Among those who will receive the coveted key here at the coming celebration are Hon. Roland S. Morris, LL.D., of Philadelphia, Pa., who has received honorary degrees from Princeton and other universities; Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, M. ### Death Mrs. Montgomery Comes as Shock to Many Friends Here

Wife of Prominent Professor Was Well Known to Every Student.

The sudden death of Mrs. Walter A. Montgomery, wife of Dr. W. A. Montgomery, professor of ancient languages at the college, came as a shock to her many friends of Williamsburg and the college. The end came after a very brief illness. Funeral services were held from Bruton Parish church, Friday, November 28.

Mrs. Montgomery has been a prominent figure in social activities of William and Mary for a number of years. She has always been numbered among the chaperones of the Cotillion Club dances and her home has ever been thrown open to the students of William and Mary. She was a native of Fayetteville, Arkansas.

In her immediate family Mrs. Montgomery leaves her husband and daughter, Barbara, and brother, W. Leonard Smith.

Indians Voted State Champions For 1924

Captain John Todd Ends His Four Years of College Football in Blaze of Glory.

The curtain has dropped upon William and Mary's greatest gridiron year. The Indians' record is outstanding in achievement and versatility; they have won an enviable place in the college football world and they possess an untrammelled record.

William and Mary stands as the collegiate football champion of Virginia for the first time in the history of her existence. Missing the championship by a narrow margin last year, the Indians have blazed a brilliant trail towards the coveted honor this season and have won widespread acknowledgement as the logical champions.

The season ends with Charles as the third highest scoring man in the State, with a total of 43 points. Cameron, of Washington and Lee, and White, of V. M. I., precede him in the order mentioned.

Virginia elevens go northward next season for an unprecedented number of gridiron games. The Indians meet Harvard, Syracuse and the Navy; Washington and Lee meets Princeton and Pittsburgh; while Virginia will probably play Pennsylvania for a second successive time.

Although tied by Roanoke College on a soggy field and in a downpour of rain at Newport News, William and Mary, nevertheless, is conceded by all sport writers of the State top honors among the smaller colleges of the State. That William and Mary is stronger than Roanoke is apparent by comparing scores and especially so in the contests with Richmond. William and Mary defeated Richmond, 26 to 6, while Roanoke registered only a 9 to 0 victory over the Spiders.

The Indians were the only eleven

William and Mary-Richmond Tilts Becoming One of Virginia's Football Classics.

The Gold, Green and Silver rang down the curtain of 1924 football by defeating the Richmond Spiders 20 to 6 at Mayo Island Park. The game was played before a Thanksgiving crowd of approximately eighty thousand, who were brought to their feet time and again by some spectacular play or reverse of fortune.

Early in the game it developed that the Spiders were unable to plow through the Indian line or circle the Indian ends; consequently, they had recourse to one of the most spec-

"Kempy" Production Again A Success

Dramatic Features of Last Year Repeated by the Same Cast.

"Kempy," the dramatic success of last year, was presented in Cameron Hall Tuesday night, November 24. The reception which the comedy met last year led to its being repeated this fall by the Dramatic Club. The performance was well attended and met with the same success that it enjoyed last fall.

With the exception of Lash, who took the part of Ben Wade, the cast was the same as last year's. Again it is difficult to pick the members or member who did the best work. Each actor did credit to his part and a casual observer is unable to select any individual stars. From the standpoint of experienced acting, Wynn, as Dad Bence, and Pollard, as Kempy James, may be selected as the stars of the production. The humor portrayed by Dad Bence, was very amusing. Miss Mary Nash Tatem, as Ruth Bence, the charming young girl who did her best to be the other side of the eternal triangle, handled her part admirably.

Miss Mildred Vaiden, as Kate Bence, the woman who followed her calling and tried to express herself, displayed all of the marks of a finished actress. Duke Merrill, played by W. H. Marrow, and Ben Wade, played by E. L. Lash, were all well handled, while Miss Anne Townsend, who portrayed Jane Wade, the lofty married sister, must be credited with a large part of the production's success.

The play was presented in Richmond the following night under auspices of the Little Theater League.

