Journalist to give Final Project Plus Forum Lecture

Richard Lee Strout of the Christian Science Monitor will give the concluding lecture in the Project Plus Forum at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 7, in Millington Auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

College Employs Prison JCs

The College has contracted with a group of prisoners at the State Penitentiary for some help in its public information operations.

The contract is with the Spring Street Jaycees, a volunteer group organized by a number of inmates and affiliated with the National Jaycee organization.

The Office of Information Services has become the Spring Street Jaycees' first major client for weekly press clipping services covering all Virginia newspapers and magazines. Clippings are used by the office to evaluate press coverage of William and Mary and to help follow the careers of alumni. In a recent three-week "trial" of their service, the prison Jaycees collected more than 200 articles and news items about the College, excluding sports activities.

The office will continue to use the services of a commercial firm, located in Topeka, Kansas, to provide clippings from around the nation. The firm's Virginia coverage has been relatively incomplete however. It is anticipated the Jaycees' service will provide more extensive coverage within the state and relieve office personnel of the time-consuming task of reading and clipping newspapers in the eastern Virginia area, at a cost of less than $1.00 a day.

The Spring Street Jaycees use income from the service to support various projects inside and outside prison walls.

Atlanta Alum Donates Letters

Mrs. Julia Howard Day, an alumna from Atlanta, Ga., has donated to Swem Library three letters which have been added to the library's manuscript collection.

One letter, dated July 26, 1776, was written by A. Little from Hanover and tells of watching prisoners pass enroute to Frederick, Md., and the imminent capture of New York by General Howe.

A letter from Baltimore, dated 1784 from W. Harris to his son D. Harris, a student, contains stern advice.

"My dear boy, use all diligence 'til two years expire from your entrance at school at the end of which time I have ordered you home . . . Let it not be said you have been two years at the Latin and know nothing at all about it . . ."

Mrs. Day, a member of the class of 1927, was prompted to give the letters to the library following an alumni meeting in Atlanta recently. Speaker for the meeting was David Holmes of the religion department, on the subject of Colonial churches in Virginia.

As in past years, the William and Mary News will be published bi-weekly this summer. May 13 is the date for the final publication of the News on the weekly schedule followed during the academic year. Publication on the bi-weekly schedule will begin on June 3.

Professor, Husband Make Presentations

Lidia M. Vallarino, visiting professor of chemistry, and her husband, James V. Quagliano, professor of chemistry at Florida State University, today presented a copy of a book which they authored jointly to President and Mrs. Graves. Entitled Chemistry: A Humanistic Approach, the book was published recently by McGraw-Hill. Copies were also presented to each member of the College's chemistry faculty.

Law Dean Announces Resignation

James P. Whyte Jr., dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, has announced his resignation.

Dean Whyte stated his intention to resign in an announcement Friday at a law school faculty meeting and in a letter to President Graves. Graves immediately conveyed Whyte's decision to the Board of Visitors, which was meeting on campus.

Whyte has asked to be allowed to return to a teaching position on the law faculty not later than June 30, 1976.

Diploma Fees Due

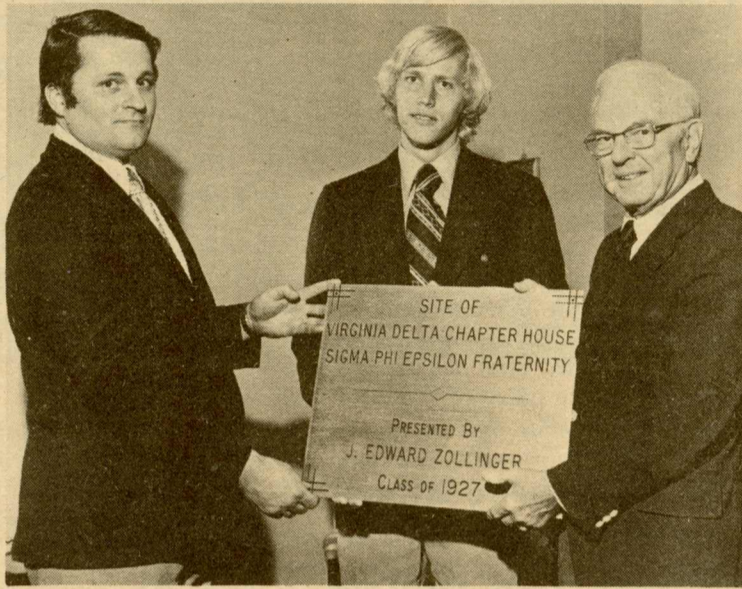

Degree candidates are reminded to pay the $10 diploma fee on or before Friday, May 9, at the Treasurer's Office in order to be eligible to receive their diplomas at Commencement.

