Tobaccoland Queen

Constance Grace Wilds, of Chesterfield, a freshman, is the new Tobaccoland Queen. She was crowned at halftime ceremonies at the Tobacco Bowl game between William and Mary and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, Oct. 28.

At the game, Miss Wilds received her crown, a royal purple robe with ermine trim, a check for $2,000 and several kisses from actor James Franciscus, the 24th National Annual Tobacco Festival's grand marshal. She was presented to her subjects Saturday night at the Queen's Ball.

A student at Meadowbrook High School, Miss Wilds is also very active in church affairs. After graduating from William and Mary, she wants to be a laboratory technician.

Over the next year, she will represent the tobacco industry.

Queen Grace received her royal regalia from W. Brooks George, a William and Mary alumnus who is chairman of the board of the House of Edgeworth, a tobacco manufacturing firm in Richmond.

Herbert A. Simon Visiting Scholar

Herbert A. Simon, noted for his studies in business decisionmaking, problem-solving processes and the use of computers in simulating human thought, will speak at the College Thursday.

Mr. Simon will speak in the Campus Center Ballroom at 8 p.m. on "Human Problem Solving." His lecture is part of the current Visiting Scholars Series arranged in cooperation with the University Center in Virginia,

He is the Richard King Mellon professor of computer science and psychology and associate dean of the Graduate School of Industrial Administration at Carnegie-Mellon University. Educated at the University of Chicago, he served on the faculties of the University of California and the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Mr. Simon is the author of Administrative Behavior, The Shape of Automation, The Sciences of the Artificial, and Human Problem Solving.

English Dept. Sponsors Speaker

Gerard Willem Van Loon, son of the late Hendrik Willem Van Loon, will speak at the College on "The Scholar in Spite of Myself," in a lecture about his father, Friday, November 10 in Wren 200 at 4 p.m.

Hendrik Willem Van Loon, the eminent Dutch historian, biographer, and journalist who died in 1944, was the author of three well-known books: Story of Mankind, Story of the Bible, and Van Loon's Lives.

Mr. Van Loon is an American correspondent for Die Buehne, a leading stage magazine published in Vienna.

Pre-enrollment Set

There will be a complete and binding pre-enrollment of all seniors for all Spring Semester, 1973, courses.

Any senior who does not meet with his concentration advisor between November 8 and 14 to preenroll will have to register for all his spring courses during the Add/Drop period at the beginning of Spring Semester.

Complete instructions are available at the switchboard and the Registrar's Office.

Economic Expert Here Nov. 10

Marvin H. Kosters, assistant director for planning and analysis of President Nixon's Cost of Living Council, will speak at the College Nov. 10 under the sponsorship of the Master of Business Administration Association, a graduate student organization in the School of Business Administration.

Mr. Kosters will speak on "Performance of the National Economy Under Wage and Price Controls," at 2 p.m. in the auditorium of Andrews Hall.

Mr. Kosters came to the Council from prior governmental service as associate director of the U.S. Department of Labor's Manpower Administration. He has also served as a senior staff economist with the Council of Economic Advisors.

This is the first speaker of the year for the MBA Association, which has as one of its purposes, the expansion of student educational opportunities beyond the normal curriculum.

MBA Association President Robert Murphy emphasizes that faculty and students from other areas of the College, as well as from the School of Business Administration, are welcome. Mr. Kosters' talk should be of particular interest to faculty and students from the Marshall-Wythe School of Law and the Departments of Economics and Government.

Cochran's Yearbook Wins Top Honors

The 1972 edition of The Colonel, yearbook at William Fleming High School in Roanoke, has been awarded highest honors for high school journalism by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Editor of the prize winning yearbook was Corby Lynne Cochran, now a freshman at William and Mary, who plans to major in Spanish. The Colonel scored 976 points out of a possible 1,000 to win the All-American Award of Medalist. The book was judged on photography, layout, copy and general design.

Business and Law Approve Assembly

To date, the College Assembly proposal has been approved by the faculties of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law and the School of Business Administration.

Faculty News

Biology

Members of the faculty and graduate students in the Department of Biology have instituted a "Bio-bureau" in order to present information concerning current biological problems to students in the Williamsburg-James City County public school system.

This new program, designed to enrich instruction in the biological sciences, is available to all levels of public school students and will provide lectures on a variety of topics.

Martin Mathes, director of the program, has said that the students participating in the "Bio-bureau" will have "direct contact with students and faculty research programs in a program of mutual educational benefit."

English

James Marlow's article "Dickens and Carlyle's 'Way'" was published in Victorians Institute Journal, I (July, 1972).

Government

George Grayson, associate professor, has published an article entitled "La Via Revolucionaria en Bolivia" which appears in the July-August issue of Problemas Internacionales.

Mr. Grayson has also signed a contract to write six articles for the 1973 edition of Encyclopedia Year Book, published by Grolier Incorporated. These articles will deal with Bolivia, Colombia, Ecuador, the Guianas, Peru, and Venezuela.

IEAHC

Thad W. Tate, director, Institute of Early American History and Culture, addressed the American Revolution Bicentennial Symposium at Murray State University, Murray, Ky., on October 27 and also participated in a closing panel discussion on the origins of the Revolution. The subject of his address was "Virginia: The Movement toward Revolution." He also spoke on October 13 to the Lower Cape Fear Historical Society at Wilmington, North Carolina.

