BUSCH TENNIS COURTS

One of the newest athletics venues at the College of William and Mary, the Busch Courts tennis complex opened in September of 2001. It is the outdoor home of the Tribe tennis squads.

The complex features eight individual hard court surfaces. Each court features California Corners, a unique design that includes quarter fences that run along the sidelines to allow for uninterrupted play. Prior to the 2007-08 school year, the courts at Busch were resurfaced.

There is stadium seating for approximately 500 people at Busch Courts, and there is also a state-of-the-art lighting system to accommodate night matches.

McCORMACK-NAGELSEN TENNIS CENTER

Dedicated to excellence in academics and athletics, the College of William and Mary in historic Colonial Williamsburg is proud to offer one of the finest athletic facilities in the country—the McCormack-Nagelsen Tennis Center. Located on South Henry Street adjacent to the graduate housing complex, the McCormack-Nagelsen Tennis Center, which opened in 1995, boasts impeccable tennis facilities and houses the Intercollegiate Tennis Association's Women's Tennis Hall of Fame. Prior to the 2007-08 school year, the courts at the tennis center were resurfaced.

The facility was made possible through a generous gift from Mark H. McCormack, a 1951 graduate of William and Mary, and his wife, former world-class tennis professional Betsy Nagelsen. As the former chairman, president and chief executive officer of International Management Group, McCormack was widely recognized as the founder of the sports marketing industry.

The McCormack-Nagelsen Tennis Center features six indoor tennis courts using the GreenSet GrandPrix Surface (rubberized base under color coat), air conditioning and indirect lighting at a competitive level. The facility also includes member and team locker rooms, several spacious lobbies and spectator viewing that boasts 362 stadium seats as well as a mezzanine seating area. In addition, the ITA and Rolex generously donated a state-of-the-art electronic scoreboard.

The Intercollegiate Tennis Association's Women's Tennis Hall of Fame contains a collection of artifacts and records pertaining to collegiate women's tennis, and enshrines former players, coaches and contributors that have impacted the sport. The Hall of Fame also functions as a library, archive and research center for intercollegiate women's tennis.

CHAMPIONSHIP CREDENTIALS

- The W&M duo of Megan Moulton-Levy and Katarina Zoricic won the women's tennis program's second national title, taking home the doubles crown at the 2006 ITA National Indoor Championship. The W&M pair went on to finish as the NCAA runner ups as well in 2007.

- The College has won 19 CAA Championships in the 23-year history of the conference, including the 2007 season. The Tribe has earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament on 16 occasions and in 2007 advanced to the round of 16 for the first time since 2003.

- On 16 occasions, including each of the last seven seasons, the Tribe has taken home an individual championship at the ITA East Regional in either singles or doubles.

TRIBE TENNIS ON THE ROAD

Over the last four years, the Tribe has made trips to the following states: Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Nevada, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Last season, the Tribe spent spring break in Colorado. Recently, W&M has also had extended road trips to Florida, Chicago, California, Texas, New Orleans and Las Vegas. The Tribe will have stops in Texas and California during the 2008 spring campaign.

ACTIVE IN THE COMMUNITY

The Tribe has not only been a success on the court, but it has also been an active member of the community as well. This past fall, the women's tennis program took part in the Raise a Racket tennis fund raiser to benefit March of Dimes, an organization that helps fight prematurity, birth defects and infant mortality. The event helped raise $7,000 for the organization. W&M student-athletes coached and played matches, with and against, the event's participants. The Tribe also checked participants in and sold raffle tickets at the event.

In the fall of 2005, both the men's and women's tennis programs helped raise money to benefit victims of Hurricane Katrina. The programs held a car wash and raised $1,200, which was donated to the American Red Cross specifically for the victims of the disaster.

KEVIN EPLEY
HEAD COACH
FIFTH SEASON AT W&M
SEVENTH SEASON OVERALL
SMU (1996)

In seven seasons as a Division I head coach, William and Mary's Kevin Epley has firmly established himself as one of the nation's elite mentors. A quick glance at his resume shows four top-10 national finishes and five conference championships. Individually, he has tutored an individual, or doubles team, to the NCAA's six out of the last seven years, highlighted by Megan Moulton-Levy and Katarina Zoricic's run to the finals of the NCAA Doubles Championship last season. In total, Epley's charges have produced a total of 15 All-America honors.

Over Epley's four-year tenure at W&M, the College is 78-31 (.716) in dual matches. On three occasions, including 2007, he has been named the Colonial Athletic Association Coach of the Year. Over his seven-year career as a Division I head coach, Epley is 133-50 (.727).

Epley led W&M to an impressive 22-3 mark during the 2007 dual match season, culminating in a Round of 16 appearance at the NCAA Championships in Athens, Ga. The College reeled off a school-record 11 consecutive wins to open the dual match campaign, including a 4-3 win over then-No.1 and eventual national champion Georgia Tech in February. It marked the first No. 1-ranked team the Tribe had defeated since the 1995 season. The Tribe captured its third CAA Championship under Epley and finished the season ranked No. 15 nationally. It was the highest final ranking for the College since finishing eighth in 2003.

