Midi-Mester Ends Friday

Stephen C. Clement, associate professor of geology, taught a class entitled "Introduction to Small Boat Sailing for Beginners," on Friday, January 18.

The class was part of a "midi-mester" offering of 19 short courses and workshops which began January 17 and will end this Friday.

Grants to Physics Dept.

The National Science Foundation has awarded two grants totaling $81,500 to members of the Physics Department for research being undertaken this year at the Brookhaven, Long Island, Laboratory Alternating Gradient Synchrotron.

A grant of $60,000 for "Experiments on the Properties of Antiprotonic and Sigma Hyperons" has been awarded to C. R. Cox, M. Eckhause, J. R. Kane and R. E. Welsh of the physics faculty and B. L. Roberts of Williamsburg, a graduate student. Work will be done in collaboration with physicists from Carnegie-Mellon University, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, the University of Wyoming, and the California Institute of Technology.

Arden Sher and J. F. Soest have been awarded $21,500 for research this year on Gallium Arsenide semi-conductors used in many exotic new devices upon which sophisticated technology depends. By studying very low concentrations of defects in these conductors - ten parts per billion - scientists will seek to understand more fully the physical phenomena that tend to limit the performance of devices constructed from these materials.

Swem Library Aids In Genealogical Search

David M. Sullivan of the Capitol Bank and Trust Company of Boston, Mass., is a genealogy buff and he recently got some assistance from the Reference Department at Swem Library which really delighted him.

For the past four years he has been searching Civil War records for some biographical facts on a young man who served in the Confederate Navy.

In the Guide to the Archives of the Government of the Confederate States of America he discovered Swem Library at William and Mary was listed as a depository of "Marine Corps Records in Other Custody." The extent of the library's holdings was not listed.

Mr. Sullivan called the library. Dortha H. Skelton, assistant reference librarian, started the search and found the document with the help of Herbert Ganter, College archivist, and Margaret Cook, curator of manuscripts.

The document was just one page of a roll book, "The Statistical Return of Company B, 1864, Confederate States Marine Corps, Alfred C. Van Benthuisen, commander."

For Mr. Sullivan's inquiry, however, the one page was sufficient. It listed the ancestor he had been tracing, Arthur Hayne Beall, son of Colonel Commandant of G. S. Marine Corps, Lloyd J. Beall. It confirmed for Mr. Sullivan that young Beall had served as a midshipman in the G. S. Navy but had been a marine recruit prior to that for about a month.

Mr. Sullivan wrote to Mrs. Skelton thanking her for the library's efforts on his behalf - "to say that I am merely pleased would be an understatement."

Papers Found in Attic

When the Bob Millers (mathematics) who live in College housing, called the carpenters Thursday to fix a leaky roof over their dining room, they didn't know the workmen would come up with an unusual find.

Donald Howard and Jesse West found in the attic space over the front of the building, a bundle of forgotten papers and letters.

One letter postmarked 1896 may have been written by a former resident of the house, James Moncure, superintendent of Eastern State Hospital from 1886-1898. The building, on Richmond Road, now two apartments, is known as the "Moncure Cottage."

Also included in the "cache" were two how-to needlework pamphlets from the 1920's, one advising housewives on effective ways of making and decorating window shades.

Mrs. Miller turned the papers over to the library where they are being processed for proper identification.

President's Calendar

President Graves will be the guest speaker at the January 22nd meeting of the Kiwanis Club in Petersburg.

Campus Exhibits

Paintings by Prof. Thomas Elston Thorne, Andrews Hall, ending February 3, 1-5 p.m. Wed. thru Sun.

Thomas F. Brummer's Frank Lloyd Wright collection, ending Wed., Jan. 23, Museum, Swem Library, 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Mon. thru Fri.; 9 a.m.-1 p.m. Sat.

President's Council

The first meeting of the newly established President's Council will be held Friday, February 8.

The Council is composed of major supporters of the College who will meet annually both to be honored for their commitment to the College and to discuss with President Graves and his staff, the future of the College.

President Graves will preside at the meeting February 8 which will convene at 2 p.m. A reception at the President's House and dinner that evening at the Campus Center will be followed by entertainment provided by the Backdrop Club.

Members of the Council will host a morning coffee February 9, prior to the Charter Day convocation for those invited to the ceremony. Members of the Council will be guests at the convocation which will be addressed by Edgar F. Shannon, president of the University of Virginia.

VBA Adopts Resolution

The Virginia Bar Association, meeting in Williamsburg Friday, January 18, adopted the following resolution:

RESOLVED, That the Executive Committee of the Virginia Bar Association applauds the location of the National Center for State Courts in Williamsburg, to be located on property made available by the College of William and Mary;

And that the Executive Committee further endorses the location of the College's Marshall-Wythe School of Law on the adjacent site, not only as an essential complement to the National Center, but also providing much needed Law School facilities for the citizens of this Commonwealth.

