Richmond and W. & M. Avert Athletic Break

Officials of Two Institutions Come to Agreement Concerning Date of Haskell Game in Richmond Next Fall; Future Meetings Assured.

At a meeting held last Monday at Murphy's hotel in Richmond, a tentative agreement was reached between William and Mary and the University of Richmond over a matter which for the past several months had threatened to sever athletic relations between the two colleges. The controversy was the result of a conflict of dates in the 1925 football schedule whereby William and Mary was scheduled to meet the Haskell Indians in Richmond on the same day the Richmond University - Hampden-Sidney conflict was to take place.

As a result of the meeting last Monday night, William and Mary won permission to play the Haskell Indians on Armistice Day instead of November 14, and details were also arranged for the 1925 William and Mary-Richmond University gridiron classic. Oscar L. Shewmake and J. Vaughan Gary were jointly designated to draw up an agreement for the 1926 and 1927 football games between the two institutions, subject to the ratification by the athletic council of the respective institutions.

Another result of the deliberations of the committee was that William and Mary is to be allowed to play one other football game in Richmond here after besides the Thanksgiving game without opposition from Richmond College. The Indians are allowed.

Temple Takes Opening Game of Season 3 to 0

Paul Eley Hurls Excellent Ball, Holding Visitors Scoreless Until Fifth; Two Hits and An Error Prove Fatal to Indian Hopes.

William and Mary lost the opening game of the baseball season Monday afternoon to Temple University by the score of 3 to 0.

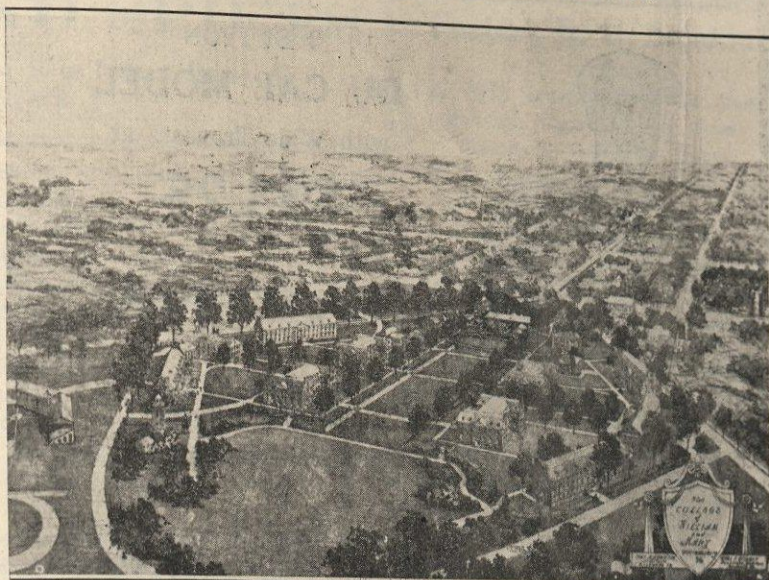

Paul Eley, Indian twirler, pitching the first collegiate game of his career, fanned ten Temple batsmen and held the visitors scoreless until the fifth inning, when a triple by Evans, followed by Unger's single, gave Temple their first run. He fanned the first three men to face him.

The two teams were very evenly matched as is shown by the five hits and two errors made by Temple as compared with the four hits and three errors made by William and Mary.

The Indians had several opportunities to score, but the effectiveness of Vernon always held the advancing Indian runner on third base. The best chance that William and Mary had to score was in the seventh, when a single by Delk and Westbrook put two men on base, with only one out. Saffelle, who was sent in as a pinch-hitter, popped out to third base and

Holy Cross-Bucknell Oppose Indian Nine

Two Northern Teams Will Play on Cary Field Next Tuesday and Thursday; Tasker Strengthening Weak Spots in the Infield.

The Indians continue upon their series of northern games when Holy Cross College, of Worcester, Mass., and Bucknell University, of Lewisburg, Pa., send their nines to Williamsburg to meet William and Mary on next Tuesday and Thursday, respectively, on Cary Field.

William and Mary met Holy Cross in 1921 and again in 1923, losing both contests by the score of 7 to 2. Bucknell is an entirely new institution to appear on a William and Mary schedule.

