President Pomfret Agrees To Early Sorority Rushing

Pan-Hellenic Council Proposes Tentative September Program

Early rushing, to begin in the next fall semester as suggested by the Pan-Hellenic Council, has been approved by President Pomfret and the faculty advisory committee, according to Jan Mori, president of the Council.

Although definite dates for a rushing program have not been adopted, a proposed plan has been submitted to President Pomfret and Miss Wynne-Roberts. The plan follows approximately the same time schedule as the deferred rushing program used in the college now. As submitted for inspection to President Pomfret and Miss Wynne-Roberts, the proposed plan is as follows:

The Thursday and Friday following the beginning of classes there will be dorm rushing. Saturday and Sunday will be free. Monday and Tuesday the rushees will go to the houses alphabetically. Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday rushees will come to the houses by invitation. Saturday will be closed, and Sunday will feature afternoon receptions. Monday night there will be preferentials, and bids will come in on Tuesday.

Plan Is Tentative

Jan Mori stressed the fact that the above plan was only tentative, and although there will definitely be early rushing, the program must be scheduled so as not to conflict with WSCG and other important meetings during the first few weeks.

The Council and Miss Wynne-Roberts will confer until definite dates can be chosen for the entire rushing period.

New Council Members

Each sorority has two delegates to the Council, and the newly elected members are as follows:

Chi Omega, Margie Knowlton and Trinkia Robinson; Alpha Chi Omega, Mary Brooks Harper and Joy Wrigley; Gamma Phi Beta, Peggy Walker and Martha Lamborn; Kappa Alpha Theta, Patty Whitcomb and Bobbie Steely; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Helen Jordan and B. J. Taylor; Kappa Delta, Dorothy Hope and Gin Rassinier; Phi Mu, Gunesh Guran and Ellen Diggs; Pi Beta Phi, Donna Lepper and Jeanne Lamb; Delta Delta Delta, Polly Krotts and Liz Parham.

FIVE YEARS AGO IN THE FLAT HAT

Madam Frances Perkins, secretary of the Department of Labor, spoke at the Marshall-Wythe Seminar, April 4. . . . Cary Grant led the figure at the German Club Spring Coeds, April 5. . . .

The Harvard University orchestra opened the Spring Festival with a concert March 31 in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. . . .

Six college coeds matched their wits with male members of the cast of the Columbia picture The Howards of Virginia in Dr. Harry Hagen's nationwide hookup of "True or False?". The answer men included Cary Grant, Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Frank Lloyd while the coeds were Lettie Armistead, Betty Moore, Betty Wood, Ann Cross, Jean Clarahan and Frances Wagner. . . .

Eleanor Harvey Will Sponsor S.S. William and Mary Victory

Harwood Attends Christening Of Ship As Maid of Honor

President Pomfret has named the 1944-45 president of the Women Students' Cooperative Government Association, Eleanor Harvey, as sponsor of the S. S. William and Mary Victory which is to be launched from the Bethlehem-Fairfield Shipyards in Baltimore on or about April 19. As maid-of-honor, the President has appointed Edith Harwood, the newly-elected president of the W. S. C. G. A.

Miss Marguerite Wynne-Roberts, assistant dean of women, will be the official representative of the College at the launching. Alumni in Baltimore plan to get together and honor the occasion.

William and Mary is one of approximately 40 colleges being honored this spring by having victory ships christened with their names. Including William and Mary, eight of the colleges chosen are southern. Massachusetts led all the states with four institutions honored, and North Carolina has three assigned to victory ships.

Among the colleges and universities chosen for this honor were Harvard University, Yale University, Brown of Providence, Rhode Island, Mount Holyoke College, Tufts College, and Norwich University.

Eleanor Harvey and Edith Harwood expressed their pleasure at being able to represent the college at the launching.

Red Cross Cabinet Nominates Officers

Nominations have been made by the Red Cross cabinet for Red Cross elections, to be held at the W. S. C. G. meeting, Monday, April 9. Further nominations will be made from the floor at the meeting.

Betty Marie Ellett was nominated for chairman. For vice-chairman, Deeks Phipps and Nonnie Fehse were named. Dot Ferenbaugh and Peggy Potter were nominated for secretary. Nominations for treasurer will be announced.

Approximately $900 of the $2,000 quota for the campus Red Cross drive had been collected at the last accounting, according to Pam Pauly. Besides the regular drive, collections were made at the dance Saturday, March 24, and a recanvass was made last week, ending Saturday, March 31.

Freer, Black Attend Honor Convention

Jan Freer, newly elected chairman of the Women's Honor Committee, and Helen Black, instructor in physical education, will leave Friday, April 6, for a three-day conference on Honor Systems at Madison College, Harrisonburg, Virginia. They will return Sunday night.

Dean Grace Warren Landrum, with whom all the correspondence about the convention was carried on, stated that Madison College is considering the working of the Honor System and has asked representatives from several different colleges to participate in practical discussions of the System. As the first college to have the Honor System, William and Mary was included in the invitation.

At The Last Minute

The Johns Hopkins University Debate Team will oppose the William and Mary Debate Council here today. The debate will take place at 4:00 p. m. in the Apollo Room of Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The national collegiate topic will be used. According to Nancy Grube, president, the faculty and students are invited to attend.

The forum edition of the March of Time film Portugal will be shown at 5:00 p. m., Friday, April 6, in Washington 100. At the same time, Keep 'em Rolling, the story of rubber in transportation, will be shown.

Members of the Marshall-Wythe seminar who have not yet secured their public relations pamphlets in connection with tomorrow's meeting, are urged to secure them at once from the office of Dr. Charles F. Marsh, 313 Marshall-Wythe, according to Dr. Marsh. There is a charge of eight cents for the pamphlet, which is required reading for the course.

Y.W.C.A. Plans Variety Show

In an attempt to take the place of the Varsity Show which cannot be produced this year, the Y. W. C. A. plans to present a spring Variety Show on Friday, April 13, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

Pam Pauly, newly-elected president of the Y. W. C. A., stated that plans were being made to secure faculty, students, and outside talent for this entertainment; mention was made of efforts to enlist the aid of Red Skelton.

The show is to consist of a series of acts under the direction of Donnie Lepper and Nancy Outland. Co-chairmen of the publicity committee are Mary Baker and Glo Rankin.

G. B. Johnson Leads Seminar

Speaker for the Marshall-Wythe Seminar meeting tomorrow, will be Dr. Guy B. Johnson, professor of sociology at the University of North Carolina. Dr. Johnson is particularly interested in the Negro and has written many articles on Negro folk-songs, dialect, musical talent, and race relations. He will discuss "The American Negro" at the Seminar.

Born at Caddo Mills, Texas in 1901, Dr. Johnson was first a student at Burleson College in Greenville, Texas, and received his A. B. degree from Baylor University in 1921. Later he obtained additional degrees from the University of Chicago and from the University of North Carolina.

After teaching sociology at Ohio Wesleyan University and at Baylor Woman's College for several years, Dr. Johnson became a research assistant and associate professor of sociology at the Institute of Research for the University of North Carolina. He became a professor in 1941, and has carried on much research in his field of particular interest. In 1939 he was elected co-editor of a proposed Encyclopedia of the Negro, and has also served as a member of the Carnegie Corporation of the Negro in America.

Two of his early books, of which he was a co-author, are The Negro and his Songs and Negro Workaday Songs. Later books include, John Henry—Tracking Down a Negro Legend and Folk Culture on St. Helena Island, S. C.

At the present time, Dr. Johnson is living in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, with his wife and two sons.

R-Day Scheduled Between April 1 and 15; Features Sports

When is it going to happen, what is it, and where? The big day, that William and Mary students have been looking forward to, is scheduled to come off sometime between April 1 and 15 in the middle of a week. R-Day, as it has been named, signifying rest, recreation, and our pronounced with a strong R, will be announced on noon of one day, at which time classes will be suspended, and last until noon of the following day.

Faculty-Student Game

A number of athletic events have been planned for the occasion. During the afternoon, members of the tennis teams will give an exhibition. If the men's team is here there will be mixed doubles. The archery range will be open to those who have shot there before.

