Symphony to Perform Accreditation Awarded School of Education

The second performance in the William and Mary Concert Series will feature the Richmond Symphony in Phi Beta Kappa Hall, Thursday, Oct. 31 at 8:15 p.m.

Under the baton of Jacques Houtmann, the orchestra will perform the "Festival Overture, Opus 9" by contemporary Russian composer Dimitri Shostakovich, the "Frescoes of Piero Della Francesca," by Bohuslav Martinu, and Beethoven's "Eroica" Symphony.

All season tickets for the current William and Mary Concert Series have been sold, according to director Warren Green. Tickets for individual concerts will be on sale at the door the evening of the performance on a limited basis, first-come, first-served.

Economic Historian Lectures Tomorrow

Howard M. Gitelman, chairman of the department of economics at Adelphi University, New York, will present a lecture on Wednesday, Oct. 30, at 7:30 p.m. in Millington Auditorium, "Growing Up With Our Illusions: Workers, the Labor Movement, and the American Dream." The program is the sixth in this year's Project PLUS Forum series.

As an economic historian specializing in labor affairs, Gitelman has written articles appearing in Industrial and Labor Relations Review, Journal of Economic History, and Labor History. His book, Workingmen of Waltham, was published by The Johns Hopkins Press this year.

Gitelman taught at William and Mary from 1966 to 1968 and was at Brandeis University prior to that appointment.

Work Begins on Beggar's Opera

Auditions marked the beginning of work on the William and Mary Theatre's second production of the '74-'75 season. "The Beggar's Opera," by John Gay, will be performed Dec. 11-14. Rehearsals are scheduled to begin Oct. 31, under the direction of J. H. Bledsoe.

J. S. Darling, assisted by Artie Roach, will direct the production's music, which consists of songs written in 1727. Dances will be staged by Shirley Roby; Doug Minnerly will design the scenery, and Roger Sherman will direct the lighting.

William and Mary faculty and staff members, as well as students, are invited to participate in the production.

The School of Education has received accreditation from the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

In a letter to President Thomas A. Graves, Jr., NCATE granted initial accreditation for a five year period, retroactive to September 1, 1973.

NCATE accreditation provides a practical basis for reciprocity among the states in certifying school personnel and affords teachers and other school personnel prepared by the College, credentials recognized by most states. In the fall of 1973, the State Board of Education awarded State approval to all programs in the School leading to certification.

Dean James M. Yankovich, who assumed his post this year, said he was delighted that the School has met the standards of quality expected of it.

"It is a richly deserved award," he said. "The credit for this award is due to the leadership of Dean Richard B. Brooks and Associate Dean Robert C. Jones, and the dedication of the entire faculty of the School." Dean Brooks retired in June after a career in education at both William and Mary and Longwood College that spanned more than 30 years.

"The acknowledgment of our programs by national standards," said Dean Yankovich, "will permit graduates to move with more confidence in their career aspirations in all parts of the country. It also reaffirms my assessment of the School's firm foundation and will encourage us to aggressively pursue higher goals."

The accreditation covers all elementary and secondary school teacher programs at the baccalaureate and master's levels. It also includes graduate programs of study toward the Master of Education degree in guidance and counseling; educational administration, special education and supervision. In the case of special education, it covers three emphases: diagnostic prescriptive teaching; teaching the emotionally disturbed; and teaching the mentally retarded.

Also NCATE accredited are Advanced Certificate programs which are designed for holders of the Master's degree who wish to prepare or better prepare themselves for administration and counseling. The School's Advanced Certificate program in higher education administration does not fall under NCATE jurisdiction.

The doctoral programs in educational administration and counseling were not reviewed by NCATE, since, at the time accreditation procedures were begun, no students had been graduated at this level. Subsequently, however, twenty Ed.D. degrees have been conferred. These programs will be reviewed for accreditation in 1977.

Accreditation review was requested by the School of Education for the first time

Duo-Pianists in Sunday Series

Continuing its effort to bring to the campus and community musical programs of variety and special interest, the Sunday Series will feature a recital by duo-pianists Anthony and Joseph Paratore Nov. 3 at 4 p.m.