The 2006-07 season was monumental individually for the Tribe as well. At the 2006 ITA National Indoor Championship, Epley coached Moulton-Levy and Zoricic to a national championship in doubles. The pair earned a spot in the championships by winning the East Region and then claimed the national title by winning the 16-team tournament, the most exclusive of the three collegiate national championship events.

The honors rolled in for the Tribe in 2007 as five W&M players earned All-CAA honors in singles, while a pair of doubles teams earned the accolade as well. The College swept the major CAA awards as Moulton-Levy won the CAA Player of the Year honor (her third) and the Most Outstanding Player at the CAA Tournament accolade as well, while Ragini Acharya was named the CAA Rookie of the Year and Epley garnered CAA Coach of the Year distinction. Moulton-Levy was an All-American in both singles and doubles, becoming the first Tribe player since 1998 to accomplish the feat. Zoricic was an All-American as well in doubles. Under Epley's direction, Moulton-Levy became the first female player to win the ITA/Arthur Ashe Award for Leadership and Sportsmanship in consecutive seasons (2006 and 2007).

During the 2006 outdoor season, the Tribe was ranked as high as No. 18 in the national polls and finished the year at No. 27. W&M advanced to the title match of the CAA Tournament and earned an at-large berth in the NCAA Tournament. The Tribe defeated three teams ranked among the top 20 nationally, including a victory over then-No. 5 Duke. Moulton-Levy became the first Tribe female singles player to reach the semifinals of the NCAA Individual Championships. Moulton-Levy was the first W&M singles player to earn All-American honors since 1998, while also raking in a plethora of other awards on the year, including CAA and VaSID Player of the Year and the ITA/Arthur Ashe Award for Leadership and Sportsmanship.

The Tribe ended 2005 ranked 20th in the nation after reaching a high of No. 6 during the season, the program's best ranking since 1997. W&M posted three wins over top-25 opponents, including a road upset over No. 5 Duke.

In 2004 and 2005, two Tribe doubles teams reached the quarterfinals of the NCAA Individual Championships. A Tribe player has been named CAA Player of the Year each of his seasons on campus, while the CAA Rookie of the Year has been awarded to a W&M player the last three years. Twelve singles players on 21 occasions have been named All-CAA, while nine doubles teams have earned first or second-team all-league honors over his three seasons.

Epley came to Williamsburg from Fresno State, where he led the Bulldogs program for three years. While at Fresno State, Epley led the team to the second round of the NCAA Tournament and a final national ranking of 25th or better each year, including a program-high eighth-place showing in the 2001 season. The Bulldogs won the Western Athletic Conference championship and Epley was named the WAC Coach of the Year in both 2002 and 2003. His tenure in Fresno produced eight All-Americans, two WAC Players of the Year and a WAC Freshman of the Year. The squad's success was not limited to the court as his teams achieved a combined grade point average of 3.6, or higher, each year at Fresno State.

Prior to his time at Fresno State, Epley was an assistant coach at the University of Arizona for the 1999-2000 season, helping the Wildcats to a No. 24 final national ranking and a trip to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. He was also an assistant coach at the University of Alabama for the 1998-99 campaign.

Epley has significant experience in coaching some of America's top professional players, including working with the legendary Billie Jean King as an assistant coach for the 2000 United States Olympic Women's Tennis Team, helping the U.S. win a gold and bronze medal in singles and another gold medal in doubles. In the summer of 2001, he was the head coach of the Saint Louis Aces of the World Team Tennis pro league, which included players such as Andy Roddick, Rick Leach, Lindsay Davenport and Jared Palmer. Epley served as an assistant coach on the U.S. Women's Tennis Federation Cup Team from 1996-2002 and also was a personal coach for Davenport and Patty Schnyder.

Epley grew up in the Baltimore area and graduated from Southern Methodist University in 1996 with a degree in finance. He was the team's No. 1 player and captain, and was twice selected to the Commissioner's Honor Roll for Academic and Athletic Excellence.

Epley and his wife, Krissy, reside in Williamsburg.

2007-08 TRIBE WOMEN'S TENNIS

Katarina Zoricic and Megan Moulton-Levy earned All-America honors in doubles and won the ITA National Indoor Championship in 2006-07.

With all eight players returning from last season's run to the NCAA Round of 16, the 2008 season appears to be a bright one for the Tribe. Last year, the College finished No. 15 nationally with a 22-3 overall mark, while winning its 19th CAA Championship. Fifth-year head coach Kevin Epley will have a luxury not afforded to many in the form of his entire lineup from a season ago returning in 2007-08.

W&M will be loaded as the top of the lineup, highlighted by a trio of players who were ranked among the top 90 in the country in the Fila/ITA National Preseason Singles Rankings. For the second straight season, senior Megan Moulton-Levy was ranked among the top-10 nationally at No. 7 followed by junior Katarina Zoricic and sophomore Ragini Acharya at No. 46 and No. 90, respectively. Moulton-Levy and Zoricic, who were ranked No. 2 at the end of the 2007 campaign in doubles, found themselves atop the preseason doubles rankings in the fall of 2007.

Moulton-Levy returns as not only the top player on the Tribe's roster, but the top player in the Colonial Athletic Association. Last season, Moulton-Levy was named the CAA Player of the Year for the third straight campaign and earned All-America accolades in both singles and doubles. A four-time All-American, she has 101 career singles victories and 102 career doubles wins following competition in the fall.

