WHAT CAN A LITERARY SOCIETY DO
FOR YOU?

The ability to speak in public on all occasions is an asset few people have, but one which most people can develop. By active interest in a literary society, this ability may be stimulated and developed, and by constant association with men interested in forensic work, the new student in college will gain an appreciation of literary work that will remain with him during his college career.

There are many activities at William and Mary, and the new student in college should select only those of most interest to him, and then strive to make a real success in his chosen field. No matter what field you choose, the Phoenix Literary Society stands ready to help you. Meetings are held once a week at which time there is a program consisting of readings, orations, declamations, and debates. The first meeting of the year will be a social for all new men in college who care to be guests for the evening.

The Phoenix Invites You!

Join the Oldest Literary Society At
William and Mary

WHAT DOES IT PROFIT A MAN TO GAIN
WISDOM AND NOT BE ABLE TO EXPRESS IT?

During the next four years you will be called on to speak at various functions under widely differing conditions.

Will You Know How?

The purpose of the Philomathean Literary Society is to teach you how to express yourself on all occasions.

JOIN THE
PHILOMATHEAN LITERARY SOCIETY
YOU ARE WELCOME!

Meets every Friday night in Philomathean Hall.

PRESIDENT'S GREETINGS

You are about to become students of the College of William and Mary in Virginia for the session 1929-30. In the name of the College, the oldest in the Southland, I welcome you. May the memories that cling around this institution and the thought that in its halls were educated such men as Jefferson, Monroe, and Marshall, and that here Washington and Henry and many of Virginia's famous men often visited and were in one way or another closely associated with it, inspire you to great endeavors, and may these endeavors be guided by lofty religious ideals, love of Alma Mater, and true patriotism. My young friends, the State is offering you a rare privilege and a wonderful opportunity. Remember that you are the architects of your own fortunes. Value highly the privilege that you have of attending college, and seize with avidity the great opportunity that is now in your grasp. If the privilege is cherished and the opportunity is used to prepare you for real service to humanity, the faculty of this time honored institution will rejoice, and the people of Virginia will feel that the provision made here for your education are a benefit to the State. God grant you success.

J. A. C. CHANDLER,

President.

GREETINGS FROM THE DEAN OF
THE COLLEGE

When you enroll as a student at the College of William and Mary, you have the opportunity to share in the honorable traditions and noble ideals which cling to this venerable institution. These traditions and these ideals should be an inspiration to you to achieve to the fullest extent of your capacity.

In addition to its traditions and ideals, the College of William and Mary offers you the opportunity for an education which will fit you to serve in your chosen field of endeavor. The opportunity and the privilege to participate in these possibilities are yours to make of them what you will. We hope you will take advantage of them to the fullest extent possible.

In your effort to make the most of your opportunities while in this institution we ask you to seek the advice and help of the faculty and administration whenever there is an occasion for you to do so. It will be a pleasure and a privilege of all to guide you and help you in any way we can.

We hope that all of you can so direct your lives that you will realize the joy and satisfaction that come from honest effort, that your friends and parents will have reason to feel pride in your achievement and that you will reflect credit on yourselves and your Alma Mater.

K. J. HOKE,
Dean of the College.

GREETINGS FROM THE DEAN OF MEN

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I send a word of greeting to you men who, in September, will enter for the first time the College of William and Mary. Already, in the very contemplation of the step you are about to take, you must feel the thrill of inspiration that comes from the realization that you are to tread the halls and walk the paths honored and made sacred by associations with so many of the great men of the past. Perchance it may fall to the fortunate lot of some of you to glorify the College in your generation as did Jefferson, Marshall and many others in theirs.

All of you, however, cannot be heroes or even "great men" in the world's sense of greatness, but you can each and every one be heroic and great in doing your part in developing, from the very day of your entrance into this College, those qualities of body, mind and heart which have been bestowed more or less generously on each of you. You have been pronounced "college material" by your respective high schools. See to it that you make each day of your college life count in the development of this material towards those things which are highest and best, those things which make for the durable satisfaction of life. In developing your highest possibilities and in honoring yourselves, you will be honoring your college and building for the future glory of an institution already so rich in glories of the past.

I bid you welcome to William and Mary and to all that she offers to each of her sons—a rich heritage from the past, an abundant opportunity for the present and a splendid vision for the future. May you soon catch the spirit of the College—a spirit which, it seems to me, is a happy blend of reverence for tradition and interest in progress. May you learn to love the College and those ideals for which it stands as hundreds of men before you have loved; and, when you leave these walls four years hence, may you feel as they have felt, great pride in the realization that William and Mary is your Alma Mater.

WM. T. HODGES,
William and Mary, 1902,
Dean of Men.

WOMEN

Of all the classes in the College of William and Mary you, the Class of 1933, are most to be envied. By one year, the past of the college is a little richer for you even than for the class preceding. The future holds for you the promise of greater material beauty for this ancient and vigorous institution. Your own fine idealism (if this be the gift you bring us) will make the present beautiful for yourselves and for others.

