

W.S.G. Has Final Ballot Wednesday

Last Vote To Fill Seven Positions

Women Students' Cooperative Government Association will hold its final election of officers on Wednesday, March 22. The Senior Nominating Committee nominated the following girls to fill the positions of: two Representatives-at-large to Executive Council: Jane Eversmann, Beth McClelland, Martha Macklin and Laurie Pritchard; two Representatives-at-large to the Judicial Committee: Jean Beazley, Grace Duroisin, Betty Ellett and Tillie Mills; two Senior Members to Honor Committee: Ginny Darst, Nellie Greaves, Edna Kerin and Louise Thomas; Sophomore Member to Judicial Committee: Susie Seay and Bonnie Wolfgram.

Other nominations from the House were made at the student government meeting on Tuesday night, March 21. The ballot boxes will be in the three girls' dorms from 4 until 6 P. M. today. Girls living in sorority court vote in Barrett, and dormitory girls vote in their respective dorms.

Changes Made In Dean's List New Requirement Is 33 Quality Pts.

With the change in the grade point system from a six-five-four to a three-two-one basis, the requirement for Dean's List has also been changed and, in addition, raised quite sharply from nine hours of B and nothing lower than C to a tentative 33 quality points. Translated into actual grades, 33 quality points would be equivalent to 12 hours of B and 3 hours of A, or 17 hours of B.

Dean Grace W. Landrum made this announcement at the General Cooperative Committee meeting, Thursday afternoon, March 16. Although this decision is still tentative, the requirement will still be much higher than last year's. Dean Landrum feels that the former requirement was much too low. "Students of William and Mary aren't so exceptional that from 25 to 29 percent of the women students should be on the Dean's List."

Members of the committee asked that the Dean's List for the first semester be based on the old method. In accordance with this request, the Committee of Deans is preparing the list for publication.

Army Show "Front And Center" Wins Fond Thoughts Of Those Left Behind

Dancers, Comic Skits, Sextet, Singer Are Hits

By CONNIE CONWAY

To say that the Army boys left in a blaze of glory would be putting it mildly. Their never-to-be-forgotten "Front and Center" of Thursday evening only made the campus seem twice as empty as we had expected it would be after they left, because it endeared them to our hearts a little bit more.

With Cadet Bates as M. C., the show was practically an insured success from the start. That bit of feminine pulchritude that every review requires to be a hit was supplied by the ten most glamorous sweater girls of the unit. Their blond locks bound in colorful turbans, their shapely legs in stunning white tights, their dainty feet in neat G. I. shoes, colorful shirts and sweaters hanging on their shapely forms, the terpsichoreans terpsed (or is that the word?) across the stage to the howls of everyone from President Pomfret on down to some of the local canine population.

From the start the audience was in

Army Unit Leaves Wm. and Mary Friday After Nine Months' Training On Campus

Students, Faculty Bid Soldiers Farewell; Wams Make, Distribute Lunches At Train

By CONNIE CONWAY

Orders "straight from Baltimore" finally came through last Wednesday evening to headquarters of the 3321st A.S.T. Unit setting the time of the boys' departure as ten o'clock Friday morning. Their destination was undisclosed at the time of departure.

Thursday morning at seven the entire Unit, as a pre-farewell gesture, marched around the girls' dorms singing the songs they had made so well known in their nine month stay on campus. Classes for the men were suspended, and the whole day was spent in finishing up old business, turning in sheets, and all the necessary military details connected with the departure. At noon the fellows marched in a body to lunch, singing "Shovin' Right Off for Home Again," as students and faculty watched from the Library steps and the porch of Wren. "Front and Center," the review planned originally for Friday night, was presented Thursday evening from eight to ten in Phi Beta before a more than capacity crowd. Coeds were given late permission, and many tearful good-byes were said Thursday night as the clock in Wren struck eleven.

Friday morning again, the Unit marched around Chandler, Barrett and Jefferson singing, and stopped at Barrett corner to sing "Auld Lang Syne," one of the saddest parts of their leaving. From eight to ten the men were free, and at ten they formed near the gym, marched beside the library, in front of Wren, saluting for the last time on this campus the officers, and then marched out the Duke of Gloucester Street gate. Singing "Pack Up Your Troubles," the men were followed to the railroad station by a major portion of the coeds.

Once at the station the men were "at ease" for a few minutes to say their goodbyes . . . tender ones and laughing ones . . . to the students and faculty who had come to see them off.

As they boarded the train the men were handed lunches, packed by six industrious WAMS and Lieutenant and Mrs. Brooks the previous evening. In the odd minutes before the train pulled out coeds were lifted up to the windows, some weeping, some laughing all promising to write.

Then when the whistle blew and the train chugged slowly out of the station, their departure, so long expected, was an actuality . . . one of those things that has to be taken with as much of a smile as possible, a shrug of the shoulders, an da rather hackneyed "c'est la guerre."

CALLING ALL WAM SEAMSTERS

All Wams must bring needle and scissors with them.

Women Students Vote On Revision Of Social Rules

Faculty Advisory Committee Approves; New Measures Effective Tuesday, March 28

Changes in the social rules were brought before the women students to be voted upon at the Women's Student Government meeting, Tuesday, March 21.

After the nominations by secret ballot were held, Marge Lentz, president, introduced the social rule reading with a background of Constitutional procedure which has not been followed as far back as any of the present students can recall. Katie Rutherford read the year's constitution.

The Constitutional procedure consists of the new suggestions for rules first being made by the Judicial Committee which presents them to the Executive Council. The Executive Council then meets with the Faculty Advisory Committee. The members of the Faculty Advisory Committee are Dr. Harold R. Phalen, Dr. George H. Armacost, and Dr. Charles F. Marsh. Dr. Charles T. Harrison and Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts were invited as ex-officio members.

The next move is for the rules to be presented at the W.S.C.G.A. meeting to be voted upon. President John E. Pomfret, retains final authority in his hands for all rules.

Measures which were passed last night will go into effect on Tuesday, March 28. House meetings will be held in all dormitories and sorority houses for further explanation on Thursday, March 23.

Manewal And Lee Head Two W. S. C. G. Councils

Guran, Scarborough, Healy, Easley Elected To Other Women's Offices

In women student's elections last Wednesday, March 15, Marcia "Sunny" Manewal was chosen Chairman of the Honor Council and "Dinny" Lee was chosen Chairman of the Judicial Council. Voters also chose students for the offices of Secretaries of Executive and Judicial Council, Junior member of Judicial Council, and Sophomore member of the Honor Council.

"Sunny" Manewal was formerly Vice-President of the Executive Council, and many freshmen and upperclassmen became acquainted with her during orientation and Student Government exams. The duties of her new office are the supervising of all Honor Council cases and the conducting of all meetings and Honor Council business.

