Collegium Musicum Presents 7th Program of Year

The Seventh Program in the Collegium Musicum Series, under the direction of F. Donald Truesdell, head, Department of Music, will feature The Baroque Ensemble of the Schola Cantorum Basiliensis, founded and directed by August Wenzinger. The event will take place March 18 at 4 p.m. in the Campus Center Ballroom. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Wenzinger teaches at the Academy of Music and the Schola Cantorum in Basel, Switzerland. He is solocellist of the Orchestra, leader of the Consort of Viols, and conductor of the Chamber Orchestra of the Schola Cantorum. He was awarded the doctorate at the University of Basel, has been visiting professor at Harvard University and Brandeis, records as soloist and conductor at Deutsche Grammophon Gesellschaft (Archive), Harmonia Mundi and Baerenreiter Musicaphon.

Hannelore Mueller, Viola da Gamba, studied Violoncello and Viola da Gamba at the Academy of Music, the Schola Cantorum Basiliensis and the Conservatoire de Musique of Paris. She is a member of the Consort of Viols and the Chamber Orchestra of the Schola Cantorum and the Cappella Coloniensis. She teaches Violoncello and Viola da Gamba at the Academy and the Schola in Basel.

Their program includes works by Johann Schenk, Karl Friedrich Abel, Johann Gottlieb Graun, Johann Christoph Schaffrath, and Henry Purcell.

Orchesis Club Presents 'An Evening of Dance'

The Orchesis modern dance club will present "An Evening of Dance," March 21-22 at 8:15 p.m. in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The show will feature nine dances, choreographed by members of the group, and a revival of a popular number from last year's program, "Windshield Wipers and Drips." Shown here is Lisa Heeschen, president of the club. Photo by Lyle Rosbotham.

Physicist to Lecture March 19-23

V. L. Telegdi, Enrico Fermi Distinguished Service Professor of Physics at the University of Chicago, will visit the Physics Department, March 19 - 23. There will be informal discussions on various topics in intermediate energy nuclear and particle physics and three scientific lectures in the William Small Physical Laboratory.

The lectures are scheduled as follows: Monday, March 19, "Synthetic Atoms." Wednesday, March 21, "Coulomb is Dead and Dirac is Alive and Well in Florida (Or, Vacuum Polarization Today)." Friday, March 23, "The K^0 Complex - Quantum Mechanics on a Macroscopic Scale."

Lectures will be at 4:30 p.m. in S-109. Coffee will be served at 4 p.m. in S-126.

Mr. Telegdi was born in Hungary and received his Ph.D. in physics at the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology.

He has made fundamental contributions to both theoretical and experimental physics. His most recent interests have centered around the quest for ever-improving accuracy in the determination of the fundamental constants of nature, the understanding of long-lived strange particles and the unravelling of the properties of exotic atoms. This last topic is of particular interest to physicists at the College who have studied these objects for a number of years.

Buckley-Clark Debate Scheduled April 9

The SA will sponsor a debate April 9 between William F. Buckley, Jr., author of the syndicated column, "On the Right," and Ramsey Clark, former Attorney General during the Johnson administration.

The debate, on "America's System of Justice," will be held in William and Mary Hall, at 8 p.m.

Plans for the debate are being made by Cornell Christianson, Fair Lawn, N.J., president of the Student Association, and Donald A. Purdy, Media, Pa., president of the senior class.

New Infirmary Hours

Until further notice, doctor's hours at the College Infirmary will be as follows:

9 a.m. - 11 a.m.
2 p.m. - 4 p.m.

There will be no doctor's hours on Saturday and Sunday.

Member of the Religion Department

Theologian to Join Summer Faculty

Egil Grislis, theologian and historian, will serve as visiting professor in the Department of Religion for the first session of the forthcoming 1973 summer school. The session starts on June 18 and ends on July 20.

Mr. Grislis, an authority in the history and theology of the Early Christian Church and of the Christian Church during the Reformation, will teach the undergraduate courses regularly offered at the College in Christian Origins and in the Protestant and Catholic Reformations.

A native of Latvia who took his secondary schooling in Germany, Mr. Grislis obtained the B.A. degree from Gettysburg College in 1950, the B.D. degree from the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg in 1953, and the Ph.D. degree from Yale University in 1958. He has taken additional graduate study at

Egil Grislis

Columbia University and at the University of Heidelberg.

From 1959-69 Mr. Grislis was associate professor of historical theology at Duke University. Since 1969 he has been a member of the faculty of The Hartford Seminary Foundation. Currently he is a visiting professor at Yale University.

