KATHY NEWBERRY

Former Tribe standout Kathy Newberry assumed the role of head coach for both the women's track and field and cross country programs in March 2005 after serving the previous two years as a volunteer assistant coach to the Tribe's men's cross country and track programs. Showing no drop-off in the tradition of excellence built over the past decade and a half, Newberry has already directed the program to five Colonial Athletic Association titles and was named CAA Coach of the Year in both cross country and track in 2005-06.

Most recently, Newberry led the Tribe to its 15th CAA Championship in cross country, winning a 40-50 decision over James Madison. Senior Erin Prillaman took runner-up honors at CAAs, leading classmates Anna Parker and Emily Gousen, as well as sophomore Emily Anderson, on the All-CAA team. Anderson also earned All-Region honors after placing 20th at the Southeast Regional. At the ECAC Championships, Anderson came up big yet again with a fourth-place finish to earn All-East accolades and lead the Tribe to its second consecutive silver medal. Prillaman, Parker, and Gousen each capped off their cross country careers with All-East honors, while sophomore Kayley Byrne made the All-East team for the first time.

The 2006 cross country season was a solid entry into the College annals, as the team won its fourth-straight CAA title and placed a program-best second at the ECAC Championships. Meghan Bishop became the Tribe's seventh harrier to earn four All-CAA honors by placing second at the CAA Championships, and was fourth at the ECAC Championships to earn All-East accolades. Junior Emily Gousen made huge strides last season, winning the Tribe Open by over 40 seconds and also earning All-CAA and All-East honors. Freshman Anna Brousell appeared in a team-high seven races, earning all-conference and All-East acclaim as well as running at the NCAA Southeast Regional.

The Tribe followed up in the spring by posting its first qualifier to the NCAA Championships since 2004, as Bonnie Meekins competed in the heptathlon and placed 16th. The College also produced six CAA champions and one ECAC titlist. The distance corps was in full force at the CAA Championships, taking every race 1,500m and longer at the conference meet. Freshman Emily Anderson was the CAA Champion at 1,500m, marking the fourth time in the past five years that a W&M athlete had won the event, and the third time in that span the winner had been a freshman. Senior Kate Willaver won the 3,000m steeplechase for her first conference title, and Bishop won the 5,000m for her third crown. Gousen completed the sweep by winning the 10,000m in a meet-record time of 36:04.05. Gousen also earned All-East both indoors and outdoors at 5,000m, finishing second at the outdoor ECAC Championships in 16:58.90.

In Newberry's first season at the helm of the cross country program, her athletes far out-stripped the expectations of most observers, culminating in an upset of 24th-ranked North Carolina for fifth at the Southeast Region Championships, gaining the team its first at-large berth to the NCAA Championship since 2002. Under her tutelage, the Tribe recorded four team victories in 11 attempts, including a third-consecutive CAA crown. Led by the efforts of juniors Meghan Bishop and Julia Cathcart, who finished one-two for the College in every race they ran, William and Mary's return to the NCAA Championships was a success as the school placed 23rd and narrowly missed upsetting the Tar Heels again. The duo, who were the CAA Co-Rookies of the Year in 2003, finished 76th and 86th, respectively, and also earned all-conference and all-region honors.

Freshmen played a big role in the success of the harrier's season as well, as three ran in the CAA Championships and one, Kelsey Snowden, also participated at the Southeast Regional. Fellow freshman Emily Schroeder not only counted an appearance at the CAAs in her season's accomplishments, but also earned her first individual collegiate title at the Tribe Open. The team was also a hit in the classroom, earning Academic All-America honors from the women's cross country coaches association (WICCCA) for the seventh consecutive season, and Bishop was honored by the CAA as Scholar-Athlete of the Year and by WICCCA as an All-Academic team member.

The 2006 track season also proved to be a smashing success, as the women won their sixth-straight CAA crown and sent numerous individuals to the NCAA Regional. Bishop earned All-East honors indoors and outdoors at 3,000m, and set huge personal records in both the 3,000m and 5,000m. She took fourth in the 3,000m indoors at ECACs, qualifying provisionally for the NCAA Championships and ranking fourth all-time at W&M with a time of 9:31.25. Outdoors, she ran a stunning 40 seconds below her previous best in the 5,000m at Stanford, timing 16:18.49 to qualify for the NCAA Regionals. The mark also ranks fourth in the school record books.

Kristyn Shiring took second in the CAA 5,000m for the second year in a row, and was also a double All-East honoree at 5,000m, qualifying for the NCAA Regional with her runner-up performance at the outdoor ECACs.

At the CAA Championships, Newberry's athletes won four titles, the 800m, 5,000m, discus, and heptathlon. They also earned second-place showings at 1,500m, 3,000m steeplechase, 10,000m, shot-put, and hammer throw. Senior Lydia Malley had a breakout season, winning the CAA 800m and earning All-East honors individually at 800m and as part of the 4x800m relay team that took second, along with sophomore Allie Lewis and freshmen Schroeder and Rebecca Ward. Cathcart was the CAA 5,000m champion in meet-record time and was named All-East outdoors. At the conclusion of the season, the CAA named Bishop as its Scholar-Athlete of the Year for women's track, giving her an unprecedented third such honor. Also, the coaches voted Newberry as Coach of the Year, giving her the sweep of the year's awards.

