Greeting from the Dean of the College

YOU are entering upon a great adventure—intellectual and social. In your college work you will have an opportunity to explore new fields of learning, and you will have an opportunity to make many social contacts. Neither of these experiences should be sacrificed for the other. A happy blending of the two will enable you to grow during your college career into a well rounded individual. To this end we wish you success and assure you of our assistance.

The other Deans will have the privilege of knowing you better than I in the early part of your college career, but I want you to know that at all times I shall be interested in your success.

K. J. HOKE,
Dean of the College.

Greeting from the Dean of Women

FROM several countries, many states, hundreds of homes, you are seeking an institution which thousands of students have rejoiced to call their Alma Mater. Many of you have felt the lure of this fascinating environment. Others are following a path trodden by your families and friends. Some are brought by associates. All of you are venturing into community living which is different from any other group life. Your coming is voluntary. We trust that you and we shall always be glad of your coming.

Your purpose in seeking this college should be your physical, mental, spiritual growth. May it be our privilege to help you to take root securely, to develop into fearless, strong, wise, magnanimous men and women.

As aids to growth may you find here the friendship of administrators, of instructors, and of fellow-students; the stimulation of able minds; a challenge to your best endeavor; and a simple love of truth which will enable you to face understandingly your own failures and successes and those of your friends.

The intelligent love of a student for a college is one of the most enlarging experiences of life.

GRACE WARREN LANDRUM,
Dean of Women.

Greeting from the Dean of Freshmen

IN accepting you as members of the Class of 1940 the College of William and Mary imposes upon you the obligation of so conducting yourselves as to add creditably to a worthy tradition. It asks that you apply yourself so diligently as to profit adequately by the opportunities for living in the company of scholars. It offers you the opportunity of developing that balance and stability of personality which the stress of modern times requires.

We would not have you neglect that phase of your development which makes for the more gracious qualities of genteel living. It is not our wish that you devote yourself wholly to the acquisition of knowledge from textbooks and laboratory. It is our fond hope that the College of William and Mary, in attempting to meet your needs, finds in you that willingness to learn and desire to cooperate which will redound to our mutual profit.

J. WILFRED LAMBERT,
Dean of Freshmen.

History

CHARTERED in 1693 by the English King and Queen whose names it bears, the College of William and Mary received the support of the English Royalty and claimed the protection and fostering care of the Bishop of London. Soon after its establishment the College became intimately associated with all the activities of the infant colony, but throughout its early history the tie with the mother country remained firm and unshaken, as is evidenced by the interest of the colonial governors in the welfare of the institution. The statue of the popular royal governor, Lord Botetourt, still stands on a campus made sacred by the footsteps of the American patriots, Washington, Jefferson, Marshall, Monroe and others only slightly less prominent.

The College prospered to a fair degree under its first president, Dr. James Blair, until October 20, 1705, when the Sir Christopher Wren Building, then the only college building, was partially destroyed by fire. The work of teaching, however, was continued in spite of the disaster, and by 1711, the college building had been rebuilt upon the old walls. In 1723, with funds from the estate of the Honorable Robert Boyle, the eminent natural philosopher, the second college building, the Brafferton, was constructed. Nine years later foundations were laid for the President's House.

Dr. Blair, by whose efforts the College had been founded and through whose labors it had prospered, died in 1743; and the professor of moral philosophy, Dr. William Dawson, succeeded him as president. It was during President Dawson's administration that George Washington received his appointment from the College as county surveyor of Fairfax. In 1750 the Flat Hat Club was established. Of this, the first college club of which there is any record, Thomas Jefferson was a member. The next president was the historian of Virginia, Rev. William Stith, who came into office after the death of Dr. Dawson in 1752.

Through a checkered career, as full of strife as of usefulness, the College with a faculty of seven, continued its labor, training men for the important struggle that was to come. During this period the presidents were Rev. Thomas Dawson, 1755-61; Rev. William Yates, 1761-64; Rev. James Horrocks, 1764-71; and Rev. John Camm, 1771-77. During Camm's administration, Lord Botetourt in 1770 donated a number of medals to the College, which were the first college prizes to be awarded in America. On December 5, 1776, Phi Beta Kappa, the first and most distinguished of all Greek-letter fraternities, was founded by students of the College.

