Drapers' Scholars Announced; Rhodes, Marshall Nominations

The Foreign Studies Committee has announced the award of the Drapers' Company exchange Scholarships for study in England during 1975-77 and the nomination of two other seniors by the College for the national awards of the Rhodes Scholarships and the Marshall Scholarships.

The Drapers' Scholarships have been awarded to Robin Ann Wilker and James Wickenden. Miss Wilker, from North Haven, Conn., is a concentrator in both history and English who is doing Honors work in English; she hopes to study history at Cambridge. Wickenden, from North Bennington, Vt., is a concentrator in classical studies with major emphasis upon Latin. He plans to study classical archaeology at Oxford.

The Drapers' Company scholarships, exclusively awarded at the College, were inaugurated in 1959 by arrangement with the Drapers' Company of London, an ancient trade guild and philanthropic foundation. The recipient may study for two years at an English university of his or her choice. In return, the Drapers'

Solar Eclipse Expected

A partial eclipse of the sun will be visible in Williamsburg on Friday, Dec. 13. The moon's shadow will begin to eclipse the sun at about 9:20 a.m., will reach maximum at about 10:50 a.m. when about 60 percent of the sun's face will be obscured, and will move off the face of the sun at about 12:25 p.m. (times given to nearest 5 minutes). While 60 percent of the sun's face seems like a lot, the eclipse is unlikely to be apparent unless one looks for it.

Weather permitting, telescopes will be set up outside the main entrance to Small by Professor Crownfield so that interested persons may observe the progress of the moon's shadow across the sun. For those who might wish to observe the progress eclipse on their own, suggestions for safe viewing are available in the Physics Department and the News Office.

Company sends British students to the College. Current holders of the exchange scholarship on campus are Sue Claire Yates, David C. Taylor, John Langley, and Susan Mary Maclure. The first winner of the scholarship from the College in 1959 was Richard Prosl, now associate professor of mathematics.

The College nominee for the Rhodes Scholarship is Robert A. Scarr of Fairfax, a concentrator in chemistry. For the Marshall Scholarship Betty L. Yeamans of Richmond, a psychology concentrator who will have worked her way through the College and graduated in three years, has been nominated.

Justice Center Awarded Funds For Juvenile Court Study

An award of $146,710 has been made to the Metropolitan Criminal Justice Center for a study of the juvenile court system as it affects the children it serves.

The grant has been awarded by the National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, directed by Gerald M. Caplan.

W. Anthony Fitch, director of the Center, and Charles W. Thomas, research director, will be co-directors of the newly funded project. They have indicated that the basic purpose of their work will be to examine over an 18-month period the effects of involvement with the juvenile court system on the attitudes, values and behavior of the children who are brought to the attention of the court.

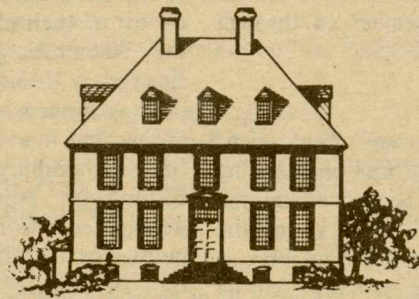

A significant aspect of the project for those on campus is that it will bring the members of a distinguished advisory panel of nationally prominent criminologists to the Williamsburg area at several times during the course of the research. At the present time this advisory panel includes Professor Ronald L. Akers of the Department of Sociology at the University of Iowa, Professor Malcolm W. Klein, Chairman of the Department of Sociology at the University of Southern California, and

Administrative Offices

The administrative offices, the plant department (except for those employees required to maintain essential services), and the mail room of the College will be closed on the following dates to allow employees a seasonal holiday.

From Noon on December 24, through December 25.

All day January 1.

Deans of schools and department heads who will have offices open during the holiday schedule should advise the Director of Safety and Security, and the chief operator of the College Switchboard in writing of the hours that they will be open, so that appropriate security and communication services can be provided.