Moulton-Levy has held down the No. 1 singles position in each of her three years. In those seasons, the Monroe, Mich., native is 45-11 overall at the top singles spot. She owns 54 wins over nationally ranked players.

The W&M junior trio of Zoricic, Klaudyna Kasztelaniec and Barbara Zidek continued to make an impact in 2007 and will look for more of the same with the turn of the calendar. Zoricic, who finished last season ranked No. 69 nationally in singles, was a force at the No. 2 singles slot for the Tribe in 2007. She amassed an impressive 14-2 mark at the No. 2 position and, while filling in for an injured Moulton-Levy, went 3-1 at the top singles position. For the second straight season, Zoricic was a first-team all-league selection and earned the first All-America distinction of her career in doubles.

Zoricic's impact on the Tribe's lineup was no more evident than in the College's 4-3 upset of No. 1-ranked and eventual national champion Georgia Tech. With the match tied at three and despite battling cramps in her legs, Zoricic fought off No. 25-ranked Kirsten Flowers in three sets to clinch the Tribe victory. Zoricic finished last season at 30-8 overall with six wins over nationally ranked foes, including three against top-30 opponents.

Kasztelaniec enjoyed a breakout season in 2007. She finished last season at 25-9 overall in singles on her way to earning Third-Team All-CAA honors. She clinched both W&M victories in the NCAA Regional and claimed the College's lone victory in singles play against Georgia at the No. 4 slot. Kasztelaniec played as high as No. 3 for the Tribe last season, but spent the majority of the campaign at No. 4. In dual matches, she put up an impressive 13-4 mark.

Zidek made the brunt of her impact in the doubles lineup, but when called upon was up to the task in the W&M's singles rotation. For the second straight season, Zidek earned Second-Team All-CAA honors in doubles. She finished the year with 19 doubles wins and 17 singles victories.

The Tribe's sophomore quartet of Acharya, Magdalena Bresson, Carmen Pop and Lauren Sabacinski was highly touted entering their rookie campaign in 2007 and more than lived up to the hype. The group was ranked No. 2 in the Tennis Recruiting Network freshman class rankings. Combined, the quartet went 96-29 (.768) in singles and 80-29 (.734) in doubles.

Acharya was one of the top freshmen nationally, racking up an impressive 32-5 singles ledger. She moved up the singles lineup and found a home at the No. 3 slot. Acharya's singles winning percentage of .865 was the best ever for a W&M freshman and the second-highest overall in W&M history. At various times during the 2007 season, Acharya was ranked in the national singles rankings and won school-record 27-straight singles matches during her rookie campaign. The Pulaski, Va., native was named both the CAA and VaSID State Rookie of the Year in 2007.

Acharya continued her dominating play into the summer, winning the ITA Summer National Singles Championship in Bloomington, Ind. She defeated three of the top five seeded players at the event, including a win over the top-seed Lindsey Burdette of Stanford, who was an All-American in both singles and doubles and earned a final singles ranking of No. 23 in 2007.

Bresson and Sabacinski were both valuable pieces to the Tribe lineup at the No. 5 and No. 6 positions. Bresson was a Second-Team All-CAA selection and finished the year with 24 singles wins. She also won 30 doubles matches during her rookie campaign, which was the second-most for a Tribe freshman in school history.

Sabacinski was 15-4 in dual matches for the College on her way to a 26-7 overall singles ledger. She racked up a 10-4 dual-match record at the No. 6 position and a 5-0 mark at the No. 5 slot. Her singles winning percentage of .788 ranked as the ninth-best for a Tribe rookie in school history.

Pop finished her rookie season with a 13-4 singles mark. She won the opening 11 matches of W&M career. Pop won a pair of fall singles flights during her perfect 10-0 fall singles ledger.

W&M has a number of options in the doubles lineup highlighted by the All-America pair of Moulton-Levy and Zoricic. The duo finished last season at 40-4 overall and was the NCAA Doubles Championship runner up after winning the ITA National Indoor Doubles Championship during the fall season.

The doubles tandem of Kasztelaniec and Zidek earned Second-Team All-CAA honors. The Kasztelaniec-Zidek pair finished last season with a 9-4 record. The sophomore duo of Acharya and Bresson spent most of the 2007 season as a pair as well, playing at both the No. 2 and No. 3 pair's slots. The tandem went 18-6 overall last season. Acharya and Bresson finished the year on a high note, clinching the doubles point in the Tribe's CAA Championship match against VCU. The duo also won at the No. 3 slot against Georgia in the NCAA Round of 16 as part of its five-match winning streak to end the year.

Sabacinski could also figure into the Tribe's doubles lineup having teamed with both Kasztelaniec and Acharya. Sabacinski and Kasztelaniec earned CAA Doubles Team of the Week honors after helping the Tribe to wins over Wake Forest and Penn. Acharya and Sabacinski were a perfect 3-0 in doubles during the 2007 season. The pair clinched the doubles point for the College in NCAA Regional victories over Richmond and Wake Forest.