In 2005, the team took the conference track championships by storm, winning four titles and garnering 20 All-CAA nods. Senior Jackie Kosakowski was the runner-up in the CAA 3,000m steeplechase and followed up a month later with the ECAC crown in the same event. Bishop won her second 1,500m title at the CAA Championships, and was on pace for All-East honors in the event before she was knocked to the track in the finals. Shiring exploded at the indoor ECAC championships, running 41 seconds below her previous best at 5,000m to qualify provisionally for the NCAA Championships. She also hit the provisional mark outdoors for 10,000m, winning the Raleigh Relays in 34:46.60. In all, Newberry's inaugural season yielded four CAA champions, one ECAC champion, 20 all-conference citations, three indoor and five outdoor All-East nods, four NCAA Provisional marks, 11 bids to the indoor ECAC meet, 26 bids to the outdoor ECAC meet, and five NCAA Regional berths (four individual, one relay).

Still an active competitor at the national level, competing regularly both on the track and in road races, Newberry qualified for the 2004 Olympic Trials finals in both the 5,000m and 10,000m, finishing 13th and 14th, respectively. She also ended 2004 ranked 10th nationally in the 10,000m. A four-time qualifier for the U.S. National Cross Country Team, Newberry finished 25th at the 2004 World Cross Country Championships as the second-fastest American in the 8,000m race. She again competed at the 2005 Worlds, finishing in 38th as the third-fastest American, after qualifying with a fourth-place finish at the 2005 USA Cross Country Championships. In 2003, she was ranked 17th in the nation in the 5,000m and placed 11th in that distance at the 2003 USAT&F Championships. Newberry also raced to third in the 2003 USAT&F Fall Cross Country Championships and also competed at the 2005 USAT&F Championships in the 5,000m.

An ace for the Tribe from 1996 to 2000, Newberry claimed two CAA titles (3,000m and 5,000m) and earned multiple All-East designations. She was All-CAA and all-region in cross country every season and was the top finisher on the 1998 Tribe cross country squad that finished a best-ever 10th at the NCAA Championships, just missing All-America honors in 43rd place. She still holds the College records in the indoor distance medley relay (11:39.85) and outdoor 4x1,500m relay (18:08.88). She also boasts the Tribe's fourth-fastest 1,500m time (4:28.37), fifth-fastest 3,000m time (9:38.13) and ninth-fastest 5,000m time (16:49.29). In her postcollegiate career she has dropped her times further, running 15:45.32 for 5,000m and 32:45.78 for 10,000m.

She has previous coaching experience at Stephen F. Austin State University where she served as a volunteer assistant, helping the Lumberjacks sweep the conference titles in both men's and women's cross country and mentoring several conference titlists and a national qualifier. A resident of Williamsburg, Newberry was married in the summer of 2005 to the Tribe's head men's track and cross country coach, Alex Gibby.

DAN STIMSON

In his 22nd year as Director of Track and Field at William and Mary, Dan Stimson oversees a program that has demonstrated success both in the classroom and on the track, and has served as an exemplary model for what collegiate athletics should be all about. In recognition of his years of service, the College honored Coach Stimson in 2007 by naming the new throwing facility in his honor, the Stimson Throwing Events Area. Made possible through a generous donation from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Showker, the facility includes an Olympic throwing cage with circles for both the hammer and discus, two shot put circles, and javelin runway.

The men's and women's programs have combined for 17 Colonial Athletic Association titles out of 22 possible since the 2002-03 school year, and have garnered numerous CAA Athlete and Rookie of the Year awards. The 2006-07 season was another banner year for the squads, as Stimson's program captured both CAA cross country titles: the seventh consecutive conference title for the men's team and fourth in a row for the women's squad. Punctuating the season was the 10th-straight NCAA team qualification for men's cross country, an achievement only four other schools can claim. To date, Stimson's programs have produced 55 All-Americans and one Olympian.

Stimson, who works primarily with the throwers, jumpers, and multi-eventers, has mentored many W&M athletes to national prominence in his tenure. Due to the absence of the javelin or the hammer throw at the high school level in Virginia and other nearby states, Stimson has earned a reputation for his ability to develop young talent.

His coaching credits include W&M hammer throw record-holder Mike Howell, who started with the hammer in his rookie season at W&M, and progressed through the ranks until his senior year, when he posted the eighth-best mark by an American collegian (206'1"). Decathlon record-holder Todd Doughty (7,240 points) benefited from his time with Stimson as well, working his way from a walk-on to one of the top 20 decathletes in the country over the course of his career at W&M.

On the women's side, Stimson coached All-America high jumper Lisa Rayner to an 11th-place finish at the NCAA Championships and a school-record mark of 5'11.25" in 1994. Wendy Warren, the school record-holder in the javelin (153'6"), was discovered in a physical education class and went on to earn All-East honors and place sixth at the ECAC Championships. Stimson coached pole vaulter Charlotte LaRoche to second place in the ECAC Championships and a school record of 13'1" in her freshman season. He then guided steady improvement throughout her career, culminating in 2004 with her second conference title and double All-East honors. Stimson has had numerous All-East performers in all of the field events.

