Haigh Memorial Established

Funds are being sought to provide a memorial to the late Andrew C. Haigh, chairman of the College's Music Department from 1957-1960.

Mr. Haigh, professor of music emeritus, died January 26 in a nursing home in Northern Virginia.

At the time of his death it was announced that anyone wishing to honor his memory might do so in the form of a contribbtion to provide books for the Earl Gregg Swem Library. F. Donald Truesdell, chairman of the Music Department, was designated to coordinate this effort.

In a recent announcement Mr. Truesdell announced a slight change and additional information on the memorial. "Few contributions have been made at this writing," stated Mr. Truesdell "and it is thought that many of Dr. Haigh's friends may not have received the information, and therefore we are striving for wider publicity and at the same time, wish to announce a slight change and additional information."

William C. Pollard, librarian, will now receive gifts directly. They should be made out to the College of William and Mary and designated for the Earl Gregg Swem Library A. C. Haigh Memorial Fund.

"We hope," said Mr. Truesdell "to receive additional gifts to make possible the purchase of an old hand-written manuscript."

Attention: Undergraduates

The Student Aid Office reminds William and Mary undergraduates that NOW is the time to reapply for financial assistance for the 1973-74 session. Students who received assistance in 1972-73, if they have not done so, should secure an application and the Parents' Confidential Statement from the Student Aid Office in James Blair Hall 310 without delay. William and Mary Science Contest winners should also complete the application.

Independent William and Mary students who wish to apply for the National Direct Student Loan (subject to funding) or the Guaranteed Student Loan for the 1973-74 session should secure the Student Financial Statement from the Student Aid Office during April, 1973. The Guaranteed Student Loan, although applied for through local lending agencies, requires an analysis of the family financial condition by the Financial Aid Officer.

CAMPUS PROFILE Chris Bram

"Improvisation is exhausting," according to Chris Bram, '74, of Virginia Beach, who is currently working on a film which will be part of the Student Film Festival May 9.

Entitled "Nothing Falls
Apart," it is a silent film, accompanied by a taped narration which "gives it the effect of an illustrated story." The sequences were often invented on the spot for the College students who take part in it.

When he films, Chris maintains a frantic pace which can leave him feeling burned out. Depending on how the work goes, this feeling can be either good or bad, he added.

"The film directors I admire most are Truffaut, Bertolucci, and Renoir," he said. Their techniques are not easily translated into films made with a Super-8 camera, which is far less adaptable than professional equipment. "In the field, there are many practical considerations related to working on a low budget. As a result, my films usually end up using the techniques I would theoretically want to avoid. Sometimes the only thing that prevents me from hurling the camera to the floor and stomping on it is the fact that I use borrowed equipment," he added.

He made his first movie for a church youth group during high school. Next, for an off-campus film class, he made a film which was a variation on Little Red Riding Hood, entitled "Getting the Stuff to Grandma."

Since then he has completed a Queen's Guard documentary, a surrealistic film entitled "Lively Tops," and used up many yards of experimental film.

Two-Year Program Offered by ROTC

The Reserve Officers Training Corps is offering a two-year program for students interested in receiving a commission but who were not enrolled in the program during their freshman and sophomore years.

These students will initially go to a basic training camp in lieu of their first two years in the program and will enroll in the advanced course during their junior and senior years. The cadets will be paid for the sixweek catch-up in basic camp and will receive $100 per month for ten months during each year.

Orientation on the program will be held in the Campus Center Monday, April 9, at 12 noon and 4 p.m.

State Surplus Vehicles Listed in Purchasing

The Purchasing Office has a listing of nearly 200 surplus automobiles, trucks and other vehicles being disposed of by various State agencies with bid opening scheduled April 13. Many of the vehicles, especially those used by the State Police, are listed as in good condition and some are 1971 models. College employees are prohibited by law from purchasing vehicles or other property belonging to this College, but they may bid on other State surplus property.

Chris works part time as a projectionist for the Audio-Visual Department. He is director for the Festival Film Society, associate editor of the William and Mary Review, a member of ROTC, and a former newspaper reporter for the Virginian-Pilot.

He hopes that other student film-makers on campus will participate in the FFS Student Film Festival. Included in the showing so far are "Pyre," a film about three people living in an abandoned car, by E. S. May, '73, of Clarksville, Md.; and "Cripes," a film about life in the Governor's mansion in Mississippi, by Jay Trapnell, '75, of Arlington.

AAUP Meeting Monday

There will be an AAUP meeting on Monday, April 9, at 8 p.m. in the Dodge Room of Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

The agenda will include a discussion of the proposed statement on Academic Freedom, Tenure and Due Process Procedures for the Faculty Handbook and a report on the revised Virginia retirement program.

King Scholarship Drive Underway

The Martin Luther King Scholarship, established in 1968 by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, serves as an incentive for minority students who indicate an interest in attending William and Mary but may be unable to do so without financial assistance.

Scholarship funds, to date, have totalled $7,810.65 and during the academic year 1971-72 totalled $2,637.49. Twenty-six minority students have been recipients of the award. Contributions are made by faculty members of all schools, the staff, student organizations, and alumni.

Mr. Johnson noted that this year a greater effort would be exerted to solicit funds for the scholarship among all sectors of the College community.