Nancy Easley, of the Freshman class, was elected Sophomore member of the Honor Council. She is very interested in publications and is on the staffs of the Colonial Echo, Royalist, and Flat Hat. She plans to major in journalism.

"Dinny's" duties as Chairman of Judicial Council will be to conduct and preside at all Judicial meetings, keep files of all cases, grant dating permissions out of social hours, and, before she goes out of office, to conduct meetings for revision of social rules, when deemed necessary. She becomes a member of the Senior Nominating Committee, Senate, Assembly, and the General Cooperative Committee.

The Executive Council's new secretary is Gunesh Guran, a junior transfer from American University in Washington, D. C. She will be in charge of keeping and reading the minutes of all Executive Council and W.S.C.G.A. meetings.

The Judicial Council's new junior member is Dorothy Scarborough. Jerrie Healy, who was elected Secretary, was former Sophomore Representative to the Council.

a constant state of suspension, because of the loss of one poor cadet, Charlie. Rufus Lusk's dramatic recitation of that touching, heart-rending poem, "Boots", was constantly interrupted by the three poker players in the corner, and by some of Charlie's friends. These interruptions, however, did not in the least detract from Cadet Lusk's wonderful interpretation of the classic.

Dean Grace W. Landrum Is Author, Nature Lover

First Southern Radcliffe Graduate, Descendant Of Harvard President

By CONNIE CONWAY

(This is the seventh in a series of articles designed to better acquaint the student with his professors.)

That one so tiny could possess all the vitality and versatility of Grace Warren Landrum, Dean of Women, seems almost an impossibility. Dr. Landrum is a familiar figure mornings going from Wren to her office in Marshall-Wythe, briefcase in hand, a smile for all who pass her. In evidence at all College functions, she has welcomed students to the College since 1927.

Credits Given To A.S.T.P.

Reports of the Committee on College Credits for Students in War Service have been issued as adopted by the faculty of William and Mary on Tuesday, March 14.

The Committee on Degrees has been authorized to grant a maximum of eight credits to a former student or a student admitted or readmitted who presents evidence of having completed the basic training of thirteen weeks or equivalent experience in the armed forces. These credits will be used to complete or fulfill the distribution requirements in physical education, the balance to count as electives.

Work successfully completed in specialized Army and Navy educational programs of college grade carried on under the auspices of other colleges and universities or of the Armed Forces will be evaluated by the Committee on Degrees through its usual methods regarding transfer credits.

Upon the satisfactory completion of an extension course given by a recognized college or university in cooperation with the U. S. Armed Forces Institute, credit will be allowed provided that the subject matter of the course is acceptable to the Committee on Degrees and provided that the total amount of extension work applied to the degree is not greater than thirty credits.

For courses or the equivalents of courses pursued in the armed forces other than the subjects treated in the preceding paragraphs, credit will be granted on the basis of examinations given by the U. S. Armed Forces Institute, provided that the subject matter is acceptable to the Committee on Degrees.

W.-M. ASTP Students

For each course successfully completed in any term of the A.S.T.P. at the College of William and Mary specified credits will be granted. For lectures and recitations, one quarter credit will be allowed for each hour a week through a term; for laboratory work in physics, chemistry and engineering drawing, one quarter credit for each two hours through a term; and for work in physical education, one quarter credit for each two hours a week through a term. No credit will be allowed for work in military training.

Cadets who have been removed from the A.S.T. Program at the convenience of the Government before the end of any term will be granted one-third credit for each four weeks completed in each course which they were passing at the time of the last grade report before their removal.

Students removed between the time of the faculty meeting on March 14, and the end of the present quarter shall receive half credit in each course which they were passing at the time of their removal.

Las Vegas, N. M.—(ACP)—President Edward Eyring announces a special school for vocational teachers of the state will be conducted at New Mexico Highlands University from June 5 to 30.

The Trading Post

By BOBBIE STEELEY

Randall "Sheriff" Johnson is only a freshman in the police science course at Washington State College, but he's already hard at work on his first big case. The situation that is challenging his talents is that of a burglary at 704 Linden in which two men broke into a room and took two cartons of cigarettes, a sport coat, a suit case, a train ticket, and $10 in cash. Randy knows he'll solve the case if humanly possible. In fact, he's quite perturbed since it was his room.

A branch of the Women's Wing has been organized on the University of New Mexico campus with classes in ground training for women interested in joining the WAFs or some flight course. The course will include aerodynamics, radio code, aircraft identification, physics, and drill.

The Fine Arts department at Clark University smiles with satisfaction over the past year's presentations. Among the celebrated performers were Charles Dana Gibson of Gibson Girl fame, Ben Ames Williams, who wrote Strange Woman and Time of Peace; Emily Kimbrough of Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, and Lillian Gish, who was a screen star and on the legitimate stage.

Through the cooperation of the Spanish and Music departments at Mary Washington College, the operetta, "Cielito Linda", was presented with an all-student cast. The story involved lover's quarrels, bull fights, and fiesta scenes. The bull was made up of two boys in the fore and aft sections of a bull costume and did a conga to the singing of the fiesta goers.

Candida Is Sixth Shaw Production Given Here

Author Keeps Guild Waiting Four Years Before Answering Inquiry

By RONALD KING

As "Candida," the next production of the William and Mary Theatre, goes into its second week of production, the name of George Bernard Shaw, the author, comes to mind.

Shaw, otherwise known as the great G.B.S. (although he prefers just the two names, Bernard Shaw) is recognized as the greatest living playwright. Life Magazine describes him briefly as "the 87-year-old Irishman who has given a lifetime to cracking the British superiority complex."

Shaw has written many plays which appeal to college audiences, and it is not surprising to find that the William and Mary Players have previously produced several plays by this greatest of living playwrights. "Candida" was given here in 1929. Since that time, the College players have put on Shaw's "Arms and the Man," "Man of Destiny," "Dark Lady of the Sonnets," part one of "Back to Methuselah," and "How He Lied to Her Husband." The latter play, incidentally, is a reversal in plot of "Candida." College audiences have received these Shaw plays with much enthusiasm, and the Players are striving to make this production of "Candida" more entertaining than ever.

One interesting fact about Shaw that is little known is that he wrote a play which was made into one of the first British talking pictures. It was an experimental opus, and one of the few motion pictures photographed as a stage production. All the action see it.

went on in one room—the camera did not take the audience to other parts of the house, or out of doors.

Many people imagine Shaw to be the Monte Wooley type of person. This writer has no direct evidence of the fact, but many caustic sayings have been attributed to the fabulous Bernard. Time Magazine carried an interesting anecdote about G.B.S. recently, which denotes somewhat Shaw's wit: "Manhattan's Theatre Guild recently had a cable from George Bernard Shaw reading 'The answer is no, absolutely no.' The guild is still wondering why. The last time it addressed an inquiry to Shaw was in 1940."

