SUGGESTIONS TO NEW STUDENTS

JOIN the Y. M. C. A. and interest yourself in its work.

Use Sunday as a day of rest and worship; there are six days of work.

Attend the annual reception of the Y. M. C. A.; you will meet the members of the Faculty and your fellow-students there.

Be loyal to the College and help support the Athletic Association and the Lit.

Remember the service in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at 7:00 P. M. every Tuesday, and Bible class meeting on Friday evening at 7:00.

Don't cut lectures, or they'll cut you!

Never forget the "Honor system;" it is the tradition and pride of our College.

Get out and try for the Football Team; it will do you good.

Don't tell others how much you know; they'll find it out.

Join a Literary society and work.

Keep this book and use it; 'twas printed for you.

Learn the college yells and songs printed elsewhere.

Courses of study should be selected with great care. Ask one of the Professors to help you make out your "ticket." Too few lectures will mean a waste of time, too many result in poor work and may break down your health.

A student may change his classes within one week after admission; thereafter he must secure leave of the Faculty. Seventeen lectures are a good average for a first year man.

OUR ASSOCIATION.

THE chief work of our Association is the bringing of young men to the service of Christ, and the promotion of their welfare by mutual assistance and encouragement in temporal as well as in spiritual things. Our Y. M. C. A. is non-sectarian and endeavors to embrace all denominations; accomplishing work that is beyond the power of the churches. It aims to give a standard of manliness and purity, which shall lead to the highest life of college men in their college work.

The regular meetings of the Association are held each Tuesday at 7 P. M. It is the effort of our officers to secure the best speakers obtainable for these meetings, and to make them so interesting as to be worth the while of every student to attend.

The Week of Prayer will be observed this year as usual. A speaker of force and ability will be secured to lead these services.

In the classes for Mission study three courses are open to students, namely: 1. "Japan and its Regeneration." 2. "Effective Workers in Needy Fields." 3. "The Healing of the Nations." These courses are only from 8 to 12 lectures long. The classes meet once a week. Special attention has been given to the selection and training of readers in this department. A larger enrollment and greater awakening is hoped for than ever before in the great cause of missions.

In the classes for Bible study, four courses are open to all students. These are conducted by able leaders and we urge you to attend one of them. The classes meet once a week and are adjourned promptly at the end of three quarters of an hour. They are as follows: 1. "Studies in the Life of Christ." 2. "Studies in the Acts and the Epistles." 3. "Studies in Old Testament Characters." 4. "Studies in the Teaching of Jesus and his Apostles."

It is the custom of our Association to send delegates to the Summer Conference at Asheville, who come back bringing the ideas of experienced Christian workers. We trust even a larger number may have this great opportunity in future years.

These are but a few of the things which our Association attempts to accomplish, and it depends upon you, the students of our college, how far these objects will be attained. We invite you to join with us in the great work which we are trying to do in the Master's name. "Come with us and we will do thee good."

POINTERS.

Better look to see what you are signing when you matriculate.

Discipline is administered on the honor system. The student's word is accepted as truth, testimony is voluntary and not on oath; he is subject to no espionage, and even in examinations he is permitted to guarantee the honesty of his work by his personal pledge.

All students are expected to support the teams morally and financially. If you have any strength and grit, try for a team. The very least you can do is to attend the games and join the "Rooters."

Have a large circle of acquaintances, but go slowly in forming intimate friendships.

Do not make yourself conspicuous—you will get what you deserve by Senior Year.

Do not forget that you are a freshman in the college, not an upperclassman in your preparatory school.

Whatever you do, be sure to participate in some undergraduate activity, outside curriculum work; there are enough interests in college to meet the inclinations of every one.

Don't be a moral coward, but stand for what you know to be right from the start.

Do not lose your wits if a frat rushes you; take your time and look up the record of the frat, and the men you are asked to throw in your lot with. Remember you will become like them, so see if they are the kind you would like to become.

You will learn more from your associations than from your books, so be careful how you form them.

It does not pay to study late at night or on Sunday.

Remember that, as a new student, you are soon sized up.

Remember also, that it is not necessary to think and act just like the other fellow.

Don't think that you are the only new man; there will be plenty of others.

PATRONISE OUR ADVERTISERS—It is through their help that this book is a success.

WANTED—Short stories, sketches, essays, and poems at once. Send your manuscripts to P. L. Witchley, editor of the Mag. and do not be disappointed if it does not appear in the first number, for the Mag comes out 6 times during the session, provided the management does not go bankrupt, a very uncommon occurrence indeed.

GYMNASTICS.