The character of the students during this early period of the history of William and Mary may be judged by the influence of its alumni upon the making of the nation. Three presidents of the United States attended classes at the College—Jefferson, Monroe and Tyler—and of these, two were students before the Revolution. Fifteen governors of Virginia went from its halls; and some of the most distinguished among them—Jefferson, Benjamin Harrison, the Randolphs, and John Page—were of the early years. Four signers of the Declaration of Independence, and Marshall, Blair, Bushrod Washington and Philip P. Barbour, all of the Supreme bench, received their academic training at William and Mary. Numerous as the distinguished sons of the College in later years have been, no period in its history has produced the number of great men who attended as students during pre-revolutionary times.

Throughout the Revolution the College continued its instruction save for a short time during the Yorktown campaign, when Williamsburg became almost the center of hostilities. The President's house suffered by fire, after having been headquarters of Lord Cornwallis. As it was burned during its occupation by the French it was restored at the private expense of the King of France.

In 1777 Rev. James Madison was elected president, and under his energetic management the College grew and prospered. Upon Jefferson's election as Governor in June 1779, he became a member of the Board of Visitors and put into operation many of his educational ideas. The College was changed to a university; a school of modern languages—the first of its kind in America—was introduced, along with a general lecture system with free election among the courses offered. In the same year the Board of Visitors, of which Mr. Jefferson and Mr. Madison were members, by resolution created a professorship of Law and Police and elected George Wythe as Professor. Antedated only by the Vinerian professorship at Oxford, established twenty-one years earlier, the chair of law at the College of William and Mary thus became the second in the English-speaking world, and the first in the United States.

President Madison died in 1812, after having held the presidency since his twenty-eighth year. Although President Madison had been the first Bishop of the Episcopal Church of Virginia the College never renewed its denominational connections after the Revolution.

The next presidents to follow were Rev. James Bracken, 1812-14; John Augustine Smith, M. D., 1814-26; Rev. William H. Wilmer, 1826-27; Rev. Adam Empie, 1827-36; and Thomas R. Dew, 1836-46.

Under the guidance of President Dew the students increased in number to 140 in 1839, a larger attendance than the College had had during any previous session. A brief period of internal strife was followed by a revival of strength and influence under Presidents Johns and Ewell. The presidents after Dew were Robert Saunders, 1846-47; Benjamin S. Ewell, 1848; Bishop John Johns, 1849-54; and Benjamin S. Ewell, 1854-1888. In 1859 the main building of the College was burned a second time, and the priceless contents of the library were destroyed. The Civil War brought a suspension of the work of the College in 1861. During the ensuing strife the main building was again burned, this third time while occupied by Federal soldiers. In 1893 the United States Government reimbursed the College for this loss.

The College re-opened in 1865, with Colonel Benjamin S. Ewell, who had through his untiring devotion and loyalty kept alive its spark of life, as president.

An effort to remove the College to Richmond was defeated, and the burnt buildings were restored; but for financial reasons the work of the College was suspended from 1881 to 1888.

With the assistance of the State of Virginia, there was a re-organization in 1888 with Lyon G. Tyler as president. In the years that followed an unusually fine faculty composed of the "Seven Wise Men," Lyon G. Tyler, Van F. Garrett, J. Lesslie Hall, Hugh S. Bird, Thomas Jefferson Stubbs, Charles Edward Bishop and Lyman B. Wharton, made possible a period of new life and usefulness. In 1906 the College became a State institution, operated by a Board of Visitors appointed by the Governor of Virginia, and receiving financial assistance from the State. In September 1918, women were admitted to the College.

With the retirement of Dr. Tyler to become President Emeritus, Julian A. C. Chandler assumed the duties of the office of president on July 1, 1919. Under the vigorous and able leadership of President Chandler there began a new era in the history of the College. Many new buildings were erected and the number of professorships greatly increased. A modern hospital, a building for physics and chemistry, a lecture hall, a combined lecture hall and administration building, an auditorium, a library, nine dormitories, a refectory and a power house were built. The working apparatus of every department was constantly improved. The standard of requirements for entrance and for the attainment of degrees was materially raised; and a spirit of wholesome growth and advancement was evident throughout the institution.

