

Election Rally to Feature New Twist

BY STEVE LOVELL
FLAT HAT News Editor

A new twist has been added to this year's Student Body elections. Open campaigning has been legalized in the election rally which will be held Thursday, March 12 at 7 p. m. in Blow Gymnasium.

The political intrigue and anticipation will come to a head with the presentation of ten-minute speeches by the two candidates for President of the Student Body, Warren Joblin and Dick Neely. All other candidates will also be introduced at that time.

Jam Session

Candidates will be allowed to "Electioneer," using posters, witty slogans and any other vote-getting campaign material. However, the election committee emphasized that such campaigning will be restricted to the rally only. A high note of the evening will be a jam session provided by Warren Kajawa.

"We expect a vigorous and hard-fought campaign on the part of the candidates at this rally," stated present president of the Student Body, Gabe Wilner. Sarah Derry, chairman of the Elections committee, hopes that many people will attend the rally "because it should be an exciting event."

In addition to the general rally, the Freshman Class will have an opportunity to support their own candidates at a special rally to be held Wednesday, March 18 in Washington 200 at 7 p. m.

At this time, each candidate will be introduced and given a chance to present his platform. "The class of '62 is the first class to have such an individual campaign and if it turns out well, it will be done regularly in the future," commented Wilner. "All freshman are urged to attend, voice their opinions and listen to the issues."

Class of '62 Candidates

In Charge

Tom Foster, president of the junior class, and Steve Tatum, president of the freshman class, are in charge of the general rally and freshman rally, respectfully.

Board of Visitors Meets, Appoints New Instructors

Principal business completed by the College's Board of Visitors in a recent meeting was the approval of five new instructors' appointments and recommendation for the awarding of 12 research grants to faculty members.

President Alvin Duke Chandler was authorized by the Board to apply to the Federal Communications Commission for the installation and operation of the 10-watt, non-commercial FM radio station to be broadcasted from the Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

Government Week Comes to Climax With Dave Brubeck

By Ken Shlakman

A lively conclusion to Student Government Week was provided by Dave Brubeck and his quartet last Sunday afternoon in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

Chairman of ticket sales, Charlie White, estimated the total sale at $1977 which is $477 above the cost of the jazz group. The quartet, consisting of Brubeck on the piano, Paul Desmond on the alto sax, Joe Morello on the drums, and Gene Wright on the bass, played to an enthusiastic, capacity crowd.

Fantastic Audience

When questioned Brubeck said, "the audience was fantastic . . . very fine theater . . . and I enjoyed the piano was great . . . this is a joyed playing here very much."

The week was started with the holding of an open meeting of the Student Assembly last Tuesday. The Mace, a Student Body Government newspaper, was published for the first time also on Tuesday. Another function of the week were Career Day Conferences, which were attended by approximately 900 students.

Greek Sing

Pi Beta Phi sorority and Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity won first place in their divisions at the annual Greek Sing last Saturday.

Pi Phi used the four seasons for their theme, while Lambda Chi adopted Hornando's Hideaway for theirs and sang "Hornando's Hideaway" and "Steam Heat."

Pete Decker, a law student, acted as Master of Ceremonies; he introduced the "New Dean's Song" which he wrote himself and dedicated it to Dean Durett. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Delta finished second and third for the sororities, while Sigma Pi and Kappa Sigma finished in those places for the fraternities.

Colonial Festival

All those students who are interested in helping in the preparations for and the operation of the Colonial Festival are invited to attend the organizational meeting in Washington 200 at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, March 10. The Festival will take place during the weekend of Spring Finals, and a good number of students are required to make it a success.

Candidates Announce Plans To Run For Campus Positions

By Joann Dotson

Warren Joblin and Dick Neely, juniors, will run for the office of student government president. Vice presidential candidates include Bill Harrison, Jim Odell and Bill Whitten. Running for the position of student government secretary-treasurer are Joy

Ammon, C. L. Krider and Nancy Read.

Voting for all offices will be held at College Corner from 12 to 6 p. m., Thursday, March 26.

Joblin

Joblin, a government major from West Hartford, Connecticut, is a member of Lambda Chi

Alpha social fraternity. He was president of his freshman class, and a member of the student senate and General Coop. Committee that year. Joblin has been on the track team for two years.

During his sophomore year, Joblin worked on the Campus Chest Committee and worked as rush chairman of his fraternity. He has participated in three intramural sports, and was a member of the Interfraternity All Star Football Team this year.

Said Joblin, "The student government fulfills the dual function of connecting the student body with the administration and faculty, and of offering an opportunity for all students to bring forth their ideas."

"The more the organization is used by the students the more positive it becomes. Voting in the March 19 elections is using your student government privilege. Please do so," Joblin concluded.

Neely

Neely has served on the Honor Council for two years and was a student assemblyman in his freshman year. He is treasurer of the Pep Club, Interfraternity Council representative for his fraternity this year, and is a member of Eta Sigma Phi, honorary ancient languages fraternity.

Neely, a member of Pi Lambda Phi social fraternity, is a government major from Crown Point, Indiana. He is promotion manager for the "Seminar", and worked as a group leader this year.

When questioned concerning the aims and purposes of student Government, Neely had this to say: "The Student Government has a definite purpose in seeing that student needs are recognized and met."

"Also, the student government should be the representative voice of the students in its relations with the administration and faculty. It should be an organization through which student ideas and suggestions are channeled and brought forth. It is every student's obligation to exercise his voting privilege come March 19."

Vice Presidents

Candidates for the office of Senior class president are Tom Foster and John Jerrehian. Fred Bush, Alice Cooke and Lynn

Symposium Speaker Cites Hurdles Higher Education Must Overcome

By Hal W. Pattison

A shortage of qualified faculty and insufficient funds are the two outstanding problems facing U. S. colleges and universities as they attempt to cope with an unprecedented demand for higher education, stated Dr. Frederick H. Jackson, Executive Associate of the Carnegie Corp., before last Friday's session of the Marshall-Wythe Symposium.

The public pays lip-service to education, observes Dr. Jackson, but appears unwilling to provide adequately for its upkeep and expansion. Responsibility for this now rests with the states and localities. But, if they fail to shoulder their responsibility, for this now rests with the states and localities. But, if they fail to shoulder their responsibility, concludes Dr. Jackson, the Federal Government will be forced to step in — the national interest demands it.

Much Competition

"The colleges find themselves at a disadvantage in competing with government and business for the services of qualified persons in the fields of science and social science. These areas are crucial at this time and this situation must be remedied.

"The quality of education offered, before entrance into college as well as after, must be improved. This is particularly true in such fields as math and science." Dr. Jackson cites research facilities in science and foreign languages and fellowships for graduate work as two of the more pressing needs.

Difficulty Ahead

"For American higher education the next few decades will be difficult ones. The long term trend towards a greater percentage of college youth taking advantage of advanced education, the high birth rate of the 1940's, and the challenge of Sputnik make it imperative for colleges to adjust to the new demands made upon them."

Already there is a great shortage of qualified teachers in both natural and social sciences. This situation, forecasts Dr. Jackson, will get much worse before it improves. The smaller number of Ph.D.'s available may result in a reevaluation of the qualifications desired for teaching positions.

Response Seen

The colleges are responding to this challenge, though there are many obstacles. It is difficult for private colleges to bear the expense of rapid expansion and, Dr. Jackson firmly believes, an ever increasing percentage of

Also held on Saturday afternoon was a luncheon given by the Board of Visitors for the William and Mary Student Body officers and the officers of R.P.I. and the Norfolk Division. They ate in the Senior Room of the Wigwam.