It will be remembered that Holy Cross possessed a nine in 1923 which won the championship of the East, and was ranked by critics as the best team in the country. Jack Barry, one-

Semester System to be Re-established

College Will Go Back to Old System at Beginning of Session 1925-26; Quarter System Proves Failure After Three Years Trial.

After three years trial of the quarter system of class work, William and Mary will go back to the old semester system beginning next fall, according to announcement from the offices of administration. The faculty has felt for a long time that the quarter basis of work has been a failure from several standpoints, especially in the strain upon professors and students of three examinations a year.

Under the semester system credit will be given for one class hour or two laboratories a week throughout one semester, which is a term of ap-

Nomination For Student Officers Begins April 24th

President, Vice-President, Secretary of Student Body, Six Members of Honor Council and Many Others Must Be Elected on May 11.

The week of April 25 has been selected as nomination week for the various offices of the student body for the coming year, according to Frank Nat Watkins, president of the student body. Nominations for the various positions on the Honor Council will be opened at freshman, sophomore and junior chapels during the stated week.

On Friday, 24th, there will be called a meeting of all men students in the chapel, at which time nominations for president of the student body will take place. Any candidate not nominated at this meeting can have his name placed on the ballot by securing the names of twenty-five men students on his petition.

The following offices will be filled: president of the student body, vice-president of the student body, secretary and treasurer of the student body and two representatives to the Honor Council from each of the lower classes.

The general election will be held on May 11 by secret ballot. Polls will be opened from nine until five to receive the votes of the students.

Seniors Adopt Canes And Swagger Sticks

New Methods of Class Distinction Will Be Put Into Force Within the Next Two Weeks; Caps and Gowns Only for State Occasions.

Canes and swagger sticks will replace caps and gowns as a means of senior class distinction at William and Mary except upon occasions of state. The class of '25 voted unanimously in favor of adopting the new

Plans of New Campus Going Ahead Rapidly

Foundations of Phi Beta Kappa Hall Completed, Colonial Brick Sidewalks Under Process of Construction, and Much Shrubbery Being Planted.

Plans of the structural and landscape architects for the new William and Mary, together with an ambitious building program, the realization of which will require several years, are going ahead rapidly with some new changes being noted every day.

Foundations for the Phi Beta Kappa memorial building have been completed and with all cement work out of the way, it is expected that the construction will go ahead rapidly. All brick and steel material is already on hand and there will be no delay from that source.

Prominent among the far reaching changes being made are the new colonial brick sidewalks, some of which have been completed, and which will ultimately replace all cement walks and promenades on the campus. The completed system of walks will extend from the front campus to the proposed drive, which will connect the Jamestown and Richmond highways at the rear of the campus, as yet incomplete.

The removal of the old statue of Lord Botetourt, which has stood on the main walk for 150 years, is as yet undecided. The weather worn appearance of the statue has become more and more apparent during the past few years and will soon be past repair if no action is taken to remedy its condition. Two ways of taking care of the statue have been proposed. One is to remove it into the hall of the old main building, while the other suggests the building of a handsome covering, open on the sides, yet shielding it from the weather.

Evergreen shrubbery, vines and English ivy, much of which is being donated to the college by the Garden Club of America, will be planted about a number of the older buildings. Work is now being done around the main and Brafferton buildings.

Bob Saffelle Elected Captain Baseball Team

Ranking Indian Twirler Shut Out Harvard 14 to 0 in 1923; Succeeds Jack Chalkley, Captain-elect, Who Did Not Return This Quarter.

"Bob" Saffelle, of Alexandria, was elected captain of the 1925 baseball nine at a meeting of the varsity held Saturday night. Saffelle takes the place of Chalkley, who did not return to college this quarter, but who is at present engaged on the catching staff of the Richmond Colts in the Virginia League circuit.

Saffelle is playing his third year on the varsity and is the ranking twirler on the squad. He made a name for himself in his freshman year when he pitched William and Mary to a 14-to-0 shutout over Harvard in one of

Borden Tells Rifle Club Spirit is Needed

Indoor Range Will be Established in Blow Gymnasium; Practice With Army Rifles Being Given at Fort Eustis by Army Instructors.

