Three Appointments in Student Affairs Announced Last Week

George R. Healy, Vice President for Academic Affairs, has announced the appointment of Frank L. Field, Counseling Psychologist at the University of Santa Barbara, as Associate Dean of Students for Career Planning; Lynn Skerrett Schulz, University of Delaware, Associate Dean of Students for Student Development; and Morris Garland Wray, Vanderbilt University, Associate Dean of Students for Residence Hall Life.

All three appointments are subject to approval by the Board of Visitors of the College at its May meeting.

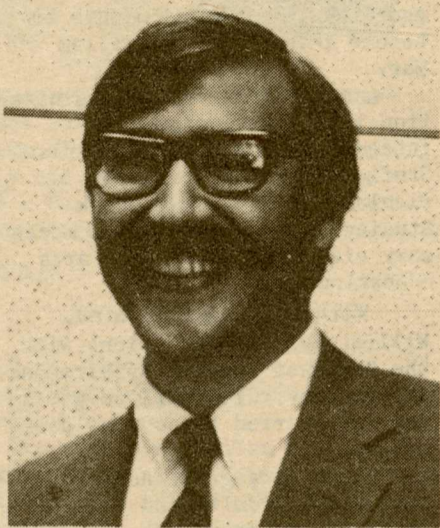

The three appointments come as the result of the reorganization of the student affairs division which began last year with the appointment of James C. Livingston, chairman of the Religion Department, as Dean of the Undergraduate Program.

W. Samuel Sadler was appointed Dean of Students; and Carolyn Moseley, former Assistant Dean of Women, was appointed Associate Dean of Students for Administration and Special Programs.

Mr. Field will be responsible for personal and group counseling in the areas of goal assessment, career planning and vocational preparation; administering appropriate testing programs; and establishing and maintaining a careers resource center.

He was the recipient of the National Vocational Guidance Association Professional Members' Research Award in 1965. His bachelor's degree (Magna Cum Laude), master's and doctoral degrees were earned at Harvard University.

While at the Harvard Graduate School of Education he was a Teaching Fellow in Education and Assistant to the Director of Placement and later instructor in psychology and guidance at Boston University before his appointment as an assistant professor and later counseling psychologist at the University of California. He is the author of a number of professional articles and most recently a book, Freedom and Control in Education and Society.

Mrs. Schulz, an alumna of the College, received the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in psychology from the University of Virginia. She graduated in 1967 from the College of William and Mary with highest honors in psychology.

She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mortar Board, Society of Sigma Xi, Phi Sigma, and was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, Exeter Exchange Scholar and National Science Foundation Fellow.

Mrs. Schulz is an assistant professor in the department of behavioral and humanistic studies at the University of Delaware's School of Education.

In her new position with the College she will be responsible for developing programs for personal and group counseling services to freshmen and entering transfer students; directing orientation activities; advising student judicial organizations and administering College regulations.

Lynn S. Schulz

Mr. Wray is currently director of the division of unclassified students in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at Vanderbilt University and responsible for transfer and readmitted students.

A candidate for the Ph.D. degree from Vanderbilt, Mr. Wray is a native of Greenville County, and a graduate of Mars Hill College.

While at Vanderbilt he has also served as Head Resident Advisor for both freshmen and upperclass residence halls, Freshman Counselor in the Office for Student Life and as a teaching assistant to Distinguished Professor Wilhelm Pauck, department of religion.

Morris G. Wray

As Associate Dean of Students for Residence Hall Life he will plan and direct the implementation of a comprehensive residence hall program; select, train, supervise and evaluate the residence hall staff; advise residence hall governing councils and participate in the development of College policies applicable to the residences.

The search committee for the new positions included William Liddell, School of Business Administration; Hans von Baeyer, chairman, Department of Physics; Helen C. Walker, History; Cornell Christianson, president, Student Association; Alan Finder, SA Senator; Susan Gilkey, secretary, SA Senate; Eric Revis, president, Black Students Organization; and Glenn D. Shean, Psychology. The committee assisted in the screening of the more than 400 applicants and with interviews of the ten finalists.

Mr. Field and Mrs. Schulz will assume their new duties August 1, Mr. Wray on July 1.

Economics Professor Awarded $1,000 Prize for Best Dissertation

Samuel H. Baker, III, assistant professor of economics, has been awarded the Tipton R. Snively Prize for the best dissertation in economics presented at the University of Virginia during the past three years.

The award of $1,000 is made possible by a gift made by Tipton R. Snively of the University of Virginia faculty upon his retirement after 43 years of service in the department of economics.