Paul Koehly, New Auditor, Shuns Typical 'Green Shade' Image

Paul V. Koehly, the College's new internal auditor, is not interested in living up to most people's image of an internal auditor -- an image he describes as "someone who wears a green shade and spends his time checking a bunch of figures."

His primary concern is using figures to evaluate how well the College's administrators are carrying out their responsibilities and how effective their management policies are.

Koehly admits that an internal auditor has to spend a good deal of time checking figures, but he maintains that the figures are simply a means of observing how effectively the College operates internally. He sees his job as looking for problems in the College's $20,000,000 operation, locating where the system breaks down, and suggesting appropriate remedies.

Zollinger Presents Sig Ep Plaque

J.E. Zollinger of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., a trustee and past Grand National President of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity (r) is shown presenting a plaque to H.B. Parker, Assistant Manager of the Hospitality House in Williamsburg. Looking on is Stephen C. Nelson, president of the Delta chapter on campus. The plaque, which will hang in the hotel; marks the location of the old fraternity house from 1929-1938. Mr. Zollinger was in Williamsburg this past weekend to attend meetings of the Board of Visitors.

Koehly joined the College staff on March 1 to replace Cliff Sterling, who was promoted to Controller when Ray Adams joined the staff of the City Manager of Williamsburg as Director of Finance. Koehly reports to the Vice President for Business Affairs and has been working closely with Sam Whitaker, Treasurer, to learn the College's operation.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, Koehly has traveled extensively during the past 20 years as an officer in the United States Air Force. He has served in a variety of accounting and auditing capacities, most recently as a senior supervisory auditor at Langley Air Force Base in Hampton. His duties there included supervising the auditing staff at several Air Force bases, from Pope AFB in Fayetteville, N.C., to MacDill in Tampa, Fla. Although much of the work involved reviewing and evaluating reports submitted by the auditing staff at each base, and conferring over the telephone, Koehly also was expected to spend approximately a week at each base once or twice a year.

Paul V. Koehly

During his service with the Air Force, Koehly spent a total of seven years stationed in England and one year in Germany. While on his first tour of duty in England he met and married the former Diana Wren of Cliftonville, a resort town near Dover on the southeast coast of England.

The Koehlys have two daughters, Jane, 17, a senior at Pembroke High School in Hampton, and Mandy, 13, a 7th grader at Thomas Eaton Junior High School.

Koehly graduated from the University of Cincinnati with an accounting major, and he received his M.B.A. in accounting from Michigan State, East Lansing.

He says he enjoys travel and all sports -- but strictly as a spectator.

They may be purchased at William and Mary Hall or the Ticketron outlet at Sears. The concert is being co-sponsored by the Student Association and William and Mary Hall.

Senior Wins Magazine Honorable Mention Award

Carmella Maurizi, a senior from North Versailles, Pa., has been named winner of an honorable mention award in the Glamour Magazine Top Ten College Contest for 1975.

Maurizi, a theatre concentrator at the College, will be recognized in a special August college issue of the magazine for her "solid record of achievement in academic studies and in extra-curricular activities on campus and in the community."

A seasoned performer in both high school and college theatre productions, Maurizi has also been a director, choreographer and musical director during her four years at William and Mary. She played leading roles in a number of William and Mary Theatre productions, including "Earnest in Love," "Brigadoon," "A Cry of Players," "The Trojan Women," and "Anything Goes."

Maurizi was also featured in "The Mock Doctor" and "The Miser," two 18th century comedies produced by the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation. She was recently awarded the Prentice Hill scholarship for outstanding achievement in College theatre and is a member of Mortar Board, Omicron Delta Kappa leadership fraternity and Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority. She was formerly arts director of the Flat Hat and a participant in the Williamsburg Area Tutorial Service programs for underprivileged children.

The outgoing brunette has yet to formalize plans for her immediate future but is positive she'll stick with the theatre. She has been accepted in theatre graduate programs at Penn State, Catholic University and Michigan State, and has also been offered a spot in Sanford Meisner's Neighborhood Playhouse, a professional troupe in New York City.

Brian Costello

Virginia Broadcasters Honor Law Student

Virginia broadcasters have honored Brian Costello, a third year student in the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, for excellence in journalism. Costello is news director of radio stations WMBG and WBCI-FM in Williamsburg.

At a weekend meeting, the Virginia Associated Press Broadcasters presented him the Douglas Southall Freeman Award for Public Service Through Radio Journalism, a citation given in honor of the late Pulitzer Prize winning editor of the Richmond News-Leader, for "an outstanding example of comprehensive, informed and effective reporting in the public interest."