There is a faculty versus student softball game in the offing at 4:00 p. m., but both Harvey Chappell and Kenneth Rawlinson need recruits for their respective teams. They guarantee that there will be no bench warming; "so come one, come all, and sign up for the ball game."

Recorded Music

After supper there will be recorded music played on the campus from Phi Beta Kappa Hall. To end an eventful day, the Trophy Room in Blow Gym will be open for dancing from 7 to 11. The next morning will be everyone's own to do with as he pleases. Sleep will probably be the choice of most, but what ever it is, nothing like work is to be in sight.

Spring Dance Features Hawaiian Atmosphere

Crepe paper, palm trees, and cherry blossoms disguised as tropical flowers gave a Hawaiian atmosphere to the dance sponsored by the senior class, Saturday, March 31.

As president of the senior class, Ginny Darst was in overall charge of the dance. Bill Britton and Marylou Manning were responsible for the decorations. The William and Mary Colonials played.

President Harv Chappell Leads Sophomore Class

Active Physics Major Enjoys Sports, Serves On Many Campus Committees

By PATTY LOU YOUNG

Harvey Chappell, a true Virginian, likes everything about the South, William and Mary in particular. As President of the Sophomore Class, Harvey has many duties which include Chairman of Freshman Tribunal, the Student Senate, the Student Assembly, and the General Cooperative Committee. He is also a member of the Dance Committee, Elections Committee, Recreation Committee, President's Aides, and Phi Delta Pi fraternity. Besides these activities he waits on the Chaplains every day and was a chairman of the Dorm Committee for the War Fund Drive.

Born in Clarksville, Virginia, Harvey was an outstanding high school student. He played football and baseball, was president of his sophomore class, was a member of the Student Council for four years, and was Val-edictorian of his graduating class.

One of the most amusing incidents that he recalls happened several weeks ago when the water pipes broke in Taliaferro Hall. While they were unable to stop the stream of water, the entire second floor was flooded and a large waterfall poured over the railing to the first floor. Several of the boys were rounding up innocent spectators and trying to charge admission to see the falls, when the flood was finally checked.

Harv likes sports of all kinds, the comic strip "Li'l Abner," and dancing, his favorite song being "Stardust." He is also partial to "pool-room sandwiches" before going to bed. His latest novel idea is giving up girls for tennis, which he expects will soon become a worthwhile fad. Harv says that he has no pet peeves except that he rooms with an "Eskimo from Canada," Bren Macken, who is a fresh air fiend, and so he is glad that Spring is finally here.

Harvey Chappell

Majoring in Physics, Harv wants to be an Aeronautical Engineer and expects to go to the University of Illinois to get his Master's Degree in Engineering.

Lt. Ward Wheeler, Royalist Founder, Dies In European Theatre Action

Lt. Howard Wheeler, AUS, member of the class of '39, and founder of the Royalist, was killed in action in Germany on February 25, according to notification received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Wheeler of Northport, L. I. No other details have been received.

Ward, as he was known at William and Mary, had a long list of activities on campus besides his editorship of the Royalist. He was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, the Student Activities Committee, Men's Honor Council, International Relations Club, Y. M. C. A., the Band, the Orchestra, and Kappa Alpha.

When he introduced the Royalist to

Biology Club Sponsors Annual Open House

An Open House of the Biology Club was discussed at the last meeting of the Clayton-Grimes Biological Club on March 20. The Open House will be held on May 7 and is under the supervision of Dick Anderson, program chairman. Jane Barteaux and Dick Margolis have charge of the laboratories. Other committees will be appointed in the near future.

Several field trips will be held during the month of April to collect material for the Open House.

Kappa Alpha Theta will hold its annual spring dance Friday evening, April 6, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall from 9 to 12. Billie Snead, February class of '44 and Audrey Smith Morgan, class of '47, visited the Thetas the past week-end.

The Phi Mus had Mary Elizabeth Bitzer, class of '44, as their guest the week-end of March 30.

Kappa Delta will hold its annual dance Friday evening, April 6, in the Great Hall from 9 to 12. Eleanor Ramsdel, class of '44, visited the KD's last week-end. The Kappa Deltas will give a picnic Saturday afternoon, April 7, from 5 to 7.

Kappa Kappa Gamma had Billie Davison, class of '44, and Caroline Macy Zant, class of '46, as its guests the week-end of March 23.

The Alpha Chis gave a buffet supper Sunday evening, April 1, at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. John P. Smith, '37, and her daughter, Caroline, visited the Chi Omegas over the week-end.

Charter Day Fund Reaches $4,000

Results of the initial solicitation for the Charter Day Gifts Fund have been announced by the Society of Alumni of the College of William and Mary. $4,000.00 from 312 contributors has been received so far and contributions are still coming in. The purpose of this fund, which was set up in December of 1944, is to establish a tuition scholarship in memory of every alumnus who lost his life during the present war.

In the first solicitation only the paid-up members of the Society and a few other interested friends of the college were asked to contribute. But the Alumni office is now sending out a report and another opportunity to contribute to all members of the Society.

Every alumnus of the College will have an opportunity to make a contribution to the fund each year and the results are to be announced on Charter Day, February 8.

Contributors for the first solicitation go back to the class of 1874 and also include members of the class of '46 and several campus organizations.

Monogram Club Elects Ann Vineyard President

Ann Vineyard was elected president of the Monogram Club at a meeting on Monday, March 26, in Washington 300. Other officers are Frances Butler, vice-president; Joyce Remsberg, secretary; and Barbara Black, treasurer. Dr. Caroline Sinclair was chosen advisor of the club.

Flat Hat Advertising Staff Canvasses Town Stores

Business Department Members Receive Commission On Complete Semester Contracts

By BOBBIE STEELY

Radio listeners complain about commercials, motorists dislike the billboards obstructing scenic views, and newspaper readers become irritated when their papers are half filled with ads. Despite the seemingly negative attitude toward advertising, research shows that the power of suggestion is mighty and that every little ad has its influence.

The FLAT HAT advertising staff, headed by Elaine Lewis, also business manager, does its part in showing its subscribers what Williamsburg merchants have to offer. Early in September, the staff, consisting of Thelma Myers, Sunnie Blacham, Ginger O'Hare, Joyce Wilck, Monie Price, Getta Hersch, Jene Carr, and Sue McGeachin, send subscription blanks to the students' parents who respond in order to read the weekly news about campus activities.

Increase Contracts

Williamsburg stores are canvassed by the staff to increase the number of advertisers from the average of twenty. Besides complete semester contracts, for which the staff member gets 5% commission, miscellaneous ads are picked up weekly. If any news advertisers are acquired by a staff member, she receives a 15% commission.

Special Advertising

The mat service maintained by the Virginia Gazette supplies picture prints to be made up into ads. On an average there are one hundred column inches of ads per week, but this Easter a new high was reached with two hundred forty-one. This quantity of advertising is not composed entirely of merchants' displays but also of drive posters, for the Red Cross, the Infantile Paralysis Fund, the Tuberculosis Fund, or for churches. Whatever copy is needed is drawn up to scale, checked with the advertiser, placed by the make-up editor, and sent to press after a thorough proof reading.

Because the advertisements support one third of the paper, the business staff is synonymous with the advertising department. With Mr. Wayne Gibbs as an advisor, it pays all bills, works out all receipts, and checks the books twice a year for submission to auditors.

Wartime Changes

Since the war a marked change has developed. There are fewer ads because many men's shops have gone out of business. Also the influx of service people has caused the demand for merchandise to surpass the supply, thus keeping business men from advertising what they do not have.

The shopkeeper's usual reply, when asked to buy the regular forty cents a column inch ad, is "Students buy anyway." The answer given them by the ad sellers is "The power of suggestion is not to be underestimated."

Balfour Club Honors Weintraub At Party

Bud Weintraub, president of the Balfour Club, was given a farewell party by the club members last Friday night in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. He left Saturday for the armed forces.

Rita Koppelman was in charge of the party and refreshments were served.

Mattie Moss Produces Shows of Dance Clubs

Able Physical Education Professor Enjoys Swimming and Modern Art

By GINNY TOWNES

Miss Mattie Moss, Physical Education Instructor, who came to William and Mary last fall, does not know exactly how she became interested in Physical Education. She participated in various athletic activities in her childhood and was encouraged by frequent compliments on her ability to inquire about athletics as a profession. From her home at Madill, Oklahoma, she went to Texas State College for Women to begin her studies.