You have come to William and Mary from different motives. Some of you have been lured by the desire for adventure in community living; others, by the charm of the environment here. Some have followed a path trodden by your families and friends; some have been led by associates whose companionship you crave. Perhaps only a few have thought deeply of what you may seek here for your physical, mental, and spiritual growth. Yet you feel at least vaguely that you want to grow. May it be our privilege to help you to take root securely and to develop into fearless, strong, wise, maganimous women.

As aids to growth may you find here the friendship of administrators, of instructors, and of fellow-students; the stimulation of able minds; a challenge to your best endeavor; and a simple love of truth which will enable you to face understandingly your own failures and successes and those of your friends.

The intelligent love of a student for a college is one of the most enlarging experiences of life.

GRACE WARREN LANDRUM,
Dean of Women.

ALMA MATER

Hark, the student's voices swelling,
Strong and true and clear,
Alma Mater's love they're telling,
Ringing far and near.

Chorus

William and Mary, loved of old,
Hark, upon the gale,
Hear the thunder of our chorus,
Alma Mater—hail.

All thy sons are faithful to thee
Through their college days,
Singing out from hearth that love
thee,
Alma Mater's praise.

Iron shod and golden sandled
Shall the years go by,
Still our hearts shall weave
about thee
Love that cannot die.

God, our Father, hear our voices,
Listen to our cry.
Bless the college of our fathers,
Let her never die.

—J. S. Wilson, '02.

BUILDINGS

Christopher Wren Building

Facing the front entrance to the college, about 100 yards from the west end of Duke of Gloucester Street is the Sir Christopher Wren Building, more popularly known as the Main Building. It was erected in 1694, and was designed by the great English architect. It has been burned three times, but a part of the walls are the same that were erected in 1694. Plans are now under way for a reconstruction of this building to the original plans of Mr. Wren at a cost of $400,000.

Brafferton Building

Brafferton, which is on the left when one enters the front entrance is the second oldest building on the campus. It was erected in 1723 by funds from the estate of Robert Boyle, the famous chemist and was first built to be used as an Indian school. At present the building houses the offices of the president of the college, the registrar, the dean of the college and the treasurer.

President's House

Opposite Brafferton and adjoining Richmond Road is the President's House, erected in 1732. This building was burned accidentally by the French in 1781, but was restored by money given to the college from the private funds of Louis XVI of France. The house has stood practically unchanged since that date.

Taliaferro

Taliaferro, now used as a men's dormitory is the oldest building on the South Campus. It faces on Jamestown Avenue, a few hundred feet from the west end of Duke of Gloucester Street. The building was erected by the Congress of the United States in payment for damages done by the United States soldiers during the Civil War. Plans are now underway to move the building to the site of the present men's infirmary.

Citizenship Building

On the south side of the main campus, in line with Brafferton is the Citizenship Building. This building houses the Business School and Law School, as well as the student publication offices and a number of professors' offices.

Ewell Hall

Opposite Citizenship Building on the North side of the Main Campus is Ewell Hall. In this building is housed the department of Biology and Home Economics. Biology, however will be moved to Washington Hall when it is completed in 1929. This building was erected in 1905, and is named after Col. Benjamin Ewell, president of William and Mary during the latter part of the nineteenth century.

Library

To the rear of Ewell is the college library built in 1908 and enlarged in 1920. This building was erected through funds donated by Andrew Carnegie and others. It is divided into three units including a stack room capable of holding 150,000 volumes. Plans are underway for further increasing the size of this building.

Tyler Hall

The oldest women's dormitory on the campus is Tyler Hall, named after one of three alumni of the college who became president of the United States. It is located on the South Campus and adjoins Boundary Street. The building was erected in 1916, originally as a dormitory for men, but with admission of women in 1918 was turned over to them.

Jefferson Hall

Jefferson Hall, which was built in 1920 as a dormitory for women is located on Jamestown Avenue and is a part of the "women's unit," composed of three buildings two of which are completed. It contains, in addition to dormitory space, a gymnasium, swimming pool and social rooms. It was the first building to be erected in the sensational building period which William and Mary has known for the past several years. It, like Tyler Hall, is named after one of the three alumni who became president of the United States.

Monroe Hall

Corresponding to Jefferson Hall and in architecture in position on the north side of the main campus is Monroe Memorial Hall, built in 1924 for use as a men's dormitory. The building is fire-proof and is modern in all details. The rooms on the first two floors are named after famous alumni and friends of the college. This building like Tyler Hall and Jefferson is named after one of the three alumni who became president of the United States.

Blow Gymnasium

Beyond Monroe Hall on Richmond Road is the George Preston Blow Gymnasium, erected in 1925. This building, given to the college by Mrs. Blow in memory of her husband, who's father and grandfather were alumni, is equipped with a large gym floor, swimming pool, handball court, boxing room, athletic trophy room, locker rooms, a Y. M. C. A. room, and offices for the athletic personnel of the college.

College Refectory

In the center of the south campus stands the college refectory, originally built in 1914, and after a portion of it had been destroyed by fire, rebuilt in 1925. The present building is in two units, one laid in the 1914 structure, and one built completely new in 1925. The building is said to be one of the best designed college refectories in the south.

Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall

The Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall, completed in 1926 is located on the west side of the Citizenship Building. The hall was erected by Phi Beta Kappa Chapters, over the entire United States in memory of the fifty founders of Phi Beta Kappa, who organized the order at William and Mary in 1776. In the building is located an auditorium, a replica of the Apollo Room of the Old Raleigh Tavern and guest rooms.

William Barton Rogers Hall

This building which was erected in 1927 is named after William Barton Rogers, former professor of Chemistry at William and Mary, and who founded the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In it are located the Department of Chemistry, Physics and Psychology, and several professors' offices. It is on the west side of the College Library.

Kate Waller Barrett Hall

The Kate Waller Barrett Hall, which is the second building of the "women's unit," was erected in memory of Kate Waller Barrett, a former member of the Board of Visitors. It is the largest dormitory on the campus and one of the most beautiful buildings. It is connected with Jefferson by an arcade, and faces Blow Gymnasium on the opposite corner of the campus.

Old Dominion Hall

Started and completed at practically the same time as Barrett Hall, is Old Dominion Hall, the newest dormitory for men. It is similar to Monroe Hall and Jefferson hall in appearance, but due to a slope in the campus has four stories at one end. Like all the new buildings at William and Mary it is fireproof throughout.

Washington Hall

Standing opposite Rogers Hall and in line with the Phi Beta Kappa Hall, there is the newest building on the campus known as Washington Hall. This building is very similar in appearance to Rogers Hall, and contains classrooms and biology laboratories on the first floor. Lecture rooms for academic work, and the offices of several of the administration are on the second floor. On the third floor are the offices of the academic professors. This building is named after George Washington, former president of the United States who at one time was Chancellor of the College.

PLACES OF INTEREST IN AND AROUND WILLIAMSBURG

Williamsburg, the historic old city, the home of many famous men, and the seat of the ancient and venerable College of William and Mary, is being restored to its original appearance by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. This restoration project is costing a great deal of money and will take several years before its actual completion. Williamsburg and the places of interest around it attract thousands of tourists every year.

The Old Capitol

At the east end of the Duke of Gloucester Street are the foundations of the old capitol building in which Patrick Henry delivered his famous speech.

To the rear of this building stands the old jail in which Governor Hamilton of Detroit and many other Royalists were imprisoned.

Peyton Randolph House

The home of Peyton Randolph, president of the first Continental Congress, is located in the eastern end on Francis Street and the Newport News road.

Bassett Hall

Bassett Hall, which is directly to the south of the old capitol and is at the head of a long avenue of trees, was the home of John Tyler.

The Old Raleigh Tavern

This tavern, famous for the Apollo room in which the Phi Beta Kappa society, first of Greek letter fraternities in America, was founded and in which the General Assembly met after having been dismissed by Governor Dunmore, stood on the site of Lane and Christian's store. There is a replica of the old Apollo room in the Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

The Court House

The Court House, which stands in the center of the Court Green is supposed to have been designed by Sir Christopher Wren. It is the most complete Court House of its size in the country.

The Powder Horn

The old Powder Horn, which was built by Alexander Spottswood to hold munition supplies for the colonists, stands directly in front of the Court Green. It was in this building that Dunmore had stored the powder that was seized by Patrick Henry, just before the outbreak of the Revolution. At present it is used as a museum.

The Palace Green

The Palace Green is a long park on the north side of the Duke of Gloucester

Street that ran back to the Colonial Governor's Palace. The home of Dinwiddie, the governor who sent Washington to serve notice on the French that they were on land claimed by England is on the left side of the Green at the farthest end. Below this house is all that is left of the Governor's terraced gardens.

The Wythe House

The Wythe House, a square brick building, home of the first professor of law at the College of William and Mary, is on the left of the Green. He was the teacher of such men as Jefferson and Marshall. The house was also used by Washington as his headquarters during the Revolution.

Across the Green from this is the St. George Tucker House used by Lafayette for his headquarters. Joining this and immediately on the Green was the site of the first theatre built in America in the year 1716 by William Livingston.

Audrey House

This house, made famous by the novel "Audrey," by Mary Johnston, is next to the site of the first theater.

Bruton Parish Church

Bruton Parish Church was built in 1715 and is one of the few old church buildings in America. The history of the church goes farther back than this date, but the present building was erected at that time. It is open for visitors at all times.

The Blair House

The Blair House on the Duke of Gloucester Street in the second block from the College, was the home of John Blair. The stone steps in front of it were the old steps that lead up to the entrance of the first theatre in America.

Jamestown

Here on May 13, 1607 a small band of Englishmen landed and made the first permanent settlement in America of English speaking people. From the time of its founding until 1610 it had no serious misfortune. In 1610 there came what is known in history as the first starving time. During this period 450 of 500 people died. It was the seat of government from then until 1699 when Middle Plantation, now Williamsburg, was named the Capital. It had a chequered existence from that time until it gradually fell into disuse. In 1837 there was but one house on the island. During the Civil War it was occupied by about 500 Confederates. It is now kept as one of Virginia's historic spots.