The author of numerous articles in theological journals, Mr. Grislis has two books, An Introduction to Contemporary Religious Thought and The Theology of Richard Hooker, in the final stages of preparation. He has also been invited to prepare a commentary on the Divine Tractates of Richard Hooker for the Folger Library edition of Hooker's Works, to be published by the Press of Case Western Reserve University.

Both of Mr. Grislis's courses will be open to all students enrolled in the summer session. Information about them may be secured from the College's Department of Religion.

Anthropology

Vinson H. Sutlive, Jr., associate professor, will lead an informal discussion of missionary movements at the meeting of the religion club, The Odd Tuesday Night Society, Tuesday, March 20, at 8 p.m. in Room C of the Campus Center.

All interested persons are invited.

Biology

J. L. Scott, assistant professor, is co-author of a paper entitled "The Life History of Parphyropsis coccinea var Dawsonii in Culture" published in the Brit. Phycol. J. 7: 323-333, 1972.

Education

Ronald Wheeler presented a paper entitled "Effects of Cooperative and Competitive Classroom Environments on the Attitudes and Achievement of Elementary Students Engaged in Social Studies Inquiry Activities" at the annual meeting of the American Educational Research Association in New Orleans. A version of the paper will be published in a forthcoming issue of The Journal of Educational Psychology.

Another paper coauthored by Mr. Wheeler, entitled "Relative Effects of Two Environments on the Way a Simulation Game is Played by Elementary School Students," was also presented at the AERA meeting in New Orleans. An article coauthored by Mr. Wheeler, entitled "Using the Textbook as a Source for Inquiry" has been accepted for publication in Instructor.

Government

George W. Grayson, associate professor, will speak on "The Prospects for Change in Latin America" at the Chrysler Museum Auditorium in Norfolk, March 13, at 8 p.m.

There is an admission fee of $1 for visitors and guests. The program is free to World Affairs Council members.

Modern Languages

Joanne Basso, instructor, represented the College at a national conference on Equal Opportunity for Women: Affirmative Action Programs for Colleges and Universities, held in Chicago, Feb. 25-27. It was under the sponsorship of the Urban Research Corp.

Miss Basso is a member of the Ad Hoc Committee on Status of Women, formed on campus in December and chaired by Carol Sherman, associate professor of physical education for women.

Music

Robin Roark, lecturer in voice, was elected president of the Virginia Chapter of the National Association of Teachers of Singing at the annual chapter meeting in Danville, March 2-3. He will serve a two-year term. Mr. Roark has been a member of NATS for nine years, serving as board member and vice president in the Virginia chapter.

Vocal students of Mr. Roark, singing at the Eighth Annual NATS Vocal Auditions, won places in three divisions. Donald Zuckerman, a freshman from Winchester, placed first in the Beginning Freshman and Sophomore Division. Nancy Williams, a senior from Annandale, placed third in the Senior Division; and Lyle Harris, a graduate student from Denbigh, was adjudged second in the Advanced Division. A total of 14 students represented the College at the two-day event on the campus of Stratford College in Danville.

The First Opera Workshop will present ensembles and solos in concert version at the Campus Center Ballroom, April 8, at 8:15 p.m. The Workshop is made up of students in the studio of Mr. Roark, augmented by additional singers and accompanists who are invited to participate.

The program will consist of selections from operas by Mozart, Puccini, Hoffman, Gerschwin, Mennotti, and others. The public is cordially invited. There will be no charge for admission.

Physics

Colin Cox, post doctoral research associate in the Physics Department, will speak on "Elastic π^+ Deuterium Scattering at 380 MeV/c," at the Department Colloquium, Friday, March 16, at 4:30 p.m. in Room 109 of William Small Physical Laboratory.

Club Arranges Babysitting Service

According to a recent announcement by the College Women's Club, arrangements have been completed to provide a babysitting service on Thursday, March 15, during the morning coffee at the President's House. Pre-schoolers may be taken to the nursery at Bruton Parish House between 10 a.m. and 12 noon. A fee of 50¢ per child per hour will be payable to the woman in charge.

House Wanted to Rent - '73-74

Professor Don E. Fehrenbacher of Stanford University, who will be James Pinckney Harrison Professor of History for 1973-74, would like to rent a furnished house for the academic year for himself and Mrs. Fehrenbacher (no children, no pets). If you know of such a house, please call Ludwell H. Johnson, Ext. 313.

ton, D.C. The subject of the lecture was "The Concept of Alkaline Reserve in the Deacidification of Paper."

Though his experience as an administrator through the years has been rewarding and stimulating, John H. Willis, Jr., has decided to return to the classroom on a full-time basis this fall.

His areas of teaching and research interest include contemporary British literature.