Prex Wilson Now Successful Coach

The name of F. J. (Prex) Wilson, '22, should be placed among the successful high school coaches of Virginia. Prex took over the squad of Cape Charles High school, composed of only 16 men, and rounded into shape a team that won the undisputed title of the Eastern Shore. His team ran up a total of 319 points during the season, while their opponents were able to account for but six points.

Wilson was one of the main factors in William and Mary's line for four years. His stellar work at center won for him the reputation of being one of the cleverest in Virginia.

Alumni Resolutions To Dr. Montgomery

Whereas, the General Alumni Association of the College of William and Mary in session assembled at Richmond, Virginia, on November the twenty-seventh nineteen hundred and twenty-four, has heard with profound regret of the death of Mrs. Walter A. Montgomery:

Therefore, Be it resolved that the General Alumni Association of the College of William and Mary do hereby express to Dr. Montgomery and family sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their deep sorrow.

Respectfully submitted, emerged victorious in the first two of the prearranged three-game affair and holds the championship of the tournament. The section two freshmen were victors in the first floor encounter, 15 to 12, and in the second, 24 to 20, showing the intensity of the fight displayed by both sections and the determination of the deserving frosh.

Coach Siersema has conducted tournaments for the past few years and has found them to be excellent means of bringing "dark horses" to light for the varsity, besides preparing would-be aspirants for Coach Tasker's quint.

The freshmen participating in the final series were: Everett, Harlow, Hodges, Mallard and Southall, of section three; and Borden, Hopkins, Rideout, Brown and Warren, of the victorious section two.

Hon. Roland S. Morris will deliver the principal address. Robert S. Bright, of Philadelphia, Pa., president of the chapter will preside at the ceremonies, which have been arranged by Dr. J. Lesslie Hall, of William and Mary College, who is secretary of the body. On account of death in the family of Dr. W. A. Montgomery, of the college faculty, no banquet will be given this year.

Dr. William J. Mayo, noted physician of Rochester, Minnesota, will become a member of the William and Mary chapter, but will be initiated at the University of Michigan chapter on account of being unable to make the trip to Williamsburg.

Low Cost Trips to EUROPE Summer of 1925

WHY don't you plan to go to Europe next summer? You can—at a cost within your means. Last summer thousands of students and teachers learned how to do it. On one voyage of the Leviathan alone over 70 institutions were represented by 225 students and teachers. In 1925 thousands more will enjoy the pleasures of a European trip. You can be one of them if you will only get the facts.

The United States Lines have made it possible for Americans to go abroad comfortably yet economically. Exclusive accommodations, formerly third class, have been prepared and reserved on U. S. Government ships. The cost of passage is only $85 and up. This includes clean, comfortable cabins, good food, willing service, exclusive deck and dancing space, and many other features.

You can learn all the details from a representative of the United States Lines on your campus. Ask him for interesting illustrated literature, including a Princeton Professor's account of his trip last summer. Varied itineraries to help you plan your trip are included. Start to make your plans now. Talk them over at home during the Christmas vacation.

But get the facts now.

Game With Harvard Is Third Inter-Sectional

Indians Will Have Distinction of Meeting Three of East's Biggest Teams in 1925.

William and Mary has broken down the last vestige of a sectional dividing line and has succeeded in booking a gridiron encounter with Harvard at Cambridge on October 31, next fall. This gives the Indians the proud prestige of playing against the Navy, Syracuse and Harvard, all in a single season, playing above the traditional Mason-Dixon line almost as much as in her own territory.

The Harvard Daily speaks of the future encounter:

"William and Mary is next to Harvard the oldest college in the United States, having been founded in 1693. This team has made rapid strides in football during the past two or three years. It is coached by J. W. Tasker, a Syracuse man and a pupil of the Rockne school of football. Rockne himself, who was formerly connected with the William and Mary faculty, reorganized football coaching at William and Mary some two years ago and the team has since followed his system with considerable success."

Honorary Varsity Hockey Team Picked

The squad elected Ruth Oliver manager for next year with instructions to arrange for at least two inter-collegiate games.

Randolph-Macon Takes Cross-Country Meet

Darden Finishes in Excellent Time of 22-20 Over Muddy Course.