A recent example of Stimson's coaching ability can be seen in 2004 graduate Chris Parsons. As a freshman, Parsons made a powerful debut, winning CAA titles in both the shot put and the javelin, enabling him to be selected for the United States Junior National Team. He followed up his impressive freshman season with a sophomore campaign that featured top CAA finishes in the discus (fourth), javelin (third), hammer (second) and a second straight first-place showing in the shot put. Parsons went on to garner All-East honors in the hammer at the IC4A meet. In 2003 Parsons was named CAA Scholar-Athlete of the year, after earning a pair of all-conference honors by finishing second in both the shot and the hammer at the CAA Championships. Parsons capped his career in style, winning the 2004 CAA title in the shot and hammer and breaking the NCAA Regional mark in both events.

More Stimson-guided athletes litter the W&M and CAA record books. In 2005, Ayanna Jones claimed her second shot put title at the CAA Championships, the fifth-consecutive year a Tribe woman had won the event. She would go on to shatter the 23-year old school record in the event, putting the shot 48' 6" in the ECAC Championships. 2006 graduate Andy Smith became one of only two athletes in school history to claim four CAA crowns in one event (joining Tyler Steel, winner of the hammer throw from 1997-2000) after winning the javelin for the fourth time at the 2006 conference meet.

Perhaps no event in recent years shows the effect of Stimson's tutelage more than the women's heptathlon, where four athletes in the Green and Gold have won the last five CAA titles, and six of the seven ever contested, along with the last two ECAC crowns. Alarice Cesareo earned a pair of titles in 2001 and 2003, and Phi Beta Kappa-graduate Sarah McHale won in 2004. In 2005, Bonnie Meekins won her first title with a then-record score of 4,763 points, before giving way to classmate Brenna Blevins in 2006, who scored 4,806 points. In 2007, Meekins came back again with another meet record, 5,192 points. Similarly, Blevins won the 2006 ECAC crown with a then-school record total of 5,229, the highest point total not invited to the NCAA Championships that year. Meekins provided the breakthrough this past spring, powering to a score of 5,457 to claim the Eastern title, and a trip to the NCAA meet, where she would place 16th.

In the 2006 CAA hammer throw, Liz Hager capped her career in heroic fashion. Cleared to throw only an hour before the event started because of a back injury, Hager threw 151' 9" with her only attempt, good for second place and the third-best throw in school history. Freshman Abby Lemon took her lead from Hager, setting a personal record with each of her six throws and finishing with a toss of 149' 2" to take third place in her first conference championships.

The 2007 throwing corps provided another feather in Stimson's cap, providing a school record and numerous top-10 marks despite having a grand total of two upperclassmen. Sophomore Alex Heacock captured his first CAA title in the javelin, throwing 25 feet farther than anyone else in the meet.

Abby Lemon was only four inches shy of her own conference title in the hammer throw, but did claim the Colonial Relays title with a then-school record throw of 161' 9", a mark she bettered at the ECAC Championships with a prodigious heave of 163' 11". Senior Jen Showker capped her career with lifetime-best marks in the shot put, discus (144' 9"), and hammer (142' 0"). Her put of 45' 0.5" at the CAA Championships guaranteed her third and berth at the ECAC meet, and makes her one of only four women to ever best 45 feet in the shot put.

Stimson began his career at perennial national powerhouse Tennessee, where he helped Volunteer athletes finish in the nation's top 10 on seven occasions and collect 12 Southeastern Conference titles. His coaching career started at Tennessee as a graduate assistant, helping the Vols win the 1972 NCAA cross country championship. From Knoxville, he moved to J.E.B. Stuart High School in Falls Church, Virginia for one year, then on to Miami University (Ohio) for nine years and back to Tennessee for four years as the top assistant before coming to Williamsburg.

A native of Falconer, New York, Stimson graduated with honors from Ohio University in 1971 and holds a master's degree from Miami (Ohio). As an undergraduate, he was the All-Ohio and Central Collegiate shot put champion, as well as a two-time MAC shot put champion. He concluded his athletic career by competing in both the NCAA and AAU national championships in the shot put.

Dan and his wife Rosemary, also a Falconer native, have two children. Their son, Clare, is a local college student. Daughter Krista Crider graduated from W&M in 1996 with a B.S. in biology and earned her master's degree at the College in 1998. She earned a Ph.D. in the field of genetics and molecular biology at Emory University, and works for the Centers for Disease Control. Krista is a former W&M record holder in the hammer throw, and recently welcomed the newest addition to the Stimson family, when Samuel Daniel Crider was born in April of 2006.

Emil Davis

B.S. Biology '85

Former Tribe multi-eventer and runner Emil Davis has spent the past seven seasons mentoring athletes at his alma mater. Davis is primarily responsible for the sprinters, jumpers, and multi-eventers for both the College's track teams.

