Colonial Essays Published Here

The Institute of Early American History and Culture published recently, in association with W. W. Norton in New York, a collection of essays by a long-time resident of Williamsburg, former William and Mary Quarterly editor Douglass G. Adair.

Adair was a member of the History Department from 1943 to 1955 and editor of the Quarterly from 1946-55. He died in 1968 while a member of the faculty at Claremont Graduate School in California.

The collection of essays, entitled Fame and the Founding Fathers after the lead article in the volume, was edited by a former student of Adair's at William and Mary, Trevor Colbourn, who received a master's degree at the College and is presently vice-president of academic affairs at California State University, San Diego.

Some of the essays will be remembered by Williamsburg residents of the period. "The Mystery of the Horn Papers," written with Arthur Pierce Middleton, originated in an investigation, led by the Institute Council, of one of the most famous historical hoaxes of this century. Adair's essay, prepared in 1947, served as the investigating committee's report, explaining as in a detective story the means and the evidence by which the hoax was penetrated.

Most of the essays in the book previously appeared in the Quarterly, including Adair's brilliant studies of James Madison and Alexander Hamilton: "The Authorship of the Disputed Federalist Papers"; "That Politics May be Reduced to a Science": David Hume, James Madison, and the Tenth Federalist"; and "Was Alexander Hamilton a Christian Statesman?" written with Marvin Harvey.

One of the pieces, however, completed in 1960, is printed for the first time in this collection: "The Jefferson Scandals." It is a close analysis of the evidence behind the contemporary rumor (subsequently asserted by some historians) that Thomas Jefferson had as a mistress a black slave named Sally Hemings, who was also the mother of his natural children.

The Institute of Early American History and Culture has published over 70 books since its inception in 1943. It is jointly sponsored by the College and the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation.

Included in the program are Bach's Partita in G. Major, Beethoven's Sonata in E^b Major, Op. 31, No. 3 and Brahms' seven fantasies variously titled Capriccio and Intermezzo, Op. 116.

Mr. Stark earned bachelor and master degrees at Drake University and the Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Michigan. Additional study took him to Germany and France prior to a scholarship at the famed Juilliard School of Music. Following a position as resident pianist at Iowa State University, he joined the faculty of George Peabody College where he holds the rank of professor of music and serves as chairman of the Piano Department.

Japonica Given to Swem Library

A 23 volume set of encyclopedias and a world atlas have recently been given to the College as a gift from a Tokyo-based publishing firm.

Japonica, Japan's first all-color encyclopedia, was sent to William and Mary from the Shogakukan Publishing Company, Ltd., Tokyo, one of Japan's leading book publishers.

According to Tetsuo Ohga, president of the publishing company, complete sets of Japonica are being sent to American universities and libraries as material for research into Japanese culture in order to strengthen the ties of friendship between the United States and Japan. He is extending this service as part of his company's 50th anniversary observance.

The set, which will be placed in Swem Library on the reference shelves early this fall, should prove valuable to the expanding number of courses devoted to Far Eastern study in the Departments of Anthropology, Philosophy, Religion and Government. It will also be an added source of reference to students enrolled in the Asia House, a new residential unit for undergraduate students which will open in the fall.

Director Named

H. Braxton Allport, Jr., has been named director of the Wesley Foundation and a member of the Campus Ministry United.

Mr. Allport replaces R. Francis Gillis, who has moved to Mount Olivet United Methodist Church in Arlington.

ALL IN THE FAMILY? Recently Ron Stith, a native of Missouri, made a special visit to view the College where his great-great-great-great-grandfather William Stith served as President, 1752-55. Mr. Stith toured the President's House, pictured in the background, and viewed the residence where his ancestor and all the other 23 presidents of William and Mary lived. Ron Stith is active in the Episcopal church. President Stith was a minister in the Episcopal church.

Date: June 26, 1974

To: Members of the Teaching and Research Faculties
Members of Administration in Faculty Equivalent Positions

Subject: Meeting to open the 1974-75 Academic Session

To: All Deans, Department Heads, and Supervisors

Subject: Use of State Vehicles

There will be a meeting of members of the teaching and research faculties and members of administration in faculty equivalent positions on Friday, September 13, 1974, from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Millington Auditorium. The purpose of the meeting will be to provide an introduction to the 1974-75 academic session.

