Born in Paris in 1899, Robert Casadesus (pronounced "Kah-zah-deh-su," accenting the last syllable) comes from a unique family of musicians whose members, both men and women, have made important contributions to French cultural life for generations. He himself studied at the Paris Conservatoire, graduating with all prizes. His career soon covered not only Europe but North Africa and South America. He made his American debut in January, 1935, with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra. Toscannini, who was in the audience at that first concert, immediately invited him to play under him the following season.

Today, Casadesus is a name of renown in this country. With his wife -also a gifted pianist-his two growing sons, and a small daughter born here, he has made his home for several years in an old stone Revolutionary house in Princeton, New Jersey, just off the college campus. A friendly neighbor is the physicist and amateur violinist, Albert Einstein.

Graduate Fellowships Are Open To Qualifying Students

There are a number of fellowships available to students who show satisfactory results on the Graduate Record Examination. This examination serves as a measure of general education for graduate or prospective graduate students and is held at College twice a year.

Last spring the College was selecteed by the Carnegie Foundation For The Advancement of Teaching as a center for administering the tests. Many graduate schools require their prospective students to submit, along with other credentials, the results of the Graduate Record Examination in order to determine a student's potential ability for advance work. Students who desire entrance to graduate school from small or little known colleges are assisted by this examination.

> BARCLAY & SONS JEWELERS CERTIFIED GEMOLOGISTS 2912 Washington Avenue NEWPORT NEWS, VA.

The test is not a measure of aptitude, but one of general knowledge and is entirely optional to students of this College.

Any student from Sophomore through seniors are eligible for this exam, whether they are interested in securing fellowships, entrance to graduate schools, advanced standing, or merely in determining the scope of their knowledge.

Arrangements for the examination can be made in the Counseling Office 116 Marshall-Wythe Hall, any time before February 1. Tests will be given Monday afternoon, February 12, and Tuesday morning, February 13.

SKIRTS in SPORTS

By El Weber

With Christmas vacation at an end, our female sports enthusiasts are back, ready to round up their preparations for basketball intramurals. No doubt, some hard practice will be necessary to make up for training breakdowns caused by those late dates and parties at home. Be sure to notice the practice time changes for dormitory and sorority teams for the remainder of the semester. Remember, any player on a team who has not had five practices will cause the team to be disqualified from tournament games. . .

Holiday Travel...

.. Unpatriotic, Uncomfortable, Unhealthy

At a time in the present emergency when the government has specifically requested that all civilian travel be restricted from week-ends and over holidays, it seems that the College of William and Mary should have cooperated to a fuller extent. There are three principle reasons why this is so.

In the first place it is our patriotic duty. Servicemen naturally should have first preference in getting on trains and buses to get to their homes. For many it was the last leave, and for others the first in many months. These seem to have been the boys that were left on the platform when the trains pulled out. There was no room. And it meant not only one more day's traveling lost, one less day at home, but connections could not be made when they finally got to Washington and other centers. Several hundred college students at the last minute complicated the situation even more.

Secondly, the trains were especially crowded. One felt lucky if he got on the train to stand, -not just to stand, but to have room to stand on both feet. The problem of congestion is bad at all times, but certainly not to the extent that it was in this instance.

Furthermore, travel was dangerous and unsanitary, Old coaches and converted baggage cars are poorly ventilated and drafty. Mr. Williams left College for a few days preceding the fall elections; his successors either didn't understand their responsibilities or else they did what they were instructed to do and the negligence of the Student Body President is responsible for there being no freshmen representatives on the

Is Lesson For Future

By BILL ANDERSON

The old year is now a closed and sealed volume. We cannot change the past, but from it we can gain valuable experiences. And from these experiences we can choose our way in the coming year.

The fact that one thousand men and women are here as students is an opportunity,—an opportunity that too few take advantage of. Too many young people use A sentence in Article IV, Section 1 (c) of the Student college to fill that awkward age between high school and Assembly By-Laws reads "Elections of Freshmen Class their twenty-first birthday, whereas others enroll for extra- curricular activities.

Three General Responses

As individuals we are responding to this tragic war of our generation in three general ways: some are dismayed by it, disheartened and disillusioned. Let us not join this group. Others grow stoical under it and with grim imperturbability see it through because they have to, but others have aspired to the idea that there is in human life by the Grace of a Divine Being some power that can turn evil into good, and that out of the holocaust of trouble can come an open door of hope.

With a view of news events some will agree that this economic war has turned into a political dispute. Promises have been made and promises have been broken and as college students there is comparatively little we can do about this, but as a group we can raise our voices in protest, and, in the final analysis, we may have a bearing on the sort of world our brothers, fathers, and friends will find upon return.

It is a ghastly mess, and if from it we learn nothing would gladly be contributed for this purpose. For those we are indeed fools. We, as future citizens, can learn who attended William and Mary long ago, this is one a lesson not of secret treaties and greedy promises, but

Our Lesson

This is the lesson we must learn. Our parents did not, on a boat, let us remember that the Gettysburg Address was just something written on a train.'

William and Mary Go-Round

By FRED FRECHETTE

The first meeting of the Backdrop Club will be held tomorrow night at seven, in Washington 200. The meeting will be for the sole purpose of reactivating the club. We would like to see there every student in school who can contribute or wants to contribute to the success of the coming Varsity Show

The show will be written by all the students who have anything to offer. The sole function of the production committee is to outline the form of the show and correlate the material which will be contributed. They will also cast and direct the show. We wish to make it plain however, that anyone who can improve upon any of our work will be welcomed with open arms.

The faculty will have no part in the production whatever. The show will fail or succeed on the work of the students. It will be work. Anyone who is afraid to work will be out of place in the Varsity Show.

We think that we can put on a darned good show. The work will be well worth the sense of accomplishment which a job well done will give us.

We have a high standard to live up to. The shows in the past were top-notch. The only way in which to keep the tradition of good Varsity Shows is to get all the talent and ability available. Therefore let's all be there tomorrow night.

The crying need on this campus for some kind of a student recreation room has been recognized in the offices of the administration. In fact, it has been recognized for

With some kind of student support for such a project, we stand a very good chance of getting a place to go with our dates on week days. With a great deal of student support, we will get not only a recreation room for the duration, but a student union building will be ours after

That, in a nutshell, is the situation. We can have what we want if we want it enough. Acting through the Student Assembly, we can get our recreation room, provided that we all back the Student Assembly in its action.

A sure criterion of the approach of final examinations is the increase in the number of students who (1) Get to class a little early and chat with their professor (2) stay after class to discuss the lecture with him, or (3) see him in his office at other various and sundry time There are also a great many students who are beginning. to stop their professors on campus to engage them in con-