Attended Oklahoma & Columbia

After two years at Oklahoma A. and M., where she was a member of Sigma Sigma Psi, National Honorary Physical Education Fraternity, and Zeta Tau Alpha, social fraternity, Miss Moss attended Columbia University for a summer of graduate work. She studied at Columbia for another summer and received her M. A. degree from Texas State College for Women. Dancing has always been her favorite activity and the field in which she specialized under Dr. Anne Schley Duggin at Texas State College for Women, and Miss Martha P. O'Donnell at Columbia. Last Christmas she took a short course under Martha Graham in New York.

Tidewater Area Preferred

Miss Moss instructed for a year of her six-year teaching career at Averett College, Danville, Virginia, before coming here. "I like William and Mary and Tidewater Virginia better than any place I have been," she said.

Likes Production Work

"What I like best about my job, although it involves much pain and mental anguish, is production work," said Miss Moss. She is now engaged in the Orchesis and Dance Club spring production for May 10.

In almost all of her beginning dance classes Miss Moss finds one or two pupils who show talent and promising signs. During the course she gives them individual attention and encourages them to keep up with dancing.

Enjoys Swimming and Art

Although she prefers outdoor activities, Miss Moss likes indoor teaching. She developed an added interest in swimming and diving when she took a life saving course at The Red Cross Aquatic School, Palopinta, Texas, last summer.

All modern art and the parallels there are between music, painting, and modern stage design are given special attention by Miss Moss. Although she has never made a study of the field, she finds the correlation between the arts as she meets them in every day life very interesting.

Wants Pet Shop
She has been too busy to develop a hobby, but hopes, when she has the money and the leisure, to open a Pet Shop. Fondness for animals will make that kind of work particularly enjoyable for her.

Has Future Plans

In answer to a comment upon the large diamond on her third finger, left hand, and her plans for the future, Miss Moss said, "I guess I'm beginning another sort of career and I'm wondering if it will be as time consuming as my present one. I still want to keep up with my profession, at least by subscribing to journals and the Dance Observer."

Old Judicial Members Give Picnic In Matoaka

Old members of the Judicial Committee of Women Students' Cooperative Government Association held a picnic at the shelter in Matoaka Park on Saturday, March 31. The girls carried a lunch and "relaxed from the grueling duties of watching William and Mary girls with hawk-like eyes," according to Dinny Lee, retiring chairman.

Contest Winner To Attend W-M

Winning a radio historical contest, Richard Avitable of Langley Field received a four-year tuition scholarship to William and Mary. The 15-year-old high school junior missed only 6 out of 33 questions over a period of 13 weeks.

The contest was sponsored by the Commonwealth Building and Loan Association of Norfolk and conducted by radio station WGH. Beginning on December 8, 1944, it continued until Friday, March 2. The winner was announced a few weeks ago. The College had no connection with the contest.

Richard competed in a field of contestants from South Norfolk, Granby, Norview and Portlock high schools in Norfolk, Hampton high in Hampton, and Woodrow Wilson High in Portsmouth. He attends Hampton high school.

The winner is now in his second semester of American history. He has taken other history courses, but this is his first year of American history, according to high school authorities. He plans to make his career chemical engineering, according to his father, Capt. A. R. Avitable of the AAF Training Command base at Langley.

Chapel Serves College As Continuous Function

Wednesday Evening Vesper Service Carries On Tradition Since 1732

By PATTY LOU YOUNG

"Chapel has been one of the continuous functions of college life ever since the College was erected," said Mr. Blocker, Chairman of the Chapel Faculty Committee, when he was asked about the origination of the Chapel.

The Old Chapel was first opened on June 28, 1732, when the Reverend James Blair preached a sermon. Dr. Blair, a native of Scotland and an Episcopal clergyman, was the first President of the College of William and Mary. During the course of the years two serious fires swept the College making the reconstruction of the building necessary. The Chapel today, in the left wing of the Wren Building, remains much the same as it was when the College was founded.

Girls Redecorate Women's Lounge

Kappa Omicron Phi and the class in Household Decoration, under the direction of Miss Cummings, head of the Home Economics Department, have undertaken the project of decorating and furnishing the women's rest room on the third floor of Washington Hall. The project is not quite completed but is planned to be so in about two weeks.

Problems of the project were studied and a completed plan made by the class. The walls were repaired and repainted by the College, and the table and bench refinished. Miss Cummings obtained a sum of money given to the College anonymously for this project and students representing the two groups went to Richmond with her to purchase the furniture. K. O. Phi's will make slip covers for the divan cushions, which will complete the decoration of the room. They expect to have First Aid supplies available when necessary.

The room will be closed at night, Saturday afternoons, and Sundays.

This project is experimental and K. O. Phi has asked the cooperation of all who use the room to help to keep it in good condition.

Debate Council Elects Stephens As Manager

Virginia Stephens was recently elected manager of the Debate Council to replace Mary Roney, who graduated in February.

The debate originally scheduled for Friday, March 30, was cancelled by the University of North Carolina because it was unable to arrange its schedule accordingly.

Music Club Initiates Six New Members

Six girls have recently been initiated into the Student's Music Club. They are: Collo Smith, Gretha Cuthriell, Barbara Davis, Jill Stauf, Barbara Horowitz, and Eleanor Westbrook.

The Music Club's next meeting will be on April 13.

Until the time, ten years ago, when the regular Wednesday evening worship was initiated, Chapel was held every morning. Since the new plan has been in effect, the half hour Vesper Service has had a greater response than before.

Mr. Blocker has been Chairman of the Chapel Faculty Committee, which is composed of three or more members, for the past fourteen years. At the present time the Committee is composed of Mr. Blocker, Dr. Landrum, Dr. Foltin, and Dr. Richardson.

The order of the Service is more or less formal, but never of a denominational nature. The Committee, with the aid and support of the students, has tried to make the Chapel Service purely devotional. For the last ten years the speakers at Chapel have come from the faculty, the ministers of the community, and some students. Recently, Chaplains from the Naval Chaplain School have also spoken. A student has presided at each Chapel exercise for the past four or five years. The Y. W. C. A. and the Religious Student Council designate what student shall preside.

Chaplain Rafferty Leads Easter Rites

Captain W. H. Rafferty, officer in charge of the Chaplains' School, conducted Easter services on Sunday at the Chapel.

The Army and Navy Chaplains' Association in this general area held a meeting on Thursday, March 22. Devotional service in Wren Chapel was followed by a meeting in Washington Hall and a dinner for the visiting officers.

Dr. Oscar F. Blackwelder addressed the Chaplains on "Keeping Alive the Ordination Glow"; "it was very interesting and inspiring," commented the Executive Officer, Chaplain Drieth. Dr. Blackwelder is pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Reformation in Washington, D. C., and is prominently known in church circles.

A new Wave officer, Ensign M. E. Walls, joined the Chaplains' School as Supply and Dispensing Officer, relieving Ensign Murray, who has been transferred to Clinton, Oklahoma.

Chaplain J. V. Claypool is visiting the Chaplains' School today as senior member of the Examining Board. He is Chaplain of the Naval Operating Base at Norfolk.

Mademoiselle Will Sponsor Story Contest

Mademoiselle magazine is holding its annual short story contest for women undergraduates. The deadline for entries is May 1.

All short stories submitted must be between 1,500 and 3,500 words in length and suitable for publication in Mademoiselle. The magazine is especially interested in stories for its College Issue.

An entry may, according to the rules of the contest, have appeared in a college magazine or paper before it is submitted, though not in any other magazine. Members of the Royalist staff expressed the hope that students at William and Mary who have had material printed in the campus literary magazine will enter some of their stories in the contest.

Mademoiselle reserves the right to purchase any story submitted at regular publication rates.

Med Exam Given Friday, April 13

Friday, April 13 has been set as the date for the Association of American Medical Colleges Aptitude Test to be given at William and Mary. The test will be given at 3:00 in Washington 100. This is the only time it will be given. The registrar's office will handle all applications. A fee of $1.50 will be required from every student taking the test.