Captain Borden, of Fort Eustis, acting as presiding officer at the last meeting of the William and Mary Rifle Club held in the Main Building Monday evening, discussed the need of spirit in the organization and emphasized the fact that the team will represent the college against other colleges and universities of the South.

Arrangements have been made by the club to have an indoor range set up in the George Preston Blow memorial gymnasium. This is to be used for preliminary practice, while an outdoor range will later be constructed for the regular army rifle practice.

The club has been quite active for the past month under the instructions of Captain Wheat, assisted by a squad of regulars from Camp Eustis. The instructors have been giving careful attention to sighting and aiming, positions, trigger squeeze and rapid fire.

Thirty Registered For College Band

C. C. Briggs, director of the Norge Band, was present at the weekly practice of the William and Mary Band, held Tuesday evening in the Main Building. William Bozarth, who is the president, presided, and M. B. Reynolds, secretary and treasurer, called the roll. Thirty members have registered for membership in the band, having paid the required fee of three dollars. All prospective members are advised to sign up not later than Tuesday, April 7, as that is the last day on which new members will be admitted.

One quarter-hour credit is given each quarter for activity in the band. The instruments that are offered are divided into four groups: Brass, reed, string and miscellaneous. Under brass instruments come the cornet, trombone, alto, bass and baritone horns. Under reed instruments, are listed the saxophone and the clarinet, under string instruments the violin and violin cello and under miscellaneous, the drums and traps. The college furnishes instruments for those who have none.

the greatest games of the year. Saffelle was used in all the difficult games of last year, but due to poor support, was not as successful as he was in his freshman year. He has not yet been seen in action this year, but will in all probability pitch against Holy Cross or Bucknell next week.

NOTICE!

There will be a meeting at 7:30 tonight of all members of the Biology Club who intend to make the trip to Dismal Swamp on May 16 and 17. This is very important as final arrangements will be made for the trip.

CLEATS AND SPIKES

As The Sporting Editor Sees Indian Baseball And Track

William and Mary has much to expect from such teams as Holy Cross and Bucknell, which appear on Cary Field next week. Both teams are coached by former major league players. Jack Barry, who coaches the Holy Cross nine, will be recalled as the renowned shortstop in Connie Mack's famous $100,000 infield of his World's Champion Philadelphia team. "Moose" McCormick, Bucknell coach, is a famous Giant outfielder and a world famous pinch hitter.

Both teams are well fortified with seasoned players. Bucknell will bring sixteen men to Williamsburg, Thursday, seven of whom are members of last year's varsity. On the Bucknell team will be found a pair of twins, who are wonderful athletes, playing first and third base; the only noticeable difference between them is that they bat oppositely.

* * * *

In the game played last Monday between William and Mary and Temple University, six Indian players appeared in a college baseball game for the first time. This fact viewed with the knowledge that the Temple team was a seasoned and experienced nine, reflects credit upon the Indian nine, and gives our freshman infield great promise for the future. The six players referred to are Eley, Drewry, Lyster, Kahn, Ayers and Brasseur.

* * * *

Paul Eley, pitching for William and Mary against Temple, Monday, after passing through three years in college in which he was little known as a baseball player, has emerged in his senior year as a twirler of no mean ability and he will doubtless go through the season as one of Coach Tasker's bests.

* * * *

In Monday's game Eley staged a pitcher's duel with Vernon, Temple ace, in which he came out of the battle with even honors. Eley struck out ten Temple batsmen and allowed five hits, while his adversary fanned but five Indians and allowed four hits.

* * * *

It is gratifying to note that the threatened break in athletic relations between William and Mary and Richmond University, resulting from conflicting football dates next fall, has been definitely avoided through a conference agreement. William and Mary has agreed to seek a change for the date of the Haskell-Indian game, while Richmond promises that in the future William and Mary can play one other game than the annual Indian-Spider classic in Richmond, without opposition from her.

The near-break between the two institutions will probably serve to bring the two colleges together in closer relationship than ever before.