On January 15, 1922, the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship was opened, the address of the occasion being delivered by Judge Alton B. Parker. The School of Law, which had been discontinued with the closing of the College at the beginning of the Civil War, was revived during the sessions of 1922-23 and as a School of Jurisprudence is now, in its modern form, carrying on the traditions established by its founder, Thomas Jefferson, and its first professor, George Wythe.

In 1925 the College, as a part of its extension work, took over the Richmond School of Social Work and Public Health in Richmond. This is the oldest school of its kind in the South. Here are offered courses in the various forms of social work, public health nursing, and playground work. In addition, in 1926 the College began offering a schedule of freshman and sophomore college work for women who desire later to enter the School of Social Work or who wish to complete two years of college work in a city environment. This school is now called the Richmond Division of the College of William and Mary.

In 1930 the Norfolk Division of the College was opened in the Larchmont School building, located at Bolling Avenue and Hampton Boulevard.

In 1934, following the death of President J. A. C. Chandler, Mr. John Stewart Bryan, then Vice-Rector of the Board of Visitors and for many years a loyal friend of the College, was elected twentieth president of the College of William and Mary.

The Honor System at the College of William and Mary

AMONG her many priorities, William and Mary justly claims that of leading the way in the formulation and adoption of the Honor System. It was inaugurated here in 1779. Early in college days when no other idea of college government prevailed throughout America than that the student should be watched like a suspected criminal for offenses, either actual or potential, the faculty of William and Mary appointed a committee, whose head was the distinguished jurist, Beverly Tucker, to draw up a statement of the spirit and content of an honor system by which the conduct of the students of the old college was to be guided. At once put into operation, this system has been in continuous existence since its establishment.

But glorious and inspiring as is the historical origin of the Honor System, it is with its operation now and in the future that the men and women of the new day at the old college are primarily concerned. In the first place, it is of vital importance that every new student enrolling in September, should clearly understand what the Honor System really is and what it means in his life and in the corporate life of the College. Ignorance of it may bring the possibility—even the probability of breaking it, and at once there follows a well nigh irreparable injury to the character, the reputation, and the future of the individual student and an equally grave lowering of the morale of the student body, for this must always suffer by the disgrace of any of its members. It is in this spirit that the present serious attempt is made to set forth, especially for the benefit of the students, just what the Honor System is and what is required of each in order to translate it into his life.

The Honor System may be defined in a word as individual responsibility. It brings home to the individual man or woman who would stay at the college and share in the advantages she offers, his personal responsibility for her fair name and honor. It emphasizes two things: first, that the student must recognize that he is answerable in the very fullest degree for every one of his actions and dealings with the members of the faculty and with his fellows, in his or their rooms, in the dining halls, the athletic fields, the social centers, and the class rooms; and, second, that he must recognize his personal responsibility for the well-being of the college in every phase of life in which he touches her existence.

Such phases, in the large, will at once suggest themselves to every one. They include, primarily, everything which touches the securing of aid, assistance, or profit in scholastic work of whatsoever kind, whether in term class work, periodical tests, or in the work handed in to the instructor, though it is to be regretted that in the formal examinations, students otherwise most sensitive to the Honor System do not seem to feel its demand so keenly as in regard to the others. A slight reflection, however, will convince one that work of this kind should also be included in the scope of the Honor System. It is a source of pride to all lovers of the College that public opinion of the students is now, and has always been, most healthy, vigorous, and uncompromising in its condemnation of all infractions of the Honor System falling under the heads just enumerated.

Stealing, defrauding, and lying, are breaches of honor upon which a student may be placed on trial by his fellow students, to determine whether or not he is fit to continue as a member of the College.

As applied to scholastic work the following interpretations of the Honor System are set forth by the Student Honor Councils:

- I. All scholastic work, whether it be in the lecture room, the library, the student's room, or elsewhere, is under the Honor System. All cheating, whether in work pledged or unpledged, whether in tests, assignments, or examinations is a violation of the Honor System. Giving aid to any student or receiving aid from any student, without the consent of the professor, in tests, assignments, or examinations, is cheating.
- II. All written tests and examinations given in the classroom will require a formal pledge. The pledge is required not for the purpose of creating the obligation but to remind the student of the obligation already existing under the Honor System.

