Greeting from the Dean of Men

YOU are entering upon a four-year adventure of learning and growth. The final value of your experiences at William and Mary will be determined largely by the interests, ideals and habits which characterize your living. In the realization of your aims both students and faculty will provide unstintingly of their own resources for your assistance.

Much advice will be given you, and its value must be measured in the light of the giver's experience and your own capacity to utilize it. Whatever else you do or whose ever advice you follow, keep constantly before you the aims which lead you to continue your education. It is easy to lose sight of your ideals; easier still to fall into the error of compensating for failure to grow intellectually by placing too much emphasis on the value of athletic achievement, the acquisition of new social habits or other incidental phases of the serious business at hand.

J. WILFRED LAMBERT,
Dean of Men.

Greeting from the Dean of Women

TO the Class of 1943, whose graduation will coincide with the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the College, I extend a cordial welcome. You are entering into a noble heritage, which your presence should make even richer for your successors.

Yet your purpose in seeking this ancient and vigorous college should be primarily not exaltation of its splendid past but your own physical, mental, spiritual growth. May it be our privilege to help you to take root securely, to develop into fearless, strong, wise, magnanimous men and women.

As aids to growth may you find here the friendship of administrators, of advisers, of instructors, and of fellow-students; the stimulation of able minds; a challenge to your best endeavor; and a simple love of truth which will enable you to face understandingly your own failures and successes and those of your friends.

The intelligent love of a student for a college is one of the most enlarging experiences of life.

GRACE WARREN LANDRUM,
Dean of Women.

History

CHARTERED in 1693 by the English King and Queen whose names it bears, the College of William and Mary received the support of the English Royalty and claimed the protection and fostering care of the Bishop of London. Soon after its establishment the College became intimately associated with all the activities of the infant colony, but throughout its early history the tie with the mother country remained firm and unshaken, as is evidenced by the interest of the colonial governors in the welfare of the institution. The statue of the popular royal governor, Lord Botetourt, still stands on a campus made sacred by the footsteps of the American patriots, Washington, Jefferson, Marshall, Monroe and others only slightly less prominent.

The College prospered to a fair degree under its first president, Dr. James Blair, until October 20, 1705, when the Sir Christopher Wren Building, then the only college building, was partially destroyed by fire. The work of teaching, however, was continued in spite of the disaster, and by 1711, the college building had been rebuilt upon the old walls. In 1723, with funds from the estate of the Honorable Robert Boyle, the eminent natural philosopher, the second college building, the Brafferton, was constructed. Nine years later foundations were laid for the President's House.

Dr. Blair, by whose efforts the College had been founded and through whose labors it had prospered, died in 1743; and the professor of moral philosophy, Dr. William Dawson, succeeded him as president. It was during President Dawson's administration that George Washington received his appointment from the College as county surveyor of Fairfax. In 1750 the Flat Hat Club was established. Of this, the first college club of which there is any record, Thomas Jefferson was a member. The next president was the historian of Virginia, Rev. William Stith, who came into office after the death of Dr. Dawson in 1752.

Through a checkered career, as full of strife as of usefulness, the College with a faculty of seven, continued its labor, training men for the important struggle that was to come. During this period the presidents were Rev. Thomas Dawson, 1755-61; Rev. William Yates, 1761-64; Rev. James Horrocks, 1764-71; and Rev. John Camm, 1771-77. During Camm's administration, Lord Botetourt in 1770 donated a number of medals to the College, which were the first college prizes to be awarded in America. On December 5, 1776, Phi Beta Kappa, the first and most distinguished of all Greek-letter fraternities, was founded by students of the College.