* * * *

The rapidity with which freshman track and the promotion of high school track meets under William and Mary auspices has come into importance this year is worthy of notice. The development of a freshman track team warrants stronger varsity, and the importance of bringing high school athletes to William and Mary cannot be over-estimated.

Fourteen Home Games Feature B. B. Schedule

Yale Will Meet Indians on Easter Monday, May 13; Six Game Northern Trip and Home and Home Contests With Randolph-Macon Are Headliners.

Fourteen home games, including a game in Williamsburg with Yale, a five-game northern trip and the inauguration of commencement series with an old rival, Randolph-Macon, feature the 1925 William and Mary baseball schedule, which appears for the first time in this issue of The Flat Hat.

Playing ten games with colleges located in Pennsylvania, and in New England, the Indians meet more northern nines than any William and Mary baseball team has done in recent years.

Yale, which defeated William and Mary in Richmond last spring by the score of 6 to 4, will come to Williamsburg to cross bats with the Indians for the first time on Cary Field, on April 13, Easter Monday.

Randolph-Macon replaces the University of Richmond on the commencement program. These contests, staged on June 8 and 9, are expected to prove highly interesting to alumni gathered for final exercises at either place.

The northern trip of the Indians, on which the first game will be played at New Haven, May 11, will carry them as far north as Boston, and they will play games in Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Tennis Team to Open With Norfolk Tomorrow

Strong Norfolk Country Club Will Give Indian Netmen Tough Tussle in First Match of the Season; Three Veterans Back on the Squad.

The 1925 tennis season opens tomorrow, when the Indian netmen meet the Norfolk Country Club team on the latter's courts.

Pitted against the strongest professional tennis team in Virginia, the William and Mary racqueteers will have a tough time from the start to the finish, and only through the very best of skill and endurance power can they expect to emerge from the match victorious. The Country Club team is composed entirely of ex-college players, most of whom were out-

STUDENT ELECTIONS

Are you prepared for student elections?

In the handbooks issued by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s will be found the rules which govern student elections at William and Mary. These rules are stated in a very concise manner so that all may acquaint themselves with that which they have become a part. Now that the elections are about to command the center of the stage, we suggest that each student take the opportunity to brush up on his knowledge along this line.

There have been several changes made in the method of selecting the leaders in campus activities, all of which should be thoroughly understood before Nomination Week. Clean politics, careful selection of candidates, and familiarity with the rules which are to govern the contest are all essential to insure a proper election.

NEW CHAPEL HYMN BOOKS

We are pleased to note that the college has provided new hymn books for the chapel and trust that they will be cared for in the proper manner. Nothing appears worse than books of sacred songs marked and abused by an idle hand; the very idea smacks of high school days.

A SUGGESTION TO THE SENIOR CLASS

The onward march of progress at the college has thrust aside for a while the sacred spot that marks the grave of Colonel Benjamin E. Ewell, the one figure who stands out as the most romantic of all connected with William and Mary's Glorious past.

For seven years, the darkest that the college has ever faced, the stout-hearted old president journeyed to Williamsburg, entered the deserted college grounds and with feeble step made his way to the Main Building. Entering the hall, he climbed the stairs and rang the bell that marked the opening of another session of the College of William and Mary. For seven years the mellow peal of the bell was the only sound that broke the stillness of the deserted place. President Ewell had caught the vision of better days.

Today the vision of Colonel Ewell has become a reality. Once more the college takes her place among the leaders in higher education of the South. The peal of the bell calls a thousand students to her halls of learning each day. New buildings have been added to care for the ever increasing number of students who knock at her doors for admittance each year. The improvements are legion; nevertheless the grave of the valiant old gentleman still lies in an unkept condition on the rear campus.

It behooves the students of William and Mary to see that this deplorable condition is remedied. No gift from any class could surpass one which would provide a fitting resting place for The Old Bell Ringer. Seniors, this would be a donation of which you could justly feel proud.

Banker Addresses The Gibbons Club

Members of the Gibbons Club had as their guest last Sunday Mr. Henry Clay Peters, prominent banking specialist of New York, who addressed them at their meeting on "The Worth of Sincerity." Mr. Peters stated that success depends on sincerity and that the influence of personal example could not be over-estimated.