The Tribe will once again face a gantlet of a schedule in 2008. The W&M ledger includes 13 matches against teams who competed in the NCAA Tournament in 2007, including five teams that advanced to the NCAA Round of 16. The list of opponents who advanced to the round of 16 last season includes Northwestern (Jan. 20), Baylor (Feb. 23), Stanford (March 4), California (March 5), Fresno State (March 7). To make matters even more challenging, all five of those contests will come on the road.

W&M will make a pair of extended road trips in California and Texas during the 2008 season. Over a two-week period, W&M will face six opponents who were ranked among the top 40 in the final ITA rankings on the road. W&M will face No. 27 Texas on Feb. 22 followed by road trips to No. 13 Baylor on Feb. 23 and No. 38 TCU on Feb. 24. The Tribe will battle three top-15 teams in No. 2 Stanford on March 4, No. 5 California on March 5 and No. 14 Fresno State on March 7.

Along with its challenging schedule, the Tribe will compete in the prestigious ITA National Indoor Championships in Madison, Wis. It will be the 12th appearance for the College in the National Indoor Championships and the first for the College since 2004. W&M will look for its 20th CAA title at the conference championship, April 17-20, in Newport News, Va. The NCAA Championships will be hosted by Tulsa University at the Michael D. Case Tennis Center in Tulsa, Okla., May 15-26.

The Tribe advanced to the NCAA Round of 16 in 2007 after winning a pair of regional matches in Williamsburg as the No. 15 seed.

William and Mary's rise to national prominence is due, at least in part, to the team's success at the NCAA Championships. In 12 of the last 13 seasons and 16 overall, the Tribe has competed in the NCAA Championships as a team, while also sending numerous individuals to the NCAA Championships in singles and doubles. Although the College had previously placed athletes in the NCAA Tournament as individuals or doubles teams, William and Mary first reached the NAAs as a team in 1989. In the spring of 1992 the Tribe achieved its first victory at the NCAA Tournament, defeating 15th-ranked Miami in the first round.

Last season, the Tribe returned to the Round of 16 in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since the 2003 season. The College garnered the No. 15 seed in the tournament and hosted the NCAA Regional, while rolling past Richmond and Wake Forest.

In the spring of 1997 the Tribe earned its first victory in the round of 16. The Green and Gold posted a 5-0 victory over fifth-ranked Georgia to earn a trip to the quarterfinals for the first time in school history. In 1998, the Tribe again advanced to the quarterfinals earning a 5-3 victory over sixth-ranked California in the round of 16.

Although William and Mary can boast of team accomplishments at the NCAA Championships, numerous individuals and doubles teams have also had success at the NAAs. Last season, Megan Moulton-Levy and Katarina Zoricic advanced to the championship round of the NCAA Doubles Tournament, the deepest a W&M doubles team or singles player has ever advanced at the event. The pair finished the year ranked No. 2 nationally and earned ITA All-America honors.

In 2006, Moulton-Levy left her mark on the NCAA Singles Championship, becoming the first W&M player to advance to the semifinals of the 64-player tournament. She earned All-America honors for the second time in her career, defeating a pair of top-10 foes on the way to the semifinals. Moulton-Levy garnered the No. 8 in the NCAA Singles Championship and earned All-America accolades in singles for the second straight season.

The first individual to represent the Tribe was Namratha Appa-Roa, who qualified in the singles draw in 1986. During the past 19 years, W&M has placed a member of the team in the singles draw of the NAAs 25 times, while 17 teams qualified for the doubles championship.

Moulton-Levy and then-senior Candice Fuchs competed in the NCAA Doubles Tournament in 2005, with Moulton-Levy also earning a berth in the singles tournament. The duo reached the quarterfinals of the event and earned All-American honors. It was the second straight year that a W&M doubles team reached the quarterfinals, as 2006 graduate Megan Muth and 2005 graduate Amy Wei also accomplished the feat in 2004.

The Tribe saw its first NCAA All-American in 1991 when Kristine Kurth advanced to the second round. Julie Shiflet would pick up the honor in 1992 when she reached the round of 16. Karen van der Merwe earned two of her three All-America honors in 1992 when she advanced to the round of 16 on the singles side and teamed with Michele Mair to reach the round of 16 on the doubles side. She added her third honor in doubles in 1993 when she teamed with Katrin Guenther to reach the quarterfinals. Guenther would add another All-America honor in 1995 when she teamed with Lauren Nikolaus to reach the quarterfinals at the NAAs. Nikolaus would add a whopping five more All-America honors to the Tribe's trophy case, as she captured the award in singles in 1996, 1997 and 1998 and in doubles with Johanna Sones in 1997 and Michelle O in 1998.

In all, 13 different athletes have captured 24 All-America honors for William and Mary, while 29 different athletes have represented the team in 44 events at the NAAs in either singles or doubles since 1986.

Katarina Zoricic and Megan Moulton-Levy finished as the national runner-ups at the NCAA Doubles Championship in 2007.

MATCH-BY-MATCH RESULTS

William and Mary match-by-match results for every season since 1978-79. Women's tennis competition began at W&M in the 1921-22 academic year, but results are not consistently available until the 1978-79 season. W&M began playing women's tennis as a member of the Colonial Athletic Association in the 1984-85 season. The CAA champion has been determined by a dual-match tournament beginning with the 1995 season. Prior to that, the league champion was determined by an individual tournament.