THE gymnasium building of the College is one of the handsomest in the State. It is fitted with the most improved apparatus and is open every afternoon except Monday from 4 to 6. All State students are required, and others are urged to take regular classes under the direction of our competent instructor. Gymnastic exhibitions are given by the classes, and a day is set apart each session as field day. All the students contest in running, jumping and other outdoor exercise.

THE HONOR SYSTEM.

AMONG the most prized assets of William and Mary are her traditions, and most valuable of these traditions is the Honor System. We do not deem it necessary to attempt to explain what this means, Suffice it to say, the Honor System, is the basis of our student organization, and that it presumes every student to be a gentleman, and to conduct himself in an honorable and upright manner in all phases of student life. All class work, whether written or oral is supposed to represent the honest effort of each individual man and to all examinations and other written work such a pledge must be attached. Your word given to the professors will be accepted implicitly, and your pledge never questioned. Not only does this apply to examination and class work, but in every branch of college life you are supposed to exhibit the spirit of truth and honor that characterizes the true gentleman.

The Honor System is supported and enforced by the students themselves. Any infraction should be reported to the Executive Committee composed of the student-body officers and representatives from the various classes, and they will immediately investigate and bring the matter before the student body, by whom the violator will be dismissed from the college. The Honor System is the greatest pride of William and Mary, for we think that on such a principle rests the nobility of a man's character and the usefulness of his career.

SONGS.

ALMA MATER. .

Hark, the students' voices swelling,
Strong and true and clear;

Alma Mater's love are telling,
    Ringing far and near.

CHORUS.

William and Mary, loved of old,
    Hark upon the gale;
Hear the thunders of our chorus,
    Alma Mater,—Hail.

II.

All thy sons are faithful to thee
    Thro' their college days;
Singing loud from hearts that love thee,
    Alma Mater's praise.

III.

Iron-shod or golden sandaled,
    Shall the years go by;
Yet our hearts shall weave about thee
    Love that cannot die.

IV.

God, our Father, hear our voices,
    Listen to our cry;
Bless the college of our boyhood,
    Let her never die.

ON THE CHAPEL STEPS.

Here at the pleasant twilight hour,
    When daily tasks are o'er,
We gather on the College steps
    To sing our songs once more.
The braided branches of the elm
    In silence bend to hear,
And hoary walls and ancient halls
    Ring back our tones of cheer.

II.

From every haunted niche a voice,
    That sang in other days,
The current of its hopes and joys
    Runs softly 'neath our lays.
Oh! student songs! no mimic arts
    Your inborn charm can gain
Ye cheer our thirsty, dusty, hearts,
    Like chiming drops of rain.

EVENING ON THE CAMPUS.

When on the Colloge Campus comes evening's tender pall,

The moon-light comes to linger on chapel and on hall.

When day-light dies our voices rise,

While stars look down from silent skies,
We sing our college praises, and watch the shadows fall.

II.

The deepening gloom marks midnight, yet still we sit and sing.

While to the night airs gently the branches sway and swing.

Ah ! free from strife with gladness rife,

We bless our careless student life,
And to our College praises, we make the echoes ring.

EXAMINATIONS.

EXAMINATIONS are held twice a year—in February and June.
No books are allowed in the examination room, and the students are placed on honor neither to give nor receive any assistance.

Violations of this pledge are regarded by the students as one of the greatest dishonors a student may bring upon himself, and the offender is dealt with by the students themselves in the severest manner possible. You cannot be too careful in guarding against fraud.

Twelve hours to leave town and public expulsion is the mildest sentence ever rendered to a cheater on examinations.

PUBLICATIONS.

THE FLAT HAT, issued every Tuesday by the students, is the weekly newspaper of the college. In it are to be found accounts of all athletic and literary contests, as well as the college news in general. It touches the every day life of the student, and is, therefore, very popular. As the success of the publication depends largely upon the support given by the students, every man should be a subscriber to The Flat Hat. The subscription price is one dollar per year.

THE WILLIAM AND MARY LITERARY MAGAZINE is published throughout the session by the two literary societies, and for several years has maintained a position among college publications of which we may be justly proud. The aim of the magazine is to develop the literary talent of the student body. A handsome medal for the best prose contribution and a scholarship for the best poem are awarded each year by Hon. Robert M. Hughes, of Norfolk, Va.

MAGAZINE OFFICERS, 1913-14:

Editor-in-Chief, P. L. Witchley.

Business Manager, J. E. Taylor.

Assistant Business Manager, C. Jennings.

Alumni Editor, J. F. Barnes.

Famous and Infamous, H. A. Turner.

Exchanges, W. C. Ferguson,

Contributing Editors, H. L. Harris,
V. E. G. Emery.

THE COLONIAL ECHO is published each year as the annual of the College.

In it are to be found the pictures of all students and organizations and a record of the year's work. The Echo is always a beautiful and valuable book.