Prior to joining W&M, Davis coached the Bruton High School (Williamsburg) girls track and field team for 12 seasons. In his time with Bruton, where he continues to teach biology, his teams accumulated an impressive 82 victories, including two state championships (1996 and 1997), state runner-up (1998), and numerous invitational victories.

Davis graduated in 1985 with a degree in biology, after earning All-East honors his senior year at W&M by placing second in the pentathlon at the indoor IC4A Championships. He still holds the Tribe record in that event (3,840). He is number two on the all-time lists in both the 200m (21.17) and the decathlon (6,819) and was a member of three record-setting relay teams. Davis holds the U.S. Masters age-group record for 40-44 year-old competitors in the double-decathlon (11,178 points).

Davis and his wife, Lynda, currently reside in Toano, Virginia and are the proud parents of three daughters: Elizabeth, a 2007 graduate of Virginia; Samantha, a senior at James Madison; and Hannah, a first-year on the swimming team at Virginia.

Ed Moran

B.B.A. Finance '03
B.A. Government '03
M.P.P. Public Policy '05

Ed Moran is in his third season on the William and Mary staff after a spectacular collegiate career that saw him earn four All-America honors in the 5,000m outdoors (2003, 2005) and in cross country (2000, 2002) for the College. In addition to assisting with both the men's and women's running programs, the 2003 graduate has continued to race under the tutelage of head men's coach Alex Gibby, achieving the Olympic "A" qualifying standard at 5,000m and 10,000m in 2007 and winning the 5,000m gold medal at the Pan-American Games.

A professionally-sponsored runner with Nike, Moran raced unsponsored at the 2005 USAT&F Track and Field Championships shortly after earning his fourth All-America nod. He boasted an impressive debut, running well below his previous personal record in the 5,000m (13:39.70, second-best in school history, set a scant month-and-a-half earlier) to finish in 13:25.87. This time placed him only 49 hundredths of a second shy of the school record, running as the fastest amateur in the field of 24 runners. In 2007, he won the gold medal at the Pan-American Games with a meet-record time of 13:25.60, and will compete for a spot at the Beijing Olympics in the 2008 U.S. Olympic Trials.

In his six-year collegiate career, Moran racked up three all-conference and All-Southeast honors (never finishing worse than third), and was twice conference champion and Athlete of the Year in cross country. On the track, he earned multiple all-conference nods, was named the 2003 CAA Male Athlete of the Year and was the 2005 IC4A and CAA champion in the 5,000m.

Dave Fritz

Virginia Tech
B.S. Computer Science '04

Dave Fritz enters his first season coaching the pole vaulters at William and Mary after helping some of the sports' biggest names achieve national and international success.

Since 2002, Fritz has worked as the assistant jumps coach at Suhr Sports in New York, helping both professional and amateur pole vaulters to unprecedented heights. Most notably, he coached Jennifer Stuczynski from an absolute novice to become the reigning U.S. record holder in the women's pole vault (16-0), the world's second-highest vault ever. Along the way, Stuczynski also captured four national titles, indoors in 2005 and 2007, and outdoors in 2006 and 2007.

Among amateur athletes, his success has been equally compelling, producing the top-two high school girl's pole vaulters. Mary Saxer was the first high school girl to clear 14 feet, and set the national high school girl's record indoors of 14-3.25. Tiffany Maskulinski also cleared 14-0 under Fritz' tutelage, only the second girl to do so. At the collegiate level, he coached at the Rochester Institute of Technology last season, producing a pair of school records and the school's first NCAA qualifier in the pole vault.

A three-time All-Big East vaulter at Virginia Tech, Fritz graduated in 2004 with a bachelors degree in computer science. In the summer of 2006, he was the head clinician for pole vault at the Region II Junior Olympics clinic. Fritz holds a USATF Level II coaching certification, and is also certified by the Pole Vault Safety Board.

Sean Anastasia-Murphy

Sean Anastasia-Murphy joins his alma mater this year as a volunteer assistant after helping the Tribe to seven Colonial Athletic Association championships during his five-year career.

As a senior, Anastasia-Murphy was the College's top finisher at the CAA cross country championships, leading the team to the conference title with his fourth-place showing. He was also a part of the program's eighth-place showing at the NCAA Championships, finishing as the sixth Tribe harrier across the line. He also ran at the national meet in 2005, finishing 135th overall, and totaled three All-CAA, two All-East, and one All-Southeast honor in cross country.

Anastasia-Murphy, a native of Gloucester, Massachusetts, was also a standout on the track. In 2005 he ran 8:59.26 in the 3,000m steeplechase, the first time a Tribe runner had run under nine minutes since 1996. His most complete season came in 2007, and it started indoors with a 4:09.97 mile at the IC4A Championships. That placed him into the finals of the event, where he would eventually finish third for All-East honors. At the same meet, he won his first conference crown by running the lead-off leg of the distance medley relay which won the IC4A title. He would go on to win the Colonial Relays 3,000m steeplechase and the Penn Relays 4x800m outdoors, and ran at the NCAA Regional in the steeplechase for the third year in a row. He finished his career with five All-East accolades and a single All-CAA citation on the track.