The ITA Women's Collegiate Tennis Hall of Fame was created to celebrate the milestones in women's collegiate tennis, from the early struggles for recognition to the achievement of full-fledged intercollegiate competition. Established by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association, the Hall of Fame is operated by the College of William and Mary and is housed in the McCormack-Nagelsen Tennis Center on the William and Mary campus.

The Hall of Fame aspires to preserve the history and further the development of women's intercollegiate tennis through the collection of printed materials, trophies, photographs, equipment and other significant items.

Each year, the Hall of Fame enshrines exceptional players, coaches and contributors in women's intercollegiate tennis. The ITA Hall of Fame Committee selects inductees from the following categories:

- Outstanding collegiate players
- Players who attended college and had a significant impact on women's tennis
- Outstanding collegiate coaches
- Individuals or corporations playing a major role in the development of women's intercollegiate tennis

Millie West serves as the curator of the ITA Women's Collegiate Tennis Hall of Fame. An integral part of William and Mary athletics for more than 40 years, she is currently Director of Special Projects for W&M, after retiring in 1991 as the College's Associate Athletics Director. West also served as Women's Athletics Director and coached both tennis and swimming in her tenure.

A highly successful fundraiser, she has been a key in the success of the four BASF Wightman Cup tennis tournaments held at the College, as well as the annual Joseph J. Plumeri/W&M

Pro-Am golf tournament which has reaped great benefits for the Tribe. West coordinated W&M's Indoor Tennis Center Project, which brought the state-of-the-art McCormack-Nagelsen Tennis Center to the Williamsburg campus. She was inducted into the ITA Women's Collegiate Tennis Hall of Fame in 1998, and has also been selected to the William and Mary and Mid-Atlantic Tennis Hall of Fame.

A 1957 graduate of Georgia College, West received that school's Alumni Achievement Award. She serves on executive committees for the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame and Williamsburg Community Health Foundation and is a member of the Old Point National Bank Advisory Board.

MARK MCCORMACK TRIBUTE

William and Mary lost a favorite son on May 16, 2003, with the death of Mark Hume McCormack, a 1951 graduate of the College. McCormack had been in coma since January after suffering a heart attack. Named by ESPN as one of the century's most influential people in the business of sport, he revolutionized the world of sports marketing with the founding of International Management Group (IMG).

A devoted and dedicated supporter of Tribe athletics, he and his wife, Betsy Nagelsen founded W&M's McCormack-Nagelsen Tennis Center, endowed a tennis scholarship and were continuing sponsors of the ITA Women's Tennis Hall of Fame. Also a member of W&M's Board of Visitors, McCormack chaired the College's fund-raising campaign in 1993 that raised $153 million and was the honorary chair of the College's current $500 million campaign.

Mark McCormack with W&M's Director of Special Projects Millie West and former president Timothy J. Sullivan.

WILLIAM AND MARY REFLECTS ON THE LIFE OF MARK MCCORMACK

"Mark McCormack was truly an honored son of the College. Few individuals in the course of their lifetime have the chance to see and feel and know the influence they have had on the quality and character of an institution. Mark's influence on William and Mary can be seen not only in the physical buildings he made possible by his generosity, but in the highest level of excellence he expected from his alma mater and from those of us fortunate enough to call him a friend."

—Former W&M President Timothy J. Sullivan

"Obviously his loss is enormous, to both the athletics department and the general campus community. He was an icon and a founder of an industry and his generosity touched many within the W&M community. What made Mark even more special was, despite his hectic schedule, he always found the time to show a special interest in the lives of our student-athletes and took the time to establish lasting personal relationships."

—W&M Director of Athletics Terry Driscoll

"There is no way that I can adequately express the loss of a person like Mark McCormack. He was a devoted contributor of time, resources and talent to the College of William and Mary, and especially the men's and women's tennis programs."

—W&M Director of Special Projects Millie West

"Personally, the area that impressed me most about Mark McCormack was that he always wanted to blend in and not stand out. He came to the tennis center he built for our program and would just want to watch, he wasn't out to call attention to himself or make himself look impressive. Professionally, he was the W&M men's tennis program. He donated the money and vision to build the best tennis center in the nation, but he also gave the program much more in terms of his time and interest in its progress and success."

—W&M Head Men's Tennis Coach Peter Daub

"There are not enough words to describe what Mark McCormack has done for me and the W&M women's tennis program. His generosity and support played a direct role in all of our team's successes. One of the many traits that I truly admired was his ability to treat everyone with respect and make them feel special and appreciated."

—Former W&M Head Women's Tennis Coach Brian Kalbas

Mark McCormack provided the funding for the McCormack-Nagelsen Tennis Center, one of the finest indoor college tennis facilities in the nation.

TRIBE ATHLETICS

ATHLETIC SUCCESS

The 2006-07 season was another strong year for the College, as Tribe teams added four more CAA titles to bring the school's all-time league-leading total to 88.

The men's cross country squad won its seventh consecutive CAA crown in the fall, while the women's cross country team won its fourth straight. The women's swimming team won its first CAA Championship, while the women's tennis team added its 19th all-time CAA crown in the spring.

