College Responds to Emergency Budget Reduction

President Thomas A. Graves, Jr., today released to the College community a memorandum from Governor Linwood Holton on the current budget emergency and his response to the Governor's request.

From Governor's Office

Date: December 4, 1973

From: Thomas A. Graves, Jr., President
To: All Members of the College Community
Subject: Emergency Budget Reduction

The following memorandum has been received from Governor Holton:

November 27, 1973

MEMORANDUM

TO HEADS OF ALL STATE AGENCIES:

I am in the final stages of preparing the 1974-76 biennial budget. An important factor in this preparation is the estimate for current year general fund revenues.

I have just received revised estimates for the current biennium. The figures indicate that general fund revenues will fall short of estimates by 1.8 percent or over $43 million. (Individual and corporate income tax revenues are estimated to be down $99 million and sales tax and other miscellaneous revenues are estimated to be up $56 million.) This, coupled with deficit budget requests and excess spending of estimated sum-sufficient appropriations, creates a significant general fund problem in the current biennium.

I have directed the Secretaries of the Cabinet, in cooperation with the Division of the Budget, to effect a program of minimum spending for the remainder of this biennium. They have been instructed to have you trim your spending to the lowest level possible. I need accurate estimates of the potential general fund savings, immediately followed by a full statement of anticipated savings by program area.

The State must live within its budget and I must submit a balanced budget to the next General Assembly. Your usual cooperation in these very serious problems is appreciated, and I will expect each of you to make every effort to see that reversions equalling at least 5 percent of your total current biennial general fund budget are returned to the State Treasury as of 30 June 1974.

Linwood Holton
Governor

From President Graves

Pursuant to this emergency request, the College has carefully reviewed its 1973-74 budget and has concluded that by stringent economies and the cooperation of all concerned, it will be possible to effect reversions to the General Fund in the amount of $151,267. Of this total figure, $140,600 represents .84% of the 1972-74 biennial General Fund appropriation for Educational and General activities, with $10,667 being returned from capital outlay funds which will not be used before the end of the current fiscal year.

In order to effect such a cutback in spending, it is necessary that we administer an "across the board" cut of 7-1/2% in all areas of the 1973-74 budget except those of personal services and computer services. At this point in the fiscal year, such a reduction amounts to an effective rate of 15% for the remainder of the year, through June 30, 1974.

It should be emphasized that such action will not result in any loss of jobs, or salary reductions, or denial of merit increases which might normally be available.

The specific areas in which savings are to be effected include travel of all types, the purchase of office and laboratory supplies and equipment, the purchase of library books, the deferral of minor renovation and/or construction projects, a reduction in printing to include only those approved by the Director of Publications as being necessary for the continuation of academic activities and effective administration of the College, the limited use of long-distance telephoning, a reduction in the use of car pool vehicles, and similar general economies. Also, no new classified positions will be established, and replacements in currently-established positions will be hired only when essential to the continuing effective operation of the College.

As an example of the type of thought which might be given to this problem, Carter Lowance and I have cancelled a scheduled trip to Houston this month for the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Purchase requisitions for which purchase orders have not yet been issued will be returned to the appropriate department heads for review and reconsideration, in the light of this budgetary exigency.

Obviously, a 5% reduction in biennial General Fund appropriations would be unrealistic for the College of William and Mary, but we must exert every possible effort toward accomplishing the relatively limited goal we have noted above, since such effort at this time could well affect the appropriation which might be forthcoming for the 1974-76 biennium.

This response is made with a full awareness that there will be some dislocations in the overall College program. However, we must resolve to respond to the Governor's directive without drastically hampering the effective operation of the College.

Accordingly, I ask all members of this College community to direct the full force of their collective efforts toward the accomplishment of this goal which we have been obliged to set for ourselves, as a result of Governor Holton's firm directive.

Campus Exhibits

Drawings and paintings by Carlton Abbott of Williamsburg, ending Friday, December 14.