Administrative posts held by Mr. Willis since his arrival on campus in 1959, as a member of the Department of English faculty, include: administrative assistant to the president, 1962-65; associate dean of the College, 1967-68; acting dean of graduate studies, 1967-68; and assistant vice president for academic affairs, 1968 to present. He was liaison officer for Richard Bland College, from 1968 to 1970, and for Christopher Newport College, from 1970 to 1971.

Mr. Willis' administrative duties have encompassed a wide range of responsibilities, but in more recent years, he has been concerned with academic administration as it relates to both undergraduate and graduate programs within the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

Community service and the William and Mary fencing team are two non-academic activities which hold special interest for Mr. Willis.

Summer Program Offered by D.C. Bankers Assn.

Information concerning the summer intern program of the American Bankers Association in Washington, D.C., is available in the Office of Placement in Ewell Hall. Students interested in the program should contact that office immediately.

Study Abroad

Deadline Set Today for Two Programs

Descriptive material and application forms for William and Mary's two Study Abroad Programs in France and in England are now available. Interested students may pick up this information in the office of John H. Willis, Jr., Room 6 of the Brafferton. Students are reminded that the application deadline for both programs is March 15.

He chaired the Williamsburg Community Hospital Long-Range Planning Committee in 1970, served as a member of the Executive Committee of the Hospital's Board of Trustees, and is currently a member of the Board of Trustees. In January, he was appointed a member of the City Planning Commission.

As fencing coach, he has seen a men's varsity team evolve from an informal club established in 1967. The fencers gained varsity status in 1968.

Girls are now participating in the sport, and last week, for the first time, fenced as a team against Georgetown University. Fencing is an ideal sport for college students, he feels. "It calls for an alert mind, good physical condition, agility, and a competitive spirit."

Mr. Willis earned the B.A. degree from the University of Virginia in 1951 and the M.A., in 1959, and the Ph.D., in 1967, from Columbia University.

He and his wife, Anne, are the parents of three children: John, 10; Tom, 8; and Susan, 4.

for Canadian Festival

Fund Raising Campaign Initiated by Swimmers

The Mermettes and their faculty adviser, Jan Tomlinson, covered 88 miles by water recently to raise funds for a trip to the International Aquatic Arts Festival to be held in Winnipeg, Canada, May 3, 4 and 5.

In an organized "Swim Along," the Mermettes swam 6,248 laps of Adair Pool for pledges of one to ten cents a lap. All pledges are not yet in so the swimmers do not know how close they came to their goal of $1200.

The reason for all the swimming is to add five members to the group now scheduled to go to Canada. The Mermettes have funds for five members to go but would like to add another five swimmers to perform "Fireworks," a number they feel stands a chance of Class I honors in competition. Choreographed by Libby Frazier, a senior from McLean, for last year's Mermettes show, the number was cited by judges at the International Aquatic Arts Festival held here last year.

A solo, "Charlie's Back," using a Chaplinesque pantomime theme and performed by Jane Harland, Bethesda, Md., is another number the Mermettes hope will get a high rating in Winnipeg.

The Mermettes will give their annual show on campus, April 11, 12 and 13 at Adair Pool. The title of this year's production is "The Oldies but Goodies," which uses a motion picture theme.

Museum Trip Sponsored by Special Programs

The Office of Special Programs is sponsoring a trip to the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts Saturday, April 7.

The gallery complex presents a permanent panorama of world art, spanning the history of man's creative achievements. A few outstanding features of the collection are the Lillian Thomas Pratt Collection of Fabergé jewelry, Easter eggs, and "objects of fancy"; the Goya portrait of General Nicholas Guey; a monumental marble statue of the Roman Emperor Caligula; Monet's "Iris by the Pond"; a gallery devoted entirely to the Art Nouveau movement; six magnificent Gobelins Don Quixote tapestries; and one of the nation's leading collections of the arts of India, Nepal and Tibet.

To cover guide fees and the cost of transportation, there is an enrollment fee of $10 per person. Checks should be made payable to the College.

Mrs. Jean C. Keating, Office of Special Programs, may be contacted for further information at 12070 Jefferson Avenue, Newport News, 23606, telephone 877-9231.

W&M News

News items for inclusion in The William and Mary News must be in hand by 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Notices of campus meetings should be placed in The News to reduce the need for multiple mimeographing.

News may be phoned or delivered to the College News Office, 125 Richmond Road (across from the President's House), Ext. 331 or 371.

Copy for advertisements must be typed or printed and delivered in person to the Office before the Wednesday deadline. To help defray the cost of publication, there is a charge of $1 for three insertions of an advertisement. This is a flat fee and will not be determined by the number of words in the advertisement. No charge will be made for public service announcements in this section.