Yorktown

In 1691 a tract of land was sold for a town on what is now Yorktown. Seven years later it became the county seat. The first custom house in America was built here in 1715 and is still standing. Cornwallis surrendered here in 1781 so ending the Revolution. During the Civil War it was used as a base by McClellan

THE HONOR SYSTEM AT THE COL-LEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY

Among her many priorities, William and Mary justly claims that of leading the way in the formulation and adoption of the Honor System. It was inaugurated here in 1779. Early in college days when no other idea of college government prevailed throughout America than that the student should be watched like a suspected criminal for offenses, either actual or potential, the faculty of William and Mary appointed a committee, whose head was the distinguished jurist, Beverly Tucker, to draw up a statement of the spirit and content of an honor system by which the conduct of the students of the old college was to be guided. At once put into operation, this system has continued in actual and successful working without interruption until the present day.

But glorious and inspiring as is the historical origin of the Honor System, it is with its operation now and in the future that the men and women of the new day at the old college are primarily concerned. In the first place, it is of vital importance that every new student enrolling in September, should clearly understand what the Honor System really is and what it means in his life and in the corporate life of the College, Ignorance of it may bring the possibility—even the probability of breaking it, and at once there follows a well nigh irreparable injury to the character, the reputation, and the future of the individual student and an equally grave lowering of the morale of the student body, for this must always suffer by the disgrace of any of its members. It is in this spirit that the present serious attempt is made to set forth, especially for the benefit of the students, just what the Honor System is and what is required of each in order to translate it into his life.

The Honor System may be defined in a word as individual responsibility. It brings home to the individual man or woman who would stay at the noble old college and get the advantages she offers, his personal responsibility for her fair name and honor. It emphasizes two things; first, that the student must recognize that he is answerable in the very fullest degree for every one of his actions and dealings with the members of the faculty and with his fellows, in his or their rooms, in the dining halls, the athletic fields, the social centers, and the class rooms, and second, that he must recognize his personal responsibility for the well-being of the college in every phase of life in which he touches her existence.

Such phases, in the large, will at once suggest themselves to every one. They include, primarily, everything which touches the securing of aid, assistance, or profit in scholastic work of whatsoever kind, whether in term class work, periodical tests, or in the work handed in to the instructor, though it is to be regretted that in the formal examinations, as well as in all latter respect, students otherwise most sensitive to the Honor System do not seem to feel its demands so keenly as in regard to the others. A slight reflection, however, will convince one that work of this kind should also be included in the scope of the Honor System. It is a source of pride to all lovers of the college that public opinion of the students is now, and has always been, most healthy, vigorous, and uncompromising in its condemnation of all infractions of the Honor System falling under the heads just enumerated.

As to all offenses touching the taking of property which is not one's own, in any form, it goes without saying that these come most completely under the condemnation of the Honor System, and find swift and deserved punishment at the hands of the student body itself.

1929-30

To the Students and Prospective Students of the College of William and Mary:

In order that there may be a thorough understanding of the Honor System as it is interpreted and will be applied in the College of William and Mary in Virginia, we, the members of the Students' Honor Councils are sending each student and prospective student this circular letter.

By matriculation into the College the student pledges himself to maintain the Honor System. If the student does not wish to uphold this Honor System he must not matriculate.

The Honor System is the very foundation of student life in the College of William and Mary. This must be understood by every student at the outset. The Honor System is not merely a name nor is it a convenient means of escaping spying by the Faculty. The College of William and Mary has the distinction of having first originated and introduced the Honor System into American collegiate life, the System having been established here in 1779, and has been in continued existence here ever since. The Honor System has always been and must be maintained as the working principle of student life and as the indispensable expression of the spirit of the College of William and Mary. The Honor System simply requires that a student should act honorably, no more, no less.

Stealing, cheating, the violation of a written pledge, and the failure or refusal to report such offenses are breaches of honor upon which a student may be placed on trial by his fellow students, to determine whether he is fit to continue a member of the College.

As applied to scholastic work the following interpretations of the Honor System are set forth by the Student Honor Councils:

- I. All scholastic work, whether it be in the lecture room, the library, the student's room, or elsewhere, is under the Honor System. All cheating, whether in work pledged or unpledged, whether in tests, assignments, or examinations is a violation of the Honor System. Giving aid to any student or receiving aid from any student, without the consent of the professor, in tests, assignments, or examinations, is cheating.
- II. All written tests and examinations given in the classroom will require a formal pledge. The pledge is required not for the purpose of creating the obligation but to remind the student of the obligation already existing under the Honor System.
- III. For any forms of scholastic work other than written examinations and tests in which the professor desires the use of a pledge, the professor or instructor will prescribe the form of pledge to be used and will make clear the scope of the pledge and the responsibility of the individual under the pledge.

The student's "sense of honor" is not inherited; it is acquired. And it is acquired in some specific environment. It is therefore relative to that environment. In the College of William and Mary the older students furnish the environment; and unless the older students jealously guard the Honor System by reporting cases of dishonor and obtracizing the dishonest, the new students will not acquire that "sense of honor" necessary for an efficient Honor System.