Paintings by Professor Thomas Elston Thorne, Andrews Hall, ending Sunday, February 3. The gallery is open from 1-5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday and will be closed during the period December 17-January 1.

Morton Hall Dedication Set

Richard Lee Morton Hall, the new social sciences building, will be dedicated December 5 in a ceremony to be held at noon.

President Thomas A. Graves, Jr., will preside and will give the opening remarks. Remarks will also be given by Harold L. Fowler, professor of history and dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences; Ludwell H. Johnson III, chairman of the Department of History;

Davis Y. Paschall, President Emeritus of the College; and R. Harvey Chappell, Jr., of Richmond, rector of the Board of Visitors.

Mr. Morton, now 84, is regarded as one of Virginia's most distinguished living historians. He joined the College faculty in 1919 and was chairman of the History Department from 1921 until his retirement in 1959.

College Tightens Security Program

The College has issued a four-point program to strengthen further security on the campus.

These actions come on the heels of an already active program of campus security which the College initiated this year.

William J. Carter, vice president for business affairs, will seek to employ immediately additional security policemen on a temporary arrangement, pending action on the College's budget request for five additional permanent members of the staff.

A notice went out last week from the office of W. Samuel Sadler, dean of students, to all resident students, outlining precautions that should be taken by students for their own security. These include expanded use of the card-key system in the residence halls and use of the student escort service.

The Campus Security Police have been authorized to make spot checks for identification during the evening hours on campus. Students have been asked to carry their I.D. cards with them at all times.

Top priority has been given to any necessary security related physical improvements to women's residence halls which may be identified in an intensive maintenance check being undertaken. A similar check of men's residence halls will follow.

In announcing the new security measures, Mr. Carter also restated the security measures already undertaken by the College.

The new post of director of safety and security has been established and a veteran New York City policeman, Harvey P. Gunson, has been selected to fill the post.

Fifty of the campus lights have been changed from incandescent lighting to mercury vapor, the first step in an overall program to put the entire campus lighting system on mercury vapor lighting. Mercury vapor lights will provide more than twice the luminance without using any additional power. Parts for the conversion of an additional 50 lights have been ordered. Additional floodlighting is being installed at residence hall entrances. The College has made a request for $126,000 in capital outlay funds to completely revamp the campus lighting system.

A secretary has been employed for the security office which has been relocated in larger quarters in the center of the campus. The radio system at the office has been upgraded and additional equipment has been purchased.

A volunteer student escort service has been initiated by the Student Association in cooperation with the Security Police.

Six students are being used as "plainclothes" security staff members at night to augment the regular security force. It is hoped that additional students can be added.

In announcing the new security measures, Mr. Carter said that the College was working closely with the Williamsburg Police Department in seeking ways to help tighten the security of the campus.

Since the beginning of the academic year in September, ten incidents, including one rape, have been reported.

Mr. Sadler said he would work through the Residence Hall Councils and staff to encourage the full cooperation of students in the proposals for their safety that he has outlined.

Recommendations made by Mr. Sadler are as follows:

--Women should limit their after-dark movement on campus to essential needs.

--No woman should be out on campus alone after dusk.

--Persons should walk on campus after dark only with an escort or in groups of three.

--No woman should study alone in any non-residence hall at any time.

--UTILIZE THE ESCORT SERVICE!

--Use only the exterior door in which the card-key system is located for entering and leaving residence halls and make sure the door closes securely behind you. Please do not use other entrances in order that they might remain secure.

--Check the screens on your windows to be certain that they are secured.

--Check the window locks on ground and first floor windows and keep these windows locked after dark.

--Lock the door to your room at all times but especially when you are sleeping. Open the door only to persons who identify themselves properly.

--Carry your William and Mary ID card with you when you leave your residence. Campus Security Police have been authorized to check the identity of persons on the campus when they feel that it is necessary. Please cooperate.

--Report any irregularity immediately to the Campus Police, the Residence Staff and/or the personnel deans.