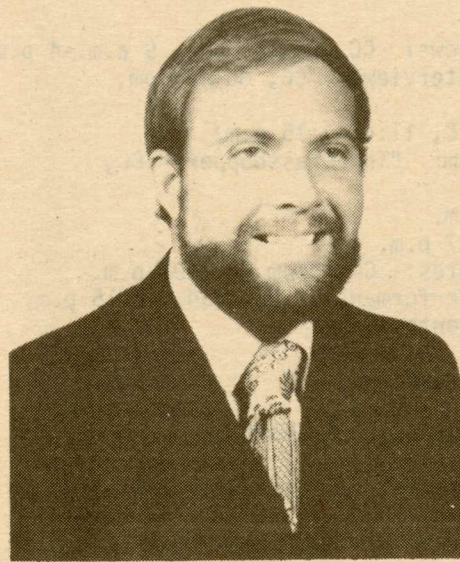

Social Worker Trainee Program Offered

Applications for the Virginia Merit System Social Worker Trainee Program are available at all local offices of the Virginia Employment Commission or the Merit System Recruitment Office in Richmond. Applications are also available at some Department of Welfare offices.

To qualify for admission to the open competitive examination for the program, the applicant must be a graduate of an accredited college or university. The examination is a written objective test weighted 100% and will be administered to accepted applicants from April 9 through April 27, either in local offices of the Virginia Employment Commission or at Merit System offices in Richmond.

For further information, contact the Office of Placement in Ewell Hall.

R. Merritt Cox Has Book Published

R. Merritt Cox

A controversial eighteenth century Spanish writer, whose work has been long neglected, is the subject of a book recently published by R. Merritt Cox.

In his biography of Tomás De Iriarte, Mr. Cox, associate professor of Spanish, reevaluated the work of the important literary figure whose creative genius won him great heights of favor and disfavor during his lifetime.

"As we look back on the Spanish eighteenth century, which is still so poorly understood," said Mr. Cox, "we begin to see that Iriarte stands out as a truly brilliant figure in a variety of endeavors. He is a poet above all, but he is also a dramatist and musical composer, aspects of his career that have rarely been studied."

"Iriarte was outspoken against the affectation and pomposity of contemporary literary figures and

Book Fair Today

Members of the faculty are invited to attend a "book fair in a truck," sponsored by the College Bookstore, today from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the parking lot of Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

For convenience, the books are arranged by college courses; some may be sent on a complimentary examination basis.

On the Sports Scene . . .

The first game of the season for the lacrosse team will be held March 17, 2 p.m., at Cary Field against Mount St. Mary's. Tom Phillips, in his fourth year of varsity competition, has been selected captain of the 1973 team.

Three W&M wrestlers travelled to Seattle, Wash., Wednesday for the NCAA Championships. Scott Moyer, '73, split four matches but didn't place in the finals. Mark Belknap, '75, and Mike Furiness, '75, lost their opening matches.

Tom Pflugst, sophomore, was named last Monday to the first team of the All Southern Conference basketball team. Named the week before to the second team was freshman Mike Arizin. Mike Arizin received yet another honor in being named to the second team of the All State college basketball team. Tom Pflugst received honorable mention on this team.

The W&M baseball team has been practicing since the beginning of second semester, and their season will begin March 16 here in a double header against Duke U.

Four members of the track team participated in the NCAA Indoor track meet, Friday and Saturday in Detroit. Mac Collins and Ron Martin, in the mile, and Reggie Clark, 1000 yd. running, were eliminated in the first day of competition. Charles Dobson went on Saturday to place fourth in the 60 yd. high hurdles final.

is best known for his 'Literary Fables,' which criticizes contemporary literary abuses. These unique fables both teach and entertain," said Mr. Cox.

Iriarte is also credited with the first successful Spanish comedy, entitled The Fattered Youth, noted Mr. Cox.

"It is as an innovative creator that he especially merits a fresh analysis," claimed his biographer.

Mr. Cox, who began work on the book in 1969 and researched it in the libraries at Duke University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, maintains that there is a great deal of interest in as well as a wealth of Spanish literature in the United States. He cited the Hispanic Society of America, of which he is a recently elected member, as the best source of Spanish literature in this country.

A native of Richmond, Mr. Cox received his bachelor's degree from the University of Richmond and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin. He taught at Duke University, where he was voted outstanding professor by the student body in 1972, before joining the William and Mary faculty last fall.

Administrator Needed for Project PLUS

Wanted - resident administrator as of September 1, to counsel students in social and organizational matters as well as to carry general administrative responsibilities for the residence. Should have a college degree, or at least academic progress close to that of a degree.

For further details, contact Carl Beyer, director of Honors and Experimental Programs, at Ext. 417 or 549.