The character of the students during this early period of the history of William and Mary may be judged by the influence of its alumni upon the making of the nation. Three presidents of the United States attended classes at the College—Jefferson, Monroe and Tyler—and of these, two were students before the Revolution. Fifteen governors of Virginia went from its halls; and some of the most distinguished among them—Jefferson, Benjamin Harrison, the Randolphs, and John Page—were of the early years. Four signers of the Declaration of Independence, and Marshall, Blair, Bushrod Washington and Philip P. Barbour, all of the Supreme bench, received their academic training at William and Mary. Numerous as the distinguished sons of the College in later years have been, no period in its history has produced the number of great men who attended as students during pre-revolutionary times.

Throughout the Revolution the College continued its instruction save for a short time during the Yorktown campaign, when Williamsburg became almost the center of hostilities. The President's house suffered by fire, after having been headquarters of Lord Cornwallis. As it was burned during its occupation by the French it was restored at the private expense of the King of France.

In 1777 Rev. James Madison was elected president, and under his energetic management the College grew and prospered. Upon Jefferson's election as Governor in June 1779, he became a member of the Board of Visitors and put into operation many of his educational ideas. The College was changed to a university; a school of modern languages—the first of its kind in America—was introduced, along with a general lecture system with free election among the courses offered. In the same year the Board of Visitors, of which Mr. Jefferson and Mr. Madison were members, by resolution created a professorship of Law and Police and elected George Wythe as Professor. Antedated only by the Vinerian professorship at Oxford, established twenty-one years earlier, the chair of law at the College of William and Mary thus became the second in the English-speaking world, and the first in the United States.

President Madison died in 1812, after having held the presidency since his twenty-eighth year. Although President Madison had been the first Bishop of the Episcopal Church of Virginia the College never renewed its denominational connections after the Revolution.

The next presidents to follow were Rev. James Bracken, 1812-14; John Augustine Smith, M. D., 1814-26; Rev. William H. Wilmer, 1826-27; Rev. Adam Empie, 1827-36; and Thomas R. Dew, 1836-46.

Under the guidance of President Dew the students increased in number to 140 in 1839, a larger attendance than the College had had during any previous session. A brief period of internal strife was followed by a revival of strength and influence under Presidents Johns and Ewell. The presidents after Dew were Robert Saunders, 1846-47; Benjamin S. Ewell, 1848; Bishop John Johns, 1849-54; and Benjamin S. Ewell, 1854-1888. In 1859 the main building of the College was burned a second time, and the priceless contents of the library were destroyed. The Civil War brought a suspension of the work of the College in 1861. During the ensuing strife the main building was again burned, this third time while occupied by Federal soldiers. In 1893 the United States Government reimbursed the College for this loss.

The College re-opened in 1865, with Colonel Benjamin S. Ewell, who had through his untiring devotion and loyalty kept alive its spark of life, as president.

An effort to remove the College to Richmond was defeated, and the burnt buildings were restored; but for financial reasons the work of the College was suspended from 1881 to 1888.

With the assistance of the State of Virginia, there was a re-organization in 1888 with Lyon G. Tyler as president. In the years that followed an unusually fine faculty composed of the "Seven Wise Men," Lyon G. Tyler, Van F. Garrett, J. Leslie Hall, Hugh S. Bird, Thomas Jefferson Stubbs, Charles Edward Bishop and Lyman B. Wharton, made possible a period of new life and usefulness. In 1906 the College became a State institution, operated by a Board of Visitors appointed by the Governor of Virginia, and receiving financial assistance from the State. In September 1918, women were admitted to the College.

With the retirement of Dr. Tyler to become President Emeritus, Julian A. C. Chandler assumed the duties of the office of president on July 1, 1919. Under the vigorous and able leadership of President Chandler there began a new era in the history of the College. Many new buildings were erected and the number of professorships greatly increased. A modern hospital, a building for physics and chemistry, a lecture hall, a combined lecture hall and administration building, an auditorium, a library, nine dormitories, a refectory and a power house were built. The working apparatus of every department was constantly improved. The standard of requirements for entrance and for the attainment of degrees was materially raised; and a spirit of wholesome growth and advancement was evident throughout the institution.