EMERGENCY NUMBERS FOR CAMPUS SECURITY POLICE

Ext. 550
or 229-2775

The above phones, manned on a 24-hour basis, ring simultaneously in the Security Office and Campus Switchboard. All other calls should be directed to Ext. 596 or 597.

--Be alert to any conspicuous stranger or unusual activity on campus.

RESIDENCE HALL COUNCILS ARE REQUESTED TO EMPLOY THE CARD-KEY SYSTEM FROM 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 a.m.

Please exercise these measures of precaution for your and others' safety.

Campus Christmas Festivities Begin Sunday, Dec. 9

There are signs of Christmas on campus.

Decorations are going up; singers and musicians are rehearsing for the choir and chorus Christmas concerts.

The season will be officially ushered in on Sunday, December 9, with the traditional yule log ceremony in the Great Hall of the Wren Building.

This year the ceremony will be followed by a college-wide carol sing, with music by a brass band.

Mortar Board and Omicron Delta Kappa will jointly sponsor the Yule Log ceremony in the courtyard of the Wren from 6-8 p.m., Sunday evening.

The log will be brought in and each person in the audience will be given a chance to touch the log with holly and throw the holly into the fire--signifying a wish for the near new year or a casting off of old troubles--depending upon which legend is applied.

Paul Jost, president of Interhall, has announced that immediately following the yule log ceremony a 10-piece brass band will lead carolers along the Jefferson-Barrett-Chandler residence complex, stopping at Landrum to see Christmas decorations and have refreshments; then across campus to the Bryan complex, by the Student Health Services Center to Yates, on to Units 5 and 6, the French and German Houses in the Botetourt Residence Halls and ending up at duPont where residents will have a gaily decorated Christmas Tree in the lobby, and a fire in the fireplace to greet the singers.

Mr. Jost said he hopes the campus carol sing will become a Christmas tradition along with the yule log ceremony.

This year will mark the 29th Christmas concert for the choir and chorus and director Carl A. "Pappy" Fehr's final holiday concert before he retires.

This year Mr. Fehr will direct 176 singers and 55 musicians of the College-Community Symphony Orchestra in selections from Handel's "Messiah."

The concerts will be given Dec. 11, 12 and 13 at 8:15 p.m. each evening in Phi Beta Kappa Hall. Tickets are $1.50 and are available at the College switchboard in James Blair Hall, Schmidt's Music Shop in Merchants Square and from members of the choir and chorus.

The program, said Mr. Fehr, will include the entire Christmas section of the "Messiah" and selections as well from parts II and III.

Soloists will include Linn Donat, Virginia Beach; Trudy Campbell, Waynesboro; Jane Koenig, Warrenton; Virginia Carr, Delmar, N.Y.; Keith Savage, Hampton; and trumpeteer Roger Danier, Union, N.J.

Accompanist for the choir during rehearsals has been Kathleen Moriarty of Fairfax; and for the chorus, James Wilcox, Springfield. Director of the College-Community Symphony Orchestra is Alan Stewart of the Music Department.

Project Plus Sponsors Indian Philosopher

Project Plus will sponsor a lecture and discussion of "Indian Approaches to Conflict," by Vishawanath Naravane, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Millington Hall.

The public is invited to attend. The lecture is part of the continuing series of forums on aspects of "Conflict and Conflict Resolution" which is the main theme of the Project Plus program this year.

Tonight's lecture is the first to be arranged with funds from a grant to the College earlier this year by the S&H Foundation, Inc. The grant was one of 36 that were made to colleges and universities by the Foundation which is sponsored by the Sperry and Hutchinson Company, distributors of S&H Green Stamps.

Mr. Naravane, formerly a member of the Philosophy Department at the University of Allahabad and reader in philosophy at Jodhpur University, spoke at the College in 1971.

His publications include Stories from the Indian Classics, The Philosophy of Rabindranath Tagore, Modern Indian Thought and The Elephant and the Lotus.

Alumni Society Votes $5000 for Campus Security

The board of directors of the Society of the Alumni voted at its annual meeting Saturday to contribute $5,000 to the College for security purposes.