OUTLOOK

Sprints/Hurdles

Junior Ashley Madonick has emerged over the last two seasons as the team's top long-sprinter, and enters the spring looking to repeat her ECAC-qualifications from last year as well as challenge for the CAA 400m crown. Indoors, she just missed qualifying for ECACs at 500m, and has shown the ability to extend her range up to 800m by winning the half-mile at CNU in 2:18.40. Classmate Mallory Hogan had a break-through at the CAA Championships, timing 12.60 in the 100m dash, and will be looking to continue her progression this year after training through much of the indoor season.

Sophomore Dana Harvey gives the Tribe some depth behind Madonick in the long sprints and Guevel in the hurdles, and she has already been making good strides in her second season on varsity. At George Mason's Last Chance meet, she ran the 500m in 1:18.21, and ran the 600m in 1:40.7 at Virginia Tech, both performances that rank in the College's all-time top-10. Freshman Funke Fagbami joined the Tribe after a stellar prep career at the Charter School of Wilmington (Del.), and has ensconced herself near the top of the team depth chart in the short sprints. She ran 8.07 in the finals of the 60m dash at CNU in December in only her second collegiate race. Classmate Sarah Rybarczyk has seen action in both the long sprints and in the 800m, and will look to challenge for a spot on the squad at the CAA Championships as the spring progresses.

Middle Distance

Shaping up to provide a major impact on the Tribe's fortunes this year is the middle-distance corps, with a stacked roster of veterans tearing up the track and the record books. Sophomore Emily Anderson has stepped up the pace in a major way this indoor season, pocketing NCAA provisional qualifications in the mile and the 3,000m, as well as claiming school records in the mile (4:43.33) and as part of the 4x400m relay.

Senior Allie Lewis is also looking like she's on pace for a career-type season, qualifying the ECAC Championships in the 800m and 1,000m and helping to qualify the distance medley relay and 4x400m relay to the same event. Lewis has also seen school records fall beneath her feet in the 600m (1:33.28) and as part of the 4x400m relay.

Graduate student Kate Willever was the conference's top steeple-

chaser last year, earning her first conference title and running at the NCAA Regional. This year, she aims to protect that title, and drop her times with the goal of qualifying for the national championship. Junior Rebecca Ward was a conference finalist and ECAC qualifier at both 1,500m and 800m last year, and will be counted on to repeat that feat this season. Sophomore Meghan Burns was the only athlete besides Anderson to run under five minutes in the mile indoors this year, qualifying for the ECAC Championships in 4:59.20. Burns

also was a CAA finalist

Sophomore Keely Murphy earned All-East honors indoors as a freshman as part of the 4x800m relay, and will be looking to step into the line-up at 800m and 1,500m outdoors and challenge for all-conference accolades. Sophomore Kelly McElroy ran a personal-best 2:16.49 in the 800m at Virginia Tech this winter, and earned her first ECAC qualification in the 1,000m at George Mason. Redshirt-freshman Ariel Burbey helped the indoor 4x800m relay qualify for ECACs last year before sitting out the rest of the year, and has bounced back this year as one of the team's top 800m runners, timing 2:18 at Virginia Tech.

Freshman Betsy Graney has posted the team's top freshman times at both 800m and the mile this indoor season after graduating Grosse Pointe North (Mich.) with three all-state awards and multiple region championships. She has as shown the ability to race well at longer distances, helping the Tribe cross country team to the CAA title at the end of October. Classmate Meredith Tighe earned two all-state honors in Virginia's AAA classification at 1,600m for Oakton High, and has put that experience to good use this indoor season, finishing the mile at North Carolina in 5:16.91. Tighe also has the ability to go under 2:20 in the 800m, giving the Tribe another possible double-finalist for the CAA Championships.

Distance

Senior Emily Gousen enters her final season at the head of a short list of elite distance runners in the conference, with designs on defending her 10,000m CAA crown and capturing a bid to the NCAA Championships. She also has the ability to step down the distance and step up the speed, earning All-East honors both indoors and outdoors at 5,000m last season and collecting another ECAC 5,000m berth this indoor season.

Classmate Abby Booker proved herself as a threat to win CAAs at 10,000m should Gousen pursue the 5,000m race, taking second last season to earn all-conference honors for the first time. She also boasts expertise at a wide-range of distances, including the 3,000m steeplechase, and is well-poised for her finest season (statistically-speaking) after setting personal-records at 3,000m, 5,000m, and 10,000m as a junior. Sophomore Kayley Byrne was a Junior Nationals qualifier at both 3,000m and 5,00m last year as a freshman, also earning an ECAC invitation in the outdoor 5,000m and taking fifth in the CAA 5,000m. This year, she earned her first All-East citation after finishing 20th at the ECAC cross country championships, and qualified for the ECAC 5,000m after running 17:29.10 at Liberty in December.