On January 15, 1922, the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship was opened, the address of the occasion being delivered by Judge Alton B. Parker. The School of Law, which had been discontinued with the closing of the College at the beginning of the Civil War, was revived during the sessions of 1922-23 and as a School of Jurisprudence is now, in its modern form, carrying on the traditions established by its founder, Thomas Jefferson, and its first professor, George Wythe.

In 1925 the College, as a part of its extension work, took over the Richmond School of Social Work and Public Health in Richmond. This is the oldest school of its kind in the South. Here are offered courses in the various forms of social work, public health nursing, and playground work. In addition, in 1926 the College began offering a schedule of freshman and sophomore college work for women who desire later to enter the School of Social Work or who wish to complete two years of college work in a city environment. This school is now called the Richmond Professional Institute of the College of William and Mary.

In 1930 the Norfolk Division of the College was opened in the Larchmont School building, located at Bolling Avenue and Hampton Boulevard.

In 1934, following the death of President J. A. C. Chandler, Mr. John Stewart Bryan, then Vice-Rector of the Board of Visitors and for many years a loyal friend of the College, was elected twentieth president of the College of William and Mary.

The Honor System at the College of William and Mary

AMONG her many priorities, William and Mary justly claims that of leading the way in the formulation and adoption of the Honor System. It was inaugurated here in 1779. Early in college days when no other idea of college government prevailed throughout America than that the student should be watched like a suspected criminal for offenses, either actual or potential, the faculty of William and Mary appointed a committee, whose head was the distinguished jurist, Beverly Tucker, to draw up a statement of the spirit and content of an honor system by which the conduct of the students of the old college was to be guided. At once put into operation, this system has been in continuous existence since its establishment.

But glorious and inspiring as is the historical origin of the Honor System, it is with its operation now and in the future that the men and women of the new day at the old college are primarily concerned. In the first place, it is of vital importance that every new student enrolling in September, should clearly understand what the Honor System really is and what it means in his life and in the corporate life of the College. Ignorance of it may bring the possibility—even the probability of breaking it, and at once there follows a well nigh irreparable injury to the character, the reputation, and the future of the individual student and an equally grave lowering of the morale of the student body, for this must always suffer by the disgrace of any of its members. It is in this spirit that the present serious attempt is made to set forth, especially for the benefit of the students, just what the Honor System is and what is required of each in order to translate it into his life.

The Honor System may be defined in a word as individual responsibility. It brings home to the individual man or woman who would stay at the college and share in the advantages she offers, his personal responsibility for her fair name and honor. It emphasizes two things: first, that the student must recognize that he is answerable in the very fullest degree for every one of his actions and dealings with the members of the faculty and with his fellows, in his or their rooms, in the dining halls, the athletic fields, the social centers, and the class rooms; and, second, that he must recognize his personal responsibility for the well-being of the college in every phase of life in which he touches her existence.

Such phases, in the large, will at once suggest themselves to every one. They include, primarily, everything which touches the securing of aid, assistance, or profit in scholastic work of whatsoever kind, whether in term class work, periodical tests, or in the work handed in to the instructor.

Stealing, defrauding, and lying, are breaches of honor upon which a student may be placed on trial by his fellow students, to determine whether or not he is fit to continue as a member of the College.

As applied to scholastic work the following interpretations of the Honor System are set forth by the Student Honor Councils:

- I. All scholastic work, whether it be in the lecture room, the library, the student's room, or elsewhere, is under the Honor System. All cheating, whether in work pledged or unpledged, whether in tests, assignments, or examinations is a violation of the Honor System. Giving aid to any student or receiving aid from any student, without the consent of the professor, in tests, assignments, or examinations, is cheating.
- II. All written tests and examinations given in the classroom will require a formal pledge. The pledge is required not for the purpose of creating the obligation but to remind the student of the obligation already existing under the Honor System.
- III. For any forms of scholastic work other than written examinations and tests in which the professor desires the use of a pledge, the professor or instructor will prescribe the form of pledge to be used and will make clear the scope of the pledge and responsibility of the individual under the pledge.