The names of permanent classified employees who are required to work after noon on December 24, or on December 25 or January 1, should be reported in writing to the Personnel Office in order that they may be credited with Compensatory Leave. Permanent classified employees who are required to work on any of these days should take compensatory leave earned as soon thereafter as possible in order to avoid excessive leave accumulation. Hourly employees who work on any of these days will be paid at their regular hourly rates.

Swem Library

Swem Library will observe the following hours during the Christmas holidays:

Friday, December 20 through Thursday, Jan. 2:

Monday - Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Students Warned Against Hitchhiking

With the Christmas holidays not far off, Harvey P. Gunson, director of security, has reiterated his warning to students concerning hitchhiking, urging them to find alternative means of travel.

Gunson points out that it is a dangerous practice, both for the student getting a ride and for those who pick up riders along the way.

In addition to the many hazards involved with hitchhiking, Gunson reminds students that it is against the law. Section 46.1-234 of the Virginia Motor Vehicle Laws makes it a crime to solicit rides in any roadway or street. Students hitchhiking are subject to arrest and prosecution.

Student Employment During Christmas

In an effort to maximize opportunities for William and Mary students to work part-time during the Christmas holidays, the Student Aid Office requests that students who will be available for part-time employment in Williamsburg during Christmas advise Mrs. Greenplate of their availability.

Interested students should stop by or call the Student Aid Office, Blair Hall 310, Ext. 301.

Health Center

The Student Health Service will close on Friday, December 20, at 7 p.m. and will reopen on Thursday, January 2, at 7 a.m.

Students who are ill or injured during this interval of time and who stay in town, will need to consult the local doctor of their choice or the physician at the Williamsburg Community Hospital Emergency Room.

Employees who are injured on the job during that interval should contact either the Williamsburg Community Hospital Emergency Room or one of the designated Workmen's Compensation physicians for the College who are Dr. Hall, Dr. Jewusiak, or Dr. Oliver.

Residence Halls

Student residence halls will be closed from Saturday, Dec. 21, at 12 noon until Thursday, Jan. 2, at 12 noon.

Memo to the Faculties

Arts & Sciences Defeats Senate, Graves To Seek Alternative

In my memorandum of September 9, 1974, to the Academic Deans of the several Faculties and Schools of the College, I asked that each of them proceed ahead to have the Proposal for a Faculty Senate, as developed by the Faculty Liaison Committee to the Board of Visitors, considered carefully by their respective faculties in the hope that each faculty could reach a consensus for approval or disapproval. In that memorandum I indicated that Dr. Healy and I would conclude that a consensus in favor of the Senate Proposal had been reached if three out of the four Faculties of Arts and Sciences, Law, Education and Business approved the Proposal, providing that one of the three was the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

At its regular meeting on December 3 the Faculty of Arts and Sciences voted to postpone indefinitely further consideration of the Senate Proposal as developed by the Faculty Liaison Committee. In view of the guidelines outlined in my memorandum of September 9, this action by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences has the effect of defeating this particular Proposal for a Faculty Senate, and therefore this Proposal will not be considered for further action by the Administration or the Board of Visitors.

Prior to December 3 the Faculty of the School of Business Administration had approved the Senate Proposal as developed by the Faculty Liaison Committee. The Faculty of the School of Education had also given approval, with minor modifications. The Faculty of the School of Law was still actively considering the Proposal as of December 3.

Dr. Healy, Dean Edwards and I clearly sensed, at the meeting of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, prior to the decision on the Senate Proposal, that the faculty members participating in the discussion were genuinely in favor of some approach to a college-wide vehicle that would foster and enhance communications across faculties and would facilitate decision-making on matters of interest and concern to the faculties. The majority of those present, however, did not find this specific Proposal for a Senate from the Faculty Liaison Committee an acceptable vehicle toward this end.