Juniors Ellen Childress and Katie Endres are poised for career-type seasons in 2008. Childress finished sixth in the 5,000m at the CAA Championships and qualified for ECACs outdoors two years ago in her redshirt-freshman season, but was forced off the track due to illness last year. Endres had her first full season of action last year, setting personal-bests at every distance longer than 3,000m and taking sixth in the CAA 10,000m. Junior Lynn Morelli was All-East in the 3,000m outdoors last year, and will look to add indoor honors to her dossier this season after posting ECAC-qualifying marks at both 3,000m and 5,000m. Also a fourth-place finisher in the CAA 5,000m in 2007, Morelli must be considered of the favorites for the title this year on her home track.

OUTLOOK

Sophomore Anna Brousell had a great freshman campaign, taking third in the 3,000m steeplechase at the CAA Championships. This year, Coach Newberry will expect her to drop her times below 11 minutes and challenge Willever for the conference title. Sallie Ford ran in the 10,000m at CAs last year, and will be looking to move up into the top-eight this season. Through the indoor season, Ford established herself solidly among the Tribe's top five runners at 3,000m and 5,000m. Rachel Ohm also ran in the CAA 10,000m as a freshman, just missing scoring in ninth place. Emily Arena has scored for the Tribe at CAAs in each of the past two years in the 3,000m steeplechase, and will be looking to move up the standings to earn all-conference honors this season. Robin Vanneman will provide valuable depth in a variety of events as she gains more racing experience.

Four freshmen join the Tribe distance corps, bringing with them multiple state titles and prep All-American honors. Sarrah Hadji raced for the Tribe in every race of the post-season in cross country (CAA, NCAA Regional, and ECAC), and will look to immediately provide an all-conference threat at 5,000m after earning three Virginia AAA state titles at 3,200m for W.T. Woodson. Kelsey Budd captained Paul VI to Virginia Independent School and Virginia Catholic state titles in each of her last two years, earning all-state honors each time. She has the ability to run well at most any distance, and will challenge the veterans for spots on the CAA Championship squad. Liz Milewski earned All-Main Line honors for ten consecutive seasons at Radnor High in Pennsylvania, posting personal-bests of 5:04.45 for 1,600m and 10:20.76 for 3,000m. Shannon Ralston was the first state-qualifier in the history of Landstown High in Virginia Beach, and will provide valuable depth to the Tribe as she continues to acclimate to the rigors of college athletics.

Pole Vault

New coach Dave Fritz helped coach American record-holder Jenn Stuczynski before he arrived in Williamsburg, and the Tribe vaulters have used his expertise to hit career-best heights in only a few short months. Sophomore Nicole Kazuba was the surprise CAA Champion last year as a freshman, and is on the cusp of provisionally qualifying for the NCAA Indoor Championships after jumping 12-7.5 at Christopher Newport (roughly four inches under the height needed). Senior Erin Gnass earned her first ECAC qualification this season after clearing a career-best 11-9.75 at the Mason Last Chance Meet.

Fellow senior Nicole Bost hit a career-high at North Carolina after clearing 11-1.75, and will be aiming for all-conference honors at the CAA Championships as well as the ECAC barrier of 11-11.75 during the outdoor season. Sophomore Jennifer Garrott won a conference title for Mary Washington last spring before transferring, and broke her career-best mark with a vault of 10-6 at Christopher Newport. She has the capability to push the Tribe's veterans for all-conference awards at the CAA Championships. Freshman Emily Jeremiah is in only her second year of vaulting after training as a top-level gymnast at Atlee High in Virginia, and eclipsed her lifetime-best with a vault of 10-2 at Christopher Newport in February.

Throws

School record-holding junior Abby Lemon leads the Tribe

throwing corps this year after taking second at the CAA Championships last season. She won the Colonial Relays hammer throw for her first school record, and surpassed that with a heave of 163-11 at the ECAC Championships. After redshirting the indoor season, Lemon enters the spring looking for an NCAA Regional qualification and shot at the national championships. Sophomore Carly Morse has steadily improved her personal-best in the shot put this year, culminating in a put of 44-5.25 at the Mason Last Chance meet, only two inches shy of ECAC-qualifying. That achievement should come soon in the outdoor season, and challenging for the CAA title is well within her reach at her current rate of progression.

Classmate Ashley Williams has also achieved several lifetime-best throws this winter, both in the shot put and with the 20-lbs weight. This spring, Coach Stimson has high hopes for her to combine with both Morse and Lemon to give the Tribe one of the conference's strongest duos in each the shot put, discus, and hammer throw. Sophomore Rebecca Mikulas is still coming into her strength as a thrower, and could represent the College this summer at the USA Junior Championships in either the discus or the hammer throw with a few more throws like she had at last year's CAA Championships, when she improved her personal-best in the discus by more than 10 feet.

Multi

"Multi" truly describes the athletes that participate in the pentathlon and heptathlon for the Tribe. The group includes the entire jumping corps, most of the hurdles platoon, and the javelin-throwing battery. Fifth-year senior Brenna Blevins will shepherd the multi-athletes in her final campaign for the Green and Gold, as she looks to regain the CAA and ECAC heptathlon crowns she won in 2006. After missing NAAs by only 14 points that year, she was forced out of competition last season by injuries, but returns from her redshirt year with a renewed focus and drive. Also one of the top javelin throwers in school history, she should challenge for the conference title in that event and possibly also a berth at the national championships.