The Honor System is supported and handled by the students themselves and they are wholly responsible for it. Violations of the Honor Code are reported, not to the Faculty, but to the Student Honor Councils. It is the duty of every student to report another student seen in a dishonorable act. Loyalty to the student body demands it. If a student fails to report another student because he is a close associate the Honor System is defunct. Reporting cases is not spying or tale-bearing, for the Honor Councils are representatives of students themselves.

Discipline

THE discipline of the College is vested in the President by action of the Board of Visitors. Cases involving minor infractions of discipline are handled by the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women respectively. The President may in cases which are referred to him seek the advice of a discipline committee, which represents both the faculty and the administration.

The honor system as established at William and Mary assumes that every student is trustworthy and will not do a dishonest or dishonorable act or violate his pledged word. In compliance with this established practice each student is required to sign the following pledge on written work: "I hereby declare upon my word of honor that I have neither given nor received help on this test (examination or assignment)." The young men and the young women, through their student councils, immediately take cognizance of any violation of the honor system, and any student found guilty of violating the accepted code is regarded as unfit to remain as a member of the college community.

The respective student councils also take cognizance of any matters which, in their judgment, are injurious to the well-being of the College. So understandingly is the honor system enforced by the students that there is rarely any appeal from their decision.

When non-resident students are permitted to withdraw, or are dropped from the roll, or are suspended, they must forthwith leave Williamsburg and the vicinity. Until this requirement has been fulfilled, they remain subject to the authority of the institution and may be expelled.

Hazing or the subjection of a student to any form of humiliating treatment is forbidden. The fundamental test for disciplinary action by the college authorities is whether the behavior complained of tends to throw discredit on the name of the College of William and Mary, or to manifest ungentlemanly conduct on the part of the students. The use of intoxicating liquors is regarded as not in accordance with our standards of good behavior.

By regulation of the Board of Visitors, students are not allowed to have automobiles, except by special permission which is to be secured from the President.

Registration as a student at the College of William and Mary implies that the student will familiarize himself with the rules and regulations governing the conduct of students, and that he will abide by such regulations so long as he remains a student at the College.

Songs and CheersALMA MATER

Hark, the students' voices swelling
Strong and true and clear
Alma Mater's love are telling,
Ringing far and near.

CHORUS

William and Mary, loved of old,
Hark, upon the gale,
Hear the thunder of our chorus,
Alma Mater—hail!

All thy sons are faithful to thee
Through their college days,
Singing loud from hearts that love thee,
Alma Mater's praise.

Iron shod and golden sandaled
Shall the years go by,
Still our hearts shall weave about thee
Love that cannot die.

God, our Father, hear our voices,
Listen to our cry,
Bless the college of our fathers,
Let her never die.

J. S. WILSON, '02.

WILLIAM AND MARY HYMN

Beneath thy trees, within thy halls,
We come, dear school, with praise for thee,
To pledge ourselves, whate'er befalls—
To pledge unfailing loyalty.
Our hearts are with thee, dear William and Mary,
However far we stray.
Our noble college, hear us now—
Thy children sing to thee today!

Dear school, thou'rt old in years and fame,
And richly old in honors, too.
Time shall not dull the shining name
Whose gleam our songs will e'er renew.
And as years go by, dear William and Mary,
Thy fame will never cease,
But each new year rejoice to see
Thy children's praise to thee increase.

We honor thee, not for our gain
But to make known thy majesty,
Thy truth and courage that remain
However harsh the fates may be.
As through troublous years, dear William and Mary,
Our country fought, so thou hast fought and won,
And lived to hear thy children singing to thee now.