Official Memoranda

Date: January 16, 1974

From: Thomas A. Graves, Jr., President

To: The College Community

At its meeting on January 11, 1974, the Board of Visitors passed a Resolution authorizing a study of the College athletic policies as follows:

AUTHORIZING A STUDY OF WILLIAM AND MARY ATHLETIC POLICIES

Present policy governing intercollegiate athletics at William and Mary was adopted by the Board of Visitors in 1961. Since that time, Board review has been limited largely to consideration of the annual athletic budgets. In 1971 the Faculty Athletic Committee summarized existing practices in a fourteen-point statement that was transmitted via the President to the Board of Visitors for its information and examination, without request for revision or other consideration.

Since enunciation of the policy in 1961, a number of developments have taken place which indicate a thorough review of policies and practices is warranted. These developments include a continuing period of inflation with its eroding effects on all fixed-dollar budgets; major changes in the leadership of the athletic program, including the Director of Athletics and members of the coaching staffs; changes in the rules and membership of athletic conferences; increasing demands for broader support for the women's intercollegiate and intramural athletic programs which serve approximately one-half the student body; and, despite an accelerated volume of support from alumni and friends of the College, a recurring problem of balancing the men's athletic budget.

William and Mary continues to enjoy a high quality program of intercollegiate and intramural athletics, guided by an outstanding men's athletic director and able coaching staffs and by similarly highly qualified leaders in the field of women's athletics. These individuals and members of the faculties, the administration, and the student body recognize that current problems are not likely to diminish in the near future and feel that a comprehensive study of the overall situation is a prerequisite to setting long-term policies. Hopefully, such an examination can identify measures to augment and better distribute revenues so that the quality and scope of programs can be maintained.

RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors hereby authorizes a comprehensive review of William and Mary Athletic policies, covering both men and women and both intercollegiate and intramural activities, by a special committee to be appointed by the President of the College.

RESOLVED, further, that the findings and recommendations of the Committee be prepared in time for consideration by the President and the Board of Visitors at its November 1974 meeting.

Accordingly, I have appointed the following special committee to undertake a comprehensive review of athletic policies, covering both men and women and both intercollegiate and intramural activities. I am asking this committee to report its findings and recommendations to me no later than November 8, 1974, so that I may transmit this report and make my recommendations regarding it to the Board of Visitors at its meeting on November 22, 1974. The committee is as follows:

Joy Archer	faculty member; member of Athletic Committee for Women
Ben Carnevale	Director of Athletics; member of Athletic Policy Committee for Men
Ben R. Cato, Jr.	faculty member; member of Athletic Policy Committee for Men
Roy L. Champion	faculty member; member of Athletic Policy Committee for Men
Peter Derks	faculty member; member of Athletic Policy Committee for Men
Jeffrey Greim	student; member of Athletic Policy Committee for Men
Toni Hoke	student; member of Athletic Committee for Women

Edward E. Jones

faculty member; Director of Intramurals

Mildred West

faculty member; Chairman, Athletic Committee for Women; member of Athletic Policy Committee for Men

Richard Walck

faculty member; member of Athletic Policy Committee for Men

J. H. Willis, Jr.,
Chairman

faculty member; Chairman of Athletic Policy Committee for Men

Professor Willis plans to have his committee consult with the leadership of the Educational Foundation and with other interested parties, both inside and outside the College, in the course of the discussions this winter and spring, prior to the development of the report during the summer and early fall. All who wish to do so are encouraged to express their views to Professor Willis.

Thomas A. Graves, Jr.
President

PERSONNEL BULLETIN

Supplemental Retirement Annuity

A new form of TIAA and CREF annuity contract, the Supplemental Retirement Annuity, may now be purchased on an individual basis by members of the faculty and staff. SRA contracts are available only for extra payments over and above the employer and employee contributions remitted under the Commonwealth of Virginia Supplemental Retirement System (VSRS) Plan. The purchase of SRA contracts is not contributed to in any way by the employer. Individual brochures on this plan may be obtained by contacting the College Personnel Office.

1974 Social Security Deduction

Recently enacted Social Security amendments increased the amount of wages taxable under Social Security in 1974 from $12,600 (as announced in the William and Mary News on December 11, 1973) to $13,200. The contribution rate for each employee will remain at 5.85% on the first $13,200 of their gross annual salary.

Job Openings

The following positions at the College are or will be vacant. Qualified employees who wish to be transferred to these positions may receive additional information at the College Personnel Office. The College of William and Mary is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Accordingly, women and minority employees are encouraged to apply for those positions for which they feel they are qualified.

National Academy of Sciences

The second in a series of forums held to clarify the scientific aspects of major national issues will be held in Washington, January 29-30. Subject of the two-day meeting will be "Energy: Alternatives and Risks." Included will be discussions on alternatives of reserves and resources, supply and demand, demand and conservation, environmental health and safety, public and private roles, regulation, research and development and energy and human values.

Cochairmen of the forum will be Arthur M. Bueche, General Electric Co. and Philip Morrison, MIT.