Dr. Healy and I have the further clear impression from listening to the discussions in the several faculties that there continues to be interest in, support for and need for an approach of some kind that will serve these purposes. We should therefore be exploring with academic deans and representative faculty members, early in the new calendar year, how best to address this matter further.

In the meanwhile I want to express my appreciation to the several faculties for their thoughtful consideration of this proposal. Special thanks is due the members of the Faculty Liaison Committee to the Board of Visitors for all of the time and efforts they have devoted to this important matter.

College Policy Explained For Insurance Solicitation Notices

Recently a notice was addressed to "Employees of William and Mary", and it stated that a certain company had "made arrangements with the College of William and Mary" to offer insurance at "substantially reduced rates."

Unfortunately the wording of the notice left some of our faculty and staff with the mistaken impression that the College was endorsing this particular insurance offer.

We would like to set the record straight on this critical point. We do NOT endorse this or any other insurance plan to the exclusion of some others. The Office of Business Affairs does not have sufficient expertise in the field of insurance to offer such an endorsement. More importantly, even if we did have such expertise, it would be imprudent for us to recommend one insurance company to the exclusion of another; the College has a great many alumni and friends who are in the insurance business!

Our only objective in making such offers known to our faculty and staff is to publicize a potential "fringe benefit." The College itself can afford to offer only a limited number of such benefits. However, the faculty and staff of the College comprise a significant group of people who can become quite an effective bargaining factor in attracting benefits at reduced costs through the potent element of volume. It is our very strong feeling that we would be less than effective in our personnel administration program if we did not make every effort to take advantage of this opportunity on behalf of members of this College community.

We shall continue to call your attention to other merchandising offers in the future, but we are obliged to emphasize that the College is not endorsing any specific type of insurance or company by so doing. We are just bringing the possibility of potential savings to your attention. Each of us, as individuals, must decide for ourselves if the offer merits our consideration.

Board Seeks Nominations

The Board of Visitors of the College is seeking nominations and applications for a President of Richard Bland College.

Richard Bland is a State-supported college of the liberal arts and sciences, a branch college of the College of William and Mary, and under the control of the same Board of Visitors. It is located on a spacious rural campus near Petersburg, Virginia, and currently enrolls about 1,000 commuting students, most of them in academic programs leading to the associate degree and transfer to baccalaureate institutions.

Applicants should present appropriate academic credentials, including an earned doctorate; a commitment to excellence in education; a record of successful experience in college teaching and administration; an ability to relate effectively to faculty, students, and alumni, and to the wider public community of which the College is a part.

Nominations and applications (with current resumé) should be sent prior to December 21, 1974, to Dr. Paul N. Clem, Secretary, Presidential Search Committee, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia 23185.

New Minimum Wage

Effective January 1, the minimum wage for hourly employees is $2 per hour.

The only exceptions to the new rate are students, who may be paid not less than 85% of the minimum. Undergraduate and graduate student employees will continue to be paid $1.75 per hour until further notice.

The minimum base rate will continue through December 31, 1975, and under the present law, will increase to $2.20 on January 1, 1976, and to $2.30 on January 1, 1977.

Station Responds to Sabotage Acts

The Publications Council on Nov. 26, went on record as reaffirming freedom of expression and freedom of speech as much for the campus radio station as for the print media.

It endorsed and urged widespread dissemination of WCWM's statement concerning recent damage done to the station. The Council also went on record as condemning those acts as a curtailment of freedom of expression on campus.

In recent weeks the station has been subject to "several acts of sabotage...committed by individuals identifying themselves as an independent group of pranksters," according to the statement issued by station manager Rick Krizman. In a letter to the Flat Hat these persons claimed that they mean no harm and are doing these things in the spirit of "free expression."

"We are not so much interested in catching the perpetrators of these acts as we are in putting an end to mishaps so that we may stay on the air for your benefit," the statement asserts.