O thou, our guardian and our guide,
Renew our courage every hour,
And keep thy spirit by our side
To aid us with its watchful power.
Throughout all our lives, dear William and Mary,
We pledge our loyalty.
Dear college, now and evermore thy children cry
"All Hail to Thee!"

FIGHT, FIGHT, FIGHT FOR THE INDIANS

Oh, we will fight, fight, fight for the Indians,
 When the Indian Team appears;
 We will pull like Hell for the Indians
 When they hear our mighty cheers.

Wah-Hoo-Wah!

We will circle the ends for the Indians,
 And we'll romp right down the field—
 Touchdown! Touchdown! Indians!
 And _____ line will surely yield.

SPEAKING CUSTOM

It is a William and Mary custom to greet students, faculty members, and visitors when passing them on campus. Freshmen are urged to co-operate in the continuance of this friendly custom.

CUTTING CAMPUS

The William and Mary Varsity Club has as one of its objectives the elimination of campus cutting. All students are requested to use campus walks and thus assist in preserving the beauty of the campus.

MATOAKA PARK, BOAT HOUSE, PLAYERS' DELL

The campus of the College of William and Mary extends westward into Matoaka Park, a wooded area of approximately 1,200 acres, lying between the Jamestown and the Richmond Roads. In the midst of this park is Lake Matoaka extending from Jamestown Road northward into five branches, which cover a large area of the park.

A boathouse and canoes have been provided on the lake for the use of students. Students are permitted to use canoes in the fall and spring under the supervision of the Director of Intra-Mural Athletics after having passed a canoe test.

The eastern portion of the park, which joins the campus, is well interspersed with foot-trails and bridle-paths. The natural features of this area have been preserved. Native flora and wild life are abundant.

In the center of this park is Players' Dell, in which have been provided a stage with natural setting and adequate seating facilities to accommodate large audiences. It affords an excellent opportunity for outdoor concerts, plays, masques, and pageants. Players' Dell is well suited to develop and enrich the aesthetic appreciation of the students.

THE LIBRARY

The Library of the College contains about 140,000 volumes. It receives regularly 839 periodicals. Members of the faculty and students are allowed to go freely to the stack room and consult books. It is open every day from 7:45 a. m. until 11:00 p. m., except from 6:00 p. m. to 7:00 p. m. On Sundays, it is open from 2:00 p. m. until 11:00 p. m., except from 6:00 p. m. to 7:00 p. m.

The principles of the Honor System are to be observed in the Library. The stealing of books from the Library is considered an offence similar to the theft of other property on the campus. Lying or any form of deceit in regard to the use of the reserved books or to the borrowing of books is considered an infraction of the Honor System and will be reported to the Honor Councils.

In order that the Library may serve the College better, there are certain rules which must be enforced. Among the most important of the rules are:

1. There is a well established principle of good conduct and courtesy, that no one should appear conspicuous in a public place. This principle should be observed in the College Library. A student in the Library rooms, therefore, should forbear unnecessary and loud talking, in order that he may not attract attention and disturb others.
2. All books borrowed from the Library must be charged at the circulation desk.

3. Books may be kept out for two weeks, subject to a fine of two cents per day for every day over that time, if the book has not been renewed. If necessary, a book may be recalled by the librarian at any time.
4. Books which are on reserve may be borrowed from the Library at 10:30 p. m., to be returned at 8:00 a. m. the next morning. A fine of twenty-five cents for each book will be charged if it is not returned on time and an additional charge of five cents per hour until it is returned.
5. Books in the reference department must not be taken out of the building at any time.
6. Current numbers of periodicals may be borrowed from the Library between 9 p. m. and 10 p. m. to be returned at 8:00 a. m. the following morning. A fine of 50c will be charged on each periodical which is returned after 8:00 a. m. and 10c per hour for each additional hour until it is returned to the periodical desk. Not more than 3 periodicals or 3 issues of a single periodical may be borrowed by one person over night.