Shaw evidently does not trust matters to subordinates or agents. The William and Mary Theatre has had to write directly to Shaw to obtain his permission to produce the play "Candida." It is hoped that Mr. Shaw will not wait four years to answer this Theatre, as he did the Manhattan Theatre Guild.

At any rate, "Candida" will be presented in Phi Beta Kappa Hall on April 26 and 27. Be Shaw-r that you a stage production. All the action see it.

Panhellenic Council, Interfraternity Association Combine As Hosts Wed.

About two hundred members of the faculty and administration, together with all the housemothers and the commanding officers of the Chaplain School and A.S.T.U., were guests at a reception given by the Panhellenic Council on Wednesday, March 14. The reception was held in the Dodge Room of Phi Beta Kappa Hall at 8 P. M.

Marjorie Retzke, president of the Council, Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, sorority administration officer, Mrs. George Armacost, Dr. George Armacost, fraternity administration officer, Billie Davidson, secretary of the Council, Debbie Davis, treasurer, and Ann Hitch, social chairman, acted as members of the receiving line. Mrs. Y. O. Kent, Mrs. J. Wilfred Lambert, Mrs. Gardner Brooks, and Miss Thelma Brown, members of the National Panhellenic Council War and College Committee in Williamsburg poured. This committee is made up of alumnae sorority women. The other members in town are Mrs. John Howitt, Miss Kathleen Alsop, Mrs. C. F. Marsh, Mrs. W. G. Guy, and Miss Ann Chapman.

The Panhellenic Council, consisting of eighteen girls, a senior and a junior representative from each sorority on campus, gave the reception and received. Also receiving were the president and two other members of each sorority (i. e., 5 members in all from each chapter), Jerome Hyman, president of the fraternity association, Eugene Wood, president of Phi Delta Pi, and William Britten, president of Kappa Tau. Other members of Phi Delta Pi who helped serve were Tom Thornton, Harvey Pope, Mark Waldo, Pete Quinn, and Gene Albertson. Other members of Kappa Tau were Jack Amory Lawson, Edward Grey Griffin, Aubrey Mason, Wallace Rowe, and Robert Burns.

Pastel-colored cakes, mints, nuts, and coffee were served. A large centerpiece of spring flowers and greens adorned the table and all members of the Council, women in the receiving line, and those who poured, wore courages of roses and sweet peas. Candlelight and symphonic background music set the mood of the evening.

Marjorie Retzke, president, and Ann Hitch, social chairman, were ex-officio members of the three committees. On the Decorations Committee were Debby Davis, Joan Parker, Marjorie Bevans, and Janice Mori.

Members of the Refreshments Committee were Gunesh Guran, Louise Dietz, Midge Mitchell, Virginia Baureithel, Virginia Darst, Eleanor Rheuby, and Frances Smith.

Peggy Moore, Julie Rowan, Billie Davidson, Jeanne Mencke, and Muriel Koch served on the Committee for Invitations.

Blue Chaplain Uniforms Liven Manless Campus

Former W-M Dean Is Officer; Navy School Celebrates First Anniversary

By WILLIAM TRACEY

To the mind of the average William and Mary student, the members of the Chaplains' School are merely "here because they're here," to quote an ancient adage. But the real truth of the matter is far distant from that quaint saying just mentioned. The Chaplains' School is preparing its men for what is undoubtedly one of the most meritorious duties in our armed forces today, that of keeping the spiritual side of the service man's mind wide awake. The Chaplains' School is the only service organization left on the campus, as a result of the ASTP unit's marching away last Friday morning.

Bringing the discussion closer home, Lieutenant (jg) J. Wilfred Lambert, now dispatching his duties on the second floor of the Marshall-Wythe building in behalf of the corps, is the former dean of men of the College. Lieutenant Lambert served in this capacity from 1935 until June, 1943. He graduated from William and Mary in 1927, having been enrolled on the campus from 1924 through 1927. Lieutenant Lambert became a member of the College faculty in January, 1931. He was given leave of absence from his duties as dean of men to go to the Navy. In the Lieutenant's own words, he "just moved upstairs from the first to the second floor of Marshall-Wythe and resumed his work there, although under totally different status and surroundings."

The Chaplain Corps itself makes use of the second floor of Marshall-Wythe and occupies Old Dominion Hall for quartering purposes. The same blue uniforms may be seen on the first and second floors as Monroe Hall. There are approximately 250 men active in the William and Mary Chaplain Corps branch, accounting for those whose duties call them out on lengthy and varied field assignments.

Lieutenant Lambert very kindly used a portion of his well-occupied time in leading your Flat Hat reporter on a tour of inspection of the living quarters in Old Dominion Hall. The place presents a very spic and span appearance and has, among other things, a "lounging room," a bonded mail clerk, an adequate sick bay, and what appeared to be a very fine group of men.

The day of the average chaplain is a strenuous one, beginning at 6 A. M. on Monday through Friday. Do they have it easier on Saturday and Sunday, did you say? The hour is 5:45 A. M. on Saturday, which just about balances their arising at the "late" hour of 7 A. M. on Sunday mornings to begin their many duties. As a whole, the men have a pretty busy time in a life combining classes, lectures, drill, etc.

The school was instituted at William and Mary a year ago on the morning of March 17, according to Lieutenant Lambert. However, the Naval Training Chaplain School as a national affair celebrated its second anniversary February 28. Class 1-44 was graduated from the William and Mary unit on that same evening and the occasions were celebrated jointly in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

The original idea of the need of Navy chaplains came from the brain of Chaplain Workman, who saw the situation from his vantage point in Washington, D. C., during those nervous days before and immediately after Pearl Harbor. Official sanction was granted, and the idea became a reality.

DUKE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF NURSING DURHAM, N. C.

The basic entrance requirements are intelligence, aptitude for nursing, and character. During the War, high school graduates who have not had college work, including chemistry, should enroll in the special Pre-Nursing Course offered in this School, which will begin July 3, 1944. Those who successfully complete this pre-nursing course, and other students with acceptable college work will begin September 29, 1944. Tuition for the pre-nursing course is $100.00 and $100.00 per year for the nursing. This covers the cost of instruction and maintenance. Students joining the United States Nurse Cadet Corps will have no tuition to pay and will receive uniforms and stipends. Kellogg Loan Funds for tuition are also available. Catalogue and application forms should be obtained from: The Dean of the School of Nursing, Durham, North Carolina.

The Unit wasn't kidding when they had Bill Kessler sing "Zing Went the Strings of My Heart," and several other pieces from the light classics, and Cadet Schellenberg's tips on the life of a German ASTP student were really appreciated by everyone.