- III. For any forms of scholastic work other than written examinations and tests in which the professor desires the use of a pledge, the professor or instructor will prescribe the form of pledge to be used and will make clear the scope of the pledge and responsibility of the individual under the pledge.

The Honor System is supported and handled by the students themselves and they are wholly responsible for it. Violations of the Honor Code are reported, not to the Faculty, but to the Student Honor Councils. It is the duty of every student to report another student seen in a dishonorable act. Loyalty to the student body demands it. If a student fails to report another student because he is a close associate the Honor System is defunct. Reporting cases is not spying or tale-bearing, for the Honor Councils are representatives of students themselves.

Religious Organizations

ALL religious activities at the College are under the direction of a Religious Council. This council is composed of one representative from each religious organization on the campus and one representative from each of the student organizations of the local churches. It has as its purpose the coordination of the efforts and activities of the various groups represented on the council. To this end a proposed plan of procedure for each organization is prepared at the beginning of the college year.

The Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Women's Christian Association are the two principal student religious organizations.

The Young Men's Christian Association is a student organization, the work of which is conducted entirely by student officers and members.

The object of the Association is to create a fellowship among students who are vitally interested in the highest expression of life and thereby to develop a positive Christian character in the men students of the College. The program of the Y. M. C. A. is one of Christian service and Christian education. It is for those who believe in knowledge, not for the sake of knowledge alone, but for what it can do in creating deep moral convictions of right and personal standards of worth.

Purpose of the Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association of the College of William and Mary, a member of the Young Women's Christian Associations of the United States of America and a participant in the World's Student Christian Federation, declares its purpose to be:

"We, the members of the Young Women's Christian Association of the College of William and Mary, unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God.

"We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

"In this task we seek to understand Jesus and follow Him."

Membership in the Y. W. C. A.

Every woman at William and Mary who is interested in the aims of the Y. W. C. A. and who wishes to strive with other women will be given the opportunity to join in September. By her membership in the Y. W. C. A. a student also becomes a member of the World's Student Christian Federation, which is composed of many different student movements in forty different countries of the world.

Big Sister Plan

Every year the Y. W. C. A., in co-operation with the Women's Student Government, organizes a band of "Big Sisters," who feel that this endows them with a special kind of friendly ownership and interest in their "Little Sisters" of the freshman class. This year the "Big Sisters" of the Class of 1940 will be interested upper-classmen.

It is the special duty of the Big Sister to help her Little Sister to get settled into the swing of collegiate life. After freshmen are accustomed to William and Mary, each Big Sister retains her special interest in her protégé.

Meetings

Alternate Thursday nights are set for meetings of the Y. W. C. A. Lectures, entertainments, vespers, or discussion groups will be held.

The Y. W. C. A. is sponsoring a Charm School this year for which it will endeavor to bring capable speakers from the campus and out of town to speak on clothes, poise, personality, vocations and avocations for young girls.

The Y. W. C. A. Room

The Y. W. C. A. Room is on the first floor in Jefferson Hall. It is open at all times for the use of the women students who are especially invited to enjoy it.

The Best All-'Round Freshman

For the past four years it has been the practice of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet to elect the Best All-'Round Freshman and to reward her in some way. The woman selected must be outstanding not only in the Y. W. C. A., but in other activities as well. She must be a capable leader, and have a high scholastic standing.

Hints to Freshmen

1. Select your courses carefully; in the first year you are laying the foundation for your college career.
2. Consult with the Deans and your Advisors; their advice is yours for the asking.
3. Follow assignments promptly and exactly; hastily prepared work is indicative of wasteful planning.
4. Do not cut classes; every day's work counts.
5. Prepare a budget of income and expenses. Habits of thrift formed while in college will be of value in later life.
6. In choosing a fraternity or sorority, weigh carefully the respective merits of all. You are selecting friends with whom you will be closely associated so long as you remain in college.
7. Courtesy demands that you greet appropriately every student and member of the faculty.
8. The social functions of the College are planned for your enjoyment and benefit. Participation is an essential phase of college life.
9. Remember that conduct becoming to young ladies and young gentlemen is the standard expected of you at William and Mary.
10. Respect the beauty of the buildings and grounds.

Songs and CheersALMA MATER

Hark, the students' voices swelling,
Strong and true and clear;
Alma Mater's love they're telling,
Ringing far and near.