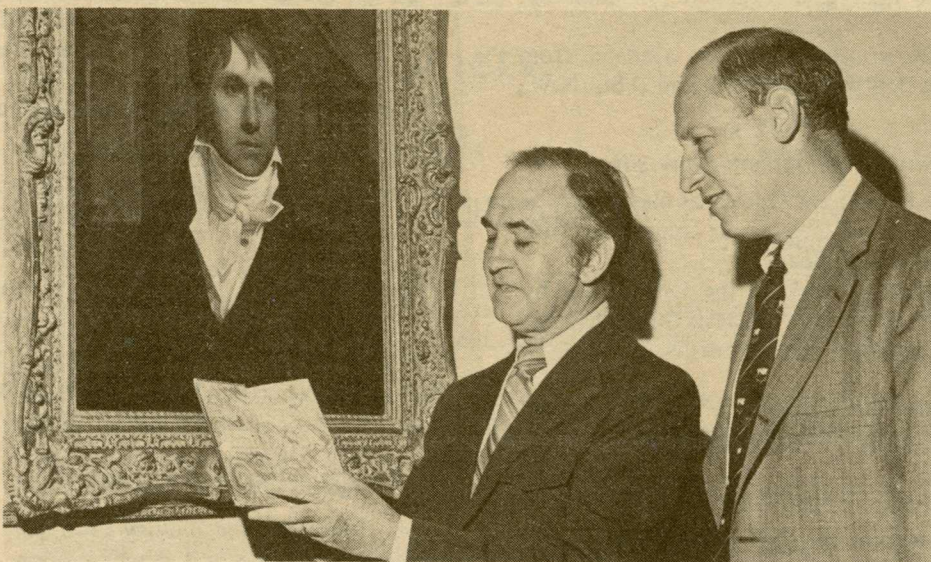

The brothers are graduates of Boston University's School of Fine and Applied Arts and attended the Juilliard School of Music. Highly acclaimed performers, they made their professional debut as a team in the '68-'69 season with Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops Orchestra.

They have just won first prize in the prestigious International Music Competition in Munich. They are the first American duo ever to win an international contest, and the prize includes a number of European engagements next season.

Carl Seemann, the foreman of the jury, announced the award with these words "Most astounding is the absolute harmony of their playing--perfect balance between the instruments and the infallible ensemble."

Library Receives William Short Bookplates

The College recently acquired a two-volume book edition of John Abercrombie's "Botanical" bearing the bookplates of William Short (1759-1849), an alumnus of William and Mary and one of the founders of Phi Beta Kappa.

The books were given to the College in a formal presentation to President Thomas A. Graves, Jr., by Harold Abbott of Carmel, Calif.

Mr. Abbott purchased the books "for a very small sum," during the 1930's in a Washington, D. C. bookstore. Resident landscape architect at Mt. Vernon, the residence of George Washington, at the time, Mr. Abbott was looking for books on Washington when he came across the Short bookplates.

Mr. Abbott later left Mt. Vernon to become director of parks in Spokane, Washington, for 20 years and was also a member of the landscape architecture department, which he helped form, at Washington State University before his retirement. He had kept the books because he considered them "of intrinsic value." Earlier this year Mr. Abbott determined that they should be housed in a place associated with William Short and, of course, chose William and Mary.

While a student at William and Mary, Short was president of the newly founded Phi Beta Kappa Society, formed at the Raleigh Tavern December 5, 1776. His career included serving on the Executive Council in the Virginia government, assisting Thomas Jefferson during his mission in France and acting as charges d'affaires in France upon Jefferson's return to the United States. He was also minister at The Hague in 1792 and served as a commissioner in Madrid in 1793 to negotiate a treaty with Spain dealing with boundaries and navigation and commercial privileges in Florida and Mississippi.

Short's portrait by Rembrandt Peale currently hangs in the President's House. It will be on loan to the National Gallery in 1976 for the Gallery's "Eye of Jefferson" exhibit during the Bicentennial.

Holiday Reminder

Tuesday, November 5, is Election Day--a legal holiday for permanent classified State employees. A leave slip should be submitted to the Personnel Office for any permanent classified employee who takes leave on that day.

Requests for Salary Advances

Because the Treasurer's Office has been receiving an unusually large number of requests for salary advances from employees who, for various reasons, have not received a regular pay check, Dennis K. Cogle, assistant to the Vice President for Business Affairs, has detailed some information on the subject:

There are at least two explanations as to why the regular checks are not received on schedule:

1. Time sheets for hourly employees are not submitted to the Payroll Office in sufficient time for them to be processed.
2. There are many requests from Deans and Department Heads to appoint employees to permanent positions on the basis of a retroactive effective date.