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATE

Inter-collegiate debate activities are sponsored by the Men's and Women's Debate Councils. Several varsity trips are made each year, and campus debates are held frequently. Varsity teams met debaters from forty colleges and universities during the 1938-39 season. At the final debate of the year, between members of the two councils, a cup is awarded the best individual debater.

New members are selected after try-outs, held in the fall of each year. Officers of the councils for 1939-40 are:

Vice-President	ELIZABETH WOOD

FINE ARTS EVENTS PROGRAM

The Department of Fine Arts produces during the college year three plays and an operetta. The first play, Gogol's "The Inspector General," will be presented on October 19th and 20th in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall. Season tickets to the events are sold in book form at $2.50 for reserved seats and $1.75 for general admission. The books are on sale at the Information Desk in Marshall-Wythe.

The Department also brings to the College each year a series of exhibits of architecture, painting, sculpture, and theatre and industrial arts. These exhibits, open to the public, are shown in the foyer of Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The final exhibit each year is devoted to the work of students in the drawing, painting, sculpture, and theatre classes.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The music division of the Department of Fine Arts offers to students interested in choral or instrumental work the opportunity to sing or perform in several organizations.

For those interested in singing there are a mixed chorus of students with vocal ability, and a choir composed of twenty-four selected singers giving one program each week in the College Chapel.

A symphonic band open to all students playing wind instruments presents programs of classical, semi-classical, and popular numbers. The marching band of men students plays for football games and pep rallies, and goes on a three-day concert tour during the early spring. A dance band furnishes music for the school dances.

The Little Symphony Orchestra gives two concerts a year and furnishes music for the annual operetta.

Religious Organizations

ALL religious activities at the College are under the direction of an Interreligious Council.

This Council brings together members of each religious denomination on the campus for the purpose of coordinating the efforts and activities of the various groups. During the year it sponsors group discussions and tries to bring prominent religious speakers to the campus. In 1937 the Council became affiliated with the National Conference of Jews and Christians to facilitate its work.

Purpose of the Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association of the College of William and Mary, a member of the Young Women's Christian Associations of the United States of America and a participant in the World's Student Christian Federation, declares its purpose to be:

"We, the members of the Young Women's Christian Association of the College of William and Mary, unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God.

"We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

"In this task we seek to understand Jesus and follow Him."

Membership in the Y. W. C. A.

Every woman at William and Mary who is interested in the aims of the Y. W. C. A. and who wishes to strive with other women will be given the opportunity to join in September. By her membership in the Y. W. C. A. a student also becomes a member of the World's Student Christian Federation, which is composed of many different student movements in forty different countries of the world.

Big Sister Plan

Every year the Y. W. C. A., in co-operation with the Women's Student Government, organizes a band of "Big Sisters," who feel that this endows them with a special kind of friendly ownership and interest in their "Little Sisters" of the freshman class.

It is the special duty of the Big Sister to help her Little Sister become adjusted to college life.

Meetings

Alternate Thursday nights are set for meetings of the Y. W. C. A. Lectures, entertainments, vespers, or discussion groups will be held.

The Y. W. C. A. Room

The Y. W. C. A. Room is on the first floor in Jefferson Hall. It is open at all times for the use of the women students who are especially invited to enjoy it.

The Best All-'Round Freshman

For the past seven years it has been the practice of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet to elect the Best All-'Round Freshman and to reward her in some way. The woman selected must be outstanding not only in the Y. W. C. A., but in other activities as well. She must be a capable leader, and have a high scholastic standing.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

The Wesley Foundation is an organization of students sponsored by the Methodist Church but is open to all those interested. It attempts to minister to the religious life and needs of the College community and to offer the friendly atmosphere of a "home away from home" for all its members.