The Society also called for a review by College authorities of rules and codes that relate directly to the matters of social regulations and campus conduct.

The Society supported President Thomas A. Graves' recent report to the State Council of Higher Education "with particular emphasis on maintaining the College's present mission as regarding its academic philosophy and current enrollment policies."

At the meeting Colin R. Davis of Suffolk, class of '50, was elected to a third term as president.

Glen E. McCaskey of Hilton Head Island, S.C., was elected vice president and Mrs. Jean Canoles Bruce of Norfolk was elected secretary-treasurer.

SA Christmas Float Places First

The Student Association, with its float of toy soldiers, puppets, and other Christmas visions, placed first in the Colonial Capital Christmas parade last Saturday.

'Red-Shafted Flicker' Prints Available at the Law School

Prints of the "Red-Shafted Flicker" by Guy Coheleach, which have been donated to the Marshall-Wythe School of Law for the Environmental Law Fund, are now available at the Law School.

Patricia Hurd, president of the Marshall-Wythe Law Wives, and Janet Weber, vice-president of the organization, will be administering the sale and processing of the 500 prints, given by Mr. Coheleach, a leading wildlife painter and conservationist.

Beginning today through Friday, December 7, a table will be set up on the second floor of the Law School for the sale of the prints. Cost of a print is $25 or $26 if prepared for shipping. Mail orders should be addressed to the Environmental Law Fund, P.O. Box 1693, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., 23185. After this week, prints will also be available at the Development Office. The College seal may be stamped on the prints upon request.

Mr. Coheleach has agreed to donate 20 prints of each of his original paintings he completes from now on to the Environmental Law Fund. The head of his own firm, Regency House Art, Inc., Mr. Coheleach generally paints six to eight works a year.

'Bernarda Alba' Begins December 4

"The House of Bernarda Alba," directed by Louis E. Catron, will be presented by the William and Mary Theatre Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, December 4, 6, 7 and 8, in Phi Beta Kappa Memorial Hall at 8:15 p.m.

The Theatre's box office, in the foyer of PBK, is open 3 to 5:30 p.m. today-Friday (Dec. 4-7) and again 7 to 8:15 p.m. the four nights of production; during these hours only, phone reservations are accepted at 229-3000, Ext. 272 or 469.

Car Pools

Because of the current energy crisis, indications are that individuals will have to curtail their use of automobiles. Accordingly College employees are being encouraged to form car pools to ride to and from work.

The William and Mary News will assist with this project by beginning next week a listing of persons who wish either to join a car pool or who would like to share their car.

Those wishing to be included in this listing are asked to send or bring to the News Office the following information: Name, area of residence, office phone number, before 5 p.m. Friday, December 7.

Please check next week's paper for car pool information. Readers will be asked to contact persons listed to arrange car pools. The News will not arrange travel schedules.

Environment Committee Seeks Suggestions on Saving Energy

The Campus Environment Committee is soliciting suggestions from members of the College community on significant ways of saving energy above and beyond the governor's guidelines. The Committee would also like to be informed if these guidelines are not being observed. All correspondence or calls should be directed to Carl Vermeulen, chairman of the Committee, at the Biology Department, or at Ext. 240.

EXECUTIVE ORDER NUMBER THIRTY-SIX

I. By virtue of the authority vested in me by Section 44-146.17(7) of the Code of Virginia (1950), as amended, I declare a state disaster to exist because of the shortage of motor vehicle fuel. I hereby direct that the maximum speed limit for motor vehicles on any highway, as defined in Section 46.1-1(10), Code of Virginia (1950), as amended, shall not exceed fifty-five miles per hour. The State Highway Commissioner and other authorities having jurisdiction over the highways of this state are hereby directed to post appropriate signs commensurate with this order.

It is hereby declared that this order shall have the force and effect of law and any violation of the speed limit established herein shall be unlawful and constitute a misdemeanor, punishable as prescribed in Section 46.1-16, Code of Virginia (1950), as amended.