The test has been adopted by the Association as one of its normal requirements for admission. All students expecting to apply for entrance into a medical school in 1945 or the spring of 1946 must take the test at this time.

The Association uses the test as a measure of the student's ability to learn material similar to that which he will have in medical school. It also measures his general information and scientific background, and his ability to draw conclusions from a given set of data.

Alan Stewart Gives Concert April 10

Assistant Professor Alan Stewart will be the artist of the fourth and last of the Faculty Concert Series on Tuesday, April 10, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall at 8:00 p. m. He will play Mozart's Violin Concerto in D Major, K 218. Natalie Rosenthal will play the orchestral accompaniment on the piano.

The second number will be Beethoven's Sonata Opus 24 for violin and piano. Professor Andrew C. Haigh will play the piano part in this number.

Mozart's Trio, K 498, for clarinet, viola, and piano will be the third number on the program. Eleanor Westbrook, a student at the College, will play the clarinet part, Alan Stewart the viola, and Andrew C. Haigh the piano.

W-M Observes Early Worship

As the sun rose behind the Wren building and its first rays shone through the windows facing the Sunken Garden, students, faculty members and townspeople gathered for the annual sunrise service Sunday at 6:57 a. m.

A bugle solo, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today?" played by Star Scout Bob Cottingham of Matthew Whaley, opened the service. The Presbyterian Church Choir sang the same hymn for the processional, as they marched on to the east steps of the Sunken Garden.

Dr. Lewis F. Havermale gave the invocation, which was followed by the choir singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Dr. Havermale then read the Easter Story from the Bible, and the choir sang Sir John Stainer's "God So Loved the World," and "In Joseph's Lovely Garden," adapted from Handel's Messiah.

The Reverend Archibald F. Ward led the group in a prayer, and the entire gathering joined in the singing of the recessional, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today."

Exeter and W-M Expect 'Marriage'

Virginia U. "Married"

The University of Virginia has already effected a "marriage" with Manchester University which will begin after the war.

Before the war, Exeter had approximately 700 coeducational students, principally residential. It offers practically every departmental subject that is offered at William and Mary, in addition to work in archaeology, astronomy, geography, and the history of religion. It is located in the southwest part of England, and is very similar in situation to William and Mary, being a small coeducational institution of Liberal Arts. Its president is Sir H. J. B. Lopes.

Officers Rotate

Officers' positions in the Council rotate annually to the different sororities. Next year's officers will be Donna Lepper, president, Gunesh Guran, secretary, Mary Brooks Harper, treasurer, and Dot Hope, social chairman.

The Council will continue the practice inaugurated at the last WSCGA meeting of awarding a plaque to the pledge class attaining the highest scholastic average, according to Jan Mori.

Spanish Club Gets Name From Cervante's Novel

"Los Quijotescos" Studies Background History and Famed People of Spain

By ANNE ANDREWS

Remember the Wind Mill Battle and the many other stories about Don Quijote and his squire, Sancha Pancho? Don Quijote was the tall and lanky knight who rode through Spain on his decrepit horse fighting imaginary battles. "Los Quijotescos," the Spanish Club, took its name from Cervante's "Don Quijote", because it is considered the best of all Spanish literature by Spanish students.

The Spanish Club was founded at William and Mary in 1927, under the direction of Professor Casteneda. The members of the organization study the background, history, and outstanding people of Spain. In this way they gather ideas and more completely understand the country they study.

Former Student Wins Citation

Credited with rescuing 17 paratroopers during the invasion of the Philippines, Lt. John A. Mapp of Richmond, Virginia, has received special citation. Lt. Mapp is a graduate of William and Mary, having received his B. A. degree in 1935. He was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, editor of the 1934 FLAT HAT, president of men's student body in 1934-35, and a member of Kappa Alpha.

Captain James Michael Watkins of Emporia, Virginia, was reported killed in action on March 5, 1945. His death occurred while he was on a special mission near the Rhine River with 125 men under him. He wore the Silver Star for gallantry in action, and the Purple Heart. He served with the 35th Infantry Division of the Ninth Army.

In 1938 Captain Watkins received his Bachelor of Arts degree from William and Mary and in 1940 his degree of Bachelor of Civil Law.

Captain William Johnson Blair was killed in action in a plane crash on Mindoro Island, February 17, 1945. He was an Ordnance officer of the famed "Grim Reapers" of the Third Bombardment Group.

Captain Blair received his B. A. degree in 1931 from William and Mary. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, O. D. K., and Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity. His home was in Danville, Virginia.

Overseas since October of 1942, his division had special citations for devastation of Japs on New Guinea.

Lt. J. Cuthbert Owens, M. C., U. S. N. R., a graduate of William and Mary, was the first medical officer in the armed services to experiment with and successfully use whole blood in a forward invasion area on D-day.

Dr. Owens is a recognized authority on beachhead surgical practice because of his varied experiences in at least five or six major Pacific invasions in Tarawa, Kwajalein, Saipan, Leyte, and Luzon.

Lt. Owens was awarded the Bronze Star "for heroic achievement and outstanding professional ability" during the invasion of Saipan last June.

The club meets once a month and usually has a guest speaker. This month Dr. Pierre Macy spoke to the group in Spanish and told them about life in Mexico.

Aside from their regular meetings Los Quijotescos is active on campus. The Spanish Club together with the French Club sponsored a Saturday night dance, Cafe Pyrene, in February, and is now planning a spring picnic.

Los Quijotescos is headed by Margaret Maroney as president; Tillie Mills, vice-president; Joan Kueffner, secretary; Ann Johnson, treasurer; Kay Leavey, entertainment chairman; and Ann Anderson, refreshment chairman. Dr. Victor Iturralde is the faculty advisor.

Presbyterian Club Installs Officers

Jean Goodwyn was elected moderator of the Westminster Student Fellowship Supper Club at the Sunday night meeting, March 25. Other officers elected are: Lucile Burbank, program chairman; Virginia Price and Barbara Rommel, social service chairmen; Emily Scott, supper chairman; Joan Gibbs, social chairman; Marjorie Dykes, representative to the Student Religious Union; Doris Yost, publicity chairman; and Dorothy Grove, secretary-treasurer. These officers were installed on Easter Sunday in the main auditorium of the Presbyterian church after the Supper Club meeting. The choir sang at the induction exercises.

All student religious groups in Williamsburg have been invited to be the guests of the Westminster Supper Club on April 15 at a joint banquet at the church. The purpose of this meeting will be to get the groups interested in meeting and working together. An outside speaker representing the Interdenominational Student Work has been contacted for the occasion.

Net Squad Gets Initial Test Soon

Indians Will Face Army, Navy, N.Y.U.

William and Mary's net squad leaves Sunday morning for West Point where Army will provide the first opposition of the season on Monday, April 9. On Tuesday the Indians meet N. Y. U. and on Wednesday they tangle with Navy in Baltimore.

These matches are likely to be the most hotly contested of the year. Army and Navy, always excellent in tennis, have two of the most outstanding teams in the country. Art Hendrix, Navy's mentor, was a nationally known player in former years and has turned out many stars. Probably his greatest was the late Joe Hunt, who annexed the National Championship.

The number of men who will make the trip is still in doubt. Only the first six have been decided upon. Bren Macken and Tut Bartzon, Coach Umbeck's two aces, will constitute the number one doubles team. Bert Rance and Bob Doll will join forces in the number two slot. The other partnership will consist of Dick Anderson and Pat Ellison. The former attended high school near Newport News and the latter played for Thomas Jefferson of Richmond.

Each engagement will consist of the nine regulation matches, six singles and three doubles.

The squad will return from Baltimore on Wednesday night in order to begin preparations for their first home test against North Carolina University on Saturday, April 14.

Rawlinson Has Softball Plans

An intramural softball league is being planned and teams must be entered by April 7. At least four teams must be entered or there won't be a league. There will probably be three games a week and they will start at 3:45 p. m. Medals will be awarded to the winning team.

Intramural head Kenneth Rawlinson has announced that all fourth round handball matches must be completed by Saturday, April 7, at 5 p. m. The quarter-final matches must be completed April 14, semi-final matches April 21, and finals April 28.