"Each one of you should live and act in such a manner as to make every one who comes in contact with you regard you as an example," he said. "Our college graduate exercises a great and lasting influence not only on his immediate community, but on society as a whole. He is trained for leadership, people look to him as a leader and it is his duty to act as a leader."

Mr. Peters, who is originally from Texas, came here upon the invitation of Professor Castaneda, with whom he spent the day.

Y. W. C. A. Conducts Student Relief Fund

A drive for the Student Friendship Relief Fund, which is to aid those foreign students who are in need of food, clothing and other necessities, will be started by the Y. W. C. A. within the next two weeks. The fund will reach the needy students through "Y. W." secretaries in foreign fields.

The Y. W. C. A. hopes that the William and Mary students will respond to their call and help them in this drive.

Library Adds 3100 Volumes to Shelves

During the fiscal year extending from March 1, 1924, to February 28, 1925, 3,100 volumes were added to the college library. Of this number 1,600 were purchased and the remainder presented by friends. Many friends, besides those in Williamsburg, remembered the library in the course of the year. In addition to the books secured, there were a considerable number of maps, photographs, portraits, engravings and manuscripts presented or deposited in the library.

Cotillion Club

All members of the Cotillion Club are urged to be present at an important meeting to be held Tuesday at 7 p. m., in the college chapel. Election of officers for the coming year will be held at this meeting.

Philomatheans Will Award Fellowships

Believing that four years of faithful and diligent literary society work is worthy of some tangible reward or record of such work, the Philomathean Literary Society will award at the end of this term and at the end of the final term of each succeeding year to those of the graduating class who have been faithful Philomathean Philomathean Fellowships. The symbol of this fellowship will be in the form of a certificate bearing the name of the holder, a record of offices held and honors attained in the name of the society, to which will be affixed the society's grand seal.

Quarterly to Publish Pres. Madison's Letters

In the forthcoming April number of the William and Mary Historical Quarterly, there will be published a collection of letters written by Rev. James Madison, president of William and Mary College, 1778-1812, to Thomas Jefferson. These letters were lately uncovered by the librarian, Mr. E. G. Swem, in the Library of Congress.

The letters give much additional evidence to show the high scientific attainments of Mr. Madison, who wrote principally about his meteorological and astronomical chemical observation. There are some important references made to the college, which will add much to the material already contained in the library of the history of the college during this period.

Peebles Has Largest Class in Government

One of the largest classes conducted at William and Mary, numbering about 150, is that in the American Government, which is taught by Mr. P. P. Peebles.

In this class Mr. Peebles uses a very interesting but effective method of procedure. Because of the great number, it would be practically impossible for him to grade by frequent tests or by oral recitations. Therefore, the plan which Mr. Peebles follows is to have three members of the class report on each day's assignment, securing material from the text book or other available sources. This method serves as a basis for grading and enables all members of the class to derive the benefits from the extensive amount of material which their reporters secure through their searches.

SOCIAL NOTES

Debate Council

The Women's Debate Council gave a reception in honor of Misses Vivian Simpson, Ruth Newburn, and Denise Levy, who represented George Washington University in debate Saturday night, in the living rooms of Jefferson Hall immediately after the debate.

The faculty advisors of the Debate Council and representatives from all of the college organizations were invited to meet the George Washington debaters.

The guests were received by Miss Bessie Porter Taylor, Miss Mary L. Parker of the debate team, Miss Virginia Smith of the Women's Debate Council, and Miss Louise Sale of the Y. W. C. A.

Literary Society Tea

J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society held an Oriental Tea Party in the swimming pool room of Jefferson Hall on Thursday night. Gay lanterns, straw mats and water lilies, together with bright colored streamers converted the room into a veritable garden of the Orient. Mildred Vaiden, in costume, read "The Chinese Nightingale" by Vachel Lindsay. Poems by Pai-tashun and some of the ancient eastern poets were read. Martha Claiborne and Katherine Watson gave dances characteristic of the far east.

After the program, the formation of a poetry club was discussed.