The award was based on a half-hour program which Costello wrote and produced in February, 1974, examining the controversial proposal of the Colonial Williamsburg Foundation to close the downtown part of Williamsburg to all but paying tourists and local residents.

Costello was also honored for outstanding individual reporting for his public affairs program, "Barefoot in the Classroom: The Status of Women at William and Mary." The special report was based on the findings of the College's Affirmative Action Advisory Committee and interviews with College administrators and professors. A copy of the program, aired on WMBG and WBCI-FM last year,

Chisholm Is Speaker For CNC Graduation

Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm, D-NY, will deliver the commencement address to the Christopher Newport College graduating class at the Hampton Coliseum, Sunday, May 18, at 8 p.m.

A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Congresswoman Chisholm graduated cum laude from Brooklyn College with a B.A. in sociology; she received her M.A. in childhood education from Columbia University.

Mrs. Chisholm has taught at and directed a nursery school, has served as educational consultant for the Day Care Division and the Bureau of Child Welfare of Brooklyn, and was a member of the New York State Assembly. She was elected to Congress in 1964 and was the first black woman candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1972.

From the Personnel Office

Service Anniversaries Noted

In an effort to make all members of the College Community aware of classified employees' dedication and long service to the State, the Personnel Office has initiated an employee recognition program. As part of the program, the Personnel Office began last month to submit for publishing in the W&M News monthly listing of classified employees who will mark five, 10, 15, etc. years of continuous service to the State during a given month.

Helen N. Connelly, clerk typist in the office of the director of the Campus Center, will mark a 15-year service anniversary on May 16. She has been employed by the College continuously since 1960, and she was also a staff member for three years prior to her present term of service.

On May 1 Marvin Mutter noted ten years of service to the College as an electrician in the Department of Buildings and Grounds.

has been placed in the College Archives.

The Associated Press Richmond Bureau cited Costello for his prompt and regular contributions of news stories to the AP for use by other wire service subscribers.

In six years in radio journalism in the state, Costello has received eight awards for excellence in news reporting from the VAPB. A 1972 graduate of the University of Virginia, Costello was night news editor of WINA Radio in Charlottesville before coming to Williamsburg.

Actions of the Board, May 2-3

Retirement of Thomas H. Jolls Professor of Law, Emeritus

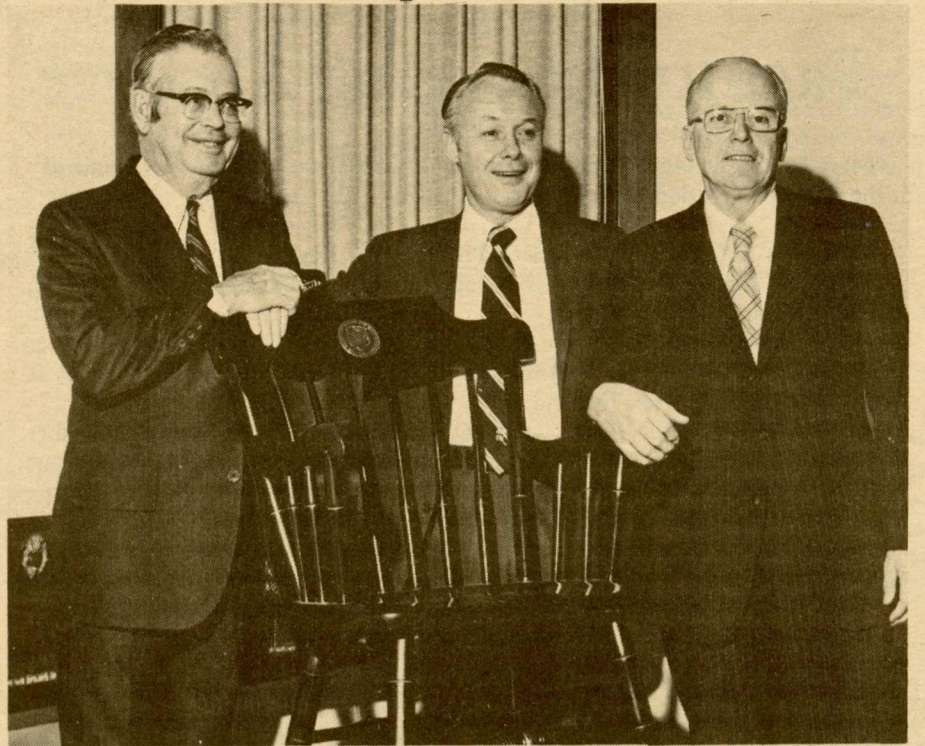

Thomas H. Jolls has served the College of William and Mary since 1968 as a Professor of Law, and in the course of that service has enriched the professional resources of the legal profession of the community and nation as well as the educational resources of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