CHORUS

William and Mary, loved of old,
Hark, upon the gale,
Hear the thunder of our chorus,
Alma Mater—hail.

All thy sons are faithful to thee
Through their college days,
Singing out from hearts that love thee,
Alma Mater's praise.

Iron shod and golden sandaled
Shall the years go by,
Still our hearts shall weave about thee
Love that cannot die.

God, our Father, hear our voices,
Listen to our cry.
Bless the college of our fathers,
Let her never die.

J. S. WILSON, '02.

WILLIAM AND MARY HYMN

Beneath thy trees, within thy halls,
We come, dear school, with praise for thee,
To pledge ourselves, whate'er befalls—
To pledge unfailing loyalty.
Our hearts are with thee, dear William and Mary,
However far we stray.
Our noble college, hear us now—
Thy children sing to thee today!

Dear school, thou'rt old in years and fame,
And richly old in honors, too.
Time shall not dull the shining name
Whose gleam our songs will e'er renew.
And as years go by, dear William and Mary,
Thy fame will never cease,
But each new year rejoice to see
Thy children's praise to thee increase.

We honor thee, not for our gain
But to make known thy majesty,
Thy truth and courage that remain
However harsh the fates may be.
As through troublous years, dear William and Mary,
Our country fought, so thou hast fought and won,
And lived to hear thy children singing to thee now.

O thou, our guardian and our guide,
Renew our courage every hour,
And keep thy spirit by our side
To aid us with its watchful power.
Throughout all our lives, dear William and Mary,
We pledge our loyalty.
Dear college, now and evermore thy children cry
"All Hail to Thee!"

FIGHTING VIRGINIANS

Oh! fight away you Indians,
 Oh! fight away today.
 The team that held the Crimson,
 Will surely win the fray.
 And as the ball goes over,
 And the game is won,
 Our voices swell,
 To sing the song of victory.

Lyric by Brown and Wilson March by G. M. Small

(Written in commemoration of the Harvard-William and Mary game, '31.)

FOLLOW Your CHEER LEADER and YELL!
 YELL! YELL!

LEARN YOUR YELLS BY NAME

THE INDIAN WAR CRY

The Indians are taking the warpath today,
Old Green, Gold and Silver plunge into the fray.
The fight may be hard and the game may be long,
We'll rally against them and sing the old song: RAY!

Chorus

William and Mary forever and aye!
Cheer her again, boys, we'll yet win the day—Ray!
Tri-color's waving, it floats there on high,
An emblem of vict'ry touching the sky.
So shout out the war cry and fight to the end,
They'll never, no never, beat W. & M.!

II

Their line's shot to pieces, their backs cannot gain,
Just watch the old Indians romp away with this game.
We've got them all going, there's nothing to fear,
So rally again now and give the old cheer: RAY!

III

When the fight goes against us, struggling in vain,
When all of their efforts seem surely to gain,
When hope seems to leave us, the chances all gone,
We'll rally against them and sing the old song: RAY!

CARL ANDREWS, '27.

Students and faculty are allowed to go freely to the stack room and consult books. It is open every day from 8:30 A. M. until midnight, except from 1:00 P. M. to 2:00 P. M. and 6:00 to 7:00 P. M. Lying or any form of deceit in regard to the use of the reserve books or to the borrowing of books is considered an infraction of the Honor System and will be reported to the Honor Councils.

In order that the Library may better serve the College there are certain rules which must be enforced. Among the most important of the rules are:

1. Everyone must be silent while in the Library.
2. All books taken from the Library must be charged at the circulation desk.
3. Books which are in general circulation may be kept out for two weeks subject to a fine of 2 cents per day for every day over that time. Any book may be recalled at any time.
4. Books which are on reserve and books in the reference department must not be taken out at any time.
5. Periodicals, both current and bound, must not be taken from the Library.

MEN'S INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES

Director.....OTIS W. DOUGLAS

In an effort to provide recreation and beneficial exercise for those students who do not participate in varsity athletics an extensive program of intramural athletic activities has been inaugurated. Every student is given an opportunity to engage actively in one or more of the following sports: touch football, baseball, basketball, tennis, handball, swimming, boxing, wrestling, gymnastics, fencing, bowling, archery and ping-pong.