As if Sinatra's Wednesday night program wasn't enough to last the coeds until Saturday, Johnnie Griffin's imitation of "The Voice," and the glamorous chorus in the background, only made the gals swoon even more than usual. Feminine accompaniment supplied by Harry Messler really knocked the entire audience for a loop.

Cadet Carlson's take-offs on several faculty members, and the unnamed Cadet who had so much trouble taking off "her" girdle, kept everyone literally rolling in the aisles. Fred Kidder's generous offers of cameras, wallets, fountain pens, and what-have-you "in each and every box of Mrs. Murphy's chocolates for only twenty-five cents, one quarter of a dollar," was really snapped up by the audience, who nearly lost their collective back teeth when one cadet seemingly fired a rather large and tasty looking chicken from a gun . . . but those ASTP fellows learned to do just about everything.

With St. Patrick's day near, it was only fitting that after they really gave out with some spirituals, the sextet should sing some good old Irish melodies. Led by Pinky (Mc)Finkle, one of the most prominent Irishmen on campus, the sextet made Ireland seem just like next door . . . if a little affected by the potato famine.

By far the greatest dramatic effort on this campus to date, "The Downfall of a Private," in which the officers of the unit were really kidded, brought the entertainment portion of the show to a close, after almost two solid hours of laughs, laughs, and more laughs.

It wasn't until Major Schaubel's sincere thanks to President Pomfret from the men and the officers, and his presenting of the insignia plaque to the College in behalf of the entire Unit that the thought of no more ASTP's on campus really hit the audience. It may sound unbelievable, but there were tears in many eyes when the cast, the men, the pros, and the students all joined in the singing of "I've Got Sixpence," and then "The Star Spangled Banner."

New Requirement Is 33 Quality Pts.

A resolution to the President was made, asking that one central authority be set up as the clearing center for the translation of grade point values from the old system to the new.

Citing a clause in the Virginia Code, Lebe Seay pointed out that the padlocks used at night on the side entrances to the girls' dormitories are fire hazards in that they prevent the stairs from being used as fire escapes. This matter was referred to the superintendent of grounds and to the assistant dean of women. Sorority house fire escapes will be considered in this inspection.

Speaking for President Pomfret, Lebe Seay stated that the one o'clock permission for special dances was refused because of the following reasons: students returning from dances held so late would disturb others in the dorms; special permission of this sort would show discrimination toward certain groups; and late hours would interfere with Saturday class attendance. However, President Pomfret is entirely in accord with one o'clock (or even two o'clock) permission for any big dances to be given for the entire student body.

The committee recommended that Mary Wilson Carver, acting-president of the student body, prepare a statement from the students to the departing ASTP unit and present it at the army show, March 16.

W.A.A. Elects New Officers

The elections for President, Point Recorder, and Secretary of the Women's Athletic Association were held Wednesday, March 15 in Jefferson, Barrett, and Chandler dormitories. The results were as follows: Sue Lamb, President; Frances Butler, Point Recorder; and Harriet Hochstrasser, Secretary. These girls will be installed with the W.S.C.G.A. electees at the next Women Student's Co-operative Government meeting, March 27. The Women's Athletic Association sponsors the intramural competition between the different sororities and dormitories throughout the year. The activities include basketball, bridge, badminton, baseball, swimming and hockey.

Engineers Win Hoop Tourney

The recent intramural basketball tournament sponsored by the Physical Education Department, came to an untimely close last Wednesday evening because of the impending departure of the A.S.T.P. In order to give the GI's a chance for the gold medals awarded to the winning quintet, it was decided to run off the quarter-finals, the semi-finals, and the finals all in one evening. Many exciting games were played, with the Engineers winding up champions by defeating Kappa Tau 26-10 in the semi-finals, and repeating the treatment on Phi Delta Pi in the finals to the tune of 26-9. Hall Hansen led the Engineers' attack with 17 points. The evening before, the two fraternities had played the best and most exciting game of the tournament, with Phi Delta Pi eking out a 25-23 decision on a beautiful one-handed shot by Eddie Dunbar in the second "sudden death" overtime period. The Yankees came close to winning the crown by eliminating the Rebels and the Goldbricks, but missed by an eyelash.

ON THE LOOKOUT

With BILLY GEIGER

With the departure of William and Mary's Army Unit, the school has lost many of its best athletes of the past football and basketball season.

Last fall, Coach R. N. McCray built his informal grid squad around several talented Army boys. Joe Och, at end, was one of the best on the squad, covering himself with glory by snagging Ben Raimondi's dead-eye passes. Other standouts on the gridiron were "Abe" Lincoln in the line, while the backfield was bolstered by Pete Everett, who in his last game scored five touchdowns; Don Brause, hard-driving fullback, and Peyton, the only man on the team to toss a touchdown pass besides Raimondi.

In basketball, however, is where the soldiers really starred. The starring five was made up of Army boys with the exception of the freshman center, Austin Wright. The ramparts of the cage team that gave William and Mary one of its best cage seasons were Captain Ed Hollé, leading scorer of the team and All-State; slender sharpshooting William Dixon; Bill Kirk, an All-State Honorable Mention; and Joe Och, another All-State Honorable Mention. Reserve strength was centered around Don Brause, crafty defensive man; Tom Dunlap, a sensational scorer of occasions; Fowler, and the civilian boys.

Not only did the Army help out in athletics, but they helped carry on Coach Arnold Umbach's intramural set-up almost to perfection; especially in Volley Ball, Swimming, Basketball, Wrestling and Boxing.

Yes, William and Mary will miss these boys on the Athletic Field and in all other branches of college life.

Preview Of William and Mary Indians Shows Wide Range Of Ability For Fall

By ED KORNBLUH

Last week, William and Mary's football players started spring practice in preparation for the resumption of "Big Time" football next fall. Here are some "thumbnail" sketches of the gridders who will form the nucleus of the squad:

Eugene "Doc" White, 6' 1", 190 lbs., native of Bluefield, Va., was an outstanding tackle on last fall's team. "Doc" promises to be even better next year, he has some experience behind him.

Austin Wright, 6', 175 lbs., a Williamsburg boy, played at tackle last fall, but Voyles switched him to end, and he'll probably open the season at that position.

Tom Mikula, 5' 10", 185 lbs., was the best lineman of last year's crew. Tom hails from Johnstown, Pa., and plays a "cracker-jack" good game at guard. Look for him to get state and conference recognition next fall.

Arthur Foussekis, 5' 11", 185 lbs., is from Petersburg, Va. "Sike" played some excellent ball for the Little Injuns last season, till a shoulder injury shelved him. He's rough and strong and can be counted on for heavy duty.