The Honor System is supported and handled by the students themselves and they are wholly responsible for it. Violations of the Honor Code are reported, not to the Faculty, but to the Student Honor Councils. It is the duty of every student to report another student seen in a dishonorable act. Loyalty to the student body demands it. If a student fails to report another student because he is a close associate the Honor System is defunct. Reporting cases is not spying or talebearing, for the Honor Councils are the representatives of students themselves. A student accused of dishonesty is not necessarily separated from College. Upon being made to the Honor Council a thorough investigation shall be made.

If after hearing the explanation of the student accused, or after he has refused to make explanation, the Honor Council is convinced of his guilt, the Honor Council of the student body shall thereupon demand that he leave College at once.

Reread this letter carefully and keep for reference. The System will be explained by the representatives of the Honor Councils at the begining of the session. We ask you to help make it perfectly clear that in the College of William and Mary in Virginia, there is no place for the liar, the thief, or the cheat.

Faithfully yours,

THE STUDENTS' HONOR COUNCIL
OF 1929-30.

When a student enters the College of William and Mary, he or she leaves all "Snootiness" behind. It is a William and Mary custom that when passing a man or woman on the street you greet them whether you know them or not. "Hae Gentlemen" and "Hae" is the phrase used. Speaking and a smile with it goes a long way towards making friends. "Smile and the world smiles with you, frown and you frown alone." Speak to everyone!

The Editor.

Agreement Concerning Government of the Women Students of the College of
William and Mary

To the Women's Student Government Association is intrusted the enforcement of rules made by the authorities of the college and the power to legislate in all matters that do not fall under the direct jurisdiction of the said authorities.

The degree of power intrusted to the Association is dependent upon the efficiency of its members. If at any time the Association or any of its officers should fail to uphold the standards of the Constitution the President of the College reserves the right, after investigation, to modify or revoke this grant of student government.

The Council of the Women's Student Government Association may ask the withdrawal of any girl from College for due cause.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

(Founded at the College of William and Mary in 1799).

In the theory that every college owes to its students the opportunity for development in a wholesome environment, The Women's Student Government Organization finds the reason for its being. The aim of the organization therefore, is not restriction for the sake of rigidity, but for the creation of an atmosphere favorable to student growth.

The nucleus of government under the organization is the honor system, a method by which every student, upon her honor as a woman, is made responsible for her own conduct and second for the conduct of those of her college mates who have lost the vision of their own responsibility. If a woman knows a breach of honor on the part of another and does not speak to the one who has broken her honor and make her realize the necessity of reporting herself, then the woman has failed to live up to the ideal of the honor system although her own honor be above reproach.

Thus, individual responsibility is the keynote of the honor system. If a student falls down in any particular, of primary importance is the fact that she has been untrue to herself, to the dependence placed upon her word of honor. However, because she has failed to measure up to the group standard of citizenship, the recreant student must answer to the group for her offenses.

The Women's Student Government Organization which is the final authority, is too unwieldy to act as a judiciary body. The Women's Student Council, representing the organization, acts as an honor court, determining the extent of the offense and the consequent penalty.

Under the jurisdiction of the honor system should come those ideas, standards, action, etc., which the students consider of most value to the welfare of the college. Honor is a relative term.

Stealing, cheating, the violation of a written pledge, and the failure or refusal to report such offenses are breaches of honor upon which a student may be placed on trial by her fellow students to determine whether she is fit to continue at the college.

The honor system is regulated by the students, and is jealously guarded by them. Each student is therefore honor bound to fulfill her obligations to those about her by reporting all infractions of the system. A student suspecting another of violating the system shall immediately secure additional witness or witnesses in the matter, and bring the case at once to the attention of the Honor Council.

Such is the honor system as it has come to us today after an evolution of almost a century and a half. The present of this honor system will be as big as the students of 1929-30 make it.

The Indian War Cry

I

The Indians are taking the war path to-day,
Old, Green, Gold and Silver plunge into the fray.
The fight may be hard and the game may be long,
We'll rally against them and sing the old song: RAY!

Chorus

William and Mary forever and aye!
Cheer her again, boys, we'll yet win the day—Ray!
Tri-color's waving, it floats there on high,
An emblem of vic'try touching the sky.
So shout out the war cry and fight to the end,
They'll never, no never, beat W. & M.!

II

Their line's shot to pieces, their backs can not gain,
Just watch the old Indians romp way with this game.
We've got them all going, there's nothing to fear,
So rally again now and give the old cheer: RAY!

III

When the fight goes against us, struggling in vain,
When all of their efforts seem surely to gain,
When hope seems to leave us, the chances all gone,
We'll rally against them and sing the old song: RAY!

— Carl Andrews, '27.

Indian Song

We're Indians born;
We're Indians bred;
And when we die
We're Indians dead.

Chorus

Ray! Ray! old Indians, Indians,
Ray! Ray! old Indians, Indians,
Ray! Ray! old Indians!
Ray! Ray! Ray!

The Indian Team
Goes out today
And with this game
We'll walk away.