Individually, the women's tennis doubles team of Megan Moulton-Levy and Katarina Zoric reached the title match of the NCAA Doubles Championship, earning All-America honors. Katie Radloff became the first female swimmer to advance to the NCAA's since 1983. Additionally, Keith Bechtol raced to a 14th-place finish in the 10,000m, while Bonnie Meekins placed 16th in the heptathlon at the NCAA Track and Field Championships.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The Tribe's athletic accomplishments do not come at the expense of its student-athlete's academic responsibilities.

This year, the NCAA honored 13 W&M teams as recipients of its public recognition award. The Tribe teams recognized are baseball, men's and women's cross country, football, men's and women's golf, men's and women's gymnastics, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field and volleyball.

Additionally, in the latest NCAA graduation rate reports, three Tribe teams posted 100% graduation rates, including football, women's basketball and women's cross country/track.

Since 1992, 39 student-athletes have been designated Academic All-Americans, including three in the past academic year. Keith Bechtol (men's track) was a First-Team selection, Ryan Overdevest (men's soccer) was a Second-Team selection and Anna Young (women's soccer) was a Third-Team selection.

In 2002-03, the CAA created a Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award in each of its sports, and not surprisingly, W&M has set the pace with 22 winners. Bechtol was the CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year in both cross country and track and field, bringing his career award total to five. Meghan Bishop (women's cross country) earned her fourth CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year award in the fall in cross country.

In addition, four of W&M's five Rhodes scholars participated in varsity sports.

Terry Driscoll Athletics Director

Under the steady guidance and watchful eye of Terry Driscoll, the William and Mary Athletics Department has solidified its standing as one of the nation's preeminent broad-based programs. As Driscoll enters his 12th year as athletics director, he has overseen an unprecedented era of improvement in terms of funding and facilities while also maintaining the College's rich history of producing well-rounded student-athletes.

Driscoll oversees a program that William and Mary President Gene Nichol proclaimed "The nation's gold standard" when it came to balancing academic demands with athletic success. One of the department's stated goals each year is to finish among the top 100 in the annual Director's Cup rankings, which has happened in all but one of the years that Driscoll has been the director.

In the last four years alone, the Tribe's program has combined for a total of 19 Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) titles. This past season, W&M claimed four CAA titles (Men's and Women's Cross Country, Women's Swimming and Women's Tennis). In 2004-05, the Tribe captured five CAA championships and an Atlantic 10 Football title. As recently as 2002-03, W&M had a school-record 10 teams compete in the NCAA Tournament, with four teams winning conference titles and six that finished in the top 25 at the end of their respective seasons. Overall, no team in the CAA can claim more all-time league championships than the 88 William and Mary has earned.

As impressive as the athletic accomplishments have been during Driscoll's tenure, the program's academic successes have been even greater. In the NCAA's inaugural (2004) APR rankings, a measurement of academic progress based on academic eligibility, retention, and graduation of student-athletes, W&M was fourth in the nation overall and first among institutions offering athletic performance-based scholarships. Additionally, the Tribe football team has twice posted a 100 percent graduation rate, while the majority of the program's squads have consistently ranked among the nation's finest in terms of graduation. In 2002, the CAA started recognizing Scholar-Athletes of the Year for each of the 22 sports it sponsors, and the College has had a conference-high 22 individuals receive the honor.

Despite the many academic and athletic successes, Driscoll's impact on the program has been equally impressive in terms of physical and financial improvements. Since taking over as athletics director, Driscoll has overseen the construction of more than $20 million in new facilities, including Plumeri Park (baseball), Albert-Daly Field (soccer, lacrosse) and the Busch Courts (tennis). The total increased significantly when Driscoll announced plans to build the $11 million, 30,000-square foot Jimmie Laycock Football Center at Zable Stadium, which is scheduled to open in time for the 2008 season. This impressive structure follows closely on the heels of the installation of a $650,000 permanent lighting system (2006) and an $840,000 state-of-the-art Field Turf Pro artificial playing surface (2006) inside the stadium. Yet another significant upgrade will be unveiled inside the venerable structure for 2007, as the department will install an $800,000-plus brand new video scoreboard by the season opener.

In addition to the physical structures, Driscoll has also worked with the Associate Athletics Director for Development, Bobby Dwyer, to increase the annual fundraising totals for non-capital projects from $1.36 million in 1995 to the current annual total of approximately $2.7 million.

A true student-athlete himself, Driscoll's leadership skills were developed during his collegiate years. As a student-athlete at Boston College, Driscoll captained the basketball team to the National Invitation Tournament Finals as a senior, and was named the tournament MVP. In addition to being named an All-American, his success in the classroom as a biology major garnered him an Academic All-America honor.

After graduating from BC, he was the fourth overall pick of the 1969 NBA Draft, selected by the Detroit Pistons, just three spots after the Milwaukee Bucks chose UCLA's Lew Alcindor, later to be known as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. Driscoll chose to play a year in Italy first, but then returned to the U.S. to play for the Pistons, Washington Bullets and Milwaukee Bucks before going back to Italy as a player and then coach until 1980.