The William and Mary cross-country team was defeated by Randolph-Macon at Williamsburg on Saturday, November 22, by the score of 22 to 33 in the last meet of the year.

The meet was run over a muddy four-mile course in a driving rain. Despite the weather conditions an excellent time of 22 minutes and 20 seconds was made. Darden, of Randolph-Macon, led the field, followed closely by Richwine and Hager, also of Randolph-Macon. Hudson, Mapp and Haynie, of William and Mary, finished in fourth, fifth and sixth places, while Burruss, a Jacket, captured seventh place. Swink, of William and Mary, came eighth, with Armstrong, of the visitors, and Brooks, of the Indians, coming last.

An extensive schedule of at least four or five meets is planned for next year and in no meet will William and Mary compete with less than seven opposing runners.

N. N. H. S. Licks Scrubs In Final Game 7 to 0

Little Indians Put Up Good Fight But Lacked Punch to Score.

The Little Indians lost their last game of the season when they were defeated by Newport News High school November 21, 7 to 0. From the first whistle to the last the game was a hardfought battle between two fairly equally matched teams. During the greater part of the game the scrubs kept the ball well in the opponents' territory, but seemed to lack the drive necessary to carry it over.

The high school touchdown came as the result of a recovered fumble on the part of the scrubs, which gave them possession of the ball within the scrubs' 20-yard line. From this point they made a first down and carried the ball over on a long end run. In the second half the scrubs started an offensive from the high school's 35-yard line and in a series of line bucks, carried it to the one-yard line, where they failed to make a first down by less than an inch. This was the only time that the scrubs seriously threatened the high school's goal line.

The rest of the game was a mid-field battle until the last few minutes of play, when a Newport News back broke through for a pretty run for a touchdown. He was called back, however, and Newport News penalized for clipping from behind.

Twenty Cage Games On Indian Schedule

Practice Already Begun With Many New Men Out; Gym To Be Ready Soon.

William and Mary will participate in 20 cage games this winter, according to the schedule recently announced from the athletic department. The quintet will have the advantage of the new court in the Blow Memorial gymnasium, which will be ready for occupation about December 8. Many practice games with smaller outfits will prepare the varsity for the larger tilts.

Court practice began Wednesday with a strong number of aspirants seeking berths on the quint. Hicks, highest scoring basketeer in the State last season, is the only member of last year's team to be lost. John and Lee Todd, Captain Sexton and Cofer, letter men of last year, and Marshall, Denton, Matsu and Metcalf, of the varsity squad, are back in school.

Two All-State prep school stars in Brasseur, of Fork Union Military Academy, and Kahn, of John Marshall High, Richmond, will give battle for positions, as will Collier, of West Philadelphia High (Pa.), and Mac-

Intyre, of Marietta, Ohio, who played last year on the Culver Military Academy quint.

The following is the schedule:

IN MEMORIAM

The Flat Hat Staff conveys its profound sympathy to Dr. Montgomery and daughter in their period of bereavement. We feel that William and Mary is poorer in the passing of one whose charm and grace added so much to the social life of the College. The ever willing services of Mrs. Montgomery had won for her a place in the hearts of all students of William and Mary and her memory will ever be cherished as one who exemplified the true character and charms of womanhood.

PHI BETA KAPPA ANNIVERSARY

The Flat Hat extends a hearty welcome to the members of Phi Beta Kappa who assembled here today to celebrate the 148th anniversary of the founding of the society. It seems fitting that Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest of the Greek-letter societies and the mother of the modern college fraternity, should have been founded at William and Mary.

Founded by five students of William and Mary, in 1776, the fraternity has grown to be a world force composed of over forty thousand living members working in all parts of the world. In foreign fields the society is represented largely in educational or Christian missions, the two callings that are so closely associated that they can hardly be separated. In our own country we find the representative men from the "Society of Scholars" engaged in varied occupations.

The Phi Beta Kappa memorial to be erected at William and Mary will make of our college a mecca to which scholars of America will turn to view the memorial to the fifty founders of the society. The building will contain a replica of the Apollo Hall in the old Raleigh Tavern where the first members assembled in their meetings—the room in which Patrick Henry demanded "Liberty or Death" in that famous speech that fanned the smouldering embers of rebellion onto a great flame.