Sayde Hawkins Dance

On Saturday evening in the Small Gymnasium the Student Government sponsored a Sayde Hawkins Dance. More than 200 couples, most of them dressed as typical dogpatchers, danced to the music of Jerry Fisher and his band.

The dance was highlighted by Marrying Sam (Gabe Wilner) who performed a mass wedding. Awarded first prize for best costumes were Denny Bing and Ellen Aldrich, who came dressed as "Sam and Sadye Schmo."

Student President Wilner said that "the weekend has, we feel, been a resounding success thanks to the preparations made by members of the assembly, the participating groups on campus, and the interests of the student body. Special thanks must go to Gail Jordan, Maureen Harvey, Audrey Murray, Lee Sykes, Ron Monarch, Stan Wilson, Tommy Law, Phil Hendel, Charles White and Lairy Rainkin."

American youth will receive their education from public institutions.

Popular Education

Dr. Jackson considers the Morrill Act of 1862 the most important milestone in U. S. educational history, for out of this act has grown the peculiarly American system of large public supported institutions which provide low cost education for the industrial classes. This and the lecture

'Seminar' Goes on Sale

"Dostoevsky, Prophet of the Irrational", is a feature, written by Joan Strickler, of the recently published winter edition of the 1959 Seminar. Composing the journal, is non-fiction articles written and published by students.

This literary publication is now on sale for half price, $25, to faculty members and students. Beginning next week the journal will be sold at its regular price. Copies of the magazine may be purchased on the second floor of Marshall-Wythe, the second floor of Washington and in the Wigwam.

Articles are now desired for the spring issue of the Seminar

Group Leaders Needed

"Applications for orientation group leaders are now available and must be turned in by March 20," announced Overton Durrett, Acting Dean of Men.

Applications may be obtained from dormitory residence counselors. These counselors are: Larry Rosen, Bryan East 315, Rod Layman, Old Dominion 125, Bernie Goldstein, Monroe 101, Stu Hayes, Tyler Hall, and Harry Miller, Brown 208.

which will be published the second week in May. The deadline for articles for this issue is the following spring vacation.

A variety of literary material can be found in the recently printed Seminar. The article "Military Defense in the Nuclear Age" presents the affirmative view of the current college debating question, "Should the further development of nuclear weapons be banned by international agreement.

In answer to this question, the author, Jim Odell, states, "To underestimate an enemy's abilities could mean only catastrophe for us."

Meeting of Student Government Results in Several New Motions

(Editor's Note: In the future all Student Government meetings will be covered by the News Staff of the FLAT HAT. This is being done to acquaint the students with the current work of the Assembly and to allow them to take an increased interest in it's work. The results of all meetings will be reported in the succeeding issue and will include names of persons making motions and suggestions.)

At last week's meeting of the Student Assembly the following comments, motions and ideas were advanced.

Gabe Wilner thanked Mary Jamieson for her work on The Mace.

Steve Lovell reported on Campus Chest. The grand total stands at $779.43 and letters are being sent to the faculty asking for contributions.

Bunny Law commented on the success of the reception for Dr. Nevins and announced three receptions planned following speeches this seester.

Fraternity and Sorority Heads Lead Busy Lives

(This is the first in a series of articles on the newly elected presidents of the social fraternities and sororities on campus.)

BY LAUREL DREW

According to Sally Williams, newly elected president of Kappa Alpha Theta social sorority, the Thetas have an exciting year ahead. Sally, an English major from Dayton, Ohio, has many plans for the sorority involving various activities.

The Thetas are already looking forward to a party later in March with Phi Gamma Delta, their brother fraternity, from the University of Richmond. Also being planned is a spring Dinner Dance and a beach party. Other social activities will include slumber parties and fraternity parties. Sally plans to take the entire chapter to the convention where they will present famous wedding party rush skit for the delegates.

Future Theta Doings

In addition to organizing these various activities, Sally has been developing her long-range goals for the sorority. These include an improvement in chapter scholarship and increased participation by the Thetas in campus activities.

Kappa Alpha Theta's new president is well qualified for her office, for she has proved her ability in many fields. She is currently managing editor of the Seminar, representative-at-large to the Judicial Council, Head Orientation Sponsor, a choir member, and former rush chairman of her sorority. In addition, Sally is a Merit Scholar and is on Dean's List. Last year, Mortar Board named her the outstanding sophomore woman.

Sally has some innovations in mind for the Theta house. She mentions a new color scheme for the Theta rock and the hiring of "bigger and better bus boys."

Judging from her ability and enthusiasm, Sally is sure to succeed in carrying out her many plans.

BY TOM HENDRIX

"Bob is always ready to help a fellow out. He'll do anything in the world for you." This comment, made by a fraternity brother, testifies to the popularity of Sigma Pi's new president, Bob Squatriglia.

A native of Naugatuck, Connecticut, Bob is a 21-year old junior majoring in English. Active in high school, Bob played four years of football and was vice-president of his senior class. After graduating from high school, Bob attended a prep school near his home on a football scholarship. During the season, however, a shoulder injury forced him to give up football and concentrate on less vigorous sports. After attending prep school, Bob enrolled at William and Mary.

"Ideal College"

"William and Mary is the ideal college for me," he replied when asked what he thought of the school. "I wanted a small college and W&M is a happy medium; not too big and not too small. And what's more, it's co-ed."

In addition to his fraternal activities, Bob, a member of the Newman Club and a pitcher on the varsity baseball team, is kept quite busy.

Bob thinks that the new fraternities coming on campus are desirable and even necessary. Stating his reasons, Bob said that with the College expanding as it is, there will be a definite need for more fraternities.

A New Challenge

"I don't think that the new student center will especially hurt the fraternities, but they will definitely present a challenge," Bob asserted. "The spacious new dance floor in the new Student Union will be competition for the limited and cramped space for dancing in the lodges."

Bob has the following to say on school spirit at William and Mary: "It's really a puzzle; sometimes the spirit is outstanding and at other times completely mediocre. I believe that a little better organization could really be a help."

Bob's future plans include attending graduate school, preferably at Yale, and teaching English and sports at prep school.

Our Candidate

For several years now, it has been the policy of the FLAT HAT to avoid campus politics on the editorial page.

However, in looking over the listing of this year's candidates, our attention has been drawn to one candidate whom we feel merits your careful consideration. We are asking you to examine his excellent record and to become acquainted with his many fine personal qualities. We are confident, then, that you will find us quite justified in our support.

Our choice has been active in campus affairs since his arrival at William and Mary. He has had many jobs and he has been noted for doing each one of them well, regardless of the recognition he receives for his work. He has often shown his willingness to cooperate by volunteering his service, and he has frequently demonstrated his leadership by obtaining the cooperation of others.

The nominee whom we are supporting knows how to get along with people, both among the student body and among those in the administration with whom he has worked. He has stood up for his beliefs, despite the opposition he encountered, and he has always shown mature judgment in his policies and actions.

Star-gazing and glory-seeking are not parts of our candidate's character. He has, on several occasions, accepted a lesser position, where he felt he could do the most good. His chief interests are in the students, and he ardently believes in student government as the means of controlling and directing student affairs and presenting student opinion.

He has entered the campaign with the full realization of the duties and demands of the office he is seeking — certainly he would not have done so unless he himself felt he could carry out these many responsibilities. His grades, also, show an ability and a preparedness for the job.

We sincerely feel that everyone will benefit if you will place an "X" beside his name on the ballot.
J.P.M.