New members of the faculties and of the administration will be introduced by Dr. Healy, the Academic Deans and the Dean of the Undergraduate Program.

I shall make brief and general remarks about the major issues, opportunities and problems facing the College as a whole in the coming academic year.

Dr. Healy, on behalf of the Academic Deans, will make similar remarks about the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business Administration, the School of Education, the School of Law and the School of Marine Science and will present an overview of academic affairs for 1974-75.

This meeting is being planned, for the faculties, at the suggestion of and with the concurrence of the Academic Deans, both present and designate, the Dean of the Undergraduate Program and the Graduate Dean of Arts and Sciences.

I hope that you can plan your schedule on what will be the first day of classes for many so that you will be with us as a faculty community.

The meeting will adjourn in plenty of time for all of us and our spouses to attend the reception offered by the United Virginia Bank that is planned to start at 5:30 p.m.

Thomas A. Graves, Jr.
President

The following memorandum has been received from Mr. Douglas B. Fugate, who is responsible to the Governor's Office for the operation of all State car pools, including that of the College of William and Mary.

"I have been informed that the Governor's Office has been receiving several reports of incidents involving speeding in State vehicles. When any of us are operating a State vehicle, extreme care should be taken to determine that the posted speed limit is not exceeded. Even though the gasoline supplies appear to be more abundant than was the case several months ago, it is still important and necessary that we all practice conservation measures.

It will be appreciated if you will again caution those employees in your organization to be conscious of their speed while driving and make certain that they do not exceed posted limits."

May this serve as a timely reminder to all of us that it is imperative to observe posted speed limits, especially when driving State cars.

Vice President for Business Affairs

Independence Day

Reference is made to the announcement concerning this holiday which appeared in the William and Mary News issue of June 17, 1974. This announcement is amended to read:

Employees who take leave on July 4, 1974, will not be required to submit a leave slip to the Personnel Office for the time taken. However, deans, department heads, and other supervisory personnel must submit the names of all permanent classified employees who do work on this holiday and the hours they worked, so that they may be credited with the compensatory leave. (This procedure is the same as the one for Christmas Day and New Year's Day.) These names (and hours) should be submitted in writing to the Personnel Office as soon as possible following the holiday. Hourly employees who work on July 4, 1974, will be paid at their regular hourly rates.

BILL-TO CALLS RESTRICTED

The Office of Business Affairs is soliciting the cooperation of members of the faculty and staff in reducing the number of personal calls being placed through the campus switchboard and billed to home accounts.

An operator, in placing such a call, has to remain on the line until the call is completed to insure that all of the necessary billing information is supplied, according to Dennis K. Cogle, assistant to the vice president for business affairs. "In such instances, incoming calls 'pile up' and we get complaints that our operators are not doing their jobs," Mr. Cogle stated.

"I am earnestly requesting members of the College community to hold such personal calls to an absolute minimum, since the only reasonable alternative is to completely restrict the placing of such personal calls by the College operators. We certainly do not wish to take such a drastic step unless it does become imperative in order to facilitate effective switchboard operations," Mr. Cogle concluded.

NEW TRAVEL REGULATIONS

The 1974-76 Appropriation Act of the 1974 General Assembly specifies reimbursement of 12 cents per mile will be allowed for use of a private vehicle if the employee is unable to obtain a State vehicle and sets new regulations on related travel matters.

The new travel regulation, included in Executive Order No. 12 from the Governor's Office, also states that if no attempt is made to obtain a state vehicle or there is no certification that the Central Car Pool could not accommodate their needs, the employee will be reimbursed at the rate of 9 cents per mile.

The executive order also includes procedures for authorization of private vehicle mileage, scheduling travel routes, reimbursement when no adequate public transportation is available, claims for tolls and other charges, and expenditures for meals and lodging.

Copies of Executive Order No. 12 are available at the Purchasing Office from director William T. Allen.

STUDENT ACHIEVEMENTS

Christine Lou Owens, a June graduate from Whaleyville and former Student Government president, has been awarded the 50th anniversary Miriam A. Shelden Fellowship from Alpha Lambda Delta scholastic honor society. The award carries a stipend of $2,000.