William and Mary is justly proud of the fact that we may add to our list of priorities the founding of Phi Beta Kappa.

THE REAL COLLEGE STUDENT

When the average writer runs short of real live subjects and feels that the public must have a sample of his work regardless of the contents, he will invariably turn to the college student and dwell in great length upon the defects of the merry rah rah boys who are squandering dad's money and leading a life of gentlemanly leisure. He assumes that the average college student is nothing more than a very complex combination consisting of equal parts of dancing, pool and sports. This false impression is spread to the cartoonist who picture the college campus as a humanation mark dangling a cigarette from drawn, weak lips.

Several weeks ago The Flat Hat devoted a column of its space to inform its readers that one-fifth of the entire student body of William and Mary were engaged in some form of lucrative activity, despite the fact that William and Mary is in a town offering few opportunities for the student desiring work. A recent survey conducted in another of Virginia's colleges disclosed the fact that one-fourth of their students were working their way through college. It is safe to assume that a similar condition exists in the majority of schools and colleges throughout the United States.

We point to this and remind the overzealous reformers that the man is urged to devote a part of his time to those activities that take him away from his books for a while. The business world is not made up of men who have a head full of facts and nothing more. The man who makes a success of his calling is the man who can rub elbows with the crowd and understand them; an understanding that cannot be acquired through books. The modern college stresses both activities and attempts to turn out men and women who are able to see above a narrow horizon.

ALUMNI NOTES

Letter From Jimmie Jenkins of '23 Class

The following letter from Jimmie Jenkins, of the class of '23, gives much information about Alumni and Alumnae and so we print the whole. Upperclassmen will remember Mr. Jenkins as one of the most popular men that ever attended William and Mary. It is to be regretted that The Flat Hat cannot reprint the article from the New Bern paper concerning the splendid work of Ed. Johnson.

The letter:

Greenville, N. C., Dec. 1, 1924.

Dear Alumni Editor:

Just a few lines to put you in touch with some of the William and Mary grads who are trying to make a go of it in North Carolina.

Ross Ashby, who finished in law at William and Mary and passed the North Carolina Bar in 1923, is still connected with the W. F. Ross real estate firm in Greensboro. He is in charge of the firms' private sales and legal departments. He is doing very well.

Kathrine Bradford is teaching home economics at Morehead City. She says that she likes it there very much. Kathrine was a member of the class of '23.

Ed. Johnson, '24, is teaching English and is coach of football and baseball at New Bern. Ed. succeeded Isham Hardy of '22 class as coach at New Bern. New Bern has, under the coaching of William and Mary men, enjoyed unusual success in football, having been contenders for State honors among the first half dozen or less for the past four years. Johnson did not play football at William and Mary, but after attending Rockne's coach school at William and Mary last summer, he went to New Bern and has made a success of coaching. I believe that Ed. was captain of tennis at William and Mary last year. Although very much of an athlete, sickness prevented Johnson from participating in any branch of athletics other than tennis. The school should really feel proud of Johnson. I had occasion to go to New Bern a few weeks ago, and while there made some inquiries about Johnson. He has certainly impressed the New Bernians.

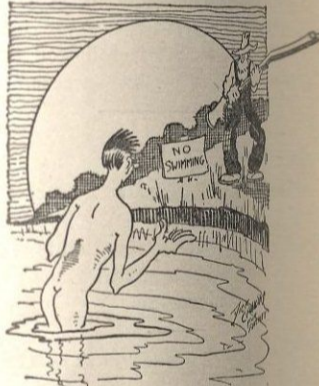

I am employed by the Imperial Tobacco Co. here. I think Greenville is one of the best towns in Eastern Carolina. Several W. & M. baseball stars have played summer ball down here, among them being, Ott Lowe, '23, Curt Thompson, '23, and Durward Denton, who is still at school.

By the way, when I was in Bristol, Tenn., some weeks ago, I ran across Curt Thompson, former Indian pitching ace. He married a Bristol girl last year after teaching and coaching at the Bristol high school during the 1923-24 school session. She was one of his former students. How's that for a good one. Curt is now operating a United Cigar Store in Bristol. He has a very good shop, and has, apparently, a good business. More power to him.