In announcing the award, Kenneth W. Clarkson, of the prizes and awards committee, wrote Mr. Baker that his "dissertation was chosen by a most eminent economist after our committee had winnowed down the candidates for submission to an external examiner.

"Your dissertation was chosen because of its potential contribution to scientific knowledge and the probable impact of your findings on the economics profession," he added.

Mr. Baker's dissertation is entitled "Empirical Tests of the Sales Maximization Hypothesis."

A graduate of Hampden-Sydney College, Mr. Baker received his doctorate from the University of Virginia and has done post-doctoral study in economics at Harvard University.

He joined the faculty of the College in 1969. Mr. Baker is the author of several papers in his field and a member of the Virginia Advisory Legislative Council Subcommittee on Antitrust and Monopoly.

Mr. Baker is the recipient of a Faculty Summer Research grant and will work with Carlisle E. Moody, assistant professor of economics, on a project entitled "An Economic Analysis of Urban Crime."

Virginia Poetry Society Observes 50th Anniversary

The Poetry Society of Virginia, founded at the College of William and Mary, 1923, will celebrate its golden anniversary at the College, May 18-19.

A memorial service for founding members will be held in the Wren Chapel Friday, May 18. At a program that evening in the Great Hall of the Wren Building, featuring J. S. Darling, choir-master of Bruton Parish Church at the harpsichord, Richard Wordsworth, actor-poet and lineal descendant of William Wordsworth, will give "The Bliss of Solitude," a one-man performance portraying the Wordsworth Circle.

The key program of the annual meeting will be given by Richard Lattimore in Phi Beta Kappa Hall, Saturday, May 19, at 10:30 a.m.

Economics

Carl Moody and Sam Baker, assistant professors, presented a paper on "Urban Expenditures and Performance" at the meetings of the Southern Regional Science Association on April 27.

Mr. Moody presented a paper on "Air Quality, Environment and Metropolitan Community Structure" to the Northeast Regional Science Association on April 28.

Mr. Baker's article, "Risk, Leverage, and Profitability: An Industry Analysis," has been accepted for publication in the Review of Economics and Statistics.

Francis W. Rushing, associate professor, has published an article entitled "An Economic Index of the Quality of Life" in the March 1973 issue of the Western Economic Journal.

English

Carl Dolmetsch's review of Major Writers of Early American Literature, ed. Everett Emerson (Wisconsin, 1972), appears in the current (April 1973) issue of The Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, pp. 201-202.

Mr. Dolmetsch will spend June and July this summer doing research for his critical study of William Byrd of Westover at the British Museum and Public Records Office, in London, and in Lymington, England.

John Conlee, associate professor, attended the eighth annual conference of the Medieval Institute at Western Michigan University, in Kalamazoo, Mich., April 29-May 2, where he read a paper on "The Middle English Pastoral."

Charles Davidson, professor, attended a conference on "Witchcraft and the Occult" at the Center for Medieval and Early Renaissance Studies, May 5-6, at the State University of New York, Binghamton, N.Y.

Robert Maccubbin, assistant professor, attended the fourth annual conference of the American Society for Eighteenth Century Studies, May 6-8, at McMaster University, in Hamilton, Ontario.

A collection of essays, The Predecessors of Shakespeare, recently published by the University of Nebraska Press, includes an essay by Robert Fehrenbach, associate professor, on the Elizabethan writer, Thomas Nashe. This collection is the first title in a multi-volume project which will survey recent scholarship on English Renaissance drama, exclusive of Shakespeare. A future volume will contain an essay by Cecil McCulley, professor, on the Jacobean dramatist, John Marston.

was formerly employed by the Smith Douglas Company in Norfolk.

CAMPUS PROFILE/Willie Webb

Willie Webb, a rising sophomore, was recently elected president of the Black Student Organization.

Willie, a Martin Luther King Scholar, has already begun to make plans for the organization for the academic year 1973-74.

The Black Student Organization (BSO), Willie says, was created with the realization that William and Mary must be more relevant to the particular needs of Blacks.

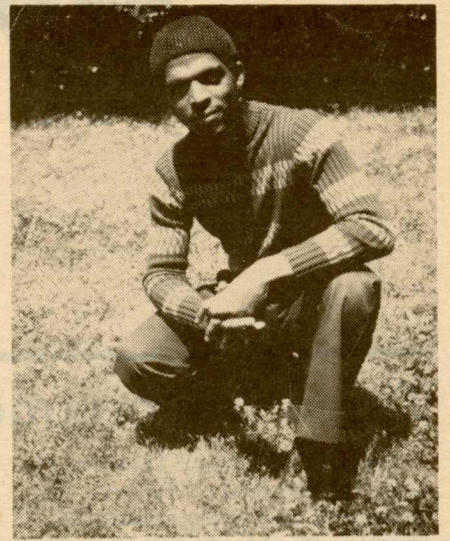

"The BSO will work with the administration and admissions in educating and motivating Blacks and other minority students to become interested in William and Mary.