In his enthusiastic support of the organized bar of the community and the nation, Professor Jolls has effectively developed opportunities for this institution and its Law School to serve the continuing professional needs of the law;

In his unstinting devotion to the principles of sound legal education he has enriched the minds of hundreds of law students and thus has encouraged them constantly to seek sound solutions to legal problems;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary in Virginia, taking note of the imminent retirement of Professor Jolls after this period of impressive and effective service, herewith expresses the gratitude of the College and the Commonwealth for this lasting contribution to its intellectual and professional heritage, and gratefully approves a change of his status from Professor of Law to Professor of Law, Emeritus, effective at the close of the 1974-75 session, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this resolution be spread upon the records of the Board and a copy of the same be delivered to Professor Jolls with hearty wishes for his continuing effective and creative work in the years to come.

Retiring Professors Honored

Retirement of Thomas E. Thorne Professor of Fine Arts, Emeritus

Thomas E. Thorne was appointed Instructor of Fine Arts in 1940. He was promoted to Assistant Professor in 1943 and appointed Head of the Department. In 1945 he was promoted to Associate Professor and to Professor in 1965. He served as Head of the Department of Fine Arts from 1943 to 1970.

During his thirty-five years at the College, his contributions have extended far beyond the areas of education and faculty governance. A fine raconteur, he could keep his audience enthralled and amused for hours at a time. He has been recognized by colleagues and students as one filled with generosity. His many gifts to the College Library have been deeply appreciated, as has the time and endless energy which he has devoted to projects such as repair of art work, and the ready donation of his own works. This generosity was never limited to his own department. Always willing to help with special occasions for the College, one memorable work which he executed was the series of coats-of-arms which was used at the observance of the College's 275th anniversary. A fine artist, a loyal teacher and a generous colleague, he will be greatly missed.

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors acknowledges with deep regret the retirement of Thomas E. Thorne and gratefully approves a change of his status from Professor of Fine Arts to Professor of Fine Arts, Emeritus, effective at the close of the 1974-75 session, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be spread on the Minutes of this Board and a copy be transmitted to Professor Thorne.

Retirement of Alexander I. Kurtz Associate Professor of Modern Languages, Emeritus

Alexander I. Kurtz was appointed Assistant Professor of Modern Languages in 1962. He was promoted to Associate Professor in 1967.

A renaissance man, his inexhaustible knowledge of German and German history was equaled by his love and appreciation of Latin, Greek, philosophy, music and art. Throughout his career he exposed students to the inspiring aspects of German literature, and brought to the College a traditional classical education in the old European sense.

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors acknowledges with deep regret the retirement of Alexander I. Kurtz and gratefully approves a change of his status from Associate Professor of Modern Languages to Associate Professor of Modern Languages, Emeritus, effective at the close of the 1974-75 session, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be spread on the Minutes of this Board and a copy be transmitted to Professor Kurtz.

Board Passes Resolution Concerning Otto Lowe, Sr.

Otto Lowe, Sr., a former member of the Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary, died April 16, 1975 in Washington, D.C. He was the youngest of eleven children born before the turn of the century.

Toward the end of World War I he served briefly as a private in the United States Army and then came to Williamsburg to seek admission to the College of William and Mary under the guidance of Dr. J.A.C. Chandler, then President of the College. President Chandler had a profound influence upon his life for like so many others of the time Otto had no funds. But the President recognized in him qualities which became evident to so many in his later life.

The fact that Lowe was an outstanding athlete and student who epitomized clean living influenced Dr. Chandler's decision to admit him to the College on a full scholarship. He excelled on the baseball team, of which he was captain in 1921-22 and on the football team where he was an outstanding guard. He also excelled in the classroom where he earned his Phi Beta Kappa Key and as a student leader, where his fellow students elected him President of the Student Body in 1922-23. He was also a member of Omicron Delta Kappa and the FHC Society.

Otto Lowe served the College of William and Mary throughout his adult life. From 1924 to 1933 he was one of the alumni who served on the very important Athletic Committee. He was a member of the Board of Visitors of the College from 1942 to 1950. He served on the Board of Directors of the Society of the Alumni and he received the Alumni Medallion for service and loyalty in 1959. He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Law and Taxation in 1964.

Otto was admitted to the practice of law in Virginia in 1923 and from that time until his passing he participated in the profession which he illuminated with honor and devotion. He participated in the War Crimes Trials following World War II where as a Special Assistant to the Attorney General he assisted United States Special Prosecutors in Tokyo in the trial of Tojo and other Japanese war criminals.