Would You Repeat That Please?

Woman student: "Well, I know I forgot to sign out for Richmond but a lot of things happened that morning and . . ."

Member of Judicial Council: "I know — I heard all about it from your housemother. Since you had three tests that morning and you were up all night studying, we've decided to let you off this time."

One student: "Hey, you know Jim Boswell is running for class president. Man, He's one tremendous guy. Nobody, but nobody plays the bongos like he does."

Another student: "Well, I think people should be elected to office because they're capable, and I don't really think that playing the bongos has much to do with being a good president."

Professor to student: "Don't worry about those absences. You've gotten all A's on your tests and on the final — I'm certainly not going to lower your grade simply because you've been absent four times."

One student: "I guess you're pretty mad at old fossil-face for giving you that F."

Another student: "Not really. It's my own fault. I just didn't study enough."

Woman student to Housemother: "I missed my double desk duty so I guess that means I'll have a judicial trial."

Housemother: "Not at all, dear. The infirmary called and told me that you'd sprained your ankle. It would be ridiculous to try you because of that."

One student: "I think Brubeck is the most. I mean, he's really great."

Another student: "I suppose he is. I don't really know enough about progressive jazz to speak authoritatively about him."

Freshman: "This cafeteria food is obnoxious."

Another freshman: "Well, instead of complaining all the time why don't we do something constructive."

C.W.

We Hold That . . .

the people who spent their weekend breaking dormitory windows and setting fires in dormitory trash bags deserve, if apprehended, the minimum amount of consideration, by the Disciplinary Committee.

the practical joker who destroyed one of Chowning's decorative barrels over the weekend does not much care about harmonious College-community relations, and as such, ought to be coerced into making complete reparations.

the "social climbers" who continually break into line #1 (the one nearer the Wigwam) of the cafeteria merely because they feel they deserve to at before those who are patiently waiting in line, deserve instead to find worms in their black-eyed peas.

Discloses Reason for Failure

To the Editor:

To my knowledge only three persons know why WCWM ceased operation; Dean Lambert, Theodore Hunnicutt (W&M 1958) and yours truly. For those of your readers who may be interested and for the hardy souls applying themselves to "Project WCWM" here is the story.

WCWM went on the air April 17, 1956, and discontinued operations May 23, 1956. In that period of time the station operated 17 hours daily seven days per week—solely on the initiative and pecuniary backing of seven students, now graduated.

The initial organization consisted of 64 students and one faculty advisor. The seven organizers spent about $400 from their own pockets and upwards of 6000 man hours in getting the station into operation from its inception in the spring of 1955. The other 57 students contributed, on the average of 5 hours per week starting in February 1956; or another 4600 hours. At the present minimum wage this is over $10,000 in labor alone; it didn't cost the station or the school one penny.

Broadcasting was discontinued in May 1956 because of lack of money and technical difficulties, which could have been remedied had there been some money in the pot.

Work continued during the summer of 1956 to make a firmer foundation for WCWM in the fall. By November 1956 WCWM had grown enormously. Over 130 people were on the staff. Arrangements had been made with the Associated and United Presses for direct teletype news wires, a sales organization was set up and begun advertising for commercial airspace from the merchants in the area, the Lions and Rotary clubs endorsed the station wholeheartedly, scripts had been written for four months of programming, and the Federal Communications Commission had approved operation.

In this same period of time the programming staff taped an advertisement for a local merchant which won second place in a nation-wide dealer competition sponsored by the Columbia Record Company.

Yet, with all this backing, WCWM did not go on the air. From the start the station was fully supported by the students, faculty, and Dean Lambert.

The self-fashioned equipment, which put the station on the air for 17 hours per day in April was not capable of carrying the load without substantial improvement or replacement. The seven founders could no longer financially afford to keep the station in operation without outside aid. The college could not or would not grant any further financial assistance.

We eventually fund an "angel" who wanted to back the station gratuitously and take the donation off as an income tax deduction. We were told, however, that any money for school sponsored

ON THE RECORD

By Allan C. Brownfeld

"Cry the beloved country."
Alan Paton

In its time of crisis the South needs desperately to be understood, but in our often artificial world of rights and wrongs, of blacks and whites but not of greys, understanding is not forthcoming. The shattering of a civilization is not achieved so rapidly as the dreamers would imagine, and those who are attached to such a civilization are bound to rebel. When this happens the dreamers wonder why but, alas, they do not understand and I doubt that they ever will.

What is right and what is wrong often depends upon who and where you are.

The American scene is today plagued with such a situation and despite the wrangling of some years the South appears to be gradually changing—not because it wants to, or because it considers the change a correct one, but because our entire legal system, and standards of rule by law would be destroyed were it to refuse.

In this process of reluctant change a somewhat distorted picture of the South has been drawn. A portrait has been painted of a South in which lynchings are rampant (possibly today in a modified form), in which religious prejudice against Catholics and Jews is widespread, in which respect for law is non-existent, and in which the John Kaspers are the true representatives of the people. Very little of this is true.

The crisis being faced by the South has been taken advantage of by the non-Southern peddlers of hate and bigotry. The John Kaspers from New Jersey, the John Hamiltons from Missouri, the Gerald Smiths from California, the Gerald Winrods from Kansas, and literature published in New York and Illinois — all of this has been sent into the south, but none of this is Southern.

The South must plead guilty to a good many of the charges being levelled against it, but the problems existing elsewhere in the nation make the argument that each man must solve his own problems, or at least approach them before he attempts to solve those of others, a somewhat valid one.

Virginia has done much to set a worthwhile example of respect for law. Virginians have refused to stoop to the depths of an Orval Faubus and have maintained in the imagination of the nation the image of the Southern gentleman, as opposed to the caricature of the hill-billy politician, represented by others seeking, but not gaining, the leadership of the region.

In a time of international upheaval, in a world when our values are being put to their test, it is essential that Americans stand as one before a world being encompassed in darkness. This darkness must be overcome by the bright light of liberty, and only we can guide the way.

Men are what they are and it is difficult for them to change. But if men do not sometimes change, what hope is there for the world? I still believe that such a hope remains. But hope remains only when men are willing to strive and to understand, to learn and to be taught. If they are deficient here then whatever their attributes they are less than full human beings — not "a little lower than the angels."

activities must come from the state and must be approved for expenditure by the college by the Board of Trustees. This sort of red tape without concrete approval of state and college officials that the money would be used for the radio station closed the "angel" matter unsatisfactorily.

In order to reopen the station on a stable operating schedule with adequate technical equipment, we estimated $3000 would be needed. One should realize though that we did not have any facilities except those which we built, begged, or borrowed. Phi Beta Kappa Hall, with the studios and facilities, had not yet been constructed and the old Phi Beta Kappa Hall had not yet been rebuilt. Our studio-newsroom-record-library-transmitter were all housed in the same cloak room in the Chapman house.

WCWM never continued because of insufficient funds. My advice to anyone contemplating setting up WCWM again is to first get a definite promise, in writing, of financial backing—either from the students, the college, or the state. I doubt very much that the stone walls are any softer than when we were banging our heads against them. It was our opinion that the station could become a self-supporting operation due to the warm reception given by possible advertisers in Williamsburg, Newport News, and Richmond.

Good luck to those who will try to bring WCWM back to the living.

Club To Produce "Wonderful Town"

"Wonderful Town," the Broadway musical which starred Rosalind Russell, will be this year's production of the Backdrop Club. Based on the "My Sister Eileen" stories by Ruth McKenny the show ran three years in New York before it was turned into a movie with Janet Leigh.