Buck Lowman, a former W. & M. grid artist, is a salesman for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., having headquarters in Bristol. He was out of town when I was there.

I am enclosing a little write-up of Johnson's team, hoping that it might prove of interest.

I might say in passing that W. & M. football team is very much respected in this State, and the school very well thought of. There are no doubt quite a few W. & M. people in this State whose addresses I do not know.

I am sure that we have all enjoyed this year's excellent Flat Hat. With best wishes, yours for a bigger and better W. & M.

JIMMIE JENKINS, '23.

R. H. Pride, who received his degree from William and Mary last summer, has recently been appointed judge of the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court of Warwick county.

Pride has been principal of the Morrison and Hilton schools for four years and in serving in that capacity has had ample opportunity to study the practical side of child psychology as well as varied juvenile problems.

Of interest at William and Mary was the recent marriage of Rev. J. S. Lockaby to Miss Grace Henry, of Washington, on November 15. Rev. and Mrs. Lockaby will make their home in Marion, N. C.

Fred M. Alexander, principal of Newport News High school, an alumnus of William and Mary, was elected president of the State Teachers' Association at a recent meeting held in Richmond. Mr. Alexander is director of the William and Mary extension school in Newport News.

Claude M. Richmond, '24, the lanky twirler from Alexandria, journeyed to Richmond Turkey Day, took lunch at the Richmond Inn, witnessed the Richmond-William and Mary game and spent the night at Richmond University. What's in a name?

Alumni Present Team With Indian Blankets

The Newport News and Hampton Alumni presented the members of the varsity football squad with blankets of Indian colors—green, gold and silver—at the rally held in Jefferson Hall prior to the Thanksgiving game. J. E. Wilkins, of Newport News, presented the blankets, declaring that the alumni were proud of the opportunity of being able to do their bit for William and Mary's greatest football team.

Starting with Captain Todd, each member of the team was presented with a blanket by the speaker. The eleven players draped with the large blankets stood upon the platform while the students showed their appreciation by cheering the alumni time and again.

In addition to Mr. Wilkins, the spokesman, the Newport News and Hampton Alumni were represented by Fred Shawen, E. B. Moffitt, Howard Lackey and T. G. Pullen, Jr.

Coach Tasker made a short talk, in which he paid a glowing tribute to Captain Todd and Paul Keister, who completed their four years of football at William and Mary with the Turkey Day game. Manager Stuart told of a case that had come under his observation concerning one who had quenched his thirst with inebriating liquors and had declared that he was drunk off the spirit of his college.

Citizenship Creed Is Still In Demand

The William and Mary Citizenship Creed, which was formulated by students in the Marshall-Wythe School of Government and Citizenship about two years ago, and which attracted attention throughout the country, is still in demand in educational and political circles. In the last few weeks requests for copies of the Creed have been received from California, Missouri, Georgia and the Dakotas.

Thanksgiving Dances Were Great Success

The Thanksgiving dances, held by the Cotillion Club Monday and Tuesday nights, swept all other campus activities aside for a while, as football heroes, dainty co-eds and alumni joined in the gaiety. George Null's orchestra, of Norfolk, furnished the music for the two functions and delighted the dancers.

SUITS AND OVERCOATS FOR THE COLLEGE MEN

Young men between the ages of 17 and 30, what we call the college age, usually spend most of their allowance or salary in having a good time. So naturally when they go to buy their suit this fall, they are going to look for something conservative in price, but which will get the O. K. of their chums as to style and color.

We have just such a collection of suits for young men. Suits in the English lines with wide trousers, in such new colors as London lavender, rust brown, parrot blue, lava grey, burr brown. And is conservative for such suits.

tacular and successful passing games seen in Virginia this year. William and Mary apparently was able to run rough-shod through and around the Spider team, but were kept from scoring time and again by Dave Miller's great passing.

Before 2:15 practically all of the seats had been filled and hundreds were still pouring in through the gates, William and Mary occupying the north side of the field and Richmond the south. Both Richmond and William and Mary had bands on the field and the music, cheering and fluttering ribbons of Blue and Red and of Green, Gold and Silver lent a good deal of color to the encounter. The Indians took the field at 2:35 and were followed by the Spiders a few minutes later.