II. This order applies to state employees driving state vehicles and rescinds Executive Order Number Thirty-Five, Item 6, which directed that state vehicles be driven not in excess of fifty miles per hour.

III. Given under my hand and the Seal of the Commonwealth of Virginia this twenty-sixth day of November, 1973.

OFFICE OF DEVELOPMENT

AMERICAN ACADEMY IN ROME

The American Academy in Rome has established a December 31 deadline for receipt of applications for this year's Rome Prize Fellowships. These fellowships are awarded for creative work and advanced research in the fine arts, art history, and classical studies. A special fellowship is offered in post-classical and humanistic literature and musicology. It is expected that this study will center on a subject connected with Rome and her institutions and their relations with the rest of Europe in the post-classical period (AD 1300-AD 1800) and it will be based on source material primarily available in Rome.

Contact: Ms. Mary T. Williams, Executive Secretary,

SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH COUNCIL

The Social Science Research Council has set a deadline date of January 15, 1974 for fellowships offered at two eight-week seminars held in Latin America or the United States during June through August, 1974. These seminars provide young scholars with intensive training in new substantive areas of research, methods of analysis, and project design for future research on Latin America or the Caribbean. Eligible are graduate students and junior faculty members trained in disciplines relevant to the subject of each seminar and possessing a working knowledge of Portuguese or Spanish.

Office of Fellowships and Grants, 110 E. 59th Street,
New York, N.Y. 10022.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

The Smithsonian Institution has established a January 15 deadline date for receipt of applications to its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program. The Smithsonian offers appointments to those who wish to pursue postdoctoral research assignments in science, humanities and the arts in collaboration with a member of the professional research staff of the Institution. Most appointments are for twelve months; however, a minimum tenure of six months at a Smithsonian facility is required in order to receive a stipend. A limited number of $10,000 per annum stipends, supplemented by research and travel allowances, will be offered. Applicants must possess the Ph.D. or equivalent degree, and appointments are generally limited to those who have received the degree within five years of commencing their work at the Smithsonian. Contact: Office of Academic Studies, Room 356, SI Building, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. 20560.

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO GRADUATE LIBRARY SCHOOL

Postdoctoral fellowships will be offered over a two-year period beginning in June 1974. The fellowships will be awarded to persons with Ph.D.'s in fields other than librarianship for work toward the M.A. degree in librarianship at Chicago. Fellows will receive full tuition and stipends up to $7,800, depending on need and number of dependents.

The program seeks to enlist candidates who have demonstrated high intellectual achievement in other fields and, if given the opportunity, would find a career in librarianship challenging and rewarding.

Applications for 1974-75 will be received up to Feb. 1, 1974. Awards will be announced April 1, 1974. Interested candidates should apply to the Dean of Students, Graduate Library School, University of Chicago, 1100 East 57th Street, Chicago, Ill. 60637.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

RANN PROGRAM: The Division of Environmental Systems and Resources has issued guidelines (which are available in this office) for proposals. Major Program Areas are Regional Environmental Systems, Environmental Aspects of Trace Contaminants, and Weather Modification. The Division of Social Systems and Human Resources has issued a Program Solicitation for Decision-Related Research in the Field of Local Government Management. Deadline: January 24, 1974. Guidelines available.

1974 SUMMER INVESTIGATORS: Scientists planning to request research support for travel or programs for summer 1974 are reminded that proposals should be in the Foundation by December in order to allow for a reasonable period of review.

NATIONAL INSTITUTES OF HEALTH, NATIONAL LIBRARY OF MEDICINE announces continuation of its special scientific projects program which offers grants to encourage the scholarly exploration of the total effects upon society stemming from advances in health sciences. Funds may be used for salaries, travel, and other assistance to conduct research in preparation of comprehensive papers in a scholar's specialty area.

Deadlines: February 1, 1974 and June 1, 1974. Applicants are asked to first submit a brief statement of the nature of the proposed project to Division of Biomedical Information Support, Extramural Programs, National Library of Medicine, 8600 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, Md. 20014.