Chorus

Hike Along

For the team of twenty-eight we fear no
harm.
For the team of twenty-eight we fear no
harm.
Give us a show—and we will win;
Hike along, William and Mary, hike along.

(Additional stanzas are used for particular games, etc.)

Fight, Fight, Fight for the Indians

Oh, we will fight, fight, fight for the Indians,
When the Indian Team appears,
We will pull like Hell for the Indians
When they hear our mighty cheers
Wah-Hoo-Wah!
We will circle the ends for the Indians,
And we'll romp right down the field—
Touchdown! Touchdown! Indians!
And———line will yield.

1. First of all, wear your Freshman cap with the proper spirit.
2. During all football games the Freshmen will occupy the sections of the stadium set aside for them.
3. Follow the walks on the Campus. Don't make new ones.
4. Learn the songs and yells printed in this book for your benefit and join in whenever you hear them.
5. Attend all your class meetings and take an intelligent interest in their proceedings.
6. Always stand and uncover when the "Alma Mater" is being sung or played.
7. Obey all college traditions to the letter. To disregard them is not clever, nor is it loyal.
8. Always remember that the college is judged by the conduct of its undergraduates.
9. Good Freshmen make good upper classmen.
10. College spirit is obtained only by loyalty. Believe in your college and then give it all you have.
11. "Rough stuff" is not a form of Varsity patriotism; "collegiate" need not be made a synonym for "asinine."

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

- Marshall Baggett-----President
 Paul Baldacci-----Vice-President
 Harry Paxton-----Secretary

The session of 1929-30 will see the second year of an entirely new athletic plan for William and Mary. In December, 1927, the 3-3-3-committee adopted a policy which calls for (1) A manager of athletics; (2) seasonal coaches in the major sports; (3) a full-time assistant coach in all major sports; (4) a full-time freshman coach. This marked a radical step from the plan of an athletic director to have charge of all major sports as had been the policy. The matter of additional "minor" sports was passed on at that time, and wrestling and swimming were immediately added to the sports calendar of the college. In 1928-29 monograms were given for participation in the following lines of athletic endeavors: (1) baseball; (2) basketball; (3) football; (4) swimming; (5) tennis; (6) track; (7) wrestling.

William and Mary athletics are for the present, governed by the rules of the Virginia-North Carolina Conference of which the college is a member. Eligibility for participation in athletics at William and Mary are similar to those of most institutions of higher learning.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Faculty—L. T. Jones, Martha Barksdale, Margerite Roberts;

Students—Nancy Johnson, Blanche Wood Pierce, Margaret Bowman.

The general management of athletics for women at William and Mary is the hands of the Athletic Council, composed of three faculty members and three students, elected by popular vote. There are many forms of athletics for women, although varsity monograms are given for hockey and basketball only. Point monograms for participation in other sports are awarded, however. Intramural programs are stressed a great deal in the women's athletics.

THE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS

The Christian work on the campus is carried on co-operatively by the Young Women's and Young Men's Christian Associations. Each Association has its own constitution and form of organization and interpretation of purpose. But in order that certain phases of the work may be better carried out, a joint effort is made in these particular respects.

Organization:

1. The Co-operative Christian Council (C. C. C.) consists of three men and three women, chosen from among the officers of the respective associations. They have two duties: (a) the general oversight of the joint budget, which consists of those funds set aside for speakers, socials, office, etc., in which both groups participate; and (b) the right to elect the members of the Advisory Board, and guide the policy of the joint efforts of the Associations.

2. The Advisory Board consists of the President of the College, the general secretary of the Christian Associations, nine members of the faculty, elected three each year by the C. C. C., for a term of three years, and of four students, consisting of the two Association presidents and of two appointed by these in their respective Associations. The functions of this Advisory Board are: (a) to hire the general secretary and fix his salary; (b) to have general charge of the financial campaign and approve the budgets of the respective Associations; (c) to assist and approve the plans and policies of the Associations.

3. The General Secretary of the Christian Association has the general administration of the work of the Christian Associations.

4. The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and Y. M. C. A. Cabinet are the two executive arms of the student membership. They are ultimately the controlling voice in the carrying out of plans and the directing of the work.

Purpose:

The common purpose of the two Associations "to try to live like Christ lived, and to aid others in living like Him." This purpose takes its expression in the various forms of activities, found on the following pages.

Christian Education

Christian World Education, Speakers and Forums—Grover Clay.

The Young Men's Christian Association is an organization of the students, administered by the students, and existing solely for the students of the college. Throughout the years, the sons of William and Mary who are devoted to the cause of humanity and unselfish service have been affiliated with this association.

The object of the Association is to create a fellowship of students vitally interested in the highest meanings of life, and thereby to develop the highest type of Christian character in the men who are to represent the College, and to influence them to devote themselves to the Christianizing of all relationships. The Association aims to be the expression of practical Christianity. It is for those who believe not in knowledge for the sake of knowledge alone, but for what it can do in creating deep moral convictions of right and personal standards of worth.