He was a member of the Virginia Constitutional Convention in 1945 and for twenty-five years served as counsel to the law firm of Hanson, O'Brien, Birney, Stickle, and Butler and its predecessor firms.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary notes the passing of this distinguished alumnus, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be spread upon the permanent minutes of this Board, and a copy be sent to his son, Otto Lowe, Jr.

THEREFORE, IT IS RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors directs the Administration of the College to undertake detailed planning and other preliminary activities in anticipation of a major development effort to increase the endowment funds of the College, the effort's distinctive character to be determined by the Board at the conclusion of this planning and preliminary activities phase.

W&M Fund Campaign

The William and Mary Fund campaign for 1974-75, the twenty-fourth in the College's history, is drawing to another successful conclusion. Over $218,762 has been raised during the first ten months of the campaign year by a host of over 1,500 alumni and alumnae volunteers. This nationwide network of workers included 1,400 Fund Agents, twelve Virginia Regional Chairmen, forty-nine State Chairmen, five Section Chairmen for persons who live abroad, sixty-nine Class Chairmen, and a National Chairman.

The exceptional contribution of the National Chairman, Charles P. McCurdy, Jr. '33, must be especially noted. His well-crafted and moving speeches before alumni gatherings in Washington and Williamsburg, his effective campaign letters, and his personal calls to scores of alumni are as fine an example of voluntary campaign leadership as can be found. His seasoned advice to the Office of College Development during his working relationship with it, advice which was well-grounded in a lifetime of experience in alumni relations and educational fund-raising, was a gratefully-received bonus. It is hoped that Mr. McCurdy will continue to make his skills and counsel available to the College in the months and years ahead.

Gratefulness is also due the Board of Directors of the Society of the Alumni for their active interest in and endorsement of the private fund-raising efforts of the College, particularly the William and Mary Fund. The Board's public expression of their appreciation for the "excellent job that the Office of College Development (and the many alumni volunteers) have done," and their pledge of "enthusiastic support of their continued efforts to expand the private financial resources of the College" which was carried in the March, 1975 issue of the ALUMNI GAZETTE is most encouraging.

RESOLVED, That the Board of Visitors acknowledges its indebtedness and hereby communicates its gratitude to the Board of Directors of the Society of the Alumni, to Charles P. McCurdy, Jr. '33, to the Chairmen and Agents of the William and Mary Fund of 1974-75, and to the thousands of alumni and alumnae who contributed their counsel, energies, and financial support to further the educational eminence of the College.

Initiation of the Planning Phase Of a Major Effort To Increase Endowment

At its meeting on January 16-17, 1975, the Board of Visitors passed a resolution expressing the sense of the Board that the Administration of the College should undertake further discussion with and seek the active support of the entire College community in considering moving toward the preparation and further planning of a major development effort, focusing on the endowment needs of the College.

Vice President Heemann and the staff of the Office of College Development have undertaken these discussions and have sought the advice and support of a wide range of individuals and groups within the College community. Based upon the findings of this investigation and the recommendation of Mr. Heemann, the President has recommended that the College proceed with detailed planning and other preliminary activities in anticipation of a major fund-raising effort focusing on the capital needs of the College.

College Operating Budget For 1975-76

At its March 7, 1975 meeting, the Board of Visitors approved increases in the tuition and general fee, in the board rate and in the room rate for student residences to provide Special Fund Revenues to supplement the General Fund appropriations from the State.

These fees, appropriations, private funds and federal funds are projected to generate total revenues and essential expenditures of $23,314,658 to meet the requirements for the educational program and supporting services of the College for 1975-76. Revenues and expenditures are classified by the usual general categories of Educational and General, Student Aid, and Auxiliary Enterprises and are listed in the attached summarized Budget for 1975-76. Revenues are further detailed by source and the expenditures by general activity.

The General Fund revenues reflect the 3% reversion required by the Governor, and the expenditures include the absorption of 50% of the estimated costs of regrading classified positions and of increases due to inflation, also required by the Governor.

This summarized budget has the approval of the President of the College. It reflects separate departmental budgets to be administered by department heads and monitored by a computerized budget control system directed by the Office of Business Affairs.

RESOLVED, That the College Operating Budget for the fiscal year 1975-76 is hereby approved.

William Barton Rogers Hall

William Barton Rogers was born in 1804 in Philadelphia. In 1819 his father, Dr. Patrick Kerr Rogers, was elected Professor of Natural Philosophy and Chemistry at the College of William and Mary and moved his family to Williamsburg. William Barton and his three brothers all attended the College of William and Mary; these brothers constitute a family group hardly to be excelled in the history of American science.