Ernie Garrison, 5' 9", 185 lbs., played good enough ball at tackle for Hampton High to earn a place on last year's all state squad. Voyles switched him to blocking back, and with his "build" he should do well there.

Eddie Dunbar, from Chester, Pa., stands 5' 10" and weighs 136 lbs. Although Ed is a little light, he makes up for lack of bulk with speed to burn. He's number one candidate for center position.

Alpha Chi Wins Title, Topping Pi Phi, 33-31 Pi Phi Defeats Kappa Cagers In 16-11 Clash For 2nd Place

By LAURIE PRITCHARD

Jefferson Gym rocked with cheers last Tuesday night when the Alpha Chi's battled their way to a two-point victory over the fighting Pi Phi cagers. The largest crowd of the season saw the two previously unbeaten hoop squads vie for first place in the intramural finals with the Green and Scarlet coming out on the top side of a 33-31 score.

Pigskin Squad Starts Spring Gridiron Drills

William and Mary's football hopefuls concluded a week of Spring football practice on Saturday.

Under the watchful eye of Head Coach Carl M. Voyles and Assistant Coach Arnold Umbach, the Indians have been running through light drills only, with no heavy contact work except in the case of the linemen, who, under Umbach, have been doing only light work of this type. The drills last about two hours and a half and consist chiefly of running, calisthenics, passing offense and defense, and running through several plays that have been submitted. Heavy work was not slated until last Saturday at which time full equipment was issued. The squad numbers about 20 at present and is composed of two sets of backs, two sets of ends and one line.

Several shifts have been made by the coaches and these shifts find Wright and White moved to end, while Garrison, a new boy, has been moved from the line to blocking back. Although no set backfield has been decided on as yet, Raimondi, Swindell, Garrison and Hall have been working together. Hall has been at wing back, while Raimondi and Swindell have been handling the passing assignment with Garrison at blocking back. Holdovers from last season are Wright, White and Reynolds at end; Mikula, Foussekis, Dunbar, line; and Raimondi, Hall, Jackson, H. Chappell and Wheeler, backs.

The Pi Phi's opened the scoring with Marian Webb looping in a short shot from the right. Barbara Grant came through for a second score for the Wine and Blue just before Ann Vineyard made the first Alpha Chi goal. From that time on it was give and take with each team racking up the points. At the quarter Pi Phi led 10-6. The second period saw dazzling play by both teams, but the Pi Phi's managed to gain a six-point lead at half time. The second quarter ended with the score 18-12 in their favor.

Third period play began with Sue Lamb swishing the nets on a set shot from quarter court for the Green and Scarlet. Grant hit the meshes on an overhead shot from the right side for the Pi Phi's. Both teams played a fast, even game with good footwork and ball handling. At the end of the third quarter the Alpha Chi's had cut the Pi Phi lead to one point, 23-22.

In the last period Ann Vineyard tied the score with a free throw and then the scoring went back and forth with neither team gaining more than a two-point lead. With the score tied and fifteen seconds left, Alpha Chi team took possession of the ball and Ann Vineyard sunk a short, one-handed shot off the board for the winning two points as the whistle blew.

The game featured close, steady guarding by both teams and the co-ordination of the forwards was spectacular. Ann Vineyard was high scorer for the victors with 23 points and Barbara Grant took the honors for the losers with 24.

Kappas Defeat Thetas

In the secondary game of the evening Kappa Kappa Gamma defeated the Kappa Alpha Theta team in a 29-21 contest. The first score of the evening came on a free shot by Jane Welton. The contest was a close one with Kappa leading at the half by a 12-11 score.

In the second half the Kappa's pulled away from the Theta's to make a final score of 29-21 with the Kappa's on top. Katie Rutherford was high scorer for the winners with 11 points and Joan Kueffner hit the nets for 14 points for the Theta's.

Pi Phi's Win Second Place

On Friday the Kappa's met the Pi Phi cagers in the playoff for second place in the Sorority league. The play was slower than in the previous games and the scoring got off to a weak start with Pi Phi leading at half, 11-5.

The second and third periods saw action pick up with the forwards and guards of both teams playing well. The final score was 16-11 in favor of the Pi Phi's who by the win gained second place in the league. High scorer for the victors was Barbara Grant with 10 points, and Katie Rutherford placed high for the losers with 5.

The final standings in the league are: 1st, Alpha Chi Omega; 2nd, Pi Phi; 3rd, Kappa Kappa Gamma; 4th, Kappa Alpha Theta; 5th, Chi Omega; 6th, Gamma Phi; 7th, Phi Mu; 8th, Tri Delt; 9th, Chandler; 10th, Barrett.

For Women Only

By CORNIE WESTERMAN

Did you ever stop to notice what a versatile group of athletes William School in Philadelphia where she and Mary has? 'Tis amazing how played varsity basketball, hockey, and proficient our coeds are in not just one but all sports. Since women's intercollegiate games have been discontinued, these gals seem to go by comparatively unrecognized. Through a series of brief sketches we want to introduce to you some of these girls from the sports realm. Meet the new president of the Women's Athletic Association — Susan Lamb! Sue didn't suddenly blossom forth when she came to W. & M., oh no, she was just as outstanding at Friends Central School in Philadelphia where she played varsity basketball, hockey, and softball. During her senior year at Friends, she was chosen as a member of the all-star Philadelphia Girls' Basketball Team for prep schools. Here at W. & M. the prey of W.A.A. is an outstanding full-back on the hockey team, as well as an excellent tennis player. Then, of course, no one could question the smoothness of the Lamb-Vineyard twosome in basketball. Sue is majoring in physical education in which field she'll undoubtedly be a success.

Opera Is Entertaining But Inferior Greenwell Shows Best Voice, Acting

By NANCY KEEN

On Monday night, Phi Beta auditorium again resounded to operatic arias. The Nine O'Clock Opera Company had made a favorable impression last year with "The Marriage of Figaro," and this year they returned to present "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

It was now no longer a novelty to see an opera given in English and modern dress, and people were more critical about the singing and acting, which were definitely second-rate. Gean Greenwell, as Falstaff, demonstrated the best voice and acting ability. As the "amusing" narrator, however, his humor was somewhat stale. Other good voices were those of Alice George and Carlos Sherman, although Mr. Sherman's voice lacked strength and volume.

Due to Mr. Greenwell's Falstaff, the delightful music of Nicolai, and the company's own fun in cavorting about the stage, the production was entertaining.

WANTED: MUSICIANS (Female)

Girls who have experience in playing any musical instrument from harmonica to double bass are wanted desperately! Preferred instruments include saxophone, trumpet, and trombone. Only pianists who can read music are asked to apply. If enough suitable personnel can be collected, a girls' dance band will be formed.

Please call Marjorie Talle at the Tri Delta House (472) or Barbara Ruhl at the Phi Mu House (492). Auditions will be arranged.