An attempt is made to emphasize the principle of sport for sport's sake. Specialization is discouraged by barring from competition in any sport a student who is, or has been, a member of a varsity team in that sport.

Instruction in the various sports is given by the director, but participation in a sport does not exempt a student from taking the required courses in physical education.

Directory of Buildings

1—College Building—“Sir Christopher Wren Building.” This building is the oldest of the campus group. It is believed that the plans for the building were drawn by Sir Christopher Wren. For the most part its walls are those of the original structure of 1695. Through the generosity of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., it has been restored to its original form and appearance. In the south wing is the College Chapel, while in the north wing is the Great Hall. In this building are held classes in English and Psychology. The College Building, the President’s House and the Brafferton constitute the oldest group of academic buildings in America.

2—The President’s House. Northeast of the Wren Building is the President’s House. Since its erection in 1732 it has been the residence of the successive presidents of the College. In 1931 it was restored by Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

3—Brafferton Hall. Southeast of the Sir Christopher Wren Building and facing the President’s House stands the Brafferton, the second oldest of the college buildings. It was built in 1723 from funds derived from the estate of the Honorable Robert Boyle, the distinguished natural philosopher, who, in his will, had provided that four thousand pounds sterling of his money should be employed in “pious and charitable uses.” The Brafferton was used as the Indian School until the beginning of the Revolutionary War. It was restored in 1932 by Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The first floor is now being used temporarily by the Department of Music.

4—The Alumni Office.

5—Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. The Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall was erected in 1926 by the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa in commemoration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of its founding at William and Mary. The College auditorium is located in the south wing. The north wing contains a foyer, two reception rooms and living quarters for visiting members of Phi Beta Kappa and guests of the College.

6—Washington Hall, erected in 1928, is a memorial to George Washington, who received his surveyor's license from this College in 1749. The first floor houses the Department of Biology and the second Mathematics, Philosophy and English. On the third floor are located the departments of Home Economics, Ancient Languages and Modern Languages.

7—Proposed Building.

8—Marshall-Wythe Hall. The Marshall-Wythe Hall was erected in 1935. On the first floors are the administrative offices. The second and third floors house the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship and the associated School of Jurisprudence. On these floors are held classes in History, Economics, Government, Sociology and Law.

9—William Barton Rogers Science Hall. The William Barton Rogers Science Hall was erected in 1927 as a memorial to the alumnus of the College who founded Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The first floor is devoted to laboratory and class rooms for the Physics Department, while the second and third floors house the Chemistry Department.

10—Library. The Library is located to the northwest of the Wren Building and is immediately opposite the Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. The main reading room is on the first floor. Reference books such as encyclopaedias, dictionaries, and others of that type are in the main reading room. The current periodicals are also on file in an alcove in the main reading room. The books reserved for special consultation in any course are all kept in a special room, known as the Reserve Books Room, on the second floor in the Library.

11—Monroe Hall is located on Richmond Road and is the first of the buildings in the men's dormitory unit. It is named in honor of James Monroe, one time student of the College. The building accommodates approximately 175 students.

12—George Preston Blow Gymnasium is located between Monroe Hall and Old Dominion Hall. It contains locker rooms, swimming pool, basketball court, indoor track, recreation rooms and the offices of the Athletic Association. This building was given to the College in 1924 by Mrs. George Preston Blow, of Yorktown, Virginia, and LaSalle, Illinois, and by her children, in memory of Captain George Preston Blow, of the United States Navy, whose father and grandfather were alumni of the College.

13—Old Dominion Hall, "The Virginia Hall of Fame," was completed in 1927 as a dormitory for men. It contains one hundred rooms, which house 170 students. Each room bears the name of a Virginian who has played a prominent part in the making of our country. In addition to the dormitory rooms it contains a social hall.

14—Chandler Hall is the newest of the women's dormitories and is named in honor of Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, late President of the College. It accommodates 150 students and contains a special dining room for students who require a special diet.

15—Kate Waller Barrett Hall, the second on Jamestown Road and largest of the women's dormitory unit, contains living quarters for 175 students. It is a memorial to Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, one of the leading figures in the movement for higher education of women in the South, and at the time of her death in 1925, a member of the Board of Visitors of the College. On the first floor are the office of the Assistant Dean of Women and several rooms available for meetings of student organizations or for social purposes.