William succeeded to his father's professorship in the College in 1828. The year 1835 was an eventful one for him: he was appointed Professor of Natural Philosophy and Geology in the University of Virginia and made Director of the Geological Survey of the Commonwealth of Virginia. He served as Chairman of the Faculty for the term 1844-45; this was long the chief administrative position in the University.

He resigned in 1853 and moved to Boston. Some years earlier he and his brother Henry had formulated provisional plans for a polytechnic school. In Boston, William so successfully advocated the project that in 1861 the legislature passed an act incorporating the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He became the first president but resigned in 1870 because of ill health; he served again from 1878-81 until illness once more forced his resignation. He remained as Professor Emeritus of Geology and Physics. He died while taking part in the graduation exercises of 1882.

William and Mary honored William with an LL.D. in 1859, as Hampden-Sydney had done in 1848 and as Harvard was to do in 1866. William and Mary in 1927 named a building for him, as the Massachusetts Institute of Technology had done in 1882.

The faculties of the Departments of Chemistry and Philosophy have expressed their unanimous preference that the name of William Barton Rogers continue to be remembered and associated with his interest in and contributions to the disciplines of Philosophy and Chemistry. In recognition of this sentiment, it is the recommendation of the President that the new building now being constructed to house these disciplines be named in his honor and that the existing Rogers Hall, which has housed the Department of Chemistry since 1927, be renamed when it is renovated at a later date.

RESOLVED, That this new building, which will house the disciplines of Chemistry and Philosophy, be named and designated William Barton Rogers Hall at an appropriate ceremony signified by the erection of a suitable plaque; and

RESOLVED FURTHER, That this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Board of Visitors as a reaffirmation of recognition on the part of the Board of Visitors, the President and the faculty for the extraordinary life of this alumnus and educator.

William George Guy Memorial

William George Guy was born at Carbonear, Newfoundland in 1899. He held two degrees from Mount Allison University, B.Sc. and B.A., the A.B. degree from Oxford University, and the Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Chicago.

He came to William and Mary in 1925 as assistant professor of Chemistry; he was promoted to professor within five years, and was appointed one of the original Chancellor Professors in 1965. He served as Chairman of the Department of Chemistry from 1946 until his retirement in 1968.

Professor Guy was a Queen Victoria Jubilee Scholar for Newfoundland, and the 1920 Newfoundland Rhodes Scholar. He was a duPont Fellow at the University of Chicago and a member of Sigma Xi. Early in his career at William and Mary, he was recognized and honored by students and colleagues by election to Omicron Delta Kappa and Phi Beta Kappa. In later years the College of William and Mary conferred upon him the Thomas Jefferson Award, the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award and, at the 1969 Charter Day Convocation, the honorary Doctor of Science degree.

Professor Guy's influence and contributions extended far beyond the classroom where he taught general chemistry for forty-three sessions and physical chemistry for almost as long. He contributed to the governance of the College through membership during his tenure on nearly all of its appointive and elective committees. His professional involvement resulted in his election as chairman of the Virginia Section - American Chemical Society for 1951-52 and its conferral on him of its Distinguished Service Award in 1958. He was President of the Virginia Academy of Science, 1957-58. His service to the community was characterized by membership on the Board of Zoning Appeals and the Board of Trustees of the Williamsburg Community Hospital.

William George Guy, Chancellor Professor of Chemistry Emeritus, died in Jacksonville Beach, Florida, June 14, 1969.

RESOLVED, That in the new William Barton Rogers Hall, a classroom building now under construction on the new campus to house the Departments of Chemistry and Philosophy, an appropriate plaque be erected to commemorate the memory of Professor Guy and his lasting contributions to the College of William and Mary and to recognize the influence on the lives of the students he taught and the esteem in which he was held by his professional colleagues.

RESOLVED FURTHER, That this resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Board of Visitors, and that a copy be sent to Mrs. Gladys Bennett Guy to constitute an expression of appreciation and esteem of this Board for the life of so inspiring a teacher and so distinguished a gentleman as William George Guy.

Barksdale Athletic Fields

Martha Elizabeth Barksdale came to William and Mary in 1918 with the first class of women to enter the College.

She was the first woman to receive a Bachelor of Arts degree from the College. As a very active student leader, she became the first President of the Women's Student Council; her undergraduate honors included Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board. She was the first co-ed to be chosen as Miss William and Mary and it was a title she was to retain for the rest of her life. Following her graduation from William and Mary, she joined the faculty in 1921 as a member of the newly established Department of Women's Physical Education. First as a student and then during her first year as a member of the faculty, she was instrumental in organizing one of the earliest intercollegiate athletics programs for women. Miss Barksdale commenced work toward a graduate degree, including a program at Ollerup's Teacher's College in Denmark in 1926, and received her M.A. from William and Mary in 1929. She was named an Associate Professor in 1936. In 1965 she became acting head of her department, a position she held until she retired in 1966, when she was named Associate Professor of Physical Education for Women, Emerita.