WCWM Election Coverage

Continuous returns and analysis will be supplied by United Press International, ABC's Information Radio 8, and the ingenuity of WCWM News, beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, November 7.

WCWM will also be broadcasting from the McGovern/Shriver, Nixon/ Agnew Headquarters, downtown, at least twice an hour.

WCWM staffers will watch the three TV networks to get the latest returns to their listeners.

Commentaries will be given by Miss Camm Walker, Boyd Coyner, of the History Department, and Bob Ranson, chairman of the BSA.

Sweet Briar Scholar to Speak Nov. 9

Michael Charles Hurst, Sue Reid Slaughter Professor of Modern History and Government at Sweet Briar College, will lecture at the College, Nov. 9 under the sponsorship of the Lyon G. Tyler Historical Society.

Professor Hurst will speak on "What Is Fascism?" at 7:30 p.m. in the Sit 'N Bull Room of the Campus Center.

Author of five books and over two hundred articles and reviews, Professor Hurst has had a distinguished career since he graduated with honors from St. Anthony's College, Oxford. He has taught at several colleges at Oxford University and has held visiting lectureships in major universities in both the United States and Canada. Next year he will lecture in Bulgaria and Hungary as a British Council Arts Scholar.

Professor Hurst will speak to Miss Hamilton's class on Nov. 10 on the historical background of the Irish question.

Campus Profile/ Dennis Cogle

When Dennis Cogle isn't busy helping to direct business affairs at the College, he's often lending a deep rich bass voice to community singing groups. He sings frequently for Colonial Williamsburg - for conferences, holidays, and other special occasions.

Since his entire family is musically inclined, singing is a natural pastime for him. "I've been singing all my life," he states. Mr. Cogle's wife, Jean, and two daughters, Patty and Debbie, are also musicians. The trio plays the piano well. Patty, a freshman elementary education major at the University of Virginia, is also an accomplished guitarist, while Debbie, a James Blair High School sophomore, is studying guitar. The Cogles met and were married while they were students at the College. Both were members of the College choir. Mr. and Mrs. Cogle were also "charter" members of the Common Glory Choir, singing with that group for the first two years it was formed.

A Kind Word From California

The clipping service recently sent us a copy of Glen Ingles' column "One Man's View" from the Van Nuys California Valley News.

Mr. Ingles writes of the attractions in the Colonial Capitol and includes the following note on William and Mary:

"Not the least of its (Williamsburg's) attractions is William and Mary College, second oldest in the nation. Its campus is dominated by a building designed by Sir Christopher Wren. He never saw it, however.

"Evidence that Benjamin Franklin's genius was recognized long before the Revolution may be seen in the fact that the college gave him an honorary Master of arts degree in 1756. It was there, 20 years later, Phi Beta Kappa fraternity was founded."

(Editor's note - Our thanks to Mr. Ingles. Mr. Franklin was in fact the first to receive an honorary degree from William and Mary.)

Mr. Cogle received the bachelor's degree from the College in 1949 and his master's in 1970. He joined the staff in 1958 as personnel supervisor. During the mid-sixties, he was promoted to assistant to the bursar and assumed his current position, assistant to the vicepresident for business affairs, in the late sixties. Before coming to William and Mary, Mr. Cogle had been employed as office manager of the Virginia Fisheries Laboratory (now Virginia Institute of Marine Science) and as an accountant and office manager for a local automobile dealer.

He is an active member of the Williamsburg Baptist Church, where he is a trustee, a member of the official Board, chairman of the Finance Committee, and bass soloist for the choir. In addition, he is a member of the Board of Assessors for the City of Williamsburg, the Rent Stabilization Board, the Red Cross Donor Program, and is a class agent for the Society of the Alumni.

Christman Named Head Trainer

Ed Christman, a 1969 graduate of Ohio University, begins his first year as head trainer of all sports. Mr. Christman comes to the College from Miami University where he was the assistant trainer for the past three years.

A native of Nazareth, Pa., Mr. Christman was graduated from Ohio University with honors. He received his master's degree from Miami in 1972. He served four years as a student trainer under Al Hart at Ohio University, where he assisted with football, baseball, soccer and ice hockey. In addition to helping with football, Mr. Christman handled wrestling and track in his first year at Miami and added baseball in 1971.

Re: Academic Calendar Study

The ad hoc Committee on the Academic Calendar, which has been charged by President Graves to study other calendar possibilities and to make recommendations on possible changes, invites comments from any interested member of the faculty or student body on our present academic calendar, and suggestions of alternate plans which the Committee might consider.

All suggestions should be in writing, and preferably signed, so that the Committee, if it wishes, may later discuss the proposals with the individuals making them. They should be as detailed as possible, in accounting advantages and disadvantages of both our present calendar and alternate possibilities.

Comments should be sent to Vice President Healy, Chairman of the Committee, by 22 November. Other members of the Committee are: Professors Adair (Education), Bauer (Psychology), Beckhouse (Sociology), Brown (Law), Quinn (Business), and Reilly (Classics), Douglas Pinter '74, Ann Sullivan '75.