Entries for the horse-shoe tournament must also be turned in by April 7. There must be at least sixteen entries, and all men in school are eligible. Medals will be given to first and second place winners.

Men in social clubs should not be entered unless they actually plan to participate, since Mr. Rawlinson doesn't want any forfeits. Each club must enter at least five men in the horse-shoe tournament to get participation points. A swimming meet and tennis singles tournament are also being planned for the near future.

Sports Spiel

By TOMMY SMITH

This corner received an interesting comment the other day from a returned South Pacific veteran who, though not an alumnus, takes The FLAT HAT regularly. It seems he was even hard up enough to read page five and he stumbled upon our blast at the Indians following their shabby and inexcusable defeat at the hands of the North Carolina State Wolfpack. This, he said, was the best of all our efforts and he enjoyed that the most.

Whether our friend enjoyed simply hearing us blow our top, or whether he thought it was really constructive, we don't know. However we sincerely hope it was the latter.

If at any time we can be in an advantageous position to help the faculty or students, we want to do so. After President Roosevelt's blast at columnists for being "unnecessary excrescences," we began to wonder. Are we worth our salt?

We wanted to see the return of big time football to William and Mary last fall and we got it, whether we realized it or not. And we're going to have it again next season, for Coach McCray has lined up some good, stiff opposition. For the past several years, and with good reason, the students have been critical of the home schedule. When football rolls around this year, it will find 8 of our 9 games played here, in Norfolk, or Richmond, all of which are reached easily enough if the student really wants to see them.

Tennis has gone on the "emphasis" list again under the excellent coaching eye of Sharvey G. Umbeck. We will play one of the toughest tennis schedules this year of any college club in the country. They start on Army next Monday and a little boost to these boys would not be out of order.

We believe there are other gripes, but overall, we think the athletic department has done an excellent job this year.

Pi Beta Phi Places First In Annual Badminton Play

Kappa, Alpha Chi Share Second Team Honors

Intramural Badminton games came to a close last week with Pi Beta Phi winning the "A" league and Kappa Kappa Gamma tying with Alpha Chi Omega for first place in the "B" league.

By winning her matches with Gamma Phi Beta and Phi Mu this last week, Pi Beta Phi rolled up a record of 15 victories out of a possible 16. Credit for this record belongs to her team consisting of Donnie Lepper, Barbara Nesbit, Marion Webb and Barbara Grant. Delta Delta Delta came from the third ranking position in the "A" league of two weeks ago to take second place in the tournament this week. This was accomplished through her two victories over Kappa Alpha Theta giving her a final score

Phi Delta Pi Is Easy Winner In Intramural Track Event

Tennis Team Strengthened With New Star, Bob Doll

Chief Assets of Florida's Junior Singles Champion Are Steady Ground Strokes, Overhead Smashes

Newly acquired Bob Doll, Tampa, Florida, is the latest addition to the potent William and Mary tennis team, since he just entered in January after graduating from Plant High School in Florida.

Bob, who stands about 5 feet 10 inches tall, claims as his chief assets a steady ground stroke, which makes a formidable back court man, and a powerful overhead smash, which has won for him many matches in the past.

His doubles partner here has been Captain Bert Rance, who is also a strong doubles man. Bert and Bob are looking forward to participating in the National Intercollegiate tournament in June. These two form the number two doubles spot under Bartzon and Macken.

Doll's most gratifying win last year was over Henry Pfister in the west-terns. The latter is ranked seventh in the country in the junior division.

After capturing the Florida High School tennis singles championship in 1944, Bob went on to beat out a field of tough competition and win the Florida junior singles championship the first of this year.

By virtue of his outstanding play in the past few years, Bob is ranked fourth in the Southern junior singles and is second in doubles. He and his former doubles partner, Wade Herren, are ranked ninth in the National junior doubles, compiled by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Bob first took up tennis when he was thirteen because he had been watching Don Budge and "it looked so easy." It was only a short while later that he emerged the Tampa city-wide boys' champion. Now, he is in his last year of junior competition and is expected to make a strong bid in the National Tournament to be held in Kalamazoo, Michigan this year. This will make his third year of competition in the Nationals.

Although tennis is his forte, Bob is also interested in football, baseball, and track. After the recent track meet, though, he said that "tennis is a better racket than track for my money."

Bob's only comment when interviewed was, "Tennis is a good game, but it makes me have too big an appetite." He hopes to finish the season and join the Army this summer.

Coed Netters Will Play Duke

Girls Face First Foe April 20, Play U.N.C.

Gradually the girls' tennis schedule is being worked out. On April 20, the girls forming the tennis team are to challenge Duke's team in Durham, North Carolina. The following day these same girls are to match the University of North Carolina's tennis stars at Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Another match with the University of North Carolina is planned to be held here in the near future. No date has as yet been set for this game. On May 6 four of our tennis stars are to meet with 4 representatives of the Country Club of Virginia in a tournament at Richmond.

In the future other matches are to be made. But as the policy of the school is not to do excessive traveling in war times, the games will be played in Virginia and the near vicinity.

Thanks should be given to the fine tennis weather we've been having for the past two weeks. As a consequence of this, our tennis players have been able to get in a lot of practice. Every day Betty Coumbe, Barbara Davis, Joanne Dunn and Elaine Passow can be found out on the courts putting in two and three hours of vigorous practice. Miss Barksdale conservatively stated, "William and Mary has good girls tennis material."

K T Captures Second Place

Taking five first places out of eight, Phi Delta Pi triumphed easily in the intramural track meet held last Saturday at Cary Field by rolling up 40½ points. Kappa Tau placed second with 23½ points and the Sovereigns were third with thirteen.

The points were awarded as follows: five for first place; three for second; two for third; and one for fourth. Chet Mackiewicz captured scoring honors with twelve markers. Buddy Canoles racked up ten and Bob DeForest garnered eight.

In the shot put competition which opened the program Mackiewicz was the victor with a heave of 37 feet, 4 3/4 inches. DeForest closely followed him with 37 feet, and 1/4 inch. In third place was Louis Creekmur with 35 feet, 3 1/4 inches.

Canoles Wins 100

Next came the 100-yard dash in which the entrants were so numerous that two preliminary heats had to be run. Buddy Canoles breezed across the finish line in 10.8 seconds. Bob Sherry was next, with Dale Parker running third.

Following this was the 880-yard dash, run in the comparatively slow time of 2 minutes, 15.1 seconds. This was due to the blistering pace set by Bren Macken, who completed the first half in 54 seconds. He couldn't maintain his lead, however, and Harry Stinson, after trailing for approximately three quarters of the way, came on to gain the decision. Close behind was Tut Bartzon and trailing him was Bob Hewitt.

DeForest Hurls Discus

DeForest was victor in the discus throw, making 107 feet, 5 3/4 inches. "Barrel" Anderson was second with an even 104 feet. Mackiewicz took third place with a toss of 101 feet, 11 inches.

Canoles gained his second triumph of the afternoon in the 220-yard dash, being clocked in 24.5 seconds. Parker took second honors, with Sherry in the number three spot, just reversing their finish in the 100-yard dash.

The running broad jump was captured by Eric Brown, who leaped 19 feet, 2½ inches.

Masten Trims Appell

The next event was the most grueling event of the meet, the 440-yard dash. It almost resulted in a dead heat as Dewey Masten trimmed Al Appell by an eyelash in 55.1 seconds. Appell was wearing trousers instead of shorts which didn't help him any. "Snake" Drake checked in at third.

High jumps terminated the afternoon's program. Mackiewicz cleared 5 feet 7 inches to post his second win of the day. Eric Brown and Al Lang finished in a deadlock for second and each gained 2½ points for his efforts. A rather ironical touch was provided after the close of competition. Brown, trying another jump, not only made the height at which he had failed three times, but eventually cleared 5 feet, 9½ inches.

The winners of each event received their medals last Monday from Kenneth Rawlinson, men's intramural director.