Membership in the Association may be either active, or associate. Every man who pays his regular student activities fee, of which one dollar each semester is given to the work of the Association, becomes a member. Those who go farther and sign the "active members declaration card," signifying their desire to co-operate actively in the promotion of the local program, become active members with the right to vote and hold office. All others become associate members with all other privileges, except those above stated. Membership cards are given each one at the beginning of the year.

For the purpose of securing efficiency in the organization the Young Men's Christian Association on the campus has been centralized and divided into four great departments under which all activities of the Association can be classified. Any student, either freshman or older man, who is interested in extra curriculum work can find some phase of service in one or the other of these departments for which he is particularly suited and which will open the way for a more responsible position on the cabinet the following year.

Administration: Heading this important division is the President of the Y. M. C. A. and those making up this department give their time more to the perfecting of the organization as a unit rather than to aiding in outside service. The regular officers of the Y., and vice president, secretary, and treasurer naturally are placed in this department. Besides these are the editor and business manager of the Handbook. There is an assistant in finance whose work it is to handle finances and direct the financial campaign. A chairman of Publicity has charge of conducting a campaign to keep the Association before the student body. Correspondence with the students' parents and Alumni of the Association, has been turned over to the vice president.

Christian Education: To aid in realizing the aim of this department, which is "To interpret through various means, the life and teachings of Christ for the College student" the director has divided his work into committees under the guidance of a chairman. One of the important of these committees is the one in charge of the Wednesday Night Fireside. These devotional meetings with varying programs such as: open forums, music, pageant, lectures, etc., offer unlimited opportunities for service and leadership. The committee on Christian World Education tries to bring to the attention of the campus through speakers, literature, and movies the importance of education along the lines of new social gospel, industrial relations, race relations, and international relations. Besides these a committee has charge of working up and development of special inquiry groups. These groups meet voluntarily to discuss problems which confront them as members of the higher civilization of the world.

Community Service: This department aims to extend the purpose and message of the Christian Association to groups outside the college community, and to provide ample means of expression to students for their ideals of service. A committee on Boys Work promotes this work in Williamsburg by means of Christian guidance in club work. The 180 boys of Williamsburg need college men to organize them into scout troops, Pioneer Clubs, Hi-Y Clubs and Friendly Indians while the college students need these opportunities for leadership. Deputation to churches is one of the most useful of any of the Y. functions. This work was initiated last year and from the responses received it proved most satisfactory. Many men will be needed this year to take places on these teams for plans have been made to cover the whole peninsula. Another work which is just beginning is the sending of deputations to high schools and prep. schools. Another committee of this department has charge of the social welfare work in Williamsburg. Here the Eastern State Hospital offers unlimited opportunity for unselfish service. Last year trips for freshmen were made to Jamestown and study groups visited Hampton Institute. This year the committee in charge plans to conduct, besides these, educational tours to study in Richmond and Norfolk the social welfare work and such industry as these two cities afford.

Campus Service: This department has for its aim the meeting of the social and general welfare needs of the student body. In this department comes the important social committee which has charge of the aSaturday Night "Open House," Sunday Afternoon tea, Faculty reception, Freshman parties, and entertainment of visiting delegations. mittee has charge of freshman work. This committee co-operated with other organizations in serving the freshman in every way possible. The Y. room, which Mrs. Blow gave and so handsomely equipped, is left to this department to care for and keep as convenient as possible for the students. Last year an employment bureau was attempted and accomplished some results. The committee in charge this year is attempting to enlarge and increase this service.

Purpose of the Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association of the College of William and Mary, a member of the Young Women's Christian Associations of the United States of America and a participant in the World's Student Christian Federation, declares its purposes to be:

"We, the members of the Young Women's Christian Association of the College of William and Mary, unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God.

"We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

"In this task we seek to understand Jesus and follow Him."

Membership in the Y. W. C. A.

Every woman at William and Mary who is interested in the aims of the Y. W. C. A., and who wishes to strive with other women will be given the opportunity to join in October. By her membership in the Y. W. C. A., a student also becomes a member of the World's Student Christian Federation, which is composed of many different student movements in forty different countries of the world.

The Big Sister Plan

Every year the Y. W. C. A. organizes the band of "Big Sisters" who feel that this endows them with a special kind of friendly ownership and interest in their "little sisters." This year the big sisters of this year's freshman class will come from the Junior class, while the big sisters of transfers will come from the Senior Class. It is the special duty of the "big sisters" to help their "little sisters" get settled and into the swing of collegiate life. After the freshmen are accustomed to William and Mary, each "big sister" retains her special interest in the welfare of her protegee.

Committees

Thursday nights is the time set for the committee meetings for the Y. W. C. A. members. There will be either a lecture, vespers, or discussion groups.

The Y. W. C. A. functions through the work of its various committees. The committees represent almost every phase of campus activity and the major interests of a woman's life. Every member is urged to carefully choose the committee in which she feels the most interest and to which she feels the most able to contribute by her work, enthusiasm, and participation in the different discussion groups of the several committees.

Publicity

Watch the Y. W. C. A. bulletin boards for attractive posters, interesting events, and the things you ought to know.

Main board in the girl's entrance to the Dining hall. Notices are posted in every dormitory and in Main Building.