"Another goal of the organization is the inclusion of an interdisciplinary major in Black Studies in the College curriculum. I feel that Black Studies is an integral and necessary element of a liberal arts education."

With this goal in mind, Willie says the BSO, along with the Board of Student Affairs and the faculty, will work to get a program started as soon as possible.

"There is a great need for more Black faculty and administration members at the College, a need which concerns the BSO greatly. We will seek and make suggestions of qualified Blacks for positions open at W&M.

"As president, I will personally initiate a campaign to make known to the entire College community the existence of the Black Student Organization.

"Our theme is 'awareness,' thus we want the College community to be aware that we are here and to become a part of us."

Willie is a member of the College band, Queen's Guard, and Minority Affairs Committee.

The son of Mrs. Susie Jones of Skippers, Willie is a graduate of Greensville County High School in Emporia.

Others elected and their positions include: Eric Revis, '75, vice president; Nadine Tatum, '75, secretary; and Lethia Cofield, '75, treasurer.

W&M Alumnus Awarded Federal Exchange Grant

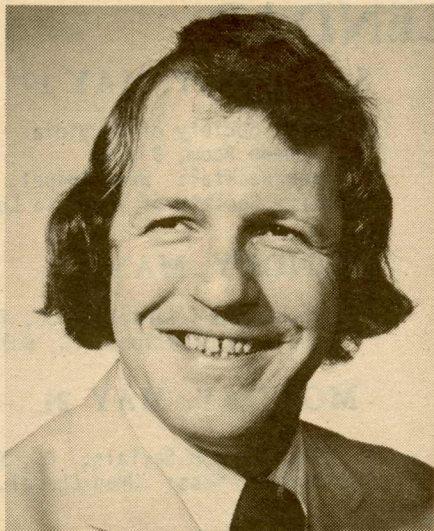

Roger M. Swagler, assistant professor of economics at Drake University, has received an Educational Exchange Grant from the federal government that will enable him to teach in 1973-74 at the University of Liberia at Monrovia.

While in the African nation Mr. Swagler will serve on the Board of Liberia's Institute of Economic Research and act in an advisory capacity to the country's government.

The grant, which is part of a program created under the Fulbright-Hays Act of 1961, will cover transportation, housing, and other allowances for Mr. Swagler and his family.

He will do research on the role of the export sector in the domestic development of the continent's emerging nations.

Born April 12, 1941, in Wadsworth, Ohio, Mr. Swagler has been a member of the faculty of

Roger M. Swagler

Drake's College of Liberal Arts since 1969. He received a B.A. degree in 1964 from William and Mary and an M.A. degree in 1966 and a Ph.D. degree in 1971 from Ohio State University.

President Graves Accepts Stoneware from Japanese Master Craftsman

Miaki Yamaoka, William and Mary guest artist and potter from Hokkaido, Japan, presented a gift of his work to the College.

The presentation of a vase by Mr. Yamaoka to President and Mrs. Graves was made May 9 in Andrews Hall at an exhibit of work he has done during his stay at William and Mary.

A master craftsman, Mr. Yamaoka was one of six Japanese artists honored for his contributions and dedication to the cultural arts during Japan's 1972 cultural day celebration.

The large vase, which will be on permanent exhibit in the President's Office, is decorated with an ornate brown floral pattern placed against a gray background interlaced with a bluish hue.

Its style is similar to the pottery of ancient China, although the method used was developed by Mr. Yamaoka. A great deal of technical skill was involved in the creation of the vase and Mr. Yamaoka's mastery of the intricate interweaving of color, texture and balance is evident.

The master potter ended his visit to the College earlier this week. While he was here he created 200 pieces of stoneware. He will return to Japan where he is well-known and revered following his first visit to the United States.