Admission is free. For further information, contact Robert R. White, Director, Academy Forum, 2101 Constitution Ave., Washington, D.C. 20418

Washington Internships in Education

This program is part of the George Washington University for Educational Leadership, sponsored by the Ford Foundation. Interns spend three-fourths of their time assigned to a public or private agency and the remaining time in seminars and field trips. Placements for 1974-75 will be available in Washington, D.C. and in the state capitals of Ohio and Illinois. The typical intern is 30 years of age, has had about four years of experience in education, two or three years outside of education, and has demonstrated evidence of maturity and leadership capability. Application forms can be obtained from Washington Internships in Education, Suite 606, 2000 L Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Deadline: March 1, 1974

Minority Students - Post-baccalaureate pre-medical program

Connecticut College, New London, Conn., announces a new program to begin September, 1974: an intensive year of academic science study specifically geared to redirect and help Black and Puerto Rican non-science college graduates fill preprofessional requirements for admission to medical or dental school.

Applicants may be recent college graduates as well as older individuals wishing to expand their goals after college.

Stipend covers tuition for the six-course, two semester program, plus laboratory fees, books, living expenses and travel to nearby medical schools. For further information write: Dean Jewel Plummer Cobb, Post-Baccalaureate Pre-Medical Program, Connecticut College, New London, Conn. 06320

Deadline: April 2, 1974

Swimming Classes Begin Feb. 2

Swimming classes, sponsored by the College Women's Club, will begin Saturday, Feb. 2, for faculty, staff and their families. Red Cross certificates will be given upon completion of the courses. Classes will be held at Adair Pool on Saturdays, Feb. 2-23, March 2-16, and April 6-20.

Registration will be held Saturday, Jan. 26, from 10-11 a.m. in the lobby of Adair Gymnasium. A pool use fee of $4 for each participant will be charged and must be paid at registration.

Additional information may be secured from Connie Blood at 220-0230 or Jean Gulesian at 229-4059.

Tax Course Deadline Extended

The registration deadline for the 10-week course in Personal and Corporate Income Tax, offered by the Office of Special Programs at the College, has been extended until Friday, January 25.

Classes will be held at the Virginia Associated Research Campus in Newport News on Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., beginning January 28.

The course is designed to provide laymen with an elementary understanding of individual and corporate tax principles, enabling them to prepare their own tax returns and to take advantage of legitimate tax-saving aspects of the tax law.

Instructor will be Emeric Fischer, professor of law at the College.

Students may register by calling the Office of Special Programs, 877-9231, Ext. 200.

Knorr Featured in Piano Recital

The Music Department will present a faculty recital featuring Yona Zuzovsky Knorr, pianist, Sunday, February 10, at 8:15 p.m. in Phi Beta Kappa Hall.

Mrs. Knorr, who has been on the music faculty since the fall of 1971, will give a piano recital composed of works by Bach, Beethoven, and Schubert.

Gymnastics Troupe Visits Jan. 31

The famous Ambassadors of Goodwill, a fifty-five member gymnastics troupe from the University of Maryland, will perform in William and Mary Hall on Physical Education Night, Thursday, January 31, at 8 p.m. Tumbling, balancing, apparatus work and comedy acts will be featured during the 90-minute exhibition.

Teaching Appointment in Denmark

Charlotte P. Mangum will leave Thursday, January 24, to take a teaching appointment for the spring semester at the University of Aarhus, Denmark.

Miss Mangum, who has published widely, received several grants over the last 12 years for work in the field of environmental physiology, expects to complete her book, "Physiological and Biochemical Adaptations to the Marine Environment," while in Denmark.

She was the recipient of a College faculty research grant during the second semester of last year and worked at the Duke University Marine biology laboratories.

Debate Tournament Turnout Low

The energy crunch and resulting travel restrictions have taken a bite out of the attendance list for the Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament which will be held January 25-27.

According to Patrick Micken, director of debate at the College, 45 teams, representing 30 schools, will compete this year in the annual tournament. The number of schools participating is down about one-third from that anticipated, he said. He cited as an example the fact that the usual attendance from Illinois is down from six schools to one, Illinois State University.

The Marshall-Wythe Debate Tournament is one of the 20 major collegiate debate tournaments held yearly as qualifying rounds for the prestigious Tournament of Champions which will be held this year at Illinois State in April.

Faculty Club Party Scheduled

The newly renovated Alumni House will be the scene of the next Faculty Club party to be held on Friday, February 1. Time for the event is 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and ample parking should be available in the football stadium area.

Tickets may be obtained from Richard Prosl at the usual rates. Members: $1.50 per person; non-drinkers: 50¢ per person; non-members: $3 per person.

At Christopher Newport

"Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead" by Tom Stoppard is the third play in the Educatre Theatre Series running at Christopher Newport College. The show will be presented Tuesday and Wednesday, January 22-23, at 8 p.m. in the new Campus Center Theatre.