SKIRTS in SPORTS

By El Weber

Intramural Badminton is now at an end with Pi Beta Phi coming out on top in the "A" league and Alpha Chi Omega and Kappa Kappa Gamma sharing honors for first place in the "B" league. All the matches were completed in two weeks time with the exception of the dormitory league. At the present time, Barrett and Chandler are tied for first place in this league. Several matches are yet to be completed. Laurie Pritchard has been the able badminton intramural manager and has done a good job in conducting this mural play.

Interest in swimming has not been as great as it should be due largely to the poor facilities. The use of the men's pool in Blow Gym for classes and Thursday night practice periods has helped to remedy the situation.

Four courses are offered in swimming: beginners, elementary, intermediate, and advanced. Next year no credit will be given to beginning swimming. There have been lifesaving classes all three gym semesters during the year, which is unusual for a school.

Preparations are being made for swimming demonstration on April 29. The program will include life saving techniques, surf board demonstrations, and swimming formations.

The Water Safety Corps has been doing an excellent job in providing life guards for Jefferson pool three times a week during the plunge periods. They are to be congratulated.

Softball intramurals begin April 11. The usual four practices required in previous intramural play will again be a requirement. A notice of the rule will be out soon to intramural chairmen. All practices must be completed by noon of April 11. Sororities and dormitories are requested to turn in a list of their players in to the gym office not later than Friday, April 6.

Men's Fraternities Form Spring Plans

Men's social clubs on campus are planning picnics and dances for their spring activities this year.

Phi Delta Pi is planning a combined hayride and picnic for the near future. Bob Marion, Harvey Chappell, Eddie Dunbar, and Harvey Pope are in charge of the activity. The Phi Deltas' third social function of the year will be a dance which will probably be held in early April.

Kappa Tau informally initiated Eugene Tench and Al Clark Saturday night, March 24. KT's are planning a "pin dance." The men's dates will wear their pins during the dance and the girls will put pins on the new members during a special ceremony.

The Sovereigns held a picnic Sunday, March 25, from 2 to 6 p. m. at the shelter. Jim Sawyer was in charge of the affair. According to president Tommy Smith, "Everyone had a swell time."

Phi Delta Pi, the Sovereigns, and Kappa Tau are jointly sponsoring the next Saturday night dance. Representatives from the three fraternities are deciding on the theme for the dance and decorations. Bob Anderson's and Bob DeForest's "Bobcats" will play for the occasion.

White Optical Co.

Medical Arts Building
Newport News, Va.

Frances Buttler is in charge of softball.

Bridge murals will also begin soon and will probably be run off along with softball. Two people from each sorority or dormitory will play each day. Bridge will last for six days, three days of one week and three of the next.

Ping pong has been postponed and will be played at a later date.

College Holds Yearly Contest

Eligible students from accredited public and private high schools in the State of Virginia will participate in the ninth Annual Chemistry Contest conducted by the Chemistry Department April 20, 21, 22, 1945 in Rogers Science Hall.

The contest will consist of a written competitive examination in elementary chemistry. Men of the senior classes who have taken one year of high school chemistry or who are taking chemistry in their senior year are eligible for entry. Each school may enter a maximum number of three contestants.

The first place award is a scholarship for three continuous years of college; second place award is a scholarship for two continuous years of college.

All contestants and members of the school faculties accompanying them will be the guests of the College. Sleeping accommodations will be furnished. Provision will be made for the students to visit Exhibition Buildings of restored Williamsburg as guests of the College.

Last year thirty-six contestants from nineteen Virginia schools entered and competed. The holder of last year's scholarship is Thomas M. Melton, of Rockville, Virginia.

Dot Scarborough Named KD Pi Head

Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity, elected officers for the coming year at a meeting held Monday, April 2. The officers elected are Dorothy Scarborough, president; Jerrie Healy, vice-president; Mary Stuart Mason, secretary; and Sally Rue Justis, treasurer. The outgoing president is Nancy Outland.

Preceding the business session, Eleanor Harvey and Mary Simon were pledged.

Plans for the annual banquet will be discussed at the next meeting, to be held on Monday, April 9.

Pi Phi Wins A League Badminton Intramurals

Kappa team are Mary Belford, Audrey Barthold and Jean Morgan. Special recognition should go to Mary Belford of Kappa for winning all the singles and the doubles that she played.

As the return scores of the Dorm Badminton tournament haven't been turned in as yet, their ratings will be posted next week. Also some of the sorority standings have not been completed.

Mme Jonniaux Talks At USO

By DOT FERENBAUGH

Madame Alfred Jonniaux, world traveller and international observer, wife of the distinguished painter to the Belgian Court, spoke to a group of servicemen and townspeople at the U. S. O. Club last night at 8:00 p. m., on "World Unity, Our Part As An Individual."

Small, gracious Madame Jonniaux was born in and educated in England. She met Alfred Jonniaux in London when he was beginning his career as an artist, which was climaxed when he was appointed court painter to Belgium's King Leopold.

Lived In Free France

The Jonniaux's lived in Paris until four days before the German troops marched down the Champs Elysees. After the capitulation of France, they fled to Free France and lived in a small country town for nine months until they received their passage to America on the Clipper.

Likes Virginia Especially

M. and Mme. Jonniaux will receive their final citizenship papers next year and plan to live in America. Madame Jonniaux favors Virginia particularly and said she might like to make her home here in Williamsburg.

Charmed with Williamsburg, Madame Jonniaux thought it "unique" and said that a visit to Williamsburg for any Britisher a "crowning point." She was impressed by the beauty of the city and the great historical values of the Restoration and its beauty.

Both by her background and experiences, Madame Jonniaux is qualified to lecture on international life. She has had colorful and comprehensive experiences gleaned from distinguished and noteworthy international figures that have passed through her husband's studios.

Hopes For Unity

Through her appeal to students and young people she hopes to arouse greater interest in the peace plans and unity of the world. In her lectures, she tries to stress realistically the importance of our attention to affairs of the moment which concern the future.

To Lecture For I. R. C.

Before completing her lectures in April, Madame Jonniaux will have seen quite a bit of Williamsburg. Prior to her week's visit here, she spoke at Hampden-Sydney, and Farmville State Teacher's College where she was warmly received. After a trip to Washington, D. C., and the University of Maryland, she will return to Williamsburg on April 24 and lecture at the College as guest speaker of the International Relations Club.

President John Pomfret Talks At Duke University

Dr. John E. Pomfret made the annual Phi Beta Kappa Address at Duke University on Thursday, March 29, in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Duke Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. The subject of his address was "The Greek Spirit and The Modern Scene." On Friday, March 30, in Raleigh, Dr. Pomfret addressed William and Mary Alumni at a meeting.

Physio-Therapists Trained to Combat Current Shortage

Physical therapists are being trained by The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to alleviate an acute shortage of trained personnel in this vocation. Scholarships are being offered which amount to $1,267,600. They will be available immediately for classes beginning in June and July.

The increased use of physio-therapy in infantile paralysis and other diseases has brought this shortage about and consequently the National Foundation is offering these scholarships for 9 and 12 months courses in approved schools of physical therapy. Candidates for the courses must have two years of college, including biology and other basic sciences, or be graduates of accredited schools of nursing or physical education.

According to Basil O'Conner, president of the National Foundation, the postwar possibilities in this field are without limit. There are only 2,500 qualified physical therapists in the United States and more than half of this number is in the armed services. At the present time 5,000 could be employed.

Applications for scholarships can be made to The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, 120 Broadway, New York, 5, N. Y.

Vacancies Exist For New Teachers

Superintendents of Tidewater, Virginia, schools indicate many vacancies for teaching in elementary and high school grades. Chief C. J. Sommerer from Camp Peary addressed the Superintendents, who met at the College on March 21. Chief Sommerer explained the vocational program for high school age youth and adults in Wisconsin, drawing from his former experience as Director of Vocational Education at Marshfield, Wisconsin.

Mr. C. W. Dickinson, member of the State Board of Education in Richmond, spoke on proposed legislation relating to Virginia schools.

It was announced that salaries for beginning teachers will vary from around $1,260 to $1,400 for the first year. Dr. George H. Armacost has asked June and August graduates interested in teaching positions to confer with him.

Record Snatches and Catches

By BOBBIE STEELY

William and Mary has its own version of the Calypso song, Rum and Coca-Cola, as done by Bob DeForest, Buddy Canoles, Jack Hoey, and Lee Lively. These are their words: Way down south in Williamsburg, There's a college so you've heard; Lot's of fun and laughter too, Sleep all day; not a thing to do.