Walter Williams Has Been Invited to Speak at International Law Congress at The Hague

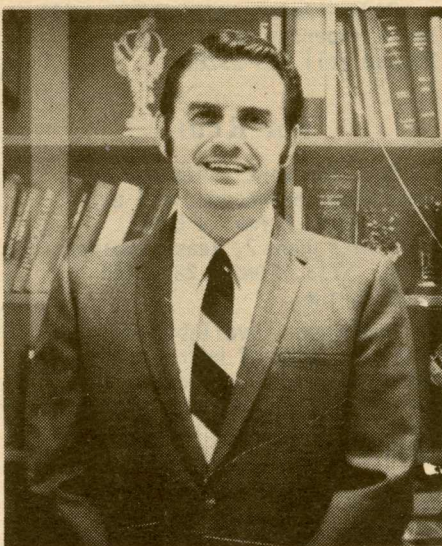

Walter L. Williams, Jr., professor of law, has been invited to present a paper to a meeting of the VI Congress of the International Society for Military Law and Law of War at The Hague in The Netherlands.

The Congress will meet May 21-25. The principal concern of the meeting will be the operation of cease-fire arrangements under international law.

Mr. Williams, who has been at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law since September, 1972, will be the principal speaker from the United States. His talk will be on "The Cease-Fire Process and World Public Order: A Proposed Structure of Inquiry Concerning Legal Regulation of Suspension of International Armed Conflict."

In existence since 1955, the Society has 1,000 members from 35 foreign countries and is composed of both civil and military officials, judges, lawyers and university professors. Pre-eminent in the conduct of studies and research in comparative and international law concerned with regulation of the military instrument, the Society is active in the development of ongoing research and proposals on the laws of war. The Society holds its international Congress biennially.

Prior to his appointment at William and Mary, Mr. Williams was an international law specialist for the United States military and worked at Supreme Headquarters for Allied Personnel Europe, Belgium, which is the military headquarters for NATO. In 1971 his book, Intergovernmental Military Forces and World Public Order, was published. He is presently working on a second book on the legal aspects of suspension and termination of armed conflict, the structure of which will be incorporated into his talk to the Society this month.

Mr. Williams teaches international law, international business transactions, and comparative law courses at the Law School.

Personnel Bulletin

Job Openings

The following positions are open at the College. For information about these positions, apply at the Personnel Office in person, Room 201, James Blair Hall:

Clerk-Stenographer C - position located at VARC

Clerk-Stenographer B

Institutional Housing Manager - college graduate with 4 years administrative experience

Offset Duplicating Machine Operator A

Clerk-Typist B

Individuals who are currently employed by the College will be considered for these positions provided that they have first advised their immediate supervisors in writing of their interest in being considered for other positions. A copy of this correspondence and an acknowledgement by the employee's supervisor must be received in the Personnel Office before the applicant will be considered. The College of William and Mary is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Qualified women and minority applicants are encouraged to apply.

Memorial Day

In accordance with the holiday schedule as revised by the 1970 General Assembly, Memorial Day falls on Monday, May 28, 1973.

This holiday should be given, as far as practicable, to members of each department. It is recognized that certain services must be maintained in the various departments, but these services should be furnished on the holiday by a minimum number of employees of the department.

A leave slip should be submitted to the Personnel Office for any permanent classified employee who takes leave on this holiday. Permanent classified employees who are required to work on this holiday should take the compensatory leave earned as soon thereafter as possible in order to avoid leave accumulation. Hourly employees who work on this holiday will be paid at their regular hourly rates.

Orientation for Classified Employees

Beginning May 16, 1973, an orientation for all newly appointed classified employees will be held every Wednesday in James Blair Hall from 11 to 12 a.m. This orientation will cover all detailed information furnished to each employee at the time of processing for permanent appointment. Time will be available for some questions on the policies and procedures administered by the College Personnel and Payroll Offices. All supervisors are encouraged to send newly appointed classified employees to these orientations. Other classified employees of the College of William and Mary are invited to attend on a "space available" basis. A note will be posted at the door to Room 201, James Blair Hall advising in which room the orientation will be held.

Office of Development

NMR SPECTROMETER TO SERVE ACADEMIC SCIENTIFIC COMMUNITY

A $126,000 grant from the National Science Foundation (NSF) will help to make the nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR) spectrometer at the University of Akron's Institute of Polymer Science a national source for the study of various problems in physics, chemistry, and biology. The NMR, purchased by the University with funds from the state of Ohio, is the only one of its kind in the Western Hemisphere. The instrument enables scientists to determine in minute detail the structure, shape, and motion of complex molecules.

The NSF grant will cover part of the day-to-day costs of the spectrometer, which is expensive to operate. Current plans call for operating the NMR on a twenty-four hour basis to accommodate the needs of scientists and academic institutions from all parts of the country. A nominal charge of $15 per hour is made for services provided by the instrument. Scientists may simply "send samples of the chemical compounds whose properties they want to determine."