Tryouts will be held in the Ewell Foyer March 12, 13 and 14 from 3:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon and from 7:00 to 10:00 at night. The show will be produced by Johna Schaure and directed by Patrick Hatcher and will require nearly one hundred students.

Do You Think for Yourself? (HERE'S A TEST THAT WILL TELL YOU! *)

1. Can you honestly say that you've made an effort to understand modern art? YES NO

5. Would you be at all hesitant to rent a desirable apartment where the previous occupants had died under mysterious circumstances? YES NO

2. If you were to break a New Year's resolution, would you renew it on the spot rather than wait until next year? YES NO

6. If you were walking to town in a hurry, would you be unwilling to accept a ride in a garbage truck? YES NO

3. Would you be unwilling to play a single game of "Russian Roulette" for a million dollars? YES NO

7. Would you be reluctant to participate in an important medical experiment which, though not dangerous, would cause some discomfort? YES NO

4. Are you fully convinced that the saying "Money does not buy happiness" is completely true? YES NO

8. If you had an independent income sufficient for all your needs, could you be happy never to go to work? YES NO

9. Can an extravagant claim make you switch from one filter cigarette to another? YES NO

The truth is, thinking men and women aren't influenced by extravagant claims—especially when choosing a filter cigarette. They use their heads! They know what they want. They know that only VICEROY gives them a thinking man's filter . . . a smoking man's taste.

*If you have answered "YES" to three out of the first four questions, and "NO" to four out of the last five . . . you certainly do think for yourself!

Wrote 'The Red Velvet Goat'

Playwright Attends Performance

BY GINA HARDISON
FLAT HAT Make-Up Editor

"Mexicans are really like the characters in the play," laughed Josephina Niggli, authoress of "The Red Velvet Goat."

"They can be completely logical about the most illogical things," continued the Mexican-born Miss Niggli, who was in Williamsburg last Thursday evening for the William and Mary Theatre's performance of her play.

Although Miss Niggli was born in the Latin American country and did not learn to speak English until she was "quite a big girl," her parents moved to Mexico from the United States.

The soft-spoken authoress got her first taste of theatre work in her native village by working in the frequent local pageants, in which she was either "starring or running the show!"

Her colorful play, "The Red Velvet Goat," was presented every evening in England during the Second World War, and was frequently staged in the bomb shelters. "I suppose," surmised Miss Niggli, "because it was so far removed from the terror of war."

She commented that she once saw a notice of the play's billing in a theatre in Ireland and wondered how the dialogue sounded in an Irish brogue.

Arts Meet in Theatre

"The theatre," she stressed, "is a good means of promoting international understanding because all the arts meet on the stage and because the drama is a mirror of culture. Just as a person goes to church to understand God, he goes to the theatre to understand man."

Interesting Ornament

Miss Niggli wore a black dress Thursday night, and around her neck wore a thick gold cross "brought from Spain by my great-grandfather to my great-grandmother." She pointed out the link chain, which was carved from a solid piece of ebony.

Discusses 'What Is Modern'

Phoenix Literary Society Meets

"What is Modern" was the topic for panel discussion at the second meeting of the Phoenix Literary Society, March 5.

Five members of the faculty participated in the hour long discussion. An informal group discussion of the subject was held after a brief recess.

In his observations on French culture, Mr. Harold A. Waters, assistant professor of modern languages, noted that modern French poetry is a "fresh, shocking insight on truth." Speaking on the cerebral literature and theatre Mr. Waters is of the opinion that the modern writers are impatient to express themselves but that their ideas are carried to logical conclusions in their works.

Mr. Alan C. Stewart, associate professor of music spoke on modern music. In his discourse Mr. Stewart stated that, to his mind, the new sounds in music are the result of a conscious revolt against the romanticism of the nineteenth century music.

"Modern English writers tend to compose poetry from feelings and philosophize on it afterwards," revealed Mr. David C. Jenkins in his examination of English literature.

New Elements

Chairman of the discussion, Mr. Leon Golden, instructor in classical and modern languages, commented that "art, literature and music are the making of new elements with the emphasis on novelty and fragmentation."

According to Mr. Golden, co-advisor to the literary unit, an organizational meeting will be held at the Great Hall of the Wren Building, Thursday, at 7:30. All interested students and faculty members are cordially invited to attend.

The revived Phoenix Literary Society is an attempt on the part of its current sponsors to foster a spirit of intellectual growth at the College. Its meetings will deal with topics both modern and time-honored.

HUSBANDS, ANYONE?

It has been alleged that coeds go to college for the sole purpose of finding husbands. This is, of course, an infamous canard, and I give fair warning that, small and spongy as I am, anybody who says such a dastardly thing when I am around had better be prepared for a sound thrashing!

Girls go to college for precisely the same reasons as men do: to broaden their horizons, to lengthen their vistas, to drink at the fount of wisdom. But if, by pure chance, while a girl is engaged in these meritorious pursuits, a likely looking husband should pop into view, why, what's wrong with that? Eh? What's wrong with that?

The question now arises, what should a girl look for in a husband? A great deal has been written on this subject. Some say character is most important, some say background, some say appearance, some say education. All are wrong.

The most important thing—bar none—in a husband is health. Though he be handsome as Apollo and rich as Croesus, what good is he if he just lies around all day accumulating bedsores?

The most important thing in a husband is health.

The very first thing to do upon meeting a man is to make sure he is sound of wind and limb. Before he has a chance to sweet-talk you, slap a thermometer in his mouth, roll back his eyelids, yank out his tongue, rap his patella, palpate his thorax, ask him to straighten out a horseshoe with his teeth. If he fails these simple tests, phone for an ambulance and go on to the next prospect.

If, however, he turns out to be physically fit, proceed to the second most important requirement in a husband. I refer to a sense of humor.

A man who can't take a joke is a man to be avoided. There are several simple tests to find out whether your prospect can take a joke or not. You can, for example, slash his tires. Or burn his "Mad" comics. Or steal his switchblade. Or turn loose his pet raccoon. Or shave his head.

After each of these good-natured pranks, laugh gaily and shout "April Fool!" If he replies, "But this is February nineteenth," or something equally churlish, cross him off your list and give thanks you found out in time.

But if he laughs silverly and calls you "Little minx!" put him to the next test. Find out whether he is kindly.

The quickest way to ascertain his kindness is, of course, to look at the cigarette he smokes. Is it mild? Is it clement? Is it humane? Does it minister tenderly to the psyche? Does it coddle the synapses? Is it a good companion? Is it genial? Is it bright and friendly and full of dulcet pleasure from cockerow till the heart of darkness?

Is it, in short, Philip Morris?

If Philip Morris it be, then clasp the man to your bosom with hoops of steel, for you may be sure that he is kindly as a summer breeze, kindly as a mother's kiss, kindly to his very marrow.

And now, having found a man who is kindly and healthy and blessed with a sense of humor, the only thing that remains is to make sure he will always earn a handsome living. That, fortunately, is easy. Just enroll him in engineering. © 1959, Max Shulman

For filter smokers the Philip Morris Company makes Marlboro, the cigarette with better "makin's." New improved filter and good rich flavor. Soft pack or flip-top box. A lot to like!

Spring Drills End With Intra-Squad Game

On Saturday March 21 spring football practice will come to a close with an intra-squad game at Carey field. The student body is invited and there will be no admission charge.