A beloved member of the Williamsburg community, she spent long hours in the service of any agency or individual needing assistance. She was one of the founders of the Williamsburg Community Council and worked tirelessly for the area's Christmas Basket and Toys Program. She was a charter member of the Soroptimist Club and she was one of the organizers of the Williamsburg Auxiliary for Patrick Henry Hospital and served for many years as Chairman of the annual fair.

For 45 years she taught and coached most of the women who attended the College and their lives were richer for this experience. She was a gentlewoman, of the old school, yet she required her students to produce to the best of their abilities.

In 1970 Miss Barksdale received the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award from the College in recognition of her extraordinary influence on the Women's Physical Education and Athletic programs, and on the lives of her students, colleagues and associates in this community.

The playing fields for the Department of Women's Physical Education are located between Phi Beta Kappa Hall and the new Chemistry-Philosophy Building, now under construction, and are presently known as the Phi Beta Kappa Fields. It is the feeling of the faculty of the Department of Women's Physical Education that the re-working of these fields into 3 permanent playing fields this summer will provide an appropriate opportunity for the College to acknowledge publicly Professor Barksdale's outstanding contribution to a special area of the educational program, a contribution unexcelled by any other woman graduate or faculty member.

RESOLVED, That the above described playing fields be named The Martha Barksdale Athletic Fields as an expression of the appreciation and esteem of the Board of Visitors for the life of this inspiring teacher and distinguished citizen.

RESOLVED FURTHER, That a plaque be placed in an appropriate area to commemorate this recognition and honor for the lasting contribution and memory of Martha Elizabeth Barksdale, and

RESOLVED FURTHER, that this resolution be placed upon the Minutes of the Board of Visitors to honor the memory of this gifted educator and alumna.

Office of Development

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES-CONSULTANTS PROGRAM

The Endowment has announced a new program designed to help institutions of higher education in planning and evaluating their humanities programs. Grants are now available which will enable institutions to receive assistance from the Endowment-sponsored National Board of Consultants, composed of teachers, professors, and administrators who have wide experience in humanities education.

The Consultants program is designed for post-secondary institutions which are in the early stages of planning new humanities programs or are reconsidering existing curricula. Consultants grants may be awarded to cover a wide variety of situations such as a liberal arts college wishing to revitalize any of its humanities programs, a university wishing to strengthen the role of its library in humanities education, or humanities faculty planning to conduct a summer institute dealing with current issues in their field.

When submitting a consultants grant proposal, an institution may suggest consultants whose backgrounds they believe are appropriate for serving that school's particular needs from the National Board of Consultants register, published annually by the Endowment. Approval of consultants grants, which will average $2,500 each, is made by the National Council on the Humanities and the Chairman of the Endowment.

The National Board of Consultants is presently composed of 65 nationally known scholars, teachers and administrators, who have all served as reviewers of grant proposals in the NEH Division of Education Programs.

A consultant's work will involve advising an institution on ways to develop its teaching and curricular resources in the humanities more effectively. The consultancy may take any form which the institution and consultant find appropriate, but in no case will it include more than 20 working days for the consultant.

List of consultants and application forms available in Sponsored Programs Office.

Deadline: July 1, 1975.

Carter Stresses Summer Energy Conservation

Vice President for Business Affairs William J. Carter has issued a memorandum reminding all College employees of the critical need to continue the Energy Conservation Program at the College. He notes that demands for electric power during the summer are the highest of the entire year and points out that the increased cost of fuel oil has offset savings realized in the amount of fuel conserved during the past winter, which has severely taxed on the operating budget.

"If we are to realize our objective of minimizing operating costs so that the primary objective of the College—the effectiveness of the instructional program—continues to receive the essential level of support it deserves," says Carter, "all of us must work together."

To conserve energy, Mr. Carter states that "all buildings equipped with central air conditioning or cooling devices will have thermostats set to begin cooling cycles when inside temperatures reach 77° F." Only authorized maintenance personnel are to readjust the thermostats, once they have been set. Carter points out that the cost incurred during the last heating season of replacing thermostats that were damaged when unauthorized personnel tampered with them "should demonstrate this need to all of us."

Where window units are used for air conditioning, Mr. Carter asks that everyone use thermostatic controls rather than the "constant cold" setting and turn air conditioners off when not needed.

He notes that requests for lower minimum temperatures required for laboratory or clinical conditions will be honored, where such requests are submitted in writing and with full justification to Ervin Farmer, Director of Buildings and Grounds.

