Twenty-Three Cadets to be Commissioned

Major General Jack C. Fuson, Commander of the U.S. Army Transportation Center and Ft. Eustis, will be the principal speaker at the commissioning ceremony for 23 cadets, Saturday, June 2, at 11 a.m. in Phi Beta Kappa Auditorium.

A native of St. Joseph, Mo., General Fuson received his undergraduate degree from the University of Maryland in 1964.

He has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Merit with five Oak Leaf Clusters, the Bronze Star with two Oak Leaf Clusters, the Army Commendation Medal and the Purple Heart.

Prior to his assignment to Fort Eustis, General Fuson was the director of logistics, United States Military Assistance Command, Vietnam.

Invocation will be given by the Rev. Blaise Flageman of St. Bede's Catholic Church and Col. Spencer T. Hockaday, professor of military science, will introduce the speaker.

Five cadets have been designated distinguished military graduates and will receive certificates presented by George R. Healy, vice president for academic affairs. The cadets and the branch of service in which they will enter are: Phillip B. Eastham, Jr., military intelligence; Hugh M. Johnston, Jr., engineers; and Jeffrey L. Jones, Robert W. North and Thompson S. Phillips, Jr., air defense artillery.

Commissions in the Regular Army will be received by John A. Kaila, field artillery; and cadets Phillips and North.

Jack C. Fuson

Cadets receiving U.S. Army Reserve Commissions are: Stanley E. Alderson, infantry; Matthew E. Asai, Bruce A. Clark, Jr., Rance W. Hall, and Derek L. Smith, quartermaster corps; Randall W. Chalkley, Jeffrey P. Harrison, and James B. McCabe, transportation; Phillip B. Eastham, military intelligence; Christopher B. Powers, Mark G. Reitz, and Donald S. Rice, field artillery; Jeffrey L. Jones, air defense; Allen T. Nelson and Hugh M. Johnston, Jr., corps of engineers; John J. Curry, Mark M. Kane, and Richard L. Mitchell, branch unassigned; Arthur W. Nichols, adjutant general corps; and William E. Richeson, ordnance corps.

Closing remarks will be made by President Thomas A. Graves, Jr.

Prominence Given Art Collections

President Graves has taken steps to recognize the importance of the various fine arts collections of the College - collections donated by alumni and friends of the College - and the part they should play in the life and heritage of the College.

As part of this project, Miles Chappell of the Fine Arts Department is currently preparing a catalogue of the College's extensive collection of art works which include paintings, sculpture, prints, ceramics and porcelains from both Western Europe and The Orient.

There have been catalogues in the past, explained Mr. Chappell, but they have not been as complete as the current one which is being undertaken to establish a definitive listing and accurate description of each item in the collection.

The current catalogue, indexed according to subject, location, artist and donor, includes a photograph and detailed information on each item. Mr. Chappell is being assisted by students interested in museum work. The catalogue will be kept in the Fine Arts Department with a copy in the rare books room of the library for use as a research tool.

The art works of the College will continue to be on display on various parts of the campus. There are currently paintings on display from the collection in the Wren Building and the Capitol Building of Colonial Williamsburg.

While the catalogue work is being done to establish an accurate record of each donation, President Graves has indicated that he is concerned also that the items in the College's collection are not readily available or displayed as extensively as he would like them to be.

"We owe the donors of our collections and the people of Virginia the opportunity to have the collections on display," said President Graves.

Commencement Exercises Set

The College will hold its commencement exercises, Sunday, June 3, at 3 p.m. in the Wren Yard, with President Thomas A. Graves, Jr., presiding. An estimated 1,100 degrees will be conferred.

The Honorable Warren E. Burger, Chief Justice of the United States, will make the commencement address.

The order of exercises follows: Organ prelude, Robert Moncrief, '74; processional, "William and Mary Hymn," William and Mary Choir, directed by Carl A. Fehr; The National Anthem; invocation, the Rev. John R. King, minister, Williamsburg Presbyterian Church; commencement address, Chief Justice Burger; conferring of honorary degree, President Graves and R. Harvey Chappell, Jr., Rector of the Board of Visitors.

"No Man Liveth to Himself," by Schuetz, the Choir; announcement of prizes and awards - Lord Botetourt Medal, Carr Cup, and Sullivan Awards, President Graves; valedictory remarks, Donald A. Purdy, Jr., president of the class of '73; conferring of earned degrees, President Graves and Vice President for Academic Affairs George R. Healy; alma mater, audience and choir; and recessional, choir.