Driscoll then entered the corporate world in 1980, working for Kazmaier Associates, Inc., an international sporting goods sales and sports marketing firm. After Kazmaier purchased Bike Athletic in 1986, KSG Inc. was formed with the objective of becoming the first, and only, national sales agency in the sporting goods industry. By 1987, Driscoll was president of the company and had expanded the agency to all 50 states just two years later. In early 1990, Driscoll's contribution to a marketing research project for the NCAA was the initial step moving him from product marketing and sales to sports marketing and management. The result of the project was a joint venture between Kazmaier Associates and Host Communications - with Driscoll being named managing director and chief operating officer of NCAA International.

In 1993, Driscoll diversified his experience in the athletic world by working as the executive director of the 1994 World Cup site in Boston. In September of that year, Driscoll was again enlisted to launch a new business, Eagle International Group, an event management and services company. As vice president, Driscoll worked with Hawaii Pacific Sports to organizing the Women's World Volleyball Grand Prix competition in Honolulu.

Driscoll resides in Williamsburg with his wife, Susan. The couple has two children - Keith, a 1997 graduate of Holy Cross, and Leslie, a 2001 graduate of William and Mary.

Barbara Blosser Senior Associate Athletics Director

Few names in the William and Mary Athletics Department are as familiar, or respected, as that of Senior Associate Athletics Director Barbara Blosser. Since first arriving on campus in 1978, Blosser has touched the lives of thousands of Tribe student-athletes.

She has held her current title since April of 2004, after spending the previous 12 years as the associate athletic director. In each role, Blosser has served as an integral part of nearly every facet of the department's daily operations.

Blosser started her career at William and Mary as the head women's basketball coach in 1978 and guided the Tribe to a VAIW crown in her first season with a then school-record 16 wins (16-13). Her 1980 Tribe team (11-14) placed third, while the 1981 squad (16-16) was VAIW runner-up. She was also at the helm during the 1984-85 season when William and Mary made the jump to NCAA Division I. Overall, she finished her coaching career with 115 wins, 84 of which came at William and Mary.

When the College's men's and women's athletic programs merged in May of 1986, she moved to administration, first serving as the assistant to the associate athletics director. Over the past 17 years, her administrative responsibilities at W&M have included the monitoring of financial aid matters, coordinating the scheduling of athletic facilities, supervision of coaches and staff and, currently, serving as the person primarily responsible for administering the day-to-day operations of the department.

From October 1992 to June 1993 and August 1995 to July 1996, Blosser also served as acting athletics director in an interim capacity. For her efforts, she was named the first recipient of the John Randolph Inspiration Award. Blosser has served on various committees such as the NCAA Strategic Planning Committee and the Colonial Athletic Association Competition Committee.

Blosser began her coaching career at the helm of the women's basketball program at Ashland College in Ohio. During two seasons there, she led the Eagles to successive 15-7 and 16-8 ledgers. Her 1977 squad won the AIAW Region V Championship, while her 1978 team took the OASISW Small College title.

A former three-sport standout at Ohio State, Blosser graduated Cum Laude in 1975 with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education. At OSU, she was selected to both Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board. She competed in basketball, field hockey and tennis and captained both the basketball and field hockey squads her senior year. She went on to earn her master's degree from the University of North Carolina Greensboro in 1978.

Gene R. Nichol President

Gene R. Nichol became the 26th president of the College of William and Mary on July 1, 2005.

Before returning to Williamsburg, where he taught two decades ago, Nichol was Burton Craig Professor and Dean of the law school at the University of North Carolina. He served as Law Dean at the University of Colorado from 1988 to 1995, and as James Gould Cutler Professor and Director of the Institute of Bill of Rights Law at William and Mary from 1985 to 1988. Nichol was also a faculty member at the University of Florida and West Virginia University. He founded the Byron R. White Center for the Study of American Constitutional Law at the University of Colorado (1990) and the Center for Civil Rights at the University of North Carolina (2001).

Nichol teaches courses in constitutional law and civil rights. He is the co-author of Federal Courts: Cases, Comments, and Questions (West, 2000) and a contributor to Where We Stand: Voices of Southern Dissent (NewSouth Books, 2004). Nichol has published articles and essays in the Harvard Law Review, the Yale Law Journal, the University of Chicago Law Review, the University of Pennsylvania Law Review, the Michigan Law Review, the California Law Review, the Virginia Law Review and an array of other leading legal journals. From 1998 to 1999, he was a political columnist for the Rocky Mountain News and the Colorado Daily. From 1999 to 2005, he was a regular op-ed writer for the Raleigh News & Observer. He has also written for The Nation and other periodicals.

Nichol has been significantly involved in public affairs. He has testified before a number of committees of the United States Congress and various state legislatures. In 1991, he was appointed special master by a three-judge federal court in Colorado to mediate a redistricting dispute between the governor and the legislature. The accord was ratified by statute. A year later he helped head the Colorado Reapportionment Commission. In 2004, Nichol led the North Carolina Bi-Partisan Commission on Lobbying Reform; legislation was passed enacting commission recommendations. He ran unsuccessfully for national political office while in Colorado. He has been elected to membership in the American Law Institute and the American Bar Foundation Fellows.

In 2003, Nichol won the American Bar Association's Edward R. Finch Award for delivering the nation's best Law Day address. Two years later, Governor Michael Easley inducted Nichol into the Order of the Long Leaf Pine, the state of North Carolina's highest civilian honor, and the national judicial access organization, Equal Justice Works, named him outstanding law school dean of the year.

