keep in mind what you came to College for.

Don't cut lectures or they will cut you!

The success of our College depends on you.

It is easy, but neither wise nor profitable, to appreciate an opportunity after it has gone.

What you get out of College in any direction is in proportion to what you put into it.

Let Sunday find you at Church and Sunday School.

No College man can afford to be out of Literary Society work.

Short Helps to Student Success

Have a study schedule.

Write for the Literary Magazine.

Write for the Flat Hat.

Go out for some branch of athletics.

Attend all athletic rallies.

Don't flirt with Lady Nicotine.

Always heed the call of the Chapel bell.

Help keep the Campus clean.

Spend a definite amount of time each day in the Library.

Carry this little book with you, it was printed for you.

Old Williamsburg

To the new student there are many places in and about Williamsburg of historical interest. From the College gate at the other end of the Duke of Gloucester Street lies the site of the Colonial House of Burgesses. Here Patrick Henry stirred the people of Williamsburg with his patriotic speeches. Nearby is the old jail.

Other places of interest are the the Old Powder Horn (located on the Duke of Gloucester Street), which has served for many purposes and is now used as an historical museum by the people of Williamsburg. The Wythe, Blair, and Randolph Houses are rich in historical association as well as the site of the old Raleigh Tavern, and the Audry House.

Bruton Parish Church is one of the richest shrines of historical association in the South. In its churchyard are buried many of the men who were instrumental in building the American Nation. Beneath the floors of the church are buried many people of historical interest, among which are the parents and grandparents of Martha Washington. In the Church will also be found the Canopied Spottswood or Governor's Pew, the Bible presented by his late Majesty Edward VII of Great Britain, the bronze Lecturn, presented by ex-President Roosevelt. There is also an interesting collection of Ecclesiastical silver Missals and Service Books, some the gifts of English Royalty. The silver is of special interest as some of it was at one time the silver of the College Chapel.

Lord Dunmore's Cave is always of interest to the new student. This cave is a remnant of a Colonial underground system throughout Williamsburg which was maintained during the last days of the Colonial Governors.

Nearby on the Jamestown Road is Lake Matoka; this lake supplies good swimming, and has for generations supplied fishing, but at present the stock is low.

Six miles distant is historic Jamestown, the first place of permanent settlement by an English speaking people. Yorktown is twelve miles distant with its rich history.

Within six miles also is located the Government shell loading plant of Penniman, which has attracted about six thousand people and has all the conveniences of a well ordered city.

On our own Campus will be found the marble statue of Governor Berkley or Lord Botetourt. The statue has a history as interesting as Botetourt himself.

Lord Botetourt is buried beneath the Chapel with Bishop Madison, sometime President of the College, and first Bishop of Virginia. Other things of interest on the Campus are the old Spottswood cannon taken from Fort Christianna of pre-Revolution fame, and presented to the College by the citizens of Williamsburg.

There will also be found in the Quadrangle an old sun-dial which was stolen from the College during the War Between the States, lost and finally found in a second-hand store in New York and returned to the College.

CO-EDUCATION

By act of the Virginia Legislature women were admitted to the College of William and Mary its two hundred and twenty-fifth session.

At present the women students are living in Tyler Hall, a dormitory built for the men students but remodeled for the use of the women students until proper accomodations could be provided for them.

The women of the college are under the charge of a Dean of Women who has her office and residence in the old Stewards House now called the Deanery.

These students have their own government organized and directed by their Dean. Their student activities are for the most part independent of those of the men.

Under the operation of co-education it has been found expedient to establish some precedent as to representation in common student activities.

The Flat Hat, the college weekly as well as the Literary Magazine still continue to be the official organs of the men students of the college, it being expected that the women of the college will have their own publication as soon as they are sufficiently organized. At present the Flat Hat has a woman reporter from the girls but the management have thought it best not to include woman on the staff.

The Literary Magazine has extended to the women the use of its pages for literary work that they might produce but to date this has not been the case.

The Colonial Echo as it has for its object a portrayal of all the various branches of activities found on the Campus includes for the women a proportional representation from the women.

Athletics

Athletics hold by no means the most important place in our College activities; but it is one that we would not do without, because of its social and cultural aspects, not speaking of the physical training that is obtained from the different branches of sport.