Alumni Room Named for Lambert

The central hallway in the new Alumni House will be named for J. W. Lambert, retiring vice president for student affairs, as a result of a special gift from New York City area alumni. The effort was spearheaded by Ed and Bob Coco '55, of Hartsdale, N.Y.

In recognizing the gift, W. Brooks George '32, New Era fund chairman, expressed "heartfelt gratitude of the entire College family" and said the designation "will not only recognize the lifelong contributions of Dean Lambert, but also serve as evidence of the continuing interest in the College of New York area alumni."

First Ferguson Graduate Scholarship Awarded

Martha Hopkins Keating, a 1971 graduate of the College, has been awarded the first William Cross Ferguson Graduate Scholarship in Publishing.

The scholarship grant will cover the tuition and other costs for Mrs. Keating to attend the prestigious Publishing Procedures Course held at Radcliffe College every summer.

Mrs. Keating majored in English and is currently working on a master's degree at the University of Virginia. While an undergraduate she was a member of the Flat Hat staff, president of Chi Delta Phi honorary literary sorority and active in the Westminster Fellowship.

The wife of Chip Keating '71, who is also working on a master's degree at the University of Virginia, Mrs. Keating is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Hopkins of Roanoke.

The newly announced scholarship is an outgrowth of a gift of money to the College from Walter F. C. Ferguson in honor of his brother, William Cross Ferguson, who died in 1967.

William Cross Ferguson, a William and Mary graduate in the class of 1916, had a long career in publishing, ultimately becoming president of the World

Martha Keating

Book Company. Prior to his death he expressed an interest in establishing at his alma mater various programs that would stimulate student interest in publishing as a career.

In 1970 the Ferguson Seminar in Publishing, a two-day event, was inaugurated at the College. The seminar, held biennially, brings together on campus outstanding figures from the publishing field who lecture and meet informally with students from colleges around the state.

The Campus Center will close at 3 p.m. on Commencement Day and will reopen Monday, June 18.

Canoes for Summer

Canoes owned by the Women's Physical Education Department will be available this summer for use by faculty, staff, and students. Contact Sue Chittum, Chandler Hall, Ext. 364.

Three Employees Prepare Survey on Clerical Personnel

Three members of the College's clerical personnel recently surveyed staff members to determine attitudes toward several different aspects of employment on the campus. A report on their findings has been prepared; copies of which were sent to the administration, the Self-Study Committee and the Ad Hoc Committee on the Status of Women.

The report includes a number of recommendations, several in the area of job classification, staff working conditions, and "fringe" benefits.

The report indicates that employees feel that there should be reevaluations of existing positions on campus and, where appropriate, necessary steps should be taken to have positions reclassified to be more in line with the actual duties and responsibilities of these positions. It was also recommended that a new classification for departmental secretary be requested, with a salary comparable to that of a Clerk Steno C. At present, there is no job description which describes the duties and responsibilities of an employee in that position. Contrary to the "classification plan" provided by the Virginia Personnel Act for "the grouping of all positions in classes..." the classifications for departmental secretaries range from Clerk Typist B to Clerk Steno C.

The report recommends that a committee of staff members be selected to begin the task of writing new descriptions for the specific classes of positions on campus and to assist the personnel director in the preparation of an employee's handbook. It also recommended that a College Procedures Manual be prepared and distributed to all secretaries. The Manual would contain detailed information on all College and State procedures and would be valuable as a reference book.

Statistics in the survey indicated that the majority of employees objected to the present procedure regarding transfers within the College. As a result, it was recommended in the report that employees be allowed to seek transfers without having to notify their supervisors prior to applying for other positions with the stipulation that if they accept another position on campus, they would give their present supervisors two weeks notice.

The majority of employees also felt that supervisors should be required to discuss service ratings with employees before returning the rating sheets to the personnel office.

Because the survey indicated that a large number of employees were interested in serving on College Committees, the report suggested that staff members could contribute valuable assistance to the College Community in this area and also recommended that the College officials actively solicit opinions and suggestions from staff members on a regular basis.

Other recommendations include minor changes in the areas of retirement and leave notification, the establishment of a Day Care Center for faculty and staff children in conjunction with the School of Education, and a proposal whereby staff members would be permitted to take courses during the regular, summer and evening sessions of the College on a reduced tuition space-available basis.