16—Jefferson Hall, a dormitory for women, is the first of a unit of three dormitories on Jamestown Road. The building was named for Thomas Jefferson, an alumnus of the College. On the first floor is the women's gymnasium.

Inspection

College authorities at all times have the right of access to fraternity houses for purposes of inspection and administration.

Residence

A Freshman may not room in a fraternity house during his or her first year at college or before initiation, provided, however, that special permission to assume residence in a fraternity house may be granted at the beginning of the second semester when the Freshman and the fraternity agree upon initiation within fifteen days after the beginning of the second semester. This exception will be granted only with regard to rooming privileges and does not excuse the student from boarding in the College Refectory.

A transfer student who is not a member of a fraternity upon entering the College of William and Mary must conform to the residence requirements which apply to Freshmen. A transfer student who is a member of a fraternity upon entrance must meet all requirements for initiation before permission to live in a fraternity house will be granted.

No person who is not a bona fide student of the College will be permitted to live in a fraternity house.

No student may move from a dormitory to a fraternity house after registration begins except that a student whose duties require residence in the Practice House or a dormitory (Student Officers) may return to the fraternity house upon termination of the office or completion of the duties.

All fraternities are required to submit statements of income and expenses, together with statements of operating costs and accounts receivable and payable at such times and upon such occasions as the College may require.

Men's Social Fraternities

THE present extensive system of collegiate social fraternities had its inception at the College of William and Mary with the founding of Phi Beta Kappa on December 5, 1776. Phi Beta Kappa was established as a secret organization and so remained until 1831 when the Chapter at Harvard University was, as a result of vigorous assault on anti-democratic organizations by the leaders of the Anti-Mason political party, forced to divulge its secrets. Since that time the Phi Beta Kappa has been a purely honorary fraternity, membership in which constitutes the highest honor which can be achieved by a college student.

The first social fraternity, in the modern sense of the term, to be established at the College of William and Mary was Theta Delta Chi, which placed its Epsilon Charge here in 1853. Sigma Alpha Epsilon followed in 1857, and a few years later, 1871, Pi Kappa Alpha received permission to establish a chapter. These three remained the only fraternities at the College until 1890, when chapters were established by Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma. Sigma Phi Epsilon, which had been founded at Richmond College a few years before, entered the fraternity field at William and Mary in 1904.

The limited number of students at the College rendered unnecessary further fraternity expansion until about 1919. In that year the College began a period of rapid growth and the greatly increased enrollment led to the establishment of a number of new fraternities on the campus. Most of these organizations were started as local clubs but all have now been absorbed by national fraternities. From 1922 to 1931, the following national fraternities established chapters at William and Mary: Sigma Nu in 1922, Phi Kappa Tau in 1926, Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Alpha in 1927, Pi Lambda Phi in 1929, Alpha Phi Delta in 1930 and Sigma Pi in 1931.

The Inter-Fraternity Council, composed of two representatives from each fraternity chapter, acts as a governing body and in this capacity draws up regulations for the conduct of the individual chapters, prescribes rules for rushing and in general promotes wholesome inter-fraternity relations.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL RUSHING RULES

A—Time and Limits:

1. The formal rushing period shall commence the first Saturday in November at two o'clock P. M.
2. The formal rushing period shall close the following Friday at twelve o'clock, midnight.
3. From twelve o'clock, midnight, on Friday until the following Sunday at noon, no fraternity man shall mention a fraternity to a freshman.

B—Pre-Rushing Regulations:

1. Any fraternity may have as many as four freshmen in its house at one time. The freshmen may stay until twelve o'clock, P. M. This will be allowed until two weeks before rushing begins, after which time NO FRESHMAN will be allowed in a fraternity house. Penalty for not observing this rule will be delaying of rushing for the fraternity concerned until after the formal rushing season.
2. Fraternity members are on their honor not to talk fraternity to freshmen until the formal rushing period begins.
3. No freshman may be invited to meals by any fraternity man before the formal rushing period begins.
4. A fraternity's communication with a freshman through an alumnus for the purpose of "sewing up" shall be considered a violation of the rushing rules, and shall be subject to the same penalty provided for in case of direct communication.