Richmond won the toss and elected to kick, defending the east goal. Goode kicked and Lee Todd returned the ball to the 20-yard line. From there with Cain and Davis bearing the brunt of the attack, the Indians marched down the field to the Spider 25-yard line, but were there held for downs. The Spiders were held for downs and Miller punted to mid-field. After several exchanges of punts Collier went off-tackle for 25 yards and then made 12 yards around right end. The Spider line stiffened and after a couple of wild passes by Matsu, the ball went over on Richmond's 25-yard line. Davis punted 50 yards for William and Mary and Miller returned it to his 20-yard line, and the Spiders were penalized 15 yards. Miller made a poor kick from behind his own goal line, which Matsu returned to the 20-yard line. Charles and Irwin replaced Cook and Collier at half. Charles gained four yards around end as the quarter ended.

The Spider defense tightened and Matsu failed to drop-kick from the 25-yard line, Richmond recovering on her own 5-yard line. Miller punted to the Indian 36-yard line, Cain and Irwin advanced the ball to within striking distance of the Richmond goal and Davis carried it over on an end to round-end play. Matsu kicked goal. Goode kicked off. Davis brought the ball back 50 yards to the Spider 37-yard line. Irwin gained 6 yards. Pass, Matsu to Charles, gained 4 yards and first down. Matsu fumbled, Bentley recovering on the Spiders' 36-yard line. Pass, Miller to Sharpe, gained 35 yards, Cain tackling Sharpe from behind when he had a clear field for a touchdown. John Todd threw Sharpe for a 2-yard loss. By a series of passes from Miller, with Sharpe and Dillon receiving the Spiders' earned a touchdown. Richmond failed to run the ball through the line for an extra point. In an exchange of punts and some pretty running by Davis and Irwin, the ball was carried within the Spiders' 20-yard line. Matsu failed to make a field goal and the ball went over as the half ended.