The instrument by which one College judges another is in a large measure through the athletic teams that is sent out. William and Mary has a clean record with honors attached.

It now becomes the duty of each student to lend his aid and moral support to maintain the good spirit and sportsmanship in our athletics.

William and Mary enters into a championship series of games with Richmond, Randolph-Macon and Hampden-Sydney Colleges in each of the major sports, football, baseball and basketball. To have a championship team, it requires, not only the physical strength of every able bodied student, but also the faith and support of the entire student body.

Several good trips are scheduled throughout the college year and each student has an equal chance to win a place on one of our Athletic teams.

Athletic activities are managed by the Athletic Council. Each student pays the Gymnasium and Athletic fee and is entitled to membership in the Athletic Association and to free admission to all athletic contests on the home grounds.

Mass Athletics

Beginning with the session 1919-1920 there will be introduced a system of Mass Athletics. Under this system which has been adopted by the leading universities of the country every student takes some part in college athletics. At the beginning of the present session the plan will be outlined by the new Physical Director.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN STUDENTS

Information

An information bureau for women students will be conducted in Miss Wilder's parlor on the first floor of Tyler Hall.

Bulletin Boards

In Tyler Hall are two bulletin boards, one in the corridor on the first floor, the other in the Day Room on the second floor. The notices on these will not be the same and it is important for the students to read both boards at least once a day.

A delegate was sent by the women students to the Y. W. C. A. Conference at Blue Ridge with a view to establishing a branch of the Association at William and Mary. It is expected that this will be started early in the fall and will constitute one of the important activities of the College.

Indian Song

(Tune Carolina)

We're Indians born;
 We're Indians bred,
 And when we die
 We're Indians dead.

Chorus

Ray! Ray! old Indians, Indians,
 Ray! Ray! old Indians, Indians,
 Ray! Ray! old Indians,
 Ray!!! Ray!!! Ray!!!
 William and Mary's
 Pep is high;
 We'll win this game
 Today or die.
 Orange and Black
 Are out today,
 And with this game
 We'll walk away.

William and Mary is Going to Shine

William and Mary's going to shine tonight;
 William Mary's going to shine;
 William and Mary's going to shine to-
 night,
 William Mary's going to shine.
 When the sun goes down,
 And the moon comes up,
 William Mary's going to shine.

Poor Old Richmond

(Tune—Soloman Levi)

Poor Richmond College,
 You're up against it now,
 We've got the hunch, you lack the punch,
 So we will show you how.
 We'll smash your line;
 We'll circle your end;
 We'll smear up every play;
 We'll beat you back with our attack;
 And win this game today.

Chorus

Poor old Richmond College,
 What are you going to do?
 Poor old Richmond College,
 Just wait 'till we get through.
 So its poor old Richmond College
 You're up against it now.

Roll up the Score, Boys

Roll, roll, roll up the score, boys,
 You have got the punch and
 Fight! fight! fight!
 When the old ball game is o'er
 And the battle has been won
 We'll celebrate our victory tonight.
 —R. C. Rives, '19.

We'll Lick Them Again

We'll lick them again,
 We'll lick them again,
 We'll lick them all over,
 And over again.

Chorus

Hallelujah, poor Jaspers,
 Hallelujah, Amen,
 Hallelujah, poor Jasper,
 We'll lick them again.

Poor Randolph-Macon

Poor Randolph-Macon will be buried in
 the ground,
 Poor Randolph-Macon will be buried in
 the ground,
 Poor Randolph-Macon will be buried in
 the ground,
 While we go marching on.

Chorus

Glory be to William and Mary,
 Glory be to William and Mary,
 Glory be to William and Mary,
 While we go marching on.
 We'll hang John Jasper to the sour
 apple tree,
 We'll hang John Jasper to the sour
 apple tree,
 We'll hang John Jasper to the sour
 apple tree,
 While we go marching on.

Young Man---Listen

Lives of great men do more than remind us that we can make our lives count for more than we imagine, for they give us the principles of conduct and action which we may and should follow in order to make our own lives worth while.

Franklin the printer, philosopher and diplomat said: "Save, young man, and become respectable and respected."

The big men of the future will be picked from the money savers of today, which suggests the importance of a Savings Account to the young man who desires to acquire a cash capital and "become respectable and respected."