It is well recognized that employees are entitled to receive their pay when it is due, and supervisory personnel can assist in meeting this reasonable expectation by the following actions:

1. Time sheets for hourly employees should be delivered to the Payroll Office before 10:00 A.M. on the first working day following the last day of a pay period. The pay periods are: the 1st through the 15th, and the 16th through the last day of any month.
2. Written requests covering the appointment of employees to permanent positions should be received in the Personnel Office not less than two weeks before the effective date of appointment. The payroll procedure is greatly facilitated if the appointment date is the first day of a semi-monthly pay period; that is, either the 1st or the 16th of the month. (Other effective dates are possible, of course, but they serve to complicate the calculation of a payroll).

Cogle has asked for the cooperation of deans, department heads and supervisors in order to reduce the necessity for the time-consuming processing of individual salary advances through the accounting system of the College.

OFFICE OF DEVELOPMENT

Bicentennial Student Film Program

The U.S. Information Agency has announced that it will provide individual grants of up to $3000 for students to produce sound films or videotapes for distribution in foreign countries. Full-time undergraduate students are eligible. Films or videotapes should not exceed 30 minutes and may be documentary, dramatizations, or animation.

Applications must be submitted by December 1. They are available from Phillip Bonnell, USIA, Room 2406, Patrick Henry Building, 6th and D Sts. N.W., Washington, D. C. 20547.

Small Grants for the Use of "Uncommon Facilities" in Southern Universities

Faculty members and doctoral students in the natural sciences may apply for support to cover travel expenses and operational charges, in connection with these facilities, to the Southern Regional Education Board.

All grant requests will be acted on within two weeks of the date received by the small-grant program director, William E. Hovenden. Requests for application information should be directed to him at SREB, 130 6th Street N. W., Atlanta, Ga., 30313.

Catalogs listing the "uncommon facilities" are available in the office of the Graduate Dean of Arts and Sciences and in the Sponsored Programs office.

Belgian American Educational Foundation - Graduate Fellowship

Holders of the M.A. degree or candidates for the PhD or equivalent degree who are interested in studying at one of the Belgian universities for the coming academic year are eligible for nomination by the Graduate Dean of Arts and Sciences. Candidates under 30 years of age, with a speaking and reading knowledge of French or Dutch are preferred.

The grant provides: a stipend of $1500 payable in the U. S. prior to departure; a stipend of $3250 payable in Belgium.

A nomination by the College must be made prior to Jan. 31, 1975. Interested individuals should contact Dean Selby.

Graduate Fellowships in Graphic Communications - Business Management, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics

Available for students who plan to seek employment at the professional and management or education level of the graphic communications industries and have demonstrated ability and aptitude for advanced education in the sciences and education and have been admitted to graduate school.

Applications should be submitted to the National Scholarship Trust as early as possible; final deadline-Feb. 1, 1975.

Awards range from $2000 - $3000. Application forms and descriptive career materials may be obtained from: National Scholarship Trust Fund, Graphic Arts Technical Center, 4615 Forbes Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. 15213.

Personnel Bulletin

The following positions at the College are or will be vacant. Qualified employees who wish to be transferred to these positions may receive additional information at the College Personnel Office. The College of William and Mary is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Accordingly, women and minority employees are encouraged to apply for those positions for which they feel they are qualified.

Placement Interviewer (Four years of personnel management experience).

Clerk D (Four years of college and one year of clerical experience in a supervisory capacity; or, at least two years of college and three years of clerical experience, one year of which must have been in a supervisory capacity).

Travel Regulations Amended

The College has received an Executive Order from Governor Godwin, dated October 4, 1974, which constitutes an amendment to "Executive Order Number Twelve Governing State Travel Regulations Issued June 20, 1974." Paragraph (8), Page 3 of that Executive Order governing reimbursement for noon meals and other meals under certain conditions is hereby amended to read as follows:

"8). For same day travel and return, employees in a 'travel status' will be reimbursed for reasonable meal expenses incurred while away from their official station conducting state business. 'Travel status' implies away from the official station on nondaily routine travel. Employees engaged in constant daily routine travel are not reimbursed for meals under this Section. Reimbursement will be allowed for the evening meal in those cases where the traveler did not find it necessary to spend the night out of town, but was unable to return home by 7:30 p.m. in time for dinner. Similarly, when the traveler finds it necessary to leave home before 6:30 a.m., reimbursement for breakfast would be in order. The hour of departure or arrival, as the case may be, must be stated on the voucher. The agency head or his appointed delegate must certify that the employee incurring any of the above expenses was in a 'travel status'. Meals involved where overnight travel is necessary will be reimbursed in the usual manner."