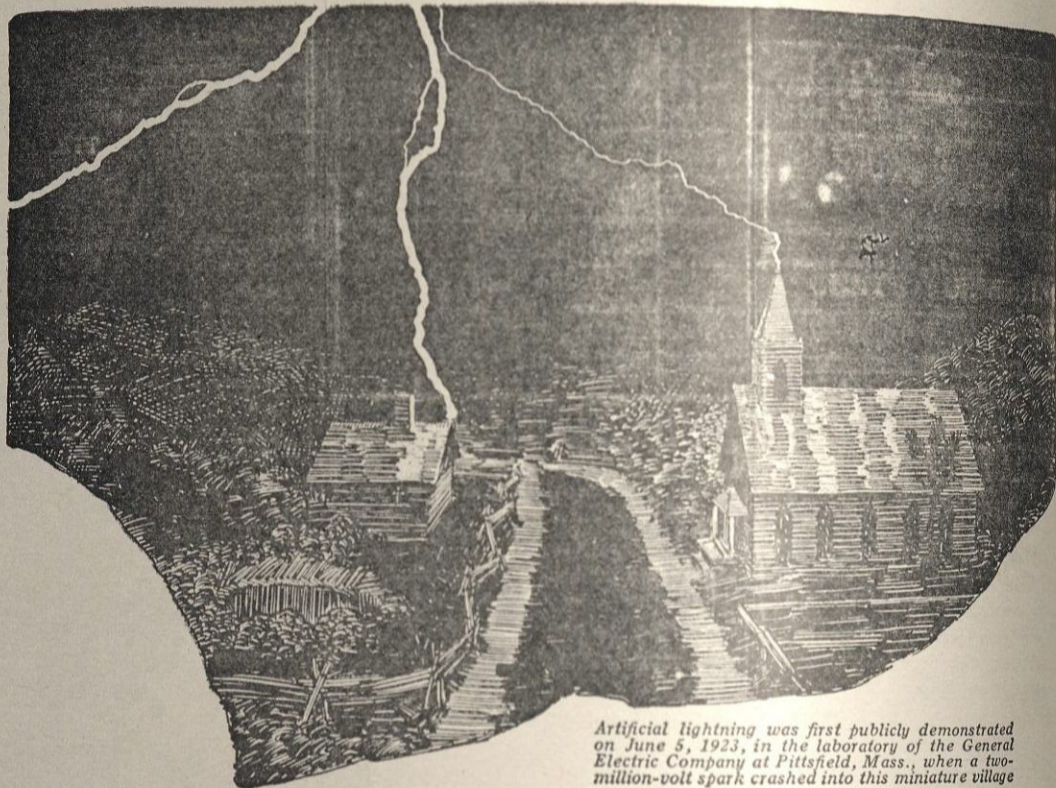

In the first half the Spiders had beat the Indians at their own game, forward passing, but William and Mary had more than offset this by a superior running attack. Fumbles and a stiff Spider defense at critical times had kept the Indians from running up a larger score, and they ended the half with a one-point lead and by the same score that it had ended in 1923.

Todd kicked off, and Miller ran outside on the Spider 25-yard line. The Spiders failed to gain and Miller punted. Matsu was downed on the 50-yard line. Irwin went off tackle for 15 yards, Davis went off guard for 4 yards. Lee Todd was thrown for a 5-yard loss on an end run. Matsu was hurt on this play and carried off the field with a torn shoulder, Brasseur taking his place at quarter. Fick intercepted an Indian pass. After an exchange of punts a series of passes by Miller with Sharpe and Savory receiving, placed the ball on the Indian 6-yard line. Charles intercepted a pass on the 3-yard line. Brasseur punted to his own 35-yard line. Irwin intercepted a pass and returned 30 yards to the Spiders' 43-yard line. A series of line plays by Cain and Irwin placed the ball on the Spiders' 19-yard line as the quarter ended. Behind beautiful interference Brasseur ran 19 yards for a touchdown, and the Indian stands went wild. Brasseur kicked goal. John Todd kicked over Richmond's goal line. A pass, Miller to Goode, gained 13 yards. John Todd intercepted a pass and ran to the Spiders' 18-yard line. The Indians made 5 yards but fumbled. Cain recovered, but the ball went over on the Spiders' 18-yard line. Goetz replaced Brasseur at quarter. The Indians blocked a punt and Lee Todd recovered on the 10-yard line. Davis went off tackle for 4 yards and Cain added 3 more. Charles went over for a touchdown. Goetz failed to drop-kick. The Spiders started a new passing offensive in a last-minute desperation. The game ended with the Spiders in possession of the ball in mid-field. Captain John Todd, playing his last game of college football, stood out all during the game both on the offense and defense. "Meb" Davis was probably the outstanding player of the game, playing a great game both offensively and defensively. Statistics show that the Indians clearly earned their victory. Unable to use an aerial attack to any advantage and being set back 72 yards in penalties, William and Mary gained 14 yards to 4 by Richmond on end run and 156 yards to 20 by Richmond through the line. For the first time since 1912 William and Mary have won two successive years from the

Artificial lightning was first publicly demonstrated on June 5, 1923, in the laboratory of the General Electric Company at Pittsfield, Mass., when a two-million-volt spark crashed into this miniature village

What's the use of artificial lightning?

It is mainly experimental, aiding General Electric scientists to solve high power transmission problems. Many such experiments yield no immediate return.

But in the long run this work is practical and important. It is part of the study which must go on unceasingly if this powerful force, Electricity, is to be fully tamed and enlisted in your service.

Experiments like these are particularly thrilling and important to young men and women, who will live in an age when electricity will perform most of life's hardest tasks. Know what the research laboratories of the General Electric Company are doing; they are a telescope through which you can see the future!

If you are interested to learn more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

A Glimpse Into The College World

Here And There With Exchanges of The Flat Hat

The girl students of Cardiff College have enjoyed their first smoker. Only girls more than five feet four inches tall were admitted. All of them wore men's clothes, but none of them smoked pipes.

LaFayette College has chosen the Leopard as its mascot. A skin has been ordered and is to be worn by some luckless frosh at all of the games played on the home field.

Speedball, a combination of football and soccer, has been established as a new inter-mural sport at Missouri.

The University of Kansas has recently opened a dancing class for beginners. The class is open to the entire university, half of the time being devoted to the teaching of dancing, and half to participation. The dean of the university said: "The university recognizes the fact that dancing is the foremost form of social entertainment and wishes to give students the opportunity to enjoy it to its fullest extent."

