Indonesian Dancers to Perform

The Student Association and the Committee on College-Wide Social Events will sponsor a performance by the Indonesian Embassy cultural music and dance group at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 22, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. There will be no admission charge.

The Ambassador of Indonesia to the United States and Mrs. Sjarif Thajeb will be special guests for the performance.

The group of 35 musicians and dancers will perform in a temple setting from the island of Bali.

The sound of the gamelon orchestra, a compilation of unusual instruments from the Far East, played by musicians in Balinese costumes, will accompany the dancers. The elaborate costumes of the dancers, the music and the dance vary from island to island and represent some of the major islands that make up the Indonesian archipelago--Java, Sumatra, West Java, Bali, and the Moluccas.

The dances will include the Sumatran candle dance, dances from Java representing the stories of the Ramayan, the mythology epic of Indonesia, the folk dances of the Moluccas, and the graceful Legong, Baris, and Butterfly dances of Bali.

Before the performance and during intermission there will be a display of the many and varied handicrafts of Indonesia in the lobby of Phi Beta Kappa Hall. The audience will be welcomed to the stage after the performance to see the gamelon instruments, meet the musicians and dancers, and ask questions about Indonesia and its more than 3000 islands.

She replaces Sue Welch, who resigned her position as assistant cataloger in June.

CAMPUS PROFILE / Mary Mann

Many visitors to the Admissions Office in Ewell can recall seeing Mary "Mollie" Mann quietly assuming her duties as secretary to dean of admissions Bob Hunt. Few, however, would suspect that this charming lady has travelled so extensively during her 20 years as a military wife.

A native of Melbourne, Australia, Mrs. Mann's first trip to the U.S. brought her to San Francisco in 1946 as the wife of CWO John Mann. The Manns met while he was stationed in Sydney. Mr. and Mrs. Mann and daughter Margaret made their home in the Bay City for five years.

Margaret is the wife of Jack Battenfield, director of information services at Old Dominion University. They have two sons, John, 3-1/2, and Michael, 1.

When Mr. Mann went to Japan and Korea from 1951-52, Mrs. Mann returned to Australia. Mr. Mann's tour of duty took him from there to Fort Monroe where he was stationed from 1952-55. From 1955-59 the Manns were stationed in Fountainebleau, France. They came to the Williamsburg area and set up permanent residence here when Mr. Mann retired from the service. Mr. Mann has been a manpower research analyst with the Virginia Employment Commission in Richmond since 1961.

In addition to military travel, Mrs. Mann has visited Germany, Holland, Switzerland, Italy, Spain, and England. She has also travelled cross country in the U.S.

When queried about some of the most exciting sights during her travels, Mrs. Mann, taking only a second to think, said "the cathedrals of Europe and the oldness of things."

Mrs. Mann worked two summers at the Jamestown Festival gift shop before joining the Admissions staff in 1962 as a clerk-typist.

A member of St. Bede's Catholic Church in Williamsburg, Mrs. Mann's hobbies are knitting, reading, particularly American history, and corresponding with relatives abroad, especially with her two uncles in South Africa.

Official Memoranda

TO: Heads of All State Agencies, Institutions and Departments

ATTENTION: Transportation Officers

At the August meeting of the Transportation and Public Safety Staff, one of the items brought to Secretary Whitham's attention was the use of head restraints on State vehicles. I quote from the minutes the following:

"Mr. Hanna brought to the attention of the staff his observations that head restraints are not being properly adjusted in State automobiles. He stated that the head restraint when placed at its lowest position is harmful rather than beneficial to the driver. Mr. Britton was asked to bring this subject to the attention of the Car Pool Committee to see if drivers of State vehicles could be made aware of this hazard."

The office of the Highway Safety Division advises that the correct position is to have the upper level of the head restraint at the level of the ears.

It would be appreciated if you will call this subject to the attention of those users of pool vehicles.

Fall Flowers Bloom on New Campus

Gayle Yamada

One student's pocket-sized gardening project, started last spring, has brightened up a corner of the new campus this fall.

In a brick and concrete box now abloom with flowers, Gayle Yamada, a sophomore from Arlington, can see the results of her efforts to beautify and enliven the area around her residence hall.

A member of the Project Plus academic-residential community this year, as a freshman, Ms. Yamada lived in an adjacent New Complex building, in an area of the campus awaiting landscaping. When April came and the boxed-in garden areas remained empty, she began a beautification project which evolved into a group effort.

After she began preparing the soil for planting by digging with a stick, the resident advisor from Project Plus donated a shovel to the project. After the planting began, nearby residents and passersby would stop to "give moral support or to participate," she said.

In a period of several days, she planted zinnias, poppies, asters, African daisies and marigolds. One person gave a bucket to the project and this gift was later improved upon by the donation of a hose.

The project got a boost this summer from a maintenance crew who, after digging up weeds from nearby boxes, laid aside their tools and weeded the flower garden on hands and knees.

"When I left for the summer, I worried that the flowers wouldn't survive the heat. I thought about them once in a while and wondered how they were doing. When I came back, I found that everything except the poppies had bloomed," Ms. Yamada said.

New Cassette Recorders

The Modern Languages Laboratory in Washington Hall 300 has been re-equipped with individual cassette recorders. The new equipment allows a much greater flexibility of use than the previous system. Students can check out cassette copies of their lab lessons, play them on the recorders, and record and play back their own voices for comparison with the model speaker. They have complete control over the progress of the lesson, being able to stop and start the tape at will, and repeat a passage, or the entire lesson, if necessary.

New duplicating equipment also allows the lab technician to make cassette copies quickly and easily, and if a student wishes to have a copy of a lab lesson for use at home, he need only provide a blank cassette tape for that purpose.

Faculty and staff members who wish to develop or brush up skills in a foreign language are welcome to avail themselves of the new lab facilities.

Gary A. Smith (Ext. 424), chairman of the lab committee, will be glad to answer any questions which faculty members might have regarding the operation of the lab.

Varsity Basketball

Students interested in playing varsity or junior varsity basketball are asked to meet in the Conference Room of W&M Hall, 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 19.

Awareness Groups Formed

Personal growth groups are now being organized by the Center for Psychological Services and will be led by professional staff members of the Center. These will be small groups within which members can increase awareness of their own needs and how they communicate with and respond to others. These groups will start during the last week of September and meet for two hours once a week for ten weeks. For more information call Ext. 231.

Pre-Law Adviser on Campus

Dave Stuckel, pre-law adviser, will be available in the Office of Placement, Ewell Hall on Mondays and Wednesdays from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. or by appointment. Anyone needing assistance or information in applying to law school should contact Mr. Stuckel.

Junior Lectureships Offered

Applications will be accepted until November 1, for junior lectureships in American studies in Belgium, France, Italy and Spain for the academic year 1974-75. Applicants should be advanced graduate students or scholars who have recently completed the Ph.D., preferably in American literature, American history or government, but also in economics, geography, psychology, or sociology. Good knowledge of French or Spanish is required for appointments in France or Spain.

One award is also to be offered to a junior scholar for research in Belgium in some aspect of Atlantic studies.

Additional information and application forms are available from the Committee on International Exchange of Persons, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20418.