Krizman advises the "pranksters" of the dangers involved in tampering with the radio station's equipment. In addition to the possibility of an electrical shock, he says, "tampering with the airwaves is a federal crime involving a possible penalty of 1-5 years in jail and a $10,00 fine."

Memo from Vice President for Business Affairs

New W&M, VARC Holiday Schedule

In the issue of William and Mary News dated November 26, 1974, the schedule of holidays for 1975 was published. At its meeting on November 21-22, the Board of Visitors directed that this new general schedule of holidays be observed for future years until amended by further action of the Board, if that becomes necessary. In accordance with that decision, President Thomas A. Graves, Jr., has approved the following schedule of holidays, as contained in the re-statement of the resolution which must now be approved by Governor Mills E. Godwin, Jr. before it becomes College policy. The full text of the re-stated resolution follows:

During the Thanksgiving holiday and the Christmas-New Year period, a majority of student facilities such as the Student Health Service, the student residences, the Campus Center, and so forth, are either closed completely or are open for minimum maintenance only. In addition, a majority of the faculty members are not present in their offices, while approximately 50-60% of all classified employees are on leave of absence.

Rule 9.2(c) of the Virginia Personnel Act provided that, if the nature of the services of an agency or institution requires that it be in full operation on those holidays authorized to be observed by State employees, an alternative schedule providing an equal number of holidays may be authorized by the governing board with approval of the Governor.

A survey of State colleges and universities indicates that all of them have, or are presently developing, some type of alternative schedule as provided for in Rule 9.2(c). Such a schedule has two major economic advantages: conservation of fuel and electricity, and reduction of accrued leave and hourly wages. Based on suggestions made to the College's Director of Personnel, this would improve morale among the classified employees of the College. By reallocating Lee-Jackson Day, Washington's Birthday, Columbus Day, and Election Day (holidays which few employees take), all classified employees could be provided with an extra day after Thanksgiving Day, a full day before and after Christmas Day, and a full day before New Year's Day.

It is understood that certain essential services, such as Security, the power plant and the telephone switchboard must be maintained during all holidays. It will also be necessary occasionally for a department head to require his staff to be on duty on holidays to meet the expectations of that particular office. In accordance with existing personnel procedures, permanent classified employees who are required to work on a holiday accrue compensatory leave.

RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary in Virginia authorizes the annual holiday schedule listed below for the College of William and Mary and for the Virginia Associated Research Campus to become effective January 1, 1975, subject to the approval of the Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

SCHEDULE OF HOLIDAYS

New Year's Day	January 1
Memorial Day	The last Monday in May
Independence Day	July 4
Labor Day	The first Monday in September
Veterans Day	November 11
Thanksgiving Day	The fourth Thursday in November and the Friday after
Christmas	Christmas Day and the immediately preceding and following working days
New Year's Eve	December 31

RESOLVED FURTHER, That if a holiday falls on Saturday, the preceding Friday shall be observed as a holiday; if a holiday falls on Sunday, the following Monday shall be observed as a holiday.

RESOLVED FURTHER, That the following schedule will be used to determine the Christmas Holiday period when Christmas Day falls on the following days of the week:

Monday - Holiday will be observed on preceding Friday through Tuesday
 Tuesday - Holiday will be observed on preceding Monday through Wednesday
 Wednesday - Holiday will be observed on preceding Tuesday through Thursday
 Thursday - Holiday will be observed on preceding Wednesday through Friday
 Friday - Holiday will be observed on preceding Thursday through Monday
 Saturday - Holiday will be observed on preceding Thursday through Monday
 Sunday - Holiday will be observed on preceding Friday through Tuesday

RESOLVED FURTHER, That in the event the Governor of Virginia, or the President of the United States, declares any additional day or portion thereof to be observed in conjunction with any holiday in this schedule, it shall be added to the period preceding the first day authorized by this schedule.

Office of Development

Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education

The purpose of this fund, "to help fulfill our national commitment to extend postsecondary educational opportunities," will be carried out through the pursuit of two goals: diversity and cost-effectiveness. The Fund is particularly interested in improvements which will effect structural and/or learner-centered change.