The Department of Physical Education has three divisions:

Required Physical Education
Intramural athletics
Inter-collegiate athletics

The physical education program is organized and conducted for the purpose of giving every student a thorough course in physical training under medical supervision and skilled instruction. An elective sports program is taught in the required courses. Participation in various forms of competitive athletics is vigorously promoted through a large variety of intramural and inter-collegiate contests.

A thorough medical and physical examination is made of each student upon entering college. On the basis of this examination, the student is given advice and direction as to his physical activities during his college career. In order to provide every safeguard to the health of the students, the department provides a trainer and team physican for the various sports.

All freshmen and sophomores are required to take physical education. Classes meet twice a week for two hours each. A credit of four hours is required in physical education for graduation. To meet the requirement the department offers a variety of courses comprising individual programs for special cases, group gymnastics, elementary boxing, wrestling, swimming, life saving, basketball, golf, tennis, canoeing, archery, fencing, horseback riding, touch football, apparatus work, tumbling, and participation in group games and competitive athletics.

An extensive intramural program is carried on throughout the year. Provision is made for the organization and instruction of intramural teams in the sports taught in the required physical education courses. Regardless of his lack of experience in sports, every student is given an opportunity to be on an intramural team. Specialization is discouraged by barring from competition in any sport a student who is, or has been, a member of a freshman or varsity team in that sport.

The program of intercollegiate athletics includes the following sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, fencing, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track.

Fraternity Regulations

For purposes of inspection and regulation all fraternity houses are classified by the Board of Visitors as dormitories and are subject to all dormitory rules and regulations concerning general conduct.

Inspection

College authorities at all times have the right of access to fraternity houses for purposes of inspection and administration.

Residence

A Freshman may not room in a fraternity house during his or her first year at college or before initiation, provided, however, that special permission to assume residence in a fraternity house may be granted at the beginning of the second semester when the Freshman and the fraternity agree upon initiation within fifteen days after the beginning of the second semester. This exception will be granted only with regard to rooming privileges and does not excuse the student from boarding in the College Refectory.

A transfer student who is not a member of a fraternity upon entering the College of William and Mary must conform to the residence requirements which apply to Freshmen. A transfer student who is a member of a fraternity upon entrance must meet all requirements for initiation before permission to live in a fraternity house will be granted.

No person who is not a bona fide student of the College will be permitted to live in a fraternity house.

No student may move from a dormitory to a fraternity house after registration begins except that a student whose duties require residence in the Practice House or a dormitory (Student Officers) may return to the fraternity house upon termination of the office or completion of the duties.

Initiation

To be eligible for initiation a student must have passed ten academic hours in the preceding semester.

Men's Social Fraternities

THE present extensive system of collegiate social fraternities had its inception at the College of William and Mary with the founding of Phi Beta Kappa on December 5, 1776. Phi Beta Kappa was established as a secret organization and so remained until 1831 when the Chapter at Harvard University was, as a result of vigorous assault on anti-democratic organizations by the leaders of the Anti-Mason political party, forced to divulge its secrets. Since that time the Phi Beta Kappa has been a purely honorary fraternity, membership in which constitutes the highest honor which can be achieved by a college student.

The first social fraternity, in the modern sense of the term, to be established at the College of William and Mary was Theta Delta Chi, which placed its Epsilon Charge here in 1853. Sigma Alpha Epsilon followed in 1857, and a few years later, 1871, Pi Kappa Alpha received permission to establish a chapter. These three remained the only fraternities at the College until 1890, when chapters were established by Kappa Alpha and Kappa Sigma. Sigma Phi Epsilon, which had been founded at Richmond College a few years before, entered the fraternity field at William and Mary in 1904.

The limited number of students at the College rendered unnecessary further fraternity expansion until about 1919. In that year the College began a period of rapid growth and the greatly increased enrollment led to the establishment of a number of new fraternities on the campus. Most of these organizations were started as local clubs but all have now been absorbed by national fraternities. From 1922 to 1931, the following national fraternities established chapters at William and Mary: Sigma Nu in 1922, Phi Kappa Tau in 1926, Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Alpha in 1927, Pi Lambda Phi in 1929, Alpha Phi Delta in 1930 and Sigma Pi in 1931. Sigma Rho, a local fraternity, was established in 1937.