Personnel Bulletin

The following positions at the College are or will be vacant. Qualified employees who wish to be transferred to these positions may receive additional information at the College Personnel Office. The College of William and Mary is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Accordingly, women and minority employees are encouraged to apply for those positions for which they feel they are qualified.

CAMPUS PROFILE/Carol Sherman

"It's been a very different kind of year," says Carol Sherman, associate professor of dance, chairman of the Affirmative Advisory Committee.

She and her committee have amassed a great deal of material on the status of Affirmative Action on campus and have come up with a number of suggestions to implement the program more effectively at William and Mary. Although she sometimes feels a frustration that the pace of change is hard to quicken, Mrs. Sherman says she has enjoyed the opportunity her job has given her to better know the College community.

"Among the objectives of the committee," she said, "is a survey of the custodial workers on campus, similar to the study that was done last year on the clerical staff. Essentially, we want to serve as a sounding board for various constituencies on campus and to keep a sensitive ear to the ground."

"We also want to see that a fair assessment of job classification is done and that each job fits each description," she noted. The committee hopes to find a valid means of assessing credentials, explained Mrs. Sherman.

"We hope that in the future more women and minority group members will be placed in decision-making positions," she observed.

"Affirmative Action ensures getting back to what the Bill of Rights is all about. A great deal still needs to happen before we will be fully functioning in terms of Affirmative Action," she said.

The Affirmative Action Advisory Committee was formed this fall and one of its primary responsibilities will be to evaluate the Affirmative Action Report which was submitted to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in October. The committee is composed of 13 representatives from the faculty, staff, administration and the student body. It meets as a whole on the first Monday of the month with additional subcommittee work in the interim. Jerry Van Voorhis, administrative assistant to the president, serves as Affirmative Action coordinator.

Backdrop Plans 'Variety Show'

The Backdrop Club, a student sponsored theatre organization, will present a variety show, Sunday, Dec. 9, 8:30 p.m. in the Campus Center Ballroom. Proceeds will help defray the expense of the musical comedy which Backdrop will produce in the spring.

Fourteen veterans of previous Backdrop productions will perform a program that includes magic acts, songs, and an "erotic dancer." The evening's emphasis will be on music and song. Admission fee is 75¢, payable at the door.

Larry Conklin, the director of the variety show, played the lead in last spring's musical, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum."

Mrs. Sherman earlier chaired the Ad Hoc Committee for the Status of Women which was the forerunner of the Affirmative Action Advisory Committee. In addition to her committee work, she and Shirley Roby, also associate professor of dance, have made efforts to broaden the scope of her academic field. "Up until recently, dance has been treated as a physical education course rather than as a performing art," she said. Under the present system, students may now take dance courses to fulfill Area I, sequence, or interdisciplinary concentration requirements. "There is potential here for a good program in dance within an academic curriculum," she observed.

"I am pleased with the response we are getting from the men students on campus," added Mrs. Sherman. "Last year there were five men in Orchesis and this year we have three in Orchesis and five in the dance classes. We hope to be able to enroll more in the future, space permitting," she said.

Mrs. Sherman received the B.A. degree in theatre from Hollins College and her master's degree in dance from Sarah Lawrence College. She attended the Martha Graham Studio in New York and the Connecticut School of Dance and the Indiana University School of Music. She has performed in New York with the Pauline Koner Company and has appeared as soloist with the Jeff Duncan Company. She has choreographed and performed with the American Choreographers Workshop and has appeared in programs with the American Dance Festival. Her husband, Roger, is associate professor and chairman of the Department of Theatre and Speech.

Scholar Speaks on U. N.

John G. Stoessinger, director of the political affairs division of the United Nations, will speak Wednesday, December 12.

He will speak on "The United Nations: Breakdown or Breakthrough" at 8 p.m. in the Campus Center Little Theatre. His lecture is part of the current Visiting Scholars Series on campus arranged in cooperation with the University Center in Virginia, Inc.