(If you think you aren't good enough, apply anyway. Marge and Barbara will decide!)

New Phys. Ed. Activity
There's a new activity being offered in gym this quarter. What is it? Well, its official title is "Campus Improvement". Nancy Carnegie had the idea for this class and presented it to Miss Barksdale. The coeds, laden down with hoes, rakes, trowels and other utensils of the garden variety, will clean-up the campus from top to toe. A similar plan to have the women students rejuvenate the campus was started last spring, but they were handicapped by the lack of equipment. This spring there will be sufficient gardening tools so that all you gals can turn as rustic as a pair of blue jeans, if you like.

Camp Counseling
If you've been thinking of turning career woman this summer, but can't stand the thought of being cooped up indoors, why don't you see Miss Barksdale. There are several counseling jobs at summer camps which are open to college women. Here's your opportunity to spend an out-of-door summer.

to better his record this year. Sam Swindell, 6', 175 lbs., was an all-state back on St. Christopher's fine team last year. He's a triple threat, and might team up with Raimondi to give the Indians a scintillating pair of "touchdown twins".

Jess Jackson, 5' 7", 155 lbs., is from Clarksville, Va., and if he's coached how to block, will be a valuable replacement for Garrison. Louis Browney, 6', 200 lbs., is from George Washington High in Alexandria. He's an unknown quantity, but he's big enough to play tackle or guard.

Works Of Simon Spring Dance In F. A. Exhibit Sat., Mar. 25

Currently on exhibition in the Fine Arts Building are several representative works of Eric Simon, contemporary illustrator and craftsman. The collection includes pencil studies, pen and ink sketches, scratch board drawings, and the printed results of many of these.

Simon is designer for the Eaton's Paper Company, and a part of the show is made up of his work on the Eaton's 1944 Calendar. The theme of these illustrations is historical uniform of American soldiers, a field in which extensive research has made Mr. Simon a qualified recorder.

This interest in American military background doubtlessly grew from his illustration of "Origins of the American Revolution," a recent book by John C. Miller. Several black and white drawings done for this book are shown.

This exhibition is of interest to students because in it are illustrated the various stages and techniques employed from sketch to book.

"Spring Fantasy" is the big semi-formal dance of the year sponsored by the Sophomore and Junior classes. It will be held on Saturday, March 25, from 9 to 12 P. M., in Blow Gym. Admission will be free.

Music will be furnished by the Fort Eustis Band that played for the Military Ball two weeks ago. Refreshments are to be served. Al Puth, Chairman of the decorating committee, has stated that the decorations will be in the spring theme.

Jan Freer, president of the Sophomore class, and Bill Williams, president of the Junior class, announce that plans are progressing successfully, and they urge all to attend. The dance will be both girl and boy drag.

Virginius Dabney Talks At Meeting Of Seminar

Mr. Virginius Dabney, political scientist, and editor of the Richmond Times Dispatch, gave a political prophesy in his talk at the Marshall-Wythe Seminar meeting last Thursday, March 16, in Rogers 212. His subject was "The Post-War Political Scene in the United States."

"The United States' Senate is alarming," Mr. Dabney asserted by showing that one-third of its members are internationalist, another third is isolationist, while the other third is on the fence with an isolationist tendency. An amendment is necessary for the majority ratification of the Legislature, if there is to be a lasting peace, established by Congress.

Although now alarmed by Russian-Polish boundary disputes, the United States is abandoning its international collaboration policy. Congress does not know what is happening at the conference called for the boundary settlement, and Mr. Dabney pointed out that this is the reason why there is antagonism in the Senate today. Also, the Atlantic Charter has been thrown overboard since countries have not carried out its purpose.

Russia, Britain, and the United States are to police the world; consequently there is no real international cooperation. However, these three powers have the sphere of influence and they may lead into an international organization later.

Post-war plans under consideration at present include the Federal Union of the Allied nations, with "Russia, China, and Latin America not being on the ground floor."

There is a possibility, Dabney further explained, that an international agreement (not treaties) can be drawn up with the support of a simple majority of the national Legislature and Executive agreements, because recent public opinion polls show favor for an international police force.

"Resolutions by state legislatures are encouraging," Mr. Dabney concluded. By endorsing a world federation, the States are apt to impress Congress.

Club Notes

Lambda Phi Sigma

Lambda Phi Sigma, honorary music fraternity, takes pleasure in announcing the initiation of Marion Commyery, June Neff, Marion Webb, Marilyn Patton, and Eileen Garrett, Friday evening, March 17. Active participation in campus music organizations is the primary qualification for membership. Senior members of the fraternity include Barbara Ruhl, president; Marion Ross, vice-president; Mary Barnhardt, and Marjorie Talle. Pauline Walker, an active alumna member, serves as secretary-treasurer. Miss Eleanor Adams is the faculty advisor.

French Club

Gunesh Guran was elected treasurer and Josephine Chisholm was elected secretary of the French Club at the last meeting on Thursday, March 9.

Wams To Knit For U.S. Army Red Cross Gives Supplies Of Wool

Knitting for the armed forces is suggested by the War Council as a way for Wams to get their hours, and eventually their pin. The credits for knitting have been changed, and the new plan will become effective as of today. Wams will receive two hours credit for each afghan square, 12 hours for each pair of socks or a sleeveless sweater, and 10 hours for a helmet or muffler.

The wool for these articles may be obtained at the Red Cross Headquarters which is located over Pender's grocery store in town. At present, only the wool for the helmets can be supplied, but more is expected to come in soon.

The War Council urges Wams to do this knitting because there is a large quota to be filled, and the warm clothing is badly needed.

Faculty Abolishes Sr., Jr. Phys. Ed.

Dean James W. Miller announces that in the William and Mary faculty meeting of March 14, the faculty abolished the present requirements for physical education in junior and senior years. The requirements will stand as before the war.

At the request of the members of the General Cooperative Committee, the Committee of Deans has agreed to work out the Dean's List for this semester on the basis as stated in the current catalogue. The new catalogue will carry the new formulas for Dean's List resulting from changes in the grading system and the new formulas will be used in preparing the Dean's List for the first semester of next year.

Last Saturday afternoon, "Swede" Umbach's soccer class defeated Ken Rawlinson's soccer class in a rough, unofficiated game, 1-0. Bill Mace kicked the winning goal for the victors midway in the first half.

Student Red Cross Drive Tops Last Year's Record

Returns from the College for the National Red Cross War Fund Drive of March 6 to 20 total $1170.21. (Contributions from the students greatly exceeded the amount collected from last year's drive.)

Besides monetary donations from the Naval Chaplains School and the organizations and sororities gave their share: the War Council, W.S.C.G.A., Canterbury Club, Balfour Club, Spanish Club, Kappa Delta Pi, Phi Mu, Tri Delt, Chi Omega, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Delta.