Y. W. C. A. Room

The Y. W. C. A., room is on the first floor in Barrett Hall. It is open at all times for the use of the co-ed students and they are especially invited to enjoy it.

Best All-Round Freshman

For the past three years it has been the practice of the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet to elect the Best all-round freshman and to send her to the conference at Blue Ridge. The woman selected must be outstanding not only in the Y. W. C. A., but in other activities as well. She must be a capable leader, and have a high scholastic standing. The best all-round freshman for 1925-26 was Phyllis Logan, for 1926-27, Eleanor Williamson, for 1927-28, Katherine Lam, and for 1928-29, Margaret Bowman.

Blue Ridge Conference

Every June, immediately after the close of the college sessions there is held an annual conference at Blue Ridge, N. C. Here gather many delegates from many of the women's colleges of the east for the purpose of discussing problems which arise in college life. The sessions at Blue Ridge are very inspiring and mean a great deal to those attending.

William and Mary has as many representatives as possible at the Blue Ridge conference in order that they might bring back to the association at the college a wider knowledge and broader outlook of the purpose and work of the Y. W. C. A.

The Delegates for 1928-29 were:

DeEtte Jones, Elizabeth Hugo, Marion Handy, Eleanor Williamson, Katherine Lam, Margaret Bowman.

PUBLICATIONS

The William and Mary Literary Magazine

Fay P. LeCompte.....Editor
Frank Graven.....Business Manager

The William and Mary Literary Magazine is published six times a session by the students of the college. It contains short stories, special articles, essays, poetry, translations, and book reviews.

The editorial staff is appointed each fall by the editor and is usually selected from contributors of the preceding session. Contributions are invited from all students who have talent along literary lines.

The Flat Hat

Edward D. Fales, Jr.....Editor
William F. Rountree.....Managing Editor
Meredith H. Powell.....Business Manager

The Flat Hat is the weekly newspaper of William and Mary. It is published every Friday, and generally contains ten or twelve pages.

The news staff is selected each fall by the editor and managing editor after a six weeks trial has been given to all students who desire to try out for places on the paper. All students are eligible to try out for these positions.

A valuable souvenir of campus activities can be gotten by saving all issues of the Flat Hat for a year, and having them bound into one volume.

WHY NOT NOW?

Join the Philomathean.

The Colonial Echo

William R. Savage.....Editor
J. Samuel Wilcox.....Business Manager

The Colonial Echo is the yearbook published by the students of the College of William and Mary. It makes its appearance usually in May and contains an artistic presentation of campus activities during the last two months of the previous session and the first seven of the current session.

The staff is appointed each fall by the editor.

The Indian Handbook

William F. Rountree.....Editor
Meredith H. Powell.....Business Manager

The Indian Handbook is compiled during the late spring and summer of each year, is mailed to the incoming freshman class in August, and is distributed to the remainder of the student body after the opening of the fall session. It is designed for ready reference throughout the year, and provides information about the college. The Handbook is sponsored by the Christian Associations of the College.

Literary Societies

At William and Mary there are three literary societies, two for men, the Phoenix and Philomathean; and one for women, the J. Lesslie Hall. These societies hold weekly meetings, and from time to time, inter society contests are held.

Inter-Collegiate Debate

Inter-Collegiate debating at William and Mary is under the jurisdiction of two debate councils, one for men and one for women. During the past session, ambitious schedules were undertaken, William and Mary sending teams as far south as Georgia and as far west as Missouri.

Dramatics

Dramatics at William and Mary are governed by two organizations, the Dramatic Club which puts on an annual play, and the Department of Dramatics under the direction of Miss Althea Hunt. Miss Hunt's dramatic classes produce their work before public audiences at various times during the year.

Glee Clubs

There are two Glee Clubs on the campus, one each for the men and women. During the past session, the men's club went into the Southern intercollegiate meet in South Carolina and placed second. The women's club took first place in the state. Each year the glee clubs present some type of play. Last year the joint glee clubs presented "Plus Mary," a musical comedy.

Musical Comedy

It is the practice of the Varsity Club, assisted by the Men's Glee Club, to offer each year a womanless musical comedy. These go by the same name each year and are merely numbered consecutively as "Minus Mary," "Minus Mary II," "Minus Mary III," "Plus Mary."

Inter-fraternity Council

The executive council of the men's social fraternities is known as the Inter-fraternity Council. Two representatives from each fraternity form this council, with a purpose of working together and forming an everlasting friendship.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The executive council of the women's social fraternities is known as the Pan-Hellenic Council. Two representatives from each fraternity form this council, with the same purpose as the men's fraternities.

Mortarboard is a national women's honor society, whose members are elected in their junior year on the three-fold basis of scholarship, leadership, and personality. The local chapter of Alpha Club was founded in 1918 when women students were first admitted to the college and is the oldest co-ed organization at William and Mary. It was installed as a part of the national organization of Mortarboard in December, 1928. It endeavors to contribute some valuable service to the college each year, to foster and encourage scholarship and a wholesome college spirit. Mortarboard is the only women's senior honorary society in the United States.