'Scrooge' Presented Monday

On Monday, December 10, the Campus Center will again show the great Christmas film, "Scrooge," for the enjoyment of the entire College community.

Showings will be at 12:30, 4:30, 7 and 9 p.m., in the Campus Center Theatre. There will be no admission charge and everyone is invited.

Heiman, research associate, presented a lecture entitled "Magnetic Environment of Positive Muons in Fe" at the 19th Conference on Magnetism and Magnetic Materials in Boston, Mass., on November 13. The co-authors on this paper are M. L. G. Foy, graduate student, and W. J. Kossler, associate professor, of the College, and C. E. Stronach of Virginia State College.

Mr. Kossler presented a seminar on " γ rays Following π -Nucleus Reactions" at M.I.T. on November 13.

Igor Alexeff of the Electrical Engineering Department of the University of Tennessee will give three lectures during his visit to the Physics Department at the College, Dec. 10 through Dec. 14.

His lecture for general audiences on "Plasma Physics in Japan" will be held Wednesday, December 12 at 4 p.m. in Room 113 of Small Physical Laboratory.

Mr. Alexeff will also give two scientific lectures: "Plasma Physics Above One Billion Degrees Celsius," Monday, Dec. 10 at 4:30 p.m. in Small, Room 109; and "Explaining the Anomalous Success of the Osaka Theta Pinch," Thursday, Dec. 13 at 4:30 p.m. in Small 109.

He will also conduct informal discussions on various topics in plasma physics during his visit to the College.

Mr. Morton was a member of the Advisory Committee of Historians of Colonial Williamsburg from 1939 until 1943 and helped to organize the Institute of Early American History and Culture. He was the first editor of the third series of the William and Mary Quarterly, the leading scholarly periodical in the field of early American history.

Mr. Morton is best known for his research and writing in the field of early Virginia history. A major contribution in this field was his two-volume work, Colonial Virginia, published in 1960 by the University of North Carolina Press, Chapel Hill.

Mr. Morton was the recipient of another honor this year when a William and Mary alumnus, Jesse C. Phillips, established a trust in Mr. Morton's honor with the College's endowment association. Mr. Phillips is former general manager of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Harrisburg, Pa.

The fund will be used to assist needy students with scholarships and fellowships and will enable the College to pursue other scholarly activities in the field of history.

Mr. Phillips, a member of the class of 1924, was one of Dr. Morton's students.

Painting Exhibition Honors Thomas Thorne

Bruton Parish Church, Williamsburg.

Acrylics on canvas; 30 x 20. 1973.

The Department of Fine Arts exhibit of paintings by Thomas Elston Thorne in Andrews Hall will remain up through Sunday, February 3. The gallery will be open from 1-5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. It will be closed during the period Dec. 17-Jan. 1.

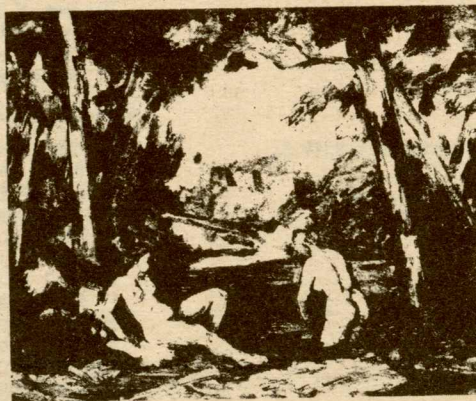

Professor Thomas E. Thorne combines the activities of instructor, artist and scholar. In 1940, he joined the faculty of the College as instructor in painting in the Department of Fine Arts. He became an associate professor in 1945 and a full professor twenty years later. As chairman of the Department from 1943 to 1970, he was instrumental in the considerable expansion of the fine arts program at the College.

Mr. Thorne is also an active art historian with a broad knowledge about past artists and with a painter's sensitivity to their styles and methods. He has lectured widely and has written for the press and for scholarly journals as a connoisseur and specialist in the history of Colonial American painting and architecture. Of particular importance is his research on Charles Bridges and other artists active in eighteenth-century Williamsburg.