Refrain:
Drinking beer in Chownings at night,
Drink till you're feeling right.
Then when you're out of sight
You can kiss your girl good night.

On the field of friendly strife
For "Rube" McCray you'll give your life

His shining personality
Puts you in the infirmary.

Refrain:
Over in our dining Hall,
Come and hear the dishes fall.
Y. O. says the food is grand,
Well, what happened to the cook's left hand?

Refrain:
Way down in Matoaka park,
There you can't go after dark.
You can sit and have your fun
Drinking cokes and eating weiners on buns.

Refrain:
Biology is a course required.
Assistants smart? not at all, just hired.
When you ask about a test,
The "prof" considers you a pest.

Refrain:
If you have a class at eight,
You are sure you will be late.
Have you done your work? Not at all!
You haven't done any since last fall.

Refrain:
The girls have got us eight to one,
But the fight has just begun.

Soldiers, sailors, and marines
Came up and busted all our dreams.

One of the newest bands in the country is that of Hal McIntyre, the lad who, up until three years ago, was lead saxophone in Glenn Miller's civilian band. Mac left Miller with the express purpose of organizing his outfit and was immediately successful in setting up an above average orchestra. Now after only three years in the business, Hal McIntyre's band is a "name" band in many theaters and ballrooms.

After a twelve month try as a single act, Ziggy Talent, comedian-singer-saxophonist, has rejoined Vaughn Monroe's orchestra.

Catches:
"Fiesta in Blue" and "I Can't Give You Anything But Love"—pre-ban Benny Goodman's.
"Somebody's Got To Go"—Cootie Williams with Eddie Vinson on vocals.
"Blues"—Jose Iturbi.
"Gliss Me Again"—Johnny Guar-nieni Trio.

Registrar Announces Student Body Average

Scholastic averages are now being tabulated by the Registrar's Office under the direction of Miss Kathleen Alsop. According to the latest figures, the scholastic average of the semester ending in February is 1.29 for the student body as a whole. By the point system of the College this is equivalent to a C average, as three equals an A, two a B, and one a C.

More extensive averages will be published in The FLAT HAT in the near future.

Graduate Record Examinations Select Students For Fellowships

Graduate Record Examinations will be held on April 24 and 25, to select students qualified for fellowships. This general examination serves as a measure of general education for graduate and prospective students and is held at the College twice a year.

Last spring the College was selected by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching as a center for administering the tests. Many graduate schools require their prospective students to submit, along with other credentials, the results of the Graduate Record Examination in order to determine a student's potential ability to advance work. Students who desire entrance to graduate school from small or little known colleges are assisted by this examination.

The test is one of general knowledge and is advantageous to college sophomores as well as seniors, providing a measure of general education and an indication of potentialities. Taken again after a two year period, it is an index to scholastic progress.

Any student, from sophomores through seniors, are eligible for this examination whether they are interested in securing fellowships, entrance to graduate schools, advanced standing, or merely in determining the scope of their knowledge.

The examination requires two separate half days. The first session will be held on April 24 at 1:00 p. m. in 309 Marshall-Wythe Hall; the second session will be held April 25 at 8:00 a. m. in 305 Marshall-Wythe Hall.

Arrangements for the examination can be made in the Counseling Office, 116 Marshall-Wythe Hall.

Library Club Members Take Trip To New York Group of Ten Tours Libraries; Sees "Oklahoma" and Ice Follies

Nine Library Science Club members and Miss Mae Graham, acting head of the Department of Library Science, left yesterday noon for a trip to New York which is to last until Sunday, April 8.

Plans include a wide variety of activities, including a stop-over at Washington to visit the Library of Congress. The club members will visit the Garden City and H. W. Wilson Publishing Companies, and will study the library systems used at Columbia University and several New York high schools.

Dorm Honors Taffy Taylor

Honoring Taffy Taylor, retiring dormitory president, Chandler Hall's house committee entertained the Chandler girls at a surprise party Monday night.

The party began with an ominous call for all girls to be in the living room at 10:15 bringing nothing with them but cigarettes. Shirley Parrish announced that the dormitory had contributed forty dollars to the Red Cross War Fund drive and then read a letter stating the unfortunate situation which exists in the College cafeteria and declared that with such conditions prevalent the administration saw fit to provide extra rations in the form of cake a la mode for Chandler Hall. The letter was an All-Fools joke a day late but the refreshments were material.

The proctors, as the chief entertainers of the program, offered charades including that 12:15 Saturday night look, a please-won't-you-let-me-in-because-I'm-late-pantomime, and a three-o'clock-in-the-morning fire drill show. Annabelle Koenig, guest artist from Barrett hall, gave a reading, and the proctors sang a take-off on "Everything Happens To Me."

Gianna Lewis, master of ceremonies, led community singing as a conclusion to the get-together.

Members of the house committee include: Edna Kerin, Jean McPherrin, Sara Levy, Dottie Bacon, Jane Bar-teaux, Lucia Cosby, Jackie Armor and Laurie Pritchard.

Chaplain Bragstad Talks to Lutherans

Chaplain G. W. Bragstad talked to the members of the Lutheran Group at their meeting on Tuesday, March 27, in Barrett Living Room. He spoke about two similar groups that he was acquainted with at McCallister and the University of Minnesota. Chaplain Bragstad will help the group here on campus which has just organized into the Lutheran Student Association, a national club.

At tomorrow's meeting, officers will be elected and another chaplain from the Chaplains' School will address the group.

For the benefit of those in the group who have not seen New York before, a sightseeing tour is planned, including a look at the Statue of Liberty and a bus tour of Manhattan Island. Other entertainment includes the Easter program at Radio City Music Hall, "Oklahoma," and the Ice Follies show, "Hats Off to Ice." The students are staying at the Bristol Hotel.

Colleges Rewarded For War Activities

The nation's number one college for War Savings activities this spring will be honored with a National Radio Salute shortly after May 1. At the same time, the winner will be announced of a $100 War Bond awarded by the Associated Collegiate Press to the college publication which gives the best coverage to the Spring War Bond Program.

The judges who will select the winning college and the winning publication are Mrs. Henry Morgenthau, Jr., wife of the Secretary of the Treasury; Dr. Francis P. Gaines, President of the American Association of Colleges; Quentin Reynolds, commentator and writer.

The Seventh War Loan Drive will cover the period from May 14 to June 30. Plans are already being made by colleges all over the country to back this drive.

Freer, Black Attend Honor Convention

The representatives will carry copies of the Indian Handbook, in which the Honor System at William and Mary is described, and of the pledge cards which all entering women sign.

The Conference will include two sessions. The group will discuss the application and objectives of an Honor System on Friday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., followed by an informal coffee in the Senior Hall. The second session, Saturday morning from 9:00 to 12:00 a. m., will consider the organization and administration of the Honor System.

Helen Black was chairman of the W. S. C. G. Honor Committee in her senior year at William and Mary, 1942-43.

Spring Brings . . . Sun Bath Problem

The "rustle of spring" on campus is always accompanied by the trek of co-eds to "Barrett Beach" and other, less advisable, places to soak themselves in the sun. With the increased amount of square-yardage to be sunbathed, caused by the influx of women at William and Mary, a real problem has arisen.

Whether sunbathing is a necessary part of college is not even a debatable question in the eyes of the women. A suntan is a definite part of the equipment of the average American college girl, and as such must be considered seriously.

Some students think they have found the solution to the over-population of Barrett roof in lugging blankets, pillows, baby oil, Good Housekeeping, and sunglasses out to the Athletic Field or down to the dock on Matoaka Lake. These places are public, however, and the majority of girls permit themselves a truly alarming amount of exposure. Therefore, this practice must be discontinued and something else must be found.

The idea of a rotation plan for Barrett roof has been proposed, but so far no person or group has appeared on campus with the time requisite for the enforcement of such a plan.

The only solution appears to be to find another place which can be set aside. The difficulty is that it must be private, but not too far away from "habitated country." The Administration and the Judicial Committee are working on this solution. They will appreciate any suggestions. In the meantime, an appeal is made to the women individually, not to lower the standards of William and Mary with even so trifling a thing as embarrassing sunbathing. The Administration is doing its best; will you?