The squad will be split into two teams, green and white, with coach Joe Mark at the helm of one team, and coach Ed Derringer directing the other one. The teams will be made up a few days prior to the game, and will be divided as evenly as possible.

Thus far center Tom Martin and backs Richie Snyder, Jimmy Leffew, and Walt Scott have all sustained minor injuries, but head coach Milt Drewer hopes they will be ready for the game.

Guard Paul Dinsmore, one of the standouts in last season's North Carolina State game, has missed all of spring practice due to an injury he received late last season. He will be ready for next season's play however.

Next year the Tribe will have a ten game schedule, which includes four new opponents. They are state rival Virginia, Florida State, the Citadel, and Furman, next season's Homecoming Day foe. West Virginia, North Carolina State, and Boston U. have all been dropped.

Sigma Pi, Sigma Nu Due to Battle Down to the Wire Superbas Upset by Sigma Roses, Retain Top Positions

BY RICH PAOLILLO

Upsets and outstanding individual performances keynoted the week's Intramural action as both leagues headed into the home stretch.

Sigma Pi Edged KA

Frontrunning Sigma Pi pushed its record to 6-0 in a thrilling 52-49 overtime victory over KA. The score was knotted at 45 all at the end of regulation time, but Sigma Pi outscored KA 7-4 in the overtime session to take the victory. Barry Martin and Tom Law with 21 and 14 points respectively, paced Sigma Pi. Elliot Shaubach with 19 was KA's high scorer.

Sigma Nu Rumps Phi Tau

Sigma Nu had no trouble keeping its slate clean with a 63-28 romp over winless Phi Tau. Sigma Nu now owns a 5-0 record and is technically tied with Sigma Pi for the league lead. Jim Porach dropped in 16 second half points to lead Sigma Nu scoring. Tate of Phi Tau paced the losers with 10.

King Lost to Pi Lamb

In other league action, a Jerry King-less Pi Lamb squad edged a Tom Secules-less Theta Delt crew 44-41. With the loss of King due to varsity tennis participation, Pi Lamb will count heavily on frosh Mark Groothius to pick up the slack. Groothius had 20 to lead Pi Lamb over Theta Delt. Aulick and Mance tallied 19 and 15 points respectively for Theta Delt.

PiKA Over Kappa Sig

To round out fraternity action, PiKA topped Kappa Sig 70-55.

Chip Ingram and Bruce Hobbs accounted for 43 of PiKA's total. Ingram meshed 22 and Hobbs 21. Kappa Sig missed the services of Randy Langston, who will be out indefinitely with a pinched nerve. Don Whitesell paced a quartet of Kappa Sigs in double figures, hitting 15. Lambda Chi and SAE were idle.

Superbas Beaten

The upset of the week came in the Independent circuit, where the Sigma Roses edged the previously undefeated Superbas 27-26. The usually high-scoring Superbas, who have topped 100 in four games this year, suffered their coldest day of the year. This fact plus the strong rebounding of Ed Brusko and Dick Grizzard led to the Sigma Roses win. Mike McCall paced Sigma Roses scoring with 11 big second half tallies. Dom Alesso pumped in 14 in a losing cause.

Later in the week, the Superbas got back on the win trail by stomping the Kentucky Gents to the fantastic tune of 130-34. The winners placed five men in double figures and four over 20 points. Gil McNair led the way with 30 points, followed by Dave Brownell and Dom Alesso with 27 each, Doug Fischer with 24, and Dick Sanders with 16. In still another tilt, the Superbas boosted their record to 8-1 at the expense of K of A 78-29. Dom Alesso paced the winners in this one registering 20. Tom Hamilton led K of A scorers with 11.

Faculty Takes Pair

The Faculty, with Joe Agee and Bill Chambers back in the fold, took a pair. They romped over the Purple Horde 101-45 and the Pegis Club 73-28. In the first tilt, Agee and Chambers combined for 76 points. Agee getting 44 and Chambers 32. Murray paced the Purple Horde with 26

Keydets Run Away With Meet Setting Three SC Records

BY LES SUGGS

Last Friday and Saturday the VMI swimming team successfully defended their Southern Conference title. The Keydets swimming in their home pool took six first places and set three SC records in the course of piling up a total of 101 points for the meet.

The Citadel was runnerup with a total of 75 points. Following the Citadel was Davidson with 64 points. VPI took fourth place with 61; William and Mary with 38 took fifth and West Virginia with 30 took the last position.

Outstanding Swimmers

Brad Lampshire of VMI and Bob Grossman of Tech were voted the outstanding swimmers of the Tourney by the participating coaches.

Grossman was the only triple winner of the meet, taking the 200 yard breaststroke, the 100 yard breaststroke and the 100 yd. individual medley relay. Lampshire shared dual event winnings with Tom Hudgins of Davidson. Lampshire, who set the 200 yard butterfly record early in the meet, also smashed the 100 yard butterfly record on Saturday.

The time in the 100 yd. butterfly was 0:58.3. This was three seconds better than the old record set in '52 by Matson of N. C. State.

Hudgins pulled in two victories in the freestyle events. On Friday he took the 220 yd. freestyle and followed up Saturday with the 440 yd. freestyle.

Pi Lamb, Numen Dominate Intramural Quarter-finals

BY MIKE McCALL

The handball and the ping-pong tournaments move into quarterfinal play this week with the defending champions still in contention. Both fields are now reduced to sixteen participants any of whom are capable of wrestling the crown from defending champions, Larry Peccatiello and Nat Withers, both of Sigma Nu.

Peccatiello continued his winning ways by beating Art Vandroff, Pi Lamb. He now meets Jerry King, Pi Lamb, who outlasted John Montgomery, Pegis Club. The best match this week should be between Milt Drewer and Bill Chambers, both of the faculty, who last year teamed up to win the doubles championship. Wayne Cheek, Sigma Nu, is doubtful about playing Jerry Levine, Pi Lamb, because of a recurring football injury.

Another interesting match should take place between Bob Evanovich, SAE, and Joe Mark, faculty. The winner of the Dick Hover, Sigma Nu, Bob Squatriglia, Sigma Pi, match takes on Lenny Rubal, Sigma Nu, who moved into the quarterfinals by beating Tony Wilson, SAE, Mike Lashley, Lambda Chi, contest will meet the winner of the Dave Edmunds, KA, Benny Johnson, Sigma Nu match.

In pingpong defending champion Nat Withers, Sigma Nu, turned back Jim Cuddihy, SAE, and will meet fraternity brother Chuck Sanders for a semifinal berth. Chip Ingram, PiKA, outplayed Jack White, Sigma Nu. Wayne Cheek, Sigma Nu, topped Tony Wilson, SAE, and gained the right to meet Boyd Baird, faculty, who edged Bob Harrell, Pegis Club.

In other play Kenny Rice beat Doug Fisher, Pi Lamb, and Don Smith, Pegis Club, beat Joe Agee, faculty. Dave Ladd will meet Ken Kranzberg, Pi Lamb, and Tom Farrington, Kappa Sig, will take on Dave Edmunds, KA.

Doubles Begin

The first round of handball doubles is due this week. Defending champions Bill Chambers and Milt Drewer, faculty, seem to be the team to beat. However, Sigma Nu's Peccatiello and Grizzard and KA's Edmunds and Martin are both tough as are a host of other teams.

Cross Country

Dudley Jensen, Intramural Director, announced that there will be an intramural cross country race on March 19 on the 1.9 mile short course. No participation points will be given, but there will be intramural medals for the first two finishers and place medals for the next eight. All those interested contact Harry Groves, track coach.