In view of the results of the questionnaire it has been recommended that organization of a staff association, for the purpose of keeping staff members informed as to policy and administrative changes within the College, be implemented.

Some 126 questionnaires out of a mailing of 225 were returned. Of those answering, 89% said they considered their employment conditions satisfactory although 53% of total respondents also said conditions could be improved upon; 11% felt that they were unsatisfactory. Fifty-two per cent of the respondents said yes to a question of whether or not they were actively, or just keeping their eyes open, seeking employment outside the College. Sixty-eight per cent of the staff members presently feel that they do not have adequate opportunity for advancement within the College. Sixty-seven per cent of the respondents have education beyond a high school diploma; 38% have a college degree or higher.

Eighty-one per cent of those surveyed said they would like to see the working hours changed; 11% prefer 8:30 to 5:00 while 70% prefer 8:00 to 4:30 with one half hour for lunch. The report recommended that flexible hours be established with the cooperation and approval of the supervisor.

The survey also contains detailed information on responses to numerous questions on office procedures, biographical information and the structure of personnel relations.

Nathan Ward

Nathan Ward, a member of the Plant Department, will retire on June 1 after fifteen years of service to the College.

During his tenure in the department, Mr. Ward has been very actively involved in the renovation and repair of many buildings on campus.

Before joining the William and Mary staff in March, 1958, Mr. Ward was employed by the C. L. Lassiter Tiling Company of Providence Forge.

A native of Ryland, N.C., Mr. Ward and his wife, Inez, reside in Lanexa. They are the parents of three sons, Henry and Kerman, both of Lanexa, and Michael, who is stationed at Forbes Air Force Base in Topeka, Kansas.

Two of the Wards' daughters-in-law are employed on campus. Cindy is a member of the Swem Library staff and Sandy works in the Registrar's Office. A third daughter-in-law, Joyce, is a homemaker. Mr. and Mrs. Ward have three grandchildren.

The committee feels that, in view of these statistics, some changes in policies at the College are proven to be long overdue. The committee has been meeting with members of the administration. President Graves plans to submit the report for further consideration to the Administrative Council at their next meeting.

Appointment of Search Committees, Faculty of Arts and Sciences and School of Education

At the end of the 1973-74 academic year both Dr. Harold L. Fowler, Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, and Dr. Richard B. Brooks, Dean of the School of Education, will retire after long and dedicated service to the College of William and Mary. Search must therefore immediately begin for candidates for succession in each of these offices.

Accordingly, and after consultation with the Faculty Affairs Committees of both faculties about the desired structure and membership of their search committees, and when appropriate after consultation with the Student Association, I have appointed a Search Committee for a dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences and a Search Committee for a dean of the School of Education. Each committee has been charged to make an internal and national search for qualified candidates for these important administrative positions, and to report its recommendations to me no later than 15 March 1974.

The structure and membership of these committees are as follows:

Faculty of Arts and Sciences

- Mr. Hans C. von Baeyer, Associate Professor of Physics, Chairman
- Miss Margaret L. Hamilton, Professor of Government
- Mr. Thomas K. Hearn, Associate Professor of Philosophy
- Mr. David E. Kranbuehl, Assistant Professor of Chemistry
- Mr. Fraser Neiman, Professor of English
- Mr. Thaddeus W. Tate, Professor of History
- Mr. Jack D. Van Horn, Assistant Professor of Religion
- Mr. Bradley Lee Roberts, Graduate Student in Physics
- Mr. John Shillenburg, class of '74
- Miss Mary Thomasch, class of '74

School of Education

- Mr. Armand Galfo, Professor of Education, Chairman
- Mr. Royce Chesser, Professor of Education
- Mr. Stuart Flanagan, Associate Professor of Education
- Mr. William Losito, Assistant Professor of Education
- Mr. Robert Maidment, Associate Professor of Education

The School of Education Search Committee will additionally appoint, in consultation with the appropriate faculty, professional, and student groups, an Advisory Committee, which will be called at the discretion of the Search Committee, and will be composed of:

- A member of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences
- A member of the Faculty of the School of Business Administration
- A member of the Faculty of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law
- A member representative of the public school systems of the Tidewater area
- A graduate student from the School of Education
- An undergraduate concentrator from the School of Education

President

Personnel Bulletin

Job Openings

The following positions are open at the College. For information about these positions, apply at the Personnel Office in person, Room 201, James Blair Hall:

- Clerk-Typist B
- Clerk-Stenographer C - position located at VARC
- Clerk-Stenographer B

Individuals who are currently employed by the College will be considered for these positions provided that they have first advised their immediate supervisors in writing of their interest in being considered for other positions. A copy of this correspondence and an acknowledgement by the employee's supervisor must be received in the Personnel Office before the applicant will be considered. The College of William and Mary is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Qualified women and minority applicants are encouraged to apply.