People In War-Torn Areas . . . Need Clothing Now

The date of the drive scheduled for the United National Clothing Collection is April 1-30. The purpose of the collection is to secure the maximum quantity possible of good used clothing for free distribution to needy and destitute men, women, and children in war-devastated countries.

This drive is being sponsored on campus by the Y. W. C. A., which will work in conjunction with the WAMs in collecting articles. Sally Reik is in charge of the drive.

Throughout war-torn areas clothing is very scarce. More than 125,000,000 people are in liberated or soon to be liberated nations of Europe which are in dire need of clothing. Because of the demands of armed forces and civilian needs, manufacture of clothing in the United States and other countries to relieve these distressed people will not get under way for sometime.

What type of clothing is needed? Good substantial used clothing for both winter and summer wear is needed. Although the clothing need not be in perfect repair, it must be useful to the people who will receive it. The most urgent need is for knitted wear for children, heavy outer garments and also bedding.

The donated clothing will be shipped to the war-devastated countries on the basis of the greatest immediate need and available shipping space. Clothing will be distributed free to the needy without discrimination of any kind. Included in the distribution will be the Far East.

A national goal has been set at 150,000,000 pounds. Give your donations now to the Y. W. C. A., in order that we may do our part in reaching the quota!

William and Mary Go-Round

By FRED FRECHETTE

Several subjects have been brought to my attention about which I could beat my gums this week. Not that the subject of this weekly five hundred words is so important, but my conscience will bother me if I do not exercise some selective process in determining my topic. A long blank space under the heading "William and Mary Go-Round" would have the same effect as any of my literary efforts, but the ACP (Associated Collegiate Press to laymen) might disapprove of such practice.

* * * * *

Some of our ex-servicemen, angry at the treatment being accorded our men taken prisoners by the Germans, suggest that the German POW's at Camp Peary be forced to eat the Dining Hall food and the students eat theirs. After a week, the Nazis would probably go on strike.

However, the many failings of the Dining Hall will not be corrected by further howling about them. If, in spite of the attention they get, things remain unsatisfactory to the students, further complaints here will do no good. Besides, it's a very hackneyed subject.

The most promising subject to discuss this week seems to be in a rather touchy field, that of the post-war fraternity set-up. The fraternity men remaining on campus dislike the idea of not living in houses after the war. They realize the meaning that a house holds for their fraternities, but being few in number, have no means to resist the plan for "lodges" set down by the powers-that-be. As one of them put it: "We're just waiting for reinforcements."

I don't think that it can be too strongly impressed upon the administration and students how bitterly the fraternity men of William and Mary, no matter where they may be, despise the ban on fraternity houses after the war. They are unanimous in their resentment of the proposed "lodges." In their minds, college is synonymous with not only classes, tradition, and peace, but with fraternities and all they stand for. The focal point of their chapter is the "house," where they can live comfortably with boys of their own choosing amid the comforts of home.

Here is an example of the type of comment being made by fraternity men now in service:

"This temporary cessation of fraternities is a necessary war-time measure, but what is hard to take is the deal on schedule for after the war. . . . and that's what we are fighting for!"

Britain, United States' Ideas Must Be Similar

By MARY LOU MANNING

In order to understand exactly what the three Powers face in adjusting themselves to post-war problems and solving them, we must try to view the situation from each side. Britain's attitude is just as important as the opinion of the United States. The ideas of both may be similar, may differ, but regardless of this, if there is to be a prospect of peace in the future, these two sets of ideas must strike a common meeting ground.

What are England's thoughts on what is, or what will be the position of France at the Peace Conference?

France after 1940, although defeated physically and exhausted materially, was still able to outwit the Germans. Nazi Germany could not overcome the French ability to procrastinate. The one thing the Germans needed in 1940-41 was sea power, but they never got it. They were hopelessly outwitted by France, and not a shot fired. Because France controlled the vital area of North Africa and because she completely befuddled Germany, she made it possible for the U. S. to land in Africa, virtually without opposition. France has made concessions here and there, but she prevented the enemy from gaining the fleet of North Africa—no small thing.

At present France is involved in a diplomatic maneuver of great delicacy. She needs aid and cooperation from Russia, United States, and Britain. Since D-Day there have been undertones of friction which has been brought to a head in the recent DeGaulle-Roosevelt misunderstanding about Yalta.

Does the United States agree with England? If action speaks louder than words, I'd say no. But Britain isn't so perturbed about our not agreeing immediately, for they have faith in our ability to change our opinion on any given subject with astonishing rapidity. Britain, on the other hand, is slower to react. From this one might gather that Britain intends to stand pat in her decisions, while she lets the United States do the jumping around. Will we jump? That—is the $64 question.

More Student-Faculty Cooperation Is Urged

By BILL ANDERSON

Sometime ago we sought the aid of one of our professors on a problem confronting some of the students. His answer ran something like this, "Why did you not come to me in the first place? I'll tell you why. Students are afraid of me."

Such a statement coming from a professor whose only distinctions were a few years and a couple of degrees surprised us to the extent that it was several minutes before we could laugh at him. The idea that either a magnitude of intellectual knowledge or the power of physical strength would create a fear in subordinates had never occurred to us. It was such a distorted viewpoint that it was entirely beyond our conception. To many of us, higher education and elderness have brought a respect, not a fear, as a result of that differentiation.

It is our firm belief that the faculty does want to feel closer to the student body. Our student-faculty committees; the student-faculty get-togethers; and the inclusion of faculty members in student functions indicate a desire on both sides to become more closely associated.

The use of the word teacher is, in our estimation, the worst handicap a utopian college can have. We should like to think of professors as older individuals whose advantages and opportunities in age and education have enabled them to gain a store of knowledge and experience that they could pass on to us. We should like to think of college as a place where the things that make up education are available; a place where we can come and benefit by that storehouse of knowledge by digging in and learning what others before us have learned; a place where we can learn—not be taught, if the distinction is clear.

How many of us take courses, and make good marks, not because we wish to know anything about the subject, but rather because they go to make up a major or they are needed in concentration? Naturally there are some subjects that we should have a knowledge of, but will never interest us. It is there that we should respect the advice of our professors and adhere to it.

Usually, if there is a desire on the part of the student to know his professor better, he tries to do this in conversation and occasional visits to his office or home. This invariably leads to his distinction as an 'apple polisher.' If the professor individualizes a student in his class, the remaining students have already pieced the story together with the same conclusion.

How nice it would be to go into a faculty office and sit down for a chat without being accosted with, "Well, what can I do for you today?" If we, as students, could drop in to see a professor for an informal "bull session" with the same ease we enter another student's room, the first step towards better student-faculty relations will have been taken.

The second step would be the opportunity to voice opinions as readily as we formulate them. Sometime ago in a combined meeting with the faculty, we readily gave our viewpoint on a situation. Afterwards, several students remarked that they were glad we said what all of us were thinking.

Any student could have or would have done this if he had considered the faculty as older people who haven't grown so old that they couldn't think along our lines and look at our side if given the opportunity to see it. Given that opportunity, the majority have the sincere desire and can look at problems through our youthful eyes.

These are only two suggestions. There are many others, too numerous to mention. Some will not agree with the initial steps, but any variation of them will lead to a better understanding between these two groups.

When we enter the business world to find our place, we are going to encounter older people constantly. The ability to understand and work with them is going to come from experience, not desire. If this is true, then there is no better place to begin that experience than here in college, our own little society of today.

Letter to the Editor

To The Editor:

Within the past few weeks, several incidences of petty thievery have been reported among the men students.

It seems that there is a very thin line between accidental "forgetting-to-return" and stealing.

In Blow Gym there have been cases of boys losing their gym shoes. In the first place, there should be locks on all the lockers, and in the second place, people shouldn't use other people's gym clothes without the owner's permission.

There also have been many other items that have disappeared from the men's dormitories, especially clothing.

So please, before you borrow anyone's clothes in the future, be sure you ask the owner's permission.

Sincerely,

Tom Dingle,
President of Men's Honor Council