Track Challenges Overcome

Henry Pole Vaults to New Records

By Warren Joblin

A solid plant of the fiberglass pole, a practiced spring off the runway, an arch of the back followed by a plunge into a sawdust pit. Combining these you automatically describe pole vaulting; and pole vaulting is the business of Ron Henry, nineteen year old Business major from Roanoke, Virginia.

In his brief year of competing for the tribe Ron has already established himself as one of the state's better vaulters. In his Freshman year he swept to a third place in the SC and a new Freshman record of 13 ft. During the past indoor season he vaulted 12 ft. 6 in. for a new varsity indoor record and second in the Conference.

"Vaulting is a Challenge; it's a goal I have set." This is the way Ron explained his reason for competing. The well-muscled athlete feels with every member of his team the challenge of a goal unconquered and the backing of his team-mates for his success.

Likes Friendliness

William and Mary's friendliness and the educational advantages you receive here are the reasons Ron gave for coming down the peninsula to school. The likeable, easy-going Sophomore doesn't have any gripes; he thinks things are just fine.

Ron is a recent initiate of Lambda Chi Alpha. He is also an active member of the Varsity Club. His hobbies are all sports.

Ron's future rests with the draft board, but he plans to continue vaulting after graduation.

Pi Beta Phi Undefeated

Pi Phi chalked up three of her five victories in last week's play by defeating Theta, 25-20, Jefferson, 35-26, and Kappa, 29-11.

Nancy Gilliam was high man in all three games with 12, 15, and 9 points respectively. Lynn Carr and Patty Jo Divers as the two remaining forwards were outstanding in ball handling and play making.

Jefferson defeated Chandler, 24-11 in the early part of the week. Chandler bounced back and in a hard fought game defeated Gamma Phi, 20-17.

Ludwell 400 was victorious over Landrum, 24 - 10 with Johanna Keith netting 11 points for top scoring honors of the game.

Delta Delta Delta Romps

Tri - Delta stomped Kappa Delta, 47-14. Franny Score swished the nets for 26 points, while teammate Bridgid Horrocks added 16 more points.

Ludwell 300 forfeited a game to Landrum.

Individual scoring to date:

Player	Games	Points	Avg.
Franny Score	4	59	14.7
Jogina Diamanti	5	71	14.2
Sandy Wright	5	67	13.4
Becky Reeser	3	36	12
Patty Jo Divers	5	59	11.8
Patty Doak	3	29	9.3
Joanne Robinson	4	32	8

Swimming Intramurals Begin

Two weeks remain in the basketball tournament. Swimming intramurals are next on the agenda beginning on April 14. The three weeks lapse is given so the four scheduled practices of each participating team may be completed.

Each group entering is limited to three games, and each team must have 6 swimmers in order to participate. As many as 3 girls from one team may enter each event. Each girl may participate in a maximum of 3 events, which includes diving and relays.

The W&M and Citadel teams were both interested in the 400 yd. medley relay in order to settle a dispute which arose at the two teams' last meeting last month. However, the event was won by the Keydets' Old, Keens, Lampshire and Trumport. Citadel placed third as the Tribe sank into fourth place. The winning time was 4:14.4 which was a new record for the VMI men. The old record was set in 1958 by the same school at 4:19.3.

While Lampshire set a record in the 100 yd. butterfly Tomlinson took third place for the Tribe. In the 100 yd. freestyle Williams of the Citadel took first place in 0:54.0 West Virginia's Cavanaugh followed second and Kurland of William and Mary took third place.

This ended the swimming season for the Tribe as they finished with a 4-5 record. This concluded Maurice Tomlinson's swimming in collegiate competition also. "Herk" was the team captain this year and has been one of Dud Jensen's more able men in his past four years on the team.

THE SPORTS FAN

BY FRAN RECCHUITI
Flat Hat Sports Editor

According to the college calendar, Spring Finals and the Southern Conference Track Meet will fall on the same weekend. The combination of these two should make for great weekend, BUT in the past the Colonial Festival has been held on Saturday afternoon. The finals for the track meet will also be held on Saturday afternoon. In other words, these two spectacles will be competing against each other.

The Southern Conference Track Meet is not an ordinary track meet; it is the nearest possible thing to a three ring circus. All of the conference colleges, with the exception of George Washington, will be entering complete teams. William and Mary will be one of these teams and the defending champion. This meet will be THE lead story in all sports pages that weekend. The color of this event rivals that of the Homecoming Football Game.

Balance the Weekend

Since no plans have yet been made for Spring Finals, why couldn't the Colonial Festival take place on Sunday Afternoon? The Festival could be the completion of a perfect weekend which would begin with Friday night's dance, attending the track meet, going to Saturday night's dance, and winding up with the Colonial Festival on Sunday. Problems would have to be ironed out, and of course there would be objections.

As we see it, Sunday might be better day than Saturday to hold the Festival. One of the aims of the Festival is to improve relations with the community, another is to make money. If the event was well publicized, a bigger turnout could be expected on a Sunday. One objection is that Sunday is the Sabbath, and the Festival would be unholy. This is completely unfounded; wasn't the Brubeck concert held on a Sunday?

Since nothing has been definitely done on the festival as of yet, here's hoping that the committee which plans the festival will keep the track meet in mind. We are not crusading for track, only the athletic aspect of the weekend, which in this case is track. Homecoming was a big success because it had the football game as the variable. If the Saturday afternoon concert will make or break Spring Finals, we might as well forget about supporting the SC Track Meet.

It's A Shame

The baseball, tennis and golf teams have begun their practice sessions without the benefit of their coaches. The hopeful aspirants who are out for these teams will not receive the benefit of the coaches aid until after the Spring football practice. It's a shame for some of the newcomers to these sports because they might never get a chance to break into the lineups until mid-season when the coach has had a chance to look over the talent, which should have been done before the season started.

The sports staff of the FLAT HAT has been accused, because of recent issues, of making excuses for W&M's athletic team. Our reporters get most of their information at the scene of the action, and they report it as they see it. It's only fair to the readers that they receive the news as it happens. WE DON'T HAVE TO MAKE EXCUSES FOR OUR TEAMS; THEY HAVE BEEN DOING O.K. BY THEMSELVES.

Lacrosse Season Opens Tomorrow As Nine Letter Winners Return

The 1959 Varsity Lacrosse practice season will begin tomorrow at 4:10 p. m. on the women's athletic field or in Jefferson Gym if the weather is threatening. All those who are interested come to practices. These sessions will be held every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at the above mentioned time.

Nine varsity letter winners are returning from last year's squad. They are two seniors, Dorsey Hill and Judy Short, and seven juniors, Marge Briscoe, Peggy Clement, Janet Caldwell, Kitty Luzleman, Joan Galvin, Tish Griffin, and Judy Urian.

Westhampton, Sweet Briar, Hollins, and the Virginia Club are the teams which will be encountered. On April 25 the Virginia Women's Lacrosse Tournament will be held at Hollins College. At this tournament, a first and second all-state team will be chosen to represent Virginia at the National Tournament.

Loses Opening Match

Last week the Squaws' fencing team bowed to Madison College. Of the nine bouts W&M won four. Fencing on W&M's first team were Tish Griffin, Barbara Bunn, and Teddy Johnson. These girls are newcomers to the starting ranks as the entire first team graduated last year.

ROTC Rifle Team Completes Season

William and Mary ROTC riflemen completed their 1958-1959 schedule by firing a postal match against Middlebury College last Friday.