Employee Orientation

Beginning June 6, 1973, an orientation for all newly appointed classified employees will be held the first Wednesday of each month in James Blair Hall from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. This orientation will cover all detailed information furnished to each employee at the time of processing for permanent appointment. Time will be available for some questions on the policies and procedures administered by the College Personnel and Payroll Offices. All supervisors are encouraged to send newly appointed classified employees to these orientations. Other classified employees of the College of William and Mary are invited to attend on a "space available" basis. A note will be posted at the door to Room 201, James Blair Hall, advising in which room the orientation will be held.

ETHICAL AND HUMAN VALUE IMPLICATIONS OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

The National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) and the National Science Foundation have announced jointly that they will accept proposals for scholarly activities in this field--for research activities, as well as conferences, colloquia and seminars. Twin advisory committees of the two agencies will provide policy guidance and advice.

Proposals which have as their primary objective the illumination of areas of current concern about ethical or human values may be submitted to either organization, depending on primary emphasis, and may be transferred from one agency to another or jointly funded. Address inquiries to:

NEH SENIOR FELLOWSHIPS 1974-1975

June 18, 1973 is the application deadline for NEH 1974-1975 Senior Fellowships. The program is intended to provide support for uninterrupted study or research to experienced humanists. Projects may be within the applicant's particular field, or another field that will add to his competence and understanding in his particular field. Special interest is expressed at this time in studies that address themselves in some way to the historical, social, and philosophical foundations of our country. "Proposals to study the ways in which these ideals and institutions respond to the demands of the modern world are particularly encouraged."

Applicants are not required to be faculty members but must be currently engaged as interpreters of the humanities, and will be expected to devote full time to their fellowship project. Fellowships are for 6 to 12 months and carry a maximum stipend of $1,500 per month. Awards will be announced in November. Forms and information from: Division of Fellowships, National Endowment for the Humanities, 806 15th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506.

SENIOR FULBRIGHT-HAYS PROGRAM FOR 1974-1975

The Committee on International Exchange of Persons has announced that it will accept applications for senior Fulbright-Hays awards for university lecturing and advanced research during 1974-1975. Awards generally consist of round-trip travel for the grantee (not dependents) plus a maintenance allowance for normal living costs of grantee and family. For lecturers going to most non-European countries, the award includes a dollar supplement, subject to the availability of funds, or a stipend in dollars and foreign currency, depending on the assignment and the lecturer's qualifications.

Requirements for lectureships include: U.S. citizenship and college level teaching experience. Eligibility for research awards include: U.S. citizenship and a doctorate or, in some cases, recognizable professional standing. The application deadline is July 1, 1973. Additional information from: Committee on International Exchange of Persons, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20418.

OUTWARD BOUND--Minnesota Unusual Wilderness Experience

The Lilly Endowment has provided full tuition and limited travel cost for 25 faculty members to attend one of the summer courses, 26 days in length. For details call Mrs. Neiman, Ext. 519.

PROPOSALS FOR INITIAL STUDIES ON SOLAR ENERGY USE FOR HEATING AND COOLING BUILDINGS WANTED

The National Science Foundation has issued a solicitation for proposals for initial studies in solar energy utilization which could lead to proof-of-concept experiments concerned with the heating and cooling of buildings.

Activities will involve systems studies to establish requirements for combined solar heating and cooling equipment for buildings; assessment of the potential economic, social, and environmental impacts of such applications; and identification of combinations of systems, building types, and regional characteristics suitable for proof-of-concept experiments.

If the initial studies so warrant, the Foundation will continue the project into a second phase of preliminary system design and testing of critical subsystems. A third phase would provide the date and operating experience necessary to establish the competitive effectiveness of solar energy systems.

Further information about the project may be obtained by contacting the Office of Public Technology, National Science Foundation, Washington, D.C. 20550.