It, therefore, welcomes proposals which involve new approaches to teaching and learning and those which encourage an "open system."

Guidelines are available in the Sponsored Programs office. Preliminary proposals must be postmarked on or before Jan. 15.

The Humanities Re-emphasized

In recent months, three new programs which reflect an increasing national concern with the future of humanistic values in American life have been announced. The goals of these programs relate closely to the identified mission of the College of William and Mary. Brief discussions of each of the programs follows.

I. National Humanities Institute

The first of several humanities institutes was established in New Haven, Conn., in May 1974, by the National Endowment for the Humanities. The purpose of these institutes is to "encourage excellence in teaching and to promote serious interdisciplinary attention to central issues in the humanities by bringing into residence a year at a time a number of distinguished senior Fellows and promising junior Fellows for intensive discussion and curriculum planning."

The Institute at Yale, directed by Maynard Mack, will make appointments of Senior Fellows and accept nominations for Junior Fellows for the academic year 1976-1977 during the period January 1-February 15, 1975. Nominations for the latter are made by the Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

Detailed description of the Yale Institute program is being sent to each humanities department. Information is also available in the Sponsored Programs office.

II. Virginia Foundation for the Humanities and Public Policy

This organization, a state-based affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities, was created in 1974 to sponsor public humanities programs that encourage discussion among professional humanists and the general public on public issues and concerns.

Funds are available to support such programs, and proposals are invited from higher education, libraries, museums, and educational television stations.

Proposals must relate to the Virginia Foundation's theme, Values Revalued: The Individual and Community in a Changing Commonwealth. The Foundation has defined a public policy issue as follows: "A public policy issue is an issue or concern which tends to be resolved by collective action, by decisions made by the people as citizens or by their elected representatives."

Proposed programs must be directed primarily to out-of-school adults and must involve discussion and exchange of ideas between professional humanists and the public. Cooperative proposals are encouraged.

Foundation funds must be matched in cash or in kind.

Deadlines: December 20, 1974; March 1, 1975. Programs must be completed by September 30, 1975.

III. The Rockefeller Foundation

In 1972, the Foundation began a comprehensive review of its existing programs and its potential for work in new areas. The publication, The Course Ahead, represents the Board's conclusions as to the direction of the Foundation in the 1970's. It emphasizes the Foundation's concern with global as well as domestic problems, with causes rather than effects, with the multi-disciplinary approach which is essential to the solution of contemporary problems.

In order to avoid an ineffectual scattering of scarce resources, the Foundation has defined seven major program areas. A significant new commitment will be made in "The Arts, The Humanities, and Contemporary Values," so that "strong encouragement may thus be given to the illumination and enlargement that each can help bring to men's understanding of their nature and destiny in a late 20th century world."

The Foundation makes grants in the following areas: program, scholarship, fellowship, research, equipment.

Applications may be made at any time. Interested faculty members should get in touch with the Sponsored Programs office.

Administrator Needed

A resident administrator is needed for Project PLUS, beginning Jan. 5, 1975.

Essential to the success of the program is a married couple resident in the building. One of the two spouses will be employed full time to counsel students in both social and organizational matters as well as to carry general administrative responsibilities for the residence.

Applicants should have a college degree or at least academic progress close to that of a degree.

Applications are available in the College Personnel Office, Room 201 James Blair Hall, and must be turned in to that office by December 13.

Minority applicants are encouraged to apply.

German House Applications Due

Applications are now being accepted for residence in the German House during the spring semester. Interested students should contact Professor Gary A. Smith, Washington 106B, Ext. 424, for information and application materials.

PERSONNEL BULLETIN

The following positions at the College are or will be vacant. Qualified employees who wish to be transferred to these positions may receive additional information at the Personnel Office. The College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Accordingly, women and minority employees are encouraged to apply for those positions for which they feel they are qualified.