This amendment eliminates the restriction against payments for noon meals, which has been in effect for a few years.

In compliance with this change, Administrative Procedure No. 1 entitled College Travel Policy should be amended as follows:

Remove from the Administrative Procedures Manual page 1-5 (effective 7-1-73) and insert page 1-5 (effective 10-4-74).

Anthropology

Mario D. Zamora, visiting professor, attended the annual meeting of the Canadian Sociology and Anthropology Association as an associate member and the 8th World Congress of Sociology held in Toronto, Canada, where he read a paper on "The Hispanization Process: Traditions and Methods in Colonial Change in Village Philippines." His paper (co-authored with L. Hillock) on "Autoritarianismo, Egalitarianismo, y Sincretismo: Las Filipinas Mexico" will be published in the proceedings of the International Congress of Americanists in Mexico City. His obituary of Henry Otley Beyer (dean of Philippine anthropology) was published in American Anthropologist. The following reviews by Zamora have been published or are in press: "India: An Anthropological Perspective" by Stephen Tyler in Eastern Anthropologist (Lucknow, India); "A Right to Survive..." by Maria Blanc Szanton in American Anthropologist; "Philippine Ethnography..." by Shiro Saito in Ethnohistory (USA); "Social Relations in a Philippine Market" by William Davis in Reviews In Anthropology (USA); "The Tausug: Violence and Law in a Philippine Moslem Society" by Thomas Kiefer in Culture Et Developpement (Louvain, Belgium); "Blackberry Winter" by Margaret Mead in Anthropological Forum (University of Western Australia).

English

Trudier Harris, assistant professor, had a short story entitled "The Overweight Angel" accepted for publication in Obsidian: Black Literature in Review.

History

Edward Crapol, associate professor, will participate in a panel discussion at the Eighth Annual History Forum, sponsored by Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pa. The topic of the panel, scheduled for Nov. 1, is "The Trauma of Algeria."

Philip J. Funigiello, associate professor, recently reviewed the book "Dams, Parks & Politics: Resource Development & Preservation in the Truman-Eisenhower Era," by Elmo Richardson. The review was published in The Journal of American History.

Modern Languages

Victoria Babenko, assistant professor, attended the Soviet American Conference on the Russian Language, October 11-16, at M.I.T. where she delivered a paper entitled "Some Problems in the Teaching of the Russian Language."

William C. Goff, assistant professor, attended the Mountain Interstate Foreign Language Conference, October 10-12, at Clemson University where he presented a paper, "The Proletariat Protagonist—Juan Jose."

Cullen to Edit Judge Tucker Notes

Charles T. Cullen, lecturer in history and co-editor of the Papers of John Marshall, has received a grant from the Joint Committee on the Littleton-Griswold Fund.

The Committee is composed of representatives of the American Historical Association and the American Society for Legal History. The grant is for the purpose of editing St. George Tucker's notes on Virginia court cases (1786-1811). These notes are part of the Tucker-Coleman collection in Swem Library, the largest collection of manuscripts owned by the College.

St. George Tucker was the second professor of law at the College, following in the footsteps of George Wythe. His judicial career, begun in 1788, when he became judge of the Virginia General Court, spanned four decades.

Deadline Tomorrow

Administrators, faculty and students are reminded that tomorrow is the deadline for signing up for the College Wide Reading Program's Fall Retreat.

The books How Children Fail, by John Holt, and Excellence, by John W. Gardner, will form the point of departure for the discussions, which will concern education and inequality.

Camp Skimino is the site of the Nov. 2-3 retreat. A $4 fee covers the cost of food and shelter, but participants are expected to bring their own bedding. Departure is at 10 a.m. Nov. 2 from the PBK parking lot.

Applications and fees are being accepted at the Campus Center desk.

His posts included the bench of the state Supreme Court of Appeals, and of the U.S. District Court. His wisdom and knowledge of the law earned him the name "The American Blackstone."

Mr. Cullen has served as co-editor of the Marshall Papers, a project jointly sponsored by the College and the Institute of Early American History and Culture, since 1973. He joined the Marshall Papers staff in 1970 as a Ford Foundation Fellow of the National Historical Publications Commission, and was named associate editor in 1971.