The Fraternity Association, composed of the presidents of the various fraternity chapters, acts as a governing body and in this capacity draws up regulations for the conduct of the individual chapters, prescribes rules for rushing and in general promotes wholesome interfraternity relations.

Women's Social Sororities

PANHELLENIC RUSHING RULES FOR 1939

THE Panhellenic Council approves the following system of rushing and bidding. The rules are here printed in order that Freshmen and other new students may know them and cooperate with the Council in upholding them.

There is to be no sorority talk by any sorority member. Information about each sorority will be found in the Indian Handbook, and in short histories of each sorority, which will be available at the respective houses when open rushing begins. Such talk accordingly will not be necessary. Dr. Helen Weeks, the Panhellenic faculty adviser, will give a short talk to the new students during the first week of the session to explain the sorority system on this campus and the rushing rules. She will also answer any necessary questions which the freshmen may wish to ask. Following the preferential rushing period, open rushing will prevail throughout the college year.

On Monday, September 18, any one sorority girl accompanied by any one of another sorority between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. may visit once any friends in the dormitories for not more than half an hour per visit. "Little sisters" (in Y. W. C. A.) may be visited at any time for a period of one half hour per visit by the "Big Sister" alone.

The following rules have been adopted by the Council:

1. There shall be no sorority talk during the period by any sorority member, patroness, or alumna. "Sewing up" at any time before the end of rushing is sorority talk. Scrapbooks and publications may be used without comment from the members in the sorority houses. Songs may be sung. During dormitory rushing notepaper with sorority identification may be used.
2. Rushing shall be confined to the William and Mary campus, and the first block of Duke of Gloucester Street. There shall be no driving of rushees in cars except of rushees not living in dormitories. These girls may be brought to and from dates at the sorority houses.

3. No money shall be spent beyond the sum of forty dollars, which the Council has fixed as the maximum. This does not include the notepaper used during the dormitory rushing, the cigarettes or the invitation cards to the houses from September 24-28. All other rushing expenses must come out of this sum, and the expense accounts of each sorority shall be read before the Council.
4. Girls may be offered cigarettes during dormitory rushing.
5. There shall be no outside entertainment at either of the rushing parties or at the open house, and no men may attend either party or the open house or be in evidence during any time when rushing is going on in the houses. No sorority may request men to rush for them.
6. In conjunction with the Freshman Orientation program each fraternity house shall be open to all freshmen on Sunday, September 17. The purpose of this invitation is to create a better feeling of understanding and democracy. No refreshments or entertainment may be provided.
7. For dates with town girls down town, sorority girls may treat the town girls to a five-cent drink, or may treat them out of their own money, not out of the rushing fund, at their discretion.
8. Sorority girls may accept candy and cigarettes from the rushees at their discretion.

The following program of rushing period has been adopted by the Council:

1. From September 18 through September 22 any sorority girl, including any sorority girl living in a dormitory, may visit a new student at any place on the campus or on the first block of the Duke of Gloucester Street (except in sorority houses) for a time of one-half hour a day. No dates may be arranged except with girls not living in dormitories.

2. The rushing hours during this period will be:
Monday, September 18: 4-6 p. m. 7-9 p. m.
Tuesday, September 19-Friday, September 22:
4-6 p. m., and 7-9 p. m. or 8-10 p. m.
3. Rushing in the house shall begin on Sunday, September 24. Dates for all girls will be arranged by the Council. Such rushing will last through Thursday, September 28.
Sunday, September 24: Open House 2-6 p. m.
No rushing on Monday.
Friday, September 29: Preferential Party, 7-10 p. m.
Saturday, September 30: Silence Day.