At the College of William and Mary, Nichol has markedly increased access for students of color. He also created the Gateway William and Mary program, an innovative financial aid program that puts a quality education within the reach of all Virginians, regardless of their ability to pay.

Nichol attended Oklahoma State University, where he received a degree in philosophy and played varsity football. He obtained his J.D. from the University of Texas, graduating Order of the Coif in 1976. He is married to Glenn George, a scholar of employment and labor law and a member of the faculty at the William and Mary's Marshall-Wythe School of Law. They have three daughters: Jesse (19), Jenny (18), and Soren (14).

Sandra Day O'Connor Chancellor

Sandra Day O'Connor, one of the most distinguished jurists in the history of the United States Supreme Court—and its first female justice—addressed the most profound legal issues of her age with wisdom, courage, and skill. After a long career in public service, including nearly a quarter century on the nation's highest court, she retired in 2006.

Justice O'Connor spent her childhood on an isolated cattle ranch in southeastern Arizona tending to a variety of ranch chores, raising farm animals, and reading voraciously. After completing school in El Paso, Texas, she journeyed west to continue her education at Stanford University, where her professors inspired and challenged her to make a difference in her nation and the world.

Justice O'Connor earned a B.A. in economics (magna cum laude) from Stanford University and a LL.B. from Stanford Law School. She was an editor of the law review and graduated third in her law class—two spots behind her friend and future colleague, the late Chief Justice William Rehnquist.

After being admitted to the bar, Justice O'Connor served as Deputy County Attorney of San Mateo County, California, from 1952 to 1953, and as a civilian attorney for the U.S. Army Quartermaster Market Center in Frankfurt, Germany, from 1954 to 1957. From 1958 to 1960, she practiced law in Maryvale, Arizona, and served as Assistant Attorney General of Arizona from 1965 to 1969. She was appointed to the Arizona State Senate in 1969, and was subsequently reelected to two two-year terms, during which she served as Majority Leader. In 1975, she was elected Judge of the Maricopa County Superior Court and served until 1979, when she was appointed to the Arizona Court of Appeals.

President Reagan nominated her as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, and she took her seat September 25, 1981. She succeeded the Honorable Henry A. Kissinger as Chancellor of the College of William and Mary in 2005. In the year since her investiture, she has visited the College several times, visiting classes, talking with students, and addressing two academic conferences.

She is married to John Jay O'Connor III, whom she met in law school. They have three sons: Scott, Brian, and Jay.

THE COLLEGE

For more than 300 years, William and Mary has been a symbol of academic distinction in America. Now, in its fourth century, the College is prepared to educate the leaders of the 21st century.

The College of William and Mary was founded in 1693 by King William III and Queen Mary II of England. Four Presidents of the United States received their education at the College - George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe and John Tyler.

William and Mary was the first college to institute an honor code of conduct. The premier academic society, Phi Beta Kappa, was founded by William and Mary students in 1776. The Society of the Alumni, founded in 1842, is the sixth oldest alumni group in the nation. Now the College is designated as a "Public Ivy", and ranks sixth among all public universities (U.S. News and World Report).

Athletics Department Goals

We take pride in the many achievements of William and Mary athletes, both in the classroom and on the playing fields. These support services and many others are in place to help each student-athlete achieve their goals. It is our hope that at the completion of their undergraduate career they can reflect upon:

1. An academic experience that prepared them for a successful career.
2. An athletic challenge that brought many rewards.
3. A feeling of loyalty and pride in identifying themselves as a varsity athlete with a degree from the College of William and Mary.

Sports Psychology

Deidre Connelly, Ph.D., is the College's full-time sport psychologist. All consultations are confidential and all student-athletes, teams or coaches are welcome regardless of the issues they wish to discuss. Consultation is available for sport psychology education, performance enhancement skills training, strategies for dealing with stress or injury, or for personal issues that may affect performance.

Compliance, Academic Support

As members of the Colonial Athletic Association and the NCAA, the College is committed to full compliance with all NCAA and conference regulations. The department has a full-time Director of Compliance, Pamela Mason, who is committed to assisting students, staff and coaches through education and monitoring of compliance issues.

The department offers a variety of study, life and career building skills programs, but holds firm to the concept of self-determination—each student must take responsibility for his or her collegiate experience. Our goal is to ensure that there is a support system in place to assist students to make positive and informed decisions.

Speed, Strength, Conditioning

Tribe Athletics is very proud of the Joseph W. Montgomery Strength Training Center, a 5,000 square foot weight training facility. Under the guidance of the Head Speed, Strength and Conditioning Coach John Sauer, each sport is provided with a program designed to enhance individual strength and flexibility development specific to the skills and movements required for their sport. Individuals are educated on proper lifting techniques and workouts are monitored to ensure safety at all times.

Sports Medicine

The Division of Sports Medicine provides a comprehensive health care program for the department of inter-collegiate athletics. The staff consists of Assistant Athletics Director for Health Services, Steve Cole, a team physician, seven full-time certified athletic trainers, two graduate assistant athletic trainers and medical specialists from the local community. The team physician has overall responsibility for supervision of the sports medicine program. Tribe athletes have the luxury of rehabilitating and treating injuries in a state-of-the-art athletic training facility.