His interest in colonial architecture led to his saving of Bel Mede, the plantation house built in Southampton County in 1770 and moved to Burns Lane in Williamsburg in 1946. The house is furnished with a fine collection of antiques brought together by Mr. Thorne and his wife, Lelia Agry Bancroft, whom he married in 1934.

Mr. Thorne has assembled an impressive collection of seventeenth- and eighteenth-century publications concerning art criticism, biography of artists and artistic instruction. He has donated these volumes as well as a complementary collection of more recent books on art to the Earl Gregg Swem Library where they will be kept as a distinct collection.

Bathers. Oil on canvas; 16 x 20.

Part of a series done in 1958 and paying homage to Cézanne.

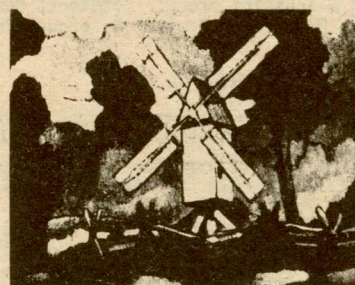

Allgood the Blacksmith of Williamsburg.

Oil on canvas; 30 x 24. 1959.

Nude Figure. Oil on canvas; 30 x 24. 1958.

Windmill in the Manner of Gauguin.

Oil on canvas; 20 x 24.

Men Swimmers Open Season Against UVA.

The men's varsity swimming team opened its season Saturday against the University of Virginia in Adair Pool.

The mermen lost to the University of Virginia by a score of 79-34.

Dudley M. Jensen, registrar, who coached the swimming team from 1951 through 1971, returns to the coaching ranks in an attempt to continue the team's overall winning tradition. Assisting him is long time veteran freshman and varsity coach Waldemar M. Riley who begins his 13th year of working with William and Mary teams. Mr. Riley will handle the freshman-J.V. team as well as assisting the varsity.

Assistant coach for the varsity is Joe Ackerman, captain of the 1972-73 team and holder of many records, who is now a graduate student.

John Greene, another graduate student and former swimmer, is assistant coach of the J.V. team.

The diving coach is Dennis Engel, who coached here from 1968 through 1971 before entering the Armed Forces.

Returning lettermen this year include Rusty Bruni, Kerry Dearfield, John MacIntyre, Dodge and Keith Havens, Mike Malpass, John Weiner, Robert Paronett, Rick Rhinehardt, Dan Ozer, Craig Deville, Paul Vining and Gene Grubbs.

The varsity team will meet VMI here on December 8 at 2 p.m. and Old Dominion University, Dec. 11 at 4 p.m.

Film on Military Defense Set

"Only the Strong," a film on the American military defense system, will be shown in Rooms A&B in the Campus Center Monday, December 10, at 7:30 p.m.

At the end of the film a peace poll on the President's Blue Ribbon Defense Panel statement will be conducted--the results of which will be tabulated by the Institute for American Strategy and published locally at a later date.

Christmas Bloodmobile

The Student Association will sponsor a special Christmas Bloodmobile for the Red Cross, Monday, December 10, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. in William and Mary Hall.

DAC Sponsors Film, Discussion

The Drug Action Center will show the cinema verité film, "Brian at Seventeen," Wednesday, December 5, in Bruton Parish House at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Following the film (which deals with a young boy trying to communicate with his mother) discussion groups will be held and coffee and tea will be served. The entire College community is invited to attend.

Convocation Date Changed

Change of Time: The Honors Convocation has been changed from April 19 to Monday evening, April 29. Please mark this change on your calendar.

The Honors Convocation Committee is attempting a somewhat different program this year. The program will be held in the evening, in Phi Beta Kappa Hall, hence regular classes will not be cancelled. The Convocation will be followed by a reception and refreshments in the Dodge Room. All members of the William and Mary community are invited to attend. Special invitations will also be extended. Please mark the change of date on your calendar.