THE HANDBOOK, issued by the Young Men's Christian Association of the College, is a compact little volume of general information, and is published annually. The Association presents each student with a copy.

THE COLLEGE BULLETIN is published by the faculty and contains the official information in regard to the College. For the catalogue address, Pres. Lyon G. Tyler, Williamsburg, Va.

GERMAN CLUB.

THE German Club is composed of the dancing students of the College and its membership is by election after application.

Germans are usually given in the College Gymnasium at Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, and two at Finals. The officers of last year were E. L. Wright, President; Lewis Jones, Treasurer; T. C. Tilley, Secretary.

DRAMATIC CLUB.

THE Dramatic Club gives to its members an opportunity of training their talent in elocution.

Several plays will be given during the year for the benefit of some of the College institutions. Membership is by election.

LITERARY SOCIETIES,

IN the College there are two literary societies, the Phoenix, and the Philomathean. They meet each Saturday night for practice in debate, oratory, and declamation. Medals are offered each year for improvement in each of these departments, and final men are elected by each society to compete for medals in oratory and debate. Important features of society work are public meetings, intercollegiate debate and oratory. Last year the representative of W. and M., Mr. A. W. James, was the successful contestant in the State Oratorical Contest.

The Jefferson Liteary Society was organized last session for Academy men. It holds weekly meetings in the main college building, and like those of the College, offers improvement medals in the various phases of society work. It is the duty of every Academy man to become a member.

The officers of the Phoenix for the first term are J. F. Barnes, President; C. A. Scott, Secretary; W. C. Ferguson, Treasurer.

Those of the Philomathean are J. L. Tucker, President; H. A. Campbell, Secretary; W. C. Somers, Treasurer.

Those of the Jefferson are W. C. West, President; R. W. Moore, Treasurer; F. P. Early, Secretary.

FRATERNITIES.

WILLIAM and Mary was the birthplace of the Greek Letter Fraternity in America, the Alpha Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa being formed here December 5, 1776.

Only graduates of the College and men distinguished in letters, science or education are admitted to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa.

Among the undergraduate fraternities, the following have Chapters in good standing:

Theta Delta Chi.

Kappa Alpha.

Kappa Sigma.

Phi Kappa Alpha.

Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Membership in these societies are restricted within certain limits, and an invitation to join always originates with the fraternity. Usually a man's life is very much influenced by his fraternity. Therefore, before you accept an invitation, consider well the character of the men, and the policy of the chapter by which you are invited to become a member. It is best for the new student to wait awhile before joining any fraternity.

ATHLETICS.

ATHLETICS, as an important College activity, finds its justification in this expression: "Sana meus in Sano corpore."

It is in view of this fact that the various athletic teams of the college are organized and maintained. The standard and efficiency of this activity depends solely on the student-body and as such deserves their unlimited aid and moral support.

The manager for the football department for '13 is E. L. Wright, and J. H. Wright, captain.

GLEE AND MANDOLIN CLUB.

THE Glee Club is composed of the best musical talent in College. Several concerts are given during the year. If you have musical ability don't fail to join the club and help to make it a success.

LIBRARY.

 THE latest addition to the College building is a handsome brick library erected in 1908. The main reading room is adorned with many rare portraits and interesting relics. The reading table contains most of the current magazines and newspapers and many useful reference books. The stack room contains about 18,000 volumes, and new books are being constantly added to the library. Students are allowed to take out only two books at a time which they may keep for two weeks. Absolute silence is maintained in the reading room, so that you can read or study without interruption. The librarian, Miss Emily P. Christian, is always glad to help you in any way.

LIBRARY HOURS.

9 A. M. to 1 P. M.
3 P. M. to 4:30 P. M.
7:30 P. M. to 9:30 P. M.

TENNIS CLUB

 HIS Club maintains two courts which are open at all hours to its members. For several sessions tennis has been a favorite sport at College. All students are eligible to membership.

OUR COLLEGE.

THE College of William and Mary was founded in 1693, and is therefore the oldest college in America, with the single exception of Harvard. With a past filled with beautiful traditions and with the names of such immortal men as Jefferson and Monroe among its alumni, the history of our College is a constant inspiration to its students. William and Mary is non-sectarian and the student-body embraces many different denominations. It was here that the honor system had its birth and is still an unbroken rule of the College. When this principle is disregarded the culprit is as severely condemned by the students as by the Faculty.

WILLIAMSBURG, once the capital of Virginia, is replete with historic memories. At one end of its principal thoroughfare, Duke of Gloucester street, the College is situated, and at the other is the site of the Old Capitol, so famous in colonial history. The Model and Practice School of the College occupies the ground on the Palace Green where the Governor's Palace stood. Many houses are yet standing which were formerly owned by some of the greatest statesmen of the country.