Invitations have been issued by Dr. and Mrs. Van Franklin Garrett to the wedding of their daughter, Suzanne, to Sclater Montague, of Hampton, which will take place in Bruton Church on April 14. Miss Garrett is a member of the class of '25, having finished her work last term. She belongs to the Chi Omega Fraternity. Mr. Montague is a graduate of the University of Virginia and a member of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Sowder, of Christiansburg, were the week-end guests of their daughter.

Lannigan-Caldwell

Announcements have been received on campus of the marriage of Miss Helen Lannigan, '24, to Mr. Erskin Caldwell, of Atlanta. The wedding took place in Charlottesville, the home of the bride, on March 3.

Art Club Tea

A series of attractive numbers have been arranged by the Art Club to be presented at their cabaret tea, which will be held in Jefferson Hall Gymnasium during the present week. Waiters' costumes as Turkish pashas will serve the club members who expect to take part in the brilliant affair.

The Delta Phi Kappa gave a tea at their rooms Saturday, March 28, in honor of their guests, Misses Ellen Littlepage, Grace Harris and Ruth Newburn, of George Washington University.

Dean Keller and Miss Turnbull, of West Hampton, were guests of the fraternity also.

The Delta Phi Kappa sorority entertained informally at the home of Mrs. Ryland Friday evening in honor of their guests, Misses Ellen Little-standing stars on their collegiate teams. Flourney, collegiate champion of Virginia of last year, is a member of the Norfolk team.

Three Indian tennis veterans and three men only having been advanced to the varsity this year, will match themselves against the Norfolk team. Parrott, Pollard and Marshall are all sterling netmen, the first two having been members of the William and Mary collegiate champion team of 1924. Goodwin, Matsu and

Howard are the new players on the tennis varsity, who will go to Norfolk; the first two mentioned are experienced players, having played the game for a number of years, while Howard, though a freshman, has displayed a formidable type of tennis in all recent workouts.

The next meet that the Indian team will engage in will be held here on April 11, with the Richmond "Y." They meet Wake Forest here on the following Saturday.

means of senior identification at senior chapel Monday morning, and according to the class officers, will put forth every effort to provide each member of the class with the emblem of the upperclassmen within the next two weeks.

The new movement is the first attempt at William and Mary to provide the members of the senior class with some mark of identification which will be apparent at all times, both on and off the campus. A number of suggestions were offered the class, such as the wearing of caps and gowns on senior day, but the canes and swagger sticks were finally selected as the best method of class distinction.

Sample canes and sticks have been ordered by a local merchant and will be presented the class for approval upon arrival.

At the left of this group is Lieut. J. A. Macready, U. S. A., former holder of the world's altitude record. Just behind the propeller you can see the G-E turbine supercharger which kept the Liberty motor running in the thin air, six miles high.

Over the mountain by a mile

Year after year, plucky explorers try to climb Mount Everest, the world's highest peak, 29,141 feet high.

With a G-E supercharger feeding air at sea-level pressure to the engine, an airplane pilot can go far higher. Lieut. Macready has reached 34,509 feet over Dayton, Ohio. He would have soared over Mount Everest with more than a mile to spare!

The tasks attempted for centuries in almost every form of human endeavor have been conquered with the aid of electricity, with more than a mile to spare.

The impossible today will be accomplished by men and women now in college. The scientist and engineer are doing their share. It remains for men and women entering upon their life's work to profit by the new opportunities that are constantly appearing in every profession and vocation in the land.

The supercharger is a turbine air compressor, which revolves as fast as 41,000 times a minute—the highest speed ever developed by a commercial machine. It is designed and made by the General Electric Company, which also builds the big turbines that supply electric light and power.

Freshmen Play First With Maury Today

Coach Denton Expects to Put a Formidable Duc Nine on the Field Against High School From Across Hampton Roads.

When Coach Denton's nine opens the season here this afternoon with Maury High school, of Norfolk, on Cary Field, it will mark the first time in the history of the college that a ball club composed entirely of freshmen has represented the college. Coach Denton reports that his squad has been rapidly rounding into shape during the past week, and although many of the men need quite a bit of seasoning, the freshmen, nevertheless, have a formidable nine.