"Woody" Harrison was high man for the Indians, firing 284 out of a possible 300. As the official Middlebury team score has not yet been released, the outcome of the season is in doubt.

In the case of a W & M win, the varsity team will have an even season. The strong freshman team won all of its matches this year. Rifle team Coach Tim O'Rourke expects to have an improved team next year with the present freshman team being able to shoot in regular varsity matches.

BSU Bowlers Tops In Religious League As Loop Nears End

The Baptist Student Union increased its lead in the Student Religious Union Bowling League with a 3 to 0 triumph over Balfour Hillel. This gives the Baptists a sizzling 11 and 1 record. They won in the first game by a narrow three pins, but the second game was a romp.

In other matches the Westminster Fellowship defeated the Newman Club 3 to 0, and Wesley Foundation took all three points from Canterbury Club.

Tonight's schedule pits Westminster against Canterbury; Newman against Hillel; and Wesley against B.S.U. Hillel and B.S.U. conclude their season tonight and the other four clubs finish theirs next Tuesday night at 7:30. The standings are:

Baptist Student Union	11-1
Wesley Foundation	6-3
Westminster Fellowship	6-3
Canterbury Club	4-5
Balfour Hillel	3-9
Newman Club	0-9

Track Team Begins Minus Weightmen

Coach Harry Groves announced the opening of outdoor track practice this week. All interested persons may contact him in his office or between 3-5 p. m. at Cary Stadium.

Varsity shot putters, javelin throwers and discus throwers are needed. Experience is not essential; desire and ability are important.

Returning letter winners from last year's squad are the three captains Bob Storm, in the high jump; Bill McCuen, in the 880; Bob DeTombe in the two mile. Other returnees are: Warren Joblin and Jerry Saunders in the hurdles; Dan Newland, Bill Davis and Nick St. George, in the 440; Ron Henry and Herm Schmidt, in the pole vault.

Active Bob Brown Enjoys Baseball Best

BY RICHIE SNYDER

If William and Mary ever sponsors a "Mr. Activity" contest, Bobby Brown would be in the running. Bob's many activities bring him into contact with most of the male students. His favorite past time is pitching for the Indian's baseball team.

The '59 season marks Brown's fourth consecutive year as a member of the mound staff. Having a keen interest in sports, as evidenced by winning varsity letters in basketball and baseball at Hampton High, he is pursuing a degree as a Physical Education major. Here at the reservation he lettered as a freshman in varsity baseball. Jokingly, Bob admits that he doesn't know if former coach Eric Tipton made him a pitcher because of his strong pegs in from the outfield or because of his mediocre hitting.

Bobby's best year was when as a sophomore he posted a perfect record of four wins and no losses. Given credit for both victories over Richmond that year still remains today as his greatest thrill.

Sharing co-captain honors with Tom Secules, Brown is very optimistic over the possibilities of the up and coming season. With experienced returnees from the '58 year, and the new faces of promising players, the team apparently looks stronger.

On Wednesday afternoons a quick change of clothes converts Bob into Captain Brown, commander of "A" company in the W&M ROTC battalion. He has recently been awarded the recognition of being a Distinguished Military Student. Among his other activities Bob is an assistant to the football trainer, and an intramural referee. Socially, he is a member of the Scabbard & Blade and S.A.E. fraternity.

Going back to his first love, Bob hopes to continue his baseball career after graduation. When his ball playing days are over, he intends to coach at a local high school.

Festival Selects Representative

Terry Walker, '59, has been selected as a princess in the Court of Queen Shenandoah XXXII for the 1959 Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester.

She will represent William and Mary along with princesses from other colleges at the festival April 30 and May 1.

Miss Walker is a graduate of George Washington High School in Alexandria. At William and Mary where she is majoring in French, she is a member of Phi Beta Bappa, national scholastic society; Pi Delta Phi, national French honorary society; and Delta Delta Delta, national social sorority. She is president of the Panhellenic Council and a member of Mortar Board and the student assembly and senate.

Professor Receives Foundation's Award For Research Study

Dr. C. Frank Owen, associate professor of economics at William and Mary, has been awarded a Ford Foundation Fellowship for participation in a research seminar in economics to be held at Princeton University this summer.

The seminar, sponsored by the Foundation, will deal with problems of public finance and fiscal policy, emphasizing recent developments in federal and state finance.

Similar seminars are to be held at five other universities. Their purpose is to encourage the preparation of research studies by members of college faculties. Each of the participants will embark upon an independent research project, to be completed for possible publication after he returns to his own institution.

Dr. Owen plans to do research on the tax position of small companies.

Final Totals Show Class Loses Money In Junior Weekend

The Junior Weekend saw close to 200 in attendance at the Friday night dance on February 13, and 150 the next afternoon of the jam session, which featured the Frets. A total of $57.29 was lost on the affair.

Paul Dinsmore and Punky Bayle, the official Friday 13'th unlucky host and hostess, drew tickets for the King and Queen of Hearts. Tracy Russell and Fay Moore were the king and queen.

The Collegians played for the Friday night dance, and the weekend was concluded with a tea in the President's House for the Junior Class.

Those who worked on the Junior Weekend included Lynne Hagen, Tom Foster, C. L. Krider, John Pfoor, Margie Fitton, and Miles Chappel.

TV and "Top Tune" ratings dropped all over Virginia this week as the sets and phonographs sat unused and dusty in the fraternity and sorority houses. Matt Dillon and Paladin fell to the ever-popular L'il Abner, Pete Decker, and Dave Brubeck as Student Government Week went into full swing. So, once again, elections and coming-events are the news of the day until next week when the Greeks return to their lively schedule of partying.

Pi Kappa Alpha actives will initiate ten more into their ranks on the 16th of March. The eager pledges are Paul Bankes, Loye Bechtold, E. B. Duffee, Greg Evans, Chip Ingram, Hugh Luebhussen, Frank Schilling, John Tracy, Phil Tutschek, and Dick Young. PIKA will have a sorority party with the Tri Deltos on March 21, and another with Chi Omega on the 3rd of April.

The Delta Delta Delta house was the scene of a spaghetti dinner tonight. The Tri-Delt's scholarship fund, as well as the Tri-Delt stomachs, were amply fed. Nancy Moulds '58 and Gail Morgan '58, were guests at the house last weekend.

The new officers of Phi Kappa Tau are Pete Farrell, president; Dan Newland, vice-president; Dave Heenan, secretary; and Jay Lawler, treasurer.

Moot Court Trial

They are not actually being sentenced, but they could have been. This was a device used by the Law School to get cases for its Moot Court trials.

Removed from College Corner

KKK Flagpole to Fly State Flag

BY JOE HENNESSY
FLAT HAT Copy Editor

The flagpole donated to the College by the Ku Klux Klan, which has stood on the James-town Road side of College Corner since 1926, was removed last week to be re-erected in the Marshall-Wythe parking lot beside the pole presently located there.

The 70-foot mast, mounted on an octagonal base constructed of English bricks, will be cut to a height of 45 feet, equal to the height of the pole already in the parking lot. This new pole will fly the Virginia state flag along side the pole which now flies the American flag. July 4th, both flags will begin flying together, on separate flagpoles.

Protocol

When questioned about the change of location of the flagpole in order to fly the state flag beside the American flag, A. D. Chandler, President of the College, stated that "the same policy has been adopted all over. It is perfectly natural to fly the flag of the state along with the national flag." President Chandler went on to explain that this is "a very important point of protocol." The Virginia flag, however, has not flown at the College before.