Sophomore Alyssa Gaeto made her heptathlon debut at the CAA Championships last April and just missed scoring for the Tribe with her ninth-place finish. Already this indoor season, she became the first athlete in school history to jump further than 19 feet in the long jump, and also ranks in the all-time top-10 performers in the 55m and 60m dashes, and the pentathlon. Freshman Katie Guevel entered the indoor season with impressive prep credentials, and has already blown past them as well as several school and freshman records. Entering the ECAC Championships, she holds school indoor records in the 55m and 60m hurdles and the 200m dash, as well as freshman records in the 60m dash and pentathlon. Classmate KB Brower has established herself as the team's top high-jumper, clearing a career-best mark of 5-5 at Navy, and scored 2,995 points in her first-ever pentathlon, ranking 11th in school history.

ADMINISTRATION

TERRY DRISCOLL ATHLETICS DIRECTOR

Under the steady guidance and watchful eye of Terry Driscoll, the William and Mary Athletics Department has solidified its standing as one of the nation's preeminent broad-based programs. As Driscoll enters his 12th year as athletics director, he has overseen an unprecedented era of improvement in terms of funding and facilities while also maintaining the College's rich history of producing well-rounded student-athletes.

Driscoll oversees a program that William and Mary President Gene Nichol proclaimed "The nation's gold standard" when it came to balancing academic demands with athletic success. One of the department's stated goals each year is to finish among the top 100 in the annual Director's Cup rankings, which has happened in all but one of the years that Driscoll has been the director.

In the last four years alone, the Tribe's program has combined for a total of 19 Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) titles. This past season, W&M claimed four CAA titles (Men's and Women's Cross Country, Women's Swimming and Women's Tennis). In 2004-05, the Tribe captured five CAA championships and an Atlantic 10 Football title. As recently as 2002-03, W&M had a school-record 10 teams compete in the NCAA Tournament, with four teams winning conference titles and six that finished in the top 25 at the end of their respective seasons. Overall, no team in the CAA can claim more all-time league championships than the 88 William and Mary has earned.

As impressive as the athletic accomplishments have been during Driscoll's tenure, the program's academic successes have been even greater. In the NCAA's inaugural (2004) APR rankings, a measurement of academic progress based on academic eligibility, retention, and graduation of student-athletes, W&M was fourth in the nation overall and first among institutions offering athletic performance-based scholarships. Additionally, the Tribe football team has twice posted a 100 percent graduation rate, while the majority of the program's squads have consistently ranked among the nation's finest in terms of graduation. In 2002, the CAA started recognizing Scholar-Athletes of the Year for each of the 22 sports it sponsors, and the College has had a conference-high 22 individuals receive the honor.

Despite the many academic and athletic successes, Driscoll's impact on the program has been equally impressive in terms of physical and financial improvements. Since taking over as athletics director, Driscoll has overseen the construction of more than $20 million in new facilities, including Plumeri Park (baseball), Albert-Daly Field (soccer, lacrosse) and the Busch Courts (tennis). The total increased significantly when Driscoll announced plans to build the $11 million, 30,000-square foot Jimmie Laycock Football Center at Zable Stadium, which is scheduled to open in time for the 2008 season. This impressive structure follows closely on the heels of the installation of a $650,000 permanent lighting system (2006) and an $840,000 state-of-the-art Field Turf Pro artificial playing surface (2006) inside the stadium. Yet another significant upgrade will be unveiled inside the venerable structure for 2007, as the department will install an $800,000-plus brand new video scoreboard by the season opener.

In addition to the physical structures, Driscoll has also worked with the Associate Athletics Director for Development, Bobby Dwyer, to increase the annual fundraising totals for non-capital projects from $1.36 million in 1995 to the current annual total of approximately $2.7 million.

A true student-athlete himself, Driscoll's leadership skills were developed during his collegiate years. As a student-athlete at Boston College, Driscoll captained the basketball team to the National Invitation Tournament Finals as a senior, and was named the tournament MVP. In addition to being named an All-American, his success in the classroom as a biology major garnered him an Academic All-America honor.

After graduating from BC, he was the fourth overall pick of the 1969 NBA Draft, selected by the Detroit Pistons, just three spots after the Milwaukee Bucks chose UCLA's Lew Alcindor, later to be known as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar. Driscoll chose to play a year in Italy first, but then returned to the U.S. to play for the Pistons, Washington Bullets and Milwaukee Bucks before going back to Italy as a player and then coach until 1980.

Driscoll then entered the corporate world in 1980, working for Kazmaier Associates, Inc., an international sporting goods sales and sports marketing firm. After Kazmaier purchased Bike Athletic in 1986, KSG Inc. was formed with the objective of becoming the first, and only, national sales agency in the sporting goods industry. By 1987, Driscoll was president of the company and had expanded the agency to all 50 states just two years later. In early 1990, Driscoll's contribution to a marketing research project for the NCAA was the initial step moving him from product marketing and sales to sports marketing and management. The result of the project was a joint venture between Kazmaier Associates and Host Communications - with Driscoll being named managing director and chief operating officer of NCAA International.