C—Penalties:

1. A violation of Section B by either freshmen or fraternity shall be immediately reported to the President of the Inter-Fraternity Council, who will immediately call a meeting of the said Council for the purpose of hearing the case. If any freshman is found guilty, he shall be denied the privileges of being formally rushed and pledged until one week after Silence Day. If any fraternity is found guilty of violating said rules, it shall be prohibited from rushing during the formal rushing period. Any fraternity refusing to accept the disciplinary action of the Council after a proper hearing of the case has been had, shall be suspended from the Inter-Fraternity Council for the remainder of the school year.

D—Formal Rushing Period Regulations:

1. Parties, banquets, smokers, oyster roasts and other social functions are to be limited to a total of three by each fraternity.

2. Total rushing expenses per fraternity are not to exceed $85.00, and an itemized account of all expenses is to be turned in to the president of the Inter-Fraternity Council by each fraternity not later than noon on Silence Day.

3. No freshman is allowed to remain over night in a fraternity house.

4. The penalty for violation of any of the rules pertaining to the formal rushing period shall be the loss of the privilege of pledging men for one month following Silence Day. A second violation shall result in suspension from the Inter-Fraternity Council for the remainder of the college year.

Women's Social SororitiesPANHELLENIC RUSHING RULES
FOR 1936

THE Panhellenic Council approves the following system of rushing and bidding. The rules are printed here in order that Freshmen and other new students may know them and cooperate with the Council in upholding them.

There is to be no sorority talk by any sorority member. Information about each sorority will be found in the Indian Handbook, and in short histories of each sorority, which will be available at the respective houses when open rushing begins. Such talk accordingly will not be necessary. Dr. Helen Weeks, the Panhellenic faculty adviser, will give a short talk to the new students during the first week of the session to explain the sorority system on this campus and the rushing rules. She will also answer any necessary questions which the freshmen may wish to ask. Also, at this time she will give each freshman a blank to fill out stating whether or not she is interested in pledging to a sorority. Those girls who reply in the negative shall not be rushed during the formal rushing period, but may be rushed after formal rushing is over. Penalties will be used for any infraction of this rule.

The following rules have been adopted by the Council:

1. There shall be no sorority talk during the period by any sorority member, patroness, or alumna. "Sewing up" at any time before the end of rushing is sorority talk. Scrapbooks and publications may be used without comment from the members in the sorority houses. Songs may be sung. During dormitory rushing notepaper with sorority identification may be used.
2. Rushing shall be confined to the William and Mary campus, and the first block of Duke of Gloucester Street. There shall be no driving of rushees in cars except of rushees not living in dormitories. These - girls may be brought to and from dates at the sorority houses.

3. No money shall be spent beyond the sum of thirty-five dollars, which the Council has fixed as the maximum. This does not include the notepaper used during the dormitory rushing or the cigarettes used in dormitory rushing. All other rushing expenses must come out of this sum, and the expense accounts of each sorority shall be read before the Council.
 4. Girls may be offered cigarettes during dormitory rushing.
 5. There shall be no outside entertainment at either of the rushing parties or at the open house, and no men may attend either party or the open house or be in evidence during any times when rushing is going on in the houses. No sorority may request men to rush for them.
 6. In conjunction with the Freshman Orientation program each fraternity house shall be open to all freshmen on Sunday, September 20. The purpose of this invitation is to create a better feeling of understanding and democracy. No refreshments or entertainment may be provided.

The following program of rushing period has been adopted by the Council:

1. From Friday, September 18, through Thursday, September 24, any sorority girl, including any sorority girl living in a dormitory, may visit a new student at any place on the campus or on the first block of Duke of Gloucester Street (except in sorority houses) for a time of one-half hour a day. No dates may be arranged except with girls not living in dormitories.
2. The rushing hours during this period will be:
Friday, September 18—2-5, and 7-9.
Saturday, September 19—2-6. No rushing that night.
Sunday, September 20—Open house 2-6.
Monday, September 21—4-6, and 7-10.

Tuesday, September 22—Thursday, September 24—
4-6, and 7-9.

3. Rushing in the houses shall begin on Friday, September 25, 4-6, and 7-10. Dates for all girls will be arranged by the Council. Such rushing will last through Thursday, October 1.

Sunday, September 27—Open House 2-6.

No rushing on Monday.

Friday, October 2—Preferential Party.

Saturday, October 3—Silence Day.