6,000 Spectators

When the recently removed flagpole was presented to the College, September 26, 1926, a crowd of well over 6,000 spectators was on hand to witness the event. Crowds of Klansmen from states located in many sections of the country as well as representatives from Klans in every part of Virginia made up a large part of the most impressive gathering. People began pouring into the then small town of Williamsburg with its "ancient" college early on that Sunday morning of the 26th. By two o'clock in the afternoon, the time scheduled for the commencing of the ceremonies, every road leading into Williamsburg was jammed with traffic.

Discussed Klan

In his presentation speech, Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans, who at that time was the Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan in the United States, discussed the policies and principles of the Klan. Dr. Evans gave special emphasis to an appeal for a "homogeneous race and nation" also prophesying that "education in America would soon be a great problem facing people of all races and creeds."

Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, President of the College at that time, accepted the gift of the flagpole and a huge American flag. Addressing the Klansmen and spectators, Dr. Chandler spoke of the heritage of the College and of the great men graduated from William and Mary.

Against Bigotry

In addition, President Chandler spoke about the need for a rebirth of "religious freedom and Jeffersonian democracy in America," also protesting against the "bigotry and intolerance which exists in our nation today."

Klansmen were assured by Dr. Chandler that the flag would fly from the new flagpole at all times, in addition to the flag already flying at that time from a window on the second floor of the Wren Building. No flag has flown from the flagpole presented to the College since 1941, when, as the current President Chandler explained, "the halcyons on the mast were broken."

Meeting

Steve Lovell reported that blazers have been ordered at Casey's and the seal has been ordered; when it is ready it will be brought before the Assembly for approval.

Phil Hendel spoke in favor of the FLAT HAT editorial of February 24, suggesting that the Student Assembly not sponsor a Spring Finals dance, but save the money to procure a name band for 1959 homecoming. Sarah Derry agreed, pointing out that ROTC was already sponsoring a dance with a name band Friday night of that weekend. Jim Brinkley said ROTC agreed to have their dance Spring Finals weekend to co-operate with Student Assembly; if student assembly backs out they will be left in the lurch. Morty Lockett commented "We make money on Homecoming; why not spend it on Spring Finals? We don't have to make money from the students."

As solutions to the grass problem Sarah Derry suggested planting boxwood on corners most often cut and Lainy Rankin suggested having walking on grass as a senior privilege.

Phil Hendel asked for volunteers for the student tours committee. Tom Roberts, treasurer of Circle K volunteered the club's services.

In 'Round-the-Clock' Job

Placement Bureau Offers Services

BY PATSI SYLVIA

"This is a round-the-clock job," said John Bright, director of William and Mary's Placement Bureau.

Of the many services offered by this office to students, one of the most significant is the aid given to seniors in securing satisfactory positions, and the added vocational counseling. Alumni, if registered with the Placement Bureau, may be assisted in job transfers for an indefinite period of time after they have graduated.

Next To Brafferton

Located next to Brafferton, the Placement Bureau is open from eight to five o'clock each week day. The receptionist-secretary is Mrs. Jane Bingley, who frequently has as many as ten people in the office at one time. The services offered by the office are numerous, and open free-of-charge to all William and Mary students.

Representatives from over 100 business and industrial concerns throughout the country work through this office in finding qualified men and women for possible positions with their firms. These representatives work directly with the Bureau in their recruiting programs. The personnel records of seniors and alumni are made available to business, professional, and government organizations.

Many Important Fields

Nationally known companies represented include General Electric, United States Steel, Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation, Burroughs, and others. The food products industry is represented by Colonial Stores and Sealtest, to mention a few. Employers from retailing concerns, such as Woodward and Lothrop and Montgomery Ward, visit the campus frequently. In the communications field, the office is visited by members of such firms as A.T.&T. and the C&P Telephone Company. Reuben H. Donnelly is represented for those interested in the field of advertising and sales promotion.

The office also aids students in their connections with companies and organizations not represented on campus. There are numerous concerns with whom the office works directly, but who do not send representatives to the campus.

Mr. Bright believes employers seek prospective employees who have had a well-rounded college program, including extra-curricular activities, and satisfactory student employment records, in addition to good grades.

The William and Mary Placement Bureau is a member of the Middle Atlantic Placement Office Association, which is one of seven such regional associations throughout the country. The main functions of these regional associations are to devise codes of ethics as to employment practices, to furnish information on occupational opportunities, and to organize the network of individual placement offices on campuses.

Studies Offered

The Guadalajara Summer School, an extension program of the University of Arizona in cooperation with professors from Stanford University and Guadalajara, invites college students to study in Mexico.

The six weeks session from June 29 to August 7 includes courses in art, folklore, geography, history, language and literature. For more information contact Juan B. Rael, Box K Stanford University, California.

Choir Plans Spring Tour

Journeying northward, the William and Mary Choir will sing in Philadelphia, New York, and Boston this year on its annual spring tour.

First stop will be Philadelphia, where the group will present a concert April 23. The following night the choir will sing in New York City, while April 25 the group will invade New England for a concert in Boston.

The concerts are being sponsored by alumni organizations of the College. A group of forty voices, out of the choir's membership of sixty-four will make the tour. Dr. Carl A. Fehr is director of the choir.

On the program for each concert will be a variety of religious music, folk songs, and operatic numbers. The performances will open with "Glory to God" by Randell Thompson, and will continue with "Komm, Jesu, Komm," a motet by Bach.

On the lighter side, the group will sing folk songs "Shenandoah" and "Greensleeves" and will sing a Jack Gottlieb arrangement of the Negro spiritual "Didn't My Lord Deliver Daniel."

Concluding with opera, the choir will present the Chorus and Finale from Wagner's "De Meistersinger"; "Regina Coeli"; an excerpt from Mascagni's "Cavellaria"; and the "Coronation Scene" from Mussorgsky's "Boris Goudonov."

In its 1958 tour the choir visited Baltimore, Maryland and Wilmington, Delaware.

Noted Chemist To Lecture Friday On Using Atomic Energy For Peace

Over one million persons from New York to Hawaii have attended Professor Hubert Alyea's lecture "Atomic Energy; Weapon for Peace." Prof. Alyea will present this lecture at the College of William and Mary Friday, March 13, at 8:00 p. m. in Washington 100.

In his speech, Prof. Alyea contends that for every dollar the government gives the natural scientists for development of the atom bomb it should allot the political and social scientist a dollar for further knowledge on the use of the bomb in the interests of world peace.

Traces Growth of A-Bomb

He traces the growth of ideas which led to the atomic bomb and outlines the work of the Manhattan Project and the Atomic Energy Commission. Prof. Alyea contrasts the actions of ordinary high explosives with those of the A-bomb, the H-bomb, and the L-bomb.

Prof. Alyea, is perennially voted "favorite lecturer" by Princeton University's senior classes.

Lectures in Brussels

In addition to his work in Princeton, Prof. Alyea spent the past summer lecturing at the Brussels World's Fair. The science editor of the New York Herald Tribune gave the following account of these lectures: "Dr. Alyea's show at the Brussels World's Fair is the saving grace for the layman who visits the ponderous and aimless science exhibit."

Last Night for Tryouts

Tonight is the final night for tryouts for "All's Well That Ends Well," a Shakesperian drama to be presented by the William and Mary Theater on April 22-24. The tryouts will be held from 7-10 p. m. in the lab theater of Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall.

Chevy stops quickest... goes farthest on a gallon!

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR*. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—with the highest gas mileage for 6's and V8's at cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Here's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This means smoother, quieter performance for you.

There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop by your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!