Dramatic Club

The Dramatic Club held its monthly meeting on March 15 in the Wren Kitchen. Anna Belle Koenig gave a talk on the life and works of George Bernard Shaw. The talk was made in connection with the production of "Candida," the last show of the season for the William and Mary Theater.

The members considered names for membership into the Dramatic Club, and the following persons have received invitations to join the club: Ronald King, Jean Ferebee, Marion Webb, John Helfrich, Osburn Wynkoop, Jack Carter, Eleanor Heyer, Additional gifts from other school associations will be coming in the rest of the month. Eleanor Harvey, Chairman of the College Red Cross Chapter, urges all students and clubs to turn in the rest of their contributions as soon as possible, although the drive has been extended another week.

Important Changes In Academic Buildings, Curriculum Foreseen By President Pomfret

To Construct Two New Dormitories

By WILLIAM TRACEY

This war, as all wars have done, has affected the multitudes and, in doing so, it has left the more futuristic students of the College campus asking: "What will be the post-war conditions of William and Mary?" In an attempt to ease the perplexed and curious minds of those persons looking forward to the renewal of "Joe College" days once more, your FLAT HAT reporter approached John Edwin Pomfret, President of the College, on the subject. Pomfret, in spite of his gigantic wartime educational tasks, shook the present from his shoulders for a few moments to gaze into the crystal ball.

Return to Former Status

In debating the question of population, President Pomfret stated that the College will return to its original status of 600 women and 700 men students. William and Mary will also be making every attempt to care for the many boys expected to return to the College at the war's conclusion. Over 1,000 male attendants of William and Mary have withdrawn to enter the armed forces of our country. It is the estimate of the average American college today that 75 per cent of the withdrawing students throughout the nation will return, if at all within their power, after the great struggle has ceased. Pomfret expressed the desire that, in spite of all difficulties which may arise, the work-study plan be kept in active operation to aid in bringing these potential degree men back to the fold.

New Dormitories

Two new dormitories will probably be constructed, one for the women and another for the men. It is Pomfret's hope that, as a result of these buildings, all members of the William and Mary student body will be housed on the campus itself and in the various sorority houses. There would be no Restoration, field house or infirmary quartering of students. This would also dissolve the "three-to-a-room" policy now existent in the College, and would allow for a complete and normal residence program designed to care for the aforementioned 1,300 William and Mary pupils.

Fraternity Lodges

Ten fraternity lodges are to be scattered on the outskirts of the campus. A housing program is to be made available for the benefit of the white and colored employees of the College, lest they be caught in the scarcity rent prices of our ever-busy Williamsburg.

Plans For Library

Aside from the general housing question, both a long and short range plan have been constructed for the improvement of the College library. The immediate plan would be to make the present library larger by adding height, while the very distant idea is that of constructing a new library. "But," said President Pomfret, "this is perhaps ten years distant, to say the least." It is also hoped that a large and modernized classroom building can be constructed and, as a result of this, that the Wren Building can become a historical shrine, to be used only as a law building and the home of the new national institute. The new classroom structure could be erected to the rear of the campus lily

College Gets Land Of Eastern State

pond. The fact has also been considered that the proposed new library could also be built in that locality.

College Gets Eastern State

The legislature has voted the entire Eastern State hospital property to the College and has made a generous appropriation to the institute in order that they may transfer to Dunbar, Virginia. This will add an approximate 300 acres to the College land, giving William and Mary more soil than she has ever possessed before. However, when the complete change will take place is not definitely known, and President Pomfret stated that "it will probably be several years." What will be done with the property is not definitely known.

Curriculum Changes

Altering his post-war educational discussion to consider the curriculum changes, President Pomfret said: "Great attention will be paid to the study of social sciences, especially in their applied forms. Courses in accountancy, finance, etc., will also be brought to the fore. Increased importance is to be placed on work in the field of business administration." Industrial chemistry will also merit serious consideration.

Pomfret stated finally that "there will be many instructional changes. The ones which can be seen most clearly at the present are those of public, business, and scientific administration."

Every Seat Filled . . .

It can never be said that William and Mary doesn't have its share of lectures, concerts, and other forms of entertainment, but why is it that the same group of people attend and are interested in the majority of these features? Could it be they don't appeal to many of the students?

Perhaps the views of the student body as a whole aren't reflected evenly by the students representing this body in planning such attractions. A committee might be chosen that would represent a cross-section of the different interests of the students.

Each department of the College might sponsor an exceptionally good program which would particularly appeal to those majoring in that field. Enthusiasm could be stimulated through the department.

How many of us know what is going on on the war fronts today? With our day filled with classes, meetings, and numerous activities, not many of us find time to listen to news commentators and read the newspapers. Why not have a famous news commentator like Lowell Thomas visit the campus to arouse an interest in current affairs? Heads of various armed services and political leaders could make us more familiar with present war plans and those of the future. After all, this is the thought uppermost in our minds today.

Four larger entertainments a year would really be a drawing card. Famous artists like Cornelia Otis Skinner and Clara Booth Luce, and such a musical event as the Philharmonic Orchestra would cause every seat in Phi Beta Kappa Hall to be filled. In the past we have had this happen. Remember the Hampton chorus of negro singers and its enthusiastic audience? How about a return engagement?

If this is what you want—why not each one do your part to achieve it? Make your wishes known, so that we can have stellar performances and capacity crowds.

We'll Keep 'Em Flying

(Ed. note: Although this letter from Joe Bottalico was not a Letter to the Editor, the Editors publish it in the belief that Joe has put into words what others feel but have not expressed. Many thanks, Bottles!)

Dear .....

Through the FLAT HAT I heard about the death of my ex-roommate, John Grembowitz, and it was as much a shock to me as I know it was to all of his friends on the campus. I know that there aren't many of the old gang back but I believe it is the loss of the present student body for not knowing John; for no one will ever forget his pleasant smile and his good nature.

In one of my letters some time ago I mentioned that it certainly will be a great day the first homecoming after the war. I said, "Naturally we won't all be there, but the fellows who couldn't make it would live in our memories." How little I knew that it would strike so close and so soon.

I'm writing this letter to thank you and the FLAT HAT staff for being so considerate and sending me the FLAT HAT weekly. It certainly brings back wonderful memories. Right now I'm flying B-25 medium bombers for the Marines. The other boys—Jack Dee, Doug Dulfus, and Billy West, I believe, are instructors at Pensacola. Johnnie Brodka of 1940 who has become the father of Gerald Brodka isn't an instructor any more. He is now ready to leave as a fighter pilot.

Well, that's all, but thanks again. You all keep 'em smiling and we'll try keeping 'em flying.