In 1993, Driscoll diversified his experience in the athletic world by working as the executive director of the 1994 World Cup site in Boston. In September of that year, Driscoll was again enlisted to launch a new business, Eagle International Group, an event management and services company. As vice president, Driscoll worked with Hawaii Pacific Sports to organizing the Women's World Volleyball Grand Prix competition in Honolulu.

Driscoll resides in Williamsburg with his wife, Susan. The couple has two children - Keith, a 1997 graduate of Holy Cross, and Leslie, a 2001 graduate of William and Mary.

BARB BLOSSER SENIOR EXECUTIVE ASSOCIATE AD/SWA

Few names in the William and Mary Athletics Department are as familiar, or respected, as that of Senior Associate Athletics Director Barbara Blosser. Since first arriving on campus in 1978, Blosser has touched the lives of thousands of Tribe student-athletes.

She has held her current title since April of 2004, after spending the previous 12 years as the associate athletics director. In each role, Blosser has served as an integral part of nearly every facet of the department's daily operations.

Blosser started her career at William and Mary as the head women's basketball coach in 1978 and guided the Tribe to a VAIAW crown in her first season with a then school-record 16 wins (16-13). Her 1980 Tribe team (11-14) placed third, while the 1981 squad (16-16) was VAIAW runner-up. She was also at the helm during the 1984-85 season when William and Mary made the jump to NCAA Division I. Overall, she finished her coaching career with 115 wins, 84 of which came at William and Mary.

When the College's men's and women's athletic programs merged in May of 1986, she moved to administration, first serving as the assistant to the associate athletics director. Over the past 17 years, her administrative responsibilities at W&M have included the monitoring of financial aid matters, coordinating the scheduling of athletic facilities, supervision of coaches and staff and, currently, serving as the person primarily responsible for administering the day-to-day operations of the department.

From October 1992 to June 1993 and August 1995 to July 1996, Blosser also served as acting athletics director in an interim capacity. For her efforts, she was named the first recipient of the John Randolph Inspiration Award. Blosser has served on various committees such as the NCAA Strategic Planning Committee and the Colonial Athletic Association Competition Committee.

Blosser began her coaching career at the helm of the women's basketball program at Ashland College in Ohio. During two seasons there, she led the Eagles to successive 15-7 and 16-8 ledgers. Her 1977 squad won the AIAW Region V Championship, while her 1978 team took the OASW Small College title.

A former three-sport standout at Ohio State, Blosser graduated Cum Laude in 1975 with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education. At OSU, she was selected to both Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board. She competed in basketball, field hockey and tennis and captained both the basketball and field hockey squads her senior year. She went on to earn her master's degree from the University of North Carolina Greensboro in 1978.

TRIBE ATHLETICS

ATHLETIC SUCCESS

The 2006-07 season was another strong year for the College, as Tribe teams added four more CAA titles to bring the school's all-time league-leading total to 88.

The men's cross country squad won its seventh consecutive CAA crown in the fall, while the women's cross country team won its fourth straight. The women's swimming team won its first CAA Championship, while the women's tennis team added its 19th all-time CAA crown in the spring.

Individually, the women's tennis doubles team of Megan Moulton-Levy and Katarina Zoricic reached the title match of the NCAA Doubles Championship, earning All-America honors. Katie Radloff became the first female swimmer to advance to the NCAA's since 1983. Additionally, Keith Bechtol raced to a 14th-place finish in the 10,000m, while Bonnie Meekins placed 16th in the heptathlon at the NCAA Track and Field Championships.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The Tribe's athletic accomplishments do not come at the expense of its student-athlete's academic responsibilities.

This year, the NCAA honored 13 W&M teams as recipients of its public recognition award. The Tribe teams recognized are baseball, men's and women's cross country, football, men's and women's golf, men's and women's gymnastics, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and field and volleyball.

Additionally, in the latest NCAA graduation rate reports, three Tribe teams posted 100% graduation rates, including football, women's basketball and women's cross country/track.

Since 1992, 39 student-athletes have been designated Academic All-Americans, including three in the past academic year. Keith Bechtol (men's track) was a First-Team selection, Ryan Overdevest (men's soccer) was a Second-Team selection and Anna Young (women's soccer) was a Third-Team selection.

In 2002-03, the CAA created a Scholar-Athlete of the Year Award in each of its sports, and not surprisingly, W&M has set the pace with 22 winners. Bechtol was the CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year in both cross country and track and field, bringing his career award total to five. Meghan Bishop (women's cross country) earned her fourth CAA Scholar-Athlete of the Year award in the fall in cross country.

In addition, four of W&M's five Rhodes scholars participated in varsity sports.

THE COLLEGE

These support services and many others are in place to help each student-athlete achieve their goals. It is our hope that at the completion of their undergraduate career they can reflect upon:

1. An academic experience that prepared them for a successful career.
2. An athletic challenge that brought many rewards.
3. A feeling of loyalty and pride in identifying themselves as a varsity athlete with a degree from the College of William and Mary.
