WILLIAM & MARY

Dr. Franklin A. Munsey Joins Dr. Cilley

Dr. Munsey

Both he and Dr. Cilley plan to emphasize a program of health education at William and Mary. Health education will probably be on the informal basis of providing students with advice and counsel.

Dr. Munsey's work on an education committee of the Winnebago County Medical Society reflects his interest in health education. He was president of the Society in 1967.

He served as chairman of the Winnebago County Board of Health; vice president of the Child Development Association; and president of the Winnebago County Heart Association.

In 1968 he served two months as a volunteer physician at the civilian hospital in Bac Lieu, in Vietnam.

A native of Massachusetts, Dr. Munsey is a graduate of Dartmouth College. He was an intern in the Gorgas Hospital in the Canal Zone and completed his residency in pediatrics at the Research and Educational Hospital in Chicago. He and his wife, Shirley, have four sons and a daughter.

Dr. Franklin A. Munsey has joined the staff of Student Health Services as assistant director.

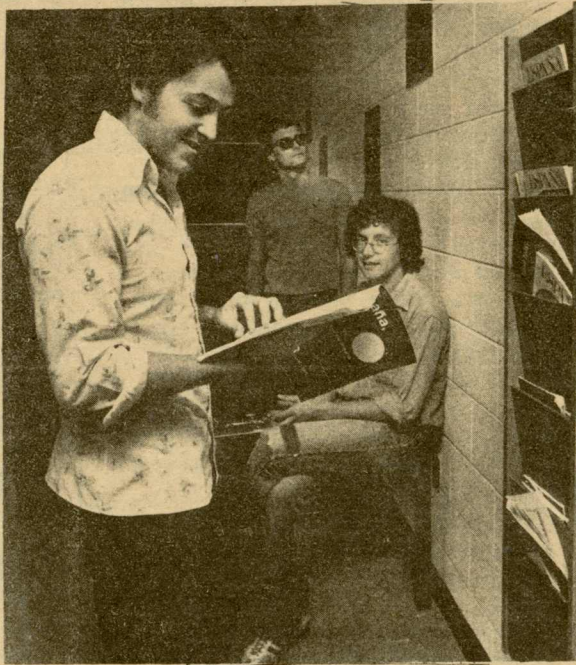

A pediatrician in Rockford, Ill., with 24 years of private practice as background, Dr. Munsey has "a special interest in young people--their health as well as their education."

New Language Houses are Opened

Among the new faces on campus are three European University students who will be program leaders in the recently established Language Houses on campus.

Gerhard Csoma from Germany, Luis Seco Romero from Spain, and Jean Ritter from France will be native speakers in the three houses which have been set up in the residence complex which also includes Project Plus.

The new program, proposed by the College's Committee on Foreign Study, extends the language learning experience beyond the classroom.

Romero (l), Ritter, & Csoma

A "get acquainted" party will be held for the residents of the Language Houses, Friday, September 14, from 7:30-11 p.m., in units 5-6-9. Members of the Modern Languages Department faculty and their spouses are invited to attend.

In announcing the new program earlier this year, Vice President Healy said, "This pilot project, supportive of the academic program, is aimed at providing students with 'total immersion' in language study by adding the unstructured learning situation of a residence program to the conventional classroom instruction."

Program planners hope to include members of the community who have lived, studied, or traveled abroad to participate in special programs at the Houses. Guest speakers, including other students, embassy and government officials, scientists, artists and businessmen, will also be invited to the Houses.

Participation in the Language Houses program is elective. There is no course credit given.

CW Sponsors Reception for New Students

Approximately 1,000 freshmen and incoming students attended a reception at the colonial Governor's Palace on Tuesday, Sept. 4. The late afternoon event offered a variety of colonial entertainment and an opportunity to see the colonial building and its gardens. Senior Vice President Duncan Cocke of Colonial Williamsburg welcomed the group and offered the hope that they would enjoy the buildings of the restoration organization while they are students and would return in later years. A variety of activities included balladier William Tayler Vrooman, Jr., a recorder trio in the Palace ballroom, the Colonial Williamsburg Fife and Drum Corps, the Colonial Dancers, and the modern music of Charlie Costa and "The Cavaliers" and "The Family of Man" singers. Costa was given an "Indians" sticker by Cocke, who is a William and Mary alumnus and agreed to rename his group the "Indians" for one night only. In addition to the Costa music, one of the big hits of the evening was the opportunity provided by the dancers for members of the class of '77 to try a dance popular in another '77 - 1777.

$61,400 NSF Grant Awarded College

A grant of $61,400 has been made to William and Mary by the National Science Foundation for a program being undertaken by the College's Metropolitan Criminal Justice Center in Norfolk.

The one-year grant is one of two such grants awarded in the nation, the other recipient being the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

The project is entitled "Evaluation of Policy-Related Research on the Exercise of Discretion by Law Enforcement Officials." This project is under the direction of W. Anthony Fitch, director of the Pilot City Program, which is administered by the Metropolitan Criminal Justice Center.

The program will evaluate all previous research in terms of its internal and external validity, investigate its policy implications and study additional research to be undertaken in the future in the field of discretionary decisions by criminal justice agencies.

According to Mr. Fitch, no comprehensive study of the means by which criminal justice officials make discretionary decisions has been done in the past. Such decisions have a tremendous effect on the crime rate, which is influenced by such factors as the number of accused being arrested and tried, he added.

Editorship Open

Students who wish to be considered for the Editorship of the Flat Hat for this academic year should apply, in writing, to Professor Tom Collins (Law), chairman of the Publications Council, prior to noon Friday, Sept. 14, submitting at least two letters of reference. CAMPUS PROFILE / Marvin F. Smither Woodworking is not only a job for Marvin F. Smither, cabinet-maker, it's a hobby too.

An employee of the College for two years, Mr. Smither explained, "I've been working with wood for over 40 years, ever since my father gave me my first set of tools as a child."

Using mainly white pine and fir for his projects on campus, Mr. Smither has made items including cabinets, bookcases, and counters. He sends them on to the Paint Department for finishing and installation in College buildings.

Prior to moving to Toano in 1967, his woodworking led Mr. Smither to construction of a 1-1/2 story Cape Cod house in his native Kilmarnock. He has constructed most of the furniture for his home in Toano, including end tables, lamps, and numerous other items. His most recent project was building a 24-room birdhouse for purple martins.

A graduate of Lancaster High School in Kilmarnock, Mr. Smither has been a teacher of Industrial Arts at White Stone High School, a maintenance supervisor for the Williamsburg-James City County school system, and a self-employed cabinetmaker. He served for four years in the Navy during World War II, including three and one half years spent in the Pacific as a member of the Seabees.

Mr. Smither and his wife, Nancye, have two sons. Colin is an offset machine operator with the Fredericksburg Free Lance Star, and Thomas, also a resident of Toano, is a gardener for Colonial Williamsburg. Mr. Smither is a member of the James City County Ruritan Club and attends Smith Memorial Church in Lightfoot. In addition to woodworking, Mr. Smither enjoys hunting in his spare time.