Teacher Registration

Prospective teachers may register in Washington Hall, room 213, in the Educational Placement Office for interview appointments with school systems visiting on campus beginning Nov. 20. To be eligible for the interviews, a student must have placement papers on file in the Educational Placement Office, School of Education, and must be an education major or enrolled in professional education courses which include student teaching. No one may interview without an appointment.

Future interviews will be carried regularly in the William and Mary News Calendar.

Election Day Coffee

The College Women's Club will host an Election Morning Coffee in the Dodge Room of Phi Beta Kappa, Nov. 5, from 10 a.m.-noon. Members are invited to bring their pre-schoolers, as special refreshments are planned for them.

Talk on Pollution/C-14

Dr. Rubin Meyer, U.S. Geological Survey, Reston, Va., will discuss the use of radiocarbon as an indicator of pollution in rivers on Monday, November 4 at 4 p.m. in William Small Room 238.

Dr. Meyer is one of the principal investigators exploring the applications of carbon 14 to applied problems. As head of the U.S. Geological Survey radiocarbon laboratory facilities, he has been a leader in utilizing radiocarbon dating to solve geologic and related problems, including the dating of early man sites in North America.

Dr. Meyer will meet informally with students and faculty at 1 p.m. in Room 207 of Small Hall to discuss the geologic uses of radiocarbon.

Staff Notes

Swem Library

Kay Domine, archivist will attend the Fall Conference of the Mid-Atlantic Regional Archives Association in Newark, New Jersey, Nov. 1-2.

Delmas Moore will assume duties as a library assistant in the reference department of Swem Library Oct. 21. A graduate of the University of Virginia, Moore has taught in the Hampton Public School System during the past two years.

Sarah Gray, periodicals librarian, was elected secretary of the College and University section of the Southeastern Library Association at the recent biennial conference of SELA in Richmond. She will serve a two-year term.

Student Health Center

Dr. Juliette Seelye Karow has assumed duties on the Health Center staff as a general practitioner. Dr. Karow fills the urgent need for an additional staff physician, according to Dr. Cilley. Last year the number of student visits totaled more than 20,000. Physicians' hours at the Center are 9 a.m.-12 noon and 2-5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, and 10-11 a.m., Saturdays.

Society

vs.

Administration

The Bishop Madison Society, which last year handed the Administration a sounding 20-0 defeat, will take to the field again this year with an even stronger team, having recruited "The Bomber."

Coaches for the annual touch football classic decline to give their starting lineups but the Bishop Madison Society is expected to use "The Bomber," although the Administration is rumored to have its own secret weapon.

Play will get underway at 2 p.m. on the men's intramural field across from the fraternity houses.

Although there has been a ground swell of enthusiasm for this campus bowl game through the years, live television will not be permitted at the risk of losing both audience and players, said the coaches.

in 1970. Several faculty teams were set up to prepare a self study, which was submitted in 1972. Visits by a committee from NCATE culminated in the present grant which will be reviewed for renewal during the 1977-78 academic year. It is customary after the initial accreditation for the next award to cover a 10-year period.

NCATE's action completes accreditation of the graduate Schools of the College on campus. The Marshall-Wythe School of Law was reaccredited and the School of Business Administration accredited last year by national accrediting associations.

Sume-i Course Offered

Asia House will sponsor a five week course in sume-i, Japanese brush stroke painting, beginning Nov. 6.

Mrs. Irving Williams will teach the course, which will meet each Wednesday at Asia House from 5 to 7 p.m. The registration fee for students is $10. Brush and ink sets will also be available for $7.

The course is open to the general public. To register, contact Bruce Fenner at 229-8523.

Course Suggestions Needed

Paul N. Clem, director of Summer Sessions and the Evening College, is currently seeking proposals for the 1975 Summer Sessions course offerings.

Since the major objective of the William and Mary Summer Sessions is to offer courses most needed by students, Clem is very interested in being made aware of those needs. He has asked that students, faculty members, department heads and deans notify him of their suggestions.

Since a preliminary announcement must go to the printer before the Christmas break, and to ensure adequate time to consider proposals, Clem emphasizes that suggestions must be in the Summer Sessions Office (JB 111) by November 15.

A form is provided below for your convenience.

I would like to propose the following course(s) for the 1975 Summer Sessions in either the 1st (June 16-July 18) or 2nd (July 21-August 22) session.