Students of the University of Texas spend on an average of $100 per month, according to a report issued by the cashier of the University Bank.

For the first time in two centuries and a quarter, a woman sat as a dean of the Yale University at the matriculation service this year. She is dean of the new school of nursing.

Valparaiso University has insured its athletic contests against inclement weather. A novel instrument is used to determine whether or not enough rain has fallen to affect the attendance at the games.

Extension courses at Columbia are reaching more than twenty thousand people. Experiments are now being made with the extension by radio.

Agnes Scott alumnae are going to open a real beauty parlor in the basement of one of the dormitories. There will be appliances for shampooing, curling, manicuring and facial treatment.

Not to be outdone by the freshmen, the seniors at Syracuse have adopted a navy blue crushable hat with an orange band around it.

Edith Baer Club To Hold Annual Bazaar

The Edith Baer Club will hold its annual Christmas bazaar in Tyler Hall from 4 o'clock to 6 tomorrow. The work of the home economics department, consisting of tempting food and attractive handwork, will be on sale. Everyone is invited to attend.

Tom Daly Is Honored At Columbia Uni.

Of interest to students who were here last year is the news from Columbia University that Tom Daly has been elected vice-president of the senior class of that institution. Tom will be remembered here as a former William and Mary track star. He is a member of the Sigma Nu and Alpha Kappa Psi fraternities and of the Flat Hat Club.

By PHIL

Now that the winter has sent out a press agent to announce the season's offering—we need a few cozy little thoughts—what? After Tennyson's young man who had fancies. He probably saved them up as we do, to light fires with.

A man likes his wife to be popular—and gets jealous if she is.

This one was cribbed from an old Flat Hat, but it's too good to lose. As we passed a dark corner on the campus last night, a voice was heard to murmur, "Many are cold, but few are frozen."

We think a newspaper isn't any good that hasn't any advice in it.

People like to read advice—and feel smart when they don't follow it.

With this in mind we sat down before breakfast and thought up some advice on marriage.

Not after—that comes later—but before.

Of course the best advice is "DON'T."

But if you feel an impulse to propose, count ten.

It it's moonlight, count twenty.

Choose an opposite type. Those funny looking glasses at the county fair are all right for a minute or two:

Don't try to see the funny side of marriage. It hasn't any.

If it had you couldn't see it together.

Don't try to "know" each other. The man that takes three lumps before marriage often drinks his straight afterwards.

We hope this gets by the censor. It ought to. It takes a smart person to see these jokes.

Dr. Hall Speaks To Namesake Society

The feature of the meeting of the J. Lesslie Hall Literary Society, held in the chapel on November 22, was a talk by Dr. J. Lesslie Hall, for whom the society was named. Dr. Hall was introduced by Miss Elizabeth Nicholson, president of the society. The talk was on literary society work in general.

Following Dr. Hall's talk, regular business was transacted.

in the State outside of Washington and Lee, V. M. I. and V. P. I. to score more points than did their respective opponents, and considering the fact that William and Mary played one of the hardest schedules of any team in the State, the record is even more creditable.

To quote The Associated Press of November 29: "Among the smaller colleges, the honors are mostly given to the Indians. William and Mary ranked by some fans on a parity with Tech and the Cadets, did manage to come out of a strenuous schedule with great merit. They won five games, while losing two and tying one.

"To the Williamsburg eleven is assigned by most sports writers, the first place among the smaller aggregations of the State."

Art Matsu, crippled during the latter part of the season through injury, succeeded in winning a berth on the second All-South Atlantic mythical eleven. He is second to Diffey, of Virginia. John Todd is placed on the first All-State team and takes second place on the All-South Atlantic eleven.

In closing the season the work of Manager Stuart should not be overlooked. His successor will find it hard to follow the pace that he established. He strove to satisfy every need of the team and contributed greatly towards making the season the success that it is.

The Turkey Day victory brings a feeling of content to many a William and Mary student and alumnus. It was a fitting climax to a great season. Captain Todd can lay aside his moleskin with the assurance that he has most successfully completed his gridiron career.