Although the exact line-up for this afternoon's game has not been determined as yet, the following men will probably start: Avera and Anderson, batteries; Crim, first base; Crossfield, second; Watts, shortstop; McKinley, third base; Pond, Eason and Turnbull, outfielders. This line-up is only tentative and Coach Denton will probably give his entire squad a workout today.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the freshman nine meets Fortress Monroe on Cary Field in their second game of the season. Taking advantage of the weak spots that will doubtless show themselves in the game with Maury High this afternoon, Coach Denton will be able to present even a stronger nine against the soldiers than will be shown against the Norfolk nine.

First Freshman Field Day This Afternoon

A freshman field day will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in which two hundred freshmen will participate. The meet is sponsored by Coaches Siersema and Chandler, and will be composed of all the freshmen who are daily track candidates, and the members of the freshman classes in physical education.

The program of the field day will include all field events and all dashes and races, except the two-mile run. Due to the exceedingly large number of participants in the meet, numerous heats will be run off in the running events.

This is the first athletic field day of its size ever attempted for freshmen, and will easily prove itself to be a highly interesting affair.

proximately eighteen weeks or half the school year. A course will run for a semester, carrying as many credits as there are class meetings per week.

For students who entered under the quarter system, which has prevailed for the past three years, equivalent credits will be calculated for degrees, by adding one-half to semester credits. Requirements for Bachelor degrees, which have been under the quarter system one hundred and eighty-six in number will, under the semester system, be reduced to one hundred and twenty-six. Six of these will be allowed for activities. The remaining one hundred and twenty credits represent four years of regular student work of thirty credits a year.

The semester system is especially adapted to a variety of courses, inasmuch as, with the normal course of three periods a week and two laboratory for sciences, five courses will be necessary to complete the required number of fifteen lecture hours. Under the quarter plan only three subjects could usually be taken.

It has been felt also that continuous lectures through five days a week has allowed students too little time for parallel reading necessary to their full development especially in history, English and other language work. It is of interest to know that the majority of colleges and universities throughout the country are organized on the semester basis, most of them after a full trial of the quarter system.

Westbrook was caught in a double play, ending the last Indian rally.

A base on balls, followed by a single in the ninth frame, put two Temple men on base, when Ayres erred on a grounder, allowing two runs.

To Eley and Delk, Indian batterymen, goes a great deal of the credit for the smallness of the Temple score, and but for the few miscues of the freshman infield, the visitors would have been held to a single tally.

The entire Indian team worked together with more than early season smoothness, and presented a well balanced nine, that, with the remedying of a few defects, will be a prominent contender for State collegiate baseball honors.

Indians Trounce Fort Monroe by Score 10-0

Frequent Errors of Soldiers Contribute Largely to William and Mary Run column; Gregory Pitches Steady Game With Good Support.

The Indian nine easily won the second game of the season on the home diamond last Wednesday, when they defeated Fortress Monroe 10 to 0. The game was rather fast for early season although slowed up considerably by cold weather and marred by frequent errors committed by the visitors.

The Indians scored in the first inning on Lauren's error and again in the third on another miscue of the visitors. The game then settled down to a pitcher's battle for several innings, with Gregory more than holding his own against Bielik. Taking advantage of two hits and several miscues in the seventh frame, the Indians shoved five tallies across the plate. Button was then sent in to relieve Bielik, and the Indians found him in the eighth to the tune of five hits and three tallies.

ed their choice of one of two dates for this preliminary game. This measure was taken to prevent such conflicts in the future such as arose in 1924 and 1925, when the two rival institutions had games scheduled on the same date in Richmond. This should insure continuation in the future of athletic relations between the two colleges which up to the present time has dated back more than thirty years.

Sitting at the council last Monday night were many figures of Statewide and national importance, including Dr. F. W. Boatwright, president of the University of Richmond; Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president of the College of William and Mary; Colonel Thomas B. McAdams, chairman of the Athletic Council, University of Richmond; Oscar L. Shewmake, former member of the faculty of William and Mary and counsel for the Interstate Commerce Commission; Messrs. Robert N. Pollard, J. Vaughan Gary, J. C. Capps and C. A. Taylor, Jr. The two latter are members of the William and Mary Athletic Council.
