Dear Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan,

A small note to say a very big thank you for the Charter Day ceremonies and everything surrounding them. For me it was a very happy and rewarding time. The dinner you so kindly gave was perfect and enabled everyone to get to know one another.
I enjoyed the Charter ceremony - Mr. Brodie's address was excellent - full of concentrated thought which will repay study. And you always mastermind these things superbly.

I hope that the wonderful scholarship donors enjoyed the lunch and that the College will continue to profit from their benefactions.

Warm regards.

Yours sincerely

Dear President,

It was marvelous to be at the College of William and Mary on such a memorable day as yesterday. The luncheon was a superb occasion and I was delighted to be there and to announce the wonderful gift from Mr. Wade Burger in honour of his late father. The papers of Chief Justice Burger at the Swem Library will be a lasting memorial and will give future generations at the College an opportunity to see and read these profound works.

The NATO Conference was a great success and I was delighted to meet so many leaders from the United States Armed Forces. It is vital that we keep this kind of dialogue in the forefront of world security; I only wish I could have stayed longer.

May I thank you and Mrs. Sullivan for your kindness and hospitality during my short stay; as always you were perfect hosts and I look forward to seeing you before too long.

With warm regards,

Yours sincerely

Dear President and Mrs. Sullivan,

You gave Judy and me an unforgettable luncheon party today. It was good to have time to talk about William Bray and matters which affect us all.

It has been a joy and a privilege to have had so much contact with you both and with the college for so long. And I am delighted that Henry K. is taking over. He is a great 'catch' for the College -

With renewed thanks and warm regards

Sincerely

Yours

My dear Presidents and Mrs. Sullivan,

Thank you so much for the lovely white flowers you so kindly sent for my 75th birthday. It was good to hear from you again.

We are going through another period of troubled and anxious times. The sheer savagery of events in the Middle East reminds us of how thin is the veneer of civilisation. There is no recipe to cure old habits but we have to go on trying.

All good wishes to you, your staff and students. Sincerely Yours Margaret Shalton

Dear President and Mrs. Sullivan,

I have so much to thank you for. Most important of all the seven years in which I have had the privilege of being Chancellor of William & Mary – a truly historic university whose ideals and scholarship are of the highest order. I appreciated especially the tremendous welcome of the students on my last unforgettable day.

Thank you too for the support and advice you have always extended during my every visit. And a very special thank you for the wonderful book – so beautifully bound, which I and my family will treasure. Eventually it will go with my “archives” to Cambridge University where all “Thatcher” documents etc are being collated. In that way it will be preserved for future historians to study and enjoy.

*With warm regards
and renewed thanks,*

Yours sincerely

Dear Tim and Anne.

Thank you so much for remembering my 77th birthday. I don't feel that old!

I recall so many happy and fruitful years I spent in your company. I am eternally grateful for America's unwavering support for a law-governed liberty and personal generosity. But we must-never take these things for granted. They have to be earned anew by each generation - and the staff and students of William and Mary will be in the forefront of that great endeavor.

With warm regards

Yours ever

Dear President Sullivan,

Thank you so much for all your hospitality and kindness during my visit to William and Mary.

It was marvellous to be back at the College again and I shall always remember the tremendous welcome I received when I walked into the hall on graduation day. You could not have done more to make my stay both enjoyable and comfortable, and I am particularly grateful to you and your wife for hosting the splendid dinner party on Sunday.

I have so many cherished memories of William and Mary over the years – of the faculty and especially the students - and will always look back on my time as Chancellor with great happiness.

With warm regards,

Yours sincerely

Dear Tim and Anne,

Thank you so much for your kind letter. For over fifty years, Denis was the most loving and supportive husband and his death leaves an emptiness in my life which can never be filled.

I have been deeply touched by all the warm tributes to him and the thoughtful messages of sympathy. They are a great comfort at this sad time.

Kind regards

Yours sincerely