Carter suggests that, during the summer, "an important measure that should be followed is the maximum use of window coverings (shades, venetian blinds, drapes, etc.) to prevent transmission of solar heat into interior space."

He also suggests the following ways in which to save electrical energy and operating costs:

Electricity:

- Turn off lights in offices and classrooms when not in use.
- Reduce lighting levels in corridors and peripheral areas of buildings where appropriate.
- Turn off all appliances and instruments when not in use.

Transportation:

- Do not exceed 55 mph speed limit on interstates and highways.
- Do not leave car engine running (burns gas unnecessarily).
- Avoid long warm ups (late model engines do not require long warm ups).
- Use air conditioners moderately and only under hot weather conditions.
- Consolidation of trips should be considered whenever possible.
- State employees using State-owned vehicles should pool riders whenever possible.

- Use smaller engines and cars (4 and 6 cylinder engines burn less gasoline).
- Avoid "jack rabbit" starts.
- Keep engines tuned for peak performance.

"The Full Conservation Sub-Committee of the Campus Environment Committee will be working with the Department of Buildings and Grounds on a continuing program of conservation and economy," he adds. "We certainly are counting on your usual fine support to help control our operating costs, which are mounting at an alarming rate."

School Hosts VEC Conference

The School of Education will be host May 8 and 9 to a conference sponsored by the Virginia Elementary Committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS), for elementary school principals and contact persons in school divisions holding membership in SACS.

The conference will begin with a general session Thursday and will center around the role and function of the school division contact person. Participants will review and discuss the new standards for accrediting elementary schools, approved last year. John M. Davis, associate executive secretary, Elementary Commission, and Bruce Crowley, president of SACS and superintendent of schools in Florence, S.C., will conduct the program.

The second general session will be held Friday morning in the Campus Center. Major addresses will be given by Reverend Walter Kennedy, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Newport News, and M.E. Alford, superintendent of Portsmouth Public Schools.

Bike Marathon Is Successful

Pi Kappa Alpha has reported that the April 26 Pike Bike Marathon for Muscular Dystrophy raised a total of $10,550.

Over 200 riders from the College, area high schools and the community participated in the bicycle marathon on the Colonial Parkway, earning $9,000 in pledges from their sponsors. The Student Association contributed $200 in proceeds from a special Pub Night April 16. A bike raffle netted another $400. Area businesses donated $300, and $150 was collected in canisters across town. The post-marathon party at Lake Matoaka increased the amount by another $500.

Honors Additions

The following three students should be added to the list of Omicron Delta Kappa initiates, published in the April 29 issue of the W&M News: Michelle L. Lawson '76, Silver Spring, Md.; Joseph H. Marren '76, White Plains, N.Y.; and Gayle K. Yamada '76, Arlington. New members for Mortar Board should be corrected to include Elizabeth B. Gregory, Norwalk, Conn., and Sharon L. Hanson, Arlington.

Grad Students Offered Expert Advice

Graduate students at the School of Business Administration who are enrolled in the Procurement Management course, "are experiencing the unique opportunity to study and explore procurement and purchasing problems with both local business executives and government officials," says Assistant Professor W. J. Maddocks. Maddocks believes that "input from these executives in the complex area of procurement provides a valuable and necessary contribution to the total course structure."

Earlier this year Robert Belprez, director of purchasing at the Bendix Corp., spoke to students about value analysis. He also covered many points about procurement organization and responsibility at the corporate and division levels.

April 20 a representative from the Procurement Division of TRADOC, Col. Ernest Elmore, discussed government and institutional procurement with the class.

W. Harold Jacobs, director of purchasing, distribution and traffic for the Dow-Badische Co., was scheduled last week to present current problems faced by industry in obtaining needed materials and in reducing the cost of raw materials and energy.

According to Maddocks, "The appearance of these executives is part of the continuing effort at the School of Business Administration to acquaint students with the challenge of the world of business."

Exhibitions

An exhibition of Old Master Prints illustrating aspects of the history of printmaking during the Renaissance, Mannerist and Baroque periods is on display in the Botetourt Museum of Swem Library through August 15.

Gallery hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. - 5 p.m., and Saturday, 9 a.m. - 1 p.m.

Works by Sandra Fruitman, Paul Helfrich and Marlene Jack will be on exhibit at the Twentieth Century Gallery, May 13 - June 13. Fruitman, a staff member in the Career Counseling Office, will exhibit silkscreen prints and collages. Helfrich, assistant professor of fine arts, will exhibit drawings, and Jack, fine arts instructor, will display pottery works.

The gallery is open to the public free of charge from 12 noon to 5 p.m., Tuesdays through Sundays.