Always,
Bottles.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It was with much amazement and surprise that I read the account of a canine birth on the campus with which my name was associated.

Please be advised, however, that I was no party to this affair. Thus, with the utmost of sadness and despondency, I am not able to claim the fatherhood of the pups concerned.

I am, in fact, in possession of the most complete evidence that the real father is a brown haired friend of mine (not an Irish Setter) whose usual habitat is in the near vicinity of Marshall-Wythe Hall. Naturally, he requested that his name be withheld for other obvious reasons.

I can assure that the mother was stricken with consternation when she was informed of your libelous attack upon her good name. For your reporter to thus hint that her behavior smacked of promiscuity was entirely unexcusable.

Naturally, neither the mother nor I wish to take legal action in view of the excellent reputation of the FLAT HAT. However, speaking for myself (and I am sure that the poor mother shares my feelings), I would deeply appreciate your correcting this outrageous slur upon that poor victim of fate's folly.

Sincerely,
KING.

Dead Editor,

In thumbing through last week's FLAT HAT, we noticed the epistle composed by the Tolliver Trio, Wartel, Freschette and Dingle. Immediately our thoughts turned to Pope, as follows:

*'Tis hard to say if greater want of skill
Appear in writing or in judging ill;
But of the two, less dangerous is the offense
To tire our patience, than mislead our sense.
Some few in that, but members err in this,
Ten censure wrong for one who writes amiss.*

While, in general, the aforementioned trio used good sound reasoning concerning a fair basis for selection of the President's Aides, we were deeply perturbed to discover a slight trace of error.

For instance, we present the qualifications of our Dormitory President for President's Aide or any other campus position requiring initiative or leadership.

—He has been in attendance at three different colleges, thus having a wide range of knowledge concerning institutional systems.

—He has demonstrated his ability through an unusual rise to power in industry. He served last as Employment Manager on Government contracts for a Construction Company.

—He once edited a newspaper column so influential as to attract the attention of a world famous newspaper columnist and broadcaster.

A similar investigation of other small Dormitory Presidents will reveal staunch qualification.

—One such now serves as Secretary to The Men's Honor Council.

—Our point:

The electorate of the small dormitories possess the grey matter to select their leaders for something a little more substantial than their sheer popularity. We select them because they are richly suited to do the job. They are capable, Tolliver Trio!

Respectfully submitted,
Norris Moses

Death Comes To ASTU On Fatal Ides Of March

By PVT. HERMAN J. OBERMAYER

Two thousand years ago a soothsayer warned Caesar to beware of the Ides of March, and the verdict of history has not failed to call it a fatal day. It was on the Ides of March '44 that Caesar was stabbed to death by his trusted friend Caius Brutus; it was on the Ides of March '39 that Hitler broke his sacred promise and marched into Czechoslovakia; it was also on the Ides of March '44 that the 3321 ASTU died after a short and curt military order was received in Williamsburg, but behind that order probably lay the shady manipulations of American partisan politics.

Hyman Overcome By Spring Fever

By JERRY HYMAN

We had a brief preview of spring this past week. There's something about springtime in Williamsburg that makes you want to forget college troubles and world affairs, that makes you want to escape into the never-never land where everything is forever perfect, and where people always act as they should.

I went walking in the woods last Saturday and just in time to see the start of a fire that might have consumed all of Matoaka woods. Somebody had thrown a lit cigarette into a clump of grass. By the time the fire was put out, a circle approximately thirty feet in diameter had been burned over. Luckily the wind was not towards the main part of the woods, or Matoaka Park might by now be nothing but ashes and charred wood. And all from one cigarette carelessly tossed into a clump of grass.

The recent Women's Student Cooperative Government Association elections are another sure sign of spring's approach. Did any of you ever look into the handbook of WSCGA and see the paragraph about all politics being banned in these elections, politics to consist of trading votes or support, or impressing on organization members that not to support a fellow member is disloyalty to the organization, or other such practices? It appears that most of the girls on campus just forgot to read that little passage or else they ignored it, since the recent women's elections were probably the "dirtiest" in at least four years. As usual, the innocent people suffered the most and at least one girl's chance for office was ruined by activities of her so-called friends. I wonder what all the girls now think that were so bitter against the old Fraternity Party - College Party disputes. They rightfully yelled, "dirty politics" then. I wonder if they still feel the same way. Oh yes, spring is coming, and with it a lot of other things.

While on elections, it won't be long now before the student body will have to choose its officers for next year. Elections for major offices are slated for the thirty-first of this month and nominating petitions must be in by the twenty-fourth. All the aspiring politicians had better start their organizations rolling, and the students in general had better keep their eyes open.

The surest sign of spring, though, is the epidemic of spring fever that has reached even here; so, with a sigh of relief, the editors can note that this column is short this week, and far from the point. But for those who might miss the usual comment on the Wigwam, cafeteria, or assembly, I'll add my congratulations for Debby Davis and her cafeteria committee and the work they've done. If things in the cafeteria pick up, if the hot

Life in Williamsburg has been fun; it has been difficult; it has been trying. Like the Ancient Mariner we are leaving Williamsburg sadder and wiser men. We are leaving with G I diplomas in our hands, and all of us can proudly say that we now belong to that sacred fraternity which calls itself "college men." Some of us will proudly claim William and Mary as an Alma Mater; others will speak of it as an adopted Alma Mater; but none will think or speak of it as just another Army station. We're different from the ordinary boys leaving college for the wide wide world or the Army—we won't be faced with the tremendous apparent gap between the print of books and the bluntness of reality. If we come to see it, the blood and death of war will offer enough of what is termed "reality." But, in war, this is faced under the protection of military discipline. It is a great protection. One is told in main pretty well how to face it—how to shoot a gun, how to march, how to kill, how to obey. The reactions can become soothingly automatic. You do not worry. You are told.

William and Mary has prepared many of us to face the more subtle reality which is much harder to comprehend under the regimentation of war than the freedom of peace. It is harder because you don't really have to think about it. Military authorities commend an abbreviated amount of short-term thinking, that involves cleaning a gun, or knowing when to salute an officer. From their point of view, and the immediate view of society, they are absolutely right. The subtlety is in combining the print of books with the facts of blood and death and war and living.

If most of us completely forget all the courses we studied here, all will have been prepared themselves to a great extent for the fight within, which will be a lot tougher than the fight without.

food is now served hot, if the coffee isn't stale, and if there is more variety in the food, then thank Debby for the job she and a student committee did in calling these things and many others to the attention of the powers-that-be.

ATTENTION WAMS

All those WAMS who are interested in working at the USO Club and those who were working there last semester are requested to attend a meeting tonight in Barrett living room at 7:45. Bookie Wilder, head of the USO on the War Council, will discuss important plans for Spring activities and explain about the new organization.
